Directs Friars on Grid

ARCHIE GO LEMBESKI

MANY VETERANS EXPECTED AS FRIARS OPEN TOMORROW

Two Drills Daily Planned Before Classes Begin on Smith Hill

College football in this State will be inaugurated on Smith Hill tomorrow morning when the Providence College grid forces assemble for their eleventh campaign, reporting to Coach Archie Golembeski for a three week period of pre-season work, in preparation for the opening game with Rutgers on September 26. The opening is the earliest ever attempted by the Friars.

Coach Archie Golembeski, starting his seventh season as master of the Dominicans' football destinies, will be aided this season by Joe McGee of this city, and Junie Bride of Cranston former Dominican stars.

SEVERAL VETERANS TO APPEAR LATER

A squad of close to fifty candidates is expected to be in togs by Monday, with the turnout today including most of the veterans who will form the nucleus of the 1931 aggregation. Captain Foster, halfback from Pittsfield, will not return to this city until Sunday, being retained at home by summer work which he will complete this week-end. Charlie Jorn, crack right end for three seasons is also expected back late, and also Ted LeBlanc and Ed Reilly, halfbacks. The latter is playing in a championship baseball series in Bridgeport, and will probably be the last of the seasoned performers to put in his appearance.

Otherwise a full quota of capable grid-ders will be ready to inaugurate drills on the new practice field in back of Harkins Hall tomorrow afternoon. The majority of the candidates will report in the morning to be assigned equipment by Student Manager Bob Schiffman and his assistants. Coach Golembeski will probably order the initial drill about 10 o'clock. Real activity will start with the afternoon workout, however, and until the start of classes three weeks hence the program will call for two sessions daily.

Although graduation and losses through withdrawals and scholastic failures have cut rather deeply in the roster of veterans, the Friar mentors will be exceptionally well equipped to start their training period, as no less than 14 lettermen will return for further play, and in addition many youngsters who turned in splendid work last fall, but did not win Varsity awards, will be prepared to strengthen their claims to first place honors.

A checkup of the squad expected back this week-end reveals that the Dominicans will have the entire eleven which finished the Duquesne game, the final tilt of the 1930 season. This group consists of Dexter Davis and Ollie Roberge, ends; Boyle and McCarthy, tackles; Matthews and Mardosa, guards; Derivan, centre; Bieller, quarterback; Foster and Wright, halves; and Katznelson, fullback. In addition such capable performers as Jorn, Gulligan, Callahan, Pianka, Schott, Brady and Galligan, most of whom are lettermen, will be on hand.

Head Coach Archie Golembeski, who is enthusiastic about the prospects of the coming campaign, in spite of the fact that the Friars face formidable opposition in meeting Rutgers and Holy Cross in the initial two clashes, will arrive here from Worcester tomorrow morning. Golly has spent the summer at Harvard, where he completed his studies in physical education.

The veteran mentor, who has had exceptional success in building powerful defensive teams at the Smith Hill college, is of the belief that the forward wall in the making of this year will be the finest he has ever developed.

ELEVEN TO

FACE RUTGERS

SEVEN 1930 STARTERS IN FRIARS' CAST

Captain Mickey Foster to Lead Heavy Crew Into Action Tomorrow

DOMINICANS DRILL
AT STADIUM TODAY

(Special to The Home News)
PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 25.—
A squad of twenty-six huskies,
Providence College's best prospects to wear her colors in grid war for the coming campaign, left here last night for New Brunswick, N.
J., to open the 1931 campaign with Rutgers. The game marks the third meeting between the two elevens, with honors thus far even.
The Friars staged the opening day upset last fall when they humbled a heavily favored Rutgers aggregation by a 12 to 6 score, while a year previous the Dominicans were routed by the Scarlet.
Both teams will apparently wheel into action with rosters well dotted with lettermen, as Rutgers boasts an experienced array, while the Friars have a first team of seasoned performers. The Dominicans will hold a practice drill on the high school field in New Brunswick today, and on Saturday will open fire with full force to test the ability of the charges of Rutgers' new mentor, J. Wilder
Tasker.

An Ideal Leader

Led by Captain Mickey Foster, shifty ball carrier whose broken field running upset the Scarlet last fall, and who was rated as one of the outstanding halfbacks of the East, the Rhode Islanders will be prepared to duplicate their win of a year ago. Foster has added weight during the year, and as captain of the eleven will be ready to run rampant on the gridiron. Scaling over 170 pounds, Foster is an ideal backfield performer, being a triple threat man of high calibre.

The Providence starting cast for Saturday's clash will include seven players who drew action in the Rutgers game a year ago. Of this number the backfield will be identical with the exception of fullback, which was handled last fall by Phil Del Vecchio. Galligan, 175-pound crashing back, has been assigned the fullback role, while Wright, fleet Staten Islander, will team with Foster at the halves. Bleiler, signal barker for the past two seasons, rounds out the starting backfield.

Crack Forwards

In the line the Dominicans will be well fortified to meet the attacks of Jack Grossman, ace of the Rutgers ball carrying corps. End to end the Friars will field a forward wall which will possess speed, weight, height and stamina to do battle. At the ends will be Charlie Jorn, veteran wingman for the past two years, patrolling the right flank, and Detxer Davis, 190-pound six-foot-three youngster who turned in some sterling work towards the close of the 1930 campaign. Ollie Roberge, 187-pound husky, is another likely candidate for service on the flanks on Saturday.

George Boyle, 192-pound giant from Passaic, and Owen Callahan, scrappy veteran from Pittsfield, will be ready to handle the tackle work. As reserves Head Coach Archie Golembeski of the locals has Charlie Burdge, the 212-pound six-foot-four-inch man - mountain from Warren, R. I., Dick Burns, 187 pounds of brawn and muscle, who is anxious to break into the first string array, and Bill McCarthy, 200-pound six-footer from this city, who drew a good deal of work last fall.

Gridiron ghosts of other years will stalk across Neilson Field tomorrow, spirits of players who made glowing history on the very greensward that now carpets Neilson Field, but who have long since departed from the football realm and in short, all Rutgers men, from one end of this broad land to the other, await with hushed expectancy the dawn of a new football era on the Banks of the Raritan.

Tomorrow afternoon a J. Wilder Tasker coached eleven, made up of the remnants of Harry J. Rockafeller's 1930 squad, takes the field to give battle to a Providence College team which a year ago created a stunning upset by handing the Scarlet a 12 to 6 reverse in the opening game of what was expected to be Rutgers' greatest season in a decade.

Contrast in Attitude

Whereas the 1930 team went into its opening battle highly confident but sadly disillusioned as to its true ability, the 1931 brigade, almost identical in personnel, will stride forth hopeful of making a good showing before as critical an audience as has ever watched a Scarlet team perform.

Football is on the upgrade at Rutgers but until the initial test is met and mastered the general sporting public will not concede that J. Wilder Tasker and his new system will be sufficient to put Rutgers back on the high plane which it rated during the regime of George Foster Sanford and Jack Wallace, predecessors of the new mentor of the Scarlet.

Through the past three weeks some forty varsity candidates, working as no group before them has worked, were drilled in a new system that will be flashed before the local public for the first time tomorrow.

Rutgers Eleven Impresses in Bowling Over Providence

Rutgers Trims Providence, 19 to 0, as 9,000 Crowd Sees Grid Season Opened

By EDWARD LAWSON

J. Wilder Tasker ought to be a happy man today.

With the elements against him, with his untried Scarlet team facing a line of husky veterans headed by the speedy Micky Forster who ran all over the Raritan eleven last year, he sat on the bench at Neilson field yesterday afternoon and watched his rejuvenated Rutgers team stage a comeback which would warm the heart of even the most hardened sports enthusiast.

He watched Jack Grossman, the galloping ghost of the Raritan, twist and squirm and fight his way through the whole Friar aggregation. He watched Nick Prisco, sterling right halfback whom he has developed into a bright star on the Rutgers gridiron stage, wrestle and bang his way through a stalwart Dominican line to score the first touchdown of the year.

He watched his tackles open up holes big enough to drive a truck through; saw them stop the most aggressive ball-carriers dead in their tracks. He saw plays broken up that a year ago would have meant a sure touchdown; saw his line hold like a granite wall against the assaults of the Friars.

When the sun went down on the banks of the old Raritan last night, the Scarlet team, rain-soaked and mud-bespattered, celebrated its first victory of the season, with the added gratification of having blanked their foes while piling up a score of 19 to 0 against them.

Game played: September 26, 1931

Grossman Scores Twice After Brilliant Dashes While Prisco Turns in Third Touchdown; Play of Entire Team Gratifying to Fans

Victors Show Fine All- Around Play Despite Rain, Bad Field

MAKE LONG MARCH TO FIRST TOUCHDOWN

The largest crowd ever to witness an opening game on Neilsen field, estimated at 9,000, was on hand in spite of the murky weather and unsettled weather conditions. The field, water-logged in places, was not quite boggy enough to interfere with the Scarlet's attack.

Long March to Score

Flashing an undeniably much improved brand of football, the Scarlet aggregation marched 65 yards for the first touchdown of the current season after a first few moments of work on the defensive. Behind great interference Nick Prisco, who looks like a coming gridiron luminary at his right halfback position, raced 17 yards around left end to put the ball on Providence's 45-yard line and inaugurate Rutgers' attack.

Liddy tried hard through center, but was tossed over with a gain of only two yards. Grossman shot off right tackle for five, and a moment later broke through left tackle for a first down.

Then once again the Scarlets' interference provided a perfect pathway, this time for the Raritan team's triple-threat ace, Jack Grossman, who skirted right end, bowling over several tacklers on the way, and gaining twenty yards. Within the shadow of the goal posts Prisco took the ball tackle for a touchdown. Karakas was called upon to kick for the point after touchdown, but the ball was soggy and refused to rise, banging into the line of scrimmage.

And then once again, in the opening moments of the second quarter, Rutgers fought its way across that last white stripe that means six points in any language. Galligan, the Providence fullback, had been forced to punt after three tries at the Scarlet line had failed. Kramer took the oval on the forty yard line, ran two yards, and was stopped dead. But then Providence drew a penalty for being offside, Kramer took the ball again and skirted left end, being run out on the 26-yard line, and Grossman and Jack Liddy followed with beautiful bucks that netted another first down.

With perfect interference in front of him, Grossman shot wide around left end for seven yards, and Prisco cut sharp through left tackle for five more, placing the ball on the one-yard line. Amidst the full-throated cheering of the crowded stands, Grossman lowered his head and bucked the solid wall of Providence defense to take the ball over the goal. Harry Karakas made this kick good, running the score to 13-0.

Grossman's Brilliant Dash

Not until late in the third quarter was the score boosted again. And this time it was Jack Grossman who traversed the whole field after scampering through a big hole in right tackle, to run twenty-five yards to the left side in what was easily one of the most brilliant plays of the day. The touchdown-scoring run came after a long siege against the Dominican line had slowly but surely put the Scarlet team within striking distance of the goal.

Grossman had the better of a punting battle against Brady and Galligan, the Friar's star backfieldmen. Several of the Providence kicks were blocked, while one of Grossman's suffered the same fate. Fumbles were made on the nervousness of the players, partly because of the slipperiness of the mud-soaked ball. Rutgers drew several penalties for roughing, which was the result of the player's over-anxiety to get their men.

Coach Tasker's newly installed system was not hampered by the rain-oaked field, as was feared. It appeared that the Dominican attack suffered more from this condition than did the Scarlet.

Foster Stopped

Providence failed dismally to show the speed and power which was attributed to it. Foster, who ran Rutgers ragged last year, couldn't get away yesterday. Other backs were thrown for heavy losses behind the line of scrimmage by hard-tackling Scarlet gladiators. Only once did the Friars threaten to cross the Raritan team's goal line. This was in the closing minutes of the first half.

Grossman had punted from the fifteen yard line, a long, flat kick that was picked up on Providence's 42-yard stripe by Brady, who ran it out on the 48-yard line. Rutgers drew a fifteen yard penalty for roughing, then Providence unleashed its aerial attack. A pass, Brady to Dromgoole, was good for twenty yards and put the oval on the 28-yard marker. But subsequent tries failed, and Rutgers regained possession of the ball well in her own territory.

Grossman immediately punted out of danger. His kick was picked up by Brady on the 21-yard line.

Tasker took Grossman out of the contest, sending in Eddie Drake at fullback. On the very next play Brady circled the left end of the line behind excellent interference, twisted and fought his way through a maze of scarlet-clad tacklers, and gained a clear field. But Drake was after him like a flash, driving him hard to the sidelines, and at last tackling him after a brilliant thirty-five yard run. But for this tackle, Providence would have entered the scoring columns.

Cronin, sterling Rutgers end, saved the Scarlet from another precarious position in the first quarter by recovering a Providence fumble on Rutgers' 35-yard line. Providence had punted, and Grossman had slipped on the field and lost the ball, which was recovered by Schott. For a moment it looked as though the Friars were headed for a touchdown, but Cronin's recovery of the fumble put an end to that threat.

Grossman Steps Away

Had it not been for a little too much roughing, the Queensmen would have scored another touchdown in the second quarter. Immediately following the kick for point after the touchdown scored in that quarter, O'Keefe kicked to Grossman. The powerful Raritan fullback gathered the ball in, tucked it in the crook of his arm, lowered his head and started goalward. Once he had started nothing could stop him. His interference took out a couple of men, but it was he himself who sprinted, twisted, whirled, reversed himself, cut wide toward the sidelines and shot himself like a projectile from a cannon through that clinging mob of Providence tacklers.

Amidst the wildly enthusiastic plaudits of every spectator who witnessed that sensational dash, even those who sat in the Providence stands, he crossed the line without another man within ten feet of him. It was not until a minute later that the referees decided to call the play back and penalize the Scarlet team.

There can be no doubt now as to the improvement in the Rutgers team since Head Coach Tasker took over the reins. Providence used a veteran backfield which last year Rutgers was utterly unable to hold. Yesterday they were held, and held for plenty. Scarlet-jerseyed backs repeatedly broke through the Dominican line to nail Foster or Wright or Galligan or Brady, the Friar's best bets, before they could move two steps with the ball. The tackling may have been a little vicious, but it was low and thoroughly effective—which it certainly was not last year.

Stream of Subs

Tasker gave practically his entire squad a tryout in yesterday's game. He threw them in by twos and threes after the first two touchdowns had been put over the line. In this way he gained valuable information as to their ability when playing in a varsity lineup, and they gained that experience which is so necessary to the finished gridiron player.

Next week may see even greater improvement when the Raritan aggregation shows its form against Drexel on Neilson Field. A clear day and solid footing is always an asset to any football team, and the system which Coach Tasker is using ought to be aided immeasurably by these factors.

Still Wrong?

NOW you will notice I pick Northwestern over Notre Dame. Possibly you noticed last year that I picked Carnegie Tech, Northwestern and Southern California over Notre Dame. And was I right? Unfortunately, I wasn't.

But I'm right back in it again, picking the Wildcats. Some day I figure that I will be right picking some outfit to beat Notre Dame. But maybe I'm wrong about that, too. At any rate, Northwestern's my story, and I'm stuck with it.

I think Georgia will beat Yale. So does Georgia. So, for that matter, does Yale, I suspect. If Georgia can't beat Yale, they ought to quit. Yale isn't a football team. It's a state of mind. A lot of the boys are picking Georgia this year. That's because they won the past two years. Your uncle picked the Southern bulldogs last year and the year before, which is consistency, if nothing else.

X I notice some of the lads are selecting Springfield to lick Rutgers. How droll! Don't the lads know that Tasker got 30 scholarships this year? Rutgers will have a football team if it takes an appropriation by the Assembly. There may not be many who will die for dear old Rutgers these days, but a lot of them will work her.

Friars Will Face Stern Foe in Holy Cross Eleven Today

Crusaders Favorites in Seventh Football Meeting Between Them.—O'Keefe at Full.

The only football clash in this country between Dominican and Jesuit college football teams will be staged this afternoon at Fitton Field, Worcester, when the Providence College gridders oppose the Holy Cross eleven. The Dominicans and the Jesuits for hundreds of years have held disputes over questions in the realm of philosophy without reaching a decision, but in the short football rivalry between them, the Jesuits have held sway.

Holy Cross and Providence College have clashed six times on the gridiron and each time the Crusaders have been victorious. And again today, it is expected that the Purple banner of Holy Cross will fly high as the Crusaders enter the fray top-heavy favorites to win.

Holy Cross Strong

Holy Cross is represented by a strong team this year, one which is expected to go far in the Eastern football campaign. On the other hand, the Dominicans this season are not at their strongest, having lost their opening game to Rutgers last week 19 to 0. The Crusaders were impressive in defeating St. Bonaventure last Saturday, in keeping with the high standards predicted for them in pre-season calculations.

In past years, the Friars have been at their best against the Crusaders and they are determined that Holy Cross will not win in a walkaway today.

Both elevens will have four new players in their starting lineups today. These changes mostly are due to injuries to the regulars, but some of them are cases where regulars have been demoted. For the Friars, two of the newcomers, Franny Dromgoole and Ollie Roberge, are ends. Charlie Jorn, who has held down an end post on the Friar Varsity during the past three years, and Dexter Davis started at the wing positions in the Rutgers game. Jorn has been laid up with a bad cold, being unable to attend practice sessions during the past four days. Jorn, however, will be in uniform today and both he and Davis may see action.

O'Keefe Replaces Galligan

Charles O'Keefe has replaced Cy Galligan at fullback. Galligan, a regular last year, started against Rutgers but O'Keefe has come to the fore during the past week of drills and as a result won for himself the position for today's game. O'Keefe is a good kicker and his work in this line should be valuable to the Friars today. The other player to win a starting post is Johnny Brady, who will quarterback the team in the absence of Chick Bleiler, regular field general, who injured his arm last week.

Brady was a star in the Rutgers game, being one of the best ground gainers on the team. He was a halfback last year. The Crusaders are expected to have much trouble in stopping Brady. The rest of the Friar lineup will be the same as in the Rutgers game.

Owen Callahan and George Boyle will hold down the tackle berths, while Lou Mathews and Bill Kutniewski will be at the guards. Eddie Nawrocki will be at centre. The backfield will be rounded out with Capt. Mickey Foster and Joe Wright as halfbacks.

Joe Meegan, 140-pound halfback, will start his first game for Holy Cross. This popular, fiery athlete has won a starting assignment over Mart Murray. Meegan is a Senior. He has been out for the Varsity during the past two years but missed making the grade each time. He is a hard worker, giving his best whether playing with third or fourth team. He has improved of late and Capt. John E. McEwan, Holy Cross coach, has rewarded his persistence.

Another lightweight who will face the Friars today is Ed Bergen, centre. Bergen weighs only 150 pounds. Mike Favulli, regular centre, is injured. Bergen and Meegan are the two lightest players on a Holy Cross football team in years.

Murphy at Right Guard

Johnny Murphy, Sophomore, will take the place of John Bairunos at right guard. The latter is injured. Murphy is a good defensive player. The other newcomer to the Holy Cross starting lineup is Bart Hanus, Sophomore fullback, who will replace Don Kelly, another Holy Cross casualty.

The Friars held a light signal drill yesterday afternoon. The players showed much enthusiasm and they are anxious for action. Despite the fact, that they are heavy under-dogs, the players are confident that Holy Cross will not win in the decisive manner predicted.

Much will depend on the Friar line. If the forwards can hold their own against their opponents, the prospects of locals will be considerably brighter. The Friar backfield, although light, is capable. Each one of the four backs is an excellent broken field runner. If the line will open holes, these backs—Brady, Foster, Wright and O'Keefe—will make much headway.

But the Providence College linemen have a hard task confronting them. Their Holy Cross rivals are big, heavy and powerful. The Dominican forwards will be heavily outweighed. Jansa, Holy Cross left tackle, weighs around 234 pounds. He is a giant and plays well on both the offence and defence.

Evening Gazette Sports Editor

Holy Cross continued along the victory trail by defeating Providence College on the Fitton Field gridiron this afternoon. The Crusaders whipped the Friars a year ago, 27 to 0.

FIRST PERIOD

Griffin opened the game by making a short kick-off to Boyle, who was downed by Jansa on his 35-yard line. A forward pass, Brady to Wright, caught the Holy Cross defense napping. The pass was good for 43 yards. O'Keefe made four yards on a plunge at center. O'Keefe made three more on a plunge at right tackle. O'Keefe hit center for a first down on the Holy Cross 17-yard line. A behind-the-line pass, O'Keefe to Foster, allowed the Providence captain to circle the Holy Cross left end for a touchdown. O'Keefe missed the goal.

Score: Providence 6, Holy Cross 0.

The Holy Cross left flank was cleverly boxed in to allow Foster to score his touchdown.

Griffin ran O'Keefe's kick-off to the Holy Cross 27-yard line. O'Connell fumbled, but recovered for a loss of three yards. Hanus made five yards. O'Connell punted to Brady, who was thrown out of bounds on his 43-yard line. Wright circled the Holy Cross right end for a three-yard gain. Foster tore a hole in the Holy Cross left tackle for a first down on the H. C. 45-yard line. Brady failed to gain at his own left end. O'Keefe punted over the Holy Cross goal line.

O'Connell circled the Friars left end for nine yards. Hanus fumbled, but recovered for a yard loss. Hanus hit the Providence left tackle for eight yards and a first down. On a triple pass behind the line, Hanus to Meegan to Griffin, the latter made six yards. O'Connell went around the Providence right end for 13 yards and a first down on the Providence 45-yard line.

O'Connell's pass to Griffin grounded. O'Connell failed to gain. O'Connell made a wild throw to Cavalleri, the ball grounding. Murray replaced Meegan. O'Connell kicked to Brady, who was downed on his 25-yard line. Providence was penalized 15 yards on the play and the ball brought back to the eight-yard line. Wright gained two yards at H. C.'s right end. O'Keefe punted to O'Connell, who caught the ball at midfield and ran it back eight yards. He was tackled by Foster. Hanus plunged out of bounds for no gain.

O'Connell's forward pass was intercepted by Brady on the Providence 28-yard line. A forward pass, Brady to O'Keefe, gained five yards. Captain Foster, of Providence College was hurt on the play. Reiss replaced Jansa for H. C. Foster continued in the game. Zyntell stopped O'Keefe without gain. Murray nearly intercepted Brady's long forward, the ball grounding. O'Keefe's punt was blocked by Ryan, on the Providence 26-yard line. The ball bounced back toward the Providence line, where Cavalleri recovered it five yards from the Friars last white stripe and ran unmolested for a touchdown.

Griffin missed the attempt to kick the goal.

Score: Providence 6, Holy Cross 6.

Griffin kicked off to Wright on the 15-yard line. He ran it back to the 30-yard line. Wright failed to gain as the period ended.

SECOND PERIOD

Providence was penalized five yards for delaying the game. O'Keefe kicked to O'Connell on the H. C. 40-yard line. He was thrown out of bounds on the 44-yard line. Derivan replaced Nawrocki for Providence. Hanus made two yards at center. A pass, Hanus to Reiss to Griffin, gained five yards. O'Connell made a first down on the Providence 45-yard line. Hanus made two yards at center.

A forward pass, O'Connell to Murray was good for 18 yards and a first down on the Providence 25-yard line. O'Connell circled his left end for four more. Hanus bucked center for three yards. Holy Cross was penalized 15 yards for holding. Barbarito replaced Foster, and Galligan replaced O'Keefe for Providence. A long forward failed. Another long forward failed. O'Connell punted and the ball downed by Murphy of Holy Cross on the Providence 15-yard line. Drescher replaced Ryan. Gilligan replaced Drumgoole.

Galligan punted to O'Connell and he allowed the ball to roll to the Holy Cross 45-yard line. Pianka replaced Kutniewski. Mardosa replaced Matthews for Providence. O'Connell kicked over the Providence goal line. Barbarito made two yards. Drescher blocked Galligan's attempted punt and Holy Cross recovered the ball on the eight-yard line.

O'Connell ran his right end for three yards. Hanus ploughed through center for five yards and a touchdown. Griffin kicked the goal.

Score: Holy Cross 13, Providence College 6.

Rovinski replaced Captain O'Connell at quarterback for Holy Cross, Gobys replaced Roberge for Providence. Horgan replaced Colucci and Farrelly replaced Cavalieri for Holy Cross. Gerald Griffin replaced Bergin for Holy Cross.

L. Griffin kicked off to Wright, who ran the ball to his 25-yard line. Donovan replaced L. Griffin for Holy Cross. Galligan failed to gain. A pass, Galligan to Brady, just barely made a first down on the Providence 35-yard line. An attempted forward pass, Galligan to Barbarito, failed. Richer replaced Hanus for Holy Cross. Conley replaced Brady for Providence.

Galligan punted out of bounds at midfield. The kick was nearly blocked. Holy Cross was penalized five yards for offside. Rovinski went around the Providence left end for 27 yards. McCarthy replaced Boyle for Providence. Richer plunged for six yards. Donovan made two more yards. Burdge replaced Callahan for Providence.

Richer made a first down on the 13-yard line. Rovinski's pass failed. Rovinski ran for three yards. Another Rovinski pass failed. Rovinski threw a pass to Murray, who caught the ball on the Providence one-yard line and staggered over for a touchdown. Rovinski missed the goal.

Score: Holy Cross 19, Providence 6.

Jarvis replaced Murray, Flanagan for Drescher, Riopel for Reiss and Cormier for Zyntell for Holy Cross. Jarvis kicked off to Galligan, who ran to his 32-yard line. Loguldice replaced Farrelly for Holy Cross. Galligan picked up three yards at center. Rovinski ran Galligan's punt back 35 yards to the Providence 47-yard line. Donovan failed to gain. Donovan muffed Rovinski's pass. A long pass from Rovinski to Horgan failed.

Jarvis kicked out of bounds on the Providence 25-yard line. Burns replaced McCarthy for Providence. Thompson gained nine yards, being stopped by Jarvis. Richer knocked down Galligan's pass. Cappelzoi replaced Wright for Providence.

Galligan kicked out of bounds on the H. C. 44-yard line. The ball was called back as both teams were offside. Galligan again kicked to Rovinski. Rovinski ran the ball back 10 yards to the 35-yard line. A pass by Rovinski was grounded as the half ended.

Score: Holy Cross 19, Providence 6.

THIRD PERIOD

The teams are playing 13-minute periods. Cavalieri kicked off to Galligan, who ran the ball to his 34-yard line. Galligan made a yard at center. Cody gained one yard. Galligan kicked out of bounds on the Holy Cross 47-yard line. O'Donnell made five yards around his right end. Hanus rammed center for three yards.

Hanus hit center for a first down. Donovan went through right tackle for five yards. There was a penalty of five yards for offside against Providence on the play. O'Connell gained four more.

Hanus crashed center for four more and a first down on the Providence 27-yard line. On a triple pass, Donovan ran around the Providence right wing for a touchdown. The pass was Hanus to Murray to Donovan. Colucci drop-kicked the goal.

Score: Holy Cross 26, Providence 6.

Rovinski replaced O'Connell for Holy Cross. Cavalieri kicked off to Thompson, who was downed on his 32-yard line. Galligan knifed his way through for 11 yards and a first down. Cody made two yards. Galligan added three more. Barbarito lost four yards at Holy Cross' left end.

Galligan punted to Rovinski, who ran it back 18 yards to his 42-yard line. Hanus plunged out of bounds. Rovinski hit left tackle for four yards. Murray was spilled without gain. Rovinski punted to Barbarito on Providence's 30-yard line. Galligan lost two yards.

Galligan punted along the ground to the Holy Cross 31-yard line. Hanus gained a yard. Donovan circled the Providence right end and was tackled from behind by Galligan on the Providence 33-yard line. It was a gain of 34 yards. Marino replaced Conley at quarterback for Providence. Rovinski went through his right guard for four yards. Rovinski went through the same spot for four more.

Holy Cross penalized five yards for offside. Rovinski picked up three yards at his right end. Hanus failed to make the necessary yardage on fourth down and Providence took the ball on its own 22-yard line. Barbarito failed to gain at the Holy Cross left end. Galligan punted to the Holy Cross 41-yard line, Marino downing the ball. Rovinski knifed his way through for a first down on Providence's 48-yard line as the quarter ended.

Score: Holy Cross 26, Providence 6.

FOURTH PERIOD

In an attempt to make a garrison finish Coach Golembeskie sent most of his first string men back into the game. They had been out of the contest for more than a period. Murray lost a yard. Donovan ran across the field but failed to gain. A pass, Rovinski to Donovan, gained two yards.

Jarvis replaced Donovan. Jarvis punted to Brady, who was downed by Cavalieri on the Friars 15-yard line.

Horgan replaced Cavalieri and Griffin replaced Murray for Holy Cross. O'Keefe punted to Rovinski at midfield. He ran the ball back eight yards. Holy Cross was penalized 15 yards for holding.

There was no further scoring.

13,000 See Crusaders Win, 26-6, Over Friar Eleven

Dominicans Tally First, but Advantage Is Short-Lived.
Purple Then Takes Lead.

Fitton Field, Worcester, Mass., Oct. 3.
—The Providence College football team was defeated, 26 to 6, in its annual game with the Holy Cross eleven here today, but the final score was not indicative of the respective strength of the two teams. The Friars played stellar football, especially at the start, scoring a touchdown in five plays from their own 35-yard line after receiving the opening kickoff to take a 6-0 lead.

The advantage of the Dominicans was short lived, however, as the Crusaders were quick to take advantage of their opponents' mistakes, converting two blocked punts into touchdowns, one in the opening period and the other in the second. These two breaks were the turning points in the game, enabling the Purple outfit to take a lead which it never relinquished.

That early scoring thrust of the Friars was the feature of a cleanly fought contest which was witnessed by 13,000 spectators. It took both the Crusaders and the fans by surprise. It all happened so sudden that it was minutes before the Holy Cross players regained their poise.

Capt. Foster Scores

George Boyle, Friar tackle, caught the opening kick-off on his own 30-yard line and ran the ball back five yards. On the first play of the game, Johnny Brady, Friar quarter, caught the Holy Cross defence napping, hurling a neat pass to Bromgoole, his right end, for a 37-yard gain. This put the ball on the Crusader 28-yard line. Charles O'Keefe, fullback, made 16 yards on three successive plunges at the line, advancing the ball to the 12-yard line. Capt. Mickey Foster circled right end behind perfect interference on the next play for the remaining yards and a touchdown.

In this march the Friars worked well on the offence. The line was outchargin' the Holy Cross forwards. The team had a drive, making the Crusaders look ordinary in contrast. It seemed as though the players were inspired, fighting to attain great heights.

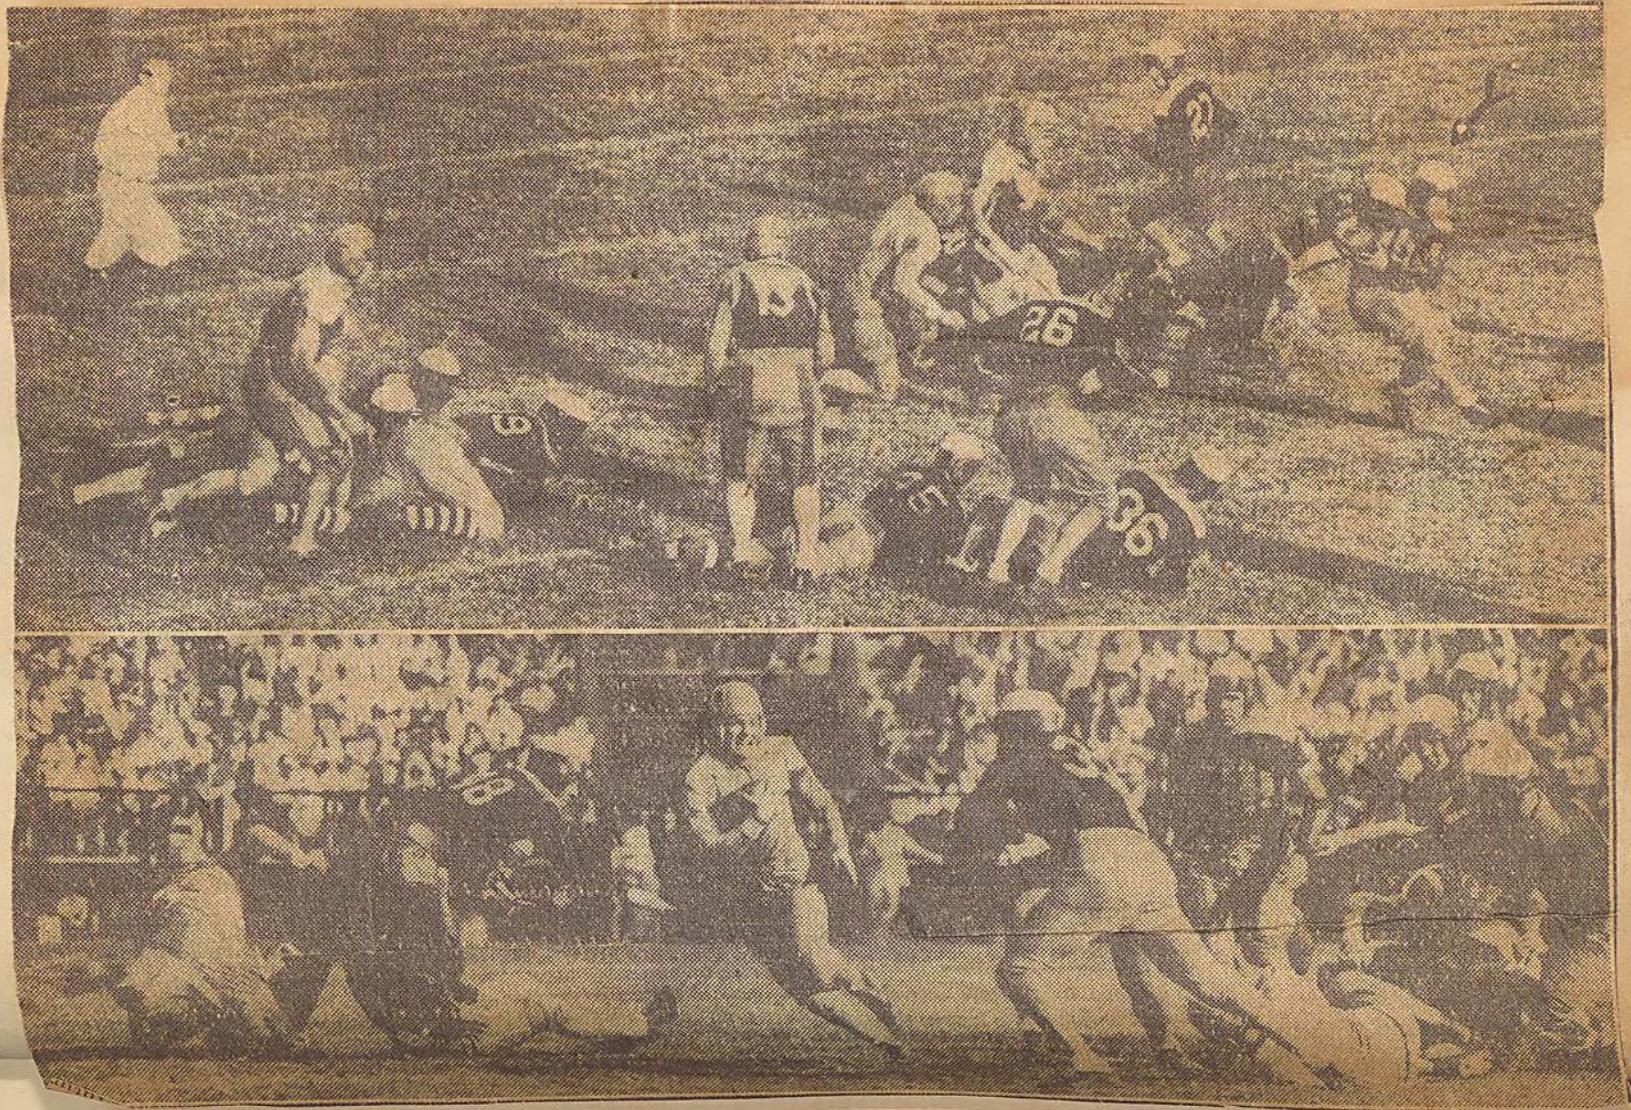

They continued their excellent play for the next five minutes. Holy Cross could not make any headway. The Friar line stopped every thrust hurled at it and the backs were checking the Holy Cross aerial attack.

Count Is Tied

A 15-yard penalty and a fine punt by Capt. Phil O'Connell of the Crusaders sent the Friars deep into their own territory midway in the opening period. O'Keefe dropped back to his 10-yard line to kick out of danger. Ryan, Holy Cross tackle, broke through and blocked the punt. Cavalieri, star end, picked up the loose ball on the five-yard line and ran the remaining distance for a touchdown, which tied the count at six all as Griffin failed to kick a placement for the extra point.

This break against them spurred the Friars to greater determination. Capt. Foster was a real inspiration to his mates. Shortly after the second period opened, Archie Golembeski, Providence College coach, began to send in substitutes. His regulars were outplaying the highly-touted Crusaders.

Many believed that he planned to rest his regulars for a second-half drive, but it was not until the fourth period that he sent his first string players back into the fray. The reserves played during most of the second period and all of the third period. It was easy for the Crusaders to smash through these second and third-string players for their other three touchdowns.

Regulars Play Well

In the two periods in which the regulars played, they held their rivals to even terms. In the first period, they outplayed the Crusaders and in the fourth period, they not only prevented the opposition from scoring but started an aerial attack in the final minutes that only time kept them from scoring.

Every one of the regulars deserves mention for his play. The line, especially, did well. It was outweighed but not outcharged or outplayed. The three centre men, Nawrocki, Mathews and Kutniewsky presented a stonewall defence. Dromgoole scintillated at his end berth. The entire backfield starred. The line-plunging of O'Keefe, the open field running of Capt. Foster, the defensive work of Wright and the passing of Brady standing out.

Holy Cross had its stars. Capt. Phil O'Connell turned in a good performance. Hanus, fullback, hit the line for short consistent gains. Donovan, halfback, came through for some long runs and Clifford also worked in well in the Holy Cross running attack.

Galligan's Punt Blocked

In the second period the play was mostly in Providence College territory. The Friars did not get past midfield. The Crusaders completed a number of aeriels early in this period but did not score, although they were twice within scoring distance. But midway in this session, the effective work of the Crusaders began to gain results.

After about five minutes of play in this period the Friars were driven deep into their territory. Galligan was standing on his 10-yard line and he attempted to punt out of danger. A Holy Cross line-man blocked the punt and the ball went out of bounds. The Crusaders received the ball on the Friar nine-yard line. On the first play O'Connell advanced the ball to the five-yard line and on the next play the rugged Hanus went through centre for the Crusaders' second touchdown, making the score 13-6 in their favor.

Holy Cross scored again in this period on a 55-yard march, starting from their own 45-yard line. Rovinski made 33 yards on an end run, bringing the ball to the Friar 22-yard line. Holy Cross tried two passes but these failed. On the fourth down, Levinsky threw an aerial to Murray, which the latter caught on the five-yard line and ran the remaining yardage for a score.

A 48-yard march by the Crusaders early in the third period resulted in their fourth touchdown. An exchange of punts gave them the ball on the Friar 48-yard line. A series of line bucks with O'Connell, Hanus and Donovan alternating in carrying the ball, brought the Crusaders to their opponents' 28-yard line. Here Donovan skirted left end for the remaining distance and a touchdown. Neither team got within each other's 20-yard line during the remainder of the period.

In the final period with the Friar regulars back in the action, the game took on a closer aspect. Plays were mostly around midfield during the first nine minutes but both teams started offensive drives near the end. A 22-yard run by Clifford and a 10-yard run by Richer brought the Crusaders to their opponents' 20-yard line. Tamulevitch brought the ball to the 11-yard line but here the Friars presented a stonewall defence and the Crusaders lost the ball on downs.

In the final minutes, the Friars completed three aeriels in succession, which carried them from their own 11-yard line to midfield but the final whistle halted their advance.

Brown and Dominicans May Clash in Football Struggle

Mayor Dunne and Reidy, in Line With Young's Request, Will Ask Colleges to Meet for Benefit of City's Jobless Fund.

Brown and Friar football teams may clash on the gridiron this fall for the first time in a game for the relief of unemployment in Providence if a plan which Mayor Dunne and Director of Public Aid Edward P. Reidy have in mind materializes.

Rev. Lorenzo C. McCarthy, O. P., President of Providence College, this morning approved the idea of staging the benefit game and said that Providence College would be glad to donate the services of its team.

Dr. Albert D. Mead, Acting President of Brown University, and Norman S. Taber, chairman of the Brown University Athletic Council, could not be reached this morning as they were attending a meeting of the university corporation.

Following a conference with the Mayor, Mr. Reidy today stated that he intends to wait on the authorities of both institutions and see if it is possible to arrange such a contest.

Both officials feel that a game between the two local elevens would draw a big gate and would furnish a large sum of money when the Director of Public Aid would use in providing fuel and milk for the fireless homes that may be plentiful before winter is over in Providence unless money is forthcoming to heat them.

Hopes They Will Accept

"It strikes me that both Brown and Providence College have an opportunity to do a real service for their community," Mayor Dunne said following his conference with Mr. Reidy. "I certainly hope they will be able to see their way clear to play this game."

The proposal of the Mayor and the Director of Public Aid is in line with a request made yesterday by Owen D. Young, chairman of the committee on mobilization of relief resources of President Hoover's organization on unemployment relief, to every college and school football team in the United States to play at least one game for the benefit of emergency relief funds this fall.

Mr. Young asked that if the benefit games cannot be played during the regular season, that special games be played after the regular season is over.

"I intend to see the authorities of both Brown University and Providence College to find out whether such a game can be arranged," declared Director of Public Aid Reidy following his talk with the Mayor.

"The money from such a game would constitute a fund to supply fuel and milk for the poor during the coming winter months and could be used to good purpose."

Mayor Is Enthusiastic

Mayor Dunne was enthusiastic about the project. "About $20,000 would put us over on a milk fund similar to the one supplied by the employes at City Hall some months ago," he said.

"I think Mr. Reidy's idea is a fine one. We have talked the project over and I shall do anything I can to assist in bringing it to a successful conclusion.

"It is a coincidence that we should have been discussing it just when Owen D. Young was making a similar appeal to all the colleges of the country.

"If the game is arranged, the proceeds would go directly to the Director of Public Aid and would be spent entirely by him. Both institutions have an opportunity to do their community a real service in this emergency and I hope they can see their way clear to do it."

Friars and R. I. State Will Play Benefit For Jobless

*Brown University Offers Use of Stadium for Match
Probably on Armistice Day.—Officials Volunteer Services.—Proceeds to Buy Milk and Fuel*

With team-play auguring well for the success of efforts to relieve unemployment here, Providence College and Rhode Island State College agreed yesterday to meet in a football game; Brown University offered its stadium for that match, probably on Armistice Day; the Rhode Island Association of Football Officials volunteered to serve without pay; and the Providence Board of Aldermen authorized Mayor Dunne to select any existing joint City Council committee to handle arrangements for the affair.

Proceeds of the game are to be used by Director of Public Aid Edward P. Reidy for a milk and fuel fund similar to the one raised last winter to care for families of unemployeys, it was announced.

The date of the game has not been set. Mr. Reidy said last night he will confer today with Rev. Lorenzo C. McCarthy, O. P., president of Providence College, and President Raymond G. Bressler of the State College, to choose a date and discuss other matters such as admission prices.

Both Dr. McCarthy and President Bressler will notify acting President Albert D. Mead of Brown University that they are willing to accept the university's offer of its stadium for the game.

In a letter yesterday to the two college presidents, Dr. Mead told them "Brown is happy to offer the use of its stadium for this game, if it is to be played, and I am assured by the director of athletics that he and the members of his staff will be happy to extend to you every aid and facility." This step was the first of its kind in the history of athletics at Brown.

The Bruins are to engage in a tournament with the Yale, Holy Cross and Dartmouth elevens at New Haven Dec. 5. Net proceeds of this affair will be divided equally among presidents of the four institutions and devoted to unemployment relief as those officials see fit in their respective communities.

Brown's part in this tournament, as well as the agreement of Providence and Rhode Island State Colleges to play here, is part of a nationwide response to an appeal Wednesday by Owen D. Young, chairman of President Hoover's Committee on Mobilization of Relief Sources. Mr. Young called upon all colleges and secondary schools to play at least one game, either in the regular season or as a post-season attraction, for the benefit of the unemployed.

BROWN IS ELIMINATED

Hill Aggregation Scheduled to Play in Tourney at Yale Bowl.

President Lorenzo C. McCarthy, O. P., of Providence College, at noon today dispatched a letter to Mayor Dunne approving of a football game between the Dominican college and Rhode Island State College for the benefit of the unemployed.

With Brown University scheduled to play in a four-team tournament at the Yale Bowl on Dec. 5, as part of a post-season football festival in the east and middle west for the cause of charity, more than a possibility loomed today of a game between Providence College and Rhode Island State College for the same cause.

Brown's decision yesterday came as the result of an invitation from E. K. Hall, chairman of the Intercollegiate Football Rules Committee, to the university on the hill to participate at the bowl in a unique tournament with Yale, Dartmouth and Holy Cross, the net proceeds to be divided equally among the presidents of the institutions involved to be devoted to unemployment relief as they saw fit.

A second such tournament, also arranged by Mr. Hall, will be played at New York on Dec. 9 by Cornell, Columbia, Pennsylvania and Princeton.

Brown Eliminated

Because Brown's acceptance of the invitation virtually ended any chance that the university would play a benefit game with Providence College, as was suggested by Mayor James E. Dunne and Director of Public Aid Edward P. Reidy, it was immediately suggested last night that a game with the Dominicans and Rhode Island State be arranged.

President Raymond G. Bressler said at Kingston that he heartily approved of such a game, and Coach Frank Keany, athletic director of the State College, said he was willing to have his team play against the Dominicans. He suggested that Nov. 11 would be the most convenient date, because Rhode Island State ends its football season Nov. 14, and basketball activities begin there early in December.

When President Lorenzo C. McCarthy, O. P. of Providence College was interviewed over the telephone this morning, he said he was still open-minded on the subject.

"When I received an indirect invitation from the Mayor and Mr. Reidy on the Brown game," he said, "I consented to offer the services of the team. I am still very open-minded on the matter, but I would rather the invitation came directly from the Mayor and Mr. Reidy. I shall call the Mayor today."

Mr. Reidy announced this morning that he would see Mayor Dunne this morning and discuss with him the possibility of a game between the Dominicans and Rhode Island State.

Acting President Albert D. Mead, who authorized Brown's participation in the tournament at New Haven, said he has not decided how Brown's share of the proceeds will be distributed. It is his opinion, he added, that the sum sent each of the college heads will go for relief of unemployed in communities in which the respective institutions are located.

Dr. Mead credited Mr. Hall with having "worked very hard" to arrange the two tournaments after representatives of the eight universities and colleges in the New England and Middle Atlantic States had worked out the plan in response to a request by Owen D. Young, chairman of President Hoover's Committee on Mobilization of Relief Resources.

Brown Refuses Friars' Game

Whatever possibility existed that the Bruins and Friars might meet for the benefit of unemployed in this city faded last night when Mr. Taber explained Brown could not consider a post-season contest in addition to the tournament at New Haven.

Director of Public Aid Reidy conferred with Mayor Dunne yesterday morning and announced he intended to ask authorities of both institutions if it were possible to arrange a game, the proceeds of which would be used by the Department of Public Aid to provide fuel and milk to needy families in Providence this winter. The Mayor, who backed the project, pointed out that "about $20,000 would put us over on a milk fund similar to the one supplied by the employes at City Hall some months ago."

In other sections of the country, the benefit football game plan proposed by Owen D. Young has met with widespread approval. Mr. Young, urging colleges and schools to arrange at least one game for the jobless, said millions of dollars could be added to emergency funds in this way.

Big Ten May Raise Million

The Big Ten, composed of outstanding gridiron teams in the Midwest, has decided to have five post-season games expected to draw more than 200,000 persons and net the unemployed close to $1,000,000. Because these post-season games will be between conference teams, there apparently is no chance that Notre Dame and Northwestern, who played a scoreless tie last week, will stage a return engagement, as has been suggested.

Down South, the teams from Georgia Tech and University of California are to meet in a regular intersectional game and the Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children at Atlanta will receive 25 per cent. of the gross receipts.

Temple University and the Frankford Yellow Jackets, a professional outfit, have agreed to games, but not with each other. Temple wants to play Pennsylvania at Franklin Field, Philadelphia, Dec. 12, and the Yellow Jackets are willing to meet any team.

In making his announcement of the tournaments next month, Mr. Hall said that the eight institutions are "as a matter of fundamental and far-reaching principle, definitely opposed to the playing of post-season and benefit games."

"It is their conviction," he went on, "that college football games, no matter how worthy the cause, tend distinctly toward commercialism, which is undoubtedly the greatest single menace of college sports today.

"They recognize, however, that the call of the president's representative in the time of national emergency opens up the question in an entirely different form and calls for its reconsideration from an entirely new point of view."

Friars Entertain Vermont in Cycledrome Game Today

A squad of 28 stalwarts from the University of Vermont arrived here last night with the intent purpose of defeating the Providence College football team in their clash this afternoon at the Cycledrome. This is the fourth meeting between the Green Mountaineers and the Friars, with the former holding a two to one edge in the series. The Dominicans will enter the fray favorites to win, but Vermont is determined to score a victory and remain in front of their rivals in the series standing.

There will be three changes in the Friar lineup to day. Replacing Franny Dromgoole at right end will be Martin Thompson, 175-pounder from Enfield, Conn., who will be starting his first game for the Dominicans. Edward Mardosa will play at left guard in place of Lou Mathews, regular, who was injured in the Holy Cross game. The other newcomer to the Friar Varsity is Charles Burdge, 210-pounder from Warren, who won the right tackle assignment from Charles Boyle.

Played At Subs

All three newcomers to the starting lineup played as substitutes in the Holy Cross game and all turned in good performances. The elevation of Thompson to the Varsity was the most surprising, as he was only a third string player until the game with the Crusaders. It was in this game that Thompson caught the eyes of the coaches with his fine play and he was closely watched during the past week of practice. The mentors are satisfied that he is ready for Varsity play.

The only injured players on the squad are Dexter Davis, Peter Gilligan, ends; and Lou Mathews. Chick Bieller, who has been out of the line-up since the Rutgers contest, will be ready for play today. He was throwing passes in yesterday's drill.

Owen Callahan will team with Burdge at tackle for the Friars. With Thompson on the wings will be Ollie Roberge. Bill Kutniewski will be the other guard.

Centre Uncertain

Who will play centre for the Friars depends on the result of the toss. If the Friars go on the defensive at the start, Eddie Nawrocki of Fall River will start, but if the Friars are on the offensive Eddie Derivan will take the post. Nawrocki, who weighs 197 pounds, is an excellent defensive player. Derivan weighs only 160 pounds, but is speedy and is adept at dropping out of the line for interference purposes.

Johnny Brady, fast and shifty quarterback, will general the team. Brady is a fine running back and a good forward passer. He is expected to shine today in both these roles. Brady hurled some fine aerials against Holy Cross. With Brady in the backfield will be the capable Capt. Mickey Foster, Joseph Wright and Charles O'Keefe. Foster and Wright will be the halfbacks and O'Keefe the fullback.

This set of backs is light, averaging 163 pounds, but all four players are fast and shifty. Each one of them is capable of some fine broken field running and receiving support from the line, they should do damage today to Vermont. The Friar backfield lacks a heavy line-plunging back but the speed of the starting backfield offsets the lack of a heavy line battering back.

May Use Air Attack

The Dominicans in all probability will unleash an aerial attack against the Green Mountaineers today. The Friars managed to catch the Crusaders flat-footed on passes last Saturday, making much headway by air. The coaches have been polishing the team's aerial attack during the past week and the Vermont defence against aerials will receive a real test.

The running attack of the Friars also functioned well last Saturday. This was due to the fine work of the linemen who opened some big holes for their backs. With the heavy Burdge in the lineup, the Friar line is expected to turn in another good performance.

Vermont may also test the Friar defence for aerials today, as the Green Mountains boys used the air with much effect against St. John's College of Brooklyn last week. Of the six passes attempted by Vermont, four were completed for 44 yards. St. John's completed five out of 12 passes.

Specialize in Laterals

Vermont is specializing in lateral passes this season and the team has met with much success in this play. St. John's was fooled a number of times by Vermont laterals and without doubt the invaders will try a number of them today. In yesterday's drill the Friars worked out against Vermont plays built around lateral passes.

Vermont has some good punters and the Friars kickers have to show much improvement in this department to hold their own with the invaders. The Vermont punters held an advantage over their St. John's rivals last Saturday.

The Friar kickers did not fare very well in punting in the Holy Cross game but the kickers have been drilled all week and an improvement should be shown today.

DOMINICANS WIN BY EARLY ATTACK

Score Four Times in Three Periods; Mountaineers Rally in Final; Game Ends 27-13.

Flashing a powerful offensive attack during the first three periods which swept through its rival for four touchdowns, the Providence College football team scored a 27 to 13 victory over the University of Vermont gridders at the Cycledrome yesterday afternoon. During three-quarters of the game, the visitors' offence was timid but it became ferocious in the final quarter when with Saba, substitute quarterback, leading the attack they scored two touchdowns and were on their way to another when the game ended.

There were two individual star performers in the game. For Vermont, it was Saba who scintillated, and for the Friars it was Captain Mickey Foster, who again demonstrated that he is one of the best small college halfbacks in the East. Foster scored three touchdowns and made numerous other long runs for his team.

Saba Gets Started

The highlight of the game was produced by Saba, who went into the game midway in the second period. Saba did not get started until the final session but once he got started, there was no stopping him. He ran 65 yards for a touchdown soon after the fourth period started and it was his brilliant play which made possible the second Vermont score.

That 65-yard run by Saba was sensational and it proved to be the needed spark for his mates. Saba found a hole in the Friar line and by some fine broken field running eluded the opposing secondary defence to run unmolested for a touchdown. This run inspired the Vermont players. They played the Friars off their feet during their remarkable final period rally.

Saba, besides making a number of long runs, excelled in other departments. He ran his team well, came through with some long punts and hurled and caught passes with equal proficiency.

Foster presented the spectators with an excellent exhibition of broken field running. He made long gains every time he carried the ball, showing much dash and speed on every rush he made.

The Dominicans as a team played good football. The blocking was the best shown by a Friar team in years. The backs received excellent interference. The Dominicans were hitting with power and precision.

Linemen Play Well.

The Providence College linemen turned in another fine game. They charged hard and low, opened big holes for their backs and stopped most of the Vermont thrusts at the line. Owen Callahan and Edward Mardosa both featured. Their defensive play saved the Friars on many occasions. Wright and O'Keefe also excelled in the backfield. O'Keefe made a number of short consistent gains while Wright got away for a number of long runs.

The Dominicans used three quarterbacks, Brady, Bleiler and Conley. Brady started but Bleiler saw the most service and he did his job well. He directed his team in high order.

The winners stole lateral pass honors from Vermont. The Green Mountaineers have specialized in laterals this season but they could do nothing in this department yesterday, while the Friars did. Much yardage made by the Friars came from lateral pass plays built around Foster.

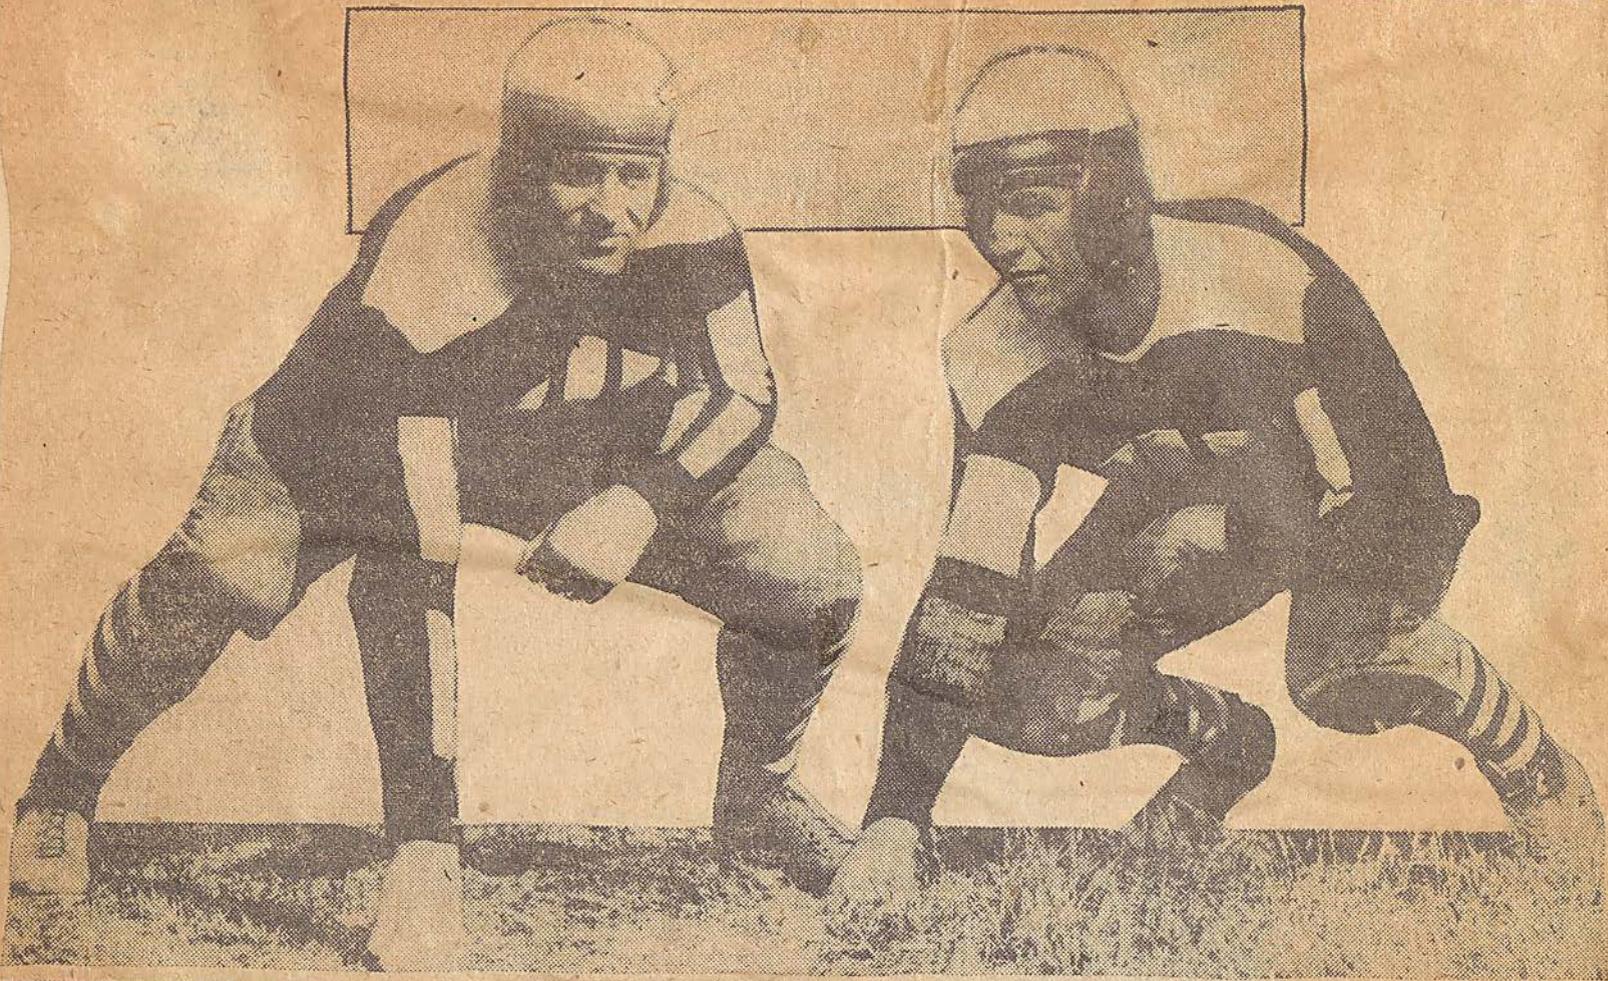

Two of the Friar touchdowns came as a result of long marches. In the first period the winners made their second touchdown after a 45-yard drive and in the second period they scored after a 63-yard march. The opening Friar score came from a fumble recovered by Burdge on Vermont's 15-yard line. The other came in the third period after a 30-yard march.

The second touchdown made by Vermont was the result of a 58-yard march with Saba, Rapuano and Winnant leading an attack which ended in Rapuano going over from the 10-yard line.

Play in the first period was mostly in Vermont territory. The visitors were mostly on the defensive. The Friars started well but they could not put over a score in the early minutes. Standing on his own 20-yard line, midway in the first period, O'Keefe came through with a long punt that Bove, Vermont, fumbled. Burdge recovered for the Friars on Vermont's 15-yard line. O'Keefe and Foster alternated in carrying the ball to the one-yard line and Foster went over for a score on an off-tackle play.

Friars Score Again

Shortly after this an exchange of punts gave the Friars the ball on their own 45-yard line and a touchdown march resulted. Wright made 15 yards to bring the ball to the 30-yard line. Foster made 20 yards around right end to advance to Vermont's 10-yard line. Two plunges by O'Keefe brought the ball to the three-yard mark and Foster made the remaining distance for a score.

In the second period, the Friars staged their 63-yard march, which started from their own 37-yard mark. With Foster, O'Keefe and Wright carrying the ball, the Friars reached Vermont's 27-yard line. Here a lateral pass. Wright to Foster, netted the Friars first down on Vermont's one-yard line. O'Keefe went over for the score.

The Friars did not get within scoring distance in the third period until midway in the session. A poor Vermont kick gave them the ball on their opponents' 30-yard line. O'Keefe made two yards on the first play. Foster next came through with a 19-yard run on a triple pass play to advance to Vermont's 19-yard line. Two rushes by O'Keefe brought the Friars to the eight-yard line. On the next play ~~Foster~~ went around right end for a score after being nearly downed by three would-be Vermont tacklers.

It was all Vermont in the final period. First came Saba's 65-yard touchdown run and then came its 58-yard march for a score. A punt from Galligan was caught by Saba on his own 30-yard line and he ran it back 12 yards to Vermont's 42-yard mark by Saba and Rapuano brought the ball to the Friars' 35-yard line. A pass. Rapuano to Winant, gained 13 yards and brought Vermont to the 22-yard line. Two rushes by Saba brought Vermont to the 10-yard line and from this point Rapuano went over for a touchdown.

Consistent short g

An intercepted Friar pass by Saba at midfield started Vermont toward another touchdown march, but time intervened when they had the ball on the Providence College 23-yard line.

FRIARS LOOKING AHEAD

PARTICULARLY pleasing to followers of Providence College football at the Vermont game Saturday was the showing of the second string line which Coach Archie Golembeski shot into the fray midway in the second quarter. The reserve forwards appeared to be a substantial bunch of lads and more than held their own against the visitors. A complete and reliable second string forward wall is something of an innovation in Friar football, lack of reserve line material having handicapped the Dominicans ever since the grid pastime was inaugurated at Providence.

Looking toward next football season with the current schedule just about under way may seem a bit previous, but that's just what Golembeski and his aides, Joe McGee and Tom Bride, are doing. They figure that material from the present second string forward wall will fill in an efficient manner the gaps which will be left in the first string line by next June's graduation. And then there's a husky group of third stringers coming up.

Undoubtedly Golembeski and Company have the right idea, building up a team for one or two years ahead. It's something the Friars haven't been able to do in the past, but the second stringers' work Saturday shows that they're headed in the right direction. Providence has had some mighty clever ball-carriers during its gridiron history, but against big college teams few of them have been able to do any substantial gaining. It's practically impossible for even the smartest pigskin-toter to break away down the field when some five or six husky opponents come crashing through a tired line as the ball is snapped. There's no telling what Mickey Foster, the Dominicans' current big threat, would be able to do if he always had a strong line in front of him.

Depleted Friar Squad Leaves Today for Clarkson Game

Brady and Le Blanc Head List of Six Injured Players Not Making Trip.

A Providence College football squad of 21 players will leave late this afternoon for Potsdam, N. Y., where tomorrow afternoon the Friars will oppose the Clarkson College eleven. This will be the fourth game for the Dominicans who are confident of chalking up their second straight victory. The players will leave here by bus for Worcester where they will go by train to Potsdam.

The Friars will be somewhat handicapped by injuries in tomorrow's game as a number of regulars and substitutes will be left behind. Johnny Brady, quarterback, who injured two ribs in the game with Vermont, will not make the trip, and neither will Ted Le Blanc, halfback, Charles Boyle and Bill McCarthy, tackles, Irving Katznelson, guard, and Dexter Davis, end.

Brady, who has starred in all the Friar games this season, will not be ready for action for at least four or five days. He was on the field yesterday, but not in uniform.

Foster Also Hurt

It was indicated last night that Capt. Mickey Foster, may not be able to play the entire game against Clarkson as he has a slight injury to his knee. Foster did not take part in yesterday's workout. The Friar captain, however, will see action tomorrow.

It is definitely assured that Le Blanc, hard luck member of the squad, would be out of the lineup for at least three weeks. Boyle is bothered by a fractured hip. McCarthy has a bad knee and Davis is still hampered by a shoulder injury he received early in the season. Boyle, Davis, McCarthy and Katznelson all participated in yesterday's drill, but neither one is in condition for the Clarkson game.

The Friars have put in a hard week of practice. The substitutes especially were put through strenuous sessions. They took part in three successive days of scrimmage. The regulars had light drills on Monday and Tuesday, but they were used in Wednesday's scrimmage. Yesterday the candidates were sent through another hard session. Considerable time was spent on passing and punting. The linemen were sent through a general conditioning workout.

Two new players who have come to the fore of late are Paul Healy, diminutive quarterback from New Bedford, and Charles Hanetow, halfback from Warren. Both were outstanding performers in the three scrimmages held this week. Healy is a good running back with much promise, but he has not had much experience.

Clarkson Boasts Good Team

Although they will be handicapped by injuries, the Friars are confident of defeating Clarkson College, which it is reported has its best team in history. Clarkson has played three games to date, winning two and losing one. The one defeat received was at the hands of Cornell. Last Saturday Clarkson downed Rennselaer.

The Dominicans played some good football against Holy Cross and Vermont, their last two opponents, and continuing their fine play, they should chalk up another victory over Clarkson.

Following are the players who will leave this afternoon for Potsdam: Ends—Ollie Roberge, Charles Jorn, Martin Thompson and Peter Gobis. Tackles—Charles Burdge, Owen Callahan, Dick Burns and Joe Adamick. Guards—Edward Mardosa, Lou Mathews, Bill Kuniewski and Wally Planka. Centres—Edward Nawrocki, Edward Derivan and John Shott. Quarterbacks—Chick Bleiler and Paul Healy. Halfbacks—Capt. Mickey Foster, Joseph Wright, Anthony Barbarito and Charles Hanetow. Fullbacks—Charles O'Keefe and Cy Galigan.

It is likely that Head Coach Archie Golembeski will give the players who are making the trip to Potsdam a blackboard talk early this afternoon. The players who remain behind will go through a regular practice session this afternoon at Hendricken Field under the direction of Joe McGee, assistant coach.

FRIARS TRIUMPH OVER CLARKSON

Score 6-0 Victory on Fumble Behind Goal Line in Third Period.

(Special to the Providence Journal.)
Potsdam, N. Y., Oct. 17.—A fumble by Zimmer, Clarkson College fullback, behind his goal line in the third period which was recovered by Louis Mathews and Bill Kutniewski, Providence College guards, enabled the Friars to score a 6 to 0 victory here this afternoon. The game, which was played under a steady downpour of rain, was keenly fought.
The Clarkson gridders had many occasions to score, but they did not have the needed punch in the crucial moments of the game.

The Friars broke through with their lone score of the game soon after the start of the third period when O'Keefe, fullback, drove Clarkson back to its own two-yard line. Here Zimmer went back to kick out of danger but he fumbled the pass from centre and Mathews and Kutniewski pounced on the ball behind the Clarkson goal line. The latter was credited with the touchdown. O'Keefe's attempted placement for the extra point failed.

Foster Out of Game.

The Friars played without their captain, Mickey Foster, star halfback, who has a knee injury, and the absence of their leader took much punch out of the Dominican offence.

Clarkson gave the Friars opposition all the way, making 10 first downs to the invaders' three, as the result of opening up with their smart aerial attack, a backfield forward from Zimmer to Hutterman, Cuban ace of the locals, proved to be the best ground-gaining play of the day, the Clarkson signal caller reeling off several long runs, one for 32 yards. A stout Providence defence proved too much for this attack when the locals were within scoring distance.
The first period was evenly contested with both teams resorting to straight football and as a result play was for the most part between the 40-yard strips, but in the second canto Clarkson opened with its backward and forward passes, and gave the Friars a few scares.

Consistent March

A consistent march carried the locals to the visitors' 25-yard tape when Providence took the ball on downs on an incomplete forward over the goal line. As the half ended Clarkson again opened with full force and with Scrupski, Putterman and Zimmer pounding off the tackles and sweeping the ends marched to the Dominicans' 10-yard marker when the mid-game whistle halted their goalward trek.

Providence started the third period prepared to open fire with its trick plays and aerials, and if necessary Captain Foster was ready to take his place in the lineup at left half to speed the offence.
However, the break of the game turned the tide to the Friars and so Coach Golembeski took no chances and ordered the team to resort entirely to running plays. After an exchange of punts in the third period O'Keefe, who starred all afternoon by his all-around defensive play, hoisted a long kick over Hutter-man's head, the ball rolling to the five-yard stripe. As the Clarkson signal-barker made the pickup he was nailed in his tracks by Callahan.

How Score Was Made

Zimmer gained two yards at right tackle and Scrupski was stopped for no gain at centre before Zimmer went back to kick. The pass from centre was low and as Zimmer endeavored to grasp the mud-caked oval, the entire Providence forward wall swooped down upon him.
The ball slipped out of his grasp and Kutniewski and Mathews, Dominican guards, recovered behind the goal line for a score. Bleiler held the ball for O'Keefe's place kick but th try went for naught when the leather caromed off to the side of the field.

Forced to battle for a score, Clarkson tried all its formations and for the remainder of the game kept the visitors on edge. One advance carried to the Friar 25-yard line before the Golembeski men rallied and took the ball on downs.
The game ended with Providence in possession on thier own 25-yard tape, when Gobis recovered a Clarkson fumble.

The game was the first of the charity contests to be staged by the northern New York colleges and in spite of the inclement weather attracted a sizeable crowd. Both teams turned in excellent play with Hutterman the best bet for the locals and O'Keefe, Gobbis, Kut-niewski and Mathews starring for the Rhode Islanders.

PROVIDENCE COLLEGE TO FACE R. I. STATE IN CHARITY GAME

FRIARS-R. I. STATE
TO MEET NOV. 28

College Officials Agree on Date for Charity Game at Brown Stadium.

The lone major question that remained in negotiations for a Providence College and Rhode Island State football game for charity was answered yesterday when the presidents of both colleges agreed on Saturday, Nov. 22, as the best available date for the game.

Mayor James E. Dunne announced yesterday that both Rev. Lorenzo C. McCarthy, O. P., president of Providence College, and President Raymond G. Bressler of Rhode Island State favored Nov. 28 as the day for the game, which will be played at Brown stadium.

It was at first believed that the game would be played on Wednesday, Nov. 11, but inasmuch as both the Friars and Rams have games on the Saturdays preceding and following Nov. 11, it was not deemed advisable to subject the players to three hard games within seven days. State concludes its gridiron season on Nov. 14, which will give Coach Frank Keaney two weeks in which to prime his players for the game with the Friars. The latter do not end their season until Nov. 21 against Catholic University at Washington, D. C. This is one of the objective games for the Dominicans.

Other details regarding the staging of the game have not yet been completed, but a committee of the City Council will be named within a short time to take charge of arrangements.

This will be the first meeting between R. I. State and Providence College and considerable enthusiasm is being shown in their meeting. Despite the fact that the two colleges do not meet in athletics, there is considerable rivalry between them and both will give their best to score a victory.

Already speculation has been rife as to the respective abilities of the prospective rivals. Both have their supporters and as a result a large gathering is expected to be at the Brown Stadium to watch these teams perform and at the same time do their share toward the relief of the unemployed.

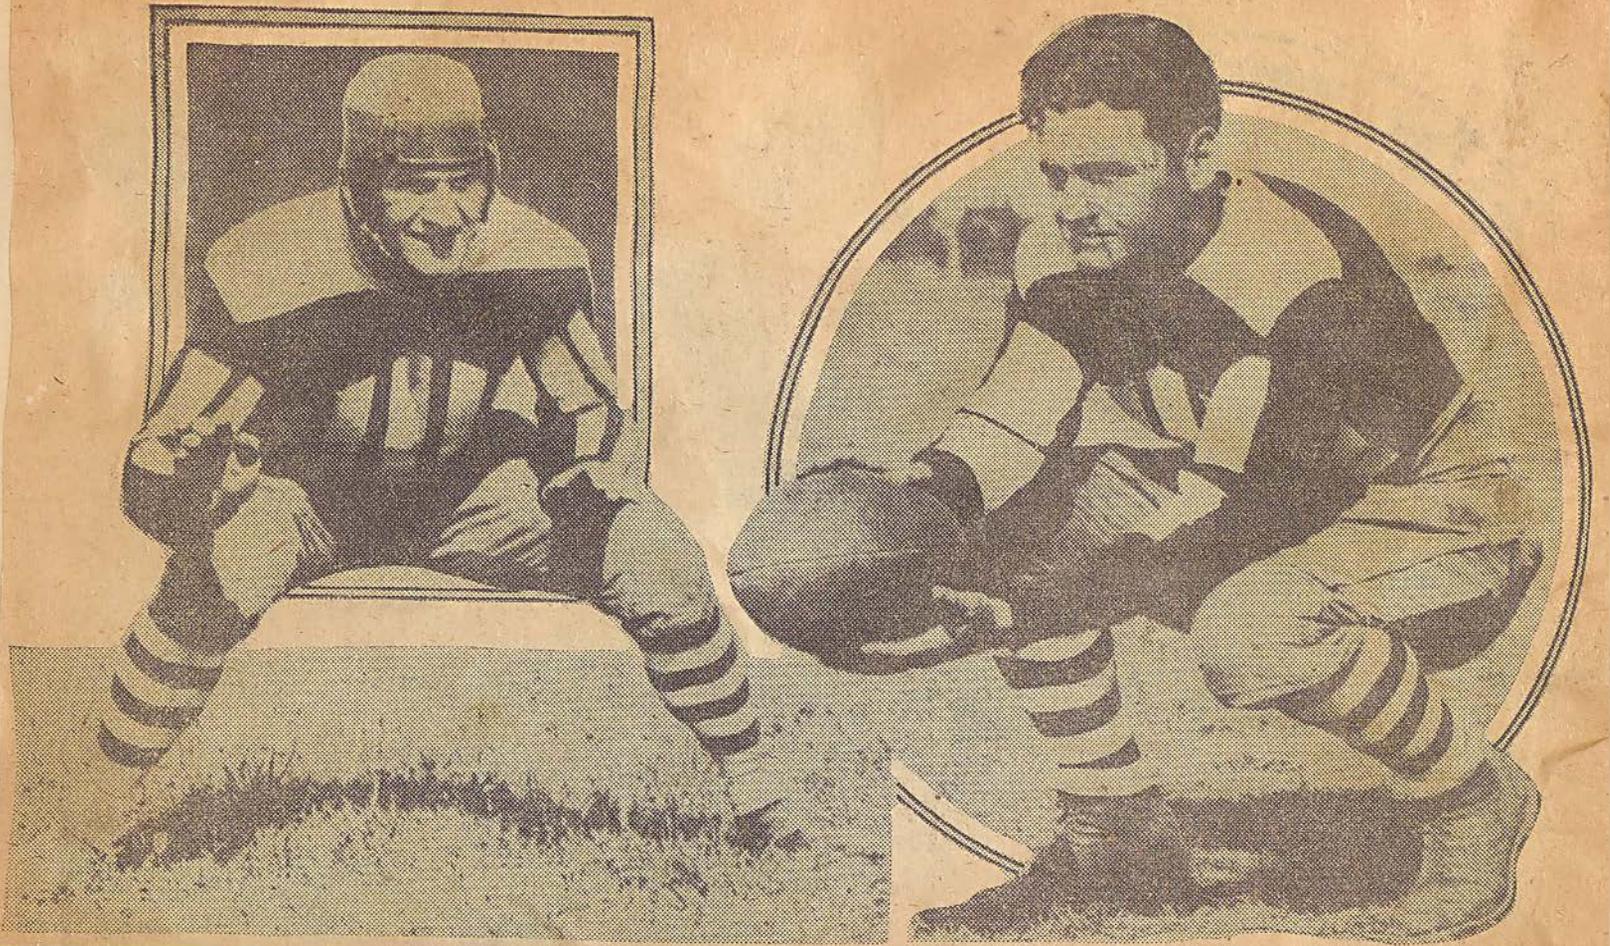

Regarding the abilities of the teams not much as yet can be said with certainty as both have many testing games before their encounter. But from present indications, there is little to choose between them. Both have lost games already, but to rivals not in their own class. Against teams of their own standing, both the Rams and the Friars have shown exceptionally well, winning the majority of these games. Against Brown, State made a good showing as did Providence College against Holy Cross.

Already the grid fans are discussing the respective merits of Capt. Mickey Foster of the Friars and Kenneth Goff, one of the State captains. Both are exceptionally good players, ranking with the best small college backs in the East. The duel between these two players will be worth watching. Both have starred in game after game for their teams.

This will be the last college game for both and naturally they will endeavor to outdo themselves. On many occasions arguments have ensued when the names of Foster and Goff were brought out in local grid circles. It was agreed that both were high class backs but discussions followed attempts to decide which was the better.

As State and Providence College did not meet on the gridiron, the two players could not face each other but now this is possible with the arrangement of the post season charity game and the long-sought-for dual between Foster and Goff will be held after all.

Friars Who Face Norwich Today

Friars Take Advantage of Breaks; Whip Norwich

Two Fumbles Aid Dominicans
in Piling Up 24 to 0 Score at Cycledrome.

Old-fashioned football as presented yesterday by the Norwich University football team failed to find its mark against the Providence College gridgers and as a result the Friars scored a 24 to 0 victory over the Horsemen at the Cycledrome in a game which was marked by frequent penalties and ragged play.

Norwich played a conservative offensive game, employing straight line plunges most of the time with the ball in its possession. The Dominican forwards managed to stop almost every thrust hurled at them and consequently their road to victory was easy. The locals were far from their best form but as their best was not essential to victory, they showed enough to prove themselves the better team.

Norwich's conservatism on the offensive may be traced to this; The Horsemen wanted to keep the Friars' score as low as possible. They wanted to make a better showing against the locals than did Vermont, their bitter rival, and whom they will meet later in the season in the Vermont college championship series. They practically conceded the Friars victory before they started. They were looking for breaks which did not come their way. Norwich has more tricks than it displayed yesterday but the team is saving them for Vermont and Middlebury, as to defeat these two teams is the objective of every Norwich player.

Friars Get "Breaks"

As observed, Norwich did not get any breaks yesterday. The breaks came to the Friars who converted two Norwich fumbles into touchdowns, one in the second period and the other in the fourth. The winners scored four touchdowns. The one in the first period came as a result of a 20-yard pass, Bleiler to O'Keefe. The second came early in the same period when Thompson, Providence College end, recovered a Norwich fumble on the cadets' five-yard line from which point Barbarito went over for a score.

Another Friar touchdown came in the second quarter. A 25-yard run by Barbarito brought the ball to Norwich's three-yard line and here Galligan made the touchdown on a "spinner" play. The final touchdown in the final period was scored by Brady from the four-yard line. Skipp, Dominican end, recovered when Norwich fumbled on its four-yard line, making possible Brady's score.

The winners played their best football in the first and final periods. They showed better teamwork in these two sessions. A number of substitutes were used by the Friars during the game. It was the substitute backs who starred. Cy Galligan turned in a fine game. He hit the Norwich line for consistent short gains. Barbarito, the speedy halfback, turned in his best performance of the season. Johnny Brady, who has not seen action since the Vermont game, mixed good football with bad, but he came through with two of the longest runs of the game. Capt. Mickey Foster of the Friars played only one period but he starred during that time.

Brady ran back a Norwich punt 42 yards in the final period and near the end of the game he came through with a 37-yard run from scrimmage.

Fanos, 152-pound centre, was the best performer for Norwich. This youth was a tower of strength on the defensive stopping many of the Friar thrusts at the line. Pat Del Vecchio, who played little less than one-half of the game, also starred on the defensive. The former local schoolboy star, however, could not make much headway carrying the ball. Weiss was Norwich's best back.

Score in First Period

The Friars scored their first touchdown midway in the opening period. After an exchange of punts they got the ball on their own 35-yard line and here Foster making some long runs, the Friars brought the ball to Norwich's 20-yard line.

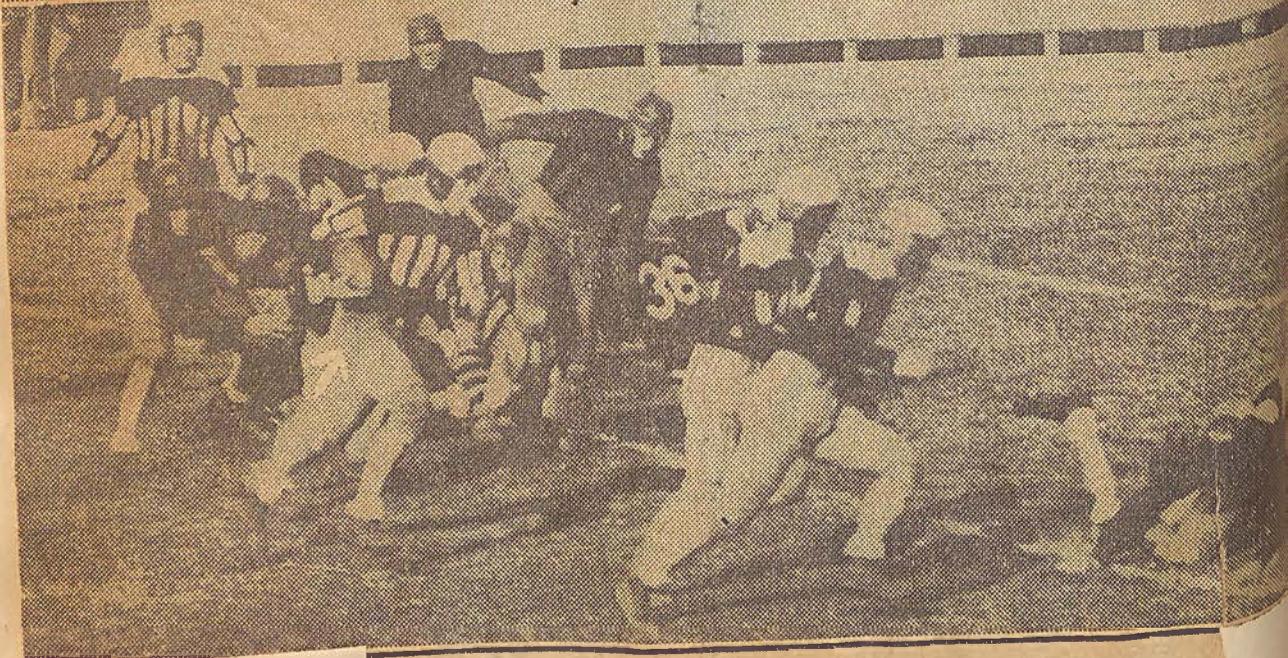

Bleiler stepped back and hurled a beautiful pass to his fullback, O'Keefe who caught it on the one-yard line and ran over for the touchdown. Foster's attempt to kick the extra point failed.

Neither team came within scoring distance during the remainder of the first period.

Early in the second period Providence College started a march from its own 45-yard line but a 25-yard penalty halted this advance, after the team had reached Norwich's 15-yard line. Soon after Norwich fumbled on its five-yard line and Thompson recovered, Barbarito went over on the first play for a score. Galligan's placement kick for the extra point went wide.

Norwich Cadets Unable to Stop Friar Ar

Galligan Crashes Through

Play continued in midfield for the next five minutes of this period, but near the end of this session with Barbarito and Galligan starring in the Friar backfield, they again were within scoring distance. The Friars blocked O'Brien's, Norwich quarterback, punt on the cadets' 38-yard line. On the first two plays Bleiler and Galligan made first down on the 28-yard line. Barbarito then came through with a 25-yard end run to bring the ball to the three-yard line where Galligan went over on a "spinner" play.

The third period found Norwich flashing its best defence. The Friars did not make hardly any headway and play was mostly around midfield. Providence College reached Norwich's 35-yard line on one march, but here aeriels went astray.

Play in the fourth period was entirely in favor of the Dominicans. Early in the session they advanced to Norwich's 28-yard line, but aeriels again failed to gain for the team and they were forced to punt. Brady caught O'Brien's kick on his own 40-yard line and he ran the ball back to Norwich's 15-yard line. This run by Brady was the best of the game as he was dangerously close to the outside line and it appeared as though he was going to be downed as soon as he caught the ball.

The Friars opened wide, but they could not score after making a first down on the five-yard line. Two passes were tried but they failed, and Norwich received the ball on downs. On the second play with the ball on its own five-yard line Norwich fumbled and Skipp recovered for the Friars on Norwich's three-yard line.

Brady went round right end for the three yards and the final touchdown of the game.

FRIARS TRIUMPH OVER LOWELL 19-6

Brilliant Offensive Attack in Last Quarter Brings Victory.—Barbarito Shines.

(Special to the Providence Journal)
Lowell, Mass., Oct. 31.—A brilliant offensive attack in the final period, featured by the excellent ball-carrying of Anthony Barbarito, substitute halfback, netted the Providence College team two touchdowns and enabled the Friars to score a 19 to 6 victory over the Lowell Textile eleven here this afternoon in a clean and hard fought game. The largest crowd to watch a Lowell Textile game this season attended.

The Friars were extended to the limit by the homesters, who put up a surprisingly strong battle. Lowell held the Dominicans to even terms during the first three periods of play but their superior manpower began to tell on the opposition in the final session. Lowell fought gamely in face of a losing battle in the ultimate quarter.

Barbarito Supplies Punch

It was Barbarito who supplied the needed punch to the Friar offensive.
Every time this fleet-footed back carried the ball, he came through with long gains and he was by far the outstanding player on the field. Barbarito also seemed an inspiration to his mates, who gave him effective interference every time he carried the ball.

The Friars scored first, midway in the first period when a perfectly executed lateral pass play, Wright to Capt. Foster netted 22 yards and a touchdown. A 40-yard pass, Walker to Savara, near the end of the first period, brought Lowell Textile a touchdown which tied the score at six all. This deadlock remained until the final period when the Friars put on their winning drive.

Lowell displayed a strong offensive attack, which functioned especially well in the second period when the homesters had two chances to score only to lack the final drive. The first of these aerial drives brought the Textilers to the Friars' eight-yard line. Three thrusts were made at the line but the Friars presented a stonewall defence. On fourth down a Lowell aerial went into the end zone and with it a chance to score and take the lead. Shortly after this another attack by air carried the determined homesters again to the eight-yard line. Two rushes brought the ball to the five-yard mark but again an aerial went over the end zone.

NIAGARA UNIVERSITY FIELD,

score of 13 to 6. There was a large crowd in attendance.

First Period

Providence kicked off to Niagara.
Clark took the kick and ran it back to the 40-yard line. Niagara kicked on its third down. Providence polled a quick kick and Clark fell on the ball on his own 15-yard line. Niagara tried to kick but Davis of Providence blocked the leather. Niagara secured possession on the next play when Shortell recovered a fumble. Niagara kicked to the 40-yard line. Foster of the visitors made nine yards around left end.
O'Keefe went through tackle for a 29-yard gain to put the sphere on Niagara's three-yard line. On the next play O'Keefe went over for a touchdown. He also kicked the extra point.
Fleishman took the kickoff for Niagara and ran it back 35 yards to midfield.
Niagara kicked to Providence's 15-yard line as the first quarter ended.

Second Quarter

Niagara punted to midfield to start the period. Both teams tried passes in the first few minutes of play but were unable to gain as both had passes intercepted. Clark of Niagara was thrown for a 10-yard loss on an attempted end run. On the following play, however, he caught a 12-yard pass from Sneider and ran 55 yards for a touchdown. Fleishman missed the kick for the extra point. On this play Clark was forced to his knees to catch the ball but got to his feet, escaped three tacklers along the side line and then cut diagonally across the field. Providence kicked off to Niagara and on the first play Barbarito intercepted a pass on his own 40-yard line and carried it to Niagara's 30-yard stripe. Clark was injured in this play but continued to play. Providence gained 10 yards on three line plays. O'Keefe broke through center on a spinner play and ran the 20 yards for a touchdown. His kick for the extra point was low. Niagara again received the kickoff which Lipan ran back to his own 36-yard line. Providence drew a five-yard penalty. Brady intercepted Clark's pass and ran it back ten yards in midfield. Wright gained eight yards around the end. Lynch of Niagara tackled Brady for an 18-yard loss on an attempted pass as the half ended.

Score at end of first half: Providence 13, Niagara 6.

Third Period

Niagara kicked off with O'Keefe of Providence, receiving. He carried the ball back to his own 35-yard line. Wright gained ten yards off tackle and had a clear field before him when he was brought down by Lipas. Providence was penalized 15 yards. Providence kicked to Niagaras 40-yard line. O'Keefe intercepted a Niagara pass in midfield. Providence drew another penalty losing five yards for staying too long in a huddle. Barbarito gained eight yards around end. Wright made 12 more. O'Keefe failed to gain on the next four plays and Niagara secured possession. Niagara punted to midfield. Brady made 13 yards on an end run. Brady gained five. O'Keefe tore off a 19-yard gain. Barbarito made six more. The ball was on Niagara's five-yard line when the quarter ended.

FRIARS TURN BACK

NIAGARA 13 TO 6

O'Keefe Scores All Points for Dominicans.—Purple Has
First Home Defeat.

(Special to the Providence Journal)

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Nov. 7.—Football tradition was made and broken here this afternoon as an aggressive Providence College eleven scored its fifth straight triumph of the season, the longest win streak in its history, by downing Niagara University by a 13 to 6 count. The setback was the first to be sustained by the local college on its own field in its grid history, and was undoubtedly the finest game to be staged in this city in years.

To Charlie O'Keefe, husky Sophomore fullback from Fall River, went the bulk of the credit for the triumph of the Friars. Relieved of the punting work for the first time this fall by Johnny Brady, O'Keefe turned loose all his action as a running back and smashed the Niagara line to shreds, collecting both the Providence scores.

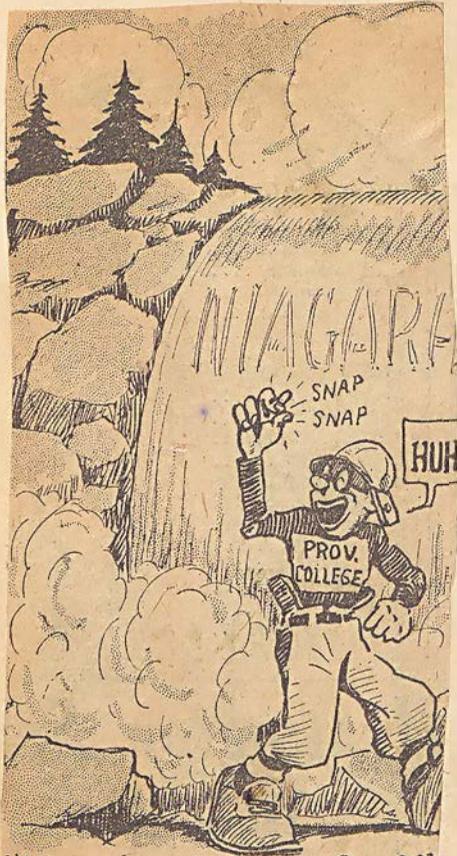

In the first period he broke through the line and ran for an apparent touchdown, only to be called out of bounds by the officials on the three-yard line. On the following play, however, he carted the leather through a big hole at right tackle for the score, and then place-kicked the point. Then, in the second period, he dashed 20 yards through the Niagara defence for his second score. His placement after this score was blocked.

Friars Outplay Purple

The score gives little indication of the superior strength of the Friars. For three-quarters of the game they were on the offence, and once in the first and twice in the second half were balked in their attempts to score after marching to within the 10-yard stripe. Aside from the one scoring sally of Capt. Clark, the locals gave little trouble, being unable to batter through the Dominican line, while their vaunted aerial attack was upset on nearly every occasion, the Rhode Island backfield playing a smart game on the defence in covering up all the potential receivers. Providence made nine first downs to two for the local eleven.

Although O'Keefe stole most of the thunder of the Friars' show in tallying all the points, it was a case of splendid team work rather than individual play which enabled the visitors to shatter Niagara's tradition of never having been defeated on their home gridiron since they inaugurated the sport a decade ago.

The Providence line proved impenetrable throughout the clash, and offered the finest interference seen here this season. Time and again backs were hurled through openings off tackle, or swept around end, only to be stopped in the secondary. Only when the Friars got within the Purple's 10-yard area in the second half did they falter in their offence, losing the ball twice on downs.

Niagara makes no impression on Prov. Coll

Smart football put the Friars in the front at the very outset. Niagara received and Clark nearly got away for a long run and a possible score when he eluded the entire Providence team, only to be nailed from behind by Galligan. Unable to gain the locals punted and Brady was downed on his own 30-yard line.

With the Niagara backfield in a box defence, Brady pulled the unexpected and on second down staged a weak kick, booting the ball far down the field, with the roll carrying it to Niagara's 15-yard line. Two line bucks failed, and then Davis, who played a marvelous game at left end for the Friars, broke through and blocked Clark's punt, Kutniewski recovering on the five-yard line. However, Foster fumbled on an off tackle play and Shortell recovered for Niagara.

O'Keefe Runs 29 Yards

On the succeeding punt, Brady was downed on the locals' 40-yard tape. Foster picked nine yards at right tackle, Galligan was stopped at the line for no gain, and then on a spinner O'Keefe raced through a wide opening in right guard, shot to the sidelines and outran the Niagara defence 29 yards for an apparent score, only to be ruled as having stepped out of bounds on the three yard line. On the next play he plunged over for the tally, and then added the extra point by placement.

Play was close for the remainder of the period, but the second quarter furnished plenty of action. Niagara had been pushed back deep into its own territory, a five-yard penalty and Kutniewski throwing Clark for a seven-yard loss contributing to their trouble. On third down Snieder shot a flat pass over his left end to Clark, who made a running catch, outran the Friar linemen, reversed his field to elude the secondary and sprinted 55 yards for a score. Fleishman missed his placement try for the point.

The Friars lost no time in increasing their lead, however, to offset this Niagara score. Barbarito, who went in for Foster, started the advance when he intercepted Snieder's pass on his own 48-yard tape and dashed 22 yards before being hauled to earth. Three line plunges netted seven yards and then O'Keefe dove through centre for a first down on the Purple's 20-yard tape.

O'Keefe Scores Again

After a tackle play failed, O'Keefe, on a spinner, shot through right guard, straight-armed two Niagara backs, and outran Fleishman, safety man, in a mad dash goalward for the Friars' second tally of the day. The placement try was blocked.

In the third period Providence was on the offence throughout. O'Keefe intercepted a pass and ran to the Niagara 40. A sustained march netted two first downs, the second bringing the ball to the Purple's five-yard line where the locals held for downs, throwing Barbarito for a loss on an end sweep in the Friars' fourth attempt to make the goal. Another steady march a few minutes later, with Brady and Wright contributing the longest runs, brought the leather to the five-yard line a second time. Unable to penetrate the local defence, on fourth down Brady attempted to hurdle the line and was thrown back for no gain.

For the remainder of the period play was confined mostly to the midfield area, with Brady featuring with his accurate punting, and the Friar defence functioning in sterling manner in breaking up aerial attacks. The tilt ended shortly after Captain Foster intercepted a pass and carried the ball to midfield.

Friars Favored to Triumph Today Against St. John's

Out for Sixth Straight Win.
Redmen Seek to Avenge
1923 Setback.

The Providence College football team, which has won its last five games, faces one of its hardest foes of the season when it tackles the St. John's College gridders of Brooklyn this afternoon at the Cycledrome in the ninth annual game between these rivals. The Friars are ahead in this series, which saw its inception in 1923, having won three games, tied three and lost two.

The Redmen come here with a stronger team than their record would indicate and as a result a close battle is looked for in today's game with the Friars favorites to win.

Back in 1923, the locals, playing St. John's for the first time, marred an otherwise perfect record for the Redmen by holding the latter to a 6 to 6 tie in the final game of the season after St. John's had gone undefeated in all previous games.

This started the rivalry between the schools and now the Redmen believe the time has come to avenge that unlooked for defeat received in 1923. The Friars are in the midst of their most successful season in the college football history and the Redmen are determined to stop the victorious march of their opponents today.

Chances Are Bright

The manner in which the Friars have played in late games indicates that the Brooklyn collegians will have to show a high class game to emerge triumphant. If St. John's can display the football it showed early in the season, its chances of victory are exceedingly bright. In those early games, the Redmen highly impressed New York critics by their excellent play, but the squad ran into a series of misfortunes in midseason when a number of the lettermen were lost to the squad by injuries.

Most of the disabled players returned to the squad last week in the games with N. Y. C. C. and the team showed a vast improvement over its previous three games. There is still a weak line in the Brooklyn machine. The centre position has given Head Coach Ray Lynch worry all season, as the three outstanding players for that position have at one time or another been on the hospital list. Today neither Albert Gallo, O'Farrell or Gallagher, all capable centres, will be able to play. Coach Lynch said yesterday, and as a result Donahue, who weighs 169 pounds, will hold down the position.

Mathews May Start

The Friars face an almost similar situation. Injuries to Irving Katznelson and Lou Mathews, two of the outstanding guards on the team, have left the left guard position wide open, causing the Friar mentors some concern. Katznelson is definitely out of today's game, but Mathews may be able to start. In case Mathews does not start, it is likely that Edward Nawrocki, regular centre, will be shifted over to guard. Jack Schott will take Nawrocki's place at centre in case the latter is moved over to guard. Nawrocki has held down the guard position all week in the practice sessions.

It will be at least two years before the Friars and the Redmen will be able to meet again on the gridiron as the college will not field a football team next year. It was ahead at the start of the campaign that the verdict of the athletic authorities was to be reconsidered, but this now stands. Coach Lynch indicated yesterday that in all probability football will be resumed by the college within a short space of time.

Thus both teams will be anxious to get in a last victory until the gridiron sport is resumed at the Brooklyn school. The Friars will be after their sixth straight victory and the Redmen will be out to even the series.

Hold Light Drills

Both squads held a light drill yesterday afternoon. The Redmen went through their paces with a dash that forbodes serious business on their part today.

The Friars went through a general workout at Hendricken Field. A signal drill was held along with passing and punting sessions. The linemen received special attention from Head Coach Golembski.

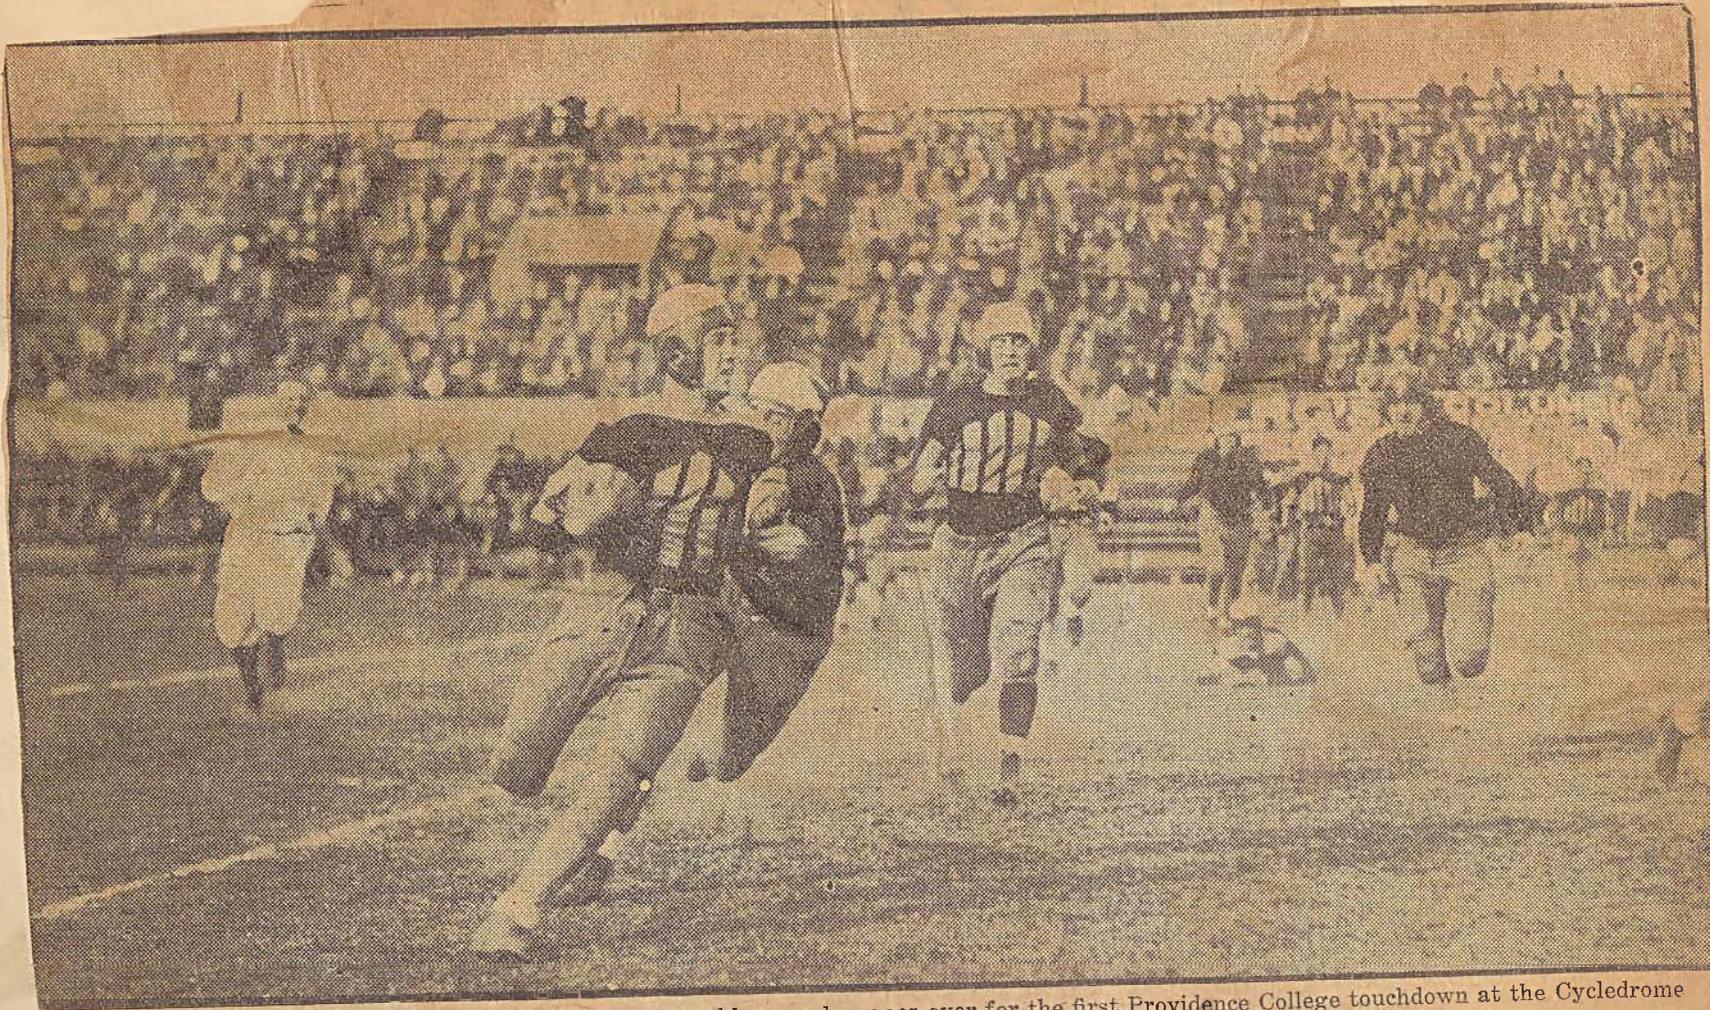

Today's battle is expected to be an open affair. Both teams are expected to use many aerials as on both squads are capable passers. The Redmen have an excellent passer in Sheppard, quarterback, who hurls 'em left handed. Sheppard has shown ability at heaving the pigskin all season and is expected to test the Friar aerial defence to the limit.

Jack Brady, also a quarterback, will be the passer the Friars will pit against Sheppard. These two should have an interesting duel in this department of play. Tom Neary, capable end, who teamed well with Sheppard on aerials, will not play against the Friars.

Some flashy broken field running is also expected to develop as on both teams are some excellent broken field runners. The Redmen expect Sheppard and Capt. Pace to give the locals worry. The latter has been a dangerous factor to all St. John's opponents during the past two years.

Quarter.

Providence College ran down the Red Men of St. Johns at the Cycledrome this afternoon. With the Friar backs running wild, St. Johns had nothing to match this type of offensive and resorted to a tricky aerial drive which fell short of equaling the Dominicans' scoring spurt.

The high spot of the contest was the play of young Tony Barbarito, slim Connecticut lad and holder of the 100-yard record in the Yale interscholastic. Tony showed his skill in sprinting in the third period when he raced 43 yards through the entire St. Johns team for a touchdown. It was his second touchdown of the afternoon, his first being scored on a 25-yard end sweep in the opening period.

Gameplayed: November 14, 1931

The score was:
PROVIDENCE 33.
ST. JOHN'S 12.

Providence kicked off to St. John's 6. Sheppard, who ran the ball back 10 yards to his own 15-yard ribbon. Punting on third down, Rubinsky of the visitors uncorked a very short boot, the ball travelling only to mid-field. After the Friars had been held for down, Brady kicked to Sheppard and the latter ran the ball back to his own 15-yard line.

As a result of another very weak punt by Rubinsky, the Friars gained the ball on the Brooklyn team's 30. Wright slid around right end for six yards, but Capt. Foster was thrown for a 10-yard loss in the next play.

Brady, fading back to his own 45, heaved a beautiful 25-yard forward pass to Foster who reached the invaders' 11-yard line. Two successive line passes were smothered by the visitors and on the next play Wright gained five yards. With the ball on their own two-yard line St. John's made a determined stand and held the Friars for downs. Rubinsky kicked out 32 yards to Brady who sped back to the St. John's 26th.

O'Keefe picked up six yards on a spinner and the Friars were again threatened. Foster made three yards in the next play and O'Keefe split the line for a first down.

Once again the Friars were within the shadow of the St. John's goal posts when O'Keefe's 20-yard forward landed in the waiting arms of Brady on St. John's two-yard stripe. Once again St. John's began a desperate stand and threw both Foster and Wright for losses. The Friars' touchdown came, however, when Brady turned St. John's left flank on the next play and slipped through the secondary for a touchdown.

O'Keefe kicked a placement for the extra point.

The score:

PROVIDENCE 7
ST. JOHN'S 0

On the first play after the next kickoff the Red Men caught the Dominicans nodding and Rubinsky taking a short pass from Sheppard ran 55 yards through the Friar array for a touchdown. Friar hopes of victory darkened momentarily brightened in the next play when Big Charley Jorn blocked Rubinsky's try for the extra point.

The score:

PROVIDENCE 7
ST. JOHN'S 6

Score at the end of the first period:

PROVIDENCE 13
ST. JOHN'S 6

Opening up with a powerful vengeance at the start of the second period, Providence marched to St. John's 15-yard stripe. Here, however, with the veteran Al Gallo on end, doing some remarkable defensive play, St. John's stemmed the Friar tide. Brady's pass on fourth down was blocked and the ball went to the visitors.

FRIARS . . . 33
ST. JOHN . . . 12

St. John's kicked out and once more the Friar offensive formed with Brady and O'Keefe bearing the brunt of the ball carrying. The Dominicans reached the Red Men's 18 with a spectacular 17-yard run by O'Keefe featuring the drive. Here hard luck hit the Friars, however, when after Micky Foster had broken loose around left end for a touchdown, the referee called the ball back and tacked a 15-yard penalty on the Black and White.

Pace intercepted Wright's pass and St. John's started down the field. After an exchange of kicks, the Friars were again threatening. Young Tony Barbarito, inserted in the Dominican line-up in place of Foster, showed up well during this march. In two successive downs the Friars ran the ball to the St. John's 25. Here Barbarito cut back and then flashed through centre to slide through the St. John's array for a touchdown. O'Keefe tried for the extra point, but failed. The score at the half:

PROVIDENCE 13
ST. JOHN'S 6

THIRD PERIOD

Play at the start of the third period shifted back and forth between the 20-yard line until Capt. Foster put the Dominicans in St. John's territory when he made a forward on the visitors' 41. Following this stunt Foster turned in one of the most brilliant runs of his athletic career at the college when, after being almost stopped behind the line of scrimmage, he shook off a horde of St. John tacklers and snared his way 45 yards down the field for a touchdown. The try for extra point failed.

The score:
PROVIDENCE 19
ST. JOHN'S 6

Shortly after the next kickoff visitors starting on their own 10-yard line, reeled off a pair of downs. One was on a forward pass and the other on a forward pass to the veteran Stephens. This time the ball to the Dominicans and the threat was covered when a lance of black jerseys hit St. John's as he was about to throw a pass. Stephens fumbled and Providence recovered on the St. John's 10. Here Barbarito again burst into limelight when he broke loose and sifted through the St. John's line on a 43-yard sprint to cross the line with the Friars' fourth down. Charley Rannick, former star, playing in place of O'Keefe, crashed the St. John front line the point after touchdown.

score:
PROVIDENCE 26
ST. JOHN'S 6

Taking the ball on the Red Men's 10, Providence opened up a bag of tricks and an overhead drive by Sheppard's long heave to the sky and brought the ball to the Dominicans' three-yard ribbon. The period ended.

FOURTH PERIOD

Providence held St. John's downs on its own three-yard line. Brady booted out 30 yards and the St. John's aerial attack began its function. Foster halted the men momentarily when he heaved a pass on his own five-yard line but St. John's was not to be and, getting the ball on the 41 after Brady's punt, the Friars again took to the air. Three tosses brought them to the 18-yard line and then a looping heave from Sheppard. Pace produced a touchdown. The try for point failed.

PROVIDENCE 26
ST. JOHN'S 12.

Following the next kickoff the Friars started down the field. The drive terminated with a forward pass over the goalline for a touchdown. O'Keefe shot a placement for the extra point. The score:
PROVIDENCE 33.
ST. JOHN'S 12.

FRIARS WIN 33-12

Providence College Triumphs Over St. John's at Cycledrome

Mickey Foster and Barbarito Lead Powerful Offensive for Sixth Straight Victory.

With two backs, Capt. Mickey Foster, who has already made his mark on the gridiron, and Anthony Barbarito, who is gradually but surely gaining recognition, leading its powerful offensive attack, the Providence College football team won its sixth straight game yesterday at the Cycledrome by defeating the St. John's College gridgers of Brooklyn 33 to 12. The Friars had the advantage throughout this spectacularly played game, rolling up the highest score made in this series. The locals are now leading in the series standing four games to two with three being tied.

The Redmen put up a courageous battle, but their offensive lacked the polish of the victors. With an aerial attack that functioned effectively at all times, St. John's was a constant threat, and when its aeriels brought the team to within scoring distance, most of the chances for touchdowns were wasted when its running attack failed to click.

In scoring their decisive triumph, the Friars made five touchdowns to two by their rivals. Two were made in the third period and one in each of the other three sessions. The Redmen scored in the first and final periods.

Continuing a flashy offensive that swept through Niagara last week, the Friars played with much dash yesterday. The backs turned in a highly creditable performance, bringing much glory to the team with their inspired dashes for yardage.

Spectacular Game

The game was full of spectacular runs and plays. The feature play of the day was made by Rubinsky, St. John's right halfback, who ran 40 yards for a touchdown after catching a 23-yard pass from Sheppard. This 63-yard aerial for a touchdown came in the first period and immediately after the Friars had made their first score. Rubinsky had to leap high in the air to make the catch, and it was only by some fine shifty running that he crossed over the Dominican goal line.

In the third period, both Barbarito and Foster made touchdowns on 41-yard runs. Foster scored his first and he made it possible when he intercepted a St. John's aerial on the latter's 41-yard mark. Foster's run was brilliant but that of Barbarito was a masterpiece. He was nearly tackled behind his own line of scrimmage but he managed to shake loose and reach the St. John secondary territory where again it appeared as though he was going to be stopped. But here again by fast slippery moves he got free and ran over for a score.

Barbarito's work on this run was that of a veteran. His coolness and expert side-stepping when he was swarmed by would-be tacklers, indicated his true ability, which has come to the fore with a bang of late. Barbarito is only a Sophomore and if his performances in the Friars' last three games can be taken as a criterion, he should go a long way in the gridiron sport before he finishes his collegiate career. Barbarito is the fastest man on the Friar squad and holds the Yale interscholastic record for the 220-yard run.

Almost every time he carried the ball yesterday he made a gain. He also made another touchdown in the second period after a 17-yard dash. Like Albie Booth of Yale, his presence in the line-up seems to inject new spirit into the team as in both the Lowell game and yesterday, as soon as he got into the lineup, the Friar offensive began to gain momentum.

Barbarito was the outstanding player on the field but there were other stars. Foster did his share for the Friars. Brady did a good all-round job in generaling the team and carrying the ball. He scored the first touchdown made by the Friars. O'Keefe excelled on "spinner" plays and made much yardage through the centre of the St. John's line. Rennick also starred.

Rubinsky, Stephens, Sheppard and Capt. Pace were the best for the Redmen. Rubinsky turned in some fine runs. Sheppard's aerials were noteworthy as were those of Stephens. Capt. Pace proved a good line plunger.

The defensive feature of the game was turned in by the Friars in the fourth period, when a 71-yard march started in the third period was stopped on their one-yard line. The Redmen also stopped a Friar march on the two-yard line.

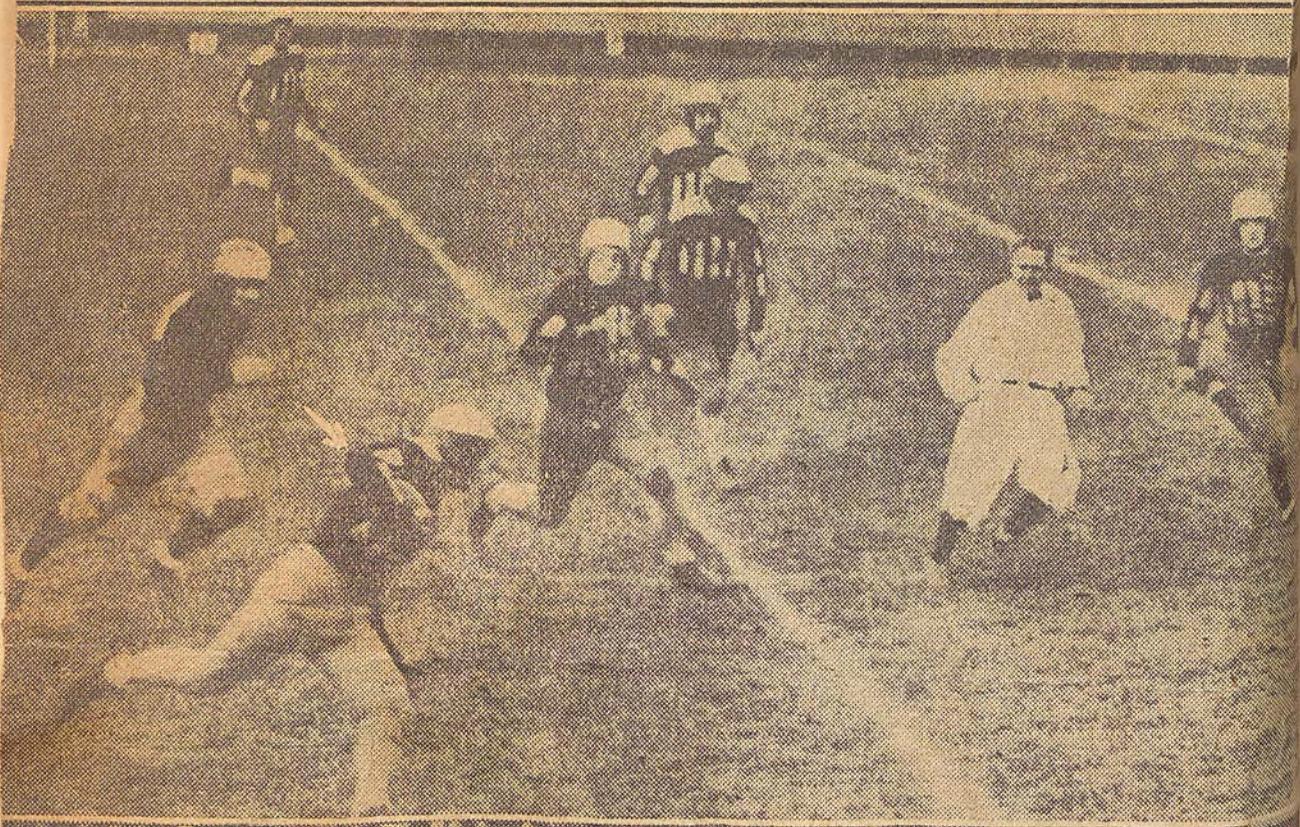

The Friars started off in impressive fashion and play in the early minutes of the game were mostly in St. John's territory. Rubinsky's early punts were not as long as those he booted later, and as a result one of his short kicks put the Friars in scoring position midway in the first period. Brady caught one of Rubinsky's kicks on St. John's 35-yard line and he was stopped for no gain. The Friars tried a pass on the first play. Brady to Foster, which was good for 25 yards, bringing the ball to the Redmen's 10-yard line. Foster made six yards on one rush and Wright made another yard to bring the ball to the two-yard line, where St. John's held and the Friars lost the ball on downs.

Rubinsky's kick out of his own goal line was downed by Brady on St. John's 31-yard line. Here a touchdown march was started. Rushes by Brady, O'Keefe and Foster brought the Friars to the 15-yard line. Wright made three yards but on the next play the Dominicans were offside and were now 17 yards from the St. John's goal. A pass, O'Keefe to Brady, netted 14 yards and three yards to go with first down. O'Keefe, Foster and Wright lost six yards in three smashes but on last down Brady circled his own left end for a touchdown. O'Keefe place-kicked the goal.

Providence Progressing

No college that we know of is coming along more rapidly in athletics than Providence college. That institution turns out one of the best basketball teams in the East, also one of the best baseball clubs and is making good strides in football. Providence has had the pleasure of defeating Holy Cross and Boston college on the diamond recently. Mickey Foster of this city will captain the Dominicans' football team this fall. Eddie Derivan and Owen Callahan also will be on the club. That school has defeated Brown in basketball and baseball this year and before long will have pretty near as good a football eleven as Brown.

Friars' Captain Romps Against Redme

Upper photograph shows Captain Mickey Foster of Providence College making a gain of 12 yards in fourth period of St. Johns-Providence College game yesterday afternoon at the Cycledrome which the Friars won 33 to 12. Lower photograph shows Dominican captain off for a gain behind good interference in fourth period.

Runs Back 17 Yards

Sheppard took the Friar kick-off on his own 20-yard line and ran it back 17 yards to the 37-yard line. On the first play Sheppard threw an aerial to Rubinski, who caught it on the Friars' 41-yard line and ran the remaining distance for a score. He failed to place-kick the extra point and the Friars led 7 to 6 as the first period ended.

The Friars reached the St. John's 12-yard line early in the second period, but after two rushes and an incompleated aerial they lost the ball on downs. Brady ran back Rubinsky's punt from the St. John's 45-yard line to his own 41-yard line. O'Keefe made a first down through the line on the 31-yard line. On the next play Foster ran for a touchdown, but the touchdown was nullified when a Providence College man was detected holding.

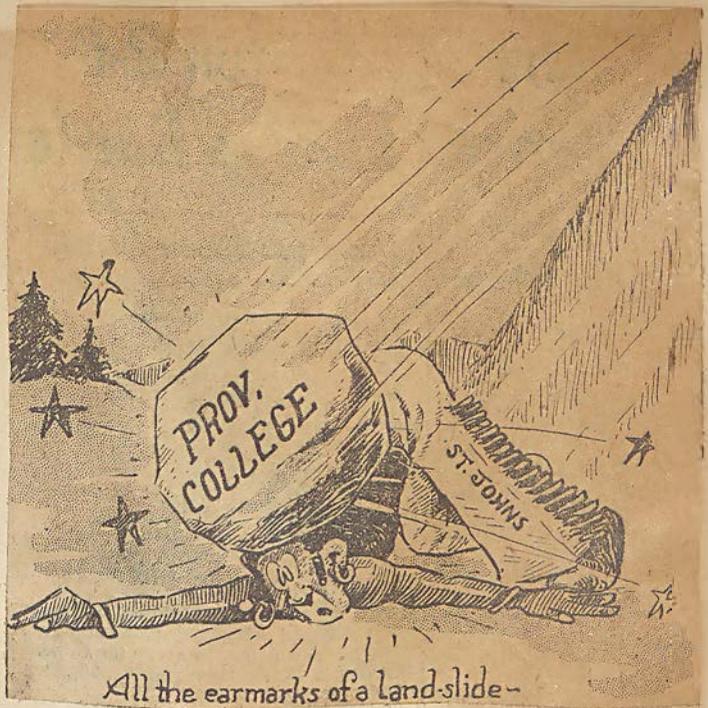

Near the end of the period, the Friars staged a 68-yard march for their second score. Brady ran back a punt 13 yards to his 45-yard line. Barbarito ran to St. John's 49-yard mark. Brady passed to Barbarito for a first down on the Redmen's 31-yard line. Two rushes by O'Keefe and one by Barbarito brought the ball to the 14-yard line, from which Barbarito went around his own right end for a touchdown.

The early part of the third period found the teams exchanging punts. Midway in the session Foster intercepted a St. John's pass and on the first play he ran over for the Friars' third touchdown. Shortly after this, Callahan, Friar tackle, recovered a St. John's fumble on the Redmen's 41-yard line, from which point Barbarito dashed over for a score.

Friars Stop Assault

Late in the third period the Redmen started a long march that was extended over into the fourth period, only to be stopped by the Friars on the latter's one-yard line. This march was good for 71 yards. Aerials thrown by Sheppard and Stephens accounted for most of the sardage gained.

Play was mostly in Friar territory early in this session but the Redmen could not score. Midway in the period O'Keefe came through with a 52-yard punt that drove the Redmen back into their own part of the field after making many threats at the Friar goal. With the ball in its possession on its own 10-yard line, the Redmen could not make any headway and were forced to kick. Barbarito caught the ball midfield and ran it back five yards. Rennick made first down in two rushes but a 15-yard penalty sent the Dominicans back to their own 46-yard line. Foster came through with a 15-yard run that brought the ball to St. John's 39-yard line. Barbarito advanced the ball to the 21-yard mark and another long run by Foster brought the Friars to the five-yard line.

O'Keefe and Foster took two plunges at the line and made three yards. Foster lost a yard on another plunge to bring the ball back to the three-yard line. On the next play big Charlie Rennick took one hard thrust at the line and went over for the final touchdown.

25 Friar Gridmen Leave For Game With Catholic U.

A squad of 25 Providence College football players left last night for Washington, D. C., for the ninth game of the season with the Catholic University gridgers tomorrow. Accompanying the players to the national capitol were Coaches Archie Golembeskie, Joseph McGee and "Junie" Bride, John E. Farrell, Graduate Manager of Athletics, and student manager, Bob Schiffman.

Instead of giving the players an outdoor drill yesterday, the Friar coaches gave their charges an indoor blackboard drill in which plays which will be used Saturday were gone over and players were given assignments.

The locals will be able to pit their full strength against their opponents tomorrow and as a result the players are confident of scoring their seventh consecutive victory. Despite the fact that the game will be played at Washington, Friar students are all keyed up over the contest and they will anxiously await returns of the game. Yesterday morning a pep-rally was held by the undergraduates.

Catholic U. Team Strong

Catholic University is represented by its strongest team in years and like the Friars, has won its last six games in convincing fashion. The locals will be outweighed in tomorrow's game and they will be facing their strongest foe since the Holy Cross game. For the first time since that Crusader tilt, the locals will enter a game on the short end of the betting.

A Friar victory, however, is far from an improbability. The team has displayed much power in recent games and if its offensive clicks as it did last week against St. John's, it has brought prospects of coming through victorious. The team is anxious to enter its game with Rhode Island State a week from tomorrow with a slate of seven straight victories and the players will give their utmost to register a triumph tomorrow.

Chick Bleiler, regular quarterback, will see action tomorrow for the first time in two weeks. Bleiler in all probability will not start the game, as Jack Brady, who filled his berth during his absence, has done his job well and he is likely to get the starting assignment. Lou Mathews, regular guard, who was able to play only a short while against the Redmen, has recovered from his injury and again will be at his regular post tomorrow.

Galligan at Halfback

Cy Galligan, another who was injured last week, has rejoined the squad and may start at right halfback in place of Joe Wright. Galligan, who started out the season as a fullback, has played good football since being shifted over to halfback.

Besides Brady and Galligan in the backfield will be Capt. Mickey Foster at right half and Charles O'Keefe at fullback. Anthony Barbarito, Bleiler and Wright will be held for reserve roles.

Charles Jern, who played a fine game against St. John's, will be at one of the ends, while either Peter Thompson or Peter Gobis will be at the other. Dick Burns and Charles Burdge will start at the tackles, with Owen Callahan and Boyle as reserves. Nawrocki will be at centre.

Backfields Equal

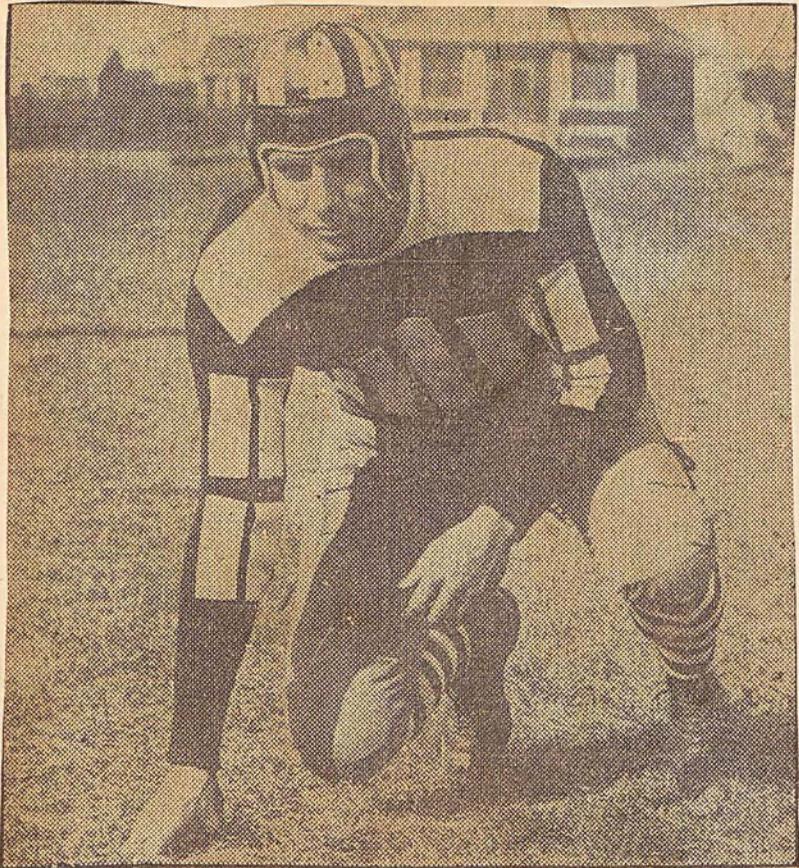

Catholic University besides having a heavy line has a capable set of backs, headed by Whelan, who is the 11th highest scorer in the country with 72 points. De Mello is another good back. The team has been strengthened by the return of Oliver, quarterback, to the squad. Oliver is an exceptionally good passer.

The Friars have a backfield that will equal that of Catholic University, but the latter has a stronger line and therein may victory come its way.

Following are the players who left last evening for Washington, D. C.:

Ends—Charles Jern, Peter Gilligan, Peter Gobis, Peter Thompson and "Franny" Dromgoole. Tackles—Charles Burdge, Dick Burns, George Boyle, Owen Callahan and Bill Adamick. Guards—Bill Kutniewski, Lou Mathews, Wallace Pianka and Edward Mardosa. Centres—Edward Nawrocki and Jack Schott. Quarterbacks—Jack Brady and Chick Bleiler. Halfbacks—Capt. Mickey Foster, Joe Wright, Anthony Barbarito, Cy Galligan. Fullbacks—Charles O'Keefe and Charles Rennick.

Veteran End

Charlie Jorn, one of swiftest wings in football today. Hard man to get past.

Providence Threatens

C. U. Win String

R. I. ELEVEN WINS LAST 6 GAMES

Football has taken a new lease at Providence College, R. I., and with the addition of two capable assistants to Archie Golembeski, one-time Holy Cross great, a brilliant record has been compiled this fall. Providence tackles the Catholic U. eleven in the C. U. Stadium Saturday afternoon. The Friars have won their last six games.

Bride and McGee, stars in their own right for the Friars a few years back, have returned to the campus and their advent has been one of the big reasons for the recent string of six straight wins.

Jersey clay, transferred into mud of the worst kind, proved the undoing of Providence in its opening game with Rutgers at New Brunswick. A year ago Providence, with Mickey Foster running wild, tacked a 12 to 6 upset on Rutgers. This year the Jersey men, with Grossman in his best form, ploughed through for a 17 to 0 decision.

Gave Holy Cross Battle

Hardly recovered from their Rutgers game, Providence faced Coach John McEwan's Holy Cross contingent at Worcester and gave the Purple one of the hardest games they have had all year. Providence scored first, but had two kicks blocked which paved the way for scores to give the Crusaders the lead.

Evidence of Coach John McEwan's regard for the Friars is seen in the fact that with the important Dartmouth game a week away, he hurled his strongest array against the Rhode Islanders, and kept the entire varsity lineup in the game throughout, including his brilliant wingmen, Colucci and Cavalieri, and Captain Phil O'Connell, star back.

With hardly time to recover again after these two stiff assignments, the Friars set themselves to the task of downing the University of Vermont. The power restrained in the opening major games broke forth with full fury against the Green Mountaineers, and Providence's first-stringers ran up a 27-to-0 count before giving way to the subs in the second period.

Shatters Home Record

Then followed a 6-to-0 win over Clarkson College, northern New York State champions; a 24-to-0 verdict over Norwich University, champions of the Vermont conference; 10 to 6 over Lowell Textiles; 13 to 6 over Niagara University, and 33 to 12 over St. John's of Brooklyn.

When Providence College defeated the strong Niagara University team at Niagara Falls two weeks ago it accomplished something that many teams had tried in vain to do, for the victory marked the first time in the history of Niagara's football, 14 years, that their team lost a game on its own field.

Last Met In 1923

Although Saturday's game will mark the first time that a Providence team has met Catholic University in Washington, it will not be the Friars' first visit to the Brookland Stadium. Four years ago the Rhode Islanders stopped off at C. U. for a practice drill while en route to Cincinnati to meet St. Xavier University.

The last, and incidentally the only football meeting between Providence and Catholic University was in 1923 when Providence scored a 7-to-0 win at the Rhode Island capitol. Stars of that game were Eddie Lynch, all-time C. U. star, and Joe McGee, present assistant coach of the Friars.

CATHOLIC U. HAS EDGE ON FRIARS

Providence College is Trailing
13 to 7 at End of Third Period.

(By a Staff Correspondent of the Evening Bulletin)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—Catholic University was leading Providence College by a score of 13-7 at the end of the third quarter in their first football meeting in nine years, played here this afternoon. C. U. took the ball over the line in the second period, Whelan running for 37 yards after a fake pass had opened up the right side of the Friars' line. McVean failed to kick for the extra point.

Providence made its first score in the third quarter after the Washington team had scored its second touchdown in that period.

Providence Wins Toss

Providence won the toss and received. Starting a strong running offence the Friars smashed the Cardinals' line for two successive first downs, with Foster, Wright and O'Keefe leading the way. After reaching the local's 31-yard tape, the Rhode Islanders encountered rough going and finally yielded the ball on downs as Galligan was stopped at the line. The Cardinals countered with a similar running attack and marched to the Providence 35-yard stripe, where Whelan fumbled and Gobis recovered for the Friars.

O'Keefe kicked to Catholic University's five-yard tape and McVean punted outside on his own 33-yard line. Providence failed to click in its offence and Wright and Foster were thrown for losses. Bleiler went in at quarter, Galligan shifting over to Wright's post at half. Bleiler tried two passes which were incomplete. Catholic University punted deep into Providence territory. Foster raced 28 yards around left end as the period ended.

Score: Providence 0; Catholic Univ. 0.

Second Period

Foster was tossed for a nine-yard loss on an end sweep and O'Keefe punted. Demello picked up five yards at the line and then McVean passed to Howe for eight more and a first down at mid-field. Providence rallied and forced a kick to their own 30-yard stripe. Barbarito went in for Foster and picked five yards at right tackle before O'Keefe was forced to punt.

The Cardinals opened a strong running attack from their own 27-yard tape which ended in a score after two successive first downs had brought the leather to the Providence 37-yard tape. On a fake pass, Whelan, Cardinal star halfback, shot through a wide opening in the right side of the line, reversed his field and out ran the secondary scoring standing up in the far corner of the field as the local crowd went into an uproar. McVean missed the point in dropkicking.

Bleiler ran the kickoff 35 yards and was nearly in a free field when he slipped and fell on the Providence 40-yard tape. The Friars couldn't gain and O'Keefe punted to the local's 25-yard line. Play was even for the rest of the period and the half ended as Barbarito intercepted Oliver's long pass on the Providence 25-yard line.

Score: C. U. 6; Providence 0.

An Unkind Providence

Fullback O'Keefe of the University of Providence, Providence, R. I., can't be bothered with interference on the part of a Catholic University (Washington, D. C.) player, so he's simply jumping over him for a gain. The heroic effort didn't help much, however, in the final

CARDINALS BEAT DOMINICANS 13-7

Catholic University Chalks Up
Seventh Victory in Thrilling Game.

(Special to the Providence Journal.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—Playing its greatest game of the season the Catholic University eleven snapped a six-game win streak of a fighting Providence College aggregation in a thrilling game here today, the locals registering a 13 to 7 score for their seventh straight triumph. The game was packed with thrills from start to finish, featured by several sensational runs by the locals and some spectacular aerial work on the part of the Friars.

The two brilliant runs from scrimmage by Captain Tom Whelan, one of the 10 leading scorers of the East, one for 37 yards and the other for 53 yards, accounted for the touchdowns tallied by the Cardinals as they subdued a vallant and aggressive Dominican outfit. Captain Mickey Foster and Anthony Barbarito, the latter the Friars' Sophomore flash, were the spearheads of the Providence offence. Barbarito collected the Rhode Islanders' score in the third period when he made a spectacular running catch of a long forward pass and galloped the remaining 13 yards to the Cardinal's goal line unhindered.

Rugged Playing

The largest crowd of the season was kept on edge throughout by the rugged playing of both elevens, and sent into an uproar in the final five minutes as the Friars uncorked a frantic aerial raid with Johnny Brady doing the tossing, which carried the oval to the Catholic University's 18-yard line before the locals rallied and took possession on downs.

Both teams fielded strong forward walls with the Friars having the edge. On both of Whelan's long jaunts the Dominican wingmen, Jorn and Gobis, had broken into the back field only to have the elusive Cardinal halfback slip from their grasp and raced through to the secondary where he flashed his spectacular broken field running.

Providence made 11 first downs to 10 for the locals. The Friars won the toss and opened a strong running attack at the very start of the game. Two first downs, with Foster, Wright and O'Keefe doing the bulk of the ball toting, carried the leather to the locals' 40-yard line. Three tries at the centre and left tackle netted nine yards and Galligan hit right tackle only to be stopped for no gain as C. U. took possession.

Games played: November 21, 1931

Counter Attack

A counter attack, with Whelan collecting 22 yards in two smashes, put Providence very much on the defensive until Gobis, who played a fine game at left end in the absence of Dex Davis, recovered a fumble on his own 37-yard tape. O'Keefe holsted a rolling punt to the locals' five-yard marker and McVean was forced to kick from behind his own line. Providence took possession on the Cardinals' 33-yard tape and in three tries O'Keefe and Foster netted 15 yards and a first down on the locals' eight-yard line mark. Wright fell circling left end, and Foster was tossed for a loss off right end. Two passes were blocked and the Bergman team took the ball within the shadow of their own posts.

As the period drew to a close Foster brought the crowd to its feet with a pretty 28-yard run off left end, and when almost in the open slipped and was downed close to midfield. Subsequent line attacks netted little, and O'Keefe punted deep into Cardinal territory. Play was close in the first part of the second period, with both teams battling for a break. The Cardinals were favored and soon broke through with Whelan doing the honors. After Sheary had toted the leather to the Providence 37-yard line, Whelan, on a fake, shot through the left side of the line, eluded two Friar tacklers and raced for the sidelines. Travelling at top speed he eluded the Providence secondary and crossed the final line without even being touched. McVean missed the point with his drop kick.

The second half produced the finest thrills of the game, with both elevens collecting scores soon after the whistle. Before five minutes of play had elapsed Whelan contributed the longest run of the tilt when he duplicated his previous off-tackle dash, this time sliding through the right side of the line and swinging away from the secondary to sprint 53 yards under perfect interference for his second score. Demello place-kicked the point to give his team a 13 to 0 lead.

Undaunted by the long runs of the Cardinal leader, the Friars came back strong to collect a score, with Barbarito the hero of the attack. The kickoff was poor, the ball bounding back toward midfield before Gobis pounced on it on the Providence 40-yard line. On the first play Bleiler passed to Barbarito for 27 yards and a first down on the Cardinals' 33-yard tape.

Bullet-Like Pass

After two plays had failed to net yardage, Galligan dropped back and sent a long bullet-like pass far down the left side of the field. Barbarito, 10-second performer of the Friars, outran the local secondary and reaching into the air made a sensational one-hand catch on the 13-yard line, continuing on at full speed over the goal line. Foster tried the placement which was wide, but the locals were offside and on the second try Galligan kicked accurately for the point.

For the remainder of the period and the first half of the final canto, the action seesawed with both elevens flashing strong offences when in midfield only to fail to click when within scoring range. During this exchange Barbarito brought the crowd up when he cut through left tackle for 40 yards and a near score only to be driven offside by Oliver, Catholic University safety man, on the locals' 35-yard tape.

As the game drew to a close both teams resorted to air raids with Providence turning in the best work. Foster started one drive when he intercepted an Oliver pass and ran to the Dominican 42-yard line. Bleiler passed to Barbarito for 16 yards and O'Keefe made eight on a spinner off right guard. Wright fumbled and Flynn recovered but a moment later atoned for the error by intercepting a Demello forward on C. U.'s 41-yard line.

Bleiler suffered a dislocated collar bone and was replaced by Johnny Brady who immediately opened fire with accurate tosses which threatened to culminate in a score.

Heaves to Barbarito and the one to Wright took the ball to the 35-yard line. Interference on a toss to Wright made it first down on the Cardinals' 18-yard tape with two minutes to play. The passes were incomplete. A line plunge netted but little and then Brady was spilled behind the line to give the locals possession. Two plays later the game ended.

R. I. STATE EXPECTS TO SEND POWERFUL TEAM AGAINST P. C.

Coach Keaney Sends 30 Freshmen and 22 'Varsity Through Strenuous Drill.

Another busy afternoon was put in by members of the Rhode Island State grid squad yesterday, when Coach Frank W. Keaney sent 30 Freshmen and 22 'Varsity cohorts through an extensive signal drill, semi-scrimmage, and tackling practice.

Judging from the manner in which the yearlings are responding to the coaching of Keaney the Rams will send a very powerful team against Providence, when the two meet in the Milk Fund game at the Brown Stadium on Nov. 28.

Three promotions were made yesterday afternoon. Keaney sent Bob Batchelder Ed Ryan and Johnnie Moss to the 'Varsity. Batchelder had drilled with the Rams on Tuesday, and his performance yesterday seemed an improvement over the exhibition he then displayed.

Ryan hails from Pawtucket, and he promises to be one of those outstanding players Keaney customarily uncovers, in spite of his inexperience. He played a dependable game with the Freshmen this past season, and yesterday he carried the ball like a veteran. Moss, former all-State centre while at Providence Tech, has been hampered with injuries, but is considered a strong candidate for next season's 'Varsity.

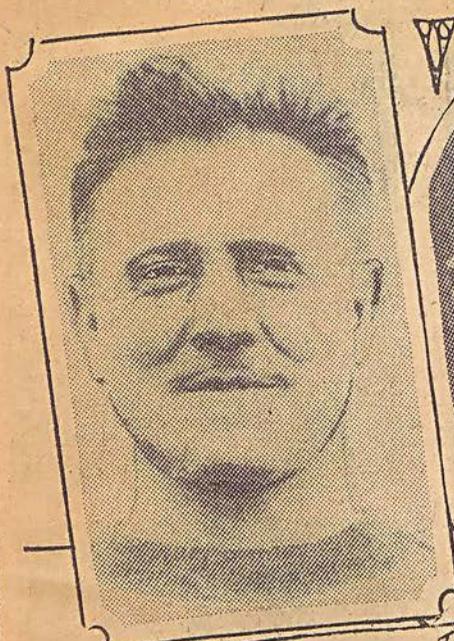

Keaney spent most of yesterday scrutinizing the yearlings. He had two strong elevens picked from the first yearmen. Much of the afternoon was spent in a semi-scrimmage that continued to show the mentor just what material was being contributed by the Class of 1935.

The performance of Victor Radick appeared the best contribution of the yearlings.

State must uncover some mighty good reserve material if it is entertaining any hopes of subduing Providence College next week. Keaney is spending these afternoons testing the vigor of the yearlings. It already seems that several of them will play a substantial portion of the charity clash. Tackling was also practiced during yesterday's drill, the more outstanding back, attempting to out-smart the remaining members of the Freshman squad.

The 'Varsity squad spent yesterday in another signal drill. Ken Goff was back in uniform for the first time since Saturday, and he was in the pink or condition. The other backs were Jack Putnam, Bob Batchelder, Tom Wright and Reggie Horseman. George Tyler filled in at right guard, in place of Captain Harry Lewis, whose knee is refusing to respond to treatment. Harrie Gill acted as field general, although he did not take his place on the team.

TEAMS EAGER FOR BIG CHARITY FRAY

Rhode Island State and Providence College Battle at Brown Stadium Today.

RIVALS ARE WELL MATCHED

Survey of Opposing Lines Indicates Fast Game.—Case, Gainer Ask Public Support

Another one of those football games between two small college elevens, which invariably have produced the keenest of rivalry and a typically collegiate atmosphere, will be played at Brown Stadium this afternoon, when the gridiron forces of Rhode Island State and Providence College face each other in a charity game for the benefit of the Providence Milk Fund.

This is the first time the Friars and the Rams have met on the gridiron, but the great interest in the game would indicate a tradition of rivalry. It is expected that a large gathering will be on hand to watch the two natural rivals perform and at the same time do its share towards charity.

This game is one of the contests on the nation-wide program sponsored by President Hoover's organization on unemployment relief, and is being played in response to the call issued by Owen D. Young.

Mr. Young yesterday sent a telegram to Thomas H. West, Jr., Rhode Island representative on President Hoover's organization for unemployment relief, congratulating the teams, student bodies and faculties of the institutions sponsoring the game and urging public support.

Case, Gainer Urge Support

Governor Norman S. Case and former Mayor Joseph H. Gainer last night in radio addresses emphasized the importance of the Milk Fund and praised the students and others who are making real sacrifices to make the event a success. Appeals for support of the Milk Fund through attendance at the game also were issued yesterday by Mr. West and by Alderman Sol. M. Bromson, head of the milk fund committee.

Gainer Makes Address

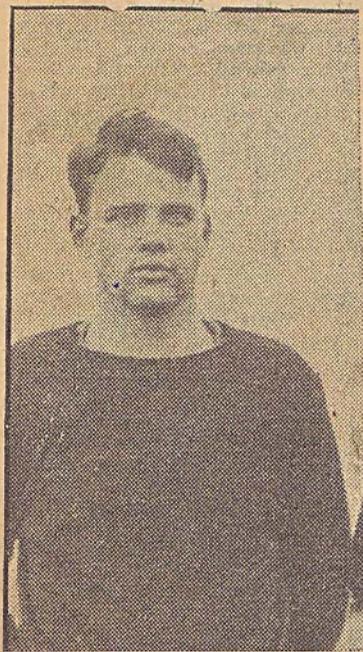

Former Mayor Gainer, speaking last night from Station WJAR, the Outlet Company, said in part:

"Here is a real charity which all of us can aid without any real sacrifice. Every dollar collected will go to the Milk Fund. No expenses will be deducted.

Rival Captains

HARRIE GILL
R. I. State College

MICKEY FOSTER
Providence College

"Brown University is donating its stadium. Ticket takers, ushers and all the other attaches of the stadium, in all about four or five hundred people, will contribute their services.

"Two fine football elevens will contribute their services. There will be no expenses charged against the Fund by Mr. Reidy for dispensing the milk to the children. Rarely is it possible to contribute to a charity where 100 per cent. of the amount collected is able to be dispensed for the charity itself. And remember, there is no other agency in Providence undertaking to do the work which this fund will accomplish.

"All that is needed now is a goodly attendance by the people of Providence. So far, the sale of tickets has been disappointing. Why this should be so, I cannot understand.

"Here is a splendid football game between two fast, evenly matched elevens, on a field where the facilities for the spectators are as good as are furnished anywhere in this country. This game will be worth $2 of anyone's money, just as a football spectacle.

"In addition, those of us who attend, will have the satisfaction of knowing that the price we pay for our ticket will furnish milk to some child who needs it badly for a whole month.

"Surely, Providence, which has never failed in the past to respond to a worthy appeal, will not be found wanting tomorrow."

Director of Public Aid Edward P. Reidy last evening announced he had received a $50 bill through the mail for the milk fund, the result of a collection taken up last Sunday evening by Herbert Sutcliffe following a lecture given by him at the Biltmore Hotel. Mr. Sutcliffe forwarded the money to the director of public aid.

Mr. Young's telegram to Mr. West reads: "Please convey my congratulations to the teams, student bodies and faculties of Providence College and Rhode Island State College, and to all others who have contributed or assisted in the good work of arranging football game to be played tomorrow for benefit of the unemployed. It is now the privilege and duty of the residents of your great city to support the game and augment the relief fund by attending the game and seeing that others do so."

West's Statement

Mr. West, after receipt of the wire, issued the following statement:

"Tomorrow's charity football game between Providence College and Rhode Island State College is an event of importance to the people of the State.

"In all parts of the country this fall colleges and universities are playing similar games for the benefit of funds needed by the less fortunate of our citizens. These games have received the hearty endorsement of President Hoover's emergency committee on employment and of State and city officials everywhere.

"Our own game will be for the benefit of the milk fund needed by the Director of Public Aid in Providence. The players of both football teams and the administrative officials of the colleges are giving of their time and ability to make the game a real success and a real benefit to the needy. I am sure that the public will realize what a great game is being planned for our entertainment and also how worthy is the cause to which the entire gate receipts will be applied.

"To see a great football game and at the same time contribute to a highly necessary and worthy charity is a privilege which all of us should be glad to enjoy tomorrow afternoon when we go to the Brown Stadium."

Alderman Sol S. Bromson yesterday pointed out that some of the public seemed to think that the milk fund purposes were taken care of through charitable societies, and said that there is no institution to take care of this particular work or providing milk for babies and children in needy families. Hundreds of infants suffering from malnutrition will benefit through the fund, he said.

Urging Rhode Islanders to support the charity game, he pointed out that many of the football players giving their services in the game, following an extra week of training, are not Rhode Islanders, yet are glad to give their services.

tional Sum Expected

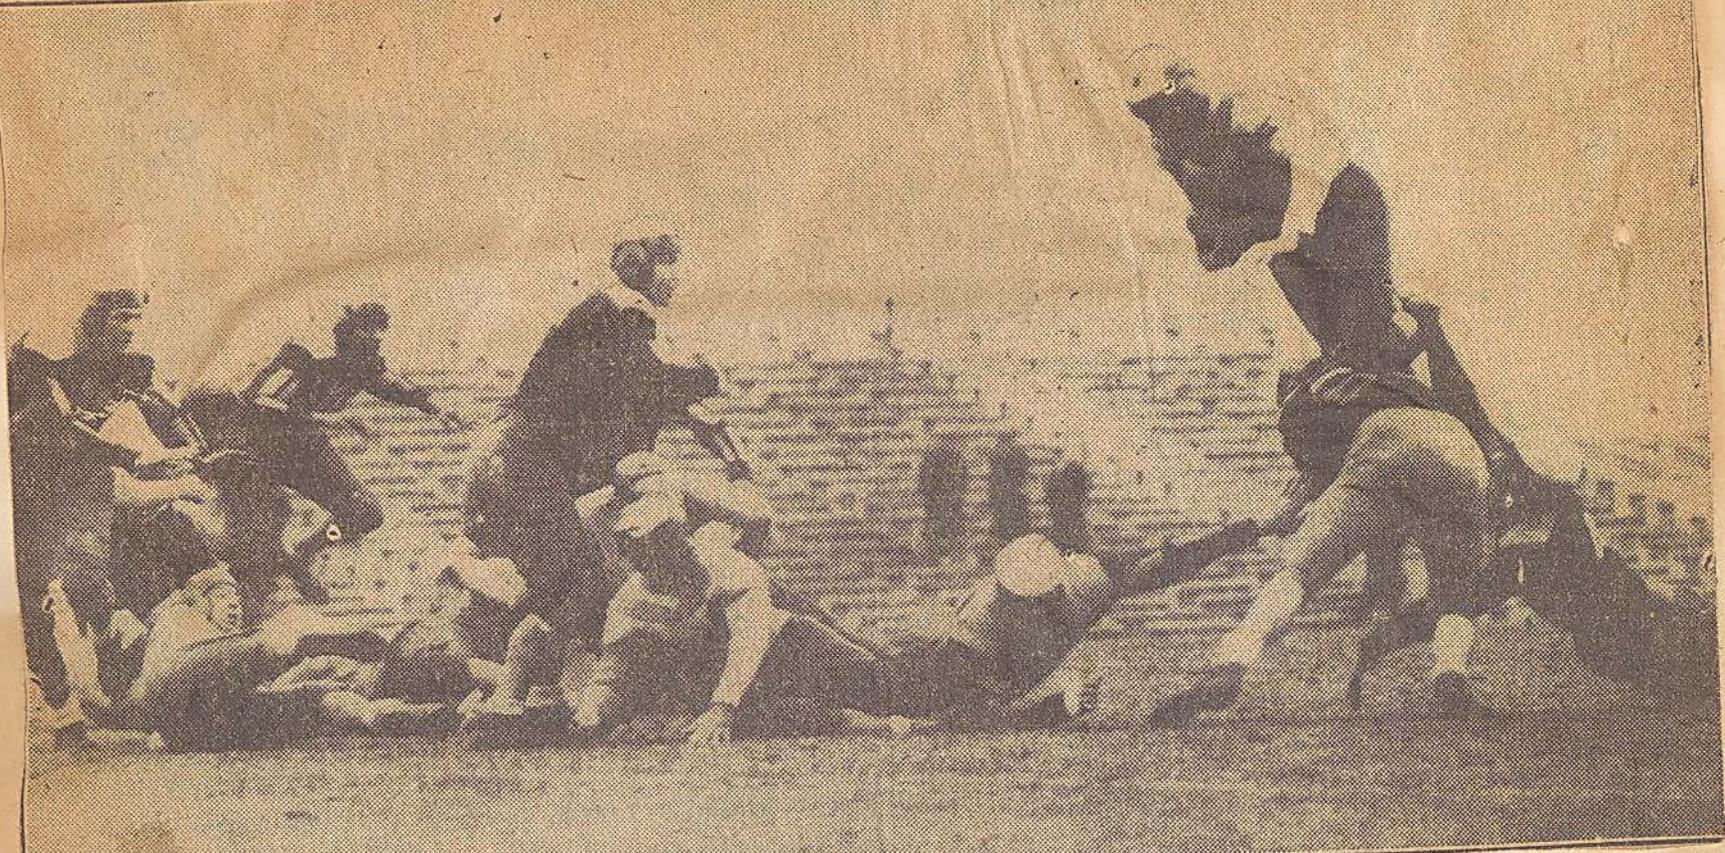

By F. C. MATZKE.

Johnny Brady, Providence College's lightweight second-string quarterback, who was playing his final gridiron contest for the Friars, led the local Dominican eleven to a 6 to 0 triumph over Rhode Island State in the Providence Milk Fund charity game yesterday afternoon at Brown Stadium.

As a result of the game, slightly more than $6000 had been turned in last night to the City Council committee in charge. City Clerk Raymond P. McElroy, who also is clerk of that committee, announced the receipts after a conference with Alderman Sol Bromson, committee chairman, and Director of Public Aid Edward P. Reidy, who will administer the Milk Fund.

Games played: November 28, 1931

Pretty Action in State-Providence College Game

Horseman, fullback of the Kingston eleven, being tackled at the line of scrimmage in the first period of today's charity set-to at Brown Stadium by Adamick of the Dominicans.

Brilliant Opening Drive Gives Providence College Jump on State Eleven

Approximately $1000 worth of tickets were sold at the gate and the attendance was about 4000. The fund probably will be increased a few hundred dollars by the receipt of money from ticket sales not yet reported and by several special contributions. Mr. McElroy declared. A complete audit of the proceeds will not be available until tomorrow.

Receiving the starting assignment, when Chick Bleiler, regular signal caller, was prevented from participating because of injuries, Brady climaxed his college football career in impressive style, scoring the only touchdown of the contest in the first quarter on a 32-yard pass. Cy Galligan, Friar halfback, was on the throwing end.

Besides garnering the winning points for the Smith Hill collegians, Brady was instrumental in keeping the Friars in threatening positions most of the game. Likewise he played an important part in the Friar defence, a stonewall array which held the Rams to 55 yards of gained ground from scrimmage and kept Ken Goff, State's best scoring threat, almost completely bottled up.

11 Penalties Hurt Friars

With Brady at the helm, the Friars outplayed their Kingston rivals in almost every department of the game, gaining 12 first downs to five for Rhode Island, advancing the ball 203 yards from scrimmage to the Rams' 55, and completing two out of seven attempted forwards for a total gain of 36 yards, while the State aggregation was picking up a net total of 13 yards on three completed passes out of the same number tried.

Eleven penalties, totalling 105 yards, hurt the Friars considerably, for some of them came at times when the Smith Hillers were well within striking distance of the Rams' goal line. State was set back only 20 yards on penalties, each for five yards.

The Friars' winning touchdown came soon after the game opened, Brady starting a 94-yard advance when he ran Horseman's kickoff back from his own six-yard marker to his own 31. The remaining 69 yards to State's final stripe was covered in just nine plays. Brady took a 12-yard pass from Galligan on the Rams' 20-yard marker and continued on to the goal line on a dash that carried him right through State's secondary defence.

Goff Shows Ball Lugging Ability

Galligan just missed the try for the extra point, his placement kick bounding against the upright and back into the end zone. Capt. Mickey Foster, Charlie O'Keefe, rugged fullback, Brady and Galligan alternated in carrying the ball on line plays during the march leading up to the touchdown. Three successive first downs were made during that drive.

In presenting their stonewall defence, the Friars stopped all of the State ball carriers on plays from scrimmage. Only once was Goff able to demonstrate his vaunted ball lugging ability. That chance came soon after the Friars had scored. State received the second kickoff and Goff punted to Brady on Providence's 35-yard stripe.

O'Keefe lost two yards on an attempted off-tackle play, and Galligan punted to Goff, who caught the ball on his own 30-yard line and romped 37 yards to the Friars' 33-yard line, the same line from which Galligan had kicked. Whatever threat the Rams presented in that position was nullified on the very next play, when Goff fumbled and Kutniewski, brilliant Friar guard, recovered on Providence's 38-yard line.

Orgy of 15-Yard Penalties

After gaining a first down at midfield O'Keefe got off a quick kick which Kutniewski downed on the Rams' six-inch stripe. Goff managed to kick out of danger after Cragan had made five yards on two line plays. The Friars started another drive, but lost the ball on downs on the State 29-yard line, and Goff's punt, together with a 15-yard penalty, sent the Friars back to their own 20-yard line just as the period closed.

After an orgy of 15-yard penalties soon after the opening of the second session, the Friars were forced to kick from their 21-yard marker. O'Keefe's punt was short. Goff caught it on the Providence 45-yard line and ran it back to the 36. Three line plays and a short lateral pass failed to gain the necessary 10 yards and the Rams lost the ball on downs on the Providence 27-yard line.

O'Keefe punted again, but on the opening play after the kick, Nawrocki, Friar centre, intercepted one of Cragan's passes to give the Friars the ball on State's 48-yard line. After scoring their touchdown on a forward Brady was extremely chary about calling for an aerial play. On the first play after Nawrocki's interception, however, Brady called for a forward, a decision which led to one of the prettiest runs of the game.

Barely Makes First Down

Fading back after taking the ball from centre, Brady looked in vain for an uncovered receiver until he had been forced back almost to his own 20-yard stripe. Just about that time he elected to run and he did just that to reel off almost 40 yards and just barely make a first down on State's 37-yard line. Three plays later, with the ball mighty close to the Rams' 27-yard line, the Friar threat was dissipated when Galligan fumbled and Biancuzzo, Rhode Island Freshman star, recovered.

Hovering over the Stadium yesterday

In the third period the Rams reached Providence's 30-yard line after Harrie Gill had gained possession of the ball for the State eleven when he intercepted a pass from Gallivan. The Friar line stiffened at that point and finally took the ball on State's 37-yard marker when Davis, Dominican wingman, recovered the ball after a bad pass from centre went bounding by Goff.

A minute or so before the close of the period Goff booted a 56-yard punt which Nattie Capalbo, smart State end, downed on Providence's five-yard line. O'Keefe kicked out to the 36-yard marker and once again State's threat was nullified when Foster intercepted a pass from Cragan to run out to the 18-yard line.

Friars Play Defensive Game

Play in the final quarter was in State territory just about the entire time, but the Friars seemed content with playing defensive football. Midway through the session the Dominicans reached the State 16-yard line only to lose the ball on downs. Then towards the close of the period Brady paved the way for another drive when he ran one of Goff's punts back 27 yards to State's 40-yard line.

On a spinner play, O'Keefe slipped through his own right tackle to the 22-yard stripe. When two line plays failed Brady tossed a pass into the end zone to give State the ball on its own 20-yard stripe.

With Batchelder, Freshman ball carrier, leading the way, the Rams opened up their best offensive march of the afternoon reeling off three first downs in succession. A nine-yard jaunt through the line and a 17-yard pass, Cragan to Batchelder, were features of this drive which brought State up to Providence's 37-yard line. The end of the game found the Rams trying desperately to connect with a forward passing attack, but each attempt was frustrated by an alert Friar secondary.

Rev. Lorenzo C. McCarthy Addresses Victory Dinner; New Gymnasium Mentioned.

Intramural athletics and their advantages to the college student were stressed by Rev. Lorenzo C. McCarthy, O. P., in his address at the fifth annual all-sports banquet held in Harkins Hall last night. The opinion of Fr. McCarthy, which is shared by educators throughout the country, was popularly received by the large gathering of students and guests in attendance.

An indication of the prospective installation of an intensive intramural athletic program at the Dominican institution was seen, when Fr. McCarthy said: "We hope in the near future to have here at Providence College certain facilities so that all of you will be able to participate in some branch of athletics."

Concerning athletics for all, Rt. Rev. William A. Hickey, Bishop of Providence, said: "The number of candidates out for the various athletic teams should equal the number of the student body. This cannot come without adequate facilities. Let us hope that these will come in the future."

Suitable Gymnasium Proposed

Bishop Hickey spoke of the possibilities of a suitably equipped gymnasium as the means of the realization of this end.

Already at the college preliminary plans for a schedule of athletics for all have been laid with the commencement of interclass basketball and indications at present are that the college will have a wide field of athletic competition for the entire student body within a short period. This has been the objective of those connected with the college for some time.

The banquet proved a success. A large number of students were present along with members of the alumni. The event was sponsored by the Senior class and is given annually in honor of the athletes who represented the college in all branches of athletics. Members of the football, baseball, basketball and tennis teams were guests.

Mayor James E. Dunne officially thanked the college for its share in aiding charity by its participation in a post-season football game with Rhode Island Stadium. The Mayor revealed that $8000 was realized by this game. The money was added to the milk and fuel fund. This was the largest item received towards the fund, Mayor Dunne said.

Brother Gilbert, Head Master of the Mission high school, Roxbury, Mass., spoke on humorous experiences he has had as an athletic director and coach. He also dealt upon the value of athletic participation. Brother Gilbert wholeheartedly supported a secure position for athletics in the collegiate educational program.

Rev. Jordan F. Baessler, O. P., director of athletics at Providence College, thanked all those who had contributed towards the possibility of maintaining athletics at the college.

Flynn Speaks

Jack Flynn, baseball coach, told of incidents of the famous 20-inning baseball game with Brown when his players were on the field from quarter of three until 8 o'clock. Charles Reynolds, winning pitcher for the Friars in that game, was among those sitting at the head table.

Albert McClellan, basketball coach, known to all Providence College men as the "General," told of his experiences as a basketball and baseball player. McClellan is a former student of Brother Gilbert, having played basketball for the latter during his collegiate days. The "General" was another who spoke in favor of a wide intramural athletic schedule.

Thomas H. "Junie" Bride spoke in behalf of the football team. He spoke of the upward climb of football at the college, and believed that the gridders would bring sectional championships to the college as the basketball and baseball teams have. Football Coaches Archie Golembeski and Joseph McGee were unable to attend.

As has been his custom since the inception of this banquet, Bishop Hickey granted a holiday from classes for today to the students.

Seated at the head table were the following guests of honor: Rt. Rev. William A. Hickey, bishop of Providence; Rev. Lorenzo G. McCarthy, O. P., president of Providence College; Rev. Brother Gilbert, C. F. X., headmaster of the Mission high school, Roxbury, Mass.; Rev. J. Frederick Baessler, O. P., director of athletics at Providence College; Mayor James E. Dunne, Rev. A. H. Chandler, O. P., dean of studies; Rev. J. J. Sullivan, O. P., professor of chemistry; John E. Farrell, graduate manager of athletics; John A. Flynn, coach of baseball; Albert McClellan, coach of basketball; Thomas H. Bride, assistant coach of football; Walter P. Burke, president of senior class; Charles Reynolds, a member of the alumni, and former athlete; Wilfred I. Roberts, an alumnus, and director of the Dominican band; Prof. A. H. McGrail, Ph. D., a member of the lay-faculty, and Prof. Daniel J. O'Neill, Ph. D.

Trophies were awarded to the following senior students who took part in athletics during the past year: Baseball—Robert Dion, George A. Sellig, Joseph McCarthy; basketball—George R. Cody, James McCormack, James Welsh, Thomas J. O'Brien; football—Michael C. Foster, Charles Bleiler, John Brady, Edward Derivan, Charles J. John, Edward Narowski, Robert H. Schiffman; and tennis—Arthur F. Sullivan, Edward Carter and William H. ~~Call~~ Davy.

DINNER TENDERED ATHLETES AND COACHES AT P. C.

BISHOP LAUDS TEAMS

Fr. McCarthy Stresses
Value of Athletics.—Bro.
Gilbert Speaker

The student body of Providence College turned out Tuesday night for a dinner in honor of the athletes and coaches and the members of the corporation and faculty.

The banquet, held in the auditorium of Harkins' Hall, was arranged by the senior class and was the fifth and largest yet held at the college. More than 500 attended.

Speakers included Bishop Hickey, Very Rev. Lorenzo C. McCarthy, O. P., president; Rev. Brother Gilbert, C. F. X., headmaster of Mission High school, Roxbury, Mass., the "discoverer of Babe Ruth;" Rev. Jordan F. Baeszler, O. P., director of athletics; Mayor Dunne, John A. Flynn, baseball coach; Albert McClellan, basketball mentor and Thomas H. Bride, Jr., assistant football coach.

Walter E. Burke, president of the senior class and a member of the bishop's former parish at Clinton, Mass., was the toastmaster. The celebration marked the winning of the Eastern Intercollegiate baseball championship, the New England basketball crown and the completion of the best football season in the college history.

Brother Gilbert held his auditors' complete attention throughout his discourse with a rapid-fire flow of oratory mixed with humor and drawn from a wealth of experience as a coach, an athletic supervisor and sportsman whose acquaintanceship includes some of the outstanding men of the professional baseball world.

Joy in Achievement

"You learn by doing whether your laboratory be in the college, on the campus or the athletic field. There is joy in achievement; joy in being able to do something. The boy, "he said, "who is on the field for Providence College, who has been kicked and tossed about will be far more loyal to P. C. 20 years from now than the man who hasn't known hardships.

"The fellows who went to France in defense of their country and bore the brunt of battle were the fellows, the real Americans, the sport-loving youths who had learned how to suffer hardships on the field of sport.

"Providence College has been blessed in having a bishop who is fondly interested in the college and athletics here and it is blessed in having such splendid coaches and students," he said.

Bishop Hickey expressed his pleasure, pride and gratification in seeing Providence College achieving a name for itself in athletics as well as in scholarship. "The college is here not only to develop and help athletes to make a name for themselves on the field of sport but for the students at large," he said.

"The number of candidates for the team ought to be the same as the enrollment but I suppose that cannot come until you have more adequate facilities. Let us hope then that it will not be long before it will be possible to have a large gymnasium and the other equipment needed for this. I favor athletics not only in a general way but in such a way that you will be kept physically and mentally fit for your books. There is only one thing more that can prepare you for your studies and that is religion."

In conclusion the bishop expressed his appreciation of Brother Gilbert's inspiring address and congratulated Fr. Baeszler, the coaches and the players for the fame they are bringing to the institution and on the manner in which they are attaining it. "More power, more honor and more glory to you," he said.

President McCarthy said he was extremely satisfied with the manner in which the athletes had represented the college during the year and he likewise paid tribute to the coaches and players. "Athletics can exercise a very salutary result in the building up of men and characters," he said. "Athletics prepare a young man for life in a threefold way, first through discipline; second, because of the social value and third, because, when properly understood, they teach the boy how to lose as well as how to win. The proper use of athletics in college can teach a man how to meet reverses in life."

Mayor Thanks College

Mayor Dunne thanked Fr. McCarthy, Fr. Baeszler, Graduate Manager Farrell, the coaches and players of the football team for the important part they had in the post-season game in the Brown stadium with Rhode Island State College for the benefit of the city's milk and fuel fund. The results totalled more than $8000 and this amount, the mayor said, was the largest contribution to the fund.

Fr. Baeszler thanked all who in any way had a share in the demonstration. "In the face of an annual athletic deficit," he said, "I cannot say too much for the officers of the college who have approved our sports policy and enabled the teams to carry on."

As each speaker was introduced the students were led in cheers by John J. McAleer, '32. When the speaking program was over Bishop Hickey presented gold tokens to the athletes of the varsity teams and, as is his custom, announced a holiday for Wednesday.

FRIARS TO PLAY FOUR

NEW TEAMS IN

FOOTBALL NEXT YEAR

Eight Games Scheduled Now, Another May Be Added

B. U., St. Lawrence, Springfield and C. C. N. Y. Are Newcomers.
Friars to Have Jayvee Team

Four new teams are on the 1932 Providence College football schedule, which was announced by Rev. F. J. Baesler, O. P., director of athletics, at the victory dinner last night. Eight games have been scheduled and arrangements for another will be completed within a short time. The four newcomers listed are Boston University, St. Lawrence, Springfield and City College of New York. The schedule is the most impressive ever arranged for a Friar gridiron eleven.

The others to be encountered are Rurgers, Holy Cross, Vermont and Catholic University. The first six games scheduled will be played on the road and the last three, including the contest pending, will be played at home. The two teams to be played here are with C. C. N. Y. and Catholic University.

To Have Junior 'Varsity

For the first time in history, the Friars will be represented by a Junior 'Varsity team. John E. Farrell, graduate manager of athletics, is working on a schedule for this eleven and a game has already been booked with the Yale Junior 'Varsity. This will mark the first time that the Friars have encountered the Elis in any class of football.

The introduction of Junior 'Varsity football is one of the steps towards a more elaborate sports program at the college and undoubtedly will be met with wide approval by the students. This step will give more players opportunity to get into competition.

With the exception of St. Lawrence, all new teams to next season's schedule have been met by the Friars in previous years. The schedule is a hard one, as most of the opponents to be encountered are expected to have a strong team next season.

With the announcement of the schedule, preliminary plans for the coming season to which everyone concerned with Friar football is anxiously awaiting, are practically completed. Coaches Archie Golembeski, "Junie" Bride and Joe McGee are all slated to return.

The teams dropped for 1932 are Clarkson, Norwich, Lowell Textile and Niagara.

As has been the custom for the past few years, the opening game will be with Rutgers University at New Brunswick, on Sept. 24. Holy Cross comes next on the list with the game scheduled at Worcester. The Friars are expected to give Crusaders a real battle next season. This will be the ninth meeting between the two colleges.

Vermont Third Opponent

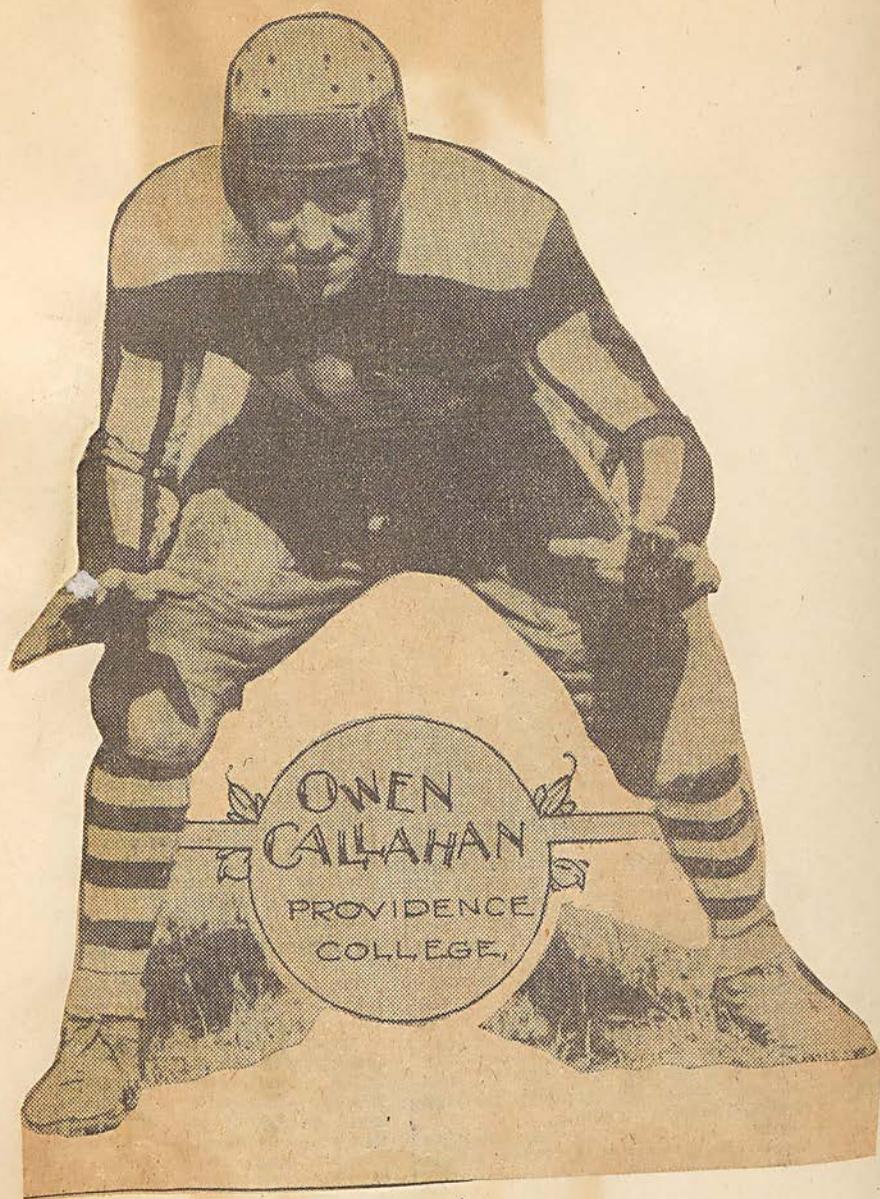

Vermont, which was easily defeated last season, will be the third opponent. The teams will clash at Burlington. The following week Boston University will be met at B. U. The colleges have not met on the gridiron during the past five years. The teams met in 1922, 1925 and 1927.

St. Lawrence, which won the Northern New York Conference title last season, will be encountered on Oct. 22. This is the first athletic contest between the two schools. A number of Rhode Island athletes have attended St. Lawrence.

Springfield, which is listed for the following Saturday, has not faced the Dominicans on the gridiron since 1928. The first home game will be on Nov. 5 against C. C. N. Y. It has been nine years since the Friars have met the Gothamites in football. Catholic University will make its first visit to this city since 1922 on Nov. 12. The game, which is pending, will be played here on Nov. 19.

The schedule:

Sept. 24, Rutgers at New Brunswick; Oct. 1, Holy Cross at Worcester; Oct. 8, Vermont at Burlington; Oct. 15, Boston University at Boston; Oct. 22, St. Lawrence at Canton, N. Y.; Oct. 29, Springfield at Springfield; Nov. 5, C. C. N. Y. at Providence; Nov. 12, Catholic University at Providence; Nov. 19, pending.

OWEN
CALLAHAN
PROVIDENCE
COLLEGE.

CALLAHAN TO LEAD DOMINICAN ELEVEN

Star Tackle Named 1932 Captain; 26 'Varsity Grid Letters Awarded.

Owen J. Callahan, Junior from Pittsfield, Mass., was elected captain of the 1932 Providence College football team at a meeting of the lettermen yesterday afternoon. Callahan is a tackle and this season marked the third time that he has won his 'Varsity letter in football. The election of Callahan to the grid captaincy marks the second time in two years that the honor has gone to a Pittsfield youth. Last season the Friars were captained by Mickey Foster, also of Pittsfield. George Boulard of this city was named manager of next year's team.

The election of Callahan as football captain proved highly popular with the Friar student body as he won much admiration during his three years with the grid squad by his grim determination and stellar play. During the past season Callahan turned in the best football of his career. Mid-season he was injured in the Clarkson game and this kept him out of the subsequent three contests, but he came back near the end of the season and turned in the excellent play which had characterized his work in the early-season tilts.

Good Defensive Player

Callahan, who is 21 years old and weighs 185 pounds, came to Providence College from St. Joseph's high school of Pittsfield and St. Anselm's Prep, Manchester, N. H. He played both tackle and fullback at St. Joseph's and won his letter from his Freshman year. Callahan went out for tackle during his first year with the Friars and has stayed at that position ever since.

Callahan is an exceptionally good defensive player and many times during the past season came through with brilliant tackles. He is also adept at diagnosing plays of the opposition.

Previous to the election of Callahan, John E. Farrell, graduate manager of athletics, announced the list of 'Varsity lettermen. Twenty-six gridders including student manager Bob Schiffman were honored. This is one of highest totals awarded in recent years.

Included in the list of lettermen were seven seniors. They were Chick Bleiler and Jack Brady, quarterbacks; Capt. Mickey Foster and George Cody, halfbacks; Charles Jorn, end; Edward Nawrocki and Edward Derivan, centres.

18 Veterans to Return

Thus next fall when the Friars return to the gridiron there will be 18 lettermen available. This speaks highly for the 1932 prospects considering the success of the team during the past campaign. Of course, all seven lettermen who will graduate next June will be badly missed but in the ranks of the returning lettermen is material for another good team.

The quarterback position will be wide open with the graduation of both Bleiler and Brady. Jack Smith, junior, will be next in line for the berth and there is a possibility that one or two of the returning backs will be converted into a quarterback. The centre berth also will be open with the graduation of Nawrocki and Derivan. Nawrocki's loss will be keenly felt as he has held down the centre position in fine style for the past three seasons. Jack Schott will be the leading candidate for the berth.

Should Have Strong Line

Mickey Foster's role in the backfield undoubtedly will fall on the shoulders of Anthony Barbarito, sensational sophomore halfback. Barbarito is one of the best broken field running backs to enter the Dominican school. Other backfield players who will return, include Joe Wright, Charles O'Keefe, John Monahan and Joey Conley.

Forward wall material will be plentiful and capable. The end squad will be well fortified with Dexter Davis, Francis Dromgoole, Martin Thompson, Bert Skipp and Peter Gobis. Besides Captain-elect Callahan, other tackles who will be available include Dick Burns, George Boyle, Charles Burdge and Bill Adamick. All of last season's guards will be back, Lou Mardosa, Bill Mathews, Bill Kutniewski and Irving Katznelson.

Following are lettermen:

Anthony Barbarito, New Haven, Conn.; Charles Bleiler, Everett, Mass.; George Boyle, Passaic, N. J.; John Brady, Pawtucket; Charles Burdge, Warren; Richard Burns, Warwick; Captain-elect Owen J. Callahan, Edward J. Derivan and Captain Michael C. Foster, all of Pittsfield, Mass.; George R. Cody, Woonsocket; Dexter Davis, East Providence; Edward F. Galligan, Attleboro.

Charles Jern, New York; Edward Mardosa, Lewiston, Me.; Lewis Mathews, Cranston; Edward Nawrocki and Charles O'Keefe, both of Fall River; Oliver Roberge, Bristol, Conn.; John D. Schott, Newark, N. J.; Martin Thompson, Hazardville, Conn.; John M. Wright, Staten Island, N. Y.; Francis Dromgoole, Peter Gobis, William Kutniewski, Wallace Planka and Student Manager Robert H. Schiffman, all of this city.

Archie Golembeski Expected to Remain as Friars' Coach

Joseph McGee and Junie Bride to Stay Also, Athletic Board Reveals.

Although final arrangements have not yet been completed, it is practically certain that Archie Golembeski will return as head football coach to Providence College next fall. Members of the athletic department revealed this much when interviewed last night. Joseph McGee and Thomas "Junie" Bride also will return as assistant coaches. McGee and Bride both are Providence College graduates.

This announcement spikes all rumors that there was to be a wholesale shake-up in the Providence College football coaching staff.

Golembeski, McGee and Bride brought the college its most successful gridiron year in history during the past campaign and all three mentors are high in the confidence of the athletic authorities, alumni and students.

Golembeski has been coaching Providence College football teams during the past six years and the 1931 season was his most successful, his team winning seven out of 10 games played.

Last season marked the first time in history that the Friars had three coaches and if the team's record can be taken as the criterion the move was a wise one. Previous to the past season Golembeski shouldered all the coaching duties and his task was a hard one.

Last season with McGee and Bride as aids, he was able to give more of his time to individual players and to the planning of the team's weapons. McGee coached the ends and Bride the backs, while Golembeski worked with the guards, tackles and centres.

All three coaches turned out some promising players in their respective departments. Golembeski has some real linemen to count on next year in Capt. Owen Callahan, Bill Kutniewski and Dick Burns. The last two named developed rapidly under Golembeski's tutelage.

Dexter Davis, Peter Gobis, Martin Thompson and Ollie Roberge also showed much improvement under McGee. The great improvement of Anthony Barbarito, halfback, and Charles Rennick, fullback, was no doubt due to the coaching of "Junie" Bride.

CRANSTON GRIDIRON PLAYERS HONORED

250 Attend Testimonial Dinner to Championship Team;
Farrell Speaks.

BY THE OBSERVER

More than 250 Cranston people and their friends gathered last night at Rhodes-on-the-Pawtuxet to pay tribute to the achievements on the gridiron of Cranston high school's 1931 Green Thunderbolt, champion of Interscholastic League competition for the third successive season. A committee comprising former letter men of the school, headed by James B. Aldrich, arranged the dinner.

A clear and concise exposition of the meaning of sportsmanship was given the gathering by John E. Farrell, graduate manager of athletics at Providence College and the principal speaker on the long program. Mr. Farrell had come more than 200 miles yesterday—from Hanover, N. H., where Providence's basketball team played Wednesday evening—to pay his respects to the Green Thunderbolt.

Mayor Frederick A. Jones extended the city's congratulations to the team, its coaches and the organization behind it.

John K. Fenner, superintendent of Cranston's schools, expressed pride in the school system, in Cranston high which is a part of that system and in the athletics of Cranston high which are important parts of the school itself. Robert Hill, chairman of the school committee, admitted that he wasn't sure of the difference between a tackle and a fullback, but that he was appreciative of clean sport as exemplified by Cranston high teams.

Clarence W. Bosworth, principal of the school, added his words of praise to the Green Thunderbolt and to Cranston's other successful teams, counting successes not in games won or lost but in the way they have been played under competent coaching.

Harrie Gill, formerly of Central Falls high school and one of Rhode Island State College's football captains of 1931; Mickey Foster, a Providence College captain, and Paul F. Mackesey, captain of the 1931 Brown University team, each brought greetings from his institution to the celebrators.

John E. Martin of the Providence Journal and Evening Bulletin, representing the scholastic athletics departments of Rhode Island's newspapers, pledged enduring friendship of the press to schoolboy athletes who kept their games clean and gave of their best in the playing of them.

Entertainment relieved the long speaking program, while the frequent stories, both funny and new, of the toastmaster, Joseph E. Bourret, added sparkle to the occasion. Mr. Bourret, former Cranston high and Tufts College athlete, now is assistant dean at Dean Academy, where he teaches in the history department.

During the evening, telegrams were read from Harley Trice a member of the Army team and a Cranston graduate; Red Gould, now at Hebron Academy and captain of the 1930 Green Thunderbolt, and from Sonny Hough, a teammate of Gould both at Cranston and Hebron. The resolution of the Cranston city council, lauding the team, the coaches and the school for its continued successes, also was read.

Mrs. Samuel Priest, aptly referred to as "the mother of Cranston high school teams," was introduced. In addition to giving many gifts which include the Priest Memorial Field House, to the athletes of Cranston high school, Mrs. Priest last night gave in recognition of their some loving cup in recognition of their achievements of the past season. A squash, discovered in the market place yesterday and which bore, unmistakably, on its outer shell the initials "C. H. S." was exhibited.

Coach Carleton W. Merritt explained the organization for handling athletics at the high school and paid tribute again to the work of Faculty Athletic Director Raymond R. Thompson, for the organization's success. After Mr. Merritt had been presented a miniature gold football by the toastmaster, the coach, in turn, presented gold and silver footballs to the letter men, managers and assistant coaches. Those thus honored included:

Flays Sport At Cranston Grid Dinner

Bruin Captain Says Western Colleges "Farm" Out Athletes

By GERALD PRIOR
(News-Tribune Sports Writer)

Paul F. Mackesey, Brown University's 1931 football captain, believes that college football is over-emphasized and that one of the features of this over-emphasis is the practice, prevailing among certain colleges, of buying up promising players and sending them to high school "farms" for development.

Gerald Prior

Mackesey's charges against the college gridiron sport were made last night during the testimonial banquet to the Cranston high school football team at which the Bruin leader was one of the speakers. Nearly 300 persons attended the affair held in the banquet hall at Rhodes on the Pawtuxet.

The custom of holding spring practice also was cited by Mackesey as one of the evils of college football as presently conducted.

After congratulating the Cranston high squad on winning its third consecutive Interscholastic League championship, Mackesey said:

"I suppose you're glad the football season is over. I know I am. It's a great game, but after the intense physical and mental strain of eight weeks of competition we're all usually somewhat tired.

"At the end of your great season," he continued, "there is one thing I have to say to you. You are now amateur athletes and I hope you stay that way. Let's be frank about it. Some of you undoubtedly will receive promising offers to attend certain colleges but I advise you not to take them."

"Don't misunderstand me," the Brown captain went on, "this practice isn't widespread in the east and there's a chance that none of you will receive such offers. But it does prevail in the west where there's no doubt about athletes being proselyted when outstanding stars are selected by colleges, sent to high school farms and watched over carefully by the proselyting institutions until it's time for them to enter varsity competition.

"When such a practice prevails," Mackesey declared, "college football certainly is over-emphasized and it's over-emphasized also when the long spring afternoons are spent in the harsh grind of training."

FARRELL ON SPORTSMANSHIP
John E. Farrell, graduate manager of Providence College athletics and the principal speaker of the evening, in a stirring address exhorted the Cranston gridgers to continue their adherence to the spirit of sportsmanship they had displayed in all their contests during the season.

"The word sportsmanship," said Mr. Farrell, "is a term often misinterpreted, often misunderstood. It's hard to define, but there are, however, certain things we know about it. One of the things we know is that unless the outstanding feature of athletics be this sportsmanship, a fine and noble chivalry, there is no health in sport.

"We are told that in modern sport the competitive spirit is overstressed—that in some places too much importance is placed on winning. This may be so in some places. On the other hand I have no sympathy with a man who enters a sport in a dilliant attitude. A true sportsman to me is one who desires to win and who will use every honorable means to do so. Unless a player gives of his best efforts to win, he is unfair both to his own comrades and his competitors. The game not worth winning is not worth playing. When the game is on victory should be important. After it's over the less emphasis placed upon victory or defeat the better."

"In the realm of sport," Mr. Farrell continued, "you've met bitter competition and you've learned to play hard and to play fair. In life you're likely to meet bitter, unfair competition. You must be prepared to see what seems to you to be an unworthy cause triumphant for a time. But remember to play the game of life as you've played the game of football so that when the game is lost or won you can say that you always fought under the fair flag of sportsmanship and that it was never hauled down."

Michael C. Foster, captain of the Providence College football team, and Harrie C. Gill, Rhode Island State captain, were other speakers at the dinner, conveying the congratulations and best wishes of their respective institutions to the victorious Cranston eleven. Both captains took occasion to laud the fine spirit they had observed among athletes who graduated from Cranston, and later entered college competition.

BOURRET TOASTMASTER

Joseph E. Bourret, three-letter man at Cranston high school, later a star at Tufts, and at present history instructor at Dean Academy, was the toastmaster. With a quip for every occasion Mr. Bourret kept the affair moving along at a merry pace. Others paying tribute to Capt. Howie Sheffield, Ed Sokolowski and the other Cranston heroes were Mayor Frederick A. Jones of Cranston, John K. Fenner, superintendent of schools; Clarence W. Bosworth, principal of Cranston high; Robert Hill, chairman of the school committee, and John E. Martin, scholastic officials commissioners and representative of the Rhode Island newspapers.
