

Salve To Hold Art Exhibition

An exhibition of student art work will be held on the patio and grounds of Rosary Hall, Salve Regina College's art building, tomorrow and Friday.

Students in the art classes will exhibit water colors and oils, as well as craft work. Many projects of art education classes will be on view.

Twenty members of the modern painting class will visit the Boston Museum of Fine Arts and the Copley Art Gallery in Boston on Saturday. They will be accompanied by Sister Mary Mercedes, head of the art department, and Sister Mary Martha, head of the home economics department.

Members of the college's Legion of Mary will take part in an annual outing at Mt. St. Rita convent in Cumberland Sunday. Sister Mary Mercedes and Sister Mary Harold will accompany the group.

Among the activities planned are a demonstration by Salve Regina students on methods of teaching Confraternity of Christian Doctrine classes.
