Silversmith

79 CHESTNUT STREET
BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS

EARLY AMERICAN SILVER
PORRINGER

by
Stephen Emery, Boston

Typical and well representative example of the 18th century Boston vessel seemingly of universal practical use in the family of the means to own wrought silver. Engraved on the scroll-pierced handle C for Thomas and
T E

Elizabeth Cutts.

From the collection comprising gravy boat, tankard and this porringer handed down from the original owners to the collateral descendant who was lender of them for a period of recent years in the custody of the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, whence they were removed at the lender's order to be available for an appropriate purchasing interest through the management of J. Herbert Gebelein of Gebelein Silversmiths, Inc., Boston, the firm in succession to the shop of George C. Gebelein to whose notice these pieces had previously been brought up in prospect of disposition by the same past owner.
