Al McClellan, Coach of Varsity Basketball at Providence College. Signed a New Contract Yesterday for Two More Years.

McCLELLAN SIGNS FOR TWO-YEAR JOB AS FRIAR MENTOR

BY JOE NUTTER

Al McClellan, coach of Varsity basketball at Providence College for the past several years, has been signed to a two-year contract by the Providence College authorities to continue as head of the Varsity basketball system.

McClellan, after one of the most successful seasons in the history of the sport at Smith Hill, was offered the opportunity to affix his signature to contracts at other colleges, but within the week signed the contract that has been proffered by the Providence College authorities and will be back next fall directing the destinies of the Smith Hill hoopsters.

The veteran coach comes from Swampscott, Mass., and joined the coaching staff at Providence College several years ago after a successful career in the playing end of basketball. His teams at Providence College have been of high calibre, and the word that he will return to direct the destinies of the team will be a ten strike with Dominican fans.

FRIARS, BIG GREEN CLASH TOMORROW

Dominican Basketball Team to Open Season in Game at Hanover, N. H.

The Providence College basketball team will open its season tomorrow night against the Dartmouth College quintet at Hanover, N. H. During the past two years the Dominicans have invaded Green territory only to return home defeated, but tomorrow night they expect to put up a strong battle to avenge those two setbacks.

It is reported that Dartmouth has an exceptionally strong team this season and with the advantage of playing on their home floor, the Green players will be favored to make it three victories in a row over the Friars.

A victory for the latter, however, will come as no surprise as Coach Al McClellan has practically a veteran team to field against Dartmouth. The Friars compiled an excellent record last season and with the added experience that the players acquired during the 1931-32 campaign, it is likely that they may surpass their record of last year.

Ed Koslowski will be at centre for the Friars against Dartmouth. Capt. Dick Bracken and Sam Shaplo will team at the forward berths, while Ed. Reilly and Ollie Roberge will be at the guard berths.

With the exception of Roberge, each of the other four players was a regular at the close of last season's play. While Roberge was not a regular he saw considerable service and is amply qualified to take a starting berth.

The Friars have been drilling hard for the game and they are ready for their stiff opening assignment. Eleven players will leave for Hanover early this afternoon. A stop will be made at St. Anselm's College in Manchester, N. H., where a practice session will be held and the squad will stay there overnight.

Other players besides the regulars who will make the trip are Oc Ferrin, "Franny" Dromgoole, Ed Stanlewski, "Ab" Feit, John Madden and Bill Kutlewski.

DOMINICANS DRILL FOR GAME TONIGHT

Will Oppose Dartmouth Quintet
at Hanover.—Fifth Meeting Between Teams.

(Special to the Providence Journal)

Manchester, N. H., Dec. 9.—The Providence College Varsity basketball squad, en route to Hanover for its annual tussle with Dartmouth, stopped here tonight to practice on the St. Anselm's College court. The tilt tomorrow will mark the fifth Friar invasion to Hanover, with the record showing three wins for Dartmouth and one for the Dominicans.

Today's drill consisted of a light session in basket tossing, tapering off a hard week which has been marked by strong scrimmages. After a half-hour in caging scores from all corners of the court, Coach McClellan sent the squad through play formations, both out of bound plays and centre tip off.

The lineup which will face Dartmouth tomorrow night is fairly well settled except for the left guard berth left vacant last June by Chick Gainor. Two combinations were drilled this afternoon, with Perrin teaming at the forwards with Sam Shapiro in one lineup, and Bracken going forward to make room for Roberge at a guard post on the other team.

Whether Perrin or Roberge will get the starting call against the Indians will not be decided until game time, however.

Dartmouth will take the court with a veteran lineup and will have the strongest reserve force it has boasted over a period of five years. Coach Dolly Stark plans to start Jack Edwards and Capt. St. Nagle at the forwards, Reg Mackey, football star, at centre, and Burch and Krazewski at the guards. This array has already played one game, defeating the Harvard Independents earlier in the week.

Dartmouth Five Pins 44-32 Defeat on Providence College

Jake Edwards and Boniwell
Lead Veteran Green Team to Victory.

(Special to the Providence Journal)
Hanover, N. H., Dec. 10.—A veteran Dartmouth quintet proved too strong for the Providence College basketball aggregation here tonight, the Indians winning 44-32 as the result of the flashy play of Jake Edwards and Boniwell, clever forwards.

Dartmouth overcame an early Providence lead to finish the first half on the long end of a 26 to 13 count, and then continued its fast game in the second stanza to keep well in front of the aggressive Friars.

Ed Koslowski, giant Providence centre, was the outstanding member of the Dominican outfit. The husky junior collected 17 of the Friars' points, and turned in a brilliant game at the pivot post against Goss. The visitors appeared off their game in the first half and the fast offence which marked their play here a year ago was missing.

In the second stage of the tilt, however, McClellan's men showed flashes of scoring power which threatened the long Dartmouth lead. Providence pulled the count down to 29 to 21 soon after the second half got underway as the result of sharp shooting by Koslowski, and Dromgoole, but the locals had too much power and pulled away to their long lead in the closing stages of the clash.

A Flying Start

Ed Koslowski, big Friar centre, who will be with the team when it faces the Yale quintet tonight at New Haven, got off to an excellent start in his opening game against Dartmouth last Saturday by scoring 17 points. He is expected to continue his excellent work against the Elis.

FRIARS MEET YALE FIVE TONIGHT IN NEW GYMNASIUM

Game Will Be First League
Contest on Recently Opened Court.

An opportunity to square matters with members of the Eastern College basketball League awaits the Providence College quintet tonight in New Haven where it will meet the Yale five in the new Page Whitney Gymnasium.

In their first brush with Eastern League opposition last Saturday, the Friars were set back by Dartmouth at Hanover 44 to 32 and tonight their main purpose will be to down Yale and avenge the defeat received from the Big Green.

While Yale's huge athletic plant was opened on Saturday when Eli basketball, fencing and hockey teams engaged in competition, tonight's game will be the first real college basketball contest to be played in the $4,000,000 gymnasium as it was the Yale alumni five which the Elis played on Saturday.

Yale Wins First One

While the Big Green was downing the Dominicans, the Yale quintet toppled the Alumni quintet, which included three former Eli captains in its lineup. 38 to 16. Albie Booth and Eddie Horwitz played with the graduates.

Last year the Friars' invasion into New Haven was successful as they returned home victorious, 32 to 26, and as a result the Elis will be gunning for the victory which will avenge last season's defeat.

If Yale's play against its alumni team may be taken as a standard, the Dominicans face a hard task if they are to repeat their victory of last year. The Elis have a capable group of players to pit against the veteran Friar team.

It was not until the second half that the Dominicans showed their true form against Dartmouth, but their comeback was too late to offset the early lead they allowed the opposition by their spotty play during the first two periods.

That Dartmouth was playing its second game of the season on its home floor against a team which was in its first encounter may have been a factor which determined the final score, but this is not meant to detract from the Big Green victory. Dartmouth has an exceptionally strong team, one which will be a serious contender for the Eastern League championship.

Again tonight the Dominicans will be playing against the odds which favor a team when on its home floor, and as the Friars are accustomed to playing on a small surface, they may be further handicapped tonight on the large Eli floor.

Despite this the Friars will enter the game even favorites to win as they have a veteran team, one which should win a major share of its games. As far as playing experience goes, the Dominicans will have the edge over Yale, and as this is a determining basis in any athletic event, prospects of a Providence triumph are high.

Friars Face Yale, Columbus Club and St. John's Fives

Play in New Yale Gymnasium
Tuesday and in Brooklyn
Friday and Saturday.

The Providence College basketball team will have the distinction of being the first outside quintet to play in the new Yale gymnasium as on Tuesday the Dominicans will journey to New Haven to open the season for the Elis and also to participate in the initial college game to be contested in Yale's huge indoor athletic plant.

In addition to the game at New Haven, the Friars have two other important encounters facing them this week, one with the Columbus Club five on Friday, and the other with the St. John's College quintet on Saturday. Both of these contests will be played at Brooklyn.

With these three games to play within the space of five days, the Dominicans will face one of the real tests of a campaign which will carry them through 18 games, most of which will be played on the road.

St. John's Game Important

The invasion of Brooklyn has been an annual affair for Providence College basketball teams and the calibre of opposition encountered invariably has been high. Last season the locals played three games in Brooklyn, meeting the Pratt Institute team besides the Columbus Club and St. John's aggregations. Pratt will not be played this season.

The game with St. John's is one of the most important of the year for the Friars as there is a natural rivalry between the two colleges. The game with Yale, however, rates on a par with the St. John's contest, and as a result, the Friars will have an opportunity to win two major games this week.

The true strength of the Yale quintet is not known as the team has yet to get into real competition. However, it is certain that Elis will be strong and with the advantage of playing on their home floor, they will be favored to beat the Dominicans. The latter, however, have their usual strong team, and three of the players who played against Yale last season will be in the line-up Tuesday evening. They are Ed Koslowski, centre; Capt. Dick Bracken, and Sam Shapiro, forwards. Last season, Shapiro, then in his first year of Varsity play, was the star of the Yale game.

A truly difficult assignment awaits the Friars Saturday, when they face St. John's. This school has turned out quintets which has rated with the best in East for a number of years, and reports from New York indicate that Coach Buck

Freeman will turn out the best team in the history of the college. This means that St. John's will have a "Wonder Five," as the teams in past years have fallen only little short of earning this figurative application.

Coach Freeman has four veterans from last year's team, which won 22 out of 26 games. They are Nath Lazar, Johnny McGuinness, Jake Polishkin and George Slott. These stars have been playing together since they were Freshmen. The only player lost by graduation last June was Capt. Tom Neary, the centre, but the Redmen have a capable player in Johnny Hill to take Neary's place in the line-up. He is a fast six-footer, who is not only brilliant on the court, but also in the classroom, being rated the smartest player on the squad.

82 Men on Squad

An indication of how serious basketball is taken at St. John's is shown by the large number of candidates who reported on the opening day of practice. There were 82 on hand. And add to this the fact the practice drills started on Oct. 5, and you will have a true picture of the place the sport holds in the hearts of St. John's students.

It is said that the Redmen will field a fast and accurate shooting club. This will be no different than was the case last year, as the Rhode Island fans who saw the Redmen play the Friars at the Auditorium will testify.

The proceeds of the game with the Columbus Club quintet will go to a New York charity fund. The Columbus players are mostly former college stars.

Seeking Championship.

If the Friars can survive this acid test this week they will have accomplished considerable in their climb to the Eastern championship. It will be no easy task to win these three games, but there is one person who does not believe this accomplishment is impossible, and he is Al "General" McClellan, the capable and highly confident coach of the Friars.

It is likely that the Dominicans will elect their 1933 football captain this week. There are a number of candidates for the honor, but the three leading possibilities, according to gossip among the students, are Charles O'Keefe, fullback; Joie Wright, halfback, and Ollie Roberge, end.

With many capable hockey players available such as "Red" Gould, former All-Rhode Island schoolboy ace from Cranston; Dan McQueeney, ex-La Salle star; Chuck Motta and Jack Coffey, who played at Classical, there has been some talk at the college about adding hockey to the sports list, but as yet no official word has come from the athletic department.

In case a sextet is not formed this season, there are some indications, however, that the Dominicans will have a hockey team next season.

All-round Athletes

YALE TRIMS FRIARS 50 TO 29

Providence College Team Lost on Huge Eli Floor

New Haven Quintet Shows
Whirlwind Offence.—Nikkel,
Reese High Scorers.

Game played:

December 13, 1932

(Special to the Providence Journal.)
New Haven, Dec. 13.—A fast-moving Yale quintet scored its initial intercollegiate victory of the season in the first college clash in the new gymnasium by overwhelming Providence College here tonight 50 to 29. The defeat avenges the setback sustained at the hands of the Friars a year ago, and was probably the worst setback that the Rhode Island collegians have suffered in four years of collegiate play.

Yale Runs Wild

Yale, showing a fast offence, ran wild over the big court, while the Friars were completely lost in trying to find the range of the basket. The hitherto strong Providence defence was unable to cope with the speedy offence of the locals, and time and again the Elis raced through to the hoop to collect points unhindered.

Ed Koslowski, Friar centre who turned in such a great game against Dartmouth, was held well in check all evening by Capt. O'Connell of the locals, while Shapiro and Capt. Bracken of the invaders fell far short of their usual strong game.

Yale started the tilt with a rush and before the Dominicans could get their bearings on the large floor had run up a long lead, with Reese, Saner and Nikkel scoring from all corners of the court on fast moving block and pivot plays. The locals romped away to an 11-point lead before the Friars counted their first field goal.

Yale Leads at Half-time

At the half-time, Yale was on the long end of a 22 to 9 score, having held the Friars to three field goals in the entire 20 minutes of play. Providence rallied slightly at the start of the second period, but with the score 30 to 17 against it faded before a withering Eli offence which pounded through to roll up the big lead. In the final minutes of play the Friars' reserves, whittled down the long Eli lead somewhat, but were never able to seriously threaten.

FRIAR FIVE TOPS CASEYS

Dominican Quintet Scores First Triumph of Season

Play of Reserves Materially Aids
Friars in Downing Columbus Club Team.

(Special to the Providence Journal)
Brooklyn, N. Y., Dec. 16.—The Providence Varsity basketball team, spurred by the brilliant play of its reserves, scored a 27 to 18 victory over the strong Columbus Club five here tonight before a large and enthusiastic crowd. This was the initial triumph of the season for the Friars and avenged the setback sustained at the hands of the "Caseys" here a year ago.

Coach Al McClellan of the Rhode Islanders pulled a real surprise when he started his second team of three Sophomores, Felt, Kutniewski, and Stanisiewski, and two Juniors, Perrin and Roberge. The reserves more than justified his confidence, however, sweeping into a lead over the locals in the first half and leaving the court at the intermission with a 9 to 7 advantage. The first strong array went into action midway through the second half after the "Caseys" had tired under the withering attack, and piled up the commanding lead.

Bill Kutniewski, stocky guard, was the outstanding performer on the court, his alert defensive work broke up many a Casey attack, and in addition he chipped in with three points towards the Friar cause. Roberge, playing three quarters of the tilt at the centre post, was at his best, and completely outplayed his opponents.

At the start of the second half, Capt. Bracken went into the game after Perrin had gone out on personal fouls, and collected a score on Garvey's foul. McNenny and McDonnell came back with field goals for the locals to tie the score and for 10 minutes play was nip and tuck. Midway through the period Coach McClellan rushed Koslowski and Reilly into action and the Friar offence speeded.

Game played: December 16, 1932

With seven minutes of play remaining, Koslowski sent the Dominicans into a 17 to 16 lead with a sensational one-hand shot from the corner of the court. Kutniewski tried a long toss, missed and then recovered the rebound to score. Bracken took a long pass and pivoted from the foul line to cage another score and give his team a six-point lead.

Lang broke through with a tally for the Caseys, but the aggressive Friars wheeled into action in full force a moment later and Stanisiewski, Bracken and Reilly sunk field goals to assure their team of a sizeable lead and the decision.

Tomorrow night Providence meets another strong Brooklyn opponent in the powerful and undefeated St. John's College team.

FRIARS TOSS AWAY EARLY LEAD; LOSE TO REDMEN 39-25

St. John's Five Stages Strong
Comeback to Win After Trail ing at Half.

(Special to the Providence Journal.)

Brooklyn, N. Y., Dec. 17.—Faltering in the second half after having piled up an early game lead the Providence College Varsity was handed a 39 to 25 setback here tonight by the undefeated St. John's five. The Friars led 17 to 12 at the end of the first half.

St. John's came to life with full force in the second stanza when Nat Lazar, brilliant running forward, was injected into the lineup to speed team play. The Friars received a crushing setback soon after the period had started when Capt. Dick Bracken was ejected on personals. With Bracken out of the lineup the Rhode Islanders were at a loss to work their bucket plays from which their captain pocketed three field goals in the first half.

Providence went into the lead at the opening of the game when Bracken collected his first field goal. St. John's came back to take a 3 to 2 lead and from then on the clash became a seesaw battle with the Friars having the edge.

Towards the close of the period Koslowski sent the Rhode Islanders into a 12 to 8 lead when he hooped a one hand shot from the corner of the court. A moment later he added another score on a retap of Kutniewski's unsuccessful foul toss. Kutniewski scored a field goal two minutes before the end of the session and Koslowski made good a penalty throw to give the Dominicans a 17 to 12 lead as the half time whistle sounded.

St. John's whittled down the lead in the second period using a fast running attack which finally wore down the stout Providence defence and enabled the Redmen to climb into the lead which they never relinquished.

The Providence College basketball team will open its home season tonight by meeting the Coast Guard Academy quintet of New London at Harkins Hall. In their four games on the road, the Dominicans have dropped three games, winning but one.

Hopes Still High

Tonight, however, the Friars hope to start a victorious march with the object of maintaining the high standing they have held in college basketball during the past five years. Despite the fact that they have got off to their most inauspicious start in years, the Dominicans still have high hopes of winning the majority of their remaining games.

Although Edward Reilly, star guard, will not be in their lineup because of illness, the Friars will enter tonight's game favorites to win. Reilly's place in the lineup will be taken by Ollie Roberge, star all-round athlete, who will be at left guard.

The Providence College Freshman quintet will open its season tonight on the same card meeting the Holy Cross Freshman in the preliminary contest which gets under way at 7:30 o'clock. The Varsity contest is scheduled to start at 9 o'clock.

Reports from New London indicate that the Coast Guard team is one of the strongest to represent the academy in years. The Cadets have played only one game, and that brought them a triumph over the Worcester Poly Tech five.

Coach Al McClellan of the Friars has shifted Capt. Dick Bracken from a forward to guard position for the game. This move was made to strengthen the defence of the team and to offset the absence of Reilly, who is a strong defensive player.

Oc Perrin, member of the Junior Varsity last season, will team at forward with Sam Shapiro. Ed Koslowski will be at his usual centre post.

Freshman Lineup

Three former Rhode Island schoolboy stars will be in the Providence College Freshman lineup. They are Landry and Gilroy, star members of last year's St. Raphael Academy team, and Martin, who played with Cranston high. Landry and Gilroy will team at the forwards and Martin will be at left guard. The two other members of the team are Lawler, former Springfield high player, who will play centre, and Ziment, ex-New Jersey schoolboy star, slated to start at right guard.

Providence Dominates Play After Making Slow Start

Holy Cross Yearlings Defeat
Dominican Cubs in Preliminary 27-24.

The Providence College basketball team opened its home season at Harkins Hall last evening in an auspicious manner by defeating Coast Guard Academy of New London, Conn., by a score of 51 to 33. In the preliminary contest the Providence College Freshmen dropped a 27 to 24 decision to the Holy Cross Freshmen.

Providence and Coast Guard Academy furnished the spectators with a fine brand of basketball with Providence dominating the play during the late minutes of the first period and through the second quarter.

Providence's offence was slow in getting under way and Coast Guard took over the lead during the opening minutes of play. At one stage they were leading 10 to 5. However, Captain Al Bracken and Bill Kutneski, along with Roberge, Sam Shapiro and Ed Koslowski started an offensive which tied the score. The Coast Guard defence was unable to check the Providence forwards during the remainder of the first half and at the close the Friars were leading 27 to 12.

Opening the third period the Friars presented a lineup composed for the most part of substitutes and Coast Guard put on an attack which netted 12 points. At this point the regulars were sent into action and Providence run its point total to 51.

Coast Guard's offence was built around Captains Jack Forney and Dick Rea. They tallied a total of 23 points.

Team Tonight.

LINE-UPS AT HARKINS HALL

PROVIDENCE COLLEGE.	MIDDLEBURY.

Officials: James Parker, referee; Carl Merritt, umpire. Time of game—9 o'clock. Preliminary—7:30 o'clock.

Bill Kutniewski, former Commercial high all-round athlete, who has been starring in a substitute role with the Providence College basketball team, will be in the Friar starting line-up in the game with the Middlebury quintet tonight at Harkins Hall.

Kutniewski started his drive for a Varsity post last season when he first showed a sample of his true ability. Although he starred in a number of games during the 1931-32 campaign, Kutniewski was unable to win a regular position. His chances of becoming a member of the Varsity on this year's team appeared somewhat slim at the outset of the season because all of last year's regulars were available. His sensational play, however, as a reserve in the games played by the Dominicans thus far has won him a regular post.

Ed Reilly, guard, has recovered from his recent illness, but it is unlikely that he will start tonight's game. Coach Al McClellan was uncertain as to his starting lineup last night. He has been shifting his players rather frequently.

Ed Koslowski, centre, has been unable to practice during the past two days but he is slated to start at his regular position. According to his present plans, McClellan will start Sam Shapiro and Capt. Dick Bracken at the forwards, "Franny" Dromgoole, the "bad man" of the team will in all probability team with Kutniewski at guard.

In the preliminary contest, which will start at 7:30 o'clock, the Providence College Freshmen team will oppose the strong Bryant-Stratton five. The Varsity contest will get under way at 9 o'clock.

FRIARS VANQUISH MIDDLEBURY 64-31

Captain Dick Bracken Leads in Brilliant Offensive Playing.

Baumgartner Good.

Flashing an attack reminiscent of their Eastern championship team of four years ago, the Providence College 'Varsity basketball forces ran wild at Harkins Hall last night to score their third win of the season by defeating Middlebury College by a 64 to 31 score. The Friars never looked better, and with Capt. Dick Bracken setting a high scoring mark with 10 field goals and two fouls, had matters all their own way throughout the tilt.

The Friars with Roberge at centre in place of Koslowski, opened fast and slipped into a sizable lead before the Vermonters could get the range of the hoop. Bracken, Kutniewski and Shapiro found the hoop wide open during the first 20 minutes of play and as a result of their accurate tossing the McClellan coached aggregation went out at half-time with a 31 to 16 lead.

In the second half the Friar reserves drew action and managed to continue the effective work of the first team. Franny Dromgoole, rugged guard, turned in some effective work and with Bracken rimming the hoop on pivots from within the foul line the locals continued to pile up their long advantage.

Baumgartner turned in a fine game for the Panthers, but was forced out of action with a shoulder injury when he crashed into the end zone wall close to the end of the half. McKenzie and Chalmers led the scoring of the invaders with six points each.

In the preliminary game the fast Bryant-Stratton College quintet, with Duckworth and Swanson, former Pawtucket high stars, leading the way, easily defeated the Providence Freshman quintet by a 44 to 26 count. Paddy Morrison and Dan Gilroy were the yearlings' best bets.

FRIAR AND ARMY GAME CANCELLED

Prevalence of Flu at West Point
Is Cause; Dominicans Play
Manhattan Friday.

FRIARS TO OPPOSE JASPERS IN N. Y.

The Providence College basketball team will seek its first major victory of the season tonight when it opposes the Manhattan quintet in New York. The Friars will leave for New York this afternoon.

Reports from New York indicate that the Jaspers are strong which means that the Dominicans will have to play high class basketball to triumph. The Jaspers are anxious to avenge the 23 to 22 defeat the Friars handed them last season. There is considerable rivalry between the teams and a close battle is expected.

This will be the only contest of the week for the Dominicans as the game with Army, scheduled for tomorrow, has been cancelled because of the prevalence of influenza at the West Point school.

There is a possibility that Bill Kutniewski, star guard, will not be able to start tonight's game as he has been ill during the past few days. Kutniewski, however, reported for yesterday's light drill and he may be at his berth. In case Kutniewski does not start, his place in the lineup will be taken by Ollie Roberge. Ed Reilly will be at the other guard. Capt. Dick Bracken will team with Sam Shapiro at forward and Ed Koslowski will be at centre.

Due to the prevalence of influenza at the United States Military Academy, the basketball game between Providence College and Army scheduled for next Saturday at West Point has been cancelled.

John E. Farrell, graduate manager of athletics at the local college, received word to this effect from Maj. Philip B. Fleming, Army sports head, yesterday.

BASSETT NETS 12 POINTS FOR LOSING CAGERS

Brachen Tops Visitors in Scoring with 10; Local Cagers Lead at Half Time by 18-16

Manhattan dropped its fourth straight basketball game last night, the Jaspers being outfought, 30 to 27, by Providence on the Jasper court. Captain Hassett tallied 12 points for Manhattan, while Brachen netted 10 for the Friars.

A free throw by Blake and a basket by Hassett put the Jaspers in the van, 3 to 0, at the start, but with Shapiro and Brachen doing the sharpshooting the Friars moved ahead at 7 to 3. Before Hassett tallied on a cut shot for the Jaspers, Providence continued to rally and ran its count to 16 to 9, Hassett tallying twice more for Manhattan. Resigno entered the game and netted 6 points to put Manhattan ahead, 18 to 16, at half time.

Providence went back into the lead in the second half with Ed Koslowski leading the way. The visitors soon ran the count to 23 to 20 and held that advantage to the end.

The Manhattan College freshmen won their 11th straight game by defeating Berkeley Irving School, 23 to 19. The score was 12 to 12 at half time.

PROVIDENCE TOPS MANHATTAN, 30-27

Last-Period Rally of Friars' Quintet Overcomes the Green in Fast Encounter.

Providence College outlasted Manhattan in a hard-fought basketball game, 30-27, and gave the Jasper team its fourth successive setback at the Manhattan gymnasium last night. A near-capacity crowd of 1,100 looked on.

A spectacular rally enabled the Jaspers to erase a 7-point Providence lead to take an 18-16 advantage at the half. The Friars regained the lead in the final period, but were pressed to hold their advantage.

Coach Neil Cohalan experimented with a new Manhattan line-up. Bill Blake, who started in place of Tom Hogan, and Xavier Rescigno, who later replaced him, played well.

Captain Bud Hassett of the Green led both teams in scoring with 12 points.

In the preliminary game the Manhattan freshmen defeated Berkeley-Irving School, 23-19.

FRIARS SUBDUE JASPERS 30 TO 27 BY STRONG FINISH

Rhode Islanders' Steady Playing in Second Half Proves Winning Factor.

(Special to the Providence Journal)

New York, Jan. 20.—Manhattan, still trying to find a winning combination, played spottily tonight and lost to Providence College, 30 to 27, for its fourth straight defeat. The victory on Jasper Heights was the fourth in as many games for the Friars.

The Jaspers took an early lead, saw it turned into a seven-point deficit and then rallied strongly late in the first half to reach the intermission leading 18 to 16. Providence came back in the second half, wiped out Manhattan's advantage, built up a five-point lead and stayed in front the rest of the way although in the closing minutes the Jaspers three times were within a point of the Rhode Islanders.

Providence, which lost to Dartmouth, Yale and St. John's before embarking on its winning streak, presented a tall, rugged team that depended on smooth ball handling and careful shot-making rather than on speed in moving the leather around.

The Friars' shots in the first half were going home with a regularity that boded ill for Manhattan and the Rhode Islanders' steadiness in the exciting closing stages of the second period stood off Manhattan's desperate attempts to pull the game out of the fire.

P. C. FIVE DEFEATS LOWELL TEXTILE

Captain Bracken and Bill Kutniewski Lead Friars to 53-37 Victory.—Freshmen Win.

Led by Capt. Dick Bracken and Bill Kutniewski, the Providence College basketball team defeated the Lowell Textile quintet, 53 to 37, in a fast and interesting game played at Harkins Hall last night. The Providence College Freshmen defeated Becker College of Worcester, 34-28.

Coupling a fine passing attack with a sturdy defence, the Friars opened the first half with a rush to pile up a 12-point lead in the first seven minutes of play, during which time the Lowell team failed to make a single basket from the floor. Bill Kutniewski, former Commercial high school star, playing at right guard for Providence, proved to be a veritable whirlwind on the offence in the first half, caging four field and three foul baskets to help the Friars gain a 31-21 lead at half-time.

Lowell put on a much stronger game during the second half of the contest and, although the visitors managed to bottle up Kutniewski, they could not cope with the versatility of the Friars' attack. Time and again, Capt. Bracken and Ed Koslowski managed to break loose, with the resultant baskets adding to the Providence lead. During all this time, Lowell was not lax on the attacking end of the game, with Louis Athanas and Jerry Savard netting enough baskets to make the game interesting.

Scoring honors of the game were shared by Capt. Dick Bracken of Providence and Louis Athanas of Lowell Textile, both of whom totalled 16 points, with Bill Kutniewski but one point behind. Ed Reilly, Friar left guard, and Baronowski and Savard of Lowell played strong games both on the offence and defence for their respective teams.

In the preliminary game, the Friar Freshmen, with Capt. Ziment and Omer Landry in a starring role, gained their first victory of the season by downing the Becker College quintet of Worcester 34 to 28.

WORCESTER GAZETTE BECKER HOOPMEN BEAT FRIAR CUBS

Businessmen Take Early Lead to Triumph

Gathering speed as the game progressed, Becker College smothered the Providence College Freshman quintet under a 34-18 score at St. John's gym last night. The victory earned for a previous setback at the hands of the Friars in Providence.

The first period was rather slow with neither team breaking through the opposition's defense with much success. Becker was the more aggressive and led at the end of the quarter, 9-4, due largely to Allan's and Cragen's shooting.

The second quarter was more evenly played with Becker shading the Providence cagers by one point. The chief feature of this period was the close guarding of Ziment by Capt. Don Cragen of the Businessmen. By bottling up Ziment, Cragen was stopping the best scoring thrusters of the Friars. The score at half-time read 15-9 in favor of the Red and White.

Romps in Fourth Period

Becker opened up in the final heat, and left no doubt as to the outcome by tallying two sensational long shots from the middle of the floor by Cragen and Allan shortly after the start of the last quarter. Providence tried gallantly to catch the locals but their shooting and passing were too speedy for the Friars, the final score reading 34-18.

In the preliminary, The Becker College girls were forced to flash their finest game to edge out the Sacred Heart Academy sextet 33-29.

P. C. OPENS SERIES WITH SPRINGFIELD

First Basketball Game to Be Played with Springfield College Five Tonight.

The Providence and Springfield College basketball teams will play the first game of their two-game series tonight at Har-kins Hall. In a preliminary contest the Dominican Freshman and Sophomore quintets will clash. The varsity game will start at 8:45 and the preliminary at 7:30.

The Friars will be after their fifth straight victory in tonight's game, as they have defeated Coast Guard, Middle-bury, Manhattan and Lowell Textile in their last four starts.

Springfield basketball teams have given the Dominicans some close calls during the past two seasons. Last year the locals triumphed 34 to 30 in a well-played game.

Coach Al McClellan of the Friars sent his charges through a hard scrimmage yesterday afternoon in preparation for the game. McClellan anticipates some real competition from Springfield and eagerly desires a victory for his team.

The regular Providence lineup will start. Capt. Dick Bracken and Sam Sha-piro will be at the forwards, Ed Koslow-ski at centre and Bill Kutniewski and Ed Reilly as guards.

Harry McGuinness and Charles Schur-mar will be the officials.

P. C. QUINTET WINS FROM SPRINGFIELD

Dick Bracken Leads Friars to 43-25 Victory, Scoring
13 Points Himself.

With Capt. Dick Bracken leading the attack, the Providence College basketball team extended its victory streak to six by defeating Springfield College 43 to 25 at Harkins Hall last night. Played before a large crowd, the game was productive of some fine passing and some cleverly executed shots by both teams.

The starting lineup of the visiting quintet was composed entirely of Seniors, and it was at their expense that the Friars piled up a big lead, the score at half time being 24 to 7 in favor of the Friars. It was during this period that Providence played at its best, passing fast and accurately, and converting most of its opportunities to score. Springfield, on the other hand, was mostly on the defensive, confining its attack to but three field goals and a foul shot.

At the start of the second half, the starting lineup of Springfield was replaced by an entirely new team composed of Sophomores. With the insertion of these fresh players, the game became closer, the Friars outscoring the "Gym" Teachers by only one point.

During the first half, the Springfield quintet tried to cope with the Friars' clever and deceptive passing by playing a man to man defence, but in covering the man they committed many fouls. As a result, Captain "Red" Quirk was eliminated before 10 minutes of playing time had elapsed. During the course of the game, which was slightly rough, Shapiro and Morris were also ejected from the game for fouls.

Captain Dick Bracken was prominent in his team's decisive victory, being the leading scorer of the game with a total of 13 points. Many of his field goals were of the spectacular type.

Bill Kutniewski and Eddie Reilley, guards, gave a stellar exhibition in defensive play, breaking up many of the visitors' sallies into the Friars' territory. Eddie Koslowski and Sam Shapiro also played well.

In a preliminary game the Dominican Freshmen quintet defeated the Sophomores by the score of 35 to 21 in a fast and well-played game.

Providence College Quintet Topples Mass. State 46-40

Capt. Bracken Leads Offence of Friars by Scoring 17 Points in Game at Amherst.

(Special to the Providence Journal.)

Amherst, Mass., Feb. 8.—In a game featured by fast play throughout the smooth working Providence College quintet outpointed a courageous Massachusetts State five in the Physical Education building here tonight, 46-40.

The Friars led throughout and always seemed able to protect their lead. Capt. Bracken tallied the first five points of the tilt before Frigard scored State's first point from the foul line. Baskets by Bush and Lojko brought M. S. C. within two points of Providence midway during the half, but this was the signal for Koslowski and Shapiro to exhibit their marksmanship and aid the Friars toward a 31-20 lead at half-time.

The visitors' margin was raised considerably at the start of the second half as Capt. Bracken twice found the hoop and Reilly followed suit. But State continued to show its fighting qualities by forging closer as Lojko and then Bush made seven baskets between them. The visitors' only count during this rally by State was another floor goal by Bracken. Frigard tossed in State's last basket to bring his team within six points of the Friars shortly before the game ended.

RALLY IN SECOND HALF BRINGS FRIAR QUINTET TRIUMPH

Defeat New Hampshire Five 35 to 27 After Trailing 16 to 15 Midway.

(Special to the Providence Journal.)
Durham, N. H., Feb. 11.—Trailing, 16 to 15 at half time, the Providence College basketball team came from behind in the final 20-minute period to defeat the University of New Hampshire quintet, 35 to 27, in a fast game here today. New Hampshire as usual got away to an early lead through the accurate shooting of Gormley and Trzuskoski, but in the second half Providence covered the New Hampshire stars so closely that they were able to gather only five points between them.

At the same time, the Providence offense began to click, and with Shapiro and Koskowski sinking long shots, drew away to a comfortable lead with the half only a few minutes old. Thereafter, the Friars played a close game, protecting their lead and staging sallies only when the New Hampshire forwards were pulled out of position on their desperate attempts to score.

Gormley was the individual star of the game with five goals from the floor and three from the foul line, closely followed by Shapiro, who sank four baskets from scrimmage and three from the line.

FRIARS TO MEET ST. JOHN'S TEAM

Brooklyn Quintet to Invade Providence for Game Tomorrow Night.

The Providence College basketball team, in the midst of a run of victories that has extended to seven, will entertain the St. John's five on the home court tomorrow night in one of the winter's highlights in hoop circles. The Dominican freshmen will clash with St. John's Prep of Danvers, Mass., in a preliminary that is scheduled for 7:30, and the Varsity will go on at 9 o'clock.

Coach Al McClellan has made the most of the time that has been available since the mid-years in preparing his team for this crucial contest, and hopes are high on Smith Hill that sweet revenge will be gained for the setback that the Friars received in the St. John's game in Gotham.

St. John's at the moment is one of the ranking teams in the East, for not only has the five made a fine run of victories, but has turned the tables on C. C. N. Y. for the only defeat that the City College team has met. Providence fell before St. John's in Gotham early in the season after playing the Columbus Club in a hard game on the previous night. Providence was leading 17 to 12, at half time, then behind, 39 to 25, when the final gun sounded.

Basketball is the only sport at St. John's now, and it is getting the concentration that is usually spread in a half dozen directions.

The preliminary contest is a return game, St. John's Prep having upset the locals, by four points in a game at Danvers.

ST. JOHN QUINT RATED BEST BY CANISIUS PILOT

Those "doubting Thomases" who claim that St. John's basketball team isn't what it's cracked up to be and would be defeated in a return game with City College will probably be surprised to hear Ralph Burt's opinion.

Ralph Burt, the Canisius College cage mentor, in case you don't know, thinks St. John's College is the outstanding outfit he has seen this season—and he SAW C. C. N. Y. take Fordham into camp last Saturday.

But we'll let Ralph Burt have the floor.

"Going on tonight's performance"—St. John's defeated Canisius, 49 to 26—"St. John's would top any team this year that I have seen; although City College would make them step. Fordham afforded City little opposition; therefore I can't say what Nat Holman's boys would do under fire.

INDIANS BY 5 POINTS.

"But if it ever came to a show-down, I would say St. John's by five points. Michigan State would be another hard nut to crack, but I would pick St. John's to win."

Both "Buck" Freeman, of St. John's, and Burt thought Pittsburgh to be the only team that might defeat the Vincentians. At the end of the discussion, however, they both figured St. John's the better chance.

The Vincentians were clicking on all six cylinders last night. Except for the 6 to 0 lead amassed by Canisius in the first few minutes of play, St. John's was never headed. Nat Lazar and George Slott won the scoring honors with eleven points apiece, while Victor Lipinski, with ten, led the Buffalo cagers.

The score favored St. John's, 30 to 15, at half time.

Victory Is Eighth Straight for Dominicans; Providence
Yearlings Lose 38-24.

Game played:

February 18, 1933

Stinging defeats received from the St. John's College basketball team in past years when it was a contender for the Eastern championship were avenged by the Providence College quintet last night at Harkins Hall when it defeated the Redmen from Brooklyn, 47 to 38, to practically eliminate their chances for the sectional crown. In the preliminary contest the St. John's Prep team of Danvers, Mass., subdued the Friar Freshmen, 38 to 24.

This was the third defeat in 20 games for the Redmen, who previous to last night's game were in the thick of the battle for the Eastern title. For the Friars the victory was their eighth straight and the ninth in 12 games. This was the most satisfying triumph of the season for the Dominicans.

Until the final five minutes of play the teams battled on practically even terms. The lead changed hands many times during the roughly played game. At halftime the Redmen were ahead, 18 to 16.

Deadlocked Twice

Twice during the early stages of the second half the keen rivals were tied, once at 22 all and soon after at 29 all. Capt. Dick Bracken of the Friars brought the climax of the game with two spectacular overhead shots from within a short distance of the basket to give his team a lead which it never relinquished during the five remaining minutes of play.

Bracken's two timely shots had a decided effect on the Redmen and their defence cracked during the final stages to allow Koslowski and Shapiro to join Bracken in caging the ball.

The Dominican captain was the high scorer of the game with 18 points. He was followed by Shapiro and Koslowski, who tallied 12 points each. For St. John's, McGuinness and Slott were the outstanding performers. McGuinness made 12 points and Slott eight. Shortly before the end of play the latter was put out of the game for unsportsmanlike conduct by Referee James McGuinness.

Take Early Lead

Through a fine passing attack the Redmen took an early lead. With the count 6 to 1 against them after five minutes of play, the Friars awoke from their lethargy and brought the count 7 to 6. After 10 minutes of play had elapsed, the Dominicans moved to an 11 to 11 tie. During the remainder of the half the teams battled on close terms with Hill's basket in the final minute giving the Redmen an 18 to 16 advantage.

Redmen managed to stay with the Friars until the final five minutes. The fine shooting of McGuinness and Slott kept the Redmen in the battle, but once Bracken found his true scoring eye there was no doubt as to the final result.

Friars' Leader Attempts to Score on Maroons

Maroon Five Is No Match for Classy Providence Team

Friars Toll Off 43-29 Victory, Displaying Sensational Passing Attack; Springfield Combinations Offer Little Defense; Bracken Stars.

By HAROLD W. HEINZ.

A rangy, veteran Providence College basketball team, well versed in every department of the game, turned in its ninth straight victory in defeating Springfield College yesterday afternoon before a big crowd at the West Gym, 43 to 29. Off to a disappointing start in their schedule when they lost their first two games to Yale and Dartmouth, but now considered one of the most powerful quintets in the East, the classy Friars outclassed the Maroons all the way. It was the second time Providence trimmed the Maroons this winter.

Friars Set Pace.

The charges of Albert (General) McClellan, fiery coach of the Clam City quintet, opened up with a lead and from then on never appeared to be in doubt of finishing on top.

Providence's passing game was something to conjure with. The Friars zipped the ball around in the approved style of a well organized group. They penetrated the Maroons' senior group zone defense with ease in the first half and in the second period, when Coach E. J. Hicox elected to try his luck with his so-called sophomore combine, which uses a man-for-man defense, the visitors were even more potent. The "sophs" clearly showed a lack of confidence and experience against the ever-forcing Friars, who with the exception of Bill Kutneski, a guard, have played together since their entrance into college, and the visitors definitely put the game away in the first 10 minutes of the last half.

The Maroons were a trifle off their game but even had they been up to standard in their shooting they would not have finished ahead of the quintet led by Capt. Dick Bracken. Bracken ran wild and tallied 17 points. Bracken and Ed Koslowski, broad shouldered center, registered 29 of the Friars' points.

Mark Randall, local pivot man, and Kutneski left the game in the second half via the personal foul route.

Springfield made a slight rally toward the close of the game when Friar substitutes were on the court but Coach McClellan rushed his regulars back into the fray to protect his lead.

"Battle of Battles" Carded at Harkins Hall Saturday

Providence College Varsity Five Will Meet Second Team

By MICHAEL J. THOMAS

For the first time in five years, Albert "General" McClellan, Providence College basketball coach, will be among the spectators watching his charges play at Harkins Hall on Saturday. No, the Dominicans have not adopted the player-control system or done anything rash, but they are going to do something radical.

And it's all because there are too many good basketball players on Smith Hill. When a coach has upwards of 10 candidates with more than average ability, he faces the added task of making hair-line decisions for his startling line-up. Coaches will agree that at times it is difficult to select this or that player for a game, but for the "General," it has been more than selecting this or that player. It has been a case of naming "these or those."

VETERAN PLAYERS

HOLD OLD POSITIONS

It is a coaching code not to break up a winning combination and this is what influenced the "General" in selecting his varsity for the early games. Four of the five players on the crack 1931-32 team were available for this year's team. They were Capt. Dick Bracken and Sam Shapiro, forwards; Ed Koslowski, centre, and Ed Reilly, guard. At the other guard, he placed "Franny" Dromgoole, letterman for the past three years.

However, the winning combination of 1931-32 turned into a losing combination during the first four games of the present campaign. The Friars lost to Dartmouth, Yale and St. John's and won from Columbus Club in making its dismal start.

But, despite this, the "General" had considerable faith in the ability of his winning combination of 1931-32 and he stuck to it. He did this in spite of the fact that the second team had defeated the varsity on a number of occasions in regular practice games. There were many who began to criticize the "General" for the first time in his five years of coaching at Smith Hill.

SETON HALL

CANCELS GAME

When the Seton Hall College athletic authorities notified the Friars that they would have to cancel the game scheduled to be played at Harkins Hall Saturday, because of inability to schedule enough opponents in New England to make the trip worth while financially, the way was opened for the settlement of the big problem which had split the Dominican students.

A group of students suggested to the athletic authorities to stage a game between the first and second teams on the date left open by Seton Hall to settle all the wrangling. Realizing that they still had a game scheduled for the Freshman team with Dean Academy on the same night, the officials agreed, and decided to offer a double bill, with the "Varsity-Sub" game as the headliner.

And now the entire student body is awaiting the "battle of battles," which is to be held Saturday night. Not only are the students interested in the outcome, but also the alumni and followers of Friar athletics.

The Varsity will line up with Capt. Dick Bracken and Sam Shapiro, forwards; Ed Koslowski, centre; Ed Reilly and Bill Kutniewski, guards.

The second team will have "Franny" Dromgoole and Oo Perrin at the forwards, Ollie Roberge at centre, James Bostick and Al Feit at the guards.

CAPT. BRACKEN HAS FAITH IN VARSITY

Capt. Bracken of the varsity admits that the second team is capable of defeating the varsity but says, "because of lack of experience they could not do as well as we do against outside opponents." Bracken insists that this is not to be interpreted as conceding defeat.

Regular officials will handle the game. Each team will appoint a captain and he will direct his squad's play and make substitutions.

The "General" will be an impartial observer and that's why he will be among the spectators in the stands waiting to see which team he will use against B. U. on March 1 at Boston, for he has promised to start tomorrow night's winning quintet against the Terriers.

P. C. 'Varsity Team Must Look to Its Basketball Laurels

Subs Demand Recognition From Coach

First and Second Stringers Clash for Right to Rep- resent Friars

Your basketball second-stringer, we've learned, isn't of the same breed as the humble, much-stepped-upon substitute of the football field. On the gridiron the self - sacrificing scrub has his nose hammered into the mud by the pounding cleats of the 'varsity every practice day and rarely, if ever, thinks of doing any consistent pounding himself. But it isn't so with the basketball sub. At least it isn't so with the young men who compose the second team at Providence College. The second-string Friars of late have been outscoring the 'varsity in practice scrimmage with almost the consistency of habit and they've found it a pleasant sensation, so pleasant, in fact, that they've been angling for the chance to meet the 'varsity in a regulation game. And they're going to get it, too, next Saturday night when a regulation contest between the Friar 'varsity and Seconds will be staged at Harkins Hall. The time for such a contest was made available when Seton Hall, originally scheduled to come here that evening, called off the booking, leaving an open date on the Dominican slate.

Gerald Prior

It's a fact that the Dominican Seconds have laid it on to the 'varsity several times this year in practice and, as a result, the Saturday night attraction has the student body on the Elmhurst Plateau much agog and abuzz. Further interest was added to the affair when Coach Al McClellan announced that the team emerging on the winning end, whether it be the 'varsity or the Seconds, will draw in a body the opening assignment against Boston University next Wednesday night at Boston.

Providence NEWS-TRIBUNE

IMPRESSIVE LINEUPS

Undoubtedly that Friar lineup is an impressive cast with Capt. Dick Brachen and Sam Shapiro at the forwards, big Ed Koslowsky at centre and Bill Kutniewski and Eddie Reilly as the guards. But look at the second-string hookup before you go making any predictions of a 'varsity sweep.

At centre on the second team there'll be that great all-rounder Ollie Roberge, who certainly would have landed the regular pivot post were he pitted against any one a bit less formidable than the mighty Koslowski. For one forward there's Franny Dromgoole, big, capable Franny, hero of many a thrilling Friar play on the gridiron and court. At the other forward will be Occ Ferrin, an accurate shooter whose lack of weight alone kept him out of the 'varsity lash-up. And for guards the seconds will have their choice of three stellar performers, Johnny Madden, captain of last year's Freshman team; Jim Bostick, all-State choice in his schoolboy days in New Jersey, and the eagle-eyed Frankie Feit.

The remainder of the squad will be evenly divided as substitutes for the rival aggregations. Coach McClellan will keep his hands off the game entirely and will allow the players to run the teams. The rangy Friar tutor will be relegated to a pew up in the balcony and he promises not to yelp even if the boys in the heat of the competition forget some of the things he's been drilling into them all year.

AT SPRINGFIELD TODAY

The Friars today travelled up to Springfield for a game with Springfield College this afternoon, one of the features of a Homecoming Day program for the Gym Teachers' Alumni. The Dominicans ruled favorites over the Teachers by reason of a previous decision gained locally. With that notable victory over St. John's Saturday night, the Friars rose from the ashes of early-season failure to a prominent spot with the East's top-notchers. They're determined to stay there by winning all their remaining games. These included the Boston University game next Thursday, a clash with Worcester Polytech at Worcester, Saturday, March 4 and the climax game with Brown at Brown gym March 11.

Providence College 'Varsity Defeats Second Team 48-32

Dean Academy Quintet Triumphs Over Friar Freshman Team.

The Providence College varsity basketball team proved conclusively its superiority over the second team, which many believed stronger than the regulars, by handing the subs a 48-32 defeat at Harkins Hall last night. In the preliminary game, the fast-moving Dean Academy quintet defeated the Providence College Freshmen by the score of 49-30.

After a slow start, during which the second team compiled a six to two advantage in the first five minutes of play, the 'Varsity team gained speed and led during the remainder of the game. The score at half time was 24-14, with the 'Varsity leading.

Led by Capt. Dick Bracken, who scored 17 points, the 'Varsity passed well and capitalized most of its scoring opportunities, whereas the second team was content to take long shots and cover their respective men.

The understudies may find some consolation in their defeat due to the fact that outside of the first six minutes of play, they played without the services of their capable running guard, Abe Felt. He sustained a leg injury in the early minutes of play and had to retire from the game. The veteran, Franny Dromgoole, who captained the understudies, played hard and efficiently, endeavoring to establish the losers' claim of superiority. "Oc" Perrin led the subs in scoring with a total of 11 points. Many of his baskets were brilliantly made.

PIONEERS DEFEATED, 48-37 BY PROVIDENCE COLLEGE

Friars Score 10th Straight Victory, Coming Fast in Second Half After Leading at Half Time by 27 to 21 Count

The strong Providence College basket-ball five won its 10th straight victory, defeating Boston University, 48 to 37, last night at the B. U. gymnasium, St Botolph st. The Pioneer team had previously won four straight.

Providence found the competition keen in the first half, but coasted away from the Pioneers after eight minutes of the second session. The Friar five with Edward Koslowski of Bridgeport, Conn, center, and Allan Bracken of Portchester, N Y, leading the attack took advantage of the Boston University weakness late in the closing period and there was no question of the final result.

Freddy Garabedian, who was elected captain for next year at the close of the contest was the Boston University star. He tallied eight field goals, most of them in the second period.

Providence tallied the opening two baskets when Koslowski and Kutniewski caged shots, but Garabedian and Hart were factors as the score was soon tied at 4-all. A few minutes later the count was tied again at 11-all. At the end of the first half the count was 27 to 21 in Providence's favor.

Sam Shapiro of Lynn opened the scoring in the second half, with a floor goal from the center of the court. Johnny Driscoll tallied two points for the Pioneers but Bracken's deadly eye became effective and three consecutive goals from the court ran up a total for Providence to a 35-to-23 count. Providence then went on to win decisively.

Sam Shapiro of Providence and Herb Semina and Bill Lowder of Boston University were lost to their teams because of four personal fouls.

The School of Medicine defeated the School of Theology, 50 to 23, in an intramural game, which preceded the varsity contest. The summary of the main game:

FRIARS DEFEAT B. U.

Success on Foul Shots Bring P. C. 10th Straight Victory

Score 10 of 14 Free Tries.
Break Four-Game Victory
Run of Terriers.

(Special to the Providence Journal)

Boston, March 1.—A rangy Providence College basketball team won its 10th straight game and, incidentally, broke a four-game winning streak compiled by Boston University, in defeating the Terriers, 48 to 37, before a crowd of 500 at the Boston University gym tonight. Although Providence outscored Boston University from the floor by only ~~three~~ ^{five} baskets, the tremendous height advantage of the Friars enabled them to draw enough free tries to build up a comfortable lead. The uncanny accuracy of the Providence players from the foul line featured their winning performance, as they converted 10 of their 14 free tries.

The Terriers made good on five out of 12 foul shots.

Providence quickly built up a lead of 7-2 but the Terriers refused to become stampeded and took the lead for the first time in the game half way through the first period.

Providence rallied near the end of the half, to take a lead of 27-23 as the whistle blew. Playing a closer guarding game and shortening up its passing attack, the Friars built up a commanding lead in the first 10 minutes of the second half. Some good passing opened up the Boston University defence and enabled the Friars to build up a commanding lead of 36-23, before B. U. found the basket again to close up to the final score.

THERE seems to be a wealth of scoring power in the Providence College basketball team which meets Worcester Tech on the Tech gym court tonight, judging by the season's record. Providence has tallied 573 points in 14 starts, an average of 41 points per game. Capt. Allen Bracken and big Ed Koslowski are the Krupp guns of the Friars' attack. Bracken has tallied 178 points, or an average of 13 to the game. Koslowski has accounted for 137 points, an average of 10. It will be quite interesting to note how these sharpshooters fare against the Technology defense tonight.

The Providence College season did not appear so promising at the start. The opening tilt at Hanover, N. H., found the Friars on the short end of a 44 to 32 score against Dartmouth. Against Yale at New Haven, Conn., the Providence College boys were even less effective and dropped a 50 to 29 verdict. Things perked up a bit when the White and Black topped the fast Columbus Club basketeers at Brooklyn, 27 to 18, but the third defeat in four starts came the next night. St. John's of Brooklyn whipped P. C. 39 to 25.

Since that occasion, Captain Bracken and his team mates have piled up 10 successive triumphs, defeating the Coast Guard Academy 51-33, Middlebury 64-31, Manhattan 30-27, Lowell Textile 53-37, Springfield 43-25, Massachusetts State 46-40, New Hampshire State 35-27, St. John's of Brooklyn 47-38, Springfield 43-29 and Boston University 48-37. After tonight, the Friars have only one more contest, a set-to with Brown, and have hopes of completing their schedule with 12 straight victories.

BASKETBALL fans of this city will have the opportunity of seeing one of the classiest court quintets in the Eastern collegiate world perform here tomorrow night when the Providence College outfit visits Tech gym for a basket joust with "Pete" Bigler's Worcester Tech aggregation. The Friars from the Rhode Island city have amassed 10 victories in succession, after losing their first two starts of the season to Dartmouth and Yale.

Providence College usually has a snappy set of basketeers and this season's club is no exception to the rule. In fact, according to Johnny Farrell, affable Graduate Manager of Athletics at P. C. the present Friar combination is just about the best that ever represented the Smith Hill institution of higher education.

Albert McClellan of Swampscott is the coach of basketball at Providence College. His history in the game is an interesting one. Al is a graduate of St. John's Prep at Danvers, where he starred in all sports. Later "Mac" attended St. Joseph's College and compiled a fine record in athletics. He left St. Joseph's to join the Baltimore club of the International league as a pitcher and later played with Waterbury of the Eastern league. An arm injury cut short McClellan's diamond career, while playing pro basketball with the Nanticoke, Pa. team.

McClellan coached four successful basketball years at Salem High and then mentored two great St. John's Prep quintets. He came to Providence College in 1927 and has been on the job ever since. During the past four years Providence has placed at least one man each season on the All-New England quintet, selected following a poll of the coaches. Eddie Wineapple was picked in the 1928 All-American five and John Krieger won All-American second team honors in 1929.

Allan Bracken of Portchester, N. Y., is captain of the Providence College team this year. He is a junior, and plays either a guard or forward position. Bracken rated as one of the finest all-around basketball players in New England last season and is doing right well again during the present campaign. Oscar Perrin of Albany, who has been the Providence College star first sacker for the past two Springs, is a forward on the basketball team this Winter. Other forwards are Sam Shapiro of Lynn, Eddie Stanisiewski of Amherst, Anthony Barberito of New Haven, Joe Wright of Staten Island, N. Y., and Jim Bostick of Hoboken, N. J.

Eddie Koslowski of Bridgeport, Conn., Oliver Roberge of Bristol, Conn., and Dexter Davis of East Providence, R. I., are the centers on the team. All three men are two inches more than six feet in height, and all three are Juniors. Koslowski weighs 196 pounds, Roberge 193 pounds and Davis 197 pounds. Wow!

FRIARS DEFEAT WORCESTER TECH QUINTET 46-22

Capt. Bracken Scores 19 Points to Lead Team to 11th Straight Victory.

(Special to the Providence Journal.)
Worcester, Mass., March 4. — Providence College added Worcester Tech to its imposing list of basketball victims when it crushed the Engineers here tonight, 46 to 22, for their 11th straight victory.

The Friars watched Tech gain a 4-0 lead after a few minutes of swift but more or less futile passing, but once the Engineers got that edge the invaders warmed to their task and had amassed a 22 to 11 lead when the half ended.

Captain Dick Bracken, playing his usual leisurely game, waltzed away with scoring honors, caging eight field goals and a trio of free tries for 19 points. Captain Irv. Gartrell was high gun for Tech with seven points.

Coach Al McClelland used an even dozen players during the evening and all played impressively. Sammy Shapiro, fleet Friar forward, scored but a lonely field goal for his night's efforts, but his play was one of the game's highlights. The Friars' swift passing game bewildered the Engineers and their tremendous physical advantages made the game an almost impossible task for the local cagers, who were very small in comparison.

Under the basket, Tech was lost and the Dominicans' overhead passes were too high for the Engineers to reach whereas Tech passes frequently were intercepted. Shapiro, Bracken and Reilly proving especially adept at breaking up well intended Tech formations.

Dominicans, at Peak of Game, Give Brilliant
Exhibition Here

Dick Bracken, leisurely leader of the Providence college cagers was in scoring mood last night, as the Friars helped Tech close the home basketball season. The consequence was that Capt. Dick tallied 19 points and Providence, by way of proving that imitation is the highest form of flattery, followed their leader and crushed the Engineers 46 to 22.

The game, played before an appreciative gathering in Alumni gymnasium, showed the fleet and fancy Friars almost at their best. On occasions Providence demonstrated their uncanny ability to pass their way through the Engineer defenses and when they undertook to follow their formations they were an especially entertaining lot.

Providence, by the way, has now amassed 11 consecutive victories, one of their more notable victims being St. John's college of Brooklyn, a basketball team of the first spring water. Last night the Friars took to underrating Tech early, but when Johnny Noreika and Tom Decker sank field goals in quick succession the visitors decided that perhaps, after all, this game was not the expected romp.

Tech Full of Fight

And it wasn't. True, Providence did hand Tech something of an artistic shellacking in the matter of points, but they had to work hard and think hard for every point they got, which is a big point in favor of Tech. The Friars, a collection of superb physical specimens, held tremendous advantages over Tech's little team, which added exactly nothing to the ease of the Engineers' task.

Tech, moreover, played its best game of the year. They fought all the way against discouraging odds as represented by the Friars' six-footers, and really made the game vastly more interesting than the 46-22 final score indicates.

Providence flashed a swift, accurate passing game that was so smooth it looked casual. Whether the Friars decided to do their passing overhead or on the bounce mattered little, for so efficient was their machine that the results were pretty much the same either way.

Clever on Defense

Meanwhile, Tech was battling furiously to hold the invaders in check, frequently breaking up Friar formations and launching sensational counter attacks that sometimes brought results, and sometimes went to pieces when the long arms of the Friars reached up into the ozone to spoil their plans.

Bracken, one of those performers who is never in a hurry, but is never late, started his scoring early and continued it often. He dropped them in from near and far and from any mentionable angle. The very ease of his workmanship was fascinating, and when it became necessary for him to hurry he would dash through the Tech defense like a timid soul fleeing from Popeye.

Shapiro Sparkles

While Bracken waltzed away with the scoring honors, getting as many points as any other three pastimers involved, Sammy Shapiro came in for a good share of attention. The Providence forward, although caging but one basket, played a brilliant game. On attack he generally fed the ball to another Friar but on the defense he saw to it that Tech fed it to him often. His speed and court acumen enabled him to intercept a flock of well intended and well timed passes and his ability to get up into the air for overhead heaves also proved very annoying to the Engineers.

The game was particularly free from fouls, only nine being called on Tech and six on the invaders. Despite the speed of the game there was little contact and no rough stuff, but the fray did not suffer in the matter of excitement for its absence.

Subs Follow Fouls

Coach Al McClelland apparently had devised a clever scheme for making substitutions, unless it was merely coincidence. Almost every time one of his boys committed a foul Al sent in a substitute. The idea seemed to work all right, for his charges generally kept within the law. The substitutions didn't weaken the Friars any.

At one stretch in the second half the invaders staged four successive scoring plays from the tap, varying the attack to suit their mood. The great physical advantages the Friars enjoyed made some of their maneuvers easy, but when deftness, speed and trickery were necessary, they had them to spare. It was as clever and efficient a Providence team as Coach McClelland has brought here in several years and none of his quintets could be classed as push overs.

Deserve Much Credit

Tech gave a fine performance. What with the odds so huge against them, and the Providence reserves so plentiful and proficient, it would have been easy to take a drubbing with little more than passive resistance, but the Engineers were full of fight and deserve a lot of credit for their performance.

March 4, 1938

In the preliminary

Individually and collectively the Engineers gave their best performance of the season.

In the preliminary game the Commerce High cagers wound up their season by walloping the Tech Seconds 57 to 23.

Between the halves of the main game Jack Schatz defied danger and flirted with a broken neck by giving an exhibition of diving over high jump standards, propelling himself through the air from a spring board.

In Finale Tonight

Francis "Tranny" Dromgoole, member of the Providence College basketball team for the past three seasons, will play his last game for the Friar quintet tonight against the Brown five.

BRUINS AND FRIARS END BASKETBALL SEASON TONIGHT

Providence College Five Favored to Win City Title.
Yearling Teams Clash.

Brown and Providence College clash for the city basketball championship in their annual game tonight at the Brown gymnasium with the Friar five the favorite to capture the verdict. In a preliminary game the Freshman teams from the two colleges will meet at 7:30 o'clock with the Varsity game scheduled to start at about 8:30 o'clock.

The game will bring the season to a close for both the Bears and the Friars. Previous games between the two clubs have always been close and spirited affairs and tonight's battle is expected to be no exception.

A Brown victory is possible if the Bears can display the same brand of basketball which they did against Harvard at Cambridge a week ago. With one exception, Coach Arthur Kahler is starting the same team that saw service in that game. The change is at left forward where "Bud" Walsh is replacing Henry Malkowski.

The latter was forced to leave the team the first of the week to take examinations for West Point. Teamed up with Walsh at right forward will be Howie Floren, while Dick Morse will be at centre with Bill Karaban and Capt. Oscar Hammer in the backcourt.

The Providence coach will start a team made up of Bracken and Shapiro, forward; Koslowski, centre, and Kutniewski and Dromgoole, guards. The game will give local fans a chance to see two of the outstanding college players in New England pitted against one another. Bill Karaban of Brown and Bracken of Providence College.

Winners Take Early Lead to Advantage at Half.

The Warren high school basketball team continued its excellent play by defeating the Providence College Freshmen, 23-17, in a fast and interesting game at the Warren high school gymnasium last evening. Warren high school Jayvees won the preliminary game, 20 to 11, over the Warren Sea Scouts.

Warren took the lead at the start, and although they were pressed hard in the third period, they managed to maintain their lead. Warren led, 9 to 6, in the first quarter, and at the close of the first half were still out in front, 17 to 8.

FRIARS TRIP BROWN FIVE-

Friar Court Five Takes Bruins Over Hurdles 50-26

Dominican Yearlings Whip Bruin
Cubs 30 to 25; Kutneski
Individual Star.

With an attack that had Brown completely bewildered, Providence College's basketball team romped away to a 50 to 26 triumph last night in the final game of the season for both teams at Brown gymnasium.

The Friars took command early in the first half and were always out in front, retiring at the end of this period with the score 28 to 13. For the first five minutes of the second half, the Bears had a merry time against the Dominicans' second stringers, piling up 11 points and cutting down the Friars' lead to four points, as the Providence College team was held scoreless.

Coach McClellan halted this rush, however, by sending his first team back onto the court and in the last 15 minutes of play Brown was able only to score but one basket from the floor, while Providence College tossed in nine from the floor and gathered four more points on free throws on fouls.

While the crack Providence College team, which won its last 12 games, was working, Brown was so overshadowed that there was never any doubt as to the outcome.

The Friars' dazzling attack could not be stopped while the Bears found it almost impossible to break through the defence.

Brown opened the scoring immediately after the first tip-off, Walsh scoring on a foul on that play. Karaban immediately registered another point on a foul throw, giving Brown the lead for the only time during the game. Shapiro Koslowski and Kutneski piled up seven points before Karaban again had a chance to get a single point for the Bears. Bracken then broke into the scoring with Kutneski and gave the Friars a nine-point lead before Morse registered the first basket from the floor for Brown.

Morse, Karaban, Floren and Hammer added eight points for Brown before the half ended but Bracken, Koslowski and Kutneski kept piling up the points until relieved toward the end of the period, bringing the score to 28 to 13 as the half ended.

The Friar second team, which had finished the first half, took the floor for the second. Brown found this combination much different from the regulars and started a rally that netted 11 points before Providence could get one. Malkowski started with a basket and Karaban followed with two, with Floren and Morse registering on shots from the floor and Morse on a foul shot.

This scoring spree was cut short when the Friar regulars were rushed into play again, and for the next 15 minutes Morse was the only Brown man to get a point. Reilly broke into the scoring for Providence College with two baskets, Bracken with two, Koslowski with one from the floor and a foul, Shapiro with two field goals and a point on a foul and Kutneski with two baskets and two fouls to send the Friars flying away from the Bears with a rally that netted 22 points.

Kutneski's floor work and shooting was very brilliant. He scored six baskets and two points on foul shots to lead his team with 14 points, with Bracken, Shapiro and Koslowski pressing him hard for honors. Karaban, who was Brown's outstanding star, was tied with Morse, with eight points, to top the Brown scorers.

Friar Yearlings Win

The Providence College Freshmen sprang something of an upset by turning down the Bruin Cubs, 30 to 25. The Dominicans had things pretty much their own way in the first half, leading 18 to 6 at half-time. But in the second half Lombardo began to get his eye on the basket and narrowed the lead to five points. The Bear Cubs, however, failed to keep up the attack, and, although making a great bid for the game in the final moments of play, couldn't reach.

Lombardo of Brown was the star shooter in this contest, registering 14 points, more than half the number made by his team. Morrison, with 10, led the Friars, with Landry, Gilroy and Zient contributing liberally.

Good Season

FRIARS WIN 12 STRAIGHT

Brown Coach Praises Team

BY JOE NUTTER

The Providence College varsity basketball team maintained the high level of performance that has made the Dominican basketekers one of the most feared combinations in the East by running out 12 consecutive victories after a shaky start to stand close with the leaders of the Eastern colleges.

After losing three of the first four games on a road trip that pitted the Friars against Yale, Dartmouth and St. John's before the ice had been completely broken on the new season, Coach Al McClellan brought his men back in a manner that left no doubt as to the punch that the team carried.

Basketball flourishes at the Smith Hill

institution about as well as any place in New England, a wealth of fine material, capable coaching, the lack of competition within the institution from other sports with the resultant concentration of efforts by the leading athletes, and rapidly mounting traditions in the sport, combining to keep the Dominicans with the leaders.

KAHLER HAS HIGH PRAISE FOR FRIARS

Coach Arthur D. Kahler of Brown, after watching the Friars romp over his Brown team in the final game, said that he would place Providence College on a par or above Yale, from what he had seen of the two teams, and he was not forgetting that the men of Eli had just turned in an Intercollegiate League title in basketball.

Yale beat Providence at New Haven in the second game on the Dominican schedule, but that 50 to 29 verdict might have had a different ring had the meeting come late in the season after the McClellan-coached five had caught its stride.

But that is just one of the vagaries of intercollegiate competition, and there is no backing up to stage post-mortems in the serious business of chalking up victories and defeats. Providence can get ample solace for those three early season upsets by contemplating its unbroken run of a dozen straight victories, most of them on foreign courts, for that record must stand as something for the books.

The top team was made up of underclassmen, for Frannie Droomgoole was the only first team member who will take his degree in June. Prospects for a winning team a year hence are excellent, for McClellan will have at least four likely yearlings to team up with his holdover veterans.

BRACKEN LEADING SCORER ON TEAM

Bracken, Koslowski, Shapiro and Kutniewski were the seige-guns in the 1932-33 attack, Bracken, Koslowski and Shapiro compiling figures that ranged above the century mark. No defence offered by 16 rugged opponents completely halted them, and Bracken, Kutniewski and Koslowski all deserve rating with the leading Eastern individual performers.

Here are the individual and team records of the 'Varsity five:

John "Jake" Ziment, captain of the freshmen team and its outstanding player, is the most promising of the first year men for the varsity next season. Ziment, a guard who gathered 51 points from his back court assignment, is a stocky, rugged lad who hails from Hoboken, where he starred at Demarest High before coming to Providence. He is an exceptionally fine passer and dribbler and did a great job of covering his man all season, playing probably his best game against Brown. He is rated by Providence College officials as one of the most likely freshmen prospects to show at the Smith Hill institution in the past three seasons, and that is recommendation enough for any yearling.

GILROY AND LANDRY ARE GOOD PROSPECTS

Daniel Gilroy and Omer Landry, the two forwards from St. Raphael's Academy in Pawtucket who have continued on together in college, are both fine prospects for next year's varsity. Gilroy, an Attleboro lad, led the yearlings in scoring with 69 points, 62 of which were registered on 31 field goals, and Landry featured as a capable passer and most expert in bringing the ball up from the backcourt.

Patrick "Paddy" Morrison of West New Brighton, Staten Island, played an aggressive brand of ball at guard, reaching his best form against the Brown freshmen when he led his team in points with 10 tallies on four field goals and two fouls.

Some of the other men will develop into capable hoop contenders, but these four must stand out as the best of a yearling team that met some of the most rugged opposition of the first year combinations hereabouts.

Succeeds His Pal

Ed Koslowski, star centre on the Providence College basketball team for the past two seasons, was elected captain of next year's quintet at a meeting of the lettermen last night. Koslowski succeeds Dick Bracken, one of his closest friends.

FRIAR FIVE ELECTS EDWARD KOSLOWSKI

Star Centre Unanimously Elected; 12 Members of 'Varsity Squad Receive Letters.

Edward Koslowski, star centre on the Providence College basketball team during the past three seasons, was unanimously elected captain of the Friar quintet for next year at a meeting of the 12 lettermen following last night's victory over Brown.

Koslowski succeeds Allan Bracken, one of his closest friends, to the captaincy. These two star athletes have been pals since they matriculated at the Dominican college three years and they play on the basketball court has been outstanding.

Koslowski is highly popular with the Friar undergraduates and his elevation to the captaincy will meet with the approval from the students.

The new basketball captain, who is a good student as well as a good athlete, is a serious-minded chap who gives his best towards anything he undertakes, and this coupled with his conscientious tendencies, accounts for his success both on and off the athletic field. Besides playing basketball, Koslowski has been a member of the Friar varsity baseball team during the past two seasons.

Connecticut Boy

Koslowski prepared for college at Warren Warding High School of Bridgeport, Conn., his home city, and at Samuel Johnson Academy in Stratford. While at Warren Warding High he won All-Connecticut State schoolboy basketball honors. He also played football and basketball while a schoolboy.

Due to his excellent play with the Friars, Koslowski has been rated among the best centres in Eastern collegiate basketball circles. Last year he won a berth on the All-New England College teams picked by the various coaches.

Ed will lead a veteran team into action next year, one which should have a successful season. Only "Franny" Dromgoole of the 12 lettermen will be lost, assuring the Friars of a seasoned campaigner for every position.

The decision of the Athletic Council to award 'varsity insignia to the 12 outstanding men of the 'varsity squad comes as an earned tribute to several of the substitute players whose time in competition has been limited owing to the outstanding work of the regulars.

The awards of 'varsity insignia and of class numerals to the freshman squad follow:

Varsity insignia was awarded to Capt. Alan Bracken, '34, of Portchester, N. Y.; Capt.-elect Edward Koslowski, '34, and Edward Reilly, '34, both of Bridgeport, Conn.; Sam Shapiro, '35, of Lynn, Mass.; William Kutniewski, '35, Francis Dromgoole '33, both of Providence; Oscar J. Perrin, '34, of Albany, N. Y.; Oliver J. Roberge, '34, of Bristol, Conn.; John Madden, '35, of Pittsfield, Mass.; Abe F. Felt, '35, of Paterson, N. J.; James Bostick, '35, of Hoboken, N. J.; John Dillon, '35, of New York City; and Student Manager John J. Glennon, '33, of New Bedford, Mass.

Freshman numerals awarded to Capt. John Ziment of Hoboken, N. J.; Patrick Morrison of West New Brighton, Staten Island, N. Y.; Omer Landry of Central Falls; Daniel Gilroy of Attleboro; John E. Martin of Cranston; Francis Sweeney of Worcester; William Lawler of Springfield; Erville Williams and Chester Condon, both of Providence; Brendan McMullen of Far Rockaway, N. Y.; Joseph Heiser of Northfield, N. J., and class numerals to Manager Joseph F. Lee, '34, of Nashua, N. H.

New England college athletes are turning their endeavors now toward spring sports, but the winter season is not officially concluded until the Transcript publishes the annual All-New England college basketball team. The method employed is for the various coaches throughout the five States, Maine not being represented on the court, to select their all-sectional quintets with a consensus aggregation selected from the compiled list. A year ago Rhode Island placed three men on the team, Massachusetts and New Hampshire garnering the other berths on the first selective group. This year though the Bay State heads the field with a trio of choices, while "Little Rhody" makes it a two-State quintet by qualifying for the other positions.

The Western part of Massachusetts has long been a hotbed of basketball, which is well exemplified by the fact that the Bay Staters who gained recognition for their ability all hail from that section. Adam Sysko, co-captain of the Tech five which lost only two games the past season and who qualifies for a guard berth, comes from Westfield; Walter Sheehan of Williams, the choice to pair with the Engineer in the rear court, is a Holyoke boy; while the third Bay Stater needs little introduction. He is Louis Bush, Mass. State's all-around athlete and leading football scorer in the country last fall. The diminutive Turner Falls youth was selected as an outstanding forward of the season. His mate on the forward line is Captain Allen Brachen of Providence College, while that other brilliant Dominican player, Edward Koslowski, gained more votes than all his rivals for the center berth.

In placing two men on the team, Providence College gained an unusual distinction, although the outcome was not surprising considering the excellent work the pair have done in recent years. Brachen last season was selected as an All-New England guard, a position he played but little this year because his scoring ability was needed at forward. He was also a second team guard after the 1930-31 season when Koslowski gained considerable mention for the center berth. Luke Driscoll of Holy Cross and Daniel Chubbuck of Connecticut Aggies were selected for the pivot positions, while last season LeRoy Rymph of Northeastern just edged Koslowski off the first team.

Both Brachen and Koslowski, who has been elected captain, are eligible for another season of play, their fourth, both having seen action as freshmen. In justice to the other players of the section, though, it seems only just to conclude their all-New England candidacy with this year's team. Practically every other college limits varsity playing to three seasons, and unless such a step is taken it will be a case of selecting three players for all team positions from the rest of the field.

Sheehan Comes Back

Brachen, Bush, Koslowski, Sysko and Sheehan! There would be little need to worry over the offensive ability of that combination. The two Providence players, giants in stature, have played a highly important part in the success of their team in recent years. The Dominicans didn't start so well this year, dropping three of the first four games, but from there on there was no such thing as a defeat. Brachen averaged thirteen points a game, while Koslowski was usually good for ten. Despite their size, they move around the floor exceedingly fast, and their ability to team with the other players is a valuable asset.

In pairing Bush with Brachen, an opportunity would be presented to compare the capabilities of a good little player with a good big one. Bush would look somewhat like a pygmy, but his scoring would certainly measure up to that of Brachen's. The brilliant State athlete, with stamina that finds him still going on high when his larger opponents are feeling the pace, proved most troublesome the night his team played Providence. His speed, dribbling ability and uncanny eye for the basket from any position enabled him to stand out in every game he played.

As for the guards, both Sheehan and Sysko are stellar performers on defense and offense. The Williams player, after an indifferent 1931-32 season, partly because of an injured knee, showed a return to the form that gained him an all-star berth as a sophomore. His scoring was prominent as the Purple won eight and lost four games. In Sysko, Tech was represented by one of the outstanding guards in its court history. He had turned in consistent games in his previous two years, but this season he reached the peak of his game. It was dangerous for the opposition to let him get set for a shot beyond the foul line, while he turned in one of the greatest defensive games we have seen in years when the Engineers turned back Tufts. Several times during that contest he leaped into the air to intercept shots after they had left the hands of opponents.

Greater Boston Forwards

There were two outstanding forwards in Greater Boston this season, Eugene O'Brien of Tech and Johnny Grinnell of Tufts. Their consistent play throughout the season brought them many votes, but not enough to take the first-team honors away from Brachen and Bush. The local players, though, had a decided edge over the rest of the field in the race for second-team honors. O'Brien has another year at the Institute, while Grinnell will be only a junior next winter, so they are bound to be prominent a year hence.

Rhode Island State, Wesleyan and Clark supply the other players for the sectional second team. An athlete who rates well up with Bush for all-around ability is Larry Schlums, Wesleyan's brilliant captain, who played forward, but received votes for a guard berth as the coaches felt they could not leave him off. The same is also true of Bill Brierly of Clark, whose team went through another dismal season. Brierly shone brightly despite the many setbacks. He was used a center, but was voted for guard. The second team pivot man is Reginald Horseman, one of Rhode Island State's four co-captains. He, with an ability to gain the tap consistently, was a great scorer as his team lost only four of eighteen games.

Others who received votes from the coaches were:

Dick Bracken, Port Chester cage artist and captain of the 1932-33 Providence College basketball team who led his fellow players in scoring for the second consecutive season. He tallied 226 points in 17 games. He is a junior and with one more year to go, has an excellent chance to establish an all-time individual point scoring record at Providence before graduation.

Bracken Piles Up 226 Points For 17 Games During Season

Port Chester Youth Leads Providence College For Second Year

Dick Bracken, Port Chester's leading basketball player and captain of the 1932-33 Providence College cage team, led his team in scoring for the second consecutive season when he finished up with a total of 226 points this year, according to official figures released today from the institution. Bracken participated in 17 games which gave him an average of 13.5-17 points per game.

Providence won 14 out of 17 games this season. It lost to Dartmouth, Yale and St. John's of Brooklyn. The Dartmouth score was 44-32 and Yale won 50-29. St. John's beat the Friars, 39-25, at Brooklyn, but in a return game at Providence, Bracken's charges handed the Brooklyn team a 47-38 defeat. There were no return games with Yale and Dartmouth.

Games with Seton Hall and Army had to be cancelled. Over the 15 remaining contests on the schedule, Bracken turned in 80 field goals and 36 fouls for a total of 196 points, leading Kaslowski, Friars' center, by 60 points. Kaslowski, incidentally, has been elected captain of next season's team. Bracken has one more year to go at Providence.

Brown and the Rhode Island Independents were filled in for Seton Hall and the Army. In those games Bracken tallied 30 points which brought his season's total up to 226 markers for 17 games.

Providence Avenges Early Defeat, 47-38

Hope For Eastern Championship;

The stinging defeat administered by the Vincentian basketeers to the Providence College quintet earlier this season was avenged last Saturday night when the latter defeated a fighting and foul-protesting St. John's team, 47-38, at Providence. The game was roughly contested throughout; both teams were in a fighting mood, and as a result many fouls were called, the majority of them against the Redmen.

Flashing their usual brilliant passing attack, the Vincentians, through McGuinness and Slott, took an early lead. The score stood 6 to 1 in favor of St. John's when the Friars suddenly awoke and brought the count to 7 to 6. After ten minutes of play had elapsed, the Dominicans and Redmen were tied at 11 all. During the remainder of the half the teams were battling on close terms, when Jack Hill tossed one in from midcourt in the final minutes and gave the Redmen an 18 to 16 advantage.

Throughout the second half, the lead changed hands many times. Showing a faster attack the Friars jumped into the lead 19 to 18. Immediately the Redmen retaliated, when McGuinness scored on a pass from Slott and Lazar dropped a beauty from the center of the court. Soon after this the rivals were tied at 22 all. The lead then see-sawed back and forth until the teams were again tied at 29 all. From this point on, due in part to the fine playing of its captain, Dick Bracken, Shapiro and Koslowski, the Providence quintet forged ahead until the final whistle found them victors. McGuinness and Lazar, by their brilliant passing and shooting starred for the Vincentians.

Between—
You and Me and the Lamp-Post

—by A. M. Jordan—

Students at Providence College have good reason to believe Port Chester must be a pretty hot sports center. Two of our boys are enrolled in the Dominican college and both have succeeded upon having major sports awards conferred upon them. First it was Dick Bracken in basketball and now I have learned that Danny Galasso has been elected captain of the Friars' varsity golf team. Dan made the varsity golf team last Spring while a freshman and his election as captain in his sophomore year speaks for itself as to the brand of golf he must have flashed last season.

Like many other youngsters who have made their mark in golf, Danny swung his first club while caddying. He has been a bag carrier at the Westchester Country Club for the past four years, working during school and college vacations. He was number 2 on the Providence team last Spring and shoots consistently in the low seventies. He has been one of Bracken's staunchest admirers and it was his friendship for Dick that prompted him to choose Providence College after he had been graduated from Port Chester High School. Dick in turn is just as proud of his friend's golfing at Providence as Danny is of Bracken's basketball ability.

At the rate Bracken has been going in basketball it is probable he will establish a new high scoring record for all times at the Dominican institution. He has already led the Friars in scoring for two consecutive seasons and has still one more year to go. Last season he was high scorer for the All-New England collegiate team. That mythical aggregation has not been selected for this season as yet but from all reports he will be named on it again. Rumors also have it that he stands a fine chance for mention in the All-American poll that the College Humor magazine conducts yearly.

C. Baseball Hero Now Making His Mark in Basketball

Oscar Perrin Plans to Help Friars Win on the Court

News-Bulletin, Dec 9, 1939

Providence College has one victory to its credit as it starts another big basketball campaign. The strong Teachers College of East Stroudsburg, Pa., came and was conquered. One of the P. C. subs was Oscar J. Perrin, Jr., of Albany, N. Y., one of the classiest first basemen in college baseball today and a very capable man to have around the basketball premises.

Oscar has been playing the court game ever since his Freshman year in high school, where he jumped centre for the Vincentian Institute in Albany for three years. While there he also played three years of baseball, helping the diamond outfit win the parochial school championship in his Junior year by his stellar work at first base. Perrin completed his secondary school training at Mohegan Lake Prep in Peekskill, a school in which he earned letters in football basketball and baseball in addition to winning the singles championship in a tournament run off there. He captained the football and baseball teams.

His work at P. C., especially in baseball, has been most outstanding. He is probably one of the best defensive first basemen in New England intercollegiate baseball circles, for few are the wild throws and hot grounders that can escape the outstretched hand of the six feet Dominican Senior. He has played 'Varsity baseball' three years, and every year sees a decided improvement in his play.

Last year was the first year he received his basketball letter although he was awarded Freshman numerals while playing forward. As far as breaking into the 'Varsity lineup is concerned he has been somewhat handicapped because of the excellence of the first string forwards on the Friar five. But undoubtedly he will get into more games this year, for his game has come along a great deal, and he is beginning to co-ordinate

PROVIDENCE BOYS' CLUB

'BEATS FRIAR YEARLINGS

Winners Pile Up 32-22 Advantage; Indians Whip East Sides 35-11.

The Providence Boys' Club basketball team defeated the Providence College Freshman quintet 32 to 22 at the Boys' Club gym last night for the first victory scored by a Boys' Club team over the Freshmen in three years of competition. Trailing 10-5 at the end of the first period, the club outfit put on a fine spurt to lead 14-13 at half-time and was never headed. In a preliminary game, the Boys' Club Indians won their 11th game of the season by scoring a decisive 35-11 victory over the East Sides.
