

Moore Heads

Catholic Appeal

1/25/63

Cornelius C. Moore of 5 Touro Park West, a parishioner of St. Mary's Church and senior member of the law firm of Moore, Virgadamo, Boyle & Lynch, has been appointed lay chairman of the 37th annual Catholic Charities Appeal by the Most Rev. Russell J. McVinney, bishop of Providence. He is the first Newporter to head this statewide diocesan charity drive in its 37-year history. Moore has been chairman of the Representative Council, a United States commissioner for the District of Rhode Island, a member of the Rhode Island State Council of Defense and the Rhode Island Port Authority, and a member and secretary of the Newport County Selective Service Board. He is president of the Newport National Bank.