Rams versus Friars

By WILLIAM G. MOKRAY, '29
Director of Sports Publicity at R. I. State

Once again, Rhode Island State and Providence College meet at Cranston Stadium in what is fast becoming one of the most interesting colleges series in these parts. The Friars and Rams have faced each other at the close of their season, and at the beginning of a campaign, and, here, tonight, their try something new—facing each other in mid-season.

The rivals first met upon the gridiron in 1931, when the two battled each other at the Brown Stadium for the benefit of the Milk Fund. Not until three years later, however, did the two institutions renew relations, and they since have been meeting with each other in football, basketball and baseball.

Providence holds a 5-2 edge in the football series. The results of these gridiron clashes have been as follows:

	R. I.	P. C.
Nov. 22, 1931 at Providence	0	6
Nov. 24, 1934 Providence	7	21
Nov. 16, 1935 Providence	0	13
Nov. 13, 1936 Cranston	19	0
Nov. 12, 1937 Cranston	13	0
Nov. 11, 1938 Cranston	7	19
Sept. 22, 1939 Cranston	0	6

To date, Rhode Island shows the better record, The State forces have won three of their five games and have given indications that they can bother a foe, when moved to act. On the other hand, Providence has triumphed in the last of four games, but each affair has shown an improvement upon the previous, so that, tonight, the teams find themselves virtually even, with this game judged by what transpires after 8:15 p.m., and not heretofore!

The records of the teams read as follows:

R. I. STATE
10	Northeastern	0
0	Maine	7
17	Brown	20
48	Lowell Tex.	0
9	Mass. State	3
86	Total	30
PROVIDENCE COL.
6	Holy Cross	34
0	Long Island U.	6
0	Niagara	14
13	Canisius	2

May the better team win!

Stadium Sallies

By LOU FITZGERALD

Providence College Director of Publicity

"Gee, Gert, here we are at another football game. Only the papers call it a classic. Say, what is a classic, anyway? I was out with a guy the other night and he said I had a classic profile. I like to bust him in the nose, but we was 12 miles from home, and you know these high heels. Did you see my new shoes? Only two eighty-five, and they look the nuts.

"Ooh, lookit the cute usher. I'll bet he's from R. I. State; they have some awful nice fellers there. I almost got invited to a fraternity dance there once, but I didn't have no new dress. Yeah, he must be from State, because I read in the papers where this is their home game. Thirty miles from Kingston and they call it a home game! That's my line, too, when I get thirty miles from home—I pull the old "I want to go home" game. Gee, what's the matter, Gert, don't you get it?

"What are you lookin' at? The P. C. manager? So he's the one who gave you the tickets! Yeah, he looks all right; but what does he talk about? The Friars? Go wan, how many times have they played State? So what, if this is the ninth game in the series! Providence has won six?—Gert, you must be taps. Well anyway, Rhode Island will probably win tonight. They've won three and only lost two already this season. And besides, the Duke is goin' to be in there tonight. He's a perfect player. Yeah, well it's nice of you to admit it.

"Hey, look! That woman with the hat! Ain't it a mess! She is, too; and the guy with her—he looks like the flea circus is in town. Jeepers, I'd rather come alone than be out with a bird like that. Some girls can always get a feller, though—. Gert—do you suppose there's anything wrong with our technique?

"When do they start this game, anyway? I told you I would of had time to take a bath. At least we could have stayed around and asked my brother something about how the game is played. Holy cow, I've been to four games this year, and I still don't know the center from the coach. I wish I knew what razzle-dazzle was. That's what Keane's team uses. I'd like to get a little bit of that razzle-dazzle on my third finger left hand. I saw that show last week; this fellow I go out with once in a while—he's crazy about Myrna Loy.

"What kind of play does P. C. use? The Notre Dame shift? Oh yeah, I seen that Kanute Rockne pitcher at the Majestic. Yeah, it was perfect. I had a swell time; we almost went to the Beachcomber afterwards only George—that's the guy I was out with—had to register for conscription the next morning and he wanted to be home early.

"Hey, Gert, what are we going to do when they take all the fellers to the army? Gee whizz, times are tough enough now. Do you suppose anybody would marry us to stay out of the war? Naw, neither do I. Maybe we could be Red Cross nurses or something; they always look so swell in their nice white uniforms. No sir, the fellers are not always all shot up; sometimes they're just a little bit gassed. Believe me, I've been out with lots of fellers who were plenty gassed. One guy spent nine bucks one night, and did we have fun! We even took a taxi from the Biltmore to the Crown. Naw, I don't see him much any more.

"What's all the yelling for? Oh, here comes one of the teams. Who is it, Providence? Hey, show me Joe Sullivan. They say he catches more passes than the girl who works behind the counter in Liggett's. Yeah, he's cute, Maybe I'll come to see some more of the games. Who's Providence playing the rest of the year? Sure, I mean at home, who do you think's going to pay my freight to Washington or Springfield?

"LaSalle? You mean from Smith Street? Oh, from Philadelphia. I knew a boy who lived near Philly once. I don't know, I think it was Trenton maybe. Gee what a night owl—at two in the morning he was still looking for places to go. And you know this town!

"Only one more home game after LaSalle? So, St. Anselm, they're good! Gee, homecoming day for the alumni, too. Let's go, Gert, maybe some of the fellers who are making any money will have left their wives at home.

"Oh, there's State coming out. I like those blue uniforms. And lookit Flip Keane. He's a swell player. Baseball and basketball, too. He sure is popular with the crowd. Gee, I wish we was popular like that, Gert. Maybe we could start a team and be the stars, do you think? We could have Madge, and Isabelle and—aw nuts; there wouldn't be anybody to play against.

"Hey, they're gettin' ready to start. Say, mister, quit shovin'. Go—wan, lean on your breakfast. I want to see the game. Oh yeah? Yeah? do you really think so? Don't be tryin' to kid me. Oh I couldn't, my friend is with me. He is? Well, maybe. Sure, I guess so. Okay, all right then, right after the game. Don't forget now. Yeah, we'll meet you right here.

"Hey Gert! We're in! Yup, right after the game. Yeah, swell. Hey you, down in front; DOWN IN FRONT!"

Thumb Nail Sketches

by WILLIAM G. MOKRAY, '29

Director of Athletic Publicity

COACHING STAFF

COACH KEANEY—Been guiding State's football destinies and just about everything else athletic, since 1920. One of Bates' greatest gridiron and diamond heroes of all-time, his feats resembling fiction, but you can bet your last nickel that most of 'em are true. (Verily, how true!) Twenty-year record coaching here just below .500 mark, but largely due to lack of weight and numbers.

FRED TOOTELL—First came to State in 1925. Reputed to be greatest hammer thrower of all-time, and, currently, the nation's leading track coach, turns out champions with frequent regularity. Didn't get his sheepskin from Bowdoin until 1930—and then, by parcel post, insured. Played against Rhode Island in football, in 1921. Competed in as many as six track events, weighed much heavier than he is today. An Olympic champion.

BILL BECK, '24—Hero of 20-inning Brown-Providence College baseball game, driving out hit that settled the longest intercollegiate contest of all-time. Weighed about 135 pounds, but played virtually every position in football, and excelled, at that! Even kicked points after. Played against Tootell in Bowdoin-Rhode Island game of 20 years ago. Quite a skier.

PAUL CIEURZO, '31—Alternated between line and backfield. Performed also in track and basketball. Played at Dean upon a football team, every member of which subsequently became a college captain, including All-American Frank Carideo, of Notre Dame fame. Made five letters in high school—football, basketball, baseball, track and tennis—has since added golf.

ACTING PRESIDENT JOHN BARLOW—Highly treasures picture of Middlebury's first football team, upon which he starred at guard, in 1893. Football his sole athletic specialty. Came to State in 1901, has been treasurer of the Athletic Association just about every year since, currently is chairman of the Athletic Council.

PROF. MARSHALL H. TYLER—Twice rewarded by Amherst as the "greatest all-around athlete in college," has cups to vouch for it. Some termed him "All-American;" to get through his tackle post was as "easy" as crashing a stone wall. Often participated in baseball and track the same day, was New England intercollegiate high jump champion. At times kicked off and then made the tackle.
