

MR. FOGARTY.

Mr. Speaker:

I am deeply pleased today that I have had the opportunity to join with my colleagues in the House of Representatives in extending a most hearty welcome to his honor, the Lord Mayor of Dublin.

I can't recall ever being so impressed with the terrific job of public relations promotion as I have been with the work being done in our own country by Mr. Briscoe.

In this day, when all nation's of the world - whether we agree with their philosophy of government or not - are constantly engaged in the great work of seeking friends abroad - it is a genuine thrill to meet with this representative of the little Republic of Ireland and acknowledge that he has probably won more friends in the few days he has been here - than all other foreign representatives combined.

I wish him well - I wish well for his country, the land of my forebears - and I hope he will soon be able to return to our shores - not as a representative of a divided Ireland but as the official representative of an island Republic - once more united - as God always intended it to be.

I would ask unanimous consent that I may be permitted to insert in the Record at this point a letter from a lady who lives in my District in Rhode Island - a letter which I have found is typical of the public reaction to Lord Mayor Briscoe's visit to our country.

I can't recall ever ~~being so~~ being so impressed with the terrific job of public relations ~~presentation~~ promotion as I have been with the work being done in our own country by Mr. Briscoe.

In this day, when all nation's of the world - whether we agree with their philosophy of government or not - are ~~so~~ constantly engaged in the great work of seeking friends abroad - it is a genuine thrill to meet with this representative of the ~~small nation of~~ little Republic of Ireland and acknowledge that he has probably won more friends in the few days he has been here - than all ~~the~~ other ~~nations~~ foreign representatives combined.

I wish him well - I wish well for his country, the land of my forebears - and I hope he will soon be able to return to our shores - not as a ~~human~~ representative of a divided Ireland but as the official representative of an island Republic - once more united - as God always intended it to be.

I would ask unanimous consent that I may be permitted to insert in the Record at this point a letter from a lady who lives in my District in Rhode Island - a letter which I have found is typical of the public reaction to Lord Mayor Briscoe's visit to our country.
