at their annual prom held at the Biltmore Hotel last night. The stamps replaced the usual favors.

The idea of the "Victory Prom" originated with members of the class council under the direction of Jack McGreen, senior class president, and was designed to conserve vital metals.

Music was furnished by Ed Drew and his band. Patrons and patronesses were Dr. and Mrs. Howard D. Wood, school principal; Frederick E. Hawkins, vice principal; Miss Alice Spotwood, class adviser; Mr. Elmer Hussey, guidance department head, and Miss Florence H. Slack, school co-ordinator.

STAMPS BUY PAPER

Providence College Plans New Summer Publication.

A weekly eight-page paper accepting war savings stamps for subscriptions and replacing the regular student weekly will be published for the students of Providence College during the summer trimester. The paper, entitled "The Friar Mercury," appeared for the first time yesterday.

It will replace the more formal "Cowl" for the summer session, and will be an organ devoted to keeping students posted on Army and Navy in-college plan news as well as supplying campus coverage.

James F. Shield of Providence, a junior and editor of the "Cowl," is listed on the masthead as editor and publisher.
