

Providence College Veterans Fund

George Fisher

May 15/98

Dear

We are all absolutely delighted at the response for contributions to fund the planned happening at Providence College on Oct 17th. Needless to say, we have the cooperation and total support from both Providence College and the local on campus ROTC Unit. The invited keynote speaker is General H. Norman Schwarzkopf...and the ROTC is planning a full dress parade in our honor. Father Driscoll, who is now on the faculty at Providence College will deliver the invocation. (He was on the beach in Normandy in June 44)

The placque was finally delivered and paid for. It weighs about 50 lbs and cast in heavy bronze. ..the cost was $1250.00 Leo Wurtzel and I took the enclosed picture. (Leo is on the right)

Sometime in August, you will be receiving all the info on the 328th reunion that will be held in nearby Mansfield Oct 16-18th. I have a scheduled meeting at Providence College in early June to finalize the program and special bus transportation will be provided from Mansfield to the campus. In addition, we will make every effort to arrange for lunch in the faculty dining room. It is anticipated we will have sufficient donations to pay all these expenses and all monies left will be donated to the ROTC on campus.

You will note I moved my CP north for the summer. I certainly welcome your thoughts, suggestions, and comments.

Cordially,

GEORGE FISHER
