TIES THAT HAVE COLOR

Will you ever forget those last three minutes of the Holy Cross - Brown game in 1938. Brown leading by a touchdown and with Giardi in the spark-plug role, after Ronnie Cahill's game saving dash. Can't you see Bill Osmanski diving over from the four-yard line to give us the game with 45 seconds remaining to play. Boy, there is nothing like a last minute drive to put a chill in one's spine.

For thrills and chills there's nothing like a football game won or tied in the last minutes of play.

Not all tie games are dull. Some of them have been thrillers that have become a permanent part of the history of the game: The 21 to 21 Army-Navy game of 1926, the 33 to 33 Dartmouth-Yale game of 1931 — called by some observers the most remarkable tie game in the history of the sport— and the 20 to 20 California-Stanford thriller of 1924.

The real fireworks of the Yale-Dartmouth game were delayed until the third quarter. In the second period Albie Booth, of Yale, had scored three touchdowns, one from a 94-yard run-back of a kick-off.

Yale added another seven points early in the third quarter, making the score 26 to 10; it would take three touchdowns to beat them. Then McCall, of Dartmouth, ran the ensuing kick-off back 92 yards for a touchdown, and the extra point was kicked. Next Donner, Dartmouth right end, blocked Parker's kick for another tally which was also converted, and the count was Yale 33, Dartmouth 24.

Yale made the mistake of playing aggressive football. Todd shot a pass to Booth, but Dartmouth's McCall intercepted and darted 60 yards to score. The try for the extra point was wide; Dartmouth was three points behind. Then, without a sane spectator in the house, Morton essayed a field goal from the 23-yard line — it was good!

The Army-Navy tie was decided by a kick, this one by a drop kick from the toe of Tom Hamilton, now Navy's head coach. The two teams were tied 14 to 14 at the half, and on the opening play of the third quarter, Army's Chris Cagle went 60 yards for a touchdown. Army led, 21 to 14. With but six minutes to play, Navy marched the length of the field. Shapley crossed the line on the culminating efforts of this drive, and then, with 122,000 spectators — football's biggest crowd — in deafening uproar, Hamilton calmly kicked the extra point.

California and Stanford were both undefeated in 1924. Midway in the fourth quarter the Bears had a 20 to 6 lead. The game appeared to be on the ice, but not to a couple of Indians named Ted Shipkey and Murray Cuddeback. Cuddeback passed a high wobbling pass to Shipkey in the end zone, kicked the extra point, and the score was California 20, Stanford 13. Five minutes to play. Stanford took the ball on their own 5-yard line; mixing passes with running plays. Twenty-six yards to go, and only seconds left, now! Walker shoots a pass to Cuddeback, he turns, takes a few strides, and he's over! And Cuddeback kicked the extra point!

TOM McCABE.

From 1925 through 1933 the Ashland (Ky.) High Tomcats lost only three games in 89 starts, tying four games and winning 82. The Tomcats lost one game in 1925 and two in 1932, but between those games were undefeated. They scored 2,875 points, an average of more than 31½ points per game.

The football team of the University of the South now known as Sewanee, played 300 minutes of football in five days, winning from Texas, Texas A. & M., Tulane, Louisiana and Mississippi. Moreover, none of the five teams was able to score on the doughty Sewanee eleven.

Neither Morgan nor Bluefield, leading teams of the Colored Intercollegiate A. A. was defeated in 1934, and Morgan's goal line was uncrossed. Kentucky State, regarded as national champion by other Negro colleges, was undefeated, allowing only two points to opponents.

A. P. Poll of Last Year For Your Benefit Now

HOLY CROSS RANKS WITH PITT OVER 5-YEAR STRETCH

Texas Christian Ranks at Top in the Final Poll

New York, Dec. 6 (A. P.) — The swing of football power from the East to other sectors, widely reflected in All-America selections, is duplicated in the final Associated Press poll ranking of teams. Texas Christian's mighty forces lead the first 10 with two southern, a southwestern and a mid-western team holding the next four places.

There was no doubt about the Christians. Of the 87 sports writers voting 55 chose them as the top team. The leaders, who took over from Notre Dame, have 868 points to lead second-place Tennessee by a wide margin.

The poll was extended for another week because of the select quality of last Saturday's games, three of which had a direct bearing on the ranging. Notre Dame, beaten 13-0, by Southern California, fell from first to fifth, Tennessee moved up from fourth to second after a notable rout of Mississippi and Oklahoma came from fifth to fourth after disposing of Washington State in spectacular fashion.

The East, which had Pitt at the top, Fordham third, Villanova sixth, and Dartmouth seventh a year ago has only Carnegie Tech, T.C.U.'s Sugar Bowl opponent, Pitt and Holy Cross in the first 10 this year. Only Carnegie, with 412 points, is anywhere near the first five.

FIRST TEN

(First place votes in parentheses, points scored in 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis.)

	Points
Texas Christian (55)	868
Tennessee (16)	706
Duke (1)	679
Oklahoma	524
Notre Dame (4)	490
Carnegie Tech	412
Southern California (1)	406
Pittsburgh	290
Holy Cross	149
Minnesota	111

SECOND TEN—Texas Tech 42, Cornell 37, Alabama 25, California 20, Fordham 19, Michigan 16, Northwestern 15, Villanova 13, Tulane 11, Dartmouth 10.

OTHERS MENTIONED — Stanford and Western Reserve, 5 each; Iowa State, Clemson and Georgetown, 4 each; Purdue 1.

HOLY CROSS SONGS

(Sing Them)

ALMA MATER

Oh hear thy sons in happy song
 Holy Cross, old Holy Cross!
 Thy sons are loyal, true and strong
 Holy Cross, old Holy Cross!
 Thy purple banner floats on high
 While songs of praise swell to the sky,
 Thy honored name shall never die,
 Holy Cross, old Holy Cross!

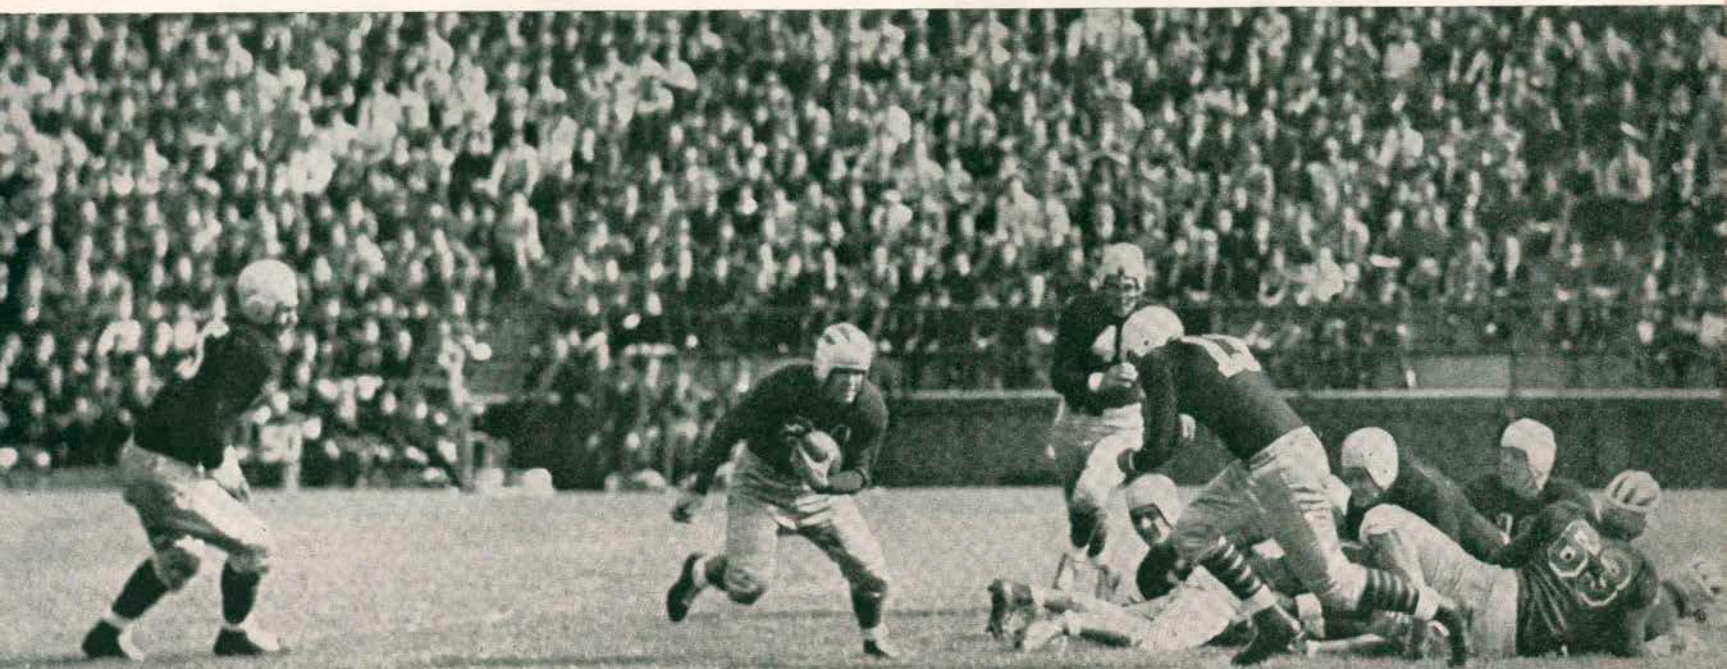

HOLY CROSS SLOGAN

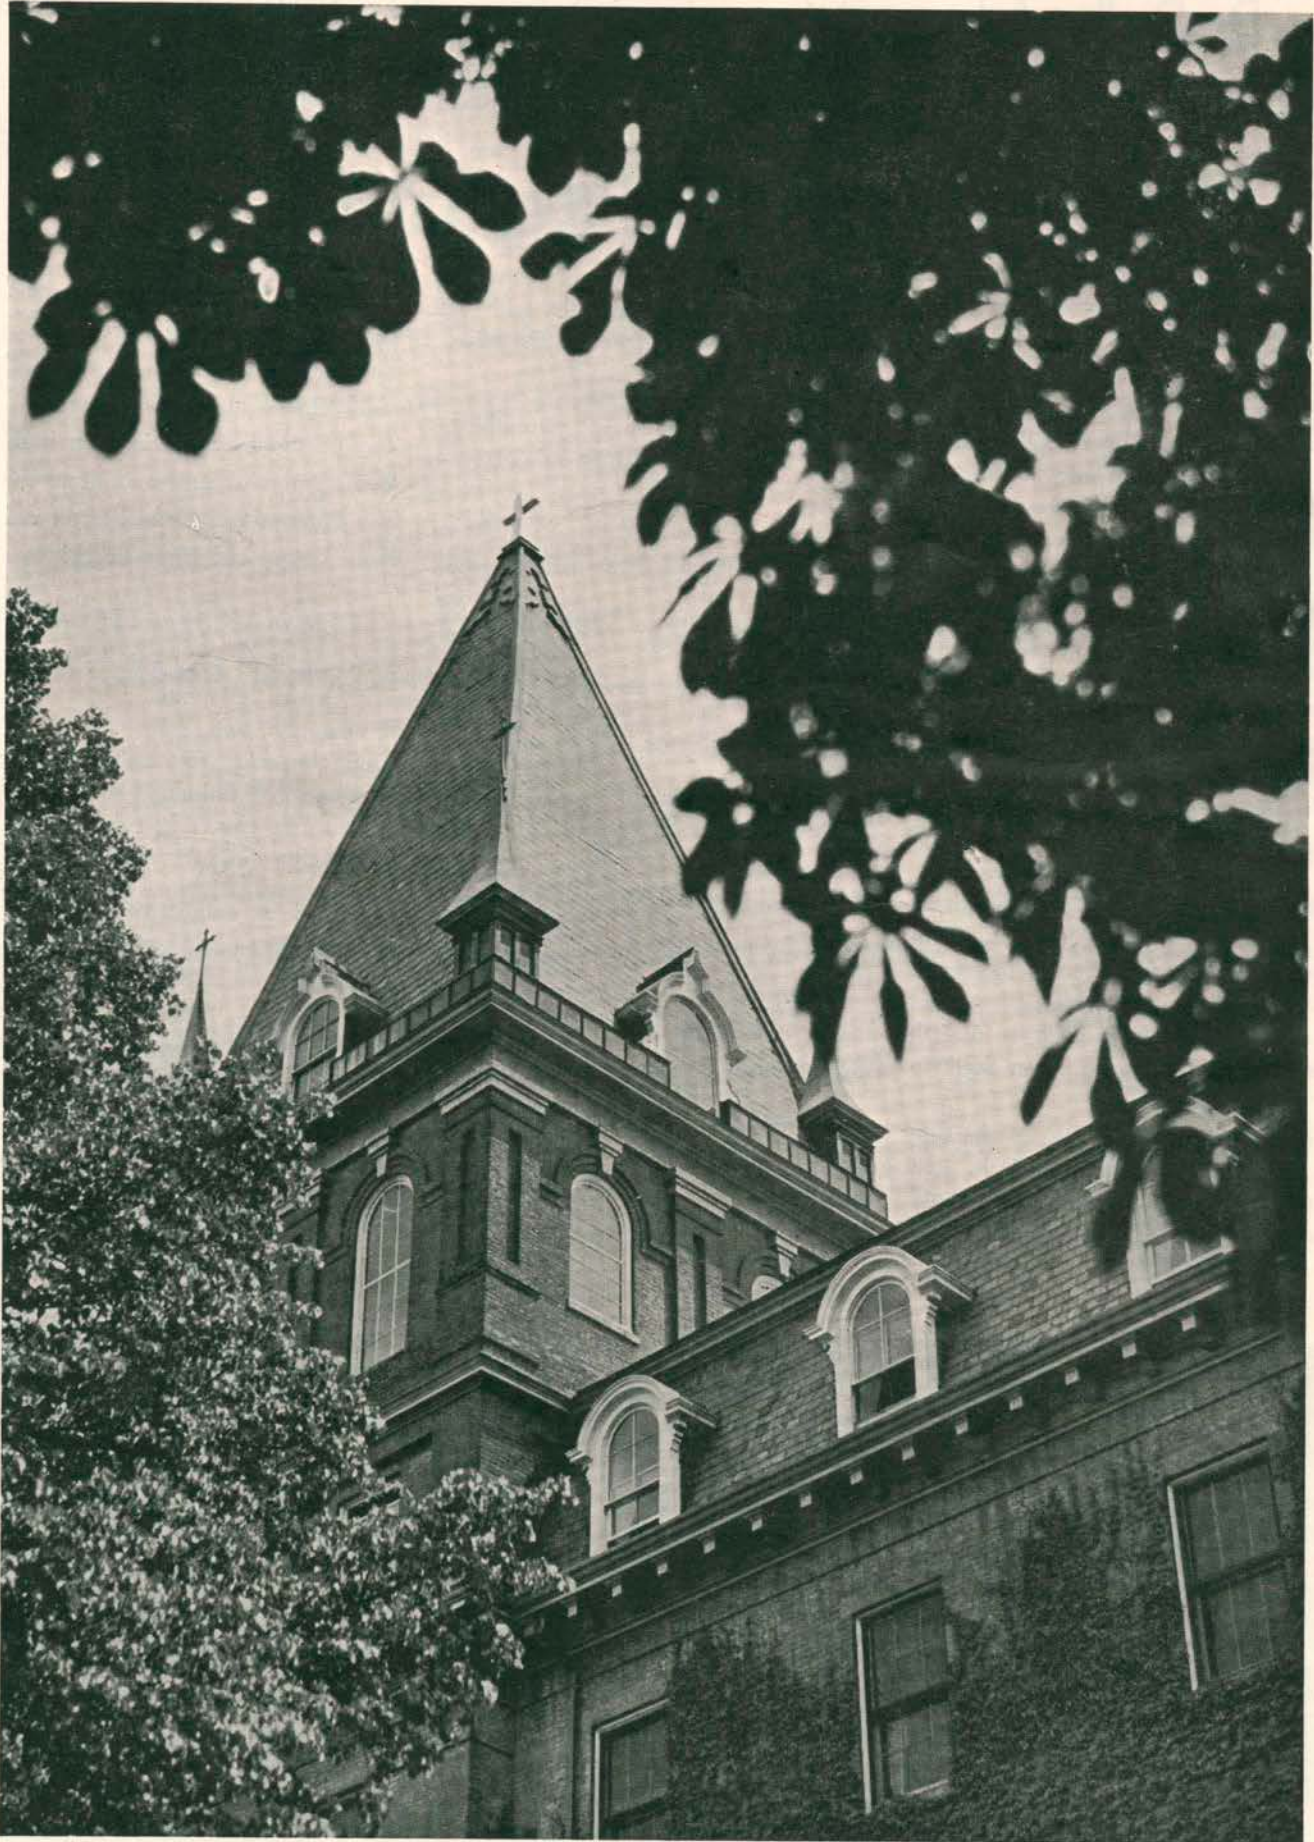

Ring out then your hoi-ah,
 With a chu, chu, rah, rah,
 A chu, chu, rah, rah,
 Chu, chu, rah, rah, rah, rah, rah,
 Give another hoi-ah,
 And a chu, chu, rah, rah,
 And a chu, chu, rah, rah, for Holy Cross.

March on as knights of old,
 With hearts as loyal and true, and bold,
 And wage the bitter fight
 With all your might,
 Fight hard for Holy Cross,
 RAH RAH RAH

You'll know when battle's done
 It was for her that the fight was won.
 Oh, may it never die, that battle-cry,
 On, on, for Holy Cross.

WE WELCOME THE FRIARS

MEMORIAL CHAPEL

For many years it has been the custom here to open the varsity football season with a contest against our friendly neighbors from Providence College. This year we have changed. For many years this contest has been more than just a "warm up" as the sports writers call games in which bigger colleges face the so-called colleges out of their class athletically. Hence it was a natural step to place the game further along on our schedule, to put it at midseason even, as indication that we respect wholeheartedly the task involved in such a meeting. In short our rivalry with Providence has assumed a major game value.

This is preamble enough to let you folks know how Holy Cross looks upon the game today. Why it welcomes the coming of "The Friars," because it feels that a real contest is in store, because it feels the tribute to the growth of the athletic prowess of our neighbors is fitting. We know, too, that now all you assembled here to enjoy the game will understand better the thoughts we have had in planning such a major schedule of games for our student body, our alumni, our friends, and finally, but by no means the least, for our team. The boys want to play such games.

And so we welcome Providence College and realize how happy we all should be that we live in such a land as the United States where such gatherings are looked upon as the natural outlets for good will and training so essential to the building of right characters.

Only the other day we read of the return from Europe of three American warships on which Annapolis men have been making their Summer cruise. A significant part of the story to me was the fact that while on the cruise the Navy football team had taken time by the forelock. The whole football squad was assigned to one of the ships and kept on its toes by practice on deck and practice on shore whenever opportunity offered.

The sight of a band of young officers in training, at play, must have been a bit of a shock to those nerve wrought Europeans, but it was undoubtedly excellent training with a vacation combined for the Annapolis squad. Also it offered a very sensible commentary on the divergence between American and European viewpoints.

Europe, perhaps understandably, is forgetting under political tension, how to play. That is a very unfortunate omen. Let us hope it never happens to us here. The Navy squad, keeping in mind its friendly gridiron foes of the Fall season, refused to take life too seriously.

Morale, both in football and in more momentous affairs, possesses a valuable ally in the sense of humor, and another in the spirit of sportsmanship. It is a sad thought indeed that many nations lack the one and are debauching the other.

So welcome again Providence, welcome to Holy Cross where we still know the value of games and intercollegiate sport particularly. Where we take a real pride in bringing college groups from all over this broad land to play. Such things must have real worth, that is why we retold this little incident of the viewpoint young men in training for our armed services have. We have just the same viewpoint. We had it back in 1918, and as long as we keep it we need fear nothing. Welcome Providence.

WHY FOUR OFFICIALS?

In football, as in few other sports, four officials are needed to keep in force the complicated code of rules which covers the game, and to watch the actions and reactions of the twenty-two players on the field. In any discussion of officials it is well to start with the major premise that all officials are honorable men who "call 'em as they see 'em."

The referee is the oldest official mentioned in the rule book. Up to 1883, he acted as a sort of chairman of a committee of three, the other two members of which were admittedly partisan, since each represented one of the beligerents. But in 1884 he was put "out there" to govern the game alone.

His present day chore is to watch the ball, determine its progress and its exact location after each play. He records the downs and the distance to be gained, watches to see that no defensive back starts before the snap of the ball, calls all scores, inflicts all penalties and, in general, conducts the game. He takes his place behind the team having possession of the ball.

The umpire (a post created in 1887, presumably to lighten the burdens of the overworked referee), has charge of the players' conduct. He watches for illegal tactics in individual and team play. His place is, customarily, behind the team on defense, or at the end of the scrimmage line, opposite the head linesman.

The head linesman and his two assistants, or chainmen, are posted on the sidelines of the playing field. The post was created in 1894.

The "youngest" official is the field judge, added by the rules in 1907. He usually takes his place about 25 yards back of the defensive team, and is there to see that the rules covering forward passes and punts are properly complied with. He keeps the all important time in the game.

CARNEGIE HERE NOV. 18

CARNEGIE TECH, Pittsburgh, Pa. Red and White, Skibos. Coached by Bill Kern former assistant coach to Jock Sutherland at Pittsburgh. This is his third year at Carnegie Tech. In his first year his team beat Notre Dame 9 to 7. Carnegie won 7-6 from Holy Cross last Fall at Pittsburgh. Previous games were played in Worcester, Mass. Carnegie Tech has never beaten Holy Cross on Fitton Field. Carnegie played in the Sugar Bowl last year.

In 1935 and 1936 Holy Cross won 7 to 0 and in 1937 on a stormy day both teams battled to a scoreless tie.

This series is developing into a grid classic which some day will rival other classics.

Bake With a Glenwood

*The Range that
"Makes Cooking Easy"*

Double Assurance of Satisfaction with a Glenwood

This year the Glenwood Range Co. of Taunton celebrates its 60th anniversary bringing out an entire new line of ranges. Like the Glenwood Range Co., Northridge's is an old established concern. In fact, this year marks its 51st year doing business in Worcester. Behind every Glenwood range that you buy is not only the guarantee of the manufacturers but also the guarantee of the Northridge Furniture Co. This is your double assurance of satisfaction.

Glenwood's Gold Medal

The Finest Range Money Can Buy

- By far the greatest range of them all.
- Two large complete ovens—one for roasting, using coal or oil; the other for baking or broiling with gas.
- 4 Dual-Thrift Simmer-Center Top Burners with automatic lighting.
- Cool gas cooking in hot weather; comfortable heat in cold weather.
- You get the service of 2 ranges all in the space of 1 ordinary range—the most complete cooking combination ever built.
