FRIARS SCHEDULE SEVEN

BASEBALL GAMES

Five Regulars and Strong Sophomore Group on Hand

Ferguson, McConnon, McCafrey, Second-Year Men, Counted on to Help Team.

Although practise sessions have been few, the schedule definitely on the sparse side and several stars departed via graduation or into the armed services, the Providence College baseball outlook is far from discouraging.

True, with only seven games on the 1942 card—and one of them doubtful—the Friars probably won't have time or opportunity to attain their full potentialities but the players are there and—at the moment, 10 days before the opening game, the situation is bright.

Such performers as Capt. Art Clarkin, John Lee, Al Harrison, Jack Keenan and Amby Reynolds have completed their collegiate careers and Joe Moore, shortstop and catcher, George Avery, outfielder, and Joe Killay, Freshman infielder, have joined the colors.

Replacements Capable

Naturally that many departures should have a weakening influence but Coach Art Quirk is singularly well fixed in the matter of replacements, always keeping in mind the big 'IFs' of the times—if there will be opportunity to get them organized, if others don't leave for the service and if games enough to sharpen the boys can be arranged.

Only five regulars are available, but because of the exceptional class of last year's Freshman team, the job of filling in isn't apt to be excessively terrifying. Nick Cariglia, and Chet Zabek, outfielders; Ed Lee, second baseman; Bob Reilly, catcher, and Dick Mahoney, pitcher, are the holdover regulars and possess talent enough to give the Friars a good start.

Then such outstanding sophomores as John Ferguson, classy shortstop from Hartford; Ted McConnon, a first baseman by trade but capable in various roles, and Frank McCafrey, second baseman on last year's Freshman team are on hand, ready to step into varsity jobs. That trio, in addition to starring as first-year players, moved into the New England League last summer and played fine ball all season.

O'Reilly, Harrington Back

George O'Reilly and Charlie Harrington, pitchers, also earned letters last season and are back again, while such experienced reserves as George Barbarito, infielder; Marius Guatieri, catcher; Lou Sibbio, pitcher; Joe Brownell, infielder; Ed Bracq, infielder, and Vin Eldred, outfielder, are intensifying the race for varsity jobs.

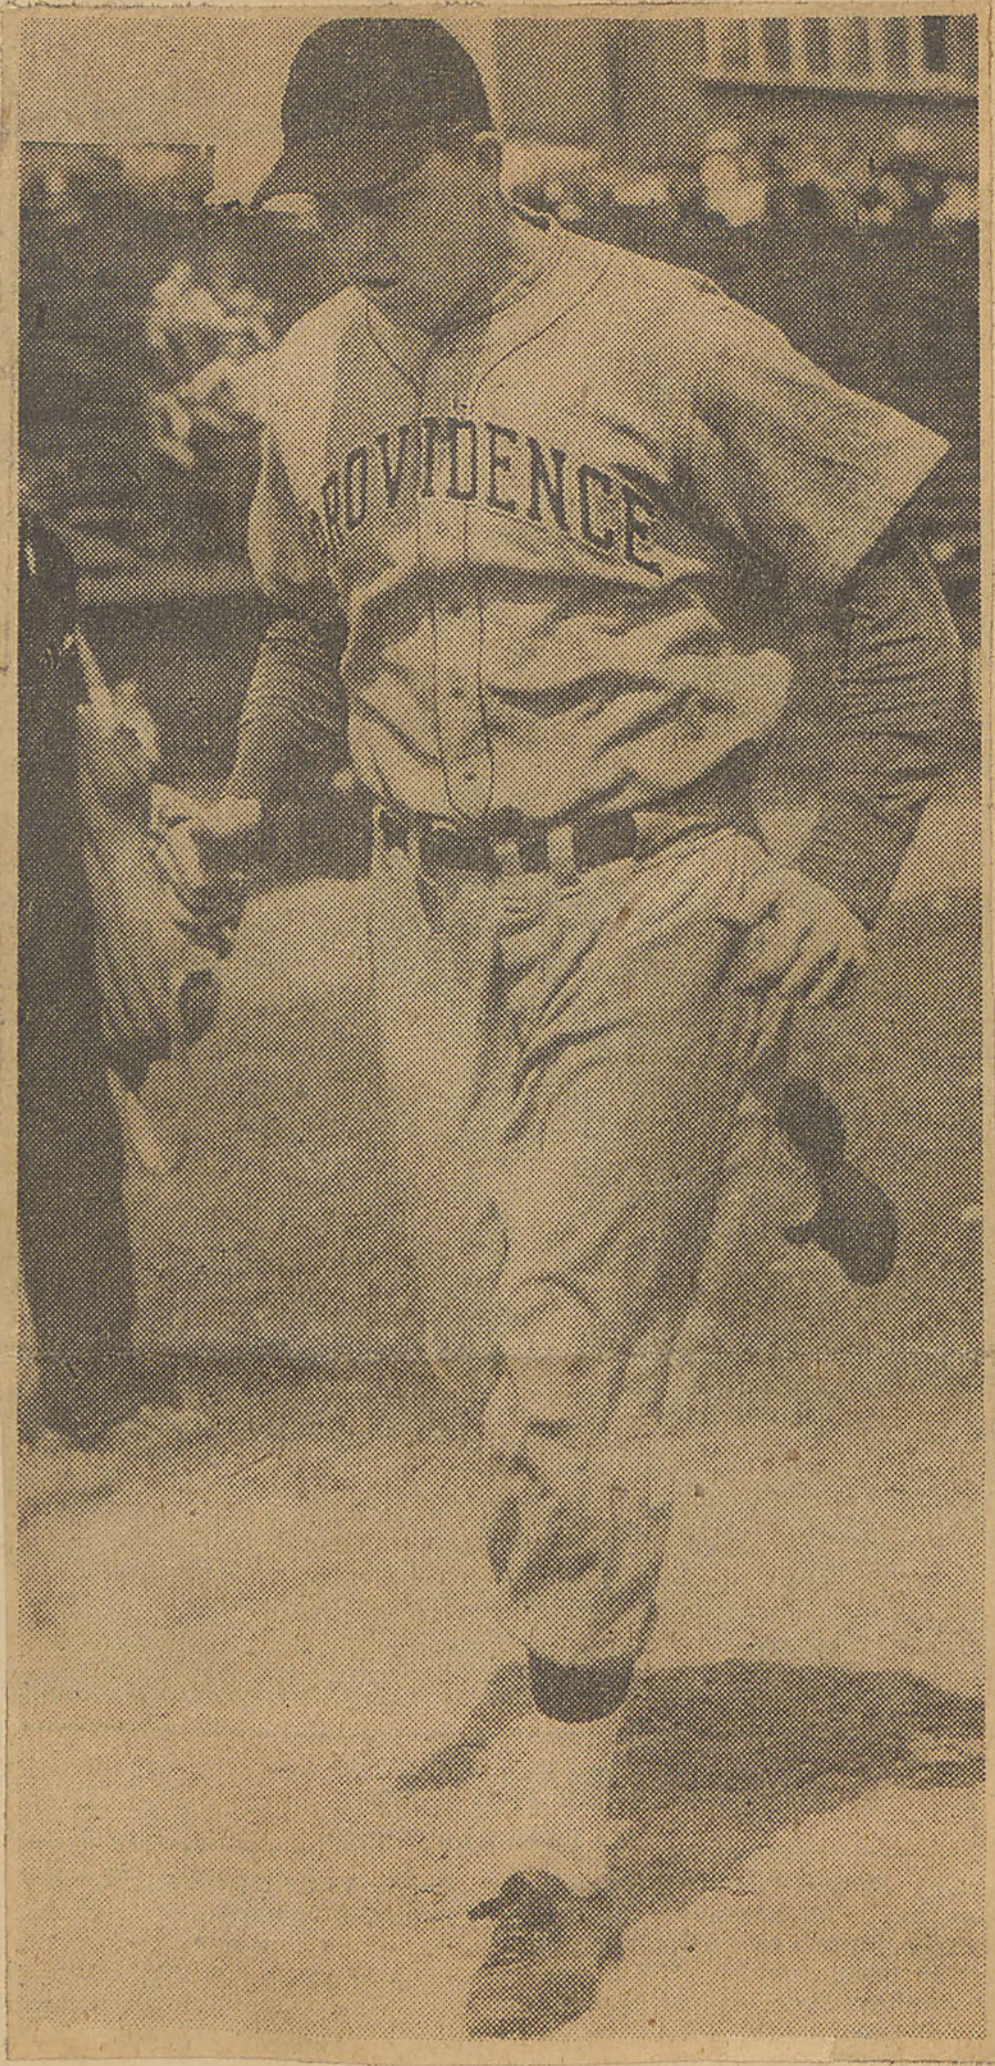

Larry Drew, pitcher and infielder, hasn't reported yet, but is expected soon. The big fellow, like Eldred, was highly successful in local amateur leagues last summer and probably will give the veterans a merry battle for a regular position.

Schedule difficulties are many and right now the Friars have a skeleton card at best and because of the early closing of classes for this semester, it is doubtful if others can be arranged.

The card:

April 15—A. I. C. at Springfield.
April 22—Springfield at Springfield.
April 25—R. I. State at Kingston.
April 29—Holy Cross (pending).
May 2—Brown at Aldrich Field.
May 9—A. I. C.
June 3—Boston College at Chestnut Hill.

Baseball Again at P. C.—Under Wartime Conditions

J 4/5/42

Although the urgencies of the times have resulted in the carding of only seven games at the present time, Coach Arthur Quirk and his Providence College baseball squad are looking forward with some optimism to the season. At the upper right is Coach Quirk and above is Ed Lee, one of the five regulars returning from last season. Lower right, crossing the plate, is Chet Zabek, another returning regular. Lee plays second base. Zabek is an outfielder.

Mahoney Has Bad Inning
As Friars Lose 4 to 2 Game

Four Hits, Error and Walk Give American International
Three Runs in First.

(Special to the Providence Journal)
Springfield, Mass., April 16.—Dick Mahoney had only one bad inning on the mound here this afternoon at Pynchon Park, but American International College capitalized on this lapse on the part of the Friar hurler to win, 4-2, in its opening baseball game of the season.

Four hits—half of the total the Aces obtained off Mahoney—an error and a base on balls, gave the home city nine three tallies in the opening frame, enough to offset single runs the Dominicans rushed across the plate in the seventh and eighth.

Fran Rosso of Agawam, who also went the distance on the hill for the Aces, permitted only six hits. He was fairly steady, but even though he lost control a bit near the end, held the visitors at bay.

So brilliantly did Mahoney hurl after his one bad inning that he gave the charges of Coach Bill Moge, a graduate of Providence College, only one hit and that after two were out in the third.

Friars Open Campaign Against A. I. C. Today
4/15/42

Providence College opens its baseball campaign today, meeting American International at Springfield.

The Friars, highly promising because of a wealth of sophomore stars, are expected to compile a good record. Coach Art Quirk will start a lineup including five or six sophomores, depending upon whether Ed Lee, junior, or Frank McCaffrey, sophomore, gets the call at second base. The lineup will be: Johnny Ferguson ss, Chet Massa 3b, McCaffrey or Lee 2b, Ned Crowley lf, Ted McConnon 1b, Dick Donahue cf, Chet Zabek rf, Bob Reilly c, Dick Mahoney, Charley Harrington or Ernie Brousseau p.

Zabek is the only senior on the starting team. Reilly, Mahoney and Harrington are juniors.

Providence College Drops Freshman Rule on June 1

Williams Baseball Team to Play Friars on Friday at Hendricken Field.

J 4/22/42

BY BARNEY MADDEN

Athletic developments were numerous yesterday at Providence College, with the announcements that the Freshman rule would be abolished June 1, that Williams would be met here in baseball Friday, that Charley Harrington would pitch against Springfield, at Springfield, today and that Bob Reilly and Chet Zabek would be basketball co-captains next season.

Williams, a newcomer to Friar baseball, is one of the strongest teams

New England this season and a likely candidate for sectional honors. The Purple powerhouse gave a good display of hitting last Saturday in thumping West Point, 23 to 2.

The Freshman rule will be dropped the summer semester begins, leaving first year men eligible for any baseball games the Friars might play during the summer, as well as making them eligible for basketball next winter.

The Friars make their second start of the season today at Springfield, and also their second in the City of Homes, having dropped their opener to American International in a thriller last Wednesday. Harrington, a junior right-hander, is the pitching choice today. Last year, as Springfield scored its first baseball victory Hendricken Field, Harrington hurled brilliantly for five innings, and was well on his way to a convincing victory until, in the last of the fifth, he walloped a three-bagger. The business of running the bases tired him out and the Maroon hit him hard thereafter.

Art McGill, sophomore infielder, may play first base for the Friars. Ted McConnon, the regular incumbent, probably will not make the trip. McConnon's mother has been ill for several days.

Reilly and Zabek, the captains-elect of basketball, have been regulars for two years and have been thoroughly dependable performers. Zabek plays centre, Reilly guard. Both, moreover, are members of the baseball team in good standing, Reilly the regular catcher, as he was a year back, and Zabek again holding regular berth in the outfield.

Sheldon Nips Harrington in Exciting Pitching Duel

Maroons Break Deadlock in Eighth; Barrett's Triple Sets

Up Winning Run.

✓ 4/23/42

(Special to the Providence Journal)
Springfield, April 22.—Behind the airtight pitching of Bill Sheldon, an East Lee boy, the Maroons of Springfield College won their first victory of the season this afternoon at Elmer Berry Field at the expense of Providence College. The score was 4 to 3.

From the fifth inning on the rivals played a 3-3 deadlock until the eighth, when Ray Barrett, Springfield first baseman, blasted a triple to deep centre field. He tallied with the big run on an infield out.

Providence started off by scoring in the first inning. Ferguson singled with one out and moved to second on Lee's hit. Crowley walked, filling the bases, and while McConnon was being thrown out at first Ferguson tallied.

The Maroons came back with two in their half. With one out Larson singled and Olson followed suit with a hit that drove Larson to third. A double steal was then executed perfectly. Kalbaugh was safe on Ferguson's error, Olson scoring on the misplay.

The Maroons added another in the third inning on a double by Greenhalgh and a single by Larson.

Harrington led off the Friars' fifth by reaching first on Barrett's error. He scored when Chet Massa laced a long three-bagger to centre. Ferguson singled to centre, sending Massa home with the tying run.

Sheldon was helped tremendously by the brilliant fielding of Shortstop Bill Kalbaugh. Sheldon himself pitched a fine game, holding the Friars off in the pinches.

Harrington of the Friars also pitched grand ball, but poor fielding hurt him.

Gala Day for Bruins; Maroons Drop Friars

Delaney's Big Bat Downs Yale; Barrett's Triple Beats P. C.

B 4/23/42

The bat of George Delaney was a leading contributor in making yesterday one of the brighter days on the Brown University sports calendar. That bat clouted out a home run and a triple to lead Brown's assault against a hapless Yale nine. The Bruins came home with a 9 to 1 victory under their belts.

While the varsity baseballers were giving a good account of themselves on the New Haven front, the Bruin freshmen racked up their second straight victory by trimming Worcester Academy, 7 to 2, at Aldrich Field. The freshman tennis completed Brown's banner day by opening its season with a 6 to 3 triumph over Worcester Academy at the Thayer street courts.

Brown lost little time pounding out the offerings of Yale's Jim McLarnan, combining two walks, McKone's double and a wild pitch to score a pair of runs in the opening frame. Earl Nichol's good pitching held the Elis to seven scattered hits with Yale's lone tally coming in the seventh inning.

The Cubs also went to town early against their Worcester rivals, pushing one run across the plate in the first and sewing up the game with a three-run rally in the third. Jim Bryan, former Cranston high hurler, allowed four hits and struck out 11 in his seven inning tenure. "Red" Pickett went the last two innings, giving up two hits.

The Friars of Providence College and Springfield tangled in a nipantuck diamond duel at Springfield with the Maroons breaking at 3 to 3 deadlock in the eighth frame and earning a 4 to 3 decision.

Ray Barrett cooked the Friar goose by blasting a triple to deep centre field and scoring with the big run on an infield bunt.

The Friars will attempt to sooth the Springfield setback with a victory over the Williams nine at home tomorrow. The Williams gamew as added to the P. C. roster early this week and marks the first meeting between the two teams.

The R. I. State Rams, rained out of their last two scheduled games, hope to resume play today when they journey to Storrs to meet the University of Connecticut. The Ram freshman track team will be host to Cranston high and the State freshman tennis team will be "at home" to the Worcester Academy netmen tomorrow.

Providence College plays its first home baseball game of the 1942 season this afternoon, meeting Williams College for the first time in this sport in a 3 o'clock engagement at Hendricken Field. Williams has split even in two games, but has a strong team as indicated by a 23-2 victory over Army last Saturday.

The Friars have dropped games to American International and Springfield but have been "in the ball game" all the way. They bowed to the Amincos, 4-2, and to the Maroons, 4-3.

Brousseau to Hurl

Coach Arthur Quirk has named Ernie Brousseau to pitch for Providence this afternoon and expects that his club will register its first victory of the season. He feels they are just about ready to make their hitting do the most good. Chet Massa, Ed Lee, John Ferguson and Donahue have been timely hitters while McConnon and Reilly are dangerous at the plate also.

Brousseau hits very well for a pitcher, so the outlook at bat is a promising one. The Friars have been hard at work polishing their fielding which has not been of the best at times. Lee, Ferguson and Massa have been outstanding defensively so far.

Coach Charlie Caldwell, who has just had his contract renewed for three more seasons, will use the same Williams lineup that faced Army. His pitching choice will come from a trio of steady flingers, Ed Callahan, Bill West and Bob Swain. Callahan seems to have the edge at the moment. It was Stu Lare who hurled against the Army and he'll be available for relief work if needed.

Coach Caldwell hopes to have his ace left fielder, Bill Schmidt, back in the lineup, batting in the clean-up spot.

The Friars go into action against State tomorrow at Kingston.

Friars Defeat Williams In Exciting Game, 4 to 3

Produce Two P. C. Runs in Ninth Inning.

J. 4/25/42

BY BARNEY MADDEN

A brief but devastating eighth-inning explosion at Hendricken Field yesterday produced two Providence College runs and a 4 to 3 victory over a classy Williams team in the Friars' home baseball opener.

The game probably will stand up as one of the finest of the entire collegiate season. It had thrills in abundance, sharp hitting, sparkling outfield play, accurate throwing, sound pitching, alert base-running—and a balk. Two errors were committed, both by the Purple, but only one did any damage.

With the game deadlocked, 2-2, Ned Crowley opened the Friar eighth by spanking a double along the left field foul line and Chet Za-

Outfielders helped both pitchers. . . . In addition to Hayes's catch, Swain robbed Massa in the first with a one-handed stab. . . . Donahue gave Hayes a dose of his own medicine when he snared his drive in the sixth. . . . The wind held up well hit balls quite a bit. . . . In the second Jack Bridgewater sliced one down the right field line but Zabek, by fast fielding and a good throw, cut him down at second. . . . Lee, with a single, double, two runs and two walks, one intentional, was head man offensively. . . . Both hurlers worked well, especially when things looked bad.

bek scored him with a lusty single to centre. When Bob Hayes let the ball get through him Zabek roared all the way to third.

Bob Reilly and Zabek started a squeeze play, the ball, Zabek, Catcher Bob Gardiner of Williams, and Reilly, of course, all meeting at the plate simultaneously. Reilly, although shoved a bit by Gardiner, bunted the ball foul but Umpire Mullen called a balk on Ned Callahan, who halted his motion when Zabek streaked for the plate. Reilly then fled to right. Without interference, Zabek had the pitch beaten anyway.

When Ernie Rousseau, the Friars' curve ball hurler, retired the first two in the Williams' ninth the song seemed just about ended, but the visitors still had plenty of fight. Jack Harter topped a lazy hopper to Jack Ferguson at short and Fergy loafed so much on the play that the hustling Harter beat it out. Then Gardiner walloped one over Crowley's head in left, Ned barely getting a glove on the ball after misjudging it.

Harter scored and Gardiner roared around third, but was picked off as Crowley and Ferguson compensated for their lapses by a fast relay to Chet Massa, who tagged Gardiner, both diving through the air on the play.

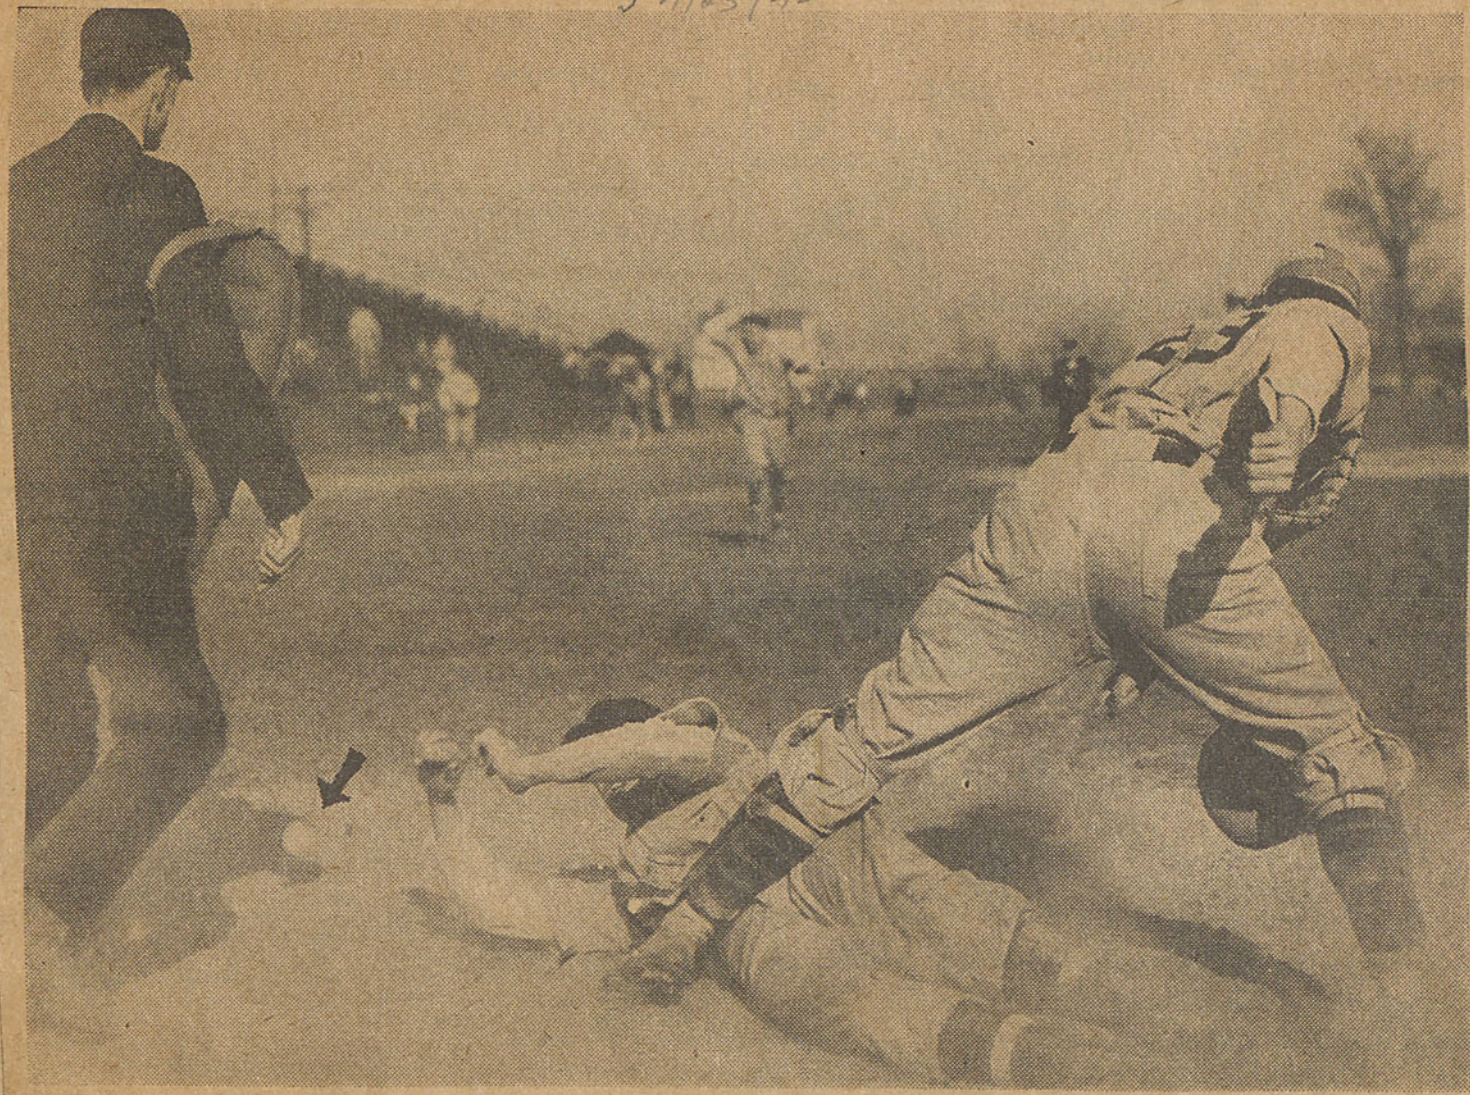

Al Reilly scored the first run for Williams in the fourth, singling, advancing on Bob Swain's sacrifice and scoring on Hayes' double. Bill Donovan singled through Lee, scoring Hayes.

Providence got a run back in the fourth as Lee walked, stole second, advanced on a passed ball and tallied as Zabek grounded out. Lee scored again in the sixth, opening with a double, moving up on Donahue's infield out and counting when Crowley walloped a long drive to centre that Hayes hauled down.

Futile Wear and Tear on Trousers—It Was a Balk

Chet Zabek of Providence College slinging into the plate on attempted squeeze play in eighth inning of yesterday's game with Williams. Umpire Mullen ruled a balk, franking Zabek home. Ball, indicated by arrow, was bunted by Reilly, Friar catcher. Williams catcher is Gardiner. Friars won, 4-3.

SAFE AT FIRST BASE

Chet Zabek of Providence College slides safely into first base in the sixth inning of a game with Williams yesterday. Bridgewater, Williams first baseman, took Zabek's slow roller and made a wild throw to Pitcher Callahan, covering the bag. The ball hit his hands but got away. The Friars won, 4 to 3.

Teams Clash at Kingston
Today.—Brown Plays
at Amherst.

Providence College defeated Williams College, 4 to 3, yesterday at Hendricken Field and today faced the task of meeting Rhode Island State's revamped team at Kingston. Brown is at home to Amherst.

* * *

An eight-inning blow-up that gave the Friars two big runs put the game on ice. Williams got an early lead by scoring two runs in the fourth while P. C. got one, and the game was deadlocked at 2-all then until the Friar nine cut loose in the ninth.

Ned Crowley opened the eighth by driving a double along the left field foul line, and Chet Zabek scored him with a resounding single to centre. When Bob Hayes let the drive get by him, Zabek went on to third. Bob Reilly and Zabek worked a squeeze play then and Zabek, Catcher Bob Gardiner, Reilly and the ball arrived simultaneously at the plate. Reilly was bumped around a bit by Gardiner, and bunted foul, but Umpire Mullen called a balk on Callahan who had halted his motion when Zabek streaked for the plate. Reilly then flied to right.

Williams came back and made a single run in the ninth for a final threat. Ernie Rosseau retired the first two Williams men in the ninth, but Jack Harter topped a slow one to Ferguson at short and Ferguson played it so slowly that Harter made his base. Gardiner drove one over Crowley's head in left, and Harter scored as Gardiner went around to third, but was tagged out on a fast relay, Crowley to Ferguson to Chet Massa.

Williams got eight hits to the Friar's six. Lee and Zabek got two each for the Friars and Massa and Crowley each got one hit.

KEANEY SELECTS NEW RAM LINEUP

Seeks Stronger Club to Face
Providence College at Kingston Today.

A shake-up is anticipated in Rhode Island State's line-up when the Rams entertain Providence College at Meade Field, Kingston, this afternoon, in the opener of the State series. The contest is slated to start at 2:30 o'clock and, with the warm weather of the past two days, a record turnout is anticipated.

Three other events on the Rams' sport card today bring the Brown freshman baseball club to Kingston for a game on the south end of Meade Field, starting at 3:15 p. m.; a tennis match between New Hampshire and Rhode Island, at 2 p. m., and then an informal track meet with Harvard, Holy Cross and Northeastern, at Cambridge.

The Providence-State game is a toss-up. Neither team has been displaying the strength that has marked its record of other years. The Friars beat Williams 4-3, yesterday after bowing previously to American International and Springfield. Rhode Island, on the other hand, won decisions from Boston University and Connecticut, but ran into defeat before Northeastern and Connecticut.

Friars Score Winning Run In Sixth on Squeeze Play

Donahue Romps Across When McGill Bunts; Only Single Marker Is Earned.

Scoring the winning run on a squeeze play in the sixth inning, Providence College defeated Rhode Island State, 4 to 3, at Kingston yesterday after having moved into contending position by taking advantage of Ram misplays.

As a matter of fact, six of the seven runs garnered off the pitching of George O'Reilly and Bob Tanner were unearned, the game's nine errors paving the way for six tallies. O'Reilly and Tanner hurled good ball, the former allowing four hits and the latter two but fanning six and issuing only one pass as compared with Tanner's three strikeouts and two walks.

With the score tied in the sixth Dick Donahue opened with a grounder to Jim Cole but reached second as Cole threw past first. Ned Crowley singled to left but Dave Hedison's fast throw held Donahue on third. Then, after Frank Bellino threw out Chet Zabek, Art McGill bunted so well that no play could be made on Donahue at the plate.

State threatened frequently but sharp P. C. fielding halted the rallies. A double play, Chet Massa to Ed Lee, halted them in the seventh and Massa again came to O'Reilly's aid in the eighth, spearing Dave Hedison's slashing grounder for the final out, leaving two men stranded.

Providence scored in the first without a hit. Lee walked and took third as Bill Rutledge threw badly on Donahue's grounder and scored when, on a delayed steal, Harry Hedison threw into centre field.

The Rams tied the score in the third, Dave Hedison's single sending Rutledge home, after he had reached on McGill's error and taken third on a passed ball.

The Rams scored in the third when Bellino singled, advanced on a sacrifice and ultimately stole home. In the next frame McGill's error and a passed ball got Rutledge to third, when he tallied on Dave Hedison's single. State added another run in the fifth when McGill erred on Bellino's grounder, the Ram infielder stole second and counted on Cole's hit.

P. C. tied it in the fifth on Cole's misplay of Zabek's grounder, a pass to McGill, Bellino's error on Reilly's bunt and Reilly's wallop to right. Tanner halted the uprising by retiring the next three hitters.

P. C. Double Killing Halts
Brown Scoring Bid
in Sixth.

BY BARNEY MADDEN

Dick Mahoney, tall and talented Providence College pitcher, gave a scholarly demonstration of the hurler's art yesterday at Aldrich Field and the inevitable result was a Friar shutout victory. The score was 5 to 0.

Mahoney, mixing his extensive assortment, shrewdly, yielded four hits and one walk and struck out 10, all except one of them swinging. He had a wriggling fast ball, good curve, tantalizing slow ball and admirable control and his catcher, Bob Reilly, called his pitches flawlessly.

Dick was in trouble once, in the sixth, when he temporarily lost his delicate touch. Gene Coughlin singled to right, and Herb Ginsberg, Brown's starting hurler, walked. Ted Wilks laid down a sacrifice bunt but, displaying plenty of early foot, converted it into a hit and the bases were full.

Mahoney broke a fast curve past McKone for a strikeout and then Chet Massa grabbed Nelson's hopper, and started a swift double play, Ed Lee and Ted McConnon collaborating.

In the first, third, fifth, eighth and ninth Mahoney retired the Bruins in order.

Meanwhile, Ginsberg's control and half-speed pitches were bothering the Friars abundantly — abundantly enough for George Delaney to make 17 putouts at first, not a record, perhaps, but certainly a lot of business.

After leaving four stranded in three innings, the Friars scored in

Brown, P. C. Meet Today

Ginsberg and Mahoney Will Pitch in Series Contest at Aldrich Field.

An important sequence in the abbreviated State baseball series will be enacted at 3 o'clock this afternoon when Providence College meets Brown at Aldrich Field.

The Friars already have shaded State while the Rams have been victorious over the Bruins. Today's game could give the Friars a long lead in the title race or throw the series into a three-way deadlock.

Dick Mahoney is scheduled to pitch for P. C., opposing Herb Ginsberg. Both teams have ample pitching talent available, the Friars with Charley Harrington, George O'Reilly and Ernie Brousseau and the Bears with Earl Nichols, Bentley and Lynch.

Ted McConnon may return to his regular first base berth with the Friars, although Art McGill is among the fourth. Ted McConnon sliced a triple down the right field line and scored on Nick Cariglia's squeeze play bunt. In the fifth Massa singled, stole second and scored on Donahue's single and the Friars, after going down in order in the sixth, tallied once in each of the last three innings.

In the seventh Nelson, Brown's brilliant performer at short, booted Mahoney's grounder but Massa forced him, subsequently scoring on Ed Lee's drive to centre. Chet Zabeck scored in the eighth, walking with two out, taking third on Cariglia's hit and scoring on a wild pitch. The final run, Massa's third incidentally, was propelled home when McCaffrey doubled after Massa had walked.

Brown defied one of baseball's jinxes, posing for a team photo just before the game. Henceforth the Bruins probably will have more respect for the hexes. . . . Mahoney began to cross up the Bears after four innings, adding a slow ball to his other stuff. When he pulled the string the results were sometimes laughable. . . . Nelson fairly dazzled at short, getting eight assists, several on long throws and Delaney helped by stretching aplenty.

Friar Nine Schedules

Summer Baseball Tilts

B 5/8/42

Providence College is the first college in New England to announce plans to go right ahead with a summer schedule in varsity baseball. Games have been scheduled with Yale, Williams, Dartmouth and three or four Army nines including a nine at Quonset Point. It is expected that the games will be on a home-and-home basis. P. C. has made overtures to Brown and Rhode Island State for summer games, but has had no word from either of the two intra-State rivals.

According to the plans at P. C. the Friar nine will operate through June, July and August. Two games with Boston College are on the schedule for June and the others will be fitted in for July and August. Providence has no seniors on the regular lineup. All P. C. undergraduates must attend the summer semester, which will open on June 1 and extend into late August.

Brown meets the United States Military Academy team from West Point on Aldrich Field tomorrow, Providence College faces American International at Hendricken Field, and Rhode Island State College will be at Durham, N. H., meeting the University of New Hampshire.

The Brown-West Point game looms large on Brown sports card and much will be made of the game by Brown and Army officials. The Camp Edwards Band will be on hand for the game and will give a concert, and the officers and enlisted men in the Sixth Army Corps will be the guests of the Brown Athletic Council.

One of the members of the West Point team will be Henry Mazur, dynamic New England youth, who spent a year at Boston College before going to West Point to write his name high in U. S. M. A. athletic annals. He is the star football half-back, but on the morrow he will be operating at centre field and batting in the No. 3 position.

Army has defeated Cornell, Vermont, Georgetown, Harvard, Pennsylvania, Swarthmore and Maryland and has lost to the New York Giants, Williams and Lafayette, and tied with Syracuse.

Tomorrow is Alumni Day at Providence College and Friar graduates will be glad to welcome one returning alumnus but hope that he will not be asking as much as on two previous occasions this year. Bill Moge, P. C. '38, is the American International baseball coach as well as the basketball tutor, and he has taken the Friars in both basketball and baseball during this year.

Bill was a basketball and baseball star for Providence, and he has done a highly successful job of coaching the two sports at A. I. C.

Summer baseball becomes a reality in the Providence College sport program this afternoon when the Friars travel to Boston College's field in Newton, Mass., for a game with the Eagles' strong outfit. The Friars will play an extensive schedule during the next 10 weeks with games against college and service teams.

Boston College, Brown, Yale and Williams are the college nines on the summer list and teams from Quonset, Fort Devens and Fort Adams also will meet the Friars in diamond combat. In all, 12 games have been arranged starting today and running through Aug. 15. Six games are listed for Sundays, five for Saturdays and today's summer-schedule opener fills the dozen.

Eleven players turned out for Monday's practise and it was expected that a group of 25 to 30 men eventually will be wearing Friar baseball uniforms. The small summer entering class of 50 probably will not produce many outstanding athletes, as the objective of these two score or so students is a practical, war-minded one.

The regular fall-entering class of 200-300 students more than likely will contain the normal percentage of capable sport performers. With the trend toward greater participation of all students in sports, the college officials are not anxious one way or the other about the athletic talent contained in any enrolling group.

Fan Interest May Mount

That college baseball may have a rebirth in fan interest is a strong possibility for the players who ordinarily would be in the lineups of summer league teams throughout the East will continue in school during the summer. Thus they will hit their peaks in the next few weeks and the college teams competing in July and August should be playing exceptionally interesting ball.

Two games, each with Brown, Boston College and Yale will send the Friars against three of the representative nines in New England and permit a ranking of the Dominican unit that should be close to a correct one. The service rivals on the Friar schedule are all capable teams and these contests should go a long way toward reviving a keen interest in non-league baseball.

Coach Arthur Quirk of the Friars more than likely will hold to the lineup that has proved itself so far at the start. Newcomers will gain a position in the lineup just as soon as they have demonstrated that they merit one. Among the pitchers Coach Quirk has available are: Dick Mahoney, Ernie Brousseau, Charlie Harrington and John Kispert. Any one of them may start against the Eagles today.

Two Games Pending

In addition to the games listed there are contests pending with Dartmouth and the Pawtucket Slaters of the New England League. During the spring season the Friars split six games, winning from Williams, Brown and R. I. State and losing two to American International and one to Springfield. As Freshmen are eligible for the P. C. varsity there will not be the division of interest that existed during the spring program and Coach Quirk may find in his yearling group a player or two who will add to the ability of his first-string lineup.

The schedule of 12 games that Paul Dunn has lined up for the Friars:

- June 3, Boston College at Chestnut Hill.
- June 7, Boston College at Providence.
- June 14, Quonset Pt. Air Base at Hendricken Field.
- June 21, Fort Devens at Hendricken Field.
- June 28, Quonset Pt. Air Base at Wickford or Kingston.
- July 4, Brown at Aldrich Field.
- July 12, Fort Adams at Hendricken Field.
- July 25, Brown at Aldrich Field.
- July 26, Fort Adams at Hendricken Field.
- Aug. 1, Yale at New Haven.
- Aug. 8, Yale at Providence.
- Aug. 15, Williams at Williamstown.

FRIARS' OPENING OFF UNTIL SUNDAY

✓ 6/4/42

Providence College and Boston College baseball teams will have to wait until Sunday before they can open their summer season rivalry on the baseball diamond. A game scheduled between them for yesterday had to be cancelled because of weather conditions.

Officials of the two colleges learned yesterday that there was no place on the two schedules for inserting the game at a later date so they dropped any hope of playing it. Sunday's game at Hendricken Field will mark the opening of the Friars summer trimester baseball program during which they will play six Sunday games and five Saturday games.

Friars and Eagles Start Summer Baseball Today

Maznicki in Final Game for B. C. as Old Rivals Clash at Hendricken Field.

Providence College and Boston College inaugurate summer intercollegiate baseball in Rhode Island this afternoon when they clash at Hendricken Field at 3 o'clock.

The teams were to have met last week, but weather caused cancellation of the game. They hope to get summer ball off to an auspicious start this afternoon. A good crowd is expected, especially since Hendricken Field is so readily reached by street car and bus.

The Friars suffered negligible losses through graduation and will start the team that functioned throughout the regular season with Dick Mahoney, ace of the large and talented mound staff, nominated for starting honors.

Coach Fred Maguire's Eagles have been reasonably successful all season, but dividing the spoils in recent starts. They defeated Northeastern but lost to the Lovell Generals in general and Sergt. Joe Walsh, Red Sox farm hurler, in particular.

Today will bring to a conclusion the illustrious sports career of Monk Maznicki of West Warwick in the Boston College regimentals. The Meandering Monk has starred in baseball and football at the Chestnut Hill school and was a member of the Eagles' basketball squad last winter which volunteered its services for the Navy Relief Society twin bill at the Auditorium, opposing the Friars.

The Eagles' brother battery Dick and L. Ferriter will oppose the Friars. Mickey Connolly, of football fame; Cassell, another grid hero, and Maznicki are expected to bear the brunt of the Eagles' attack.

P. C. NINE SAVES SUMMER OPENER BY 4-RUN SPURT

Mahoney, With Good Support, Keeps Game in Hand Most of Way.

Providence College's power asserted itself for four runs in the eighth inning and enabled the Friars to overtake Boston College's Eagles for a 7-4 victory yesterday afternoon at Hendricken Field. The game, inaugurating summer intercollegiate baseball in Rhode Island, attracted more than 1000 fans.

Dick Mahoney, right hander from Taunton, went the distance for the Friars. Mahoney yielded 10 hits but only in the third inning when the Eagles combined four hits and two errors for their only runs did the game seem out of his hands. The support of his mates helped him appreciably especially in the second, fourth, sixth and seventh innings when they engineered skillful fielding plays with two men on and only one out.

Friar Fielding Gems

Friar fielding gems included Ed Lee's back-hand stop of Ferriter's grounder, which prevented a score in the fifth, and Johnnie Ferguson's diving circus catch of Cassell's line drive in the ninth. Right Fielder Bill Commene, who paced the Eagles' hitting attack with a double and two singles, also sparkled afield when he pulled down Mahoney's long fly to right centre that was labeled for extra bases, with three men on in the eighth.

Providence opened the scoring in the last of the first inning when, after two were out, Lee singled, advanced to third on Ted McConnon's bingle to centre, and tallied on Dick Donahue's single. Bob Reilly's single to centre scored Zabek with the Friars' second run in the second frame after the latter had reached first on Cassell's error, and moved to second on Cariglia's sacrifice.

Eagles Bat Around

The Eagles batted around in their big third inning and scored four runs on four hits and two Friar errors. This rally was featured by Mickey Connolly's inside-the-park home run, which took a bad hop and bounded over Donahue's glove as he attempted to spear the drive along the left field foul line.

Three hits and an error produced another Providence score in the sixth, leaving the home team one run behind. That margin appeared substantial enough, in the face of Boston College's alert defensive play, until the eighth.

Lee, first up for the Friars in the eighth, doubled to centre, advanced to third on McConnon's infield hit and scored on Donahue's single to centre. Zabek laid down a perfect bunt along the first base line and had it beaten out when Cassell fell to the ground and threw past Connolly, covering the initial sack. McConnon crossed the plate on this one. Cariglia fanned and Reilly was purposely walked, filling the bases. Commene then made his stab of Mahoney's drive to right, but Donahue came home after the catch. Massa then singled Zabek home with the final run of the game before Ferguson grounded out, third to first.

Umpires—Kelleher and Halloran.

Providence College, which inaugurated Sunday baseball for the summer last week, plays its second game of an expanding trimester sports program at 3 o'clock today, meeting a strengthened Quonset Naval Base team at Hendricken Field.

The Friars disposed of Freddy Maguire's Boston College outfit last Sunday, showing timely hitting strength and rarely leaving runners on the paths. The Friars didn't hit as freely as in some spring games, but they did connect when runners were in scoring position, and that faculty enabled them to pull the game out of the fire.

Providence will have Charley Harrington on the pitching mound this afternoon, while the Sailors will counter with Giraud, former star in the Providence sandlot leagues.

Mark Hanabury, erstwhile Tufts captain and third baseman, will man that position for Quonset, while Picarello, a lusty hitting catcher, will complete the battery and hit in the clean up spot.

Last Sunday's game attracted nearly 1000 customers, despite leaden skies that threatened to drench the spectators any moment. Today an even larger gathering is expected, it being virtually certain that those who saw last Sunday's battle will be back for more. They saw plenty of good hitting and some particularly brilliant fielding plays.

FRIARS FASHION 2-1 VICTORY

OVER QUONSET IN 12 INNINGS

DEFENSIVE BATTLE IS HIGHLIGHTED BY PITCHING PROWESS

Harrington of P. C., Giraud of Air Base Sparkle in Give and Take Struggle.

BY BARNEY MADDEN

Providence College defeated the Quonset Naval Air Base team, 2 to 1, in a stirring 12-inning duel at Hendricks Field yesterday afternoon, but that wasn't the half of it.

Fielding features were abundant, close plays the rule rather than the exception—yet fielding lapses produced the runs.

The rival hurlers, Charles Harrington of the Friars and Leo Giraud of Quonset made the hitters generally look pretty sad, were almost always in command—yet contributed the runs themselves.

The battle was strictly a defensive skirmish—yet all runs were unearned.

One Out in Twelfth

After going scoreless from the fifth, when P. C. matched the Sailors' second-inning tally, Providence won the game with one out in the 12th in involved fashion. Chet Zabek on third through a walk, a wild throw in an attempted pickoff by Giraud and Bob Reilly's sacrifice, streaked for the plate on a squeeze play.

Giraud, as cagey as they come, pitched high so that Harrington couldn't bunt and that proved his undoing when Stan Ebert, the Quonset catcher, lost the pitch as he attempted to haul it down quickly and put the ball on the runner.

Otherwise the hurlers were head men, Giraud forcing the Friars to leave 17 base runners languishing, while Harrington snuffed out incipient rallies so often that 10 Sailors were left stranded. Meanwhile they throttled threat after threat, Giraud reaching his peak in the ninth when he filled the bases by purposely passing Donahue with two out, throwing three straight balls to Zabek—and then striking him out.

Harrington Fans Seven

Harrington fanned seven, walked two and hit one. Giraud struck out six and walked nine, but several of his passes came after he had missed the corners and preferred missing again to giving the hitters anything fat to wallop.

Quonset scored in the second when John Foley and Irv Fenton singled in succession and Harrington threw beyond Chet Massa trying to get Foley at third on Eddie Wisniewski's grounder. Then Dig Haggerty poled a liner to Nick Cariglia in centre and Nick threw Fenton out at the plate for a twin killing and Bob Reilly, forgetting—as did everyone else—that the side was retired, relayed to Massa at third and Wisniewski was also retired.

Passed Ball Helps

P. C. got the first run in the fifth when Harrington singled, went to second on Massa's single, third on an infield out and scored as a sharp-breaking Giraud curve got away from Ebert.

One Carl Jessup, erstwhile track star at Kansas, played centre field for Quonset and made six putouts. That's not unusual, perhaps, but Brother Jessup ran a country mile for four of them, being particularly larcenous on drives by Reilly. . . . Wisniewski's catch of McConnon's foul fly in the seventh with the bases full was a honey. . . . Reilly's clutch of a foul, dropping through uprights on a batting cage in the ninth saved some woe, too. . . . McConnon and Massa came up with other sparkling plays—and there always were the hurlers, making life miserable for the hitters. . . . Weather delayed the start 35 minutes.

A trio of former Friar baseball luminaries will lead a talented Fort Devens nine against Providence College tomorrow afternoon at Hendricken Field.

"Handsome" Joe Kwasniewski, who won many a ball game for the Dominicans before graduating into minor league ball and subsequently into the army, will be pitching to his ex-college battery mate, Big Elt Deuse. The latter, a Providence boy, played two seasons under the Boston Red Sox farm system before being drafted.

The third ex-Friar who will be in the visitors' lineup is Bob "Red" Gendron, the centre fielder, who attained considerable success against Fireballer Bob Feller as Fort Devens defeated Quonset Point in the Army-Navy Relief game in Boston last month.

Other ex-minor league stars on the Devens roster include: Bill Stillman, Archie Horne and Nick Jackimchuk.

Coach Artie Quirk intends to use the same lineup that started against the Quonset nine last Sunday, with the exception of the pitcher. Ernie Brousseau, former All-Rhode Island schoolboy hurler from La Salle Academy, will be getting his first mound assignment of the summer season.

Today will be homecoming day for three ex-Friar baseballers, when the Fort Devens nine invades Hendricken Field this afternoon to play Providence College.

The three men returning are Joe Kwasniewski, Elton Deuse and Bob "Red" Gendron. Kwasniewski will be given his first chance to turn his efforts against the college for which he pitched many innings prior to his graduation two years ago. Kwas spent a year with a Boston Red Sox farm team before being called into the army. He now has the rank of corporal.

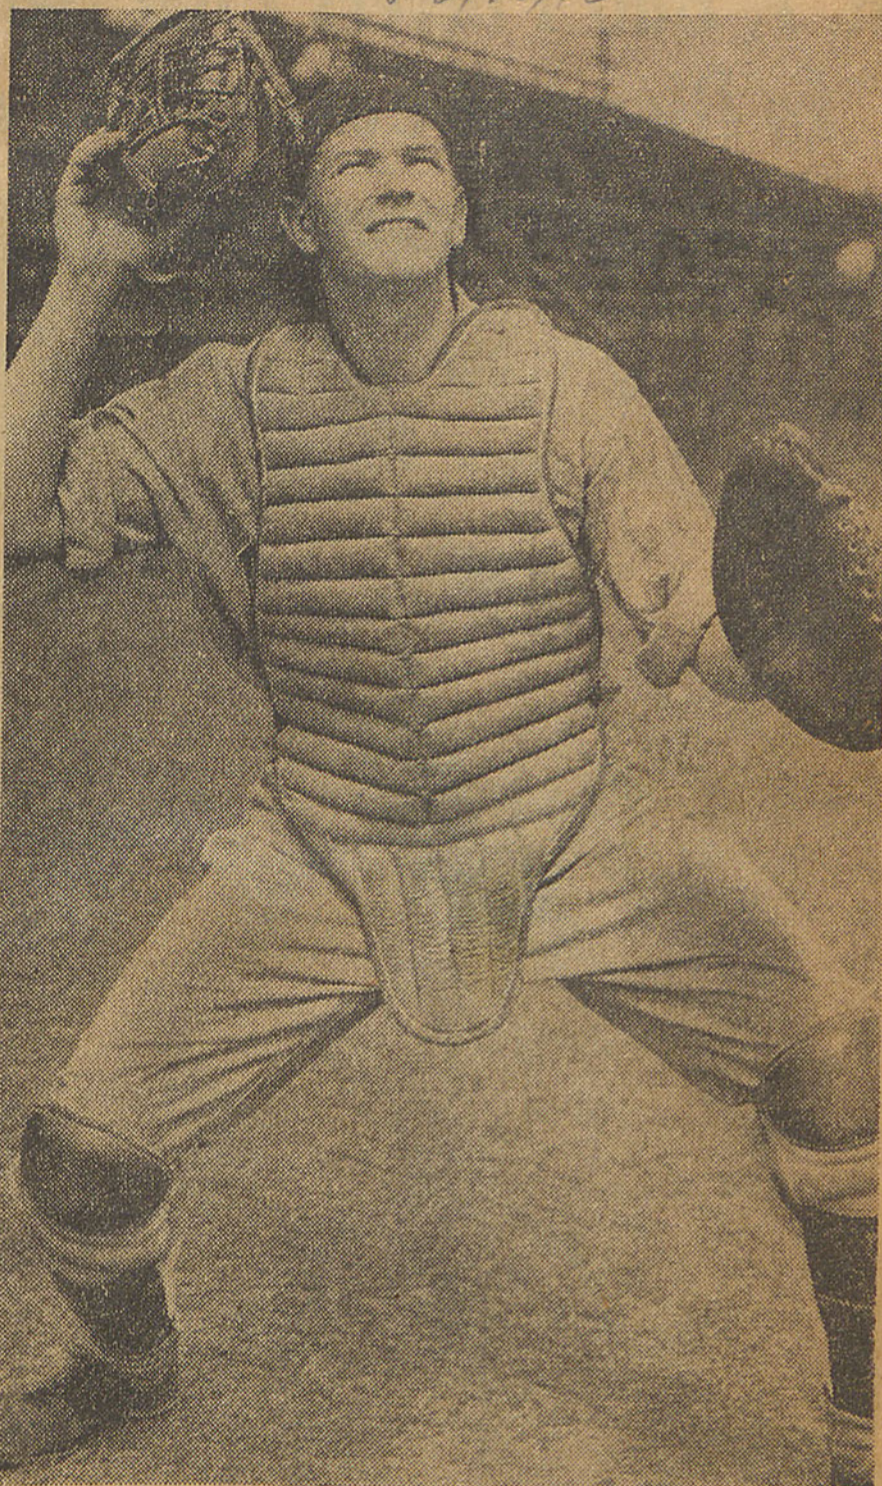

Big Elt Deuse will be back at his old spot behind the plate calling for Kwasniewski slants to puzzle the Friar hitters. Deuse, who also played in the Red Sox farm system before being drafted, has been hitting the ball hard this season. He hit a home run against the Sox in an exhibition game at Devens two weeks ago. "Red" Gendron, who found Bob Feller's fast ball much to his liking in the Army-Navy Relief game in Boston last month, will be in centre field.

The remainder of the Devens roster is studded with former minor league stars, including Bill Stillman, the third baseman, who played in the Canadian-American League after his graduation from Penn State; Second Baseman Archie Horne, a Wesleyan graduate, who later played in the Middle Atlantic League; Carl Wentz, former pitcher for Rochester in the International League, who will play right field; First Baseman Dick Henry, who played double-A ball, and Nick Jackimchuk, the shortstop, who played for Minneapolis in the American Association.

The Friars held their final pre-game workout Friday afternoon, and Coach Artie Quirk intends to use the same men who opened against the Quonset Naval Air Station nine last Sunday. Ernie Brousseau, former All-Rhode Island schoolboy hurler from La Salle Academy, will be getting his first mound assignment of the summer season. The Quirkmen have been victorious in both of their previous starts, defeating Boston College, 7-5, and Quonset, 2-1, in 12 innings.

FRIARS TO PLAY QUONSET NINE

The Providence College varsity baseball team returns to the diamond tomorrow in meeting the Quonset Naval Base team at North Kingstown High School Field. The game is set for 3 o'clock.

The Friars, victors over Quonset two weeks ago by a 2 to 1 score in a 12-inning game, will have Eddie Brousseau on the mound. Reilly will be catching; Ted McConnon, first base; Lee, second base; Massa, third base; Brownell, shortstop, and Donahue, Cariglia and Zabek, outfielders.

Providence is still undefeated in the summer schedule, having turned back Boston College in a 7-4 encounter and the Quonset team, 2 to 1. Two games were rained out.

Former P. C. Footballer Will Go Into Morale Work in Army Camps.

6/21/42
Providence College has another representative in war work—Norman A. Eichner.

The former Friar football star has just received an appointment from the American Red Cross. He will train in Washington for six weeks and then will do morale work in various Army camps, the morale work comprising the supervision of recreation, arts, crafts and teaching first aid.

Eichner was graduated from Providence College in 1938 and last February took a master's degree at Columbia. For the past three years he has been athletic director and coach of basketball, baseball and track at Richfield high school, Richfield, Conn.

Eichner is married and his family, comprising his wife and a son who is just 21 days old today, lives on Pidge avenue, Pawtucket.

10 GAMES CARDED FOR FRIAR NINE

Service Teams Appear on Schedule; Yale, Dartmouth
Clubs Added.

Providence College's revised baseball schedule, a particularly attractive program, will extend through 10 games, following this afternoon's clash with the Quonset Naval Base team at North Kingstown high school field.

The Friars have added Dartmouth and Yale to the summer card, and have arranged games with service teams that will round out the schedule satisfactorily.

The first "summer" series with Brown will start next Saturday at Aldrich Field, the second game being scheduled for the same diamond on July 25.

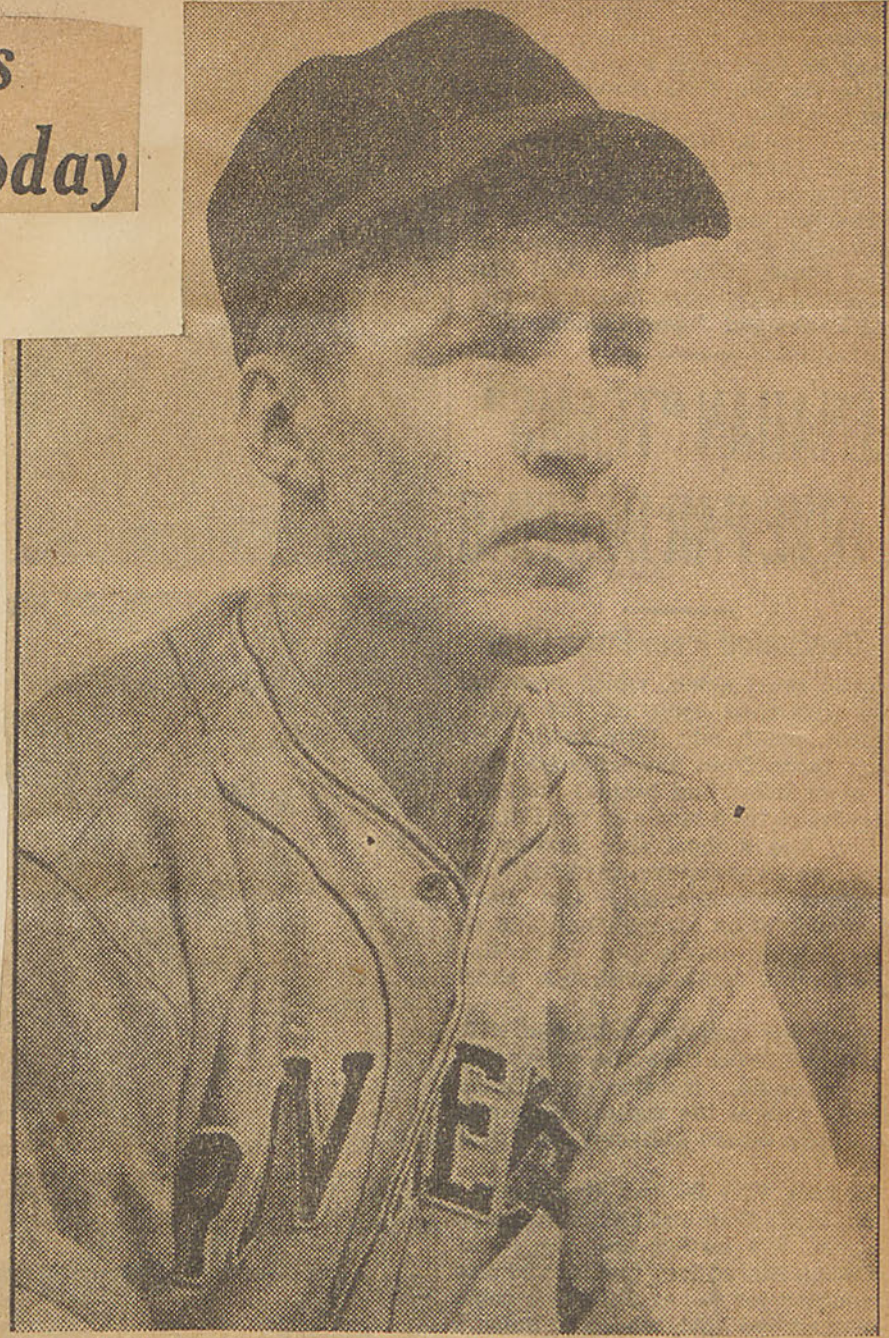

Home-and-home games with Yale and Dartmouth are features of the August card.

Additional meetings are being arranged, and the Friars hope to meet the Fort Devens team, managed by Elt Deuse, former Friar catcher. Joe Kwasniewski, Deuse's battery mate at P. C., is one of the regular Devens hurlers, and their appearance here would prove an outstanding attraction.

Games with other service teams are probable, as well as a night encounter with the Pawtucket club of the New England League. If arrangements can be made, the Friars will play one or two games under the lights at Pawtucket with leading college teams.

The first of two games with the Newport Naval Training Station team, which beat Brown, 8 to 0, yesterday, is booked for next Sunday, with the 10th Coast Artillery nine, Fort Adams, listed for the following week.

- The schedule:
- July 4—Brown at Brown.
  - July 5—Newport Naval Training Station.
  - July 12—10th C. A., Fort Adams.
  - July 25—Brown at Brown.
  - July 26—10th C. A., Fort Adams.
  - Aug. 1—Yale at New Haven.
  - Aug. 2—Dartmouth.
  - Aug. 8—Yale.
  - Aug. 14—Dartmouth at Hanover.
  - Aug. 15—Williams at Williamstown.

Meet at 3 O'Clock at North Kingstown Field; Sailors Lost in Last Meeting.

Providence College and the Quonset Naval Air Base baseball teams will renew their young but spirited rivalry this afternoon at 3 o'clock at North Kingstown High School Field.

Two weeks ago the Friars and Sailors collided at Hendricken Field and battled 12 innings before the collegians emerged with a 2 to 1 verdict on the strength of a squeeze play which produced a run when the Quonset catcher dropped the ball.

This afternoon more of the same kind of fireworks are expected and substantially the same cast that played in the original drama will be on hand again. Providence plans only one change, Ernie Brousseau being slated to pitch. In the first game, Charley Harrington opposed Giraud, former Providence Amateur Leaguer and, since then, a capable performer for several service teams.

Bob Reilly, the Friars' regular catcher, is scheduled to play, although sporting one of the most brilliant "shiners" of the season. Reilly was hit on the eye by a foul fly Friday.

Defensive play highlighted the first meeting with such talented players as Reilly, Lee and McConnon of the Friars, and Jessup and Wisniewski of Quonset likely to be doing more of the same this afternoon, the repeat performance looms as an exceptionally good attraction.

ERNIE BROUSSEAU PROVES HEAD MAN IN 9 TO 2 VICTORY

Only 29 Batters Face P. C.
Hurler After First Inning;

Jessup Injured.

BY BARNEY MADDEN

Given generous assistance by Quonset's seven errors, Providence College hammered out 12 hits yesterday at North Kingstown High School Field and defeated the Naval Air Base team, 9 to 2, before a typical old-time Sunday afternoon baseball gathering.

Providence, the visiting team, scored once in the first on a trio of wild throws and two in the second on an error, a walk a single by Massa and a double by Cariglia who, incidentally, drove in three runs all told. They added one in the sixth on a walk and theft and Massa's hit, then went to town in the seventh and ninth.

Singles by Lee and Donahue, a wild heave and a triple by Reilly produced three in the seventh, Reilly completing the circuit after the relayed throw went away. He had a homer in the satchel until he tripped rounding third. Brownell singled two more across in the ninth.

Quonset Starts With Two

Quonset started auspiciously enough, with a brace of runs in the first, but thereafter Ernie Brousseau was head man, facing only 29 batters the rest of the route. He fanned six, gave 10 hits, mostly harmless thumps, and issued no passes.

Carl Jessup singled in the first with one out for Quonset and advanced on a passed ball and wild pitch, scoring on Mark Hanabury's single. Hanabury advanced on Bert Picarello's single, his first of three, one batting right handed, the others left, and scored when Bob Partridge laced a sharp hit to left centre, but Nick Cariglia's fine throw erased Picarello at third.

Jessup, defensive star of the 12-inning duel two weeks back, sustained a charley horse in practise yesterday, and it was painful to him and to the Quonset cause. Cariglia's drive in the second went for a double when Jessup, limping badly, got only close enough for a futile attempt at a shoestring catch, whereas the fleet Quonset fielder ordinarily would have had it in his back pocket. He subsequently was unable to reach another fly that would have been duck soup had he been on two good legs.

Picks Up 10 Hits

Quonset picked up 10 hits but sharp infielding, supplementing Brousseau's excellent clutch pitching, minimized their effectiveness, and made victory elementary for Ernie. Mickey Wisniewski, meanwhile was having his troubles.

His supporting cast was guilty of mass malfeasance, all told, contributing seven errors to his downfall, several of them being wild throws that soared majestically into the wide open spaces. He was overshadowed by Brousseau, but deserved a vastly better fate than 9-2.

Nichols of Brown to Face

Game at 3:00.

Brown and Providence College clash this afternoon on Aldrich Field in what is probably the first July 4th holiday game in the history of college baseball in this section. Providence, a 5 to 0 victor in the meeting last May, will rule a favorite. The game is set for 3:00 o'clock.

Coach Eddie Eayrs has named Earl Nichols, veteran, for the pitching assignment for Brown, and Coach Arthur Quirk will send his ace, Ernie Brosseau against the Bears. Brosseau took last week's stint and set Quonset down with a stellar job.

Both coaches will hold to veteran lineups. Providence will have practically the same team that toppled Brown in the spring, and Brown has most of its spring team back. The Friar nine is undefeated and risks its rising record in this first collegiate game on the summer listing.

the same team that shelled Brown, 5 to 0, during the spring season. There is a possibility that Coach Quirk may pitch Dick Mahoney, the ace who hurled the shut-out game last May.

Brown's big problem right now is an improvement in the hitting department, while Providence College has met every test and at the moment hasn't a noticeable weakness. Some of the Friar players are mixing their college competition with outside baseball and are in fine condition for their college games.

Brown will meet Harvard in home-and-home games this month, T. W. Taylor, Brown athletic director, announced this morning. Harvard will play at Aldrich Field on July 18, and Brown will journey to Cambridge to meet the Crimson on July 22. Contests with Colgate in baseball, tennis and golf here for next Friday are still in the negotiation stages.

Face P. C. Nine Today

J 7/5/42
Providence College will play its second baseball game in two days when it meets the capable Newport Naval Training Station team at Hendriken Field at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Sprinkled with ex-big leaguers, minor leaguers and collegians, the N. T. S. outfit is well-balanced and, in its first local appearance here, blanked Brown, 8-0, back of the one-hit pitching of Anthony Gemma.

Two former major league stars in the Newport lineup are Ben Huffman, who was with the St. Louis Browns, and Fred Chapman, former Philadelphia Athletics luminary. Huffman plays centre field and Chapman does a neat job at shortstop. The leading hitters on the team are Chapman, Enos at first base and Willcox, the catcher.

Coach Arthur Quirk of the Friars has named Dick Mahoney to face the N. T. S. club.

FRIAR VS BRUIN AGAIN

The Providence College Friars and the Brown Bears open up an old sports rivalry again tomorrow at Aldrich Field where baseball representatives of the two schools clash in the first of a series of summer engagements. Ted Lee, left, second baseman for the Friars, and Jay Fidler, Bruin catcher, have starting roles.

Joe Sullivan

Joe Sullivan, captain of last season's Providence College football team and one of the East's outstanding small college ends, has been appointed to the Marine Corps Officers' Training School.

Sullivan, director of athletics for the City of Providence, will leave on or about July 20 for the Quantico, Va., Marine base.

The former Friar leader starred in sophomore and junior years and seemed headed for his best season last fall when an injury cut his career short. He was especially brilliant as a pass receiver.

Friars Trip Bruins, 2 to 0, On Hurler's 9th-Inning Hit

Victors Get Four Successive

45 Assists Are Made.

BY BARNEY MADDEN

Supplementing his excellent pitching with a blast past second that scored two runs in the ninth, Ernie Brousseau gave himself and Providence College a 2 to 0 baseball victory over Earl Nichols and Brown in a brilliant defensive battle at Aldrich Field yesterday afternoon.

Before that Friar uprising, coming with one out in the ninth, Brousseau and Nichols had turned the hitters back with such consistency that the 500 fans fully expected the duel to go on and on, perhaps far into the evening. Over the route Brousseau yielded four hits. Nichols allowed six, four of them in succession in the fateful finale.

With one out in the ninth, Chet

Zabek singled to second, Curtin holding the ball in the field by a grand stop. Bob Reilly singled sharply past second and Red Brownell was safe at first when Nichols threw his bunt to third too late to get Zabek. It was extremely doubtful if he would have been able to retire Brownell at first, for the Friar shortstop got a flying start, and because of the circumstances it was ruled a hit.

Then Came Brousseau

Then came Brousseau, a good hitting pitcher, and he promptly plastered a single over second that scored Zabek and Reilly and sent Brownell streaking for third. Ted McKone's perfect throw, and Ted Wilk's equally flawless handling of it, erased Brownell. Nelson threw out Massa for the final out.

That was the only inning wherein danger impended, apart from Brown's first and second. With one out in the first, McKone singled to centre and Nelson rammed another single into right, but a great throw by Zabek cut McKone at third, Massa collaborating in a play equally as brilliant as that executed by the Bruins in the ninth. In the second, also with one out, Curtin walked and Tyrrell got a single when Brownell was unable to hold his drive after leaping high. Brousseau fanned Fidler and forced Nichols to roll out.

It was a pitchers' game all the way, as the vital statistics so clearly demonstrate. Brousseau had the Bruins hitting on the ground so consistently that the Friars made 23 assists and Nichols was matching Ernie so well that the Bruins contributed 22. The total, 44 assists, might not be a record for a college ball game but it cer-

Time of game—3 o'clock.

One of the most promising ball games of the summer schedule will be played this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Hendricken Field when Providence College, unbeaten in summer play, tangles with a Newport Naval Training Station team that has won eight of its 10 starts.

In addition to just about settling the baseball championship in Rhode Island's collegiate and Service ranks, today's game promises to develop into an exciting hurling duel with Tony Gemma of Newport and Dick Mahoney, the Friars' fast-baller nominated to pitch.

Mahoney, through the spring and early summer, has been hurling fine ball for the Friars, his work having been highlighted by an almost flawless performance against Brown during the regular season. Gemma, a Kitty League performer until he assumed the more vital task of helping Uncle Sam win the war, already has caught the fancy of Rhode Island fans.

Chet Zabek

Against Brown a week ago yesterday the Newport ace yielded one scratch single and fanned nine as Newport was waltzing to an 8 to 0 victory.

The Newport lineup is studded with stars of major magnitude, notably Fred Chapman, late of the Athletics, and Ben Huffman, late of the Browns. The Sailors are favored to hand the Friars their first defeat but Providence is likely to give them a strenuous argument. Coach Art Quirk will have Charley Harrington available to relieve Mahoney, if need be, and also will have a team that is capable of springing an upset. Against Brown yesterday the Friars played flawless ball afield and bunched their hits when opportunity presented itself.

Friars Will Entertain Colgate Nine Saturday

Providence College has added another game to its summer schedule, have completed arrangements to meet Colgate at Hendricken Field next Saturday afternoon.

The Friars have won five straight games in the "trimester" league. Saturday's tilt will be the first of two important week-end games for the Friars, the 10th Coast Artillery team from Fort Adams being booked for a Sunday game, also at Hendricken Field.

To make their summer games more attractive Hendricken Field has been considerably improved during the past 10 days. The infield has been treated to a bit of "face-lifting," the outfield smoothed extensively and the pitching mound rebuilt.

FRIARS' PITCHER WINS OWN GAME AGAINST SAILORS

Taunton Youth Tosses Brilliant Ball; Huffman Catches Fancy of Crowd.

BY BARNEY MADDEN

Dick Mahoney drilled a sharp single into deep right centre field in the ninth inning at Hendricken Field yesterday afternoon and that blow, scoring Jack Ferguson, gave the Friars a 4 to 3 verdict over the classy and colorful Newport Naval Training Station team.

Mahoney deserved the chance to break up his own game, for he had limited the hard-hitting Sailors to seven blows (one a line drive homer over the right field fence by Ben Huffman, late of the St. Louis Browns), had been little short of brilliant in the pinches, and had sent nine of the Newporters down on strikes.

The score was deadlocked when the Friars went to bat in the ninth, and they quickly duplicated Saturday's last-ditch rally, which on that occasion was staged for the edification of Brown game fans.

Dick Donahue singled lustily to right centre off Gorman, second of the Sailor flingers, and Chet Zabek sacrificed. Gorman passed Bob Reilly more or less intentionally and then lost Red Brownell, filling the bases. At that point Ferguson was sent in to run for Donahue and Mahoney, although a weak hitter, was allowed to bat for himself.

Big Hurler Comes Through

The big hurler promptly pasted one between right and centre and Ferguson scored easily. One other run, or perhaps two, could have scored had it been necessary.

Most on the way it was a grand duel between Mahoney and Gemma, the former Kitty League star, who held Brown to a solitary scratch single a week back. He was lifted for a pinch hitter in the seventh. The Sailors scored first, notching a run in the second on a single by Wilcox and a lusty double by Benvenuti, which Donahue badly misjudged. Mahoney then fanned Flannigan for the third out, his third strikeout of the frame and the fourth in two innings. Before Wilcox singled Mahoney struck out Nesselrode (property of Pittsburgh), who had hit four homers Saturday against Quonset, and Huffman.

Friars Go Ahead

Providence went ahead in the same inning on Reilly's hit to left, Brownell's bunt that went for a single, Mahoney's sacrifice and the first of Chet Massa's brace of two-baggers, which was badly misjudged by Wilcox in left, eventually falling safely off Wilcox's upstretched glove.

Williams's single, a walk to Woolf and Enos's (Browns and Toledo) single gave Newport a run in the fifth and Huffman's smash on the first pitch of the sixth inning put the Sailors ahead, 3-2.

Massa's triple to the left field fence and Lee's single tied it in the sixth, and from then until the ninth the pitchers were in command, although with two on and only one out in the eighth the situation looked dark for Mahoney. After Enos had opened with a single and Nesselrode had sacrificed, Dick purposely walked Huffman, that homer over the wall having been warning enough for the talented Taunton star. Then he forced Wilcox to hit to Massa and Chet started a very fast double play via Lee to McConnon.

Massa Hitting Star

Massa with two doubles and a triple was the hitting star, until Mahoney became "Slugger" Mahoney in the ninth. . . . Dick, notoriously weak at the plate, also broke up the Boston College game in the spring under similar circumstances. . . Huffman's catches of foul flies gave the customers plenty to cheer about. . . Cariglia, who walked three times, made a fine running catch of Benvenuti's long smash near the right centrefield fence in the ninth.

Mahoney's quick thinking helped considerably in the ninth also, as he forced Flannigan at second on Gorman's attempted sacrifice. . . . The rival first and second basemen, McConnon and Lee for the Friars, Enos and Williams for Newport, gave decidedly classy exhibitions. . . . The Friars, generally pretty gay on the basepaths, paid Huffman a compliment (and perhaps saved themselves a lot of woe) by passing up all chances to try stealing. . . . Gorman, the losing pitcher, belongs to the Yankees. . . . Gemma's effectiveness is reflected in the 'left-on-base' division, the Friars leaving 10 stranded in six innings, then seven while Gorman was pitching, three of them, however, being aboard after the winning run scored.

Four College Games Adorn Week's Listing

Bear Has Three Contests, P. C. One, Friars Stay Undefeated After Two 9th Inning Rallies

BY JOE NUTTER

Four games adorn this week's college baseball card with the Brown team facing the major assignment in playing three games. Brown faces the Hillsgrove Air Cobras on Wednesday, the Colgate varsity team on Friday, and the U. S. Coast Guard Academy Bears on Saturday. Providence College takes on the Colgate nine at Hendricken Field, Saturday. All of the four contests are scheduled for Providence.

Providence College proved its mettle yesterday by defeating the fine Newport Naval Training Station team, 4 to 3, to remain undefeated. Dick Mahoney drove a sharp single into deep right centre in the ninth to break the deadlock and give his team its triumph.

Anthony Gemma, the hurling ace, who held Brown to a single scratch hit a week ago, was on the mound for six frames for the Newport team, and gave up eight hits. Gemma was lifted for a pinch hitter in the seventh and Gorman took over. One phase of Gemma's effectiveness is indicated in the left on base figures, 10 being stranded during the time he was on the mound. Seven others died awaiting while Gorman was pitching, but that figure is softened somewhat by the three that were left when the winning run came in in the ninth.

Massa and Donahue were the big guns for P. C., Massa getting three hits in five times up and Donahue rounding out two for three. Enos hit for .500 for the Newport team.

Providence got two runs in the second and one in the sixth, and Newport collected singletons in the second, fifth and sixth. The two went through the 7th and 8th frames scoreless, and P. C. set the stage for the triumph when Donahue singled to right centre. Chet Zabek sacrificed him along, Gorman passed Bob Reilly and then lost Red Brownell to fill the bases with one away. Ferguson was sent in to run for Donahue and Mahoney took his own turn at bat. The big ace promptly hit one between right and centre and Ferguson scored easily.

Providence College took Brown into camp with the same type of ninth inning stand on Aldrich Field Saturday, the score being 2 to 0. The two games were much alike. After a great pitching duel in which Earl Nichols and Ernie Brousseau moved along on almost even terms, Brousseau broke up the game with his single over second.

Brown's fateful ninth opened with Chet Zabek singling over second, Bob Reilly then singled, and Red Brownell's bunt was taken by Nichols and thrown to third, filling the bases. Brousseau won his own game then by singling over second to score Zabek and Reilly and Brownell went streaking for third. Ted McKone's perfect throw and Wilks' flawless handling erased Brownell and Nelson then threw out Massa for the final out.

It was a fine pitchers duel, Brousseau yielding four hits, Nichols six, four of them in succession in the ninth. The cold statistics show 23 assists for the Friars and 22 for Brown, the total of 45 being close to a record for a regulation nine frame college encounter. First basemen Tyrrell and McConnon contributed 37 putouts.

Friars to Play Devens, And Possibly Edwards

One additional baseball game, and perhaps two, will be played by Providence College with Army teams this season, it was announced yesterday by Paul Dunne, business manager of the Friar athletic association.

On July 19, a week from Sunday, the Friars will try again to play the Fort Devens team which features a former P. C. battery—Joe Kwasniewski and Elt Deuse and a former Friar outfielder, Red Gendron. The teams were originally scheduled to meet a few weeks back but, with the season's best crowd in prospect, they were rained out.

Providence College also has been offered a date on the Camp Edwards schedule and probably will meet the Soldiers late this month.

Colgate, conqueror of Brown yesterday and winner of eight games in 11 starts, will oppose the undefeated Providence College team this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Hendricken Field in one of the most promising collegiate games of the summer schedule.

The Red Raiders, classy afield, powerful at the plate and fortified with a talented pitching staff that is headed by Al Hanover, are accepted as one of the best teams in eastern circles this summer. They handed Cornell a 15 to 0 thumping Wednesday as Hanover and Russ Malool shared the pitching duties and Ebba St. Claire paced the attack with four hits.

The Friars, a classy bunch themselves, will stick to their usual lineup and will have Charley Harrington, their hitting pitcher on the mound. Harrington and Hanover are likely to tangle in an interesting duel but the presence of long ball hitters in each lineup enhances the attraction because they can break a game wide open any time.

Malool finished the Brown game yesterday, stepping in with one out, the tying run on base and two runs already home in the Bruins' ninth. He got the first Bruin on a fly and fanned the next. He will be available as a replacement for Hanover this afternoon if the Friars take kindly to Al's offerings. Providence also has able replacements available, Dick Mahoney and Ernie Brousseau having been idle for a week.

College Sports Fail To Weather Weather

7/12/42

College sports, with the exception of the Colgate-Brown golf match, failed to weather the weather yesterday.

Providence College and Colgate cancelled their baseball game, Brown and Colgate did likewise with their tennis match, but Brown and Coast Guard Bears rearranged their programs and will play their home-and-home series in August.

Brown will entertain the Bears on Aug. 29 instead of playing at the academy in baseball, arranging for an Aug. 19 date at New London in exchange for the 29th date.

BY BARNEY MADDEN

In a game that virtually will decide the baseball championship of Rhode Island, Providence College will entertain the Coast Artillery team at 3 o'clock this afternoon at Hendricken Field.

The Soldiers, champions of the first-half race in the Newport Sunset League, won the title at the expense of the U. S. S. Constellation team, substantially the same outfit that represents the Naval Training Station on the diamond. The only significant difference between the team that the Coast Artillery topped for the crown and that which the Friars defeated last Sunday was Fred Chapman, former Athletics infielder. Chapman did not play at Providence College but was in action against the Soldiers.

The Coast Artillery aggregation finished the first half race with 13 victories in 15 starts, two more triumphs and two less reverses that appear in the Constellation record. Moreover, the Soldiers dominated the batting and fielding averages, having five hitters above the .300 mark.

Rurak Leading Hurler

Their big hurler, Carroll Rurak, winner of five games in six starts, is also the Sunset Loop's leading hitter with a mark of .563, having collected nine hits in 16 trips, one of them a home run.

Otherwise among the leaders in the league, the Artillery has a corner on the runs scored, runs batted-in and three-base hit honors. Moran, with 16 runs, is setting the scoring pace, although he is only one ahead of Gus Scaliotti, the Artillery's flashy second baseman. Lou Russo, regular shortstop, has batted in 17 tallies, but once again a teammate is just one behind, Clouthier having propelled 16 across the plate.

Dick Mahoney, the Friars' tall and talented right-hander, will oppose Rurak this afternoon, and that is sufficient notice that the Soldiers will face capable pitching. Mahoney did a thorough job in turning back the Training Station forces last Sunday and, in earlier starts, defeated Boston College and Brown impressively.

Mahoney Going Well

The big fellow is fast, has excellent control, a sharp hook and a slow ball that makes hitters blush when they miss. He is well rested and is eager to add another pitching gem to his season's accomplishments.

Between them, the Artillery and the Friars just about rule the Rhode Island roost. The Soldiers are champions of their neck of the woods and the Friars are undefeated, Brown and Naval Station being their latest victims. Yesterday's scheduled game with Colgate, one that would have gone far toward determining the East's collegiate ruler of the summer season, was cancelled because of weather.

Providence will stand pat on the lineup that has rolled merrily along all season, one that is becoming more cohesive with each appearance and giving the fans an increasingly better brand of ball.

Last Sunday's game was a thrilling encounter and today's is apt to even overshadow that duel. The best crowd of the season is expected.

Friars Win From Soldiers

In Fantastic Fray, 10 to 9

Coast Artillery Falls in 10th,
After Battle Putting Brooklyn to Shame.

BY BARNEY MADDEN

Although making more mistakes than are generally perpetrated at an average legislative session, the Providence College Friars remained undefeated yesterday at Hendricken Field, topping the 10th Coast Artillery, 10-9, in a 10-inning frolic that put that "Happened in Brooklyn" fantasies to abject shame.

Unearned runs flowed as fluently as free advice; errors—mental, mechanical and master-minding—were many and majestic, mishaps were as numerous as flies at a picnic, but in the end the Friars cast a lusty vote for the theory that it is better to be lucky than good. Heretofore they have been good, in fact, very good. Yesterday they were lucky, in fact, very lucky.

Thrilling defensive measures featured the first seven innings, but the vital statistics showed that five of the first six runs were unearned. Then the frolic flew far into the fantastic, pausing long enough for a two-homer, three-run Soldier onslaught in the eighth that threatened to wreak irreparable damage to the P. C. fences.

That put the Artillerymen ahead, 7-2, but the Friars knotted it up in a wild turn at bat, and a scoreless ninth sent the fray into overtime.

Climax to End Climaxes

The climax to end all climaxes was reached in the P. C. 10th after the Soldiers had scored twice in their half. The runs came when Charlie Harrington, relief for Ernie Brousseau, who had relieved Dick Mahoney, franked Soldiers home by issuing two successive passes with the bases loaded.

Chet Zabek opened the 10th for P. C. by walking and Bradley replaced Rurak on the Artillery mound. Bob Reilly singled to right, Zabek taking third. Brownell flied deep, Zabek scoring. Sandy Matazzo, fourth Friar flinger, appeared at the plate and promptly pasted one to the left centrefield fence. Reilly, the fleet, rounded second. He roared toward third, suddenly wondering if he had tagged second. He put on the brakes and fell down. Up he hopped, retracing his steps to second. He started for third again with Matazzo in wild pursuit. They reached third simultaneously.

derek awaited Russo's relay. The runners paused and wondered. The ball thundered toward them, took a bounce, scurried through the welter of hands, feet, legs, umpires, bases and what not and went to the stands. Both scored. Matazza was thrown out, but ruled safe since the ball had hit the stand, entitling him to a base.

A synopsis of the prominent preliminary trivia and trivia follows:

Fourth: (CA)—Scaliotti pops over the pitcher's head (Mahoney at the moment). Massa and McConnon race for the ball, which Lee or Brownell should have handled. They crash as McConnon makes catch. Both are felled. McConnon leaves game for repairs, physician leaving stands to attend to cuts in Ted's mouth. Brownell throws badly to first on Russo's grounder, Russo taking second. Burns grounds to Brownell and Red throws to third instead of first; he couldn't have shot Russo, let alone throw him out. Wiaderek hits to short as Brownell is moving toward second. It goes for a hit and Russo scores. Subsequently Cloutier singles Burns and Wiaderek across.

Fourth: (PC)—Bases are filled with two out on error, walk and single. The well thumped Mahoney goes to bat and forces Zabek.

Fifth: (PC)—Massa triples, scoring as Russo boots Cariglia's grounder. Cariglia advances on passed ball, scores on wild pitch. Russo makes grand leaping catch of McGill's liner. (McGill being McConnon's replacement).

Seventh: (CA)—Two walks and single, no score. Zabek's great throw to Massa after Scaliotti's hit to right gets Quinn and also gets Massa spiked.

Eighth: (CA)—Russo raps Brousseau's first pitch over fence for homer. (Brousseau pitching, vice Mahoney). Wiaderek singles and Minear homers to left centre. Cloutier and Rurak go out. So does Ernie, being ripe now for a pinch hitter.

Eighth: (PC)—Lee drops double over third. Crowley (for McGill) singles over Scaliotti. Rurak wild pitches magnificently, Lee scoring and Crowley taking third. Donahue rolls out. Zabek also rolls lazily, but ball hops over Scaliotti's head for double, Crowley scoring. Brownell singles, Zabek scoring. Ferguson (vice Brousseau) singles. Massa singles Brownell and Ferguson scoring, latter all the way from first by showing plenty of early and late foot. Massa admires uncovered second base and finally gets himself run down.

Tenth: (CA)—Wiaderek doubles because Cariglia came hither instead of going yon. Minear fouls to Massa. Harrington (pitcher number 3) purposely passes Cloutier. Rurak, of all people, singles filling bases. Harrington passes Moran and Quinn without varying monotony by throwing a strike. Harrington passes and Matazza comes in. He puts out the fire.

Tenth: (PC)—Why go into all that again?

Gridders to Open Drills. Providence College Nine Scores 10th Straight Victory

BY JOE NUTTER

The opening of Brown summer football work, three Brown baseball games and a battle between the Quonset nine and a team of Providence All Stars at Hendricken Field features this week's activity along the front served by college and service teams this week.

J. Neil "Skip" Stahley isn't certain yet whether he will start the summer football work at Aldrich Field tomorrow or Wednesday. He will address all candidates at a meeting in Faunce House tonight and after reviewing the schedules of the men will determine the hour of starting operations. He intends to work his squad through a 12 day period in an attempt to get a line on the new men. Touch football will be very much in evidence.

The Brown varsity nine opens its week's activity Wednesday in a game with the fast Newport Naval Training Station at Newport. Newport, with Tony Gemma on the mound, gave Brown one scratch hit the last time the two rivals squared off a couple week's ago, and the Bruin will probably get an opportunity to look over Mr. Gemma's slants again.

The Quonset team will meet the Providence Amateur League All Stars on Hendricken Field, Friday, at 6 o'clock, in a twilight encounter, and on Saturday, Brown will meet Harvard on Aldrich Field, in a 3 o'clock game. The Brown junior varsity will meet the Providence College junior varsity, Friday, at Aldrich Field.

Providence College remained undefeated by taking the 10th Coast Artillery team from Fort Adams, 10 to 9, in a 10-inning encounter on Hendricken Field yesterday afternoon.

The game was a fantastic effort in the realm of the unexpected, and seven errors, 11 passes and bizarre play by both teams kept the customers on the edges of their seats until the final out.

Providence had to fight for its life for it was down from the start. The Coast Artillery team got a run in the first and three in the fourth, and Providence didn't get the range until the fifth, when it scored two runs. The invader came up with three in the eighth to take a 7-2 lead, but the Friar team adroitly gathered five runs in the last half of that inning to tie the game. After a scoreless ninth, Providence College got three to the Coast Artillery's two in the extra frame and there was the ball game. P. C. was still undefeated.

The 10th was the climax frame. Providence handed the Coast Artillery team two runs when Charlie Harrington passed two men with the bases loaded. Harrington had replaced Ernie Brousseau who had relieved Dick Mahoney, but an unknown, Sandy Matarazzo, got credit for the game.

Chet Zabek opened the 10th for the Friars by walking and Bradley promptly replaced Rurak for the invaders. Bob Reilly singled to right, Zabek reaching third on the play, and Zabek scored on Brownell's long fly. Matarazzo drove one to the centre field fence. Reilly rounded second, and continued in full flight to third, then halted to ponder the question of whether he had tagged second. He put on the brakes but the action was so sudden that he fell down. He got up and went back and touched second, then turned and headed for third with Matarazzo in full pursuit. Reilly held out his left hand to indicate that he expected to make the turn at third and Matarazzo paused to let him make the turn, then the two set out in full cry for the plate.

Meanwhile, Marty Wiaderek waited patiently for the relay, only partly aware of the strange drama that was being unfolded out there in full view. Russo relayed the ball into the welter of legs, umpires, running players, bags and tension and the ball went into the stands. Both Reilly and Matarazzo scored, Matarazzo having first been called out but ruled safe when the ball hitting the stands entitled him to a base.

The game proved rather conclusively that this flashy team that Arthur Quirk has fashioned is ready for any type of game. Its undefeated status at this stage of the season is attest enough of the worth of a great combination.

Quinn, H. Scussel and Barchi Lead Hitting Attack for Vic- tors; Case Stars.

Unleashing a 16-hit barrage, the Providence College junior varsity team trounced the Brown Jayvees, 17-6, at Aldrich Field yesterday afternoon. The tilt was a wild and woolly affair and took 2 hours and 40 minutes to run its course.

The Friars came up with a brace of runs in the opening canto and then followed in the next chapter with a three-run blast. Henry Scussel, P. C.'s rugged backstop, and Ed Quinn, who between them led the hitting onslaught with seven bingles, were the big hitters in this early-game surge.

Brown, after registering once in the second, made a quartet of runs in the third frame, and knotted the count. That deadlock was a thing of short duration, however, as the Friars batted around in their half of the fifth, and when the inning was over they had seven more runs to their credit.

In the two innings he hurled, Gene Scussel fanned four batsmen.

Coach Artie Quirk of the P. C. varsity team was a spectator at the game.

Joe Kwasniewski will return to the scene of his greatest collegiate pitching performances this afternoon when he comes back to Hendricken Field for the purpose of hurling against Providence College for the hard-hitting, sharp-fielding Fort Devens team.

The game, starting at 3 o'clock, also will feature the homecoming of two other former Friars, Elt Deuse, P. C.'s finest catcher since the days of Birdie Tebbets, and Red Gendron, an outfielder who attained his chief prominence after transferring to Seton Hall, where he was a standout performer.

Devens, triumphant in 22 out of 30 games this season, and currently riding a nine-game winning streak, is favored to hand the Friars their first defeat of the summer. The collegians have been playing good ball, were blessed with a dash of luck last Sunday in disposing of the 10th Coast Artillery and are just about the top team in Eastern collegiate circles.

They have been drilling harder than usual for today's game since they know of old the prowess of Kwasniewski, Deuse and Gendron and are well aware that Devens has an abundance of other fine ball players available for duty. Several former Leaguers will be in the lineup along with men who starred for college teams before entering the armed service.

The game looms as the best of the season with plenty of power hitters in each lineup, with Ted McConnon, kayoed last Sunday, back in stride and with the capable Ernie Brousseau slated to oppose Kwasniewski on the mound.

The season's best crowd is expected, partly because of the returning trio, partly because of the success of the Friars thus far and partly because the teams apparently are so well matched that an exciting battle will be forthcoming.

Former Friar Stars Help Devens Stop P. C., 7 to 1

Wasniewski, Fallon, Deuse, Gendron Play Well for Soldiers.

7/20/42
BY BARNEY MADDEN

Providence College's six game winning streak was brought to a halt yesterday by the classy Fort Devens team, 7-1, but there was considerable live for the wound in the fact that former Friars stars played prominent roles in the Soldier victory—the 10th straight and 23rd in 30 games. Big Joe Kwasniewski, returning to Hendricken Field where he earned widespread recognition as a hurler, was much faster than in his college days, handcuffed the Friars for six innings and then retired in favor of Steve (Lefty) Fallon, another ex-friar now serving with the Army at Devens.

In addition, Long Elt Deuse caught the Soldiers, and caught his customary smart game, handling the pitchers well and putting the fear of Deuse in baserunners with his blazing throws. Then, by way of topping all off, Bob (Red) Gendron captured in centre field for the Soldiers, threw an intentional pass in the seventh that filled the bases and set the stage for Ed Kucharski's two-run double to left.

Kwasniewski yielded only two hits, one golfed over the second base and in the second by Chet Zabek and the other bounced off the first baseman in the sixth by Ted McConnon. He fanned three and walked three and, in general, had things his own way. During his six-inning tenure only three balls were hit past the infield and, in the third and fourth, he was spot-pitching so well that four Friars in a row were thrown out by Nick Zachimchuk, the quick and capable Devens shortstop.

Trouble For Brousseau
Ernie Brousseau started well for the Friars but ran into trouble in the fourth and seventh. A double play, Massa to Lee to McConnon, helped him in the first and in the second after filling the bases by a walk, double and intentional pass to Deuse, he pitched his way out. He made the plate, Massa to Reilly, and then, with the bags still loaded, fanned Kwasniewski.

Dick Henry opened the fourth by singling past McConnon, went to second as Deuse intentionally topped a grounder and scored when Zachimchuk singled to left. The latter took second as Dick Donahue threw to the plate and tallied when Horne singled to left.

Brousseau retired the next five men in order and, after Zachimchuk singled through short in the fifth, Bob Reilly threw him out stealing. Then came the seventh and the deluge. Kwasniewski opened the festivities by walking and Bob Wood, son of Smoky Joe Wood, ran for him. Archie Horne singled through Ted McConnon as the first baseman attempted a one-handed stab, Joe Zobelick sacrificed and Red Brownell threw out Hank Mylnarski. Gendron was purposely passed, his prowess as a hitter being well remembered in P. C. circles.

Mahoney Stops Onslaught

Kucharski doubled and Henry tripled, each blow chasing two runners home and bringing Dick Mahoney to the mound. He promptly forced Deuse to ground out.

Devens scored again in the ninth as Brownell muffed Gendron's bounder, Kucharski rolled out, Wood, playing first in place of Henry, walked and Deuse slapped a hot liner to centre.

The Friars got their only run in the eighth when Massa, the day's P.

C. standout, opened by singling to centre. McConnon followed suit after two had gone out on flies and Zuckimchuk threw to the wrong base on Donahue's grounder. Fallon fanned Zabek, ending the threat. In the ninth after getting Reilly on a grounder, Steve struck out two pinch hitters, Frank McCaffrey and Ned Crowley.

The game attracted 750 patrons. . . . It went on during the air raid test, instructions to continue play having been received from the Office of Civilian Defense. . . . In fact it ended during the test, all fans and players remaining in the field until the all clear signal.

P. C. JAYVEES ROMP

OVER BROWN, 13-2

7/25/42

Providence College's well-balanced junior 'varsity baseball team made it two straight over the Brown University Jayvees yesterday afternoon at Aldrich Field walloping the quite so weird as the first meeting, Bruins, 13-2. The contest was not which P. C. won 17-5, but was equally one-sided.

Brown's chances for victory were few as the P. C. team rapped out 10 solid hits for its 13 runs. Eddie Quinn, former Pawtucket East star who hit safely four times in the first meeting, came back yesterday to raise havoc again with Bruin pitching as he had a three-for-five day at the plate. "Shadow" Shadoin also was effective with the willow, equaling Quinn's four safeties. One of Shadoin's hits was a lusty two-run triple.

Game starts at 3 o'clock.

Providence College rules the favorite over Brown in today's clash on Aldrich Field as a result of the Friars' 2 to 0 victory in the first game of the summer season. The game is set for 3 o'clock.

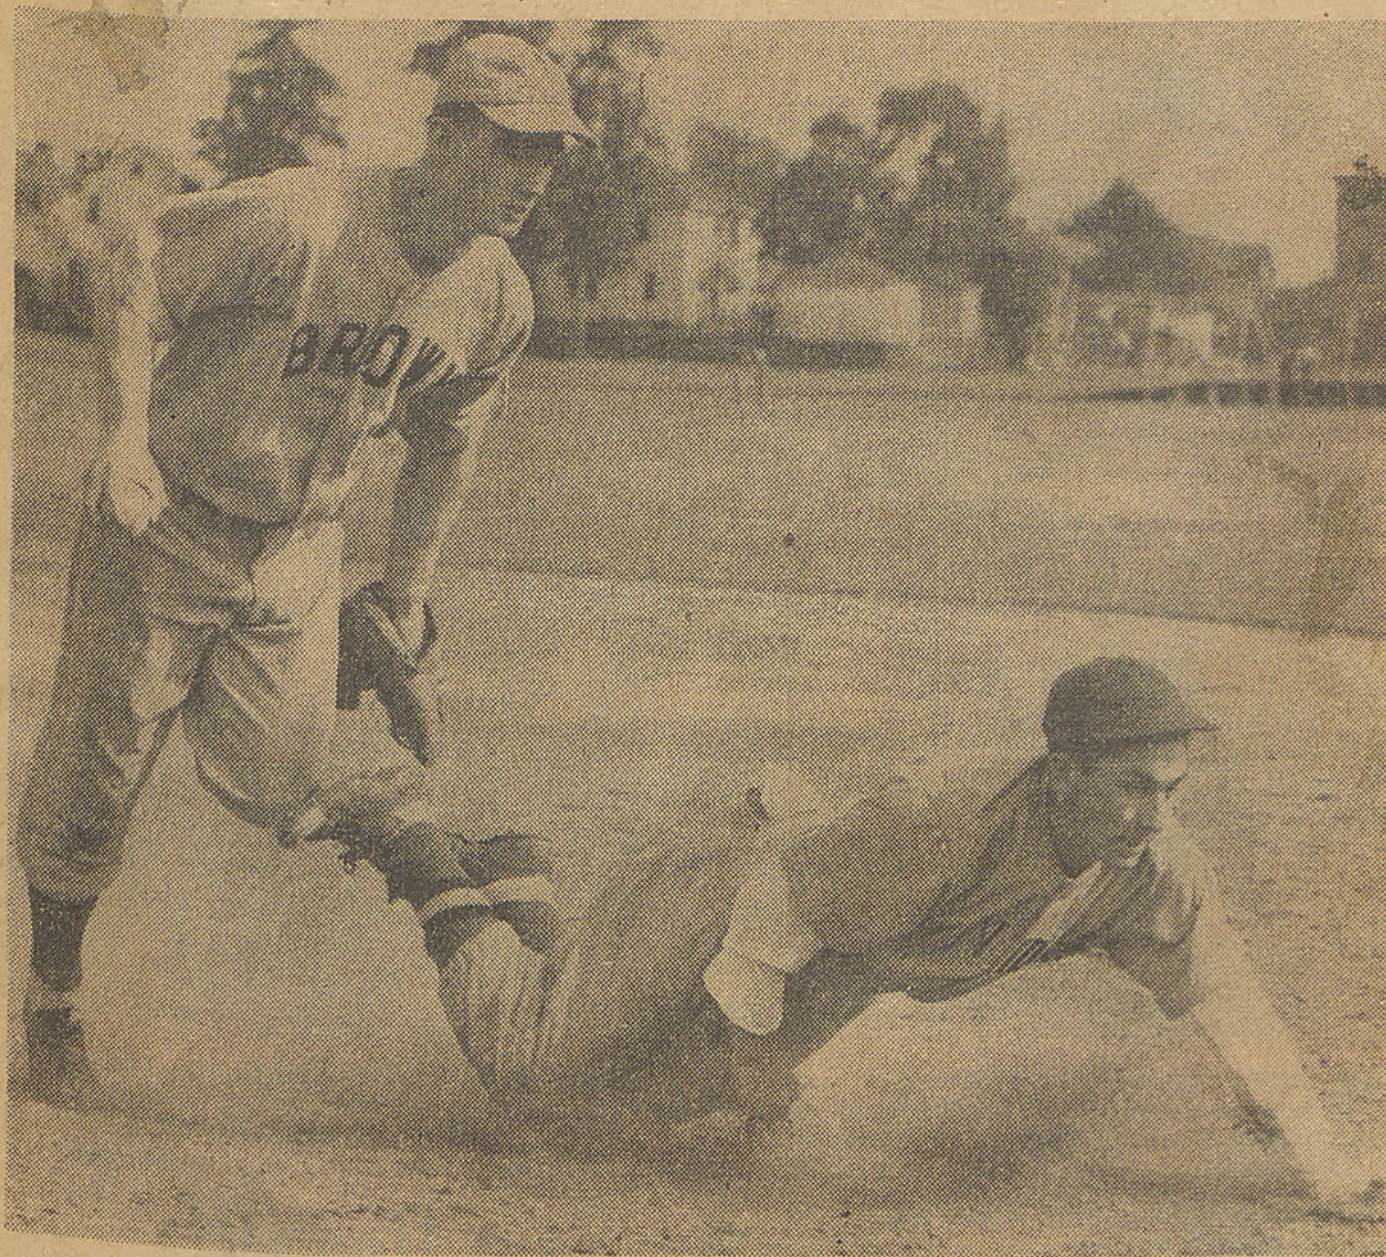

Coach Eddie Eayrs has named his veteran Earl Nichols for the mound duties for the Bruin and Coach Arthur Quirk will choose between Ernie Brousseau and Dick Mahoney. Those two men have the assignment of hurling the Brown game today and the Fort Adams game tomorrow.

The Fort Adams encounter tomorrow is Dick Mahoney Day and the P. C. players will gather at home plate before the game starts and make a presentation to their popular teammate. Dick enters the Army July 29, so Sunday's game will be his last as a collegian.

Brown and Providence College will hold to the lineups that have worked in the recent games. Brown comes to this game with a lift from Wednesday's 1 to 0 victory over Harvard at Cambridge.

Just a Putout; Not a Wheelbarrow Race

This somewhat unusual baseball scene resulted yesterday after Peden, Brown junior 'varsity second baseman, tagged out Guateri of the Providence College Jayvees after a rundown in third inning of game at Aldrich Field. The Friars won, 13-2.

Roy Samson, Brown first baseman, was picked off third by Ed Lee's throw to Massa and Capt. McKone protested the calling of the play by Plate Umpire John L. Mullins. When McKone's protest brought a vigorous negative from Mullins, Coach Eddie Eayrs rushed into the argument. Samson was still out when the arguing was all over. McKone is pointing to Base Umpire Frank J. Brennan in the picture, and Umpire Mullins is saying, "It was my play, my dear young friend."

FRIARS PATTERN TRIUMPH ALONG JULY 4TH LINES

Pitching Duel Most of Way;
Winners Bunch Five Hits
in Two Innings.

BY JOE NUTTER

Providence College followed almost the identical pattern of its July 4th baseball victory over Brown in beating the Bears again, 2 to 1, on Aldrich Field yesterday afternoon.

Ernie Brousseau pitched two-hit ball, holding Brown in complete check until the Bears' lone score came in the sixth. He gave way in the final inning to Relief Pitcher Dick Mahoney. The big right-hander, who leaves for induction into the armed service on Wednesday, permitted Jay Fidler, Brown's 215-pound catcher, to get around to third and then snuffed out the Bruin threat with two strikeouts.

A ninth inning uprising by the Friar team pulled the game out of the 1-1 tie that had held since the sixth. With two away, Ted McConnon, Dick Donahue and Chet Zabek hammered out successive singles, McConnon scoring the winning run on Zabek's hit to right field.

The game was a superb pitchers' duel most of the way. Nichols held the Friars to one hit until the sixth. Providence collected six hits, Brown two.

The Friars threatened in the third when Massa got around to third, but Lee fled out to Nelson, and that bid was over. Providence scored in the sixth when Nick Cariglia singled to right, stole second, and came home on McConnon's single to left.

Brown Evens Count

Brown got a run to even the count in the same frame, when Roy Samson singled to right, was moved along by Ross's bunt and a Massa error in handling Curtin's infield drive, and he scored on Jay Fidler's drive through second base.

The Friars went down in order in the seventh and eight innings, then came through with three singles in the ninth to sew up the ball game.

Brown got Curtin as far as second in the eighth inning on his single to left and Lee's miscue. To forestall any uprising by the Bruin team in the last half of the ninth, Coach Arthur Quirk brought Mahoney into the lineup. Fidler, first batter to face the relief hurler, was hit, moved to second on a wild pitch and reached third on Nichols's bunt that was taken by Mahoney. With the Bruin contingent clamoring for the tying run, the two top men of the Brown batting order, Ted Wilks and Bud McKone, were struck out and it was all over. Providence had swept both games of the series.

Back there on July 4th, Nichols and Brousseau were locked in a tight pitchers' battle and the two teams went scoreless until the ninth. Four successive singles by Zabek, Reilly, Brownell and Brousseau scored two runs and gave the Friars the 2-0 victory. Yesterday it was McConnon, Donahue and Zabek who came through with the successive singles and the manner and setting in which the two games ended were amazingly similar.

No Extra-Base Hits

There were no extra-base clouts, no double plays and Nichols issued no passes. Providence made three errors, Brown made two. Brown had 10 men stranded and the Friars had five.

Capt. Bud McKone and Coach Eddie Eayrs came off the bench in the fourth to protest the putout of Roy Samson on third, Lee to Massa. Samson had been passed and had gained third on a Massa error. Ross, who had reached on a fielder's choice, stole second. He made second after Reilly's throw to Lee, and Lee rifled the ball to third, where Samson was caught on a close play. Umpire Brennan was on the bases, but Plate Umpire John L. Mullin called Sam-

PARISEAU NAMED ST. RAPHAEL COACH

Former P. C. Grid Captain and Coach Succeeds Gintoff in Football, Baseball.

Anthony "Gig" Pariseau, former Providence College football captain, yesterday was named football and baseball coach and physical instructor at St. Raphael Academy in Pawtucket. The announcement was made by Rev. Brother Thomas, F. S. C., academy director.

Pariseau is a native of Attleboro, having been graduated from Attleboro high school where he was outstanding in all branches of athletics. He received his degree from Providence College with the class of 1939 after a spectacular gridiron career for the Friars.

He coached PC Freshman football in 1939, 1940 and 1941 and probably would have remained on the staff except for the fact that gridiron activities have been abandoned for the duration. He also played professionally with the Providence Steam Roller eleven in 1939 and 1940.

The new coach succeeds Fella Gintoff who enlisted earlier this week in the United States Navy. Coach Gintoff served only one year at St. Raphael, but attained considerable success both in football and baseball instruction. He was appointed a year ago as successor to James P. McGeough who left St. Raphael to take a coaching post at Pawtucket West high school.

St. Raphael's coaching staff has been completely wiped out recently for Lefty Steve Fallon, who headed the basketball program last winter, also has joined the armed forces. He is in the Army now. A successor for Fallon will not be named for awhile, Brother Thomas said today.

Game starts at 3 o'clock.

Dick Mahoney makes his last appearance for Providence College as the Friar nine entertains the Tenth Coast Artillery of Fort Adams on Hendricken Field. The game is set for 3 o'clock.

Providence has a mid-July decision over the Soldier-team, 10-9 in 10 innings, and will rule a slight favorite to repeat that decision today.

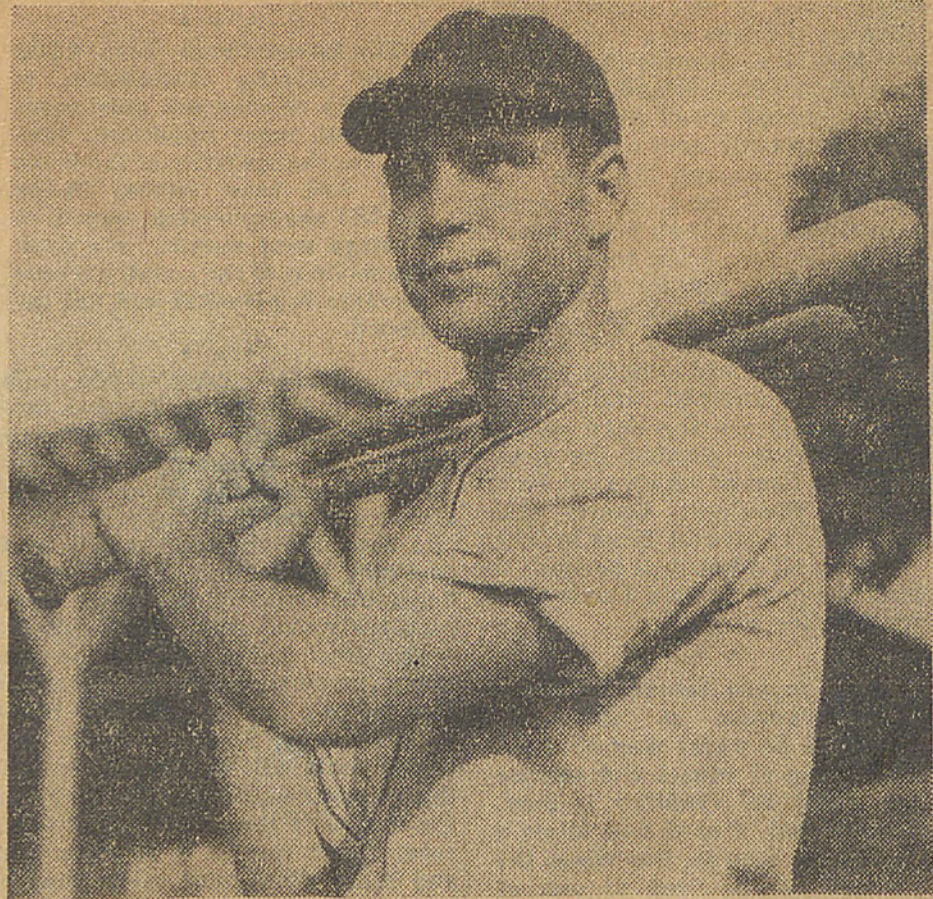

Coach Arthur Quirk has named Mahoney as the hurler for his final appearance in a Friar uniform. He leaves on Wednesday for induction into the Army. His teammates will stage a testimonial for him on the diamond this afternoon and will make a presentation.

It is expected that a few of Mahoney's fellow-townsmen from Taunton will be able to get over to lend their cheers on Dick's valedictory. Mahoney pitched one inning yesterday and came through with two strikeouts and quelled the threat of a resurgent Brown team. Coach Quirk figures that that stint should put him right in top form for today's stand.

Capt. Maurice Palizza, coach of the Tenth Coast Artillery nine and a former University of New Hampshire athlete from Cranston, has named the same team that pushed the Friar so hard earlier in the month. Rurak, the Fort Adams hurler, who performed so well in that game, will oppose Mahoney. The visiting nine has a number of men who had pretentious records in school, college and league baseball before entering the Army.

COAST ARTILLERY FINDS MAHONEY FOR 14 BINGLES

7/27/42

P. C. Pitcher, Who Joins Army
Wednesday, Receives Purse from Teammates.

A one-hit pitching performance by Carl Rurak halted Providence College in general and Dick Mahoney in particular, as the 10th Coastal Artillery nine of Fort Adams blanked the Friars, 3-0, yesterday afternoon at Hendricken Field. The victors thus evened matters with the Quirkmen, having dropped a 10-9 decision to them two weeks ago.

Mahoney was making his last appearance in a Friar uniform before his induction into the Army Wednesday. He was presented a purse of money by Capt. Bob Reilly on behalf of the rest of his teammates, as both teams gathered around home plate prior to the start of the contest.

Once the game got under way, however, the soldiers made Mahoney's departure anything but pleasant as they collected 14 solid hits—one a homer over the right field fence by Leslie Horne—and placed at least one man on base in every inning. Alert defensive play on the part of his mates kept the winners' scoring at a minimum. Especially proficient in this department were Chet Massa, who handled 10 chances with only one miscue at third, and Nick Cariglia, who made a fine recovery play on Lou Russo's liner to left centre, and nailed the latter with a rifle peg to Ed Lee at second base.

Rurak Faces Only 34

Rurak pitched a steady, arm-saving game that had the Friars hitting routine flies and harmless grounders, and was head man all the way. Only 34 batters faced him, and not a base runner advanced further than second base. The only Providence hit, Donahue's double, came with two out in the sixth inning. Rurak fanned three and issued four walks.

The Artillerymen scored all of their runs in the second frame. Horne's bat gave impetus to the attack by driving a homer over the right-field fence. After Moran fanned, Wiaderek was walked, and advanced to third on Cloutier's single to centre. The latter stole second and both men scored on Rurak's single. The next two men up, Quinn and Scalotti, grounded out, ending the inning.

Horne and Russo paced the winners' attack, between them accounting for half of their team's hits. Horne had four for five, while Russo collected three for five.

Bruin and Friar Nines List Action This Week

Bears Play Fort Adams, Fort Edwards, Dart- mouth; P. C. Tackles Yale Saturday

BY JOE NUTTER

Brown has three varsity baseball games this week and Providence College will make one appearance.

The Bruin nine faces the 10th Coast Artillery team of Fort Adams on Wednesday at Aldrich Field, Fort Edwards at Falmouth on Thursday and then meets Dartmouth here on Saturday.

Providence College journeys to New Haven to face Yale on Saturday in the Friar's only appearance of the week.

* * *
The 10th Coast Artillery was too much for Providence College yesterday and won, 3 to 0, on Hendricken Field. It was the second defeat of the summer season for the Friars, both defeats coming from Army nines. P. C. is still undefeated in the college field.

* * *
Carl Rurak, the same hurler that faced Providence in the 10-9 game two weeks ago, pitched one-hit ball yesterday. The only hit that he gave up was a double by Dick Donahue with two away in the sixth.

Dick Mahoney, the big ace who leaves for Army service Wednesday, was called to the plate by his teammates and given a purse of money, the gift of the members of the squad. Capt. Bob Reilly, his catcher, made the presentation.

But if Dick's teammates were in a mood for bearing gifts, there was nothing friendly in the manner in which the Army team fell on Mahoney's offerings. They collected 14 solid blows, one a homer by Lieut. Leslie Horn of minor league fame.

Lieut. Horn who once starred for Mississippi State dropped one over the right field fence. The 10th Coast Artillery nine placed at least one man aboard in each inning. It was only the marked alertness of the Friar defenders that kept the score within bounds.

Chet Massa was outstanding in the defensive department. He handled 10 chances, some of them very difficult, with but one bobble. Nick Cariglia was credited with the one outstanding defensive play of the game. He made a fine recovery of Lou Russo's liner to left centre, and nailed the runner with an accurate peg to Ed Lee at second.

Rurak was the hero of the contest. Not only did he pitch a steady, arm-saving game that had the Friars driving out routine flies or harmless grounders, but his hit brought in two of the three Fort Adams runs. Russo got three for four and Horn four for five to lead the Army team in the averages for the day. Only 34 batters faced Rurak and not a Friar base runner advanced beyond second. Rurak struck out three and issued four passes.

Fort Adams scored its three runs in the third. Horn led off the attack with his homer over the short right field fence. Moran struck out, Wiaderek was passed and reached third on Cloutier's single to centre. Cloutier stole second, and both men scored on Rurak's single. The Soldier team threatened plenty after that but the extreme alertness of the Friar kept the base runners stranded. Fort Adams had 14 men left on bases.

* * *
Providence made it two straight over Brown in this summer trimester by winning, 2 to 1 with a 9th inning rally that broke a 1-1 deadlock that had stood from the sixth frame.

Ernie Brousseau pitched two hit ball and held the Bruins in check. After completing the eighth without giving up any further scores beyond the single run in the sixth, he gave way to Mahoney in the ninth. Mahoney let Jay Fidler get around to third then came up with his best pitching form and struck out the next two men to end the game. Earl Nichols gave up six hits in hurling his second game of the week.

Lieut. Leslie Horn, left fielder for the Fort Adams nine, got four hits in five trips, one a homer, as the Soldiers defeated the Providence College Friars, 3-0 yesterday. Lieut. Horn is a former minor league brilliant. He played with several minor league baseball clubs before going into the service.

Reilly's 2-Run Triple Puts

(Special to the Providence Journal.)

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 1.—Providence College pounded a trio of Yale pitchers for 12 hits and brackets of three runs in the third, eighth and ninth innings, with a single run in the fourth, and beat the Blue, 10 to 2, today. Charley (Bubbles) Harrington went the route for the Friars, spacing four hits in a well-pitched game.

Some great fielding by Nick Cariglia who pulled down two fine running catches, with another by Dick Donahue off Capt. Whelan in the third inning, highlighted the visitors' performance. The team played errorless ball until the ninth when Ed Lee was charged with an error on Elwell as Yale staged an improm. rally for their second run of the game.

Yale was first to tally. Rice was hit by a pitched ball, a two-base sacrifice and Whelan's tripe over Donahue's head, yielding an opening inning run. The Friars bounded back and took the lead in the third, a pass to McConnon, Donahue's single to left, Reilly's triple and a scratch single by Brownell giving them three runs. They scored another in the fourth on Ford's wild pitch.

Friar Ball Club Heads Yale Slate

Yale's Varsity nine faces Providence College here today at 3 o'clock, sharing the day's slate with the yearlings who play at the same time against the East Sides and the varsity golf team which opposes the Brooklawn Country Club 10-man outfit at the Yale course starting at 2 o'clock. The Eli tennis team plays at the Greenwich Field Club.

Providence has three Nutmeggers on the squad—pitcher John Kispert of New Haven, and infielders John Ferguson of Hartford and John Barchi of Danbury—although none of the trio is scheduled to start today.

The Friar squad leaves Providence this morning at 9 o'clock and will return after the game to be ready for tomorrow's clash with Dartmouth on Hendricken Field.

Paul Harrington has been named to face the Yale team, and Ernie Brousseau will probably take the mound against Dartmouth tomorrow. Coach Arthur Quirk will hold to the regular lineup that has been working recent games. Yale will probably have Neville on the mound. Yale's latest achievement was a 7 to 3 victory over Amherst on Wednesday.

Friars Comb Yale Trio for 12 Hits, Including Two Triples

Providence College, always a stubborn diamond foe, proved no exception yesterday when the Friars trounced Yale 10-2 in the Elis' first local clash with college opposition here. In administering the worst setback the Blue has experienced since summer baseball began here, Charley (Bubbles) Harrington bottled up the Yale attack almost completely, giving away but four hits, while his mates pounded Rus Ford, Vic Machinski and Hugh O'Brien for 12 safeties.

The Friars bunched their runs in threes, lighting on Ford for three in the third frame, Machinski for three in the eighth, and O'Brien three in the ninth, while a singleton was tallied in the fourth as the result of a wild pitch by Ford.

Harrington struck out three and issued but one pass. He received airtight support from his teammates and especially in the outfield where Nick Cariglia pulled down two dazzling catches, one off Jack Heath in the eighth, the other off Jim McTernan in the ninth. Dick Donahue also came through with a gem, spearing a drive by Tom Whelan in the third inning, six feet away from the left field fence. Previously, in the opening inning, Donahue had looked bad trying for a similar drive by Whelan that went for three bases and drove home Dick Rice with the first Yale run of the game. These catches, as well as some tight infield work, kept Harrington on easy street, throughout most of the game.

Yale filled the bases twice in the ninth but could get only one run, that by Jack Powell who scored after Cariglia had made a fine runnig catch off McTernan.

Poor judgment by Powell on Bob Reilly's triple to left in the third inning, which drove in two runs for the Frairs, cooked Yale's goose. Joe Brownell drove in Reilly for a 3-1 lead.

These events served to make Ford as wild as a March hare in the following inning and after he had loaded the bases and forced in another Frair run with a wild pitch, Machinski stepped into the picture to fan Reilly for the third out.

During the next four innings only three men faced Harrington in an inning and Machinski kept pretty good pace with him until the eighth when Massa, Lee, McConnon and Zabek got to him for hard clouts and the second set of three runs. A fast double play Rice to Stimola to Whelan choked off further trouble for Machinski. Jack Heath went in as a pinch hitter for Machinski in Yale's half of the eighth which meant another relief in Hugh O'Brien who was greeted with a double by Massa, a single by Cariglia which scored Harrington, and when Elwell dropped Rice's trow at the plate trying for Massa, two runs more filtered across the plate in a wild orgy of throwing.

Yale will play a postponed game with Amherst here on Tuesday, and on Wednesday Sperry & Barnes of the Industrial League are slated to face the Blue. Both games will start at 4 o'clock.

Two of the best hitting and best balanced teams in the New England intercollegiate realm, Dartmouth and Providence College will clash at 3 o'clock in a game that should help determine the championship of this section. Each warmed up for today's duel with convincing victories yesterday. While the Friars were thumping Yale, 6 to 2, at New Haven. In each contest this afternoon's rivals demonstrated abundant batting strength. Dartmouth collected 11 hits at New Haven, four of them doubles and another a triple. The Friars pounded a score of Yale hurlers for an even dozen hits, including a double and two triples. In addition to batting, pitching and fielding strength that appears just about equal, the teams also have identical records over the season's play. Each is unbeaten in college play but has dropped two victories while Fort Devens and the Coast Guard Artillery tripped the Friars, the latter after having won the opening game of the series. Ernie Friedman is scheduled to pitch for the Indians while Ernie Brousseau is the Providence College hurler. Brousseau hasn't worked since he beat Brown a week ago yesterday and is ready for a good performance.

Game starts at 3:00 o'clock.

The Providence College baseball team will face Dartmouth on Hendricken Field tomorrow afternoon at 3:00 o'clock with Ernie Brousseau on the mound.

Jeff Tesreau led his Indian nine into town yesterday and this afternoon is facing Brown while the Friar team is in New Haven meeting Yale.

Brousseau hasn't taken his turn since his defeat of Brown a week ago today. Coach Arthur Quirk has named his regular lineup to work back of Brousseau. Dartmouth and P. C. are undefeated in college competition. Each has lost two games to other opposition, Dartmouth to the Cone team and P. C. to Fort Devens and Fort Adams.

Yesterday the Friar bats, somewhat shackled in the last three games, came to life, most of their hits at New Haven being substantial blows. With the Indians also capable of cutting loose with a devastating assault this afternoon's battle looms as one of the most promising of the entire season. The P. C. diamond, greatly improved this season, has been treated anew for this game, since the authorities want everything as nearly perfect as possible for this clash, the most important in the intercollegiate section of the summer schedule.

Compiling a five-run first-inning lead which was never threatened, Providence College's baseball nine continued to rule the roost in New England collegiate competition as it handed an erstwhile unbeaten Dartmouth team a 7-3 setback yesterday afternoon at Hendricken Field.

Pitcher Lennie Friedman's wildness combined with potent Friar batting told the story. During his four-inning tenure on the mount the Dartmouth hurler yielded seven runs and seven hits, five walks, and a wild pitch. His successor, Ralph Bowman, found the going less difficult as he set the winners down with one hit and no runs over the last four frames.

Ernie Brousseau went the distance for the Friars and, aided considerably by the comfortable lead given him by his mates, had matters under control most of the way. He struck out three and issued only three walks. Eddie Lee came to his rescue on several occasions with several sparkling plays listed among his 10 chances. Nick Cariglia also came up with a fine running catch off Daniels in the eighth.

Two of the five Providence runs in the opening inning came when Massa walked and scored on Cariglia's home run along the left field foul line. Lee singled, McCannon flew out to right, and Donahue and Zabek were walked successively, filling the bases. Lee was forced out at the plate when Reilly grounded to Schumacher at third, Reilly reaching first on a fielder's choice. Brownell then cleared the bases with a double to left. McConnon's four-baser to left field with Massa aboard produced the two remaining Friar runs in the fourth.

Dartmouth scored two runs in the fourth on two hits, a walk, and a fielder's choice and combined two singles and a fielder's choice in the sixth in tallying its final run.

Boasting one of the best summer baseball records among New England colleges the Friars already include a triumph over the Elis in their list of conquests. The Dominicans trounced Yale 10-2 last Saturday at New Haven.

Coach Arthur Quirk will select between Charlie Harrington and Sandy Matarazzo as the starting hurler for the Friars. Harrington was on the mound against Yale last week.

Neville or Ford will start for Yale. Ford was on the losing end of the last Yale-Friar test.

Tomorrow at Hendricken Field the Friars will play the Pawtucket Slaters of the New England League. That game also is set to start at 3 o'clock with Ernie Brousseau, the probable Friar mound starter.

Time of game—3 o'clock.

Still undefeated in summer college competition, Providence College takes on more formidable opposition, when it entertains the Pawtucket Slaters of the New England League this afternoon at Hendricken Field.

The Friars displayed hitting power in abundance in trouncing Yale, 18 to 3, and will have all their guns trained on the slants of Ed Murphy, Slaters' hurler. Charlie Harrington, a Pawtucket boy who handcuffed the Elis last week at New Haven, will hurl for Providence against his fellow townsmen.

The game will provide another oddity, in that Ed Lee, Ted McConnon and Bob Reilly, all of whom have been playing regularly for the Slaters in their league contests, will be playing for the opposition today.

Providence College's lusty Friars of the baseball wars will have the Yale varsity nine as their guests this afternoon at Hendricken Field. The start is set for 3 o'clock.

Boasting one of the best summer baseball records among New England colleges the Friars already include a triumph over the Elis in their list of conquests. The Dominicans trounced Yale 10-2 last Saturday at New Haven.

Coach Arthur Quirk will select between Charlie Harrington and Sandy Matarazzo as the starting hurler for the Friars. Harrington was on the mound against Yale last week.

Neville or Ford will start for Yale. Ford was on the losing end of the last Yale-Friar test.

Tomorrow at Hendricken Field the Friars will play the Pawtucket Slaters of the New England League. That game also is set to start at 3 o'clock with Ernie Brousseau, the probable Friar mound starter.

BUSIEST FRIAR

B 8/8/42

Bob Reilly, husky catcher for the Friar nine, will be one of the team's busiest performers over the week-end. He will do the receiving for the Dominicans this afternoon at Hendricken Field against Yale and again tomorrow afternoon as P. C. plays host to the Pawtucket Slaters.

Friars Blast Out 18 to 3 Victory; Collect 22 Hits

Pound Four Yale Pitchers; 14
Go to Bat in Second; Three Get Two Hits Each.

8/19/42

Hitting and plenty of it was the order of the day yesterday for the Providence College baseball team. The Friars shelled four Yale pitchers for 22 hits, while defeating the Elis, 18 to 3, at Hendricken Field.

The victory was the second the Dominicans have scored over Yale on successive Saturdays, having copped a 10-2, decision at New Haven a week ago.

The Friars landed on Mike Neville, starting pitcher, in the big second inning when 14 men went to bat and three of them, McConnon, Donahue, and Crowley hit safely twice. Donahue had a triple and a single, while McConnon hit a double and a single and Crowley a brace of singles. This feat, more likely than not, is one for the record books.

Donahue's triple finished Neville after the Friars had run the score to eight. His successor, Russ Ford, had better success, but he too was withdrawn for a pinch hitter at the end of the fifth after having yielded three more runs on seven hits and four walks.

After two were out in the last of the sixth, the winners picked up three additional tallies on consecutive singles by Brousseau, Massa, Cariglia and Lee. Two doubles, two singles, a trio of stolen bases, a walk and a wild pitch produced the four final Providence runs in the seventh. These two scoring sorties were at the expense of Yale's third hurler, Claude Hart. McTiernan pitched the eighth inning, and while he walked three, Providence did not score.

Ernie Brousseau coasted leisurely through the first seven innings behind the comfortable Friar lead, and kept Yale's 10 hits well spaced, allowing but two runs. Gene Scussell took over the mound duties in the eighth, but lacked control, as he walked four men, Klimczak scoring after Whelan's fly to Cariglia. McGill hurled the final frame, and held the visitors scoreless.

Brownell had three runs driven in in addition to playing a sparkling game afield. He had 10 chances at shortstop without an error. His co-worker, Eddie Lee at second base, handled 11 chances flawlessly.

(Special to the Providence Journal)
Hanover, N. H., Aug. 14.—Providence College continued its undefeated march through intercollegiate opposition as it neared the end of its summer schedule by downing Dartmouth, 7 to 3, here this afternoon. It was the Friars' second verdict over the Big Green this summer.

Providence pounded Jim Doole for 15 hits and sewed up the verdict by bunching them in the seventh and ninth innings. In the seventh the Friars scored twice and in the ninth added three more tallies for good measure.

Meanwhile Ernie Brousseau was proving a very tough customer in the pinches for, although the Indians reached him for 11 hits, including a double and triple, the Friar star permitted Dartmouth to score single-tons only in the first, fifth and eighth.

Eddie Lee pached the Providence attack with four hits in five trips and drove in two runs. Bob Reilly also chased two runners across, Ted McConnon and Chet Zabek one apiece.

The Friars go from here to Williamstown where they will conclude their campaign in a tilt with Williams tomorrow afternoon.

Dartmouth, Williams Will Entertain Friars

Providence College will close its first wartime summer baseball schedule this week with games this afternoon and tomorrow away from home. Today the Friars will travel to Hanover to face Dartmouth in a return game. The Friars won the first one here, 7-3. Ernie Brousseau and Charlie Harrington, top P. C. pitchers, will be available for hurling in today's game and in the meeting tomorrow with Williams at Williamstown. Providence defeated Williams in a close game during the spring, 4-3.

Friars Hold Track Jamboree As Climax to Summer Program

Providence College undergraduates climaxed their summer physical fitness program with a track jamboree yesterday morning on the campus training field, directed by Coach Ed Crotty, director of physical education.

Jim Larkin, husky Providence senior, cleared 19 feet 1½ inches in the finals of the broad jump competition to lead the group of frosh, soph, junior and senior contestants. Dave Carberry of Brooklyn, N. Y., a soph, leaped 18 feet 10½ inches to take second place, a shade ahead of Paul L'Esperance of Warwick, a senior.

In the cross country run, Jerry

Weintraub of Woonsocket turned in the time of 7:35 and copped first place. Close behind Weintraub was William O'Brien of Providence, former Moses Brown athlete. Daniel Di Luglio of New Haven was third.

The barrier relay competition saw the Freshman team down the Sophomore outfit. The members of the winning team were Salvatore Sica, James Eagan, Edward Dalton, Ed Dimond, Bob Kelly and Edward Routhier.

Jim Maloney, Smithfield junior, won the 100 yard dash, nipping Tod Moore of Mount Vernon, N. Y. Jim Eagan placed third.

Friars Bow in Hurling Duel, 2-1, for First Summer Loss

Harrington, Donovan Pitch
Six Shut-out Frames; 10
Friars Stranded.

(Special to the Providence Journal)
Williamstown, Mass., Aug. 15.—Behind the four hit pitching of Bill Donovan, Williams upset Providence College, 2-1, in 10 innings on Weston Field here today. Gunner Hayes provided the big blow in the 10th, singling Bridgewater home from second with the winning run. It was the first summer setback handed the Friars.

The hurling duel, which found both Donovan and Charlie Harrington pitching shut-out ball over the first six innings, went to the Purple largely through the inability of the Friars to hit in the clinches, Providence leaving no less than 10 runners stranded.

The first scoring threat of the game came in the third, when Bob Reilly led off with a single to centre and moved to second on Brownell's bunt. Harrington fanned but Massa and Cariglia walked to fill the bases only to have Lee bounce out second to first.

Harrington pitched himself out of trouble in the fifth, when Williams loaded the bases with none out on a single, a bunt and a fielder's choice, which found Reilly's throw to third too late to nip the runner. Here Harrington forced Dulcan and Hayes to hit into the dirt for force plays at the plate and Schmidt fled to centre to end the inning.

Donovan's wildness got the Eph hurler in trouble in the seventh, when Brownell walked to open the inning, went to second on Harrington's sacrifice and came home for the Friars only tally on Massa's double to centre. Cariglia walked but Lee lined to Dulcan for an unassisted double play. Williams tied it up in the last half of the inning, when Al Reilly who had opened the frame with his second hit, moved around to third on a sacrifice and an infield out and scored on Dulcan's grounder over second. From there on Donovan held the Friars in check. Chet Massa was the individual fielding star of the game, handling 10 chances flawlessly, as well as contributing a double to the Providence attack.

Tebbetts Gives Waco Good Team After Town's Five Futile Flings

Pro. J. News, April 6, '43

Waco, Tex., April 5.—(AP)—Waco was in professional baseball five times before giving it up and now a ball club that could do in most any kind of company has been dumped into its lap—all free, too.

Lt. George R. Tebbetts—Birdie to baseball fans—is responsible for it. The former Detroit catcher entered the Army air forces and immediately was assigned to recruiting.

Naturally he went after ball players and the guy did a job big league scouts would be proud of.

Tebbetts, who earned his bars at the air forces officer candidate school in Miami, Fla., is back at the Waco Army Flying School in the physical training office.

The team Birdie is readying for the opening game April 18 against a semi-pro outfit has such fellows as Sid Hudson and Bruce Campbell of Washington; Walter (Hoot) Evers, who might have been with Detroit this season had he not joined the Army (he was a star with Beaumont in 1942); Nick Popovich, property of the White Sox; Jake Berger, Buffalo; Mike Popovich, Detroit, and Lou Batterson, formerly of the Yankees.

Waco was in the Texas League

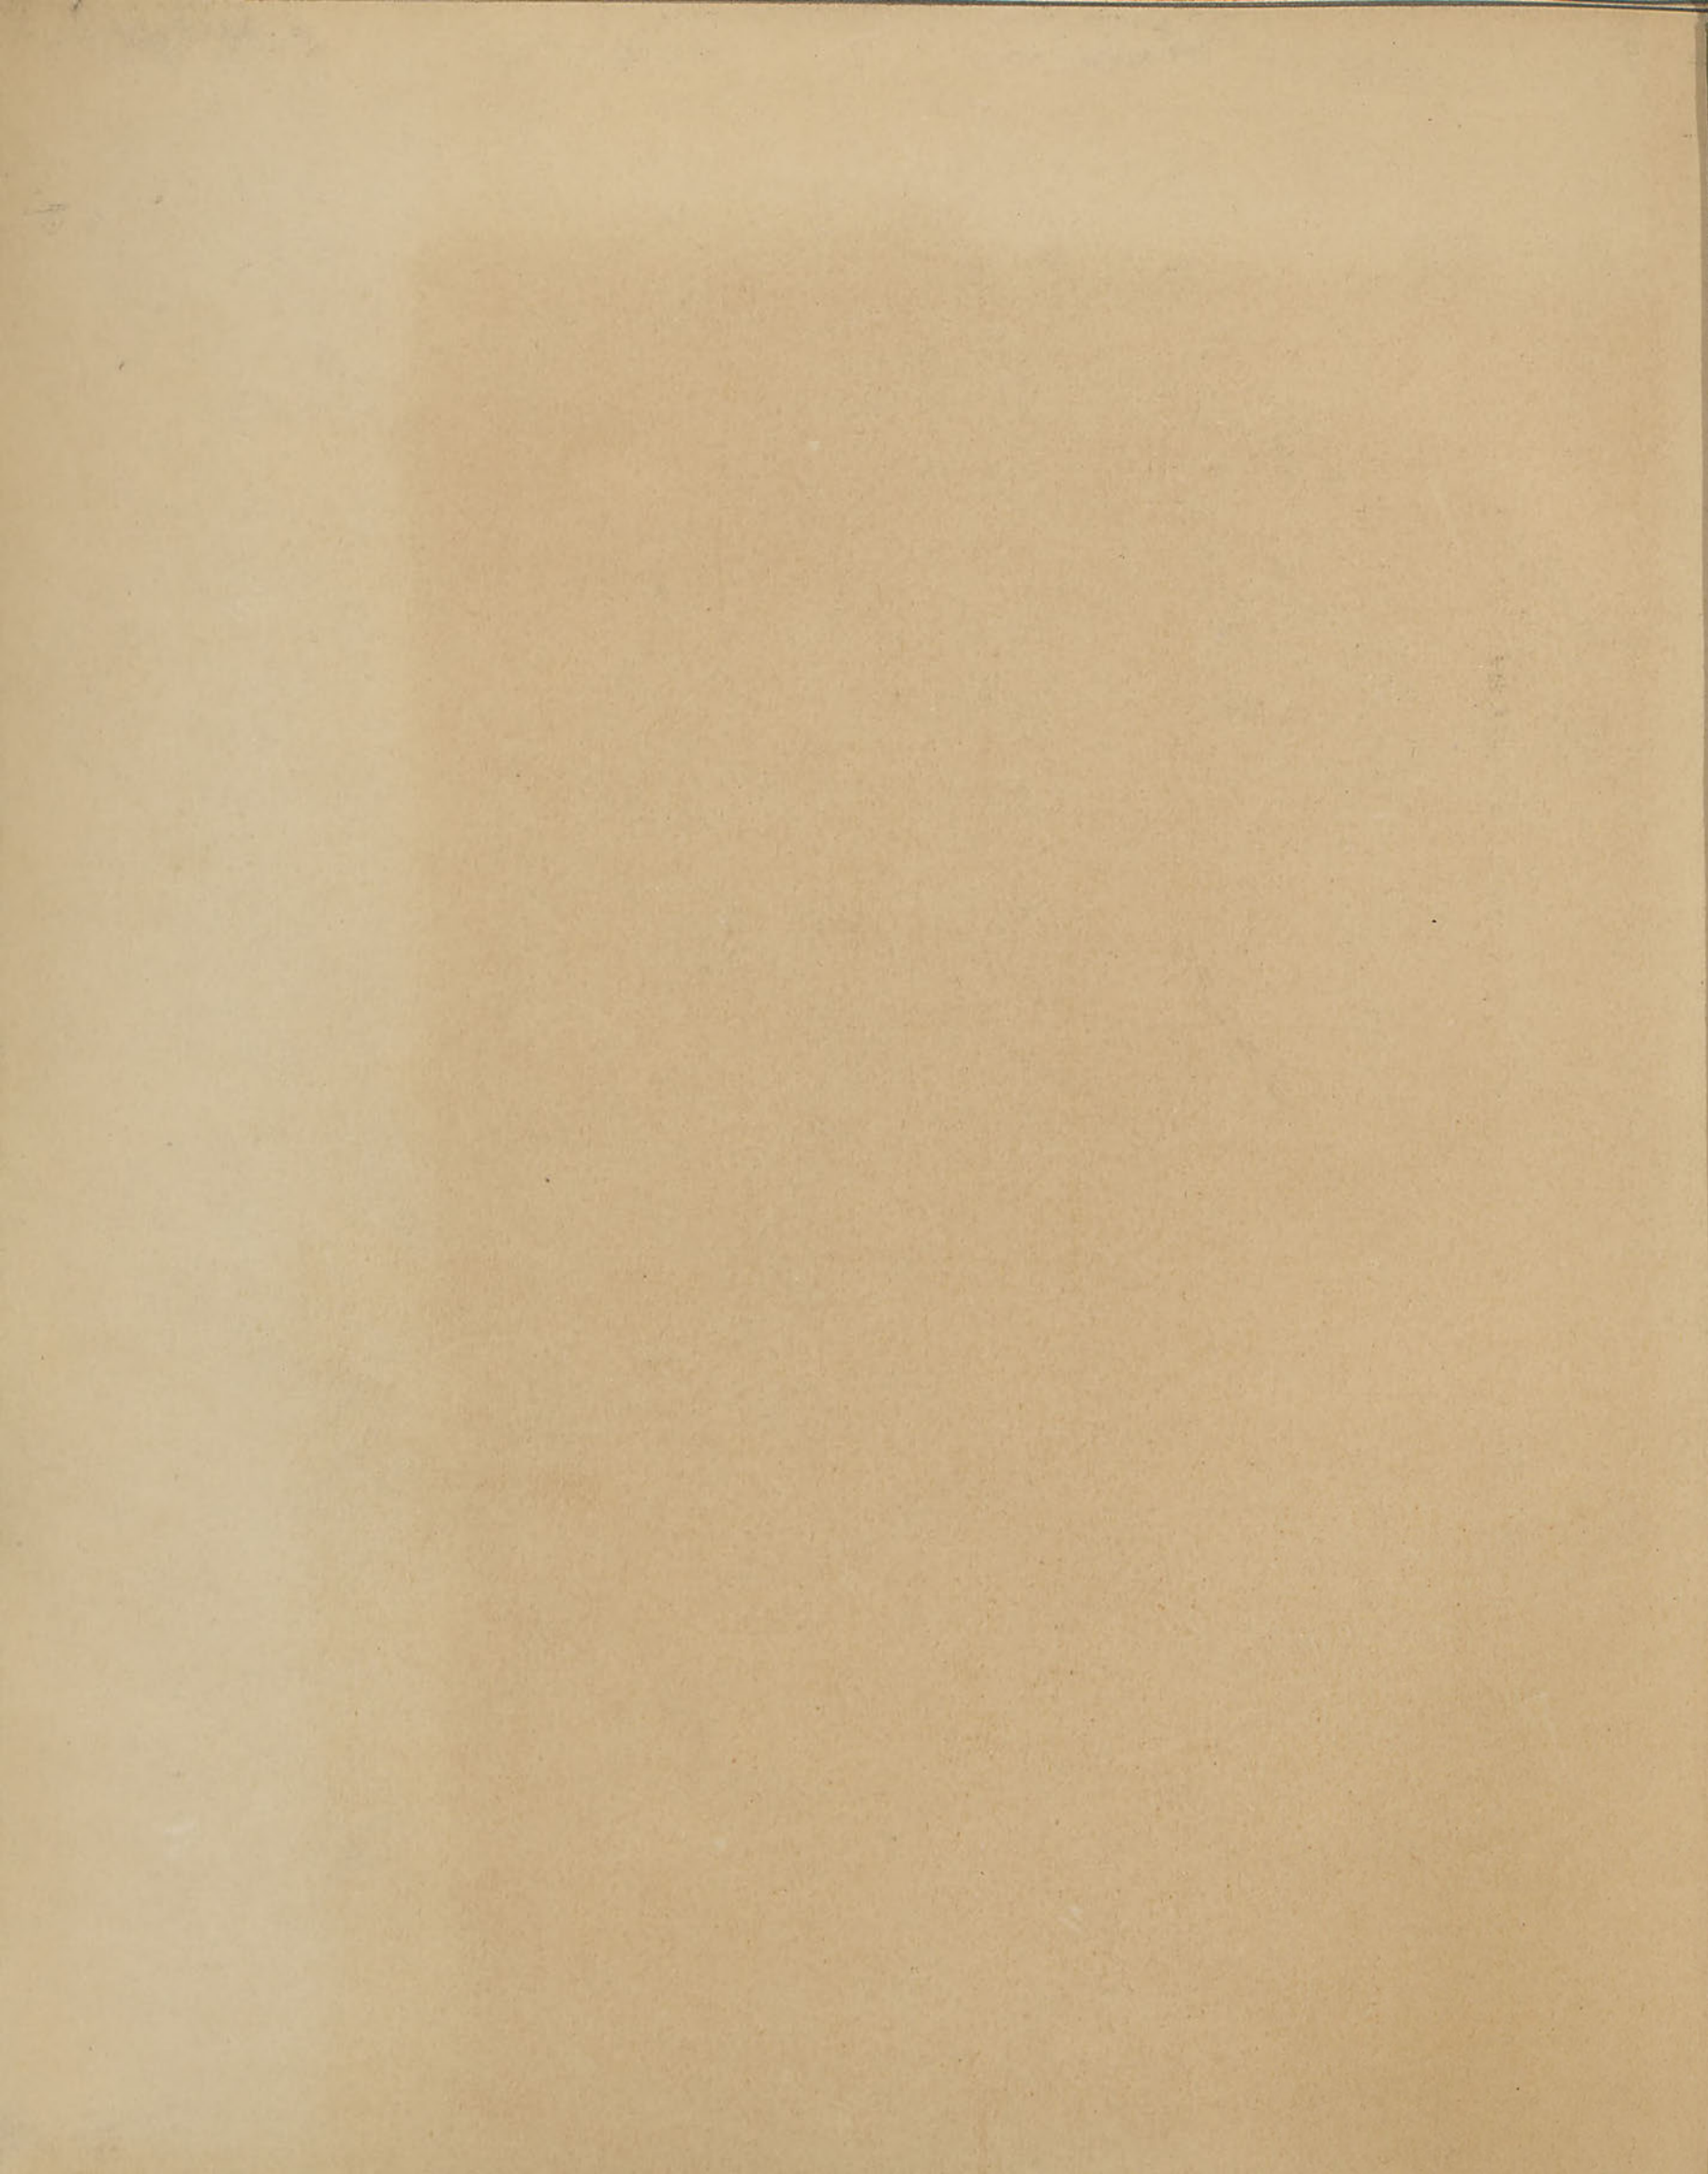

“Birdie” Tebbetts

three times and twice took a fling at Class D, but this Army club may be the best it ever has had.
