THE OLD T. . .

Hugh Devore of Providence College is another coach who intends to make increased use of the T offense in football . . . but not in reflection of the success of the system as practised by Stanford and the Chicago Bears. . . . Devore has long been aware of the worth of the ancient T. . . . He used it extensively in 1938, his first season at Providence College, and to a limited extent last season. . . . The reason there is to be more of it in the season coming up is that Devore believes he has the material needed to make the formation effective.

DEVORE PREDICTS

BEST P. C. TEAM
J 3/20/41

"We'll have the finest team at Providence College next season, since I've been coach there." So said Hugh J. Devore, football mentor of the Friars last night at a sports get-together sponsored by the William C. Cutler Olympic Club at the Jewish Community Centre.

Coach Fred "Bun" Cook of the Rhode Island Reds, Earl Lofquist of the Providence Journal, Brown Track Coach George Anderson and Joe Dulkie, Providence College backfield coach, were other speakers. Arthur Markey of WJAR, was master of ceremonies.

The American League baseball picture "Batting Around the American League" concluded the program which was arranged by Chairman Sydney Cohen of the W. C. Cutler Club, and his committee.

Gridiron Outlook at Providence College Is Rosier Than Usual as 52 Report

Coach Devore Plans to Get Players Outdoors as Soon as Weather Permits.

✓ 3/23/41
By BARNEY MADDEN

Fifty-two able bodied young men, 16 of them seniors, 13 juniors and 23 sophomores carry, or, all things being equal, will carry the football destinies of Providence College on their broad shoulders next fall.

Currently Coach Hugh Devore has that number in his spring semester class of football theory, and will transfer them all, as one man, to the great out-of-doors for practical work in his gridiron practise course as soon as Old Sol exerts his influence and dries out the Hendricken Field practise acreage.

The situation, at a glance, is encouraging, but whether its promise will be maintained once the glances slow down enough for detailed observations remain to be seen. Off and on, all 52 have demonstrated some penchant for playing football in a satisfactory manner, and, because of that, hope springs in the coach's breast.

Devore readily admits his roster is relatively imposing, but quickly adds that it can lose much of its impres-

Big Experiment at Quarter

However, the big experiment at quarterback revolves about Ray Kowalski, a senior who has done well at halfback and fullback for the past two seasons. Kowalski, owner of one of the smartest football heads on the squad, has been moved to quarter. He is short, blocky and fast, a grand blocker, passer and safety man. His ball handling makes it possible for Devore to indulge in some T-formation didoes if he so desires.

Paul Roshka, a big, broad-shouldered young man; Ed Lynch, Charles McKinnon, brother of the former Friar fullback star; Rudy Zulkiewicz, the speedy Sam Franco, Leto DaDalt and Johnny Grady are the Freshmen who intend to become varsity halfbacks. Grady, perhaps the lightest of the bunch, is an especially nifty lad.

Joe Juges, Ray Roy, Johnny Yockers, Jim O'Connell, Harry O'Connell, Sam Iorio and Ed Haponik already have won their halfback spurs with the varsity.

Ed Ostrowski and Al Durepo are the upcoming fullback hopes, ready and willing to battle for starting berths with the lettermen, Paul Zenobia and John Stonkus.

siveness if many of his experienced hands, whose names also are included in a more important list—that of the draft board—are tapped for khaki or blue.

Some of the Friars are so situated in their local draft boards that Devore can't place as much dependence upon them as he would ordinarily.

Ambitious Program

However, presupposing for the sake of exposition, that the squad on hand now is the one that will wear the black and white next season, he is working diligently on preparations for the most ambitious campaign of his Providence College tenure. Although the Friars' schedule isn't complete, in its skeleton form it is the most difficult the Dominicans have arranged in many years.

Sophomores apparently are going to have much to say about the progress of the Friars in 1941, and if they develop as much as is expected they will give the veterans plenty of worry about starting jobs. Some of the sophomores are the biggest boys Devore has had at P. C., and since a good percentage of them combine speed and agility with their imposing poundage, it might be that they will lift the Friars higher than they have been in some time.

Biggest of the new men is Charley Fogarty of Harmony, brother of the Devore will take his charges outdoors as soon as possible, perhaps this week, and if the weather holds favorable, will conduct a relatively short, but intense spring session. The Friars are opening early next fall, and Devore hopes to get a large part of the fundamental work done during the spring drills.

This team will have more weight than its predecessors, and if some of the freshmen develop quickly enough, will also have more speed.

Sophomores Expected to Have Much to Say About Friars' 1941 Chances.

Rhode Island Congressman, and a broth of a boy who shivers the beam at 260 pounds and is quick and willing in the bargain. Next to Fogarty come the 220-pounders, Wilfred Michaud and Nelson Mellon, who serve to make the tackle squad a hefty group. Michaud, one of the outstanding Freshman basketball players, is particularly fast for a big fellow, and Mellon has considerable natural talent, but is short on experience.

Drew, Burns End Hopes

Larry Drew, late of La Salle, freshman captain and Johnny Burns are the principal end hopes among the newcomers, and with the holdovers, Capt. Joe Sullivan, Jim Rafferty, Jim Larkin, Nick Budnowski and Ed Quegan round out the best looking end squad in several years.

Milt Wolferseder, small, but smart and durable, Frank Smyth and Lino Tiberi, a five-foot, six-inch, 200-pounder were guards with the freshmen, and aspire to similar roles with the varsity. Pete Louthis, tackle with the freshmen last fall, has been transferred to the guard squad, which leaves Devore in the position of having four rugged individuals to support his veterans, Tony Ditri, moved from tackle, Ed Borzilauskas, Nick Carcieri, 220-pound Bill Juges and Ed Roth. Another guard hope is Leo Murphy, who has been out of school, but is now back at the books.

Lou Siy, Pete Corato and Dave Tubridy are the sophomore contenders for the job Dom Diluglio inherited at centre, and are apt to make Dom step. Tubridy was an end with the freshmen, but was moved to centre because of his size, agility and ability to diagnose plays.

At tackle Devore has five experienced players, Joe Pliska, Horace Marone, Lou Cimini, Walter Scanlon and Joe Vaghi, who was a varsity end last year, but whose height is expected to come in handy at tackle.

Rudy Ouellette, cousin of the former Holy Cross star, Henry Ouellette, is the chief Freshman contribution to the quarterback squad, and might steal much of the play from the veterans, Frank Franco, Tod Moore and Jim Coyle.

Friars vs. Terriers

B 4/30/41

Practise Game Scheduled for Grid Squads Next Tuesday at Weston

The Providence College football team, which has looked promising in spring drills and has displayed more power than heretofore in scrimmages, will get a real test next Tuesday against Boston University.

The Friars and Terriers will play a practise game at Weston, Mass., under regulation conditions. Coaches Hugh Devore and Pat Hanley arranged the tilt to get a line on their teams' prospects for next season.

Both P. C. and B. U. will depend largely upon sophomores next fall, in replacement roles at least, and the coaches wanted to give the newcomers a workout under actual game conditions.

The score Tuesday will be of no consequence, for both Devore and Hanley are more concerned about performance right now than points. Both plan to use virtually their entire squads and it is probable that freshmen, being prepared for varsity debuts in the fall, will see plenty of action.

This will be the Friars' first spring game under the Devore regime.

5/6/41
Providence College officially closes spring football practice with a regulation game against Boston University today.

Approximately 45 have been working in the Friar drills the past eight weeks, and Coach Hugh Devore plans on taking his entire squad to Boston.

Devore says the spring drills have worked satisfactorily and progress has been made. He believes today's "scrimmage" is just the work to close out training and will serve as a true barometer of what has been accomplished.

The game will begin at 1:15.

See note 4/30/41
Don't be surprised if the Providence College-Boston University spring football game eventually leads to a regular game in the fall schedule. Pat Hanley and the B. U. officials look with favor on fall rivals who will co-operate in such ventures as spring practice games and other moves which tend to draw the colleges closer together. Providence College should find a likely foe in Hanley's Terriers, and the spring game will probably draw the two institutions and their teams together so that talk of a regulation game will be the outcome.

Boston University Gridiron Squad Beats Friars, 12-6

(Special to the Providence Journal)

5/7/41
Weston, Mass., May 6.—Boston University's spring football training season came to a close here today with a 12-6 victory over Providence College. The Friars managed to score two touchdowns, but the second was disallowed because too many men were on the field.

The only breakaway in the first three periods was made by Providence's Ed Hopanick, who jack-rabbed 50 yards in the second quarter. He did not score on that dash. Heat wilted both squads in the later stages, and all the scoring was concentrated in the final period.

Providence scored first when Left Tackle Joe Pliska rocketed through the Terrier line to block Jim Anderson's punt on the B. U. 10-yard line. Pliska fell on the bobbling ball behind the Terrier goal line for the touchdown.

Boston University's tallies were made soon after. The first was made from the 35-yard line on a Giles-Sullivan spot pass. Peter Lamana plunged over for the second touchdown four minutes before the final gun was fired.

Joe Sheeketski Sings the Blues at B. U.—Providence Grid Game

By JERRY NASON

Seated 'way off in a corner soaking up the sun at Riverside yesterday was Joe Sheeketski, the Holy Cross football coach. Looking very slick in a gabardine ensemble, Joe was taking in the scrimmage game between B. U. and Providence College, the real reason being that he plays Providence in the Fall. They have, in the past, been very troublesome in their Fitton Field appearances.

Groaned Joe, in mid-October form, "They've got some real rangy boys on this Providence squad." Sheeketski's a year-round resident of Worcester now. He says he not only will lose blocking backs Frank Saba and Rex Kidd to the armed forces but probably will lose tackle Fitzgerald, too.

'They're a Couple of Swell Kids'

"They're not mugs or wise guys. They're a couple of swell kids, perhaps a bit foolish, but swell. And I, for one, will fight for another chance for them."

Aside from the Cassidy-Madden affair, what did he think of his spring football practice, of the game with Providence College and of the 1941 prospects?

"The practice this season," he continued, "I believe was the best since I have been at Boston University. I also think it was the most enjoyable for the players. We didn't have our whole squad, for so many of them were playing baseball, and most of the candidates were freshmen. We worked on fundamentals, not going in for any fancy stuff."

"The game with Providence College helped us in two ways. First, it was more fun and both coaches, Hugh Devore and myself, had a chance to use our full squads and to see what they would do in competition.

"Second, because we had to rely on fundamentals—we hadn't expected to play a game and therefore hadn't prepared any special stuff—the boys learned that their basic equipment was sound and that they had the foundation for the fancy stuff in the fall.

"Offensively and defensively, I was very much satisfied and I know that Devore had the same reaction. Providence, by the way, has a big squad, about 35 large-sized players and they'll be a dangerous team in the fall. And I was delighted, what with 14 of what will be the autumn squad not available for this final game.

New Football Rules Mean Open Season On Coaches

Monday Morning Quarterbacks Will Have Field Days, Devore Says.

BY BARNEY MADDEN

The new football rules, in Hugh Devore's opinion, are going to pave the way for field days for the Monday Morning Quarterbacks.

Specifically, that new bit of legislation which permits unlimited substitutions will open new and broader avenues of criticism for the M. M.

Q.'s, suggests the veteran of gridiron wars at Notre Dame and Fordham before becoming commander of the Friar football forces. It will present greater opportunities for the volunteer critics when they assemble to review destructively the misadventures of the preceding Saturday and, in a few thousand well chosen words, castigate the coaching staffs.

"Heretofore," says Devore, "the Monday Morning Quarterbacks berated the coaches on suspicion. Now they'll know where to put the blame for calling touchdown plays that didn't click and, unless I'm mistaken, they won't hesitate.

"That is going to make blue Mondays bluer for us younger coaches although the older men might be immune if there's any immunity in the coaching profession. But, seriously, that will be all right with me since it will remove a lot of pressure from the quarterbacks themselves."

For the Gambler

Devore believes that the new rules are three-fold—good, bad and indifferent. He expects them to improve the offense; tend to keep the customers sitting at length on cold afternoons when some coach takes full advantage of the substitution rule, and reveal whether individual mentors are ultra-conservative or possessed of a penchant for gambling.

He doesn't quite agree with the version of Andy Kerr, Colgate coach, who suggested recently that football become a 12-man game with the coach on the field calling the plays, instead of depending upon subs to relay his instructions.

He does, however, suspect that there will be a new high reached in remote control of offense with each succeeding substitute bringing a message of importance and eliminating the hazards of shouting instructions from the bench. Under the old system there always was the danger of crowd noises drowning out the mentor's orders.

"At least," Hughie continued, "this new method will eliminate a lot of the coaching communications ingenuity employed since the game was an infant. It will tend toward more sanitary conditions, too, for coaches no longer will resort to 'pebbles in the water bucket' as means of giving advice or orders, ranging from one little stone for a straight buck to 18 or so for an intricate reverse to the weak side.

Pebble in a Bucket

"Of course this idea is going to work both ways and lead to sharper battles of wits between contending coaching staffs for, when the offense sends in a certain player, the defensive master minds can send in one or more of their own to offset him.

OPEN SEASON DUE ON GRID COACHES

BY BARNEY MADDEN

Instructions probably will bring about sounder quarterbacking but will work in opposition to one of the fundamental ideas of the sport—that of increasing a boy's thinking capacity under fire by having him call the plays himself—and I don't like that very well. I'd rather have the boys figure problems for themselves.

"Naturally, every coach sends in instructions from time to time, but I'm afraid that the new rule will cause some of them to turn their quarterbacks into little better than parrots. That is almost the case in some places now and with the barriers virtually eliminated that tendency is going to become more pronounced."

Regarding some of the other changes, Devore was more in accord with the rule makers. He approves the rule that prevents a fourth down pass into the end zone from becoming a touchback and thus bringing the ball out to the 20-yard line. He points out that quarterbacks won't be so hesitant about calling last down passes hereafter because the danger of losing anywhere from five to 15 yards will be eliminated.

He also fully sanctions the suggestion that numbers on jerseys be so arranged that there won't be as much confusion as there has been. Some colleges have been using cleverly cut numbers that make 33, 53, 63, 83 and 93, etc., look alike and leave the sports writers wondering what goes on and also leaves defensive halfbacks puzzled on pass plays for 33 might be a guard and 83 an eligible receiver, but by the time he figures which is which a touchdown probably will be scored.

"Seriously, I don't think the changes are going to produce any great benefits—with one conspicuous exception. In this way there will be no need to gamble on the health of a boy who has been hit hard and is a bit groggy. Sometimes coaches have hesitated to remove such a boy and serious injury resulted, but hereafter there will be no excuse for that hesitation. The boy can be taken out, attended to and returned to the game with a clear head.

"The attack undoubtedly will be helped because specialists can be rushed into action when a team is in scoring position and the free exchanging of players will tend to speed up the actual playing, although causing more frequent delays and consuming more minutes from the opening to the final whistle.

P. C. NINE OPENS SPRING PRACTISE

Squad of 29 Reports; Football Team Gets First Scrimmage.

By BARNEY MADDEN

Sports activity hit a new peak for the spring at Providence College yesterday.

The baseball squad, held back by the illness of Coach Art Quirk, made a belated appearance with Hugh Maguire, former Hope high coach, in charge, and at the same time the football squad cut loose with the first scrimmage of the spring.

Twenty-nine candidates reported for baseball, but in that group there were only five lettermen. Two others of experience are expected out shortly.

Field Nearly Dry

Maguire will direct the early work of the Friars, remaining with the squad until Coach Quirk, recuperating at his home from an attack of pneumonia, is able to take command again. If the weather remains favorable, the Friars will be able to get in considerable work soon for Hendricken Field already has dried out quite well and needs only a few drying days to present a true playing surface.

Headed by Capt. Art Clarkin, veteran third baseman, the Friar squad comprises three catchers, four pitchers, 13 infielders and 10 outfielders.

Only one veteran pitcher, Long Amby Reynolds, is available, but is expected to get considerable help from Lou Sibbio, Dick Mahoney, Charley Harrington and George O'Reilly, who hurled for the Freshmen last spring.

Johnny Yockers is the only catching candidate who has earned a varsity letter, but with Joe Moore and Bob Reilly, who shared the berth on the Freshman team a year back, makes the catching department the most promising group of all.

Lees Due Soon

George Barbarito, Bob Harrison and Carl Toti are the other lettermen, Barbarito and Toti being second basemen and Harrison a first baseman by trade, but an outfielder by necessity the last two seasons. He is a clever fielder and a good hitter.

Jack Keenan, an infielder; Pitcher Sibbio, Jim Padden, George Avery and Ray Roy, outfielders, have had some varsity experience, while Vin Eldred and Chet Zabek, outfield stars of the 1940 Freshman team, and Sam Kusinitz, who has played considerable summer ball, are likely to give them quite a battle for positions. Beryl Sacks, a third base prospect, is, like Kusinitz, making his first try for a diamond berth, although both are seniors.

The candidates, to be bolstered shortly by the Lee brothers, Eddie and Johnny, infielder and outfielder, are:

Catchers—Joe Moore, Bob Reilly, Johnny Yockers.

Pitchers—Lou Sibbio, Amby Reynolds, George O'Reilly, Dick Mahoney, Charley Harrington.

First Base—Leo Leddy, Jim Clifford, Bob Harrison, Jim Wilkins.

Second Base—George Barbarito, Carl Toti, Paul Rylander.

Shortstop—Jack Keenan, Eddie Bracq.

Third Base—Capt. Art Clarkin, Beryl Sacks, Jim Brownell.

Outfielders—Vin Eldred, Chet Zabek, Jim Padden, George Avery, Nick Cariglia, Sam Kusinitz, Paul L'Esperance, Ray Roy, George Terrace.

While the baseball hopefuls were going through their paces on Hendricken Field, the football squad was scrimmaging on the nearby practice field. Coach Hugh Devore worked four teams in scrimmage, putting special stress on line blocking.

P. C. ELEVEN WILL PLAY NINE GAMES IN 1941 CAMPAIGN

Friars Open With Franklin-

Season at Xavier.

BY BARNEY MADDEN

Providence College will play nine football games next fall.

According to the program released yesterday by Paul Dunne, athletic association business manager, the Friars will play seven of their games on foreign fields, only the jousts with Rhode Island State and Springfield being scheduled for home lots.

The Friars will start out in ambitious fashion, meeting Franklin and Marshall and Holy Cross in the first two games. When they invade Lancaster, Pa., for the opener with F. & M., they will be calling on the team that provided one of the biggest upsets last season, a victory over Dartmouth. Subsequently the Diplomats demonstrated that the conquest of the Indians wasn't exactly a fluke.

Return games with Canisius, St. Anselm, Niagara and La Salle are booked, with Xavier of Cincinnati back on the schedule after a two-year absence.

The date for the Rhode Island game hasn't been settled, but it will be played either at mid-week (Oct. 22), as it was last season, or on the following Saturday.

La Salle will be played at Philadelphia Nov. 16 and Xavier four days later in a Thanksgiving Day battle in the Ohio city.

The schedule:

Sept. 27—Franklin-Marshall at Lancaster, Pa.

Oct. 4—Holy Cross at Worcester; 12—Canisius at Buffalo; 18—St. Anselm at Manchester; 22 or 25—Rhode Island State.

Nov. 1—Springfield; 9—Niagara at Niagara Falls; 16—La Salle at Philadelphia; 20—Xavier at Cincinnati.

FRIARS, LIMITED TO 3 HITS, DROP 7 TO 0 DECISION

Nagy Gives Seton Hall Victory; Reynolds Losing

Pitcher

(Special to the Providence Journal)

East Orange, N. J., April 17.—Playing excellent baseball behind the superb pitching of Steve Nagy, Seton Hall humbled Providence College, 7-0 at Setonia Field here this afternoon.

The Friars, unable to get their batting eyes in their first start of the season, collected only 3 hits, one of them of the scratch variety, off the sterling Seton southpaw.

The Setonians started off in grand fashion as Mike Standish, first man up, singled to centre. Brydon hit to Reynolds, whose throw to Harrison was wide, and Standish, who had started with the pitch, scored by the time Harrison had recovered the ball. Lou Welaj, brother of the Washington Senators' centrefielder, walked, and Al Booth singled, scoring Brydon. Welaj held up at third.

Reynolds bore down and struck out Bob Davies and Jim Lacika. On the final pitch to Lacika, Booth started to steal second and Joe Moore, endeavoring to pick him off threw into centre field, and Welaj romped home.

Pull Squeeze Play

The game then settled down into a fairly close ball game, with both pitchers turning in some fine hurling, but in the sixth inning, the home forces added a run as Brydon singled and went to second on Welaj's sacrifice. Booth was safe on a fielder's choice, Brydon reaching third on a close play. He scored on a squeeze play by Davies.

The Setonians added three more in the seventh as Delaney opened with an infield hit and went to second on Rowett's sacrifice, Nagy walked. Standish grounded out, but the two runs scored as Brydon's hard hit ball caromed off the lanky Reynolds's glove and into short left field. Brydon scored a moment later when Welaj tripled.

Standish then erred on John Lee's grounder, and the bases were filled. Coach Arthur Quirk put Bob Reilly in to bat for Keenan but he hit into a double play, retiring the Friars.

(Special to the Providence Journal)

Villanova, Pa., April 18.—The power of the Villanova team was too much for Providence College here this afternoon, and the Friars lost the second game of their two game road trip, 9-4.

Providence, which managed to tie the score at 2 all in their half of the seventh, fell before a barrage unleashed by the Wildcats which saw starting pitcher Dick Mahoney sent to the showers, and relief pitcher Jim Padden in almost constant difficulty.

The Friars, playing much better ball than they did in their opening game at Seton Hall, were contenders all the way. Villanova, which had scored in the first inning on an error, a single and a long fly, and again in the second inning on a walk, a single and an error, apparently had matters under control until the Dominicans began to find their batting eye in the fifth.

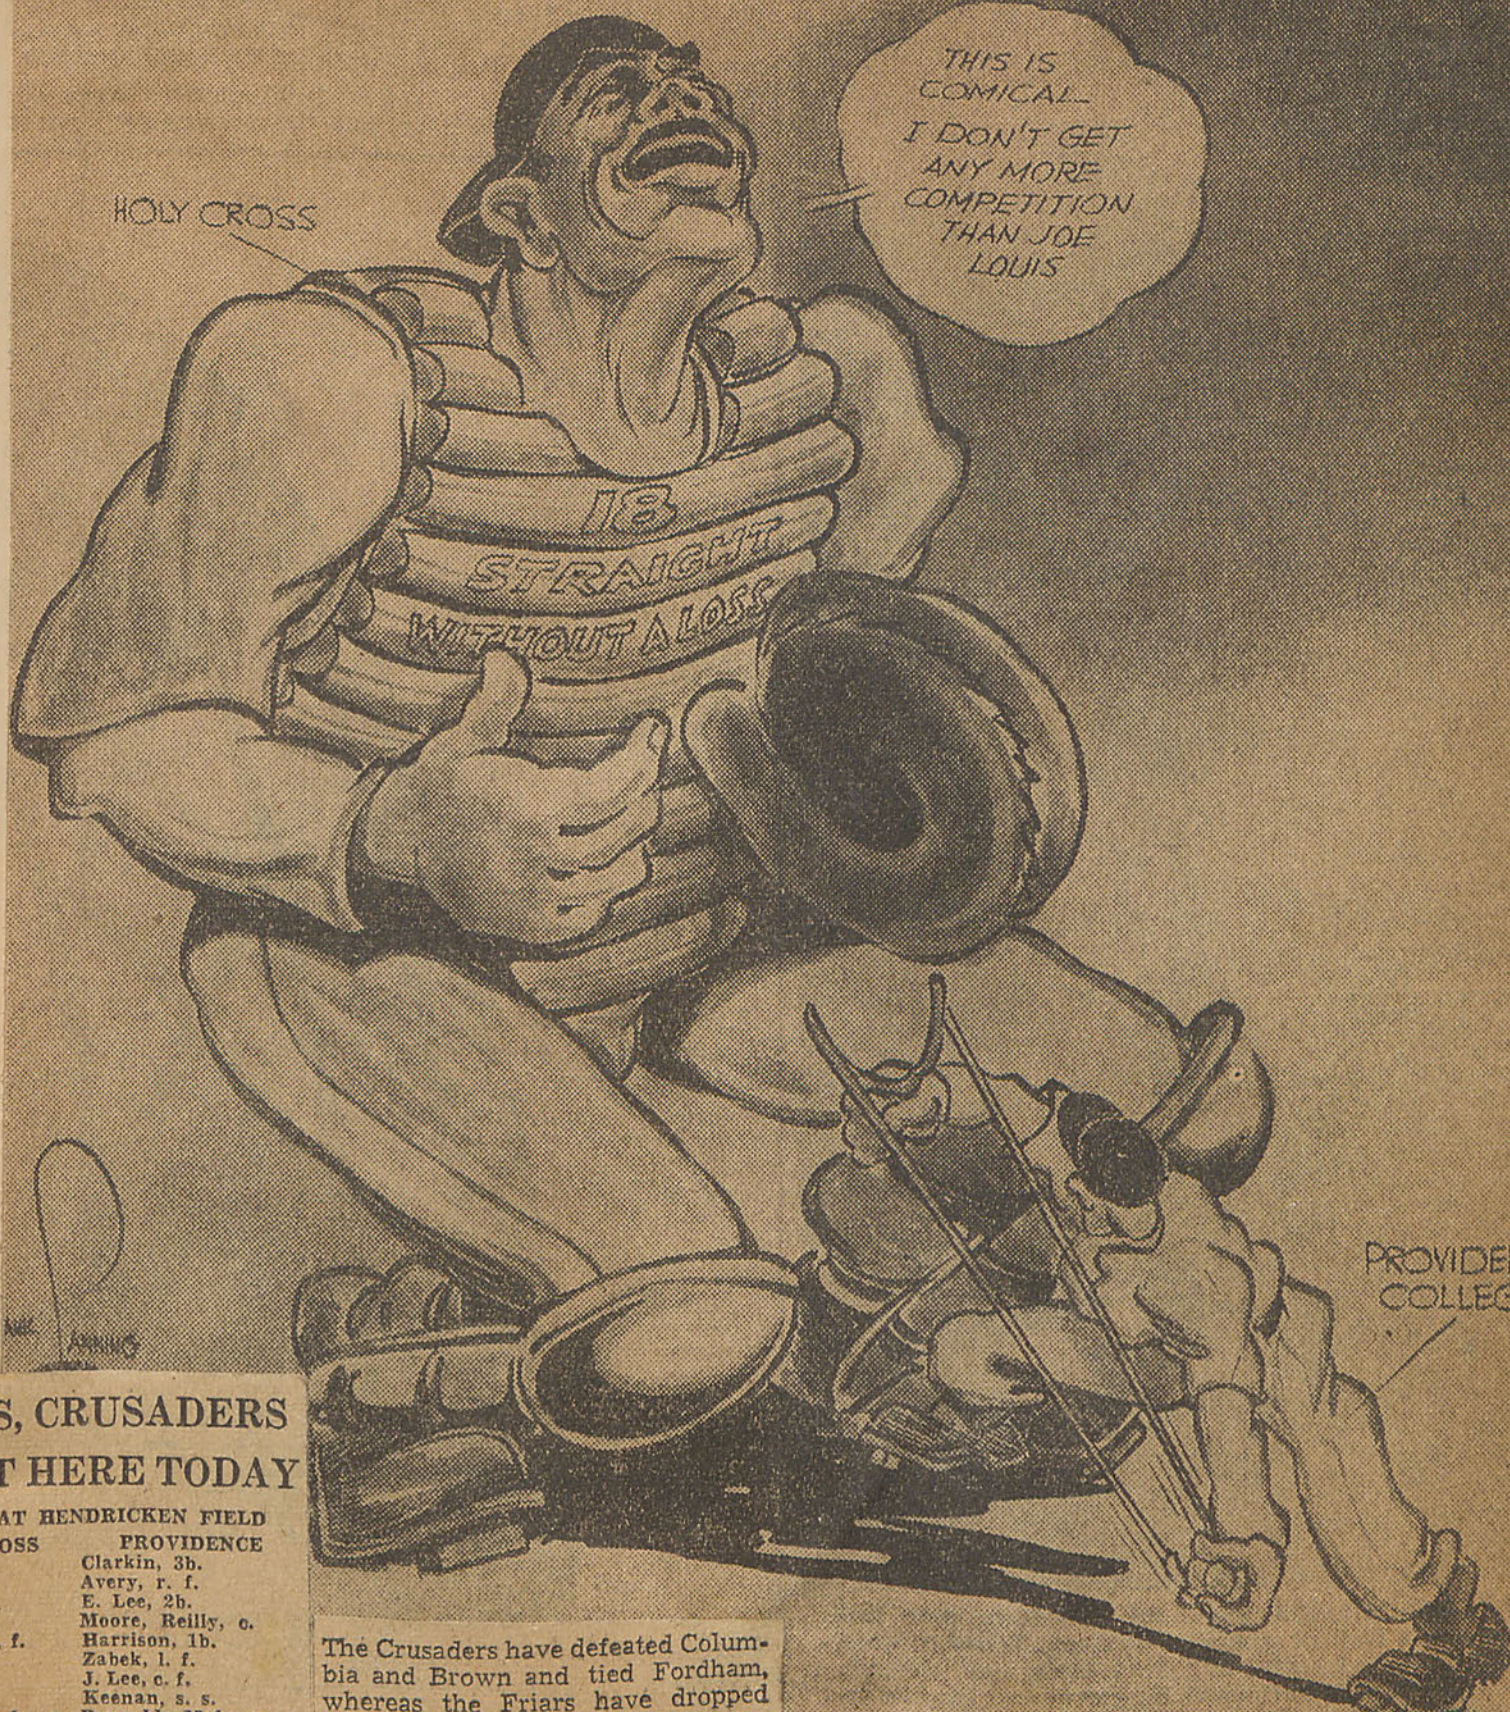

With one out, Zabek was safe on an infield hit and John Lee hit the first of his two doubles. In the seventh Zabek walked and Johnny doubled again, tying the score.

The Wildcats, after their fifth victory, unleashed a four-run barrage which drove Mahoney from the box in the seventh. Calandra opened the inning with a double, went to third on Skaf's infield out, and scored on O'Leary's third successive single. Reitmeier singled and Simonsen doubled him across. Kupecki scratched a hit, scoring Simonsen. A double by George Baltimore caused Coach Artie Quirk to call Jim Padden in from the bull pen, and he retired the side, forcing Yednock to fly to Zabek.

In the eighth Jack Keenan, who had been robbed of two hits by Joe Yednock, singled and Padden, in his first appearance at the plate, hit the first ball pitched for a home run.

Villanova added three more runs in the eighth on two hits, two bases on balls, an error and a long fly.

Providence College inaugurates its home season this afternoon and Holy Cross will be the party of the second part.

The game, starting at 3 o'clock at Hendricken Field, will bring together an unbeaten team and one that is looking for its first victory. The Crusaders have defeated Columbia and Brown and tied Fordham, whereas the Friars have dropped verdicts to Seton Hall and Villanova, two of the most highly regarded teams in the East.

Coach Jack Barry has his choice of pitchers for today and probably will use O'Connell, Murphy or Creamer. Murphy stepped into action last week against Fordham and saved what seemed a hopeless situation. His work for 11 and a fraction innings was little short of spectacular.

Coach Art Quirk will start either Amby Reynolds or Sophomore Dick Mahoney with either Joe Moore or Bob Reilly catching.

Although the Friars have lost their two starts they have shown to advantage, so much so that their followers expect them to develop into a classy outfit before the season is much older. There will be at least four sophomores in the Friars' starting lineup. The youngsters were somewhat nervous in the games on the road, but were increasingly impressive as the games wore on.

Potentially this is a good hitting P. C. team and probably has progressed enough to give the Crusaders a strenuous argument. Holy Cross, incidentally, has not been beaten since Walter Juszcyk and Brown turned the trick in the opening game last year. In the interim the Crusaders have won 17 games and tied one.

O'Brien fanned but Nahijian's grounder went through Johnny Keenan and Bezemes scored. Malinowski doubled to left and Chet Zabek bobbled it, Malinowski reaching third, Nahijian and Hanlon scoring and Reynolds departing. Morgan singled but was out trying to stretch it into a double, but Malinowski galloped in with the eighth run.

Having gone down before Murphy's smart pitching with monotonous regularity for three innings, the Friars came to life in the fourth. Clarkin and Yockers singling in succession and advancing when Pullano threw into centre trying to pick Clarkin off second. Murphy fanned Ed Lee and Joe Moore, but Al Harrison singled the runners across and Zabek folled with another hit but John Lee fanned.

Murphy's Record Dented

Keenan sliced a double to right in the fifth and Harrison singled in the sixth, but otherwise Murphy disposed of his opposition in order for the remainder of the fray, being helped by a dazzling pickup by Hanlon as Merullo threw into the dirt after taking John Lee's grounder in the seventh.

Nahijian's single, theft of second, Hanlon's single, a wild pitch and Clarkin's low throw to the plate trying to wipe Hanlon out produced two runs for the Crusaders in sixth and Clarkin's wide throw to first on Merullo, a passed ball and Murphy's single produced the last run. Thereafter Mahoney retired the Crusaders in order.

So effective was Murphy that 18 of the Friars were retired in the infield, apart from the seven who fanned. . . . The Friar runs, however, were the first earned off Murphy this year. . . . Previously he had gone 21 innings without giving up an earned run and had a string of 10 scoreless innings before yesterday's game. . . .

Only three balls were hit out of the infield on Mahoney, apart from the hits. . . . He looked very good and won himself the Number 1 spot on the Friar staff.

Murphy's Pitching, Crusader Hitting, Friar Errors Produce 11 to 2 Victory

Mahoney Hurls Well in Relief
Role; Home Team Retired in Order Six Times.

BY BARNEY MADDEN

Ed Murphy, Holy Cross sophomore, pitched very efficiently, his mates hit opportunely and Providence College erred critically as the Crusaders defeated the Friars, 11 to 2, yesterday in the Hendricken Field opener.

Retiring the Friars in succession in six innings, allowing only six hits over-all, Murphy was in command all the way and in comfort after the Crusaders exploded eight runs in Amby Reynolds' face in the third and fourth innings. After Reynolds departed with two out in the fourth, Sophomore Dick Mahoney took over and did a grand job the rest of the way.

No Earned Runs

True enough, the Crusaders scored two more in the sixth and one in the seventh but errors were prominent in those tallies. Mahoney yielded four hits in five and one-third innings, passed two, gave no earned runs and fanned three.

Reynolds, fast and breaking a good hook in the early stages, struck out eight men in his abbreviated tenure, but his labors in the strikeout department took their toll and eventually the Crusaders caught up with him and clubbed him for six hits in two innings, one of them John Bezemes' home run that went under the gate in left centre.

Although he gave up a pass and a single in the first, Reynolds escaped unscathed, fanning the side and getting two more on strikes in the second. He started his own downfall in the third by walking Murphy, the first batter and then feeding Bezemes the fast ball that he belted for four bases.

Reynolds Departs

Marty O'Brien singled, Alex Nahjian walked, Moose Hanlon fanned, but Bruno Malinowski slapped a run-producing single before Reynolds threw out Joe Pullano, Providence's gift to this Holy Cross team.

In the fourth Manny Merullo, first man up, walked and Murphy sacrificed. Bezemes singled, scoring Merullo and taking second when Johnny Yockers bobbled the grounder.

B 4/24/41

Brown and Providence College met defeat yesterday at the hands of Yale and Holy Cross. Yale defeated Brown, 4 to 3 in New Haven, and Holy Cross downed Providence College, 11 to 2 on Hendricken Field.

Amby Reynolds of Providence College started in fine fettle by striking out five men in the first two innings. But the murderous power in the Crusader bats was waiting for the opening that came in the 3rd, when Murphy was walked and Bezemes clouted a home run. O'Brien singled and came home on Malinowski's drive.

Reynolds retired in the 4th with two men out and four runs in in that frame on Malinowski's double, Bezemes single, a walk, a sacrifice and an error. Mahoney succeeded him and gave five more hits for three runs.

Friar Lineup Revamped for Lowell Game

Lowell Textile makes its third invasion of Rhode Island this afternoon and the prospects of victory over an improving Providence College team are little if any brighter than they were in the previous visits to Brown and Rhode Island State. The game will start at 3 o'clock.

Coach Art Quirk of the Friars has made a couple of changes in his starting team, sending Nick Cariglia to left field and Bob Reilly behind the plate. Cariglia takes over Chet Zabek's berth, Zabek moving to right field where Johnny Yockers performed against Holy Cross. Reilly and Joe Moore have alternated in catching. Moore started against the Crusaders and being replaced in the late innings by Reilly.

Either Dick Mahoney, who finished against the Crusaders in fine style, or another sophomore, George O'Reilly will be the Providence mound choice. Valenti is slated to pitch for the Textilers.

It probably will be Warner Keaney against Dick Mahoney on the mound when Rhode Island State and Providence College open the State baseball series at Kingston tomorrow. Coach Art Quirk of the Friars is likely to make some changes in his lineup as the result of showings in the Holy Cross game Wednesday.

Friars Gain First Victory; Hold Visitors to Four Hits

Capt. Art Clarkin Gets Four for Five and Scores
Three Runs.

BY BARNEY MADDEN

The baseball and the weather ran the good-bad-indifferent gamut yesterday at Hendricken. Field but Providence College, playing the good ball, defeated Lowell Textile, 13 to 2.

Coach Art Quirk used three pitchers, Dick Mahoney, George O'Reilly and Charley Harrington, and each did well as the Friars won their first game in four starts. All told they held the Textilers to four hits and no earned runs, the two Lowell did score in the third being neatly gift-wrapped. The Friars, on the other hand, combined some lusty hitting with walks and fielding miscues and scored in six of the eight innings they batted.

Providence sewed the game up pronto as Capt. Art Clarkin walked at the outset, advanced on Chet Zabek's sacrifice, and scored as Ray Harrison's grounder meandered through the Lowell third baseman for a two-base error. John Lee's single scored Harrison.

Then, in the second, Mahoney's single, Clarkin's double and Zabek's homer added three more runs and, in the third, Harrison's single, John Lee's walk and Nick Cariglia's single boosted the total to six. Singles by Clarkin and Zabek and Harrison's well-pasted triple combined for two more in the fourth.

Lowell scored twice in the third when the Friars committed two of their three errors and one of their two outfield lapses. Mahoney singled in front of Zabek in right, a hit that Zabek apparently could have caught by hurrying. Malcolm forced Mahoney, Noyes walked and Staklinski singled to left but Cariglia bobbled it and one run tallied. Harper then popped down the first base line, but Mahoney threw a beautiful block on Harrison and Harrison lost the ball as the result, the second run crossing.

Cariglia fanned—for two bases—as P. C. resumed production in the seventh, reaching when the third strike sailed through Staklinski. He scored on O'Reilly's single and the pitcher subsequently tallied on the third of Clarkin's four hits. Walks to John Lee and Brownell, an infield out and singles by Cariglia and Clarkin produced the final three runs in the eighth.

P. C. probably lost Jack Keenan indefinitely when the shortstop was hit on the top of the little finger of his left hand by a batted ball . . . Mahoney, giving three hits in four innings, fanned seven and walked one . . . O'Reilly gave one hit in four frames, fanned four and walked two . . . Harrington gave no hits or walks and fanned one in his one inning.

R. I. COLLEGIANS TO BE BUSY TODAY

P. C.-State, Army-Brown in Baseball and Rams-B. C. in Track Top Program.

All of Rhode Island's colleges have important sports dates this afternoon, the principal attractions being scheduled for These Plantations but major and minor junkets into foreign territories round out the program.

The menu comprises the following features:

- Providence College at Rhode Island, baseball.
- Boston College at Rhode Island, track.
- Army at Brown, baseball.
- Brown at Army, track.
- Brown at M. I. T., tennis.
- Brown Freshmen at Worcester Academy, baseball.

The Friars and Rams, with Dick Mahoney and Warner Keaney the probable pitching choices, will open the State title round-robin series at Kingston at 2:30 o'clock, the Friars seeking their first victory and the Rams their fourth.

Providence has encountered some pretty stiff opposition in its three games, losing to such established baseball powers as Seton Hall, Villanova and Holy Cross while the Rams have made merry at the expense of Lowell Textile, Northeastern and Maine.

Mahoney, a huge success in two relief jobs, is the likely starter although he worked at length against the Crusaders Wednesday and if he and Keaney are right a tight duel should result.

Friar, Ram Nines Win, Bears Suffer Defeat

Bruin Trackmen Shade New Hampshire in Dual Meet

B 5/1/41

Providence College and Rhode Island State proved themselves hot-weather outfits yesterday as they romped to one-sided victories over Lowell Textile and Worcester Tech with the thermometer well up at mid-summer levels.

The Friars raced through Textile, 13 to 2, and State sank the Tech, 10 to 2, for its 14th straight triumph over the engineers.

Brown threw three pinch-hitters into action in the closing inning of its fray with Wesleyan at Middletown, Conn., and although the spare lumbermen produced, the Bruins went down to defeat, 6 to 4.

Trailing by five runs in their half of the ninth, Coach Jack Kelleher sent Berger in for Nash and Berger singled. Wouchomurka batted for Carroll and singled, and O'Sullivan, in for Lally, cleared the bases with a neatly drilled double. McKone's grounder which went through the shortstop's legs scored O'Sullivan but the rally ended when the next three batters went out in order.

Bob Tourigny, Bruin rightfielder, suffered a contusion of the nose in the sixth inning when he collided with second-baseman Hank Gossler. He was taken to the Wesleyan infirmary for X-rays and stayed there overnight. He is expected to return to Brown today.

Coach Art Quirk split the Friars' hurling assignment among three pitchers, relieving Dick Mahoney with O'Reilly and then Harrington after the local club had sprinted to a five-run lead in the first two innings. The Providence attack was paced by a home run by Zabek, a triple by Harrison and a double by Clarkin.

In defeating Worcester Tech, the Rams were forced to come from behind, overcoming a one-run deficit in the first. They scored in every inning but the sixth.

The Brown track team won its first dual meet of the season by defeating the University of New Hampshire, 69 2-5 to 65 3-5 at Brown Field. After sweeping the first two events, Brown experienced setbacks in the runs and broad jump and the meet approached a conclusion with the final outcome hinging on the two final events.

John Gosnell, the Brown captain whose ankle is so badly damaged that he walks with difficulty, came from third to first on his last throw in the discus and Steward MacNeil, versatile sophomore, came up with a second place in the javelin to clinch the victory.

Providence College freshmen made a runaway of the first game of their home-and-home series with the Brown freshmen, sinking the Bruins 9-0 under a barrage of walks and stolen bases.

John Ferguson, Friar shortstop, staged a personal marathon by stealing six bases, including home twice. He made one hit and scored three runs.

Providence College's Freshmen made nine runs yesterday while holding the Brown Freshman baseball team scoreless in the first game of their home and home series at Al-drich Field. Ernie Brousseau and Eddie Avery shared the pitching for the winners and held Brown to four hits.

John Ferguson, the Friar shortstop, staged a personal marathon by stealing six bases, including home twice. Ted McConnon poled out the only extra base wallop of the game, a triple in the seventh. This was the last of four hits in this frame that helped the young Friars register five runs.

Jack Wood hurled no-hit ball for four innings but a pass to Ferguson gave Providence a run in the first inning. Ferguson stole second and third and home, the last manoeuvre being a double steal with Killay, who also had walked.

The fifth, sixth and seventh were rocky innings for Wood. He passed McConnon who immediately stole second and went to third on Hadley's error. Brousseau then lined a single to centre and McConnon scored. A wild pitch by Wood allowed Brousseau to get to second and the Friar pitcher tallied when Hines let Massa's grounder get past him.

Ferguson again bobbed up to bother the Bears in the sixth. He drew a walk, stole second and third and scored on McCafrey's high hopper to second. McCafrey streaked down to first before Hadley could whip the ball over to Hilfer. Singles by Massa, Monteleone and Ferguson, a triple by McConnon and an error and base on balls put over five runs for the Friars in the seventh.

Brown had the bases loaded in the fourth but could not provide the run-making hit. Nelson walked in the first inning and tried to stretch his advance to third on Margarita's hit to left, but was thrown out by Donahue. In the second inning all six men, three on each side, struck out.

RAMLETS THUMP FRIAR FRESHMEN

State Solves Offerings of Dalagian and Avery for 11 to 4 Victory.

5/2/41

Solving the offerings of Nick Dalagian and Ed Avery, Providence College freshman hurlers, for 14 hits, the Rhode Island State College freshman nine pounded out an 11-4 victory over the Friar yearlings in a twilight game at Kingston yesterday. It was the first start of the season for the Ram first-year men.

While the home forces were operating with a large degree of success against the slants of the two Friar pitchers, Ben Ferrazzano, State's righthander, was scattering 10 blows. It was not until victory was in sight that Ferrazzano eased up to allow six of the Providence hits in the last three innings.

While not as bothersome as on Wednesday, when he conducted a one-man base stealing show against the Brown frosh, Jack Ferguson, Providence shortstop, was easily the outstanding performer for his team. He made two doubles, scored two runs and stole three bases.

Pitching Choices; Rams

BY BARNEY MADDEN

Old baseball rivalries, one involving Brown and Providence College and the other bringing together R. I. State and New Hampshire and the Ram-Manhattan track meet highlight today's sports program for followers of the collegians.

Capt. Walter Juszczyk of the Bruins and Dick Mahoney, Friar sophomore, are expected to be the pitching choices at Hendricken Field at 3 o'clock and, if each is right, a low-scoring duel should result.

Brown will be favored today, having showed to advantage in its early games, while the Friars haven't been overly impressive. Young Mahoney, however, might make a big difference in the Providence club, particularly if he is in the form he displayed against Holy Cross and Lowell Textile.

Apart from Juszczyk, Providence probably will have the most trouble with Johnny Marsolini, Bruin first baseman, who has been hitting well all season, featuring his own offensives with distance clouts in the clutch.

bit of bewilderment, another fielder's choice, and two hits. In the last four innings the Friars got a man to second with only one out, but in each instance Juszczyk was equal to the needs of the moment.

John O'Sullivan scored for Brown in the second on a play that produced a double killing involving six Friars. O'Sullivan had singled and taken second when Capt. Art Clarkin bobbled Juszczyk's double-play hopper. Then McKone doubled to centre and the fun began. O'Sullivan scored. McKone overran second so substantially that he almost caught Juszczyk at third as John Lee retrieved the drive, threw to Joe Moore, the shortstop, who relayed to Clarkin at third.

Sheehan Robs Zabek

Juszczyk scurried back and McKone tried to do likewise but Clarkin's throw to Ed Lee prevented that and Lee, after running McKone down, threw to Bob Reilly at the plate and Reilly erased Juszczyk who had made his break for home when McKone was being chased around.

P. C. matched that total in the third in wierd fashion. Hank Gossler booted Reilly's grounder and Adolph Wochomurka couldn't decide where to throw after taking Moore's hopper and both men were safe. Mahoney forced Moore, but Clarkin doubled inside third and Reilly scored and Mahoney took third. Sheehan robbed Zabek of a hit with a fine stop over second and a quick throw, Mahoney scoring, Clarkin followed on Chet Zabek's single.

Ernie Savignano and Gossler singled with one out in the sixth, but Mahoney disposed of Wochomurka on a fly to left and O'Sullivan on a foul fly to Reilly, the catcher making a sparkling play near the backstop. In the seventh McKone singled with one out, stole second and took third on Wilks's single off Mahoney's glove and scored when Ed Lee failed to pick the ball up as he attempted to make a play.

A walk to O'Sullivan and Amby Reynolds's wild pitch prompted Coach Jack Kelleher to send Lou Berger in to run for O'Sullivan in the ninth and Berger scored when Clarkin threw badly to first after handling Wilks's grounder.

Harrington Helps P. C. Nine Check St. John's, 6 to 4

Charlie Called in in Ninth With Two On When Reynolds
Loses Touch.

5/4/41

BY HERB MURRAY, JR.

Checking a late rally, the Providence College baseball team defeated St. John's of Brooklyn, 6-4, yesterday at Hendricken Field.

After pitching two-hit ball for seven innings, Amby Reynolds, the Friars' speed-ball hurler, lost his touch in the eighth and ninth and was replaced by Charlie Harrington.

Harrington came into the game with men on first and second and none out. He threw a double-play ball to Parks, forced Zitzler at third and Clarkin tossed to Harrison to put out Parks. Then Scandurra lofted to Zabek, ending the threat and the game.

The Friars had a big fourth inning when they scored four runs. They continued their run-making in the fifth with two more tallies. St. John's took a liking to Reynolds's offerings in the eighth and ninth, and put over three runs and another in the ninth before the Friars tightened their defense.

Harrison Starts Scoring

Harrison started the Friars' tally-making in the fourth with a single into left field. Johnny Lee advanced him on a sacrifice. Cariglia walked, and then Harrison scored when Rutner muffed Milhaven's throw on an attempted double play on Reilly's grounder to short. Moore drew a pass, filling the bases.

Reynolds fanned, but Capt. Art Clarkin came through with a sharply hit single into deep centre and all three romped home. On the play, Third Baseman Gibbons of St. John's let McCarrick's peg from centre get away from him, giving Moore free passage home. Zabek grounded out to second base, ending the inning.

With two out in the fifth, Johnny Lee singled to left and Cariglia walked. Reilly stepped up and belted a long fly into left centre. Fiori galloped back for it, but had to make a difficult turn in trying for the ball, and it dropped back of him, Reilly going to third and both mates scoring ahead of him.

Two errors made things look dark for St. John's early in the Friars' half of the seventh, but the Redmen reeled off a double play to check the Providence threat. Two passes put Friars on base in the eighth, but Dooley struck out two and Zabek skied to centre.

In Trouble in Ninth

Reynolds had the Redmen biting high, wide and handsomely during the first seven innings, and in the seventh set down three of the five players who faced him by strikeouts. But he was deep in trouble in the eighth and ninth.

In the eighth Parks walked, and then singles by Scandurra, Rutner and Gibbons accounted for three runs for St. John's. The first three St. John's batters in the ninth singled and Reynolds was removed. With their fourth run in and two men aboard, the Redmen were after the ball game.

But the Friars' double killing put a crimp in the visitors' chances and the game was saved for Providence.

Pitcher Joe Dooley of St. John's was victim of a freak putout in the fifth. In trying to get away from one of Reynolds's sharp curves he fell backward. The ball struck his bat and rolled a short way toward the pitcher's box. Catcher Bill Reilly scooped it up and threw out Dooley, who was sitting on the ground.

Eddie Lee, Providence second baseman, and Milhaven, St. John's shortstop, turned in two sparkling fielding plays for putouts during the game.

St. John's University of Brooklyn, beaten only three times this year, opposes Providence College at Hendricken Field this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

One of St. John's defeats was by Duke, the second by Villanova but the Saints squared matters with the Dukes in a subsequent meeting. They dropped their third 5-3 to Boston College yesterday.

Peter Hanly is their likely pitching choice against the Friars, but they also will have Dooley, Zitzler and McPadden available. Either Amby Reynolds, who finished against Brown yesterday, or Charley Harrington will hurl for the Friars.

Providence played its best ball of the season in losing to Brown yesterday and several of the Friars who were expected to hit finally got into stride. Joe Moore again will play shortstop, replacing the injured John Keenan. Keenan cracked a finger in the Lowell game Wednesday.

BY BARNEY MADDEN

Al Del Zoppo, Notre Dame basketball guard, will break out in a new role at Commencement. . . . He will give the class oration. Del Zoppo's average of 95.02 is second highest in the senior class at South Bend.

Ray Pinelli, Notre Dame's third baseman, is rated as "the best ball player he ever coached" by Coach James Kline. Pinelli probably will go with the Yankees when he graduates in June. He has no interest in the National League.

There's good reason for that. His dad is one of the most highly regarded umpires in that circuit and young Pinelli fears Pinelli senior might bend over backwards when calling 'em while he's batting. Pinelli is currently hitting .370 for the Irish.

Springfield College is an accommodating outfit. Worcester Tech and Assumption, also from Worcester, had some schedule difficulty but Springfield's coach, Harold DeGroat, helped out materially by agreeing to play both of them tomorrow at Springfield.

Next Wednesday the Maroons will pay their annual visit at Providence College.

Pennsylvania has a busy week-end in baseball. The Red and Blue visits Dartmouth today and then plays a double header with Harvard at Cambridge tomorrow.

Penn's oarsmen will be hosts to Yale and Columbia tomorrow when the annual Blackwell Cup regatta will be rowed on the Schuylkill. The Elis are generally favored to cop the event for the fifth time hand running.

The Blackwell trophy is named for the late George Eng's Blackwell, Columbia graduate in 1880. While not an oarsman, Blackwell became such an enthusiast that he missed only one Columbia varsity race from 1895 to 1922.

Rusty Catlow, Penn coach, is having considerable trouble settling on his varsity eight. Five members of last year's crew have gone, three via graduation and two into the Army Air Corps.

Providence College and Boston University, who meet next Tuesday in an informal football game, will repeat the performance next fall. They'll get together before the regular season opens, putting a competitive climax to their pre-season drills.

The Friar Freshmen, who played baseball Wednesday and yesterday, will go to the wars again this afternoon, entertaining the Boston College Freshmen at Hendriken Field at 3 o'clock.

The Young Friars will rest over the week-end and then tangle with the Eaglets Monday at Chestnut Hill.

Bud Conley, Rhode Island star infielder, may not play tomorrow when the Rams meet New Hampshire at Kingston. Conley aggravated the arm injury he received during the basketball season in the game with Worcester Tech.

Bob Tanner, sophomore southpaw, will probably be the pitching choice tomorrow. The game starts at 2:30 o'clock and will be preceded by the Rhode Island-Manhattan track meet.

Warner Keaney Slated to Hurl against Bears

Game at Kingston; Friars Play Host to Springfield

BY JOE NUTTER

Brown meets Rhode Island State College at Kingston and Providence College meets Springfield at Hendricken Field in the two varsity baseball games that adorn tomorrow's college card. The Brown and State College freshman nines meet on Aldrich Field to complete the day's offering, a round of activity that will provide competition on the home diamonds of all three Rhode Island collegiate institutions.

Jack Kelleher will pick his starting pitcher tomorrow morning from the duo of Harris "Red" Whynaught and Earl Nichols. Coach Frank Keaney will probably start his 260-pound son, Warner.

Rhode Island State may be subjected to some lineup shifts late this afternoon, for Coach Keaney is not satisfied with his team.

It is possible that McNally will work third base and Bill Rutledge will be sent to left field. Rutledge probably will be listed for a reserve pitching role if the call comes, so Keaney wants him in the outfield. Right field will be opened when Warner Keaney comes to the mound, and the coach must settle that issue in the drill today. Duranleau, Cornell, and Coonan are the three men working for the position. Coach Keaney is anxious to get more hitting into the team, and his shifting will be carried out with that idea in mind.

The Kingston game will open around 4:00 o'clock.

Rhode Island defeated Brown twice last year, the second game ending up 5 to 3 in 10 innings. Dave Redford hit a home run in the ninth with one aboard to tie the score, but Rhode Island went on to win in the extra inning with a two-run splurge. Brown is leading the intra-State series with a 1-0 standing as a result of the victory over Providence College Saturday. This is the Rams' debut in the intra-State play this year.

Charlie Harrington, the Pawtucket sophomore, who did a fine relief job in the St. John's game on Sunday, will toe the slab for Providence, and Ray Schmidt, senior right hander, who captained the basketball team, will throw them up for Springfield. Both are right handers.

Arthur Quirk has made some shifts in his batting order. Cariglia, centre field, will bat second; Zabek, right fielder, will bat third; and Harrison, third baseman, will bat fourth. Johnny Lee, left fielder, aggravated a damaged shoulder muscle in the Sunday game and will be out of action tomorrow. Left field will be taken by either George Avery or Ray Roy.

The game will start at 3 o'clock.

Coach Quirk intends to pitch Charley Harrington against the Maroon. Harrington has worked in relief roles a couple of times and given a good account of himself. Bob Reilly will again be behind the bat with his alternate, Joe Moore, once more operating at shortstop.

Ray Schmidt, captain of the Springfield basketball team, is the Maroon pitching nominee.

The Friar-Maroon fray will start at 3 o'clock, the Ram-Bruin joust at 4.

Another chapter in the Rhode Island baseball championship series will be written today as Brown and State clash at Kingston and, at the same time, Providence College will undertake to improve its average at the expense of Springfield College at Hendricken Field.

For all the Rhode Island teams, today's engagements will be only the beginning of a busy cycle. State is booked for Friday and Saturday, Providence for Saturday and Sunday, and Brown for Saturday.

When the Rams and Bruins collide at Kingston today it probably will be Warner Keaney pitching against Harris (Red) Whynaught, Brown sophomore from Rumford, Me.

Keaney is well established in college circles as a pitcher but Whynaught has seen only limited service, but has shown considerable promise. He is a southpaw and, on his good days, a very difficult problem to solve.

With Coach Keaney planning to use his son on the mound, a right field problem arises at State and Duranleau, Cornell and Coonan are in the race for the vacancy. Inasmuch as Coach Keaney might want to use Bill Rutledge on the mound, he is likely to start Bill McNally at third base and play Rutledge in the outfield, where the wear and tear shouldn't be so great as at third.

Brown, a good collection of hitters, is in the front row of the State title picture at the moment, through a victory over Providence College last Saturday. State hasn't seen series action yet.

The Friars will undergo another change in personnel this afternoon since John Lee has joined Johnny Keenan on the sidelines. Lee pulled a shoulder muscle in the St. John's game Sunday and Keenan bashed a finger in the Lowell Textile tilt last Wednesday.

Ray Roy or George Avery is the likely replacement for Lee. Coach Art Quirk will shift his batting order too, moving Nick Cariglia up to the second spot, with Chet Zabek and Harrison following him.

SPRINGFIELD NINE SCORES 6 RUNS IN 7TH TO BEAT P. C.

Schmidt Walks Six But Allows
Only Five Hits as Team

Wins, 9-5.

By BARNEY MADDEN

Springfield went a long way toward giving Providence College a baseball victory yesterday but when it developed that the Friars weren't in a particularly receptive mood the Maroons turned around and spanked them, 9 to 5, at Hendricken Field.

Although he issued six passes, Ray Schmidt, Maroon hurler, was an effective workman, yielding only five hits, two of them dubious, and struck out 11. He allowed two earned runs in giving Springfield its first Hendricken Field victory.

But for a time it appeared that his generosity might prove fatal for, after he and Charley Harrington had pitched scoreless ball, for half a game, the Friars scored three times in the fifth. Two walks, two triples and a wild pitch were the contributing factors.

Springfield, however, hopped on the merry-go-round in the seventh, scoring six times on six hits, one walk and one wrong guess. Harrington departed during that uprising and Dick Mahoney, his successor, was similarly maltreated by the Maroon hitters. George O'Reilly pitched the ninth.

Trouble in Sixth

All told Springfield collected 15 hits, all but one of them singles.

For four and a half innings, Schmidt and Harrington pitched fine ball, then in the sixth Providence scored the runs that seemed to spell victory.

Johnny Keenan walked and Harrington tripled to the left field fence. Clarkin walked, but on an attempted squeeze play, Cariglia couldn't reach the high pitch and Harrington was easily picked off third. Nick then tripled to right centre, a tree and the fence conspiring to make Bill Gibney drop the ball after a long run. Cariglia scored on a wild pitch.

In the seventh Springfield had fun. Lou Segalia singled and Panatier, first base replacement, doubled him home. Wydro got an infield hit, a good stop by Moore keeping the ball from scampering into left field. Gordon Broadhead beat out a bunt when Harrington took too long to throw and the bases were filled. Gibney's single scored two runs and Mahoney replaced Harrington.

Timely Single

Fenton hit a double play ball to Moore but Joe threw to the plate and all were safe and then Schmidt singled two more runs across.

Providence had opportunities in the seventh, too, but only scored twice. Keenan and Mahoney walked in succession, Johnny scoring when Fenton let the ball go through him as Schmidt threw to second for a potential double play after taking Capt. Art Clarkin's hopper. Mahoney started for third and made it when Fenton threw into the dirt. Nick Cariglia fanned and Chet Zabek hit a short fly to centre, whereupon Gibney threw to the plate, the heave going to the stand after taking a bad hop and Mahoney scoring. Schmidt then took matters into his own hands and fanned Bob Harrison.

Keaney Holds Bruins to One Hit; Rams Win

State Forces Score 2-0 Shut-Out; Springfield Trips Friars; Ramlets Nose Out Cubs

By JOE NUTTER

A one-hit pitching performance by big Warner Keaney to give Rhode Island State a 2 to 0 victory over Brown at Kingston and a 9 to 5 Springfield College triumph over Providence College at Hendricken Field enlivened yesterday's college baseball proceedings in Rhode Island.

Warner Keaney not only hurled one-hit ball but contributed a timely double that brought in the first Rhode Island run. Herb Ginsberg, Brown hurler, held his own with Keaney for six innings, then weakened just enough to let the resurgent Ram get his winning toe-hold.

Ginsberg gave up six hits in the nine frames, but allowed only one in the first six innings. Keaney's performance must stand right up with the best that he has flashed in a long and brilliant career in three sports at Kingston.

Fred Conley opened the seventh with a liner over second. Keaney drove a double to left centre scoring Conley for the initial Ram run of the game. The second Ram run came in the eighth when Cranston stretched a hit into a double and came home on Abbruzzi's single to centre. Keaney struck out seven and issued no passes. John Marsolini got Brown's only hit, a single in the fifth. Cranston, Abbruzzi, Conley, Rutledge, Keaney and Hedison gathered the six Ram hits.

Nine errors contributed mightily to the Providence College-Springfield game and most of the way it was a battle of give and take with the Maroon finally rising up to take the long end of the 9-5 count.

Ray Schmidt issued six passes, yielded five hits, two of the dubious variety, and struck out 11. Springfield gathered only two earned runs in winning the game. The Friars got five hits.

Providence opened the scoring in the 5th by scoring three runs on two walks, two triples and a wild pitch. Springfield got into the running in the 7th by scoring six times on six hits, one walk and one poor guess. Charley Harrington retired during that uprising and Dick Mahoney came in to get some rough treatment from the Springfield hitters. George O'Reilly pitched the 9th. The final recording showed 15 hits for Springfield, all singles but one.

Rhode Island made the day complete by scoring a 3 to 2 victory over Brown in the Freshman baseball game on Aldrich Field. Charlie Bentley, the former East Providence star, pitched two-hit ball and held Rhode Island scoreless for eight innings, then gave up four solid hits as the Ram finished with a determined drive.

Dave Allen singled to lead off the 9th, stole second and scored on San Martino's single. Ben Ferrazano singled, and Doherty's single sent San Martino home. Ferrazano scored on Wood's wild throw to the plate.

Brown's tallies came in the 6th on a combination of hits and errors. Hadley reached first on an error, and scored on Nelson's single. Nelson stole second and came home on an in-field bobble. Brown led 7 to 6 in hits.

Elsewhere the fireworks of the day were provided by Amherst College in defeating Holy Cross 4 to 3. It was the Crusader's second defeat in 24 games. Amherst got one in the second, two in the third, and one in the fourth by falling on Cramer's hurling. Holy Cross got 13 hits but was not able to overcome that four-run lead. Amherst got eight hits.

ASQUINO'S PRACTISE

The Asquino's softball team of the East Providence Amateur League will practise tonight at 6:15 o'clock at Glenlyon Field, Phillipsdale. Last year's players and any wishing a try-out are asked to report.

Capt. Art Clarkin lined a single into left, filling the bases. Cariglia fanned, but Zabek hit a slow roller down the first baseline, which First Baseman Donoghue dropped and Keenan scored. With the bases still loaded, Harrison hit a double to the right field fence and Reynolds, Clarkin and Zabek crossed home plate before the ball was returned to the infield. The next two Friars were put out ending the inning.

Another outburst of three hits in the seventh produced the other four runs for Providence. With two away Harrison hit a triple into centre and scored when Connie O'Leary heaved a wild pitch. Roy walked and on a perfect hit-and-run play, Reilly singled to right, Roy going round to third. Then Eddie Lee banged a home run over the right field fence for three runs.

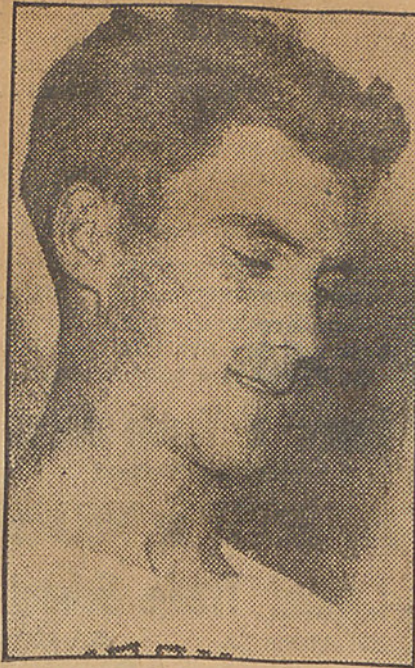

Villanova broke into the scoring in the sixth when Donoghue and Casey were passed and Donoghue completed the circuit on two long flyouts to right field. A single by Simonsen and a walk to Donoghue, set the stage for two Villanova runs in the seventh, Casey coming through with his first triple into centre to score both men.

In the ninth Mahoney walked both Simonsen and Donoghue and Casey repeated with a triple into far left field to score them.

Villanova, one of the outstanding collegiate baseball teams in the east, invades Hendricken Field at 3 o'clock today for a session with Providence College.

The Wildcats, since defeating the Friars in the second P. C. start of the campaign, have continued their winning ways and now boast a record of 12 victories in 14 starts. Temple nosed them out 5 to 4 and Duke's powerful force tripped them 6 to 5.

Well supplied in all positions, the Pennsylvanians will have O'Leary, Wood and Nichols available for mound duty this afternoon while Coach Art Quirk of P. C., similarly well fixed in pitching talent, with his entire staff rested, plans to use Amby Reynolds, his fast-baller.

After a dubious start this season, Reynolds has settled down and in recent games has shown to advantage.

Connie O'Leary, the probable Villanova pitching choice today, is a Milton, Mass., product and one of the best looking pitchers in college circles. He worked the Fordham game, handcuffing the Rams with four hits. Another New Englander with the Wildcats is John Donoghue, first baseman from Somerville.

Donoghue, regular for two seasons, is a long and frequent hitter.

The Wildcats pack plenty of power and have rolled up some proud scores this spring. Reynolds, consequently, will probably have plenty of trouble with them but the big New Haven boy has the speed to silence their bats.

Timely Hits Give Friars 8-5 Edge Over Villanova

Lee Gets Homer With Two On;
Harrison's Triple, Double
Drive in Three.

J 5/12/41
BY HERB MURRAY, JR.

Eddie Lee hit a home run with two men on base.

Ray Harrison knocked out a triple and a double, driving in three runs.

That stickwork combined with effective pitching by Amby Reynolds and Dick Mahoney paved the way for an 8 to 5 victory for the Providence College baseball team over Villanova yesterday at Hendricken Field.

The losers were not much overshadowed at the plate, for Casey, their rangy left fielder, walloped two triples that accounted for four runs. But the Friars, showing more pepper than they have in their previous games, jumped into the lead and played errorless ball to down their rivals handily.

Amby Reynolds allowed only four hits in 6 2-3 innings, but gave six passes and two recipients of walks scored. He was using too many pitches in the opinion of the Providence board of strategy in the seventh, so he was replaced by Dick Mahoney, who had just enough stuff to keep the Villanovans in check.

The Friars fielding was perfect, with Chet Zabek in right field handling five chances, a couple of them on the run, and Ray Roy hauling down three flies to keep the outfielders' record clean. Keenan at short made good on five chances while Eddie Lee at second turned in errorless work on four chances.

For four innings both clubs went scoreless, though each of them had golden opportunities when they managed to fill the bases, Villanova in the second and Providence in the fourth. Keenan stemmed the Villanova rally by tossing out Baltimore at home plate and both pitchers turned in effective efforts to prevent any runmaking.

After being held to a single scratch hit in the first four innings the Friars opened up with a three-hit barrage in the fifth and put over four runs. Keenan led off with a single into left and Reynolds went to first when Umpire Gus Gardella ruled that Catcher Skaf had tipped the Friar pitcher's bat.

Saturday's rain brought a postponement of college baseball games that has cluttered this week's schedule to major proportions and more than one coach will have his troubles finding pitches enough to go around.

Brown has three hard games, Holy Cross tomorrow, Dartmouth on Thursday and Rhode Island State College on Saturday. All three games will be played on Aldrich Field. The early plan of attack was to pitch Capt. Walter Juszcyk against Holy Cross last Saturday and either Dartmouth or Rhode Island this week. Now Coach Jack Kelleher faces a problem in selecting the game for his ace knuckle-ball artist, for all three games are important on the Bruin schedule.

Rhode Island State opens her slate tomorrow with a game against Boston University at Kingston. State is at Connecticut on Wednesday, and in Providence to meet Brown Saturday.

Providence College, an 8 to 5 victory over Villanova yesterday, will meet Boston College in Boston Wednesday, and Boston College here on Saturday.

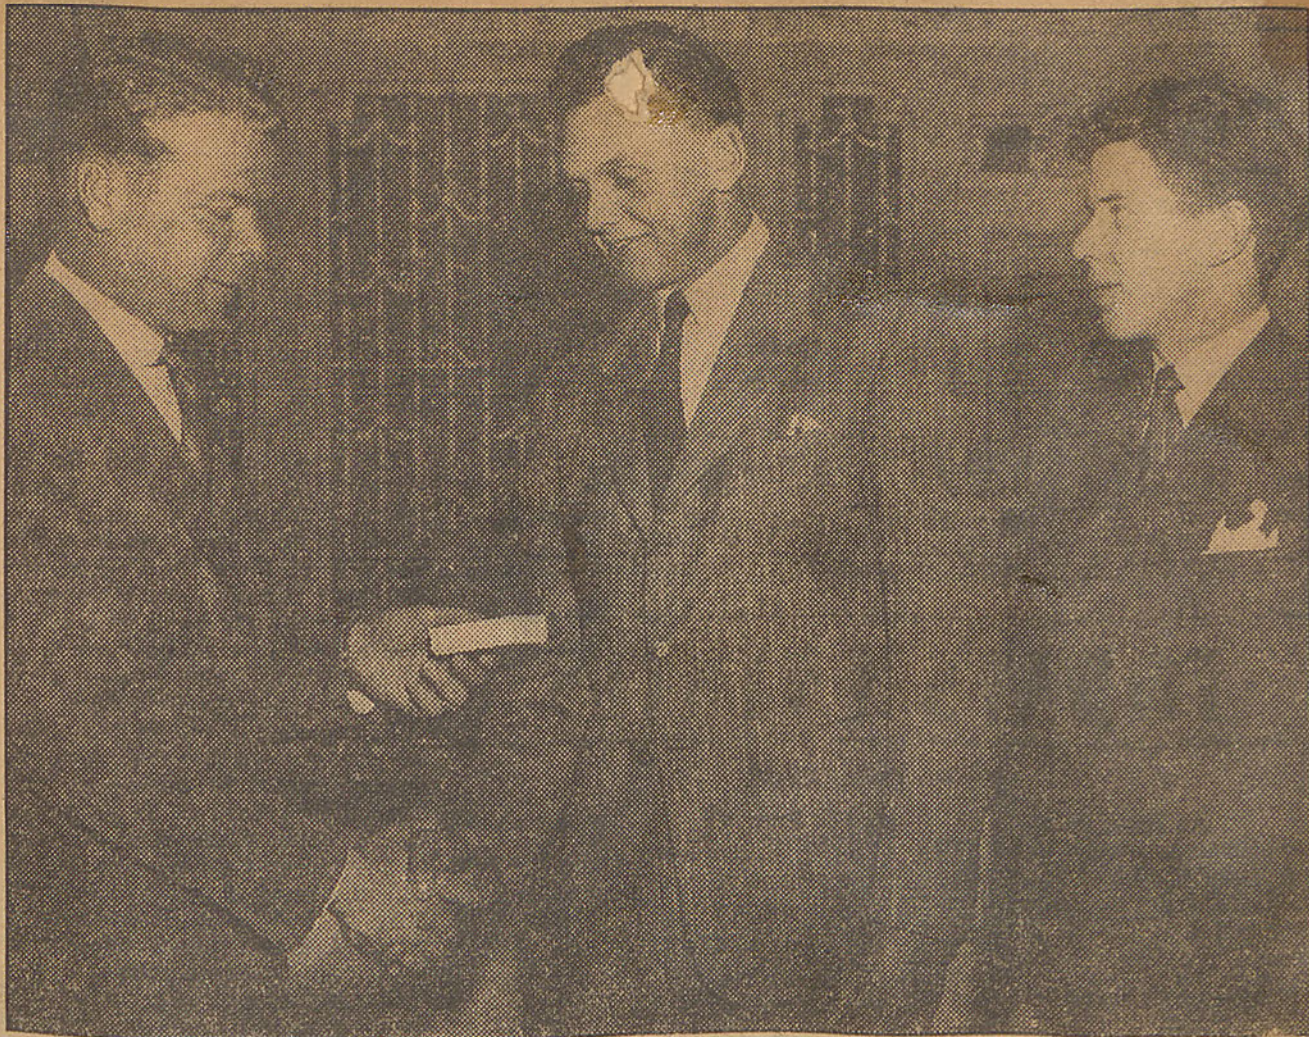

Providence College got into the running against Villanova yesterday with a big 5th inning that brought in four runs, then gathered four more in the 7th to sew up the game. Eddie Lee hit a circuit drive with two aboard, and Ray Harrison hit a triple and a double to drive in three runs to provide the high mark in the Friar's work at the plate. Effective pitching by Amby Reynolds and Dick Mahoney held Villanova in check. Casey, rangy Villanova left fielder, poled out two triples to account for four runs.

Reynolds allowed four hits in 6 2-3 innings, but gave six passes, two of the men receiving gifts eventually scoring. He gave way in the seventh to Mahoney, and the newcomer had just the right answer for further checking the visitors.

Providence was held to one scratch single in the first four innings, then got away to a three-hit barrage in the fifth for four runs. Three hits in the seventh put the game on ice. With two away, Harrison tripled to centre and scored when Connie O'Leary made a wild pitch. Roy walked and went to third on Reilly's single to right. Eddie Lee hit a homer over the short right field fence to score Roy and Reilly.

Providence gathered eight hits and Villanova chalked up six. The Friars played errorless ball, Villanova made three miscues. Reynolds struck out six, Mahoney 3, O'Leary 6 and Chaplin 1.

Joseph B. Pliska, 205-pound sophomore tackle who understudied co-Captain Charlie Avedisian for Providence College last season, was awarded the annual Friars Club medal for outstanding athletic improvement yesterday during a luncheon at the Crown Hotel. In presenting the medal, Coach Ed Crotty spoke of the value to the various P. C. coaches of the services given to visiting teams by the Friars Club.

The Very Rev. John J. Dillon, O. P., president of Providence College, outlined the value of athletics as an outlet for youthful energies. He emphasized the value of moulding dominant personalities for good rather than for evil.

The Friars Club announced the election of four new freshman members: James Burke, Edward Avery, John Grady and Jerome A. Collins. The new officers elected were Ross E. Muenzen as president, John J. Lavoie as vice president, Arthur Clark as secretary and William Smith as treasurer.

Getting Three Hits and Scoring Four Runs.

(Special to the Providence Journal)
Boston, May 14.—Blowing a seven-run lead on 11 errors, the Boston College handed Providence College a 12 to 11 victory at Alumni Field this afternoon.

George "Lefty" Bent did the hurling for the Eagles, and went the distance. Although Bent kept 13 hits well scattered and yielded only two walks, his best was not good enough to prevent the Eagles from dropping their fifth straight game.

The Eagles opened like a house a fire, landing on the offerings of Dick Mahoney for seven hits and five runs in the first two frames. George O'Reilly came in for the Friars to put out the fire in the second. But, in the third, the Eagles came back for two more, and it looked like the ball game was all over.

The Maguiremen proceeded to fall apart in the field, however, and, as the ball bobbed back and forth in the infield and outfield, the Friars gathered one run in the third, four in the fourth, two in the sixth, four in the seventh and one in the ninth for victory.

FRIARS AT B. C.

Dick Mahoney Likely Hurler at Chestnut Hill Today.

Encouraged by Sunday's victory over the strong Villanova team, Providence College will visit Chestnut Hill this afternoon for the first of its home-and-home games with Boston College.

Dick Mahoney, who finished against the Wildcats Sunday and cooled them off just as they threatened to erase the Friars' lead, is likely to be the starting pitcher for Providence today.

The Friars Club, Providence College's official host organization to visiting athletes, will make its annual medal award to the football players showing the most improvement in spring practice at its annual banquet next week. Coaches and officials of the colleges will be among the speakers.

Coach Art Quirk was jubilant over the Friars' victory over Villanova, which Quirk rates one of the East's strongest nines.

Quirk was especially pleased with Ed Lee's important homer with two aboard. Quirk figured Lee would deliver in a big way soon, for the second baseman had been hitting hard in practice.

On the morning he would receive his diploma, Bob Harrison, Friar baseball player, will report to the Navy at Brooklyn, where he will go into further training. Harrison, who went on a naval cruise last summer and was made an Ensign, is in line for a commission. Harrison will get his diploma but won't be able to take part in the official exercises.

Providence College and Boston College meet in a return baseball game at 3 o'clock this afternoon at Hendricken Field. In their first encounter on Wednesday at Newton the Eagles blew a 7-1 lead and the Friars came away with the ball game, 12-11.

Coach Artie Quirk expects to start Amby Reynolds, lanky speed-ball hurler, who was the third of the three pitchers the Friars used in downing the Eagles in their first clash. The Boston College pitcher has not been selected but it may be John Yauckoes, big tackle in football, who is a member of the Eagles' pitching staff.

The Friars' batting has improved all along the line this season with Johnny Lee and Ray Harrison doing some of the most damage. The only question in the Providence lineup is in the catching spot where it is a toss up between Reilly and Moore.

Ed Lee, Providence College second baseman, who hit a home run with the bases loaded against Boston yesterday thus helping the Friars to triumph, 12-9. He also made a single, while brother Johnny was getting four singles and a double in six times at bat.

14 Smashes in Last Five
Frames Give Them Edge;

Eddie Lee Clouts Homers.

BY HERB MURRAY, JR.

Cramming 14 hits into the last five innings they were at bat the Providence College baseball team defeated Boston College, 12-9, yesterday afternoon at Hendricken Field. Highlight of the Friars' runmaking was Eddie Lee's fourth-inning home run with the bases loaded.

Though Amby Reynolds gave up 10 hits, he managed to keep them scattered and his mates came through with some fielding that was spectacular in spots—the crucial occasions. Boston College used a pair of hurlers. Bob Radley started and went to the showers when the Friars made four hits in the fourth.

Dick Ferriter, brother of the starting catcher, then went into action, but he failed to slow down the Providence hitters and they garnered 10 more hits off him.

Capt. Art Clarkin and Shortstop Johnny Keenan couldn't decide who should make the catch on Sawyer's riser over third base and the ball dropped for a hit, one Eagle scoring and the other making third base before the ball was under control again. Then in the eighth Commane crashed into Connolly in short right field as they both tried to get Johnny Lee's riser and the ball was knocked to the ground, giving Lee a hit.

It seemed to be "Lee Day." Eddie clouted a home run and Johnny hit safely five times out of six. He beat out a grounder to shortstop for his first bingle, but the others were clean hits, or drives through the infield that sent Eagles scampering just a bit too late to do anything with them.

Boston College tallied twice in the first inning on one hit. Reynolds passed Connolly and Commane and then Sawyer came through with a triple to left field and the base-runners came home. Maguire walked in the third frame, went to second as Connolly was thrown out, moved to third on Cassell's centre field single and scored when Johnny Lee fumbled Cassell's hit.

Singles by Cassell and Davis and a double by Commane gave the Eagles two runs in the sixth. Commane's single, a pair of miscues and an outfield flyout, gave Boston two more runs in the eighth. They put over two more in the ninth when Dick Ferriter walked and scored on Maguire's double and then Connolly came through with a single to send Maguire across home plate.

The Friars filled the bases in the first inning but B. C. ended the threat by completing a sharp double play.

In the fourth inning Harrison was safe at first when Umpire F. Mahan ruled that Sawyer juggled the throw from Connolly. Moore singled to centre and Cariglia dropped a perfect bunt in front of home plate and Catcher Ferriter never did do anything with the ball as he swooped around it like a wounded pigeon.

That filled the bases and then Eddie Lee walloped a pitch out to the left field fence and was rounding third before Davis had recovered the ball. He completed the circuit like an express train just in case of a throw.

That homer gave the Friars new life. Boston College went ahead, 5-4, in the sixth but the Friars countered with another run to knot the count at 5-all in that frame. The run came on Johnny Lee's double and Chet Zabek's two-bagger.

The seventh was certainly "lucky" for Providence as far as runs were concerned but most of them came the hard way. A walk, singles by Keenan, Clarkin and Zabek and a double by J. Lee accounted for four runs. A wild pitch was thrown in by Ferriter to speed the P. C. runners.

Then with a feeling that Boston College still had some runs in their systems the Friars went to work in the eighth and put over three runs. Moore reached second on Third Baseman Cassell's poor throw to first base. He advanced as Cariglia grounded out. Then he scored when Eddie Lee lined the ball into centre for a single. Keenan walked and Reynolds was safe as Connolly erred in trying to force Keenan at second, E. Lee scoring during this wild mix-up. Clarkin forced Reynolds at second but Keenan managed to work his Winning yesterday's game at Hendricken Field, 12-8, the Brown Freshman baseball team evened its series with the Providence College Freshman at one victory each.

The Friar Freshmen outhit the Bear yearlings, 18-14, but failed to put up as polished a fielding game as in the first encounter.

Coach Perry Elrod of the Brown Freshmen used three pitchers in defeating the Friars, while Coach Hugh Maguire divided the pitching between two hurlers. Nick Dalagian started for Providence, and gave up six hits in five innings, and Ed Avery was nicked for eight hits in the other four frames.

Jack Wood was Brown's starting pitcher. He went out in the fifth with five hits charged to him. Pete Fratantuono replaced Wood, and allowed nine hits in three innings, and Lynch finished the game, giving four in two.

Bob Nelson was Brown's best hitter, with a pair of triples. McCaffrey of Providence also made two triples.

The Brown Freshmen jumped into the lead in the third with three runs, and stayed in front all the way, with Providence coming close on two occasions, only to have the Bears increase the margin soon afterward.

A pair of walks, a single by Swinger and a Providence error aided Brown in putting over three runs in the fifth. A bit of first rate base-stealing by Nelson and Hines, along with hits by Nelson, Hadley and Bentley and another Friar miscue enabled Brown to register three more runs in the sixth.

Four hits in the ninth, including Nelson's second triple and singles by Hines and Bentley gave Brown three runs. On the defensive side the standouts for Brown were Hines, Nelson, Hadley and Curtin.

Visit Yale Today.

BY HERB MURRAY, JR.

Playing the steadier game in the field and having a bit of an edge in pitching, the Holy Cross Freshman baseball team defeated the Providence College Freshmen, 11 to 7, yesterday afternoon at Hendriken Field.

Chet Wasilewski, rugged and rangy hurler, gave up just as many hits as Ernie Brousseau of the young Friars—11—but he struck out nine men, five more than Brousseau, and allowed only two walks to the Providence pitcher's four.

Holy Cross moved into a handsome lead in the fifth when the Providence fielding turned ragged and the visitors made five runs on three hits in that stanza. Then in the ninth the invaders put over three runs with a parting salvo of three hits.

With two out in the second Mills walked and then singles by Curran, Harrington and Allietta combined with two Friar miscues accounted for five runs for Holy Cross. Murphy lined a drive to right in the third that Chet Massa was unable to hold and scored on Sliney's wallop into centre.

Crowley dropped Mills's lift to left in the sixth and the Crusader catcher went to second. He moved to third as Curran sacrificed and scored on a passed ball. Mills also figured in the scoring in the eighth when he doubled to centre and scored on Harrington's right-field single.

The three Holy Cross runs in the ninth came as a result of a triple by Allietta, an error, a walk, Sliney's double and Mills's single.

Providence registered single runs in the second, fourth, fifth and eighth with Donahue, McConno, Killay, Massa doing the major share of the stickwork. In the ninth the Friars rallied on hits by Carter, Brousseau, Massa and Crowley to put over three runs.

The Friar Freshmen play the Yale Freshmen at New Haven today.

Pounding the offerings of Cahill and Neville for 17 hits, the Providence Freshman nine today defeated Yale Freshmen, 12 to 5. The Friar Cubs tallied five runs in the first two innings, then coasted along until the sixth, when they jumped on Neville, who had replaced Cahill at the start of the inning.

Ferguson, McCaffrey and Carter led the Friar attack with three hits each. Ferguson included a triple, and the others doubles.

Drew yielded but three hits in the five innings he pitched for Providence, but Mullaney was nicked for nine and all five Yale runs.

Cahill opened the game but gave up five runs in a similar number of innings and when Neville entered the game the visitors raised their lead to 8-0 before the Blue got to Mullaney for two runs in their half of the sixth.

FERGUSON STAR AS YOUNG FRIARS DEFEAT RAMLETS

Lives Up to Advance "Dope" Stories at Bat and Afield as

P. C. Wins, 11 to 6.

BY HERB MURRAY, JR.

The Providence College Freshman baseball team closed its schedule yesterday with an 11-6 victory over the R. I. State Freshmen at Hendricken Field. A 14-hit attack gave the young Friars their third victory in six starts, two others having been rained out and cancelled.

Jack Ferguson of Hartford, rated at the start of the season as a player to watch, had just about the best day he has had all season and he has had some excellent ones. He hit a home run to tie the score at 6-6 in the fourth and handled nine chances without a slip.

Big League Play

Two of those chances were "big league" affairs. He raced back of second in the eighth and without a lost motion tossed behind his back to McCaffrey to retire Merolla on a force-out. Then a few moments later he raced in to the grass, scooped up Panciera's slow roller and fired over to Donahue for the putout.

Ted McConnon of Pawtucket had a field day at bat with four singles in five trips to bat. He had only one putout but that was a one-hand "frying-pan" catch for which he came in a good 30 yards at top speed. Other standouts for the Friars were Donahue, Killay and Carter.

Hedison and Merolla set the pace at bat for the Ramlets with Hedison poling out a triple in the first inning that scored Rhody's initial run. He came home on San Martino's single to left and an error permitted San Martino to score, so that State took the field with a 3-0 lead.

Friars Come Back

They added another run in the second, but the Friars staged a five-hit rally in the same frame and took the lead, 5-4. State came back to go ahead in the fourth with three hits for two runs and a 6-5 edge. But in their half of that inning the Friars opened up and another five-hit attack brought three runs and an 8-6 advantage.

From that point to the end the Friars stayed in front.

Intra-State Series Games Top R. I. College Program

B 5/19/41
By JOE NUTTER

College sports are swinging into the home stretch now and the aging rivalries are coming to the front. This week brings Brown's baseball nine against Tufts at Medford tomorrow and against Providence College Saturday.

Rhode Island State meets Boston University in Boston tomorrow Providence College at Kingston on Wednesday and Connecticut at Kingston on Saturday. From the Providence College angle, Wednesday and Saturday meetings with Rhode Island and Brown in the intra-State series highlights the entire season.

Sandwiched in with the baseball are three major tennis engagements. Harvard visits Brown tomorrow. Connecticut is at State Wednesday, and Assumption is at Rhode Island Thursday.

The Rhode Island and Providence College freshman nines meet Friday at Hendricken Field. The Brown freshman track team closes its dual meet season tomorrow at Durham against New Hampshire freshmen.

Brown had one of her best days of the season Saturday by winning three of four contests. The varsity nine defeated Rhode Island State, 3 to 1, on Aldrich Field with Walter Juszcyk chalking up a very satisfactory personal victory. The varsity track team defeated M. I. T. 69 to 66 and the freshman nine turned back Rhode Island freshmen, 4 to 0. The Brown freshman track team fought hard, but went down before M. I. T.'s freshmen, 71 to 55. Rhode Island's varsity track team defeated New Hampshire, 98 to 37. Providence College turned back Boston College, 12 to 9, to make a clean sweep of the home-and-home series with Les Eagles this season.

RAMS AND FRIARS WILL MEET TODAY

Pitching Choices Undecided for State Series Tilt on Kingston Diamond.

Providence College and Rhode Island State will get together at Kingston this afternoon in the first of their home-and-home series and the fourth conflict in the State title chase.

So far as the State championship is concerned this meeting is of vital importance. Brown at the moment is in the driver's seat as the result of a split with the Rams and a victory over P. C., and today's combatants will shoot the works in an effort to get back into the race.

Providence probably will start Amby Reynolds, the big fast baller, who has been showing to greater advantage in recent starts. Sophomores Dick Mahoney and George O'Reilly are well rested and ready to go but Coach Art Quirk is likely to try the Rams on a diet of speed.

Coach Frank Keaney's pitching choice is likewise undecided and, since the entire Ram mound corps is primed for action, the choice isn't apt to be made known until game time.

Warner Keaney, who worked well against Brown Saturday could return to the wars; Bill Rutledge has had a long rest and Bob Tanner is similarly well rested.

The situation is promising. With both pitching staffs intact the starters can bear down and not worry much about tiring. As a consequence this afternoon's duel is likely to prove a low scoring affair.

TANNER OF STATE BLANKS

P. C. NINE, 3 TO 0

Providence's threats were few and some of those were wasted.

In the second Wilkins singled, was sacrificed along by Cariglia, but was an easy out at third when he tried to advance on Mahoney's grounder to Conley. In the fifth the first Friar got aboard, but it availed him nothing. Moore reached on Conley's wide throw but was an easy out at second on what appeared to be a mixup in signals. Hedison threw him out handily, as he did Harrison the inning before on an attempted steal.

Conley Robs Mahoney

Conley robbed Mahoney of a hit with a stop over second and a blazing throw in the seventh, but then Clarkin singled and John Lee walked. Chet Zabek, however, was tossed out at first. Then Harrison hit a terrific drive just inside first base, but Abbruzzi hurled himself in front of the ball and got Harrison. That drive had three-bagger written all over it and would have scored two runs except for the Duke's daring.

While the pitching was good all the way, the fielding performances made the battle one of the most interesting of the year. Conley contributed at least five defensive gems, Abbruzzi one and Rutledge one. The Friars Harrison was the ace playmaker, grabbing McNally's foul fly in the eighth, his next step taking him into State's dugout. Capt. Art Clarkin of the Friars started two very fast double plays, both involving line drives. In the first he took Abbruzzi's smash on a hit and run and doubled Lyman Cranston off first and in the second he repeated, this time collaborating with Ed Lee as Frank Zammarchi drilled a shot at him with two aboard.

The victory for the Rams was the first over Providence since 1937 and moved them into a tie with Brown for the leadership in the State series. The game was played in one hour and 40 minutes—a commendable precedent.

RAM SOPHOMORE LIMITS FRIARS TO FIVE SINGLES

Abbruzzi, Conley, Rutledge,
Harrison Turn in Fielding Gems.
BY BARNEY MADDEN

Bob Tanner, Rhode Island State's sophomore southpaw, scattered five singles over as many innings yesterday at Kingston and the direct result of his excellence was a 3 to 0 verdict over Providence College.

While Tanner was moving along steadily and smoothly enough for all practical purposes, his supporting cast came up with brilliant fielding bits in critical moments that reduced the pressure and made the young southpaw's victory comparatively easy.

Bud Conley was little short of dazzling at short, robbing the Friars of at least three infield hits, holding another drive that was headed for the pasture to a close play at first and generally making himself useful. In addition he clouted a double in the second, the only extra base blow of the day, and scored the first run on Bill McNally's sharp single to centre.

Abbruzzi Saves Tanner

While Conley was making sparkling plays frequently, that old reliable Duke Abbruzzi pulled a thriller that rescued Tanner from his one bit of real trouble and Bill Rutledge made a grand running catch in the ninth.

From the second Dick Mahoney, the Friars' sophomore right hander, went along without undue difficulty until the sixth when trouble broke out. Rutledge opened with a single and Conley walked before Warner Keaney sacrificed. All were safe, however, when Mahoney's throw pulled Harrison off the bag. Mahoney then uncorked a wild pitch and Rutledge scored easily and Conley followed, taking advantage of slow retrieving by Catcher Joe Moore. Mahoney then retired the side.

Tanner Pitches Rams to 3-0 Win Over P. C.

Holds Friars to Five Hits; Dominican Yearlings Win

Rhode Island State College's 'varsity nine shut out Providence College, 3 to 0, on Meade Field, Kingston, yesterday as Bob Tanner held the visitors to five scattered hits.

The Providence College Freshman team had better success than the 'varsity and vanquished Yale freshmen, 12 to 5, in New Haven. The Friar first year team pounded Cahill and Neville for 17 lusty hits.

While Tanner moved along to hold the P. C.-R. I. game well in hand, he had able support in the field. Brilliant fielding made his task comparatively easy. Fred "Bud" Conley played a sensational game at short stop, robbing the Friars of at least three hits, heading off another drive that was headed for the outfield and generally disporting himself with the eclat of a champion. In addition to his defensive stand, he clouted a double, the only extra base drive of the game, and scored the initial run of the game.

While Conley was performing sensationally, the old reliable Louis "Duke" Abbruzzi came up with a thriller to rescue Tanner from his one precarious predicament. Bill Rutledge, the team's ace hitter, made a sensational running catch in the ninth to climax the day of stellar fielding.

Rhode Island scored one in the second and two in the sixth. Cranstons, Abbruzzi, Rutledge, Conley, McNally, Hedison, Zammarchi and Tanner all hit safely for Rhode Island. Providence gathered five hits. Dick Mahoney was on the mound for the Friars. Each pitcher struck out three men.

Ferguson, McCaffrey and Carter gathered three hits each in the freshman game at New Haven, Ferguson including a triple in his harvest and McCaffrey and Carter a double each. Drew yielded three hits in the five innings he toiled for the Friar, but Mullaney was reached for nine and all five of the Yale runs.

Elsewhere along the college baseball circuit, Williams defeated Connecticut, 6 to 0; Amherst defeated American International, 5 to 2; Rutgers downed Princeton, 13 to 6; Yale defeated Army, 2 to 0; Holy Cross took N. Y. U., 11 to 8; Wesleyan defeated Mass. State, 2 to 1, and California defeated Nebraska in the inter-sectional game of the day, 4 to 0.

Joe Wood of Yale shut out the Cadets with a masterful brand of pitching, striking out 10 men in holding Army to five hits, including two each by Henry Mazur and Polk.

If all forecasts are correct, the New England Intercollegiate track championships starting at Briggs Field, M. I. T., today, will practically settle into a dual meet between Holy Cross and Rhode Island.

If it does just that, the Rams probably will land on top because you almost have to confer with the oldest inhabitant to find out when they lost their last dual meet.

The Crusaders are the title defenders — by the grace of a quarter of a point. That fraction separated the Crusaders and Rams when the mathematicians finished figuring last year's totals and there are those who believe a slide rule will be needed tomorrow to determine the winner.

Fred Tootell's Rams are picked by a good percentage of the experts to unseat the Purple but, unfortunately, the principal rivals will score their points at the expense of other fellows rather than in personal duels. Holy Cross, as usual, has a lot of strength in the running events whereas the Rams do their best in the field departments.

Seven winners of individual titles in 1940 will be on hand but Eddie Dugger of Tufts, who won both sprints and hurdles a year back, is going to shoot for the hurdle crowns only. Eddie is saving up for next week's intercollegiates at Randalls Island.

This afternoon at Hendricken Field the Providence College Freshmen and Rhode Island State Freshmen will indulge in a bit of baseball but with their pitchers showing up pretty well lately the game isn't likely to develop into a track meet. It will start at 3 o'clock.

Today's outing will be the fourth this week for the young Friars. They dropped verdicts to Brown and Holy Cross Cubs and then demonstrated at Yale that they had profited by their lessons.

Brown and Providence College resume the State college baseball series tomorrow at Aldrich Field in an effort to unscramble the title tangle. Last year Brown, P. C. and R. I. State finished in a three-way tie for the top.

Since cutting a crown into thirds is quite a trick the crown didn't have a head to sit on last year. The Friars could leave it that way by winning from Brown tomorrow and from State next Friday.

If Amby Reynolds is fully recovered from his cold he will pitch, undoubtedly against Walter Juszczyk, in tomorrow's joust.

State is mixed up in another title tie too. Right now the Rams, Northeastern and New Hampshire are deadlocked for first place in the New England Conference race, which isn't bad when you recall that there are only five teams in the chase.

Providence College, still seeking its first victory in the State baseball title series, invades Aldrich Field this afternoon at 3 o'clock hopeful of getting into the running by defeating Brown.

The prospects are none too bright, for Capt. Walter Juszczyk of the Bruins is slated to pitch and when Juszczyk pitches the opposition ordinarily has its hands full. He beat the Friars in their first meeting, although somewhat below his usual form.

George O'Reilly, former La Salle pitcher, has been named by Coach Art Quirk as the Friar starter. A sophomore.

As things now stand Brown and Rhode Island are tied for the series lead with two victories apiece, having beaten each other and the Friars. Providence, by winning today and by beating State next week, could leave the title in a three-way split, as it was last Spring.

Juszczyk and Mahoney Foes in College Game

Selected to Pitch in Finale of Brown-P.C. Series

Brown and Providence College square off tomorrow at 3:00 p. m. on Aldrich Field in the final of the intra-city and intra-State series. Walter Juszczyk, famed knuckle-ball twirler, will go up against Dick Mahoney in a renewal of the contention that they started two weeks ago when Brown won 5 to 3.

Juszczyk defeated Providence College twice last year and once this season and he stands as the only Brown twirler that this department can recall ever to win three in a row from the Friar in this series. Brown stands two and one in the State series now. Elmer Duggan and Charlie Reynolds, pitching rivals of the famous 20-inning Brown-P. C. game of 1924, will sit together at the game as guests of the Brown team. Bill Quill, the Brown pitcher who figured in

"Break" Gives Walter Decision at Aldrich Field; Eddie Lee Fielding Star.

By BARNEY MADDEN

A miscue on the play that would have retired Brown in the ninth inning yesterday at Aldrich Field enabled the Bruins to score the run that gave them a 1 to 0 verdict over Providence College.

For eight and two-thirds innings George O'Reilly matched Walter Juszczyk in courage, curves and effectiveness but just as he was about to force the game into extra innings he lost Eddie Lee's quick throw while covering first and Hank Gossler, who had walked and stolen second, scored.

It was unfortunate that such a thrilling duel should have so unhappy a climax, for the Friar sophomore had done a grand job and his classmates in the supporting cast, Eddie Lee and Chet Zabek, had come to his rescue with plays that brought rousing applause from the sparse gallery.

O'Reilly Bears Down

But there were times when O'Reilly himself kept the aggressive Bruins from scoring. Three times he bore down with runners in scoring position and fired third strikes past the biggest threats in the Bruin lineup. In the second he fanned Bill Sheehan with Ted Wilks on second; in the sixth he accorded the same treatment to Johnny Marsolini and Ernie Savignano with Sheehan aboard and in the eighth he got the ordinarily hard-hitting Marsolini again with McKone on second.

Juszczyk, obviously, was mowing the Friars down with his customary efficiency but Juszczyk performs that little feat so consistently that his growing army of fans takes it for granted that the little guy is going to do a grand job. Yesterday he did it again, although so tired from a week of examinations that he fortified himself with a little sleep in the gymnasium before the game.

Juszczyk yielded five hits, three of them very scratchy, struck out 12 and passed three. O'Reilly allowed four hits, one a scratch, fanned six and walked seven. Capt. Walter left 10 Friars languishing on the paths and O'Reilly left eight Bruins stranded.

Brown played more aggressive ball than the Friars and it was Coach Jack Kelleher's penchant for letting his men steal bases that ultimately made that big run possible. Kelleher sent five runners winging for second during the afternoon and three of them made clean steals, the other two arriving safely on passed balls by Bob Reilly.

Rain started to fall as Brown went to bat in the ninth and that half-inning was played in a downpour. With one out Hank Gossler drew a walk and stole second but was almost doubled up as Johnny Keenan snared Moe Carroll's line drive. Then Bob Tourigney grounded just out of Ray Harrison's reach at first but Eddie Lee, the game's outstanding defensive player, raced over, scooped up the ball neatly and fired to O'Reilly but George let it slip through his hands just as he landed on the bag and the game was over.

Brother Act

The Lee brothers were involved in the only other "breaks" of the afternoon, John being the victim in this incident and Eddie the hero, robbing Brown of a brace of runs by one of the greatest catches you'll ever see in college ball.

With Tourigney and Juszczyk on base and one out in the fifth, McKone lashed a liner to Eddie's right and over his head. It looked good for at least two bases but Lee raced over, leaped in the air and made a backhanded grab. He went so high that when he landed few realized that he had the ball. The business of doubling Tourigney at second was elementary. Eddie started a double play in the fourth too, that one erasing Marsolini and Savignano.

The break involving big Brother John came in the first. John hit to right and by fast and daring running made it a two-bagger. Then Juszczyk, in trying to pick him off second, threw wide but instead of Lee getting third he got knocked out when the ball hit him on the head. It bounded so high in the air that the centre fielder caught it.

Chet Zabek made a fine running catch off Carroll in the fifth and in the sixth his great throw caught Carroll going into third. Carroll had forced Gossler and then when Tourigney patted a drive to right he streaked for third but Zabek drilled a throw to Capt. Art Clarkin that easily retired the runner.

Providence had two aboard in the second when Juszczyk fanned O'Reilly for the final out; had the bases full in the sixth when he forced Cariglia to roll to Marsolini and had Keenan, lead-off man in the ninth aboard, but failed to advance him. Keenan, incidentally, got a life when Savignano dropped a third strike.

Providence College's varsity baseball team will meet Holy Cross at Fitton Field, Worcester, this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The teams were scheduled to meet yesterday, but rain forced postponement. The game is the last out of town engagement for the Friars, who play R. I. State Friday at Hendricken Field and Seton Hall on Saturday at the same grounds.

The Crusaders suffered a setback this week when it was announced that George "Pinky" Woods, their top hurler, would not be able to compete this week because of a spike injury received in the game two weeks ago with New York University.

Coach Artie Quirk of the Friars has selected Charlie Harrington as his pitcher.

Holy Cross has both O'Connell and Murphy available for pitching duty. The Crusaders won the first game played in Providence, 11-2.

O'Connell Allows One Hit As Crusaders Blank Friars

Clarkin Scratches Single in Fourth Inning of 6-0 Game;

Nahigian Gets Homer.

✓ 5/29/41

BY HERB MURRAY, JR.

Fitton Field, Worcester, Mass., May 28.—One scratch hit was all that the Providence College baseball team was able to get off the delivery of Gene O'Connell, Holy Cross sophomore pitcher, today and the Crusaders scored a 6-0 victory with a 10-hit attack.

It was the third shutout the Friars have suffered in a row and probably their weakest hitting exhibition in this park. O'Connell had a fine day. He issued no passes and, using a sharp-breaking in-curve, fanned eight of the Friars. He also drew a walk and figured in the scoring of a run.

Feature of the Holy Cross hitting was a two-run homer in the third by Alex Nahigian, Crusaders small but mighty left fielder. He walloped one of Charlie Harrington's curves far into left field, the ball hitting the end of the football bleachers on the bounce. O'Brien, who had singled, scored ahead of Nahigian. That third inning was a nightmare for the Friars.

In the opening frame the Crusaders made the best of a couple of infield hits and an error to chalk up one run. The Friars put a damper on the proceedings by reeling off the only double play of the game, Keenan, Eddie Lee and Moore doing the honors.

Muff Double Play

But the Friars muffed a double killing in the third that would have checked another Holy Cross bid for runs. With one out, O'Brien singled and Nahigian hit his homer. Then Scondras hit a grounder over second and Keenan reached it but was unable to make a play.

Hanlon hit to Eddie Lee. And that was where the bad dream enveloped the Friar shortstop. He took Lee's toss but failed to step on second base and pegged wide of first base so that when the clouds cleared away there were Holy Cross runners on third and second.

Pullano fled out to Roy but Morgan figured it was the spot for a double and poled one into right field, sending two runs across and making it a four-run inning for the Crusaders. They added another marker in the fourth when O'Connell walked, moved along as Bezemes also drew a pass and reached third on O'Brien's sacrifice. O'Connell scored after Nahigian fled out to Roy.

With Harrington pitching steadier ball as the game went along Holy Cross had only one other real chance to score as Pullano walked and reached third when Merullo doubled in the fifth.

Clarkin Scratches Hit

The Friars had one runner left on base, going down in order in every inning except the fourth and ninth. In the fourth Capt. Art Clarkin, Friars' third sacker, hit a grounder down to Hanlon at first base and the Crusaders were in such positions that none of them was able to cover first in time to beat Clarkin there. So he deprived O'Connell of a no-hit, no-run admission to the Hall of Fame, performance.

In the ninth Johnny Yockers pinch hit for Harrington and reached first as O'Brien booted his grounder for the only Holy Cross error. Yockers, however, was thrown out, by Pullano, trying to steal second.

RAMS AND FRIARS WILL PLAY TODAY

Keaney, Abbruzzi and Conley to End College Careers at Hendricken Field.

When Rhode Island State invades Hendricken Field at 3 o'clock this afternoon for its second meeting with Providence College, seven Rams, two of them as colorful as the Kingston college ever has boasted, will wear the blue for the last time.

Partly because of that the Rams will go all out in an effort to win, share the State title with Brown and bring their season's record to 11 victories in 14 starts.

Brown has the edge in the series now but a Ram victory would tie it up. Providence, by winning, would make Brown the champion for the first time in several seasons.

Bob Tanner, who blanked the Friars in the first meeting, is State's likely pitching choice, while Dick Mahoney will be the Friar starter.

Providence, shut out in its last three games, hopes to break out in a rash of base hits today and salvage some prestige from a disappointing season.

State's departing stars are Warner Keaney, Duke Abbruzzi, Bud Conley, Frank Zammarchi, Rene Duranleau, Elmer Cornell and Allan Panser.

Providence College Player Is Injured in State Game

Carl Toti, Providence College second baseman, was injured in a peculiar accident during yesterday's game with Rhode Island State at Hendricken Field and removed to St. Joseph's Hospital.

X-ray pictures were taken at the hospital, but their findings were not disclosed. It was said at the hospital, however, that Toti was not on the danger list.

In the fifth inning Toti hit a grounder to Third Baseman Bill McNally and was safe as McNally threw over First Baseman Duke Abbruzzi's head. Toti raced to the bag just as Abbruzzi leaped for the ball and the boys collided, Toti going down, unconscious.

Dr. Ellis A. Rosenthal, a spectator, was called from the stand and administered first aid. He said that Toti apparently suffered a slight concussion and appeared to have injured his hand, too.

Abbruzzi said he didn't know what happened, but believed that Toti's head struck his hip as he leaped for the throw.

After Toti was removed to the hospital Dr. Rosenthal said that Carl's greatest worry, while being treated in the Friar dressing room, was whether he would be able to be at his best during today's examinations.

STATE COLLEGE

TRIPS FRIARS, 8-2

Keaney Men Whack Three P.

C. Hurlers for 16 Hits in Last Game of Season.

BY BARNEY MADDEN

Rhode Island State thundered a 16-hit farewell salute to the 1941 baseball season yesterday at Hendricken Field, walloped Providence College, 8 to 2, and tied for the State intercollegiate championship with Brown.

Picking on three Providence hurlers, taking advantage of Friar offensive and defensive lapses and running the bases with characteristic daring the Rams sewed up the verdict early and, with Warner Keaney hurling seven-hit ball, were seldom in what might be called imminent danger.

Included in their attack were four doubles and one triple. In addition the Rams chipped in with four sacrifices and three stolen bases, two of them being thefts of home. However, once the Friar hurlers gave Catcher Bob Reilly a little help, Reilly threw out three would-be stealers.

State, paced by Duke Abbruzzi and Frank Zammarchi with three hits apiece, got at least one hit in every inning. The lead-off man in the first four innings hit and then, after a one inning lapse, resumed their safety production and continued through the ninth.

Providence, meanwhile, went hitless until Ray Roy's single in the fifth. Only 13 men had faced Warner Keaney in the first four frames, Roy alone reaching, and then on a walk. They filled the bases in the fifth as Reilly forced Roy, Carl Toti reached on Bill McNally's wild throw, being injured on the play as he collided with Abbruzzi. Ed Lee replaced him. Keaney filled the bases by hitting Johnny Keenan but Amby Reynolds, second of the three P. C. pitchers, took three called strikes and Lee was subsequently picked off second.

The Friars menaced again in the sixth and scored twice, but left three men stranded. Clarkin reached on Frank Zammarchi's error, advanced on John Lee's single, took third on a passed ball and scored when Henry Hedison retrieved the ball and threw into left field. Smart and fast backing up by Bill Rutledge got Lee trying to reach third.

Chet Zabek then singled and stole second, Harrison took a called third strike, but Roy doubled Zabek home and Reilly beat out an infield hit, despite a brilliant play by Bud Conley. Ed Lee was purposely walked and Keaney fanned Keenan.

State scored in the first on Lyman Cranston's double and the first of Abbruzzi's hits. Duke took second on the throw-in, third when Dick Mahoney, Friar starter, dropped a return from Reilly but was erased at the plate as Conley hit to Keenan.

Keaney's double, McNally's sacrifice, Hedison's single, Zammarchi's single and a double steal by the last two added two runs in the second. Abbruzzi's single, Rutledge's sacrifice, a wild pitch and error by Clarkin produced the fourth run in the third and Conley added the fifth by stealing home.

Hits by Keaney, Hedison, Zammarchi and Tobey Coates and McNally's sacrifice scored two more in the sixth and Rutledge's triple and Conley's long fly added the final one in the seventh.

Defensively Conley, Abbruzzi, John Lee and Roy were the chief contributors. Conley robbed the Friars of at least two hits with long, fast throws and the Duke was his usual nifty self around first. John Lee took Rutledge's ninth inning drive almost off the centre field fence and Roy made a one handed running catch of Abbruzzi's smash in the fifth after misjudging it in the treacherous wind.

Providence College will bring its campaign to a close this afternoon, meeting the talented Seton Hall nine at Hendricken Field at 3 o'clock.

Up to Thursday Seton Hall had won 13 games in a row and yesterday increased the string to 14 by walloping Manhattan, 15 to 1.

George O'Reilly, Centredale sophomore, who has done especially well for the Friars this season, will pitch today.

Merry-Go-Round Makes Two Trips, but Breaks Down with Friars Aboard.

BY BARNEY MADDEN

The merry-go-round ran twice at Hendricken Field yesterday afternoon, but broke down on its second trip when Providence College was riding, and Seton Hall, the first customer, ultimately scored its 15th straight triumph, 15 to 11.

It was a merry matinee, 29 hits of assorted proportions rattling off the bats of the embattled collegians. Nine errors, 13 bases on balls, one hit batsman, two wild pitches and a passed ball added to the general confusion and, as if that weren't enough, there were three stolen bases, a balk and two of those rarities, dropped pop flies.

But, climaxing the fun, one young man from each team smote the ball into centre field for a routine base hit, but all they got for their proficiency were fielder's choices, hesitant base-runners being erased on forceouts in both instances.

By the time the third inning was over the Friars' cause was as hopeless as trying to get a date with Ann Sheridan, for at the moment the Setonians were expansively enjoying and 11 to 2 bulge. At the end of the sixth they were front-running, 15 to 3, but then the Friars got the range and thereafter the visitors suffered a measure of disintegration that converted the frolic into a fight.

Providence Fights Harder

Providence, fighting harder as the odds grew longer, finished with a flourish that sent Ken Pine to the showers and brought the Friars into contending position. But, with two aboard and two out Lukis replaced Pine and fired three strikes past Chet Zabek and that was that.

Seton Hall opened with a five-run offensive, a base on balls, and two errors making their three singles and one double more than ordinarily effective. They added four in the second on two walks, a single, an error and a lusty home run by Al Booth, and chipped in two more in the third on a double, wild pitch, single, error and balk.

From then until the sixth the visitors went into a decline, but in that inning they burst forth with two doubles and a single, waited out two walks and took advantage of a passed ball and an infield out. They did so to the tune of four runs.

After that Dick Mahoney succeeded to the pitching chores and clicked where George O'Reilly, Lou Sibbio and Amby Reynolds had failed. Mahoney yielded two infield hits and a Texas leaguer in the seventh and also issued a walk, but escaped without a run being scored. A double play, Mahoney to Keenan to Bob Harrison, eliminated the early difficulties and Mahoney made Mike Stanish force Harry Rowett at third for the last out. Thereafter he was boss.

Zabek Gives Friars Start

Chet Zabek gave the Friars their first two runs when he got a well-pasted, but slightly tainted homer in the first, Left Fielder Jim Lucika coming in for his line drive when he should have gone out. Two singles and an error gave them a run in the fifth and two hits, a walk, wild pitch and error gave them three more in the seventh.

An error, single and double added Run No. 7 in the eighth, but a quick double play, Booth to Davies to Stanish, curtailed further production.

Then came the ninth and the fireworks. Harrison lined out to right, but in rapid succession Ray Roy doubled and Joe Moore and Ed Lee singled. Keenan forced Barbarito, running for Moore, but Pinch Hitter Johnny Yockers singled, Capt. Art Clarkin did likewise and a wild heave by Centre Fielder Capt. Fred Delaney added up to four runs.

Pine then hit John Lee and was removed. Lukis entered briefly, fanning Zabek.

John Lee had a perfect day. He got two singles, a double, two walks and was hit once. . . Stanish and Bob Brydon scored four runs apiece and got two hits. . . Lou Welaj, brother of the Washington infielder, belted three hits as did Delaney and Rowett. . . Bob Davis of loop fame handled 10 chances perfectly at second.

Eastern Catholic College Baseball League Proposed

Plan, Advocated by Rev. J. A. Carey of Seton Hall, Expected to Bear Fruit.

BY BARNEY MADDEN
6/25/41

An Eastern Catholic college baseball league, patterned after the Big Ten and the Eastern Intercollegiate League, is a possibility for the relatively near future.

The plan, advocated by Rev. James A. Carey, assistant athletic director of Seton Hall, might well bear fruit for none of the usual barriers of distance and additional expense that militate against the formation of such associations exist in this particular instance.

Last fall a Catholic football league was suggested for the small colleges, but that idea didn't progress very far because of the extensive travelling entailed and the consequent heavy expense. In this projected circuit, however, the teams are well bunched geographically, they play what amount to a round-robin series ready, and they are almost always remarkably well matched in matter of talent.

Apart from Seton Hall, the proposed members are Providence College, Holy Cross, Boston College, Villanova, Manhattan, St. John's, Fordham, and Georgetown, none of which is very far away from the home diamonds of the others.

Would Require Little Change

Providence College, for example, already meets Holy Cross, Boston College, St. John's, Villanova and Seton Hall in home-and-home series and the inclusion of Fordham, Manhattan and Georgetown in the schedule would require only little changing of the current program.

Since the majority of the teams mentioned already play each other, and the Providence College situation exists at most of the other institutions, advocates of the plan in an association already are virtually unopposed, but lacking the added impetus and interest organization would bring.

Such a circuit might serve as the tonic college ball needs now. The tremendous crowd appeal the game had in the twenties is gone and is replaced by an apathy that has extended even to the close followers of the game. It is due to the decrease in college baseball interest generally, and the fact that the brand of ball play that is considered to the brand of ball exhibited by these same colleges 20 years ago. Ordinarily, at least, one of the Catholic colleges is a claimant of the Eastern championship, and for many years Holy Cross and the Friars have been dominant factors in New England intercollegiate circles as well. Providence has been under an eclipse for the past few years, but the achievements of the past spring's Freshman forces and the performance of the Sophomore members of the varsity would seem to indicate that the Friars scarcely can miss resuming their place in the sun next spring.

Will Be In Forefront

Holy Cross is in a similar situation. Last spring Coach Jack Barry projected a mediocre Crusader nine to the forefront through a combination of good pitching and an alert, none too robust attack, but next year there is every reason to believe that the Freshman will ride high again, under Barry's direction, which will move the circuit to a post-season game or games that would definitely determine the Eastern champion. For a room many seasons there has been a good debate. The Eastern Intercollegiate League has its annual championship, but always be fairly passed around, because the Eastern champions do not always encounter the admitted leader outside their

Except in isolated instances, the best team in the East emerges from the Eastern loop, or from the regularly scheduled games among the Catholic colleges. A game between the winners of two such championship struggles that old crowd certainly would serve to sharpen the appetites for victory, produce the color which the college game lacks now, and, as a direct result, generate enthusiasm anew among the now apathetic college baseball public.

Friar Sports Teams Hit .500 Last Season

BY JOE NUTTER

Providence College teams batted for an even .500 during the Academic year, 1940-41. In a listing of 61 contests, six teams in the three major sports won 30, lost 30 and tied one. The three freshman teams had the better argument in the contention for honors, winning 11, losing eight and tying one. The varsity teams won 19 and lost 22 contests.

The basketball seasons stood out above the other records. The varsity basketball team won 11 and lost six in a 17 game listing, for the best record among the teams. The freshman basketball team won six of 10 games.

The record of contests won and lost by teams:

	Won.	Lost.	Tied.
Varsity basketball	11	6	..
Varsity baseball	5	19	..
Varsity football	3	6	..
Freshman basketball	6	4	—
Freshman baseball	3	3	..
Freshman football	2	1	1
Freshman total	11	8	1
Totals	30	30	1

The high points of the varsity football season were triumphs over Canisius, Rhode Island and Springfield. The Friar eleven lost to Holy Cross, Long Island, Niagara, La Salle, St. Anselm and Catholic University. The team scored 85 points to opponents' 117.

The freshman team defeated Rhode Island freshmen and Seton Hall Prep, tied 243rd Field Artillery and lost to Holy Cross freshmen, 7 to 6.

The varsity basketball season found the team defeating Assumption, St. Anselm and Springfield, twice each; Bates, Holy Cross, Lowell, Hartwick and Siena. The team lost to Brown, St. John's, St. Francis and Becker, once each, and Rhode Island State twice.

The freshman basketekers defeated La Salle Academy, Durfee Textile, Springfield Junior varsity, Northbridge high school, and the Rhode Island freshmen twice. Defeats came at the hands of Brown freshmen, Springfield freshmen, Fall River Boys' Club, and New Bedford Tech.

P. C. Freshmen Will Bolster Ball Team

Many Heavy Hitters on Yearling Squad; John Lee Was Best of Varsity

BY JOE NUTTER

A heavy-hitting freshmen baseball team that turned up nine men who hit for more than .300, some capable pitching on both varsity and freshman nines, and the individual prowess of Centre Fielder Johnny Lee, who hit for .365 on the varsity nine, were the highlights in Providence College baseball this spring.

Lee, a member of the senior class, closed out one of the greatest years in recent Friar sports annals. In addition to leading the nine in hitting, he was high scorer on the varsity basketball team with 172 points.

The Friar varsity nine won five of 15 games, and the freshman nine won three of six.

While the varsity baseball team did not make the record of many of its predecessors, the general outlook for 1942 is excellent. A fine nucleus of hold-over regulars and experienced men and a very promising freshman squad should lift Friar prospects next spring.

Amby Reynolds had the best pitching record with a record of three triumphs in five games. He pitched 40 1-3 innings, struck out 35 men, walked 26, gave up 50 hits, and conceded 39 runs.

O'REILLY WON ONE AND LOST TWO

George O'Reilly won one and lost two, pitching 21 2-3 innings, struck out 17, walked 15, gave up 22 hits, and 18 runs. Dick Mahoney won one and lost four, pitched 42 1-3 innings, struck out 25, walked 15, gave up 59 hits, and 34 runs. Charlie Harrington lost two, worked 17 innings, struck out six, walked seven, gave up 19 hits, and 10 runs. Sibbio worked three innings, struck out one, gave up four hits and two runs, and Jim Padden worked 1 1-3 innings, walked two gave up two hits and three runs.

and one run, worked five innings, struck out one and passed two. Brousseau won two and lost one, pitched 25 innings, gave up 17 runs, and conceded 22 hits, struck out 16, and walked eight. Daligian lost two games, pitched 12 1-3 innings, gave up 19 hits, 18 runs, struck out nine and issued five passes. Avery pitched 6 2-3 innings, gave up 11 hits, five runs, struck out four and walked five. Mullaney worked four innings, gave up five hits, nine runs, struck out three and walked one.

George Carter led the freshman nine in hitting with a .562 mark, Ed Avery hit for .500, John Ferguson .478, Frank McCafferty .460, and Ted McConnon, .423. That power with the bat means that this year's freshman team should make a rich contribution to next year's varsity.

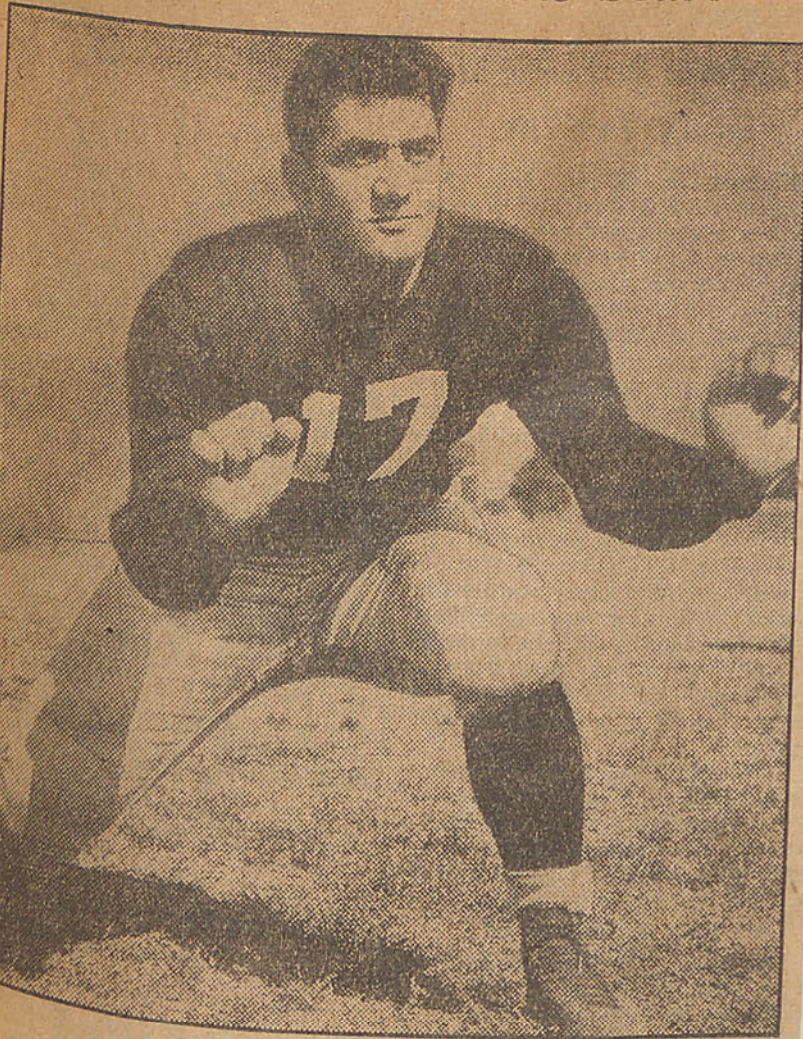

The other averages: Donahue .333, Drew .333, Securo .333, Brosseau .307, Massa .258, Killay .222, and Crowley .207.

Ferguson, short stop, Donahue, first base, McCaffrey, second, Joe Killay, third, Ted McConnon, outfield, Ernie Brosseau and Larry Drew, pitchers, and Carter are the men who are rated as having excellent prospects of moving onto the varsity nine.

AVEDISIAN JOINS ALL STAR SQUAD

Providence College Lineman
Will Oppose Giants at
New York Sept. 3.

Charley Avedisian, outstanding football player at Providence College the past three years, has accepted an invitation to play on the 1941 Eastern All Star team at New York, Sept. 3.

Avedisian's acceptance was announced yesterday by Coach Jimmy Crowley of Fordham, who will direct the All Stars in their Fresh Air Fund game against the New York Giants.

The former Friar captain has played in the backfield and at guard and tackle mainly and is going with the Stars as a guard. He did well in the backfield for Providence College but was far more efficient in the line and much more at home there. Last season he hit the peak form of his collegiate career as a tackle, being a standout in all of the Friar games.

A Pawtucket boy, Avedisian has also gained considerable prominence as a trackman. He will join the New York Giants after the Giants-All Star clash.
