Dear Mr. Moore;

I wonder if the back account of $1,000.00 might be cleared up at this time?

We do a little extra at Christmas for our associates here and seem to be counting on more cash coming in to bring up our working balance.

Incidentally at the rate in two instances of recent sales of Paul Revere spoons, one in a New York auction at $1200.00 and one by the Vermont dealer @ about $1,000.00, your Cunningham Set becomes quite a plus asset. I did not write further regarding the Coney tankard and to mention by the way it was previously turned over by us, but if her quotation of $9,000.00 may be considered as the full price as reported to me the price stated to the inquirer who mentioned to me his having telephoned in on it, a further query might be tried if the addition to your collection investment of as expensive a piece as it would be even so, to be entertained.

Very truly yours,
