Friars Face Strenuous

Schedule of 19 Games

P.C. to Take On Most of East's Best

Friars Have Eight Games in Providence and 11 on Road

The Providence College 'varsity baseball team this season will play out of a 19-game schedule, one of the heaviest the Friars have ever tackled during the campaigns that have brought them to the top of the Eastern collegiate heap.

On the list announced today by John E. Farrell, Friar graduate manager of athletics, are games with such powerful foes as Holy Cross, Boston College, Yale, Harvard, Dartmouth, Brown, Army, St. John's and Tufts.

The schedule includes six games at Hendricken field, two with Brown at Hendricken field and 11 on the road. The home schedule is somewhat shorter than in the past, due in no small measure to the fact that a strong schedule for the Freshman team necessitates the freeing of Hendricken field for home games and practice sessions for the yearlings as well as the 'varsity. The 'varsity games listed at home are nearly all major contests,

MEET HARVARD IN OPENER

The season will open with Harvard at Cambridge on April 14, marking the renewal of diamond relations between the two colleges after a seven-year lapse. The last game played with Harvard was in 1927, when the Friars lost a 5 to 4 10-inning conflict. Others new on the schedule, or returning after auxiliary and booked for Memorial Day at Medford this spring, Army to be played at West Foint, and State Teachers' College to be met at East Stroudsburg, Pa.

As soon as the weather will permit the Friars will start their out-door drills. In the meantime the battery men will start indoor work in the college auditorium, beginning tomorrow afternoon. With a fine nucleus of veterans available, Coach Jack Flynn will have his trouble confined somewhat to the task of finding another pitcher to bolster the staff, which lost Ed Quinton last June, and of locating an outfielder to replace the big gap in right field with the loss of Chief Marsella.

VETERANS AVAILABLE

Otherwise Flynn will have his veteran catchers, Roberge, Tebbetts, and Burns available, and tested hurlers in Al Blanche, Charlie Burdge, Charlie Rennick, Sam Shapiro, Andy Tucker, and Leo Lanigan. The infield of last spring is intact, with three seniors in Occ Perrin at first, Captain Wally Corbett at second, Ed Reilly, at short and Leby Medden. Captain Wally Corbett at second, Ed Reilly at short and John Madden, junior classman, at third. Paul Healey, football and utility infielder last year, will also be ready to make a strong bid for a starting position. Leo Marion, sensational hitter of the 1933 nine, and Ed Koslowski, basketball captain, are the two outfielders who have won 'varsity infielders who have won 'varsity insignia for their baseball work. Both will be favored to retain their posi-tions. The fight for the other field has Pete Gobis, junior, Omer Landry, and Tom Finneran, sophomores, as the outstanding aspirants.

Last year's freshman team will send but few up to the varsity fold, but it is highly probable that Jack Flynn will be able to find a few likely looking ball tossers in that group. Outstanding candidates from the sophomore class will be Ed Elldredge, southpaw pitcher; Joe Conley, pitcher and outfielder; Joe Malvey of Philadelphia, who had little chance to show his wares last spring; Jack Reid, six his wares last spring; Jack Reid, six foot three inch catcher from Pitts-field; John McCabe of Pawtucket, who alternated between catch and third base, with the yearlings, and Tom Finneran and Omer Landry, outfielders.

DOMINICANS TO OPEN SEASON WITH HARVARD AT CAMBRIDGE

19 Games Listed for 'Varsity, with 14 on Freshman Schedule

Baseball schedules for the and Freshman teams at Providence Ccllege, released today by John E. Farrell, graduate manager of athletics, indicate that the Varsity will play 19 games and the yearlings 14 contests. The first year schedule dovetails with the 'Varsity slate in order that there will be no conflicts between the two. Six home games will be played by the 'Varsity and seven by some of the representative teams of New the Freshmen.

One game is still pending on the 'Varsity schedule so that the major team may engage in 20 contests. The Friars will not appear on Hendricken Field until April 27, according to the list of games announced today, while the yearlings will open at home on April 21. Three newcomers have been scheduled for this season, Harvard, Tufts and the State Teachers College at Stroudsburg, Pa., who were also opponents of the Dominicans on the basketball court during the past season,

FRIAR NINE TO FACE

HARVARD AND TUFTS

Harvard and Tufts will resume baseball relations with the Friars after a lapse of six years. Both games will be away from home, the Harvard contest being the opening game for the Friars, and the game with Tufts being the feature of Memorial Day in Medford. Al-though circumstances have forced the postponement of two games with Army in the last two years, the Frairs hope to play the Cadets at West Point this season. It will be the first time since 1926 that the Friars will travel to Hanover to meet Dartmouth. Last year the Dominicans defeated the Big Green 15-4 on Hendricken field.

Among' the old rivals on the baseball slate will be St. John's of Brooklyn, City College, Brown, Dartmouth, Holy Cross, Boston College, Yale and Springfield. The Yale game has been shifted to early June but will be played in New Haven as usual. In other seasons the Friars have met the Bulldogs in May. Another change is in the Holy Cross games which have been reversed. Holy Cross will come to Providence on June 9 to close the Dominican season.

England college and prep school ranks. Two new teams will meet the Friar Cubs, the Yale yearlings and the Holy Cross Freshmen.

32 Report For Varsity Nine at Providence College

15 Regulars from Last Year Included.—Practice to Start Soon.

At a preliminary meeting of Providence College baseball candidates yesterday afternoon, 71 men signed up for the 'Varsity and Freshman squads. Thirty-two players were listed for the 'Varsity and 39 Freshmen for the yearling team. Coach Jack Flynn expects to call his squads out soon if mild weather prevails during the next week. More candidates have yet to be heard from and the total number will hit the 100 mark when the practice season begins.

Fifteen regulars from last year's 'Varsity were in the group who handed their names in to the 'Varsity manager and gave assurance that the Friar team of this season will not lack seasoned material. Particular interest is centred in the pitchers, five of whom reported yesterday, as the twirling assignment has been open since the graduation of Eddie Quinton, stellar Friar mound ace. Among the men who will make strong bids for the hurling berth are Al Blanche, Charlie Burdge and Charlie Rennick, all Seniors, and Sam Shapiro, a Junior. Blanche was a dependable member of last year's twirling staff while Charlie Burdge turned in two victories, one of them a no-hit win. Rennick was effective in a relief role. Shapiro has won honors pitching for Lynn high and will give the regulars stiff competition.

Several capable candidates have come up from last season's Freshman squad. Ed Eldredge, Leo Lanigan, Joe Conley and Joe Malvey, pitchers, will be in the battle for the mound post with Jack Ziment, Jack McCabe and Johnny Reid seeking the catching position. Pat Morrison, Lou Ragno and Joe Heiser are infield players, Morrison playing third, Ragno shortstop and Heiser, first base. In the outfield additional candidates are Joe McHenry, Omer Landry and Tom Finneran.

The men who reported for the 'Varsity squad are:

Capt Walter Corbett, Somerville, Mass.; Oscar rrin, Albany, N. Y.; Samuel Shapiro, Lynr ass.; Edward Koslowski, Bridgeport, Convieroge Tebbetts, Nashua, N. H.; Louis Rag Thompsonville, Conn.; Joseph Heiser, Norf d, N. J.; Joseph Malvey, Philadelphia. John. JCabe, Pawtucket; Peter Gobis, Frovidence: Thomas Finneran, West Roxbury, Mass.; Joseph McHenry, Cranston; Albert Blanche, Somerville, Mass.; Charles, Rennick, Providence: Theodore LeBlanc, Flusning, N. Y.; Leo Marion, Putham, Conn.; Andrew Tucker, Lonsdale; John Reid, Pittsfeld, Mass.; Frank Holden, Jefferson, Mass.; william Fizgerald, East Providence; Edward Edward Edicage, Middlebury, Vt.; Paul Healey, New Bedford; Patrick Morrison, Staten Island, N. Y.; Giver Roberge, Bristol, Conn.; Charles Burdge, Warren; Edward Reilly, Bridgeport, Conn.; John Madden, Pittsfeld, Mass.; John Morrison, Staten Island, N. Y.; Richard Burns, West Warwick, R. I.; Leo Lannigan, Somerville, Mass.; Omer Landry, Central Falls; Joseph Conley, Providence; John Ziment, Hoboken, N. J.

Providence College Likely to Have Another Strong Nine

Veteran Material Available;
Practice to Start as Soon as Weather Permits.

Another fine season seems in store for the Providence College baseball team if the material which is available for this year's nine shapes up as well in actual play as it does on paper. Thirty-two men are expected to report for assignments as soon as there is a break in the weather and Coach Jack Flynn is looking forward to meeting his candidates. Lack of indoor facilities is the only thing that is keeping the Dominicans from starting practice immediately, but with fair weather the candidates will use every minute in getting ready for the season.

Although two of the big lights of the Friar team will be missing this year, Eddie Quinton, ace twirler, and Chief Marsella, home run specialist, capable men are coming up to step into the breaches. Al Blanche, Somerville hurler, who turned in some fine triumphs last year, will be the big gun in the pitching department, and, if Charlie Burdge continues in the same manner as last season, he will be a valuable man. One of the dark-horse candidates for the twirling berth is Andy Tucker of Lonsdale.

Big Charlie Rennick, who won fame as a schoolboy ace at Hope high, will be right in the thick of the battle for mound duty. Other candidates for the pitching staff are Sam Shapiro, Lynn luminary, and Leo Lanigan, another Somerville product. From the yearling nine of last year the men who will be seeking positions are Joseph Conley, Providence; Edward Eldredge, Middlebury, Vt., and Joseph Malvey, Philadelphia.

Four candidates will make a bid for catching honors with two veterans back and four other players of ability. George Tebbetts, Nashua, N. H., and Oliver Roberge, Bristol, Conn., are the outstanding men and have taken part in many Friar games. Roberge came to the foralast year when he took over the backstop duties after Tebbetts was stricken with appendicitis and forced out of play for the remainder of the season. Dick Burns has had experience on the Freshman and Junior Varsity nines and a among the favored men. Jake Ziment and John Reid, Freshman catchers last year, will be pressing the favorites.

Harvard Faces Defeat

Providence Boasts Potent Nine

By Walter Kiley

Harvard gets one of its most severe tests on the entire season tomorrow afternoon. Jack Flynn, former Pittsburg first baseman, brings his Providence Friars to Soldiers Field. Two years ago, the Friars won Eastern collegiate baseball honors. Six of that same team face the Crimson.

The last time Harvard and Providence met was back in 1928 when the Crimson won out in a 5-4 10-inning game.

Al Blanche of Somerville and Suburban Twi League fame, will pitch for Providence. George Tebbetts of Nashua, one of the most capable catchers in college baseball, will be behind the plate. Two years ago Blanche started with a victory over the Boston Red Sox. Capt. Eddie Loughlin, Harvard ace, is expected to go back on the mound.

Boston University, a victim of Harvard in its opener, 10-5, hopes to take revenge on Tufts at the Oval tomorrow afternoon. It will be the Jumbos' first game of the year.

Tufts' baseball team looks like Lew Manly's football lineup. Johnny Grinnell, Roy Woodworth, Pat Clark and Bill Staffon, varsity gridiron lettermen, are ready for mound duty.

Boston University is enthusiastic over the arrival of Pat Hanley, new football coach, who arrives from the West tomorrow. Plans for Tuesday's night reception to Hanley have brought a tremendous response.

Joe Tansey has worked wonders in stimulating interest in sports at Wentworth Institute. Within a couple of years, Wentworth should be heard from in college athletic circles.

Wentworth is fortunate in that it has a pair of outstanding pitchers. They are Bob Lee of Winchester, and Bert Verganini of Somerville. Capt. Brown, centerfielder, and Joe Richards, shortstop, are veterans from last year's team which won ten games and lost four.

Eddie Britt, Holy Cross' big. league baseball prospect, will be Jack Barry's pitching selection against the Boston Braves next Monday afternoon at Fitton Field. Britt, one of the heaviest hitters in the East, is being brought in from the outfield in order to strengthen a badly weakened hurling staff. He will play the outfield when not in the box.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., son of the President, has been named Harvard member of the committee for the awarding of the new Stotesbury cup to the championship scholastic crew of the country.

DEGIVE LOSING PITCHER

Friars Send Him to Showers After One and Two-thirds Innings—Blanche Is Effective,

Special to THE NEW YORK TIMES.
CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 14.—
With the veteran Al Blanche pitching effectively after a shaky start, the Providence College baseball team had little trouble defeating Harvard 14—4 in its first game of the 1934 season at Soldiers Field this afternoon.

Providence made 15 hits against three Harvard pitchers and put them together with five errors and four passes to send fourteen runners across the plate. Although the visitors hit hard, only half of their runs were earned.

Paul Degive, who started pitching for Harvard, was raked for seven hits and five runs in one and two-thirds innings.

Allan Gets Poor Support.

Frank Allan, who replaced Degive in the second inning, was the victim of poor support and before he struck out Tom Finneran the visitors scored four unearned runs.

In the initial inning the Friars solved Degive for four hits which were good for three runs. Ed Koslowski drove in two of them with a home run with Omer Landry on exceed hase dry on second base.

Harvard started with two runs.

After Blanche retired the first two men, Charley Nevin was safe on an infield error and then Frank Gleason, Braman Gibbs and Richard Maguire made successive hits.

Providence sewed up the game with their half dozen runs in the second, four of them unearned. They picked two more in the fourth, another in the fifth and two in the sixth.

D. C. (Drib) Braggiotti, playing his first varsity ball for Harvard, pitched the last three innings and held the Providence sluggers to a lone single. He fanned three batters, Koslowski being a victim twice.

Johnny Auzigian was responsible for the final pair of Harvard runs. He doubled in the third and scored on a wild pitch, and drove home Johnny Fitzpatrick with a single in the fourth.

RIAR NINE OUTCLASSES

HARVARD TEAM 14-4

Al Blanche Hurls Friars to Victory Over Harvard

Providence College Wins 14-4 as Batters Pound Out 16 Hits Off Three Pitchers.

Soldiers Field, Cambridge, Mass. April 14.—Two notable feats were accomplished by the Providence College baseball team upon its visit here today. It opened its spason with a convincing 14 to 4 victory and it defeated a Harvard nine for the first time in the four games played between them.

Unable to produce a pitcher to match Al Blanche, an infield to function as smoothly as that of the Friars and batters to hit with any degree of consistency, the Crimson was thoroughly outclassed throughout the contest.

Despite the fact that it was a raw, cold day for baseball and annoying showers fell intermittently during the game, the Dominicans began their 1934 campaign auspiciously. Afield they did well but at bat they were even more impressive.

Unleashing a strong offensive from the outset, the Dominicans collected 16 hits off three Harvard twirlers, including two doubles and a home run by big Ed Koslowski in the first inning.

Atkaough the day was not a bit to his liking, Al Blanche pitched excellent ball for the Friars, holding the Crimson to six hits. Blanche got off to a bad start but he improved as the game progressed and near the end of the hattle he was mowing down the opposition with ease. Only two players were able to get more than one hit off Blanche. They were John Adzigian, who hit a double and a single, and Frank Gleason, who banged out two singles. The Dominicans turned in their im-

The Dominicans turned in their impressive performance despite the necessity of having to use a make-shift line-up because of an elbow injury received by Oc Perrin, star first baseman during batting practice. Perrin was struck by a pitchd ball on his left elbow, ending his activities for the day other than coaching the runners late in the contest.

Perrin's injury forced Coach Jack Flynn to shift Leo Marion from centre field to first base and to inject a Sophomore, Tom Finneran, into Marion's post. X-ray pictures taken of Perrin's injury falled to reveal any break and it is almost certain that he will be at first base when the Dominicans play Army on Wednesday.

*Ran for Corbett in 4th. Batted for Allen in 6th. Batted for Gibbs in 8th. Batted for Woodruff in 9th. Batted for Bragglotti in 9th. The redeeming feature of the game from the Harvard standpoint was the discovery of a pitcher in Damon Braggiotti, who will prove valuable to the Crimson in future games, if his performance today may be taken as a criterion. After they had freely hit the first two Harvard pitchers, Paul deGive and Frank Allen, the Friars were unable to solve the offerings of the slow, deliberate Braggiotti. He held the opposition scoreless during the final three innings, allowing but one hit and fanning three.

deGive lasted only one and two-third innings, being nicked for six hits and six runs during that time. Allen followed him to the mound but he could not stop the Friars, and it was not until Braggiotti took the mound that the game took on a real aspect.

Playing in his first varsity game, diminutive Omer Landry, star quarterback on the football team, gave an excellent performance in right. Landry fielded his position well and got two timely hits, a single and a double. It is almost certain that Landry will be a fixture in the Friar outfield hereafter.

The Friars gave early indications that their bats would swing merrily as they banged out four hits in the first inning, a home run, a double and two singles. Harvard also got off to a good start, getting two singles and a double in the initial canto. The score at the end of the initial inning found Providence ahead 3 to 2 and the fans settled down to what loomed as a close game but the Friars, aided by a costly error by John Ware, Harvard centrefielder, made six runs in the second inning to take a commanding lead which they held until the end.

The bats of Landry and Koslowski accounted for the three Providence runs in the first inning. After Madden had opened the game with a single, Landry hit a double which brought Madden home. Koslowski then hit a home run to deep centrefield to score Landry ahead of him.

Harvard tallied two runs in the first after two were out, Ware and Adzigian grounding out to Blanche. Charlie Nevin, who has collected his share of football fame at Harvard, was safe when Reilly made a wild throw to Marion at first base. Nevin was sent to third by Gleason's single. Gibbs came through with another one-bagger to score Nevin and Gleason moved to third whence he soon came home on Maguire's double.

After allowing Lanrdy a single, Marion a double and walking Madden for one run, deGive was replaced by Allen in the second. Koslowski was first to face Allen and he hit a long fly to centre field which appeared as an easy putcut for Ware but the latter dropped the ball, allowing both Marion and Landry to score two more tallies for Providence.

Koslowski advanced to third on a wild pitch. Tebbetts drew a walk and both scored on Reilly's single. Two more single by Blanche and Corbett brought the Friars their sixth run of the inning. Harvard scored its third tally in the third inning when Adzigian doubled, reached third on Gleason's single and scored on a wild pitch.

In the fourth an error by Shortstop Woodruff on Finneran's grounder brought the Dominicans two more runs Tebbetts singled to open the inning. Reilly was walked and both came home on Woodruff's miscue. The Crimson made their final tally in the same inning on two free passes and a single.

An error by Gibbs, Harvard right fielder, on Marion's hit and Koslowski's sacrince fly to centre field brought the Friars their 12th run. Two more P. C. runs in the sixth on four singles by Madden, Reilly, Corbett and Blanche ended the scoring for the day.

An amusing incident occurred for the fans in the fourth inning, when Capt. Eddie Loughlin of Harvard selected Charlie Burdge to run for Corbett after the latter was hit in the jaw while batting. Loughlin scrutinized the players on the Providence bench closely. He pointed toward Burdge, but two or three other players sitting near Burdge believed Loughlin's aim meant them. They started for first base.

"No! No!" said Eddie, "I mean him," and he pointed directly at Burdge. When the 212-pound pitcher came out from the dugout, the spectators laughed heartily. Eddie's selection proved wise, as Big Charlie was slow in rounding the bases.

Tebhetts, Friar catcher, turned in the out An amusing incident occurred for the fans

Tebbetts. Friar catcher, turned in the outstanding play of the game when he made a one-handed catch of a foul in the sixth. "No thance! No chance." they yelled at Tebbetts, but he proved them wrong when he made a successful one-hand stab at the ball inches from the netting.

Among the interested spectators at the game was Joe Mulligan, star Holy Cross pitcher, who is carrying his arm in a plaster cast because of a recent injury. Joe will face the Friars in June if his injury heals but that time by that time.

Nevin, originally a catcher, is playing first base for Harvard this season because of a moulder injury received in football.

Of the nine starting players for Harvard, seven played football in the fall. Nevin and Adzigian were with the 'Varsity, and Ware Gleason, Gibbs. Woodruff and deGive played with the Jayvees.

HARVARD ROUT BY FRIARS. 1

Providence Boys Get Going in First Stanza to Pile Up 16 Hits Before Fray Ends

BY JAMES G. COLBERT

Harvard's baseball nine crumbled like a row of rickety houses before a bombardment of 16 Providence College base hits as the Friars handed the Crimson their first setback of the season at Soldiers Field, yesterday afternoon. The score was 14-4.

RARE SKILL

The visitors blasted their way to a lead in the opening frame and increased their lead through the next five frames. Only Dorilio Braggiotti, a othy Donno Braggiotti, a reserve pitcher, making his varsity debut, was able to halt the attack of the Rhode Islanders. Braggiotti went to the firing line at the start of the seventh inning and held the visitors scoreless for the duration of the game, limiting them to one lone hit.

Somerville Al Blanche, brilliant right-hander of the Providence nine, held the Cantabs well in check most of the contest. He was touched for seven bingles, but he kept them fairly well scattered. and he was accorded sterling support by his mates.

The Harvard defence, on the other hand, was extremely sloppy, and Paul hand, was extremely sloppy, and rail degive, who started on the mound for the Crimson, and Frank Allan, who succeeded him on the firing line, were kept in constant difficulties by the frequent mental and mechanical lapses of their supporting cast.

Somerville in Front

the Harvard boys.

From a Harvard point of view the game was anything but satisfactory. The punch that was in such evidence against Boston University last week was missing yesterday; the players made four actual errors and went through the game as if they were sleep-walking. Pop flies to right and centre fields were treated as if they were toombs. The result was 14 runs for the invaders. invadors.

TWO BITS OF ACTION AT HARVARD

A terriffic home run by Ed Koslowski got the Friars away to a three-run lead in the initial stanza. Madden and Landry were resting on the hassocks when Koslowski met one of deGives fast balls squarely, and the ball travelled to far centre field with Koslowski circling the bases before it was returned to the infield.

Friars Bat Around

Harvard got two of the runs back in its half of the opening stanza. A double by Dick Maguire, singles by Frank Gleason and Brahman Gibbs, and an infield error, Providence's only misplay of the game, chalked up two counters.

In the second stanza the Friars batted around, and when the dust had cleared six runs more were across the platter and the verdict was salted away. A double by Leo Marriaon and singles by Corbett, Riley, Blanche, and Landry were the high-lights of the inning.

The visitors performed the rather unusual feat of getting two runs on one hit. A base on balls, a pitch that hit a batter, a wild pitch and an error paved the way for the tallies. A sparkling double play that went from Woodruff to Fitzpatrick to Nevin finally halted the trouble.

Pile Up Scores

A pop fly to right field that should have been an easy out put Marion on third base in the fifth inning, and Koslowski brought him home with a long fly to centre field. And in the sixth chapter, singles by Madden, Tibbetts, Riley and Corbett gave the Friars two more tallies.

That ended the scoring for the day, for Braggiotti stepped into the breach for Harvard and pitched a brand of baseball that gave Crimson observers some cause for optimism in looking toward the future.

A double by Maguire, a wild pitch and a single by Franny Gleason netted one Harvard run in the fourth, and the Crimson added another in the fifth on two passes and a single by Johnny Adzigian.

Soldiers Field

By WILL CLONEY

Providence College's perennial contenders for the mythical New England title resumed baseball relations with Harvard yesterday, by blasting out a 14-4 victory before a scant crowd of 500 who braved sun, rain and wind at soldiers field.

Soldiers field.

The varying quirks of the weather went unnoticed by the nonchalant Providence veterans as they pounded out 15 hits off three crimson pitchers and fielded well behind Al Blanche, the Somerville boy who acts like a big leaguer on the mound.

Blanche, the batting star of the game with three safeties, weathered a treacherous first inning to allow Harvard only seven hits over the full route and only one in the last five sessions. Only 16 men faced him in those closing periods.

Except for a prodigious homer by Left Fielder Koslowski in the opening inning and a double by versatile Leo Marion in the second, the Friars's blows were limited to one base, but some weird Harvard fielding helped the visiting cause considerably.

Paul deGive, the hockey captain, started on the mound for the home team and lasted until two were out in the second inning. Then Frank Allen, a senior with a change of pace and a sizzling fast one, worked until the seventh with moderate success, and Chadwell "Drib" Braggiotti, from last year's junior varsity, did a surprisingly good finishing-up job. allowing only one hit in three innings and striking out three during that time.

striking out three during that time.

Braggiotti, slim and confident, looked very good in his first varsity appearance and may help Harvard considerably in its league tilts. He struck out clean-up man Koslowski twice, the second time in a tight place with two men on in the 9th, and showed no fear of the chief providence maulers, Johnny Madden, Omar Landry, Ed Reilly, Walter Corbett and Blanche, each of whom had made at least two hits off the other nitchers.

WARE'S MUFF UPSETS ALLEN

In fact, he faced every man on the visiting team and only Marion reached first on a hit. That safety was a pop fly which fell in short centre field, just too far out for the shortstop to reach.

Allen might not have done so badly but for a bit of head luck at the start.

but for a bit of hard luck at the start, He came into the game with two out in the second inning and men on second and third.

Koslowski smacked the first ball in a high arc to centre field for a routine put-out, but the ball bounced out of Johnny Ware's glove and two oruns scored. That upset Allen considerably and he passed Georgie Tebbetts, one of the classiest catchers in college ranks.

Reilly waited for the 3-and-2 ball and singled to right centre, scoring both Koslowski and Tebbetts. Allen then retired the side without further damage. His only other bad spot was the 6th, when he allowed four hits and two runs, but he demonstrated that he has promuse by bearing down to fan Tom Finneran, Landry and Marion.

DeGive was in trouble from the start. Madden singled to open the game and scored when Landry's hot shot caromed off third-sacker Johnny Adzifiian's ankle into deep left field foul territory. Then Koslowski smashed his four-bagger to centre field, with Ware deciding too late to chase the ball.

Blond Paul retired the first two batters in the reserved and then everything.

blond Paul retired the first two batters in the second and then everything went wrong. Blanche singled, Madden waited for a walk and Landry singled to center, scoring Blanche. Marion doubled to right field, scoring Madden, and deGive went out in favor of Allen. Then came the four runs, started by the outfield muff. the outfield muff.

Providence scored two unearned runs in the fourth when Craig Woodruff missed a grounder with the bases clogged as the result of another error, a base on balls and a hit batsman,

The high wind made routine fielding difficult, so there were few brilliant plays. The feature was Tebbetts's glove-hand stab catch of Gleason's towering foul fly near the backstop at the start of Harvard's eighth inning.

Oscar Perrin, the regular Providence first baseman, was hit on the arm in hatting practice, so several last-minute changes were made in the line-up. Marion was moved in to first base and Finneran, a Somerville boy, was given a chance in center field. Perrin will be ready for the next game.

Capt. Corbett, who played his first baseball in Somerville, was hit in the jaw by Allen's fast one in the fourth, but he continued in the game after a courtesy runner had been assigned for the moment.

When Capt. Eddie Loughlin of Harvard picked the runner for Corbett, he took his time and selected Charley Burdge, 225-pound reserve catcher. The crowd snickered when the big boy lumbered out, but Providence followers pointed out that he didn't look soawkward in a football uniform. He plays a regular tackle for the Friars.

Ed Reilly, Jr., Providence shortstop, is the son of the coach of the Bridgeport Central basketball team which won the New England championship here at Tufts this winter.

Woodruff made a good play on Landry's tricky liner in the ninth. The ball seemed to be going on a line, but it wavered a bit in its flight and Woodruff timed his jump just right. The catch saved Braggiotti some trouble.

Johnny Ware had a tough time in center field. Apparently disgusted, he were his windbreaker in the ninth inning and turned in his best catch of the day, a running clutch of Tebbetts's drive.

West Point, N. Y., April 18.—(AP)—Providence College gave the Army base-ball team a 9 to 0 whitewashing here this afternoon on fine pitching by Al Blanche, who struck out nine cadets, allowed six scattered hits and issued no free trip tickets to first base, Taking a four-run lead in the second on a single by Reilly, a walk to Perrin, triples by Landry and Blanche, and another safe blow by Madden, the visitors playing errorless ball kept the upper hand throughout. They picked up three more runs in the eighth and added a pair in the ninth for good measure.

The cadets had men on second and third with one down in the first, but Blanche tightened up and whiffed the next two batters. No other cadet reached third until O'Neil tripled in the ninth. Warren, the Army left fielder, furnished the fielding thrill with a sensational running catch of Perrin's long fiy.

The Friars collected 13 hits off a pair of local hurlers and scored clusters of two, three and four runs in the second, fourth and eighth innings, respectively.

Capt. Corbett, Ed Reilly and Omer Landry of the visitors connected for extra base blows, the former hammering out a long triple.

Burdge struck out six and was never in any difficulty. Meantime, Ollie Roberge, Providence catcher, and Ed Reilly each hit safely three times out of four trips to the plate.

The weather was too cold for anything like real baseball. The visitors played errorless ball. By the victory the Friars keep intact their undefeated record.

St. John's Nine Beaten, 6 to 2, By Providence

Rhode Island Collegians Tally All Runs in Second; Blanche Gives Four Hits

Behind the four-hit pitching of Al Blanche, the Providence College baseball team trounced St. John's, 6 to 2, in a crisply played game yesterday at Dexter Park. It was cut to seven innings to allow the Bushwicks and the Bacharack Giants to play their game before it got too cold.

Blanche, a tall, swart righthander who is in his fourth year of pitching for the Friars (they had no freshman rule when he started), had the game well in hand throughout. Only two of the four hits came in one inning. The others, a triple and a double, were scattered, the three-bagger by the Redmen's Bobby Cochran producing a run in the first inning.

Scores Six Runs in Second

Providence fell on Johnny Dixson for ten hits, combining six of them in a turbulent second inning that netted all of the Friars' runs. Eleven batters took their turn and Providence was retired only after Leo Marion was caught trying to steal second.

The Redmen tallied their first run

The Redmen tallied their first run on the combination of Cochran's triple and an infield grounder by Jim Maloney. They registered their second in the fifth on an error, and, after having scored that one, were retired with the bases full.

Pete Quagliana and Cochran opened with singles, the former stopping at second. Leary grounded to Ed Reilly, at short, who threw wildly to second, Quagliana scoring. Maloney walked, filling the bases. Then, with none out, Blanche bore down. O'Farrell hit a weak grounder to third, forcing Cochran at home, and Dixson and Joyce, a pinch hitter, were fanned.

Landry Empties Bases

Providence's six runs in the second came on the combination of five singles, a double and two bases on balls. Koslowski walked. Tebbetts and Reilly singled, filling the bases. Corbett walked, forcing home Koslowski. Landry doubled, scoring all three. Blanche singled, took second on Marion's grounder and scored behind Landry on Perrin's safety.

It was the fourth consecutive victory of the season for Providence. It also has beaten Harvard, Army and East Stroudsburg Teachers. For St. John's it was the third defeat in six games.

Cochran was the only St. John's batter who collected two hits. George Tebbets, catcher, led Providence with three for four, all singles.

Even for a seven-inning game the contest set something of a record for college baseball. It was completed in one hour, eighteen minutes.

Al Blanche was on the mound for the Friars and limited the Redmen to four hits, all of which he kept well scattered. PROVIDENCE COLLEGE STRONG AGAIN

JACK FLYNN'S Providence College nine has marched right up to challenge the eastern baseball supremacy long held by Holy Cross. Under Flynn Providence College nines have won 150 games, lost 50 and tied two. Flynn started to coach at Providence College in 1924 and has been on the job there ever since, except for the 1926 season, when he piloted the New Haven Eastern League club for a spell.

The Friars have been especially strong in the last five years. Last year they won 14 and lost only three. In two of these five seasons the Friars boasted the best college record in the East.

So far this season the Friars have won five games in a row and have been impressive in each tussle. They opened by beating Harvard with ease and then followed with cleancut decisions over Army, East Stroudsburg, C. C. N. Y. and St. John's of Brooklyn. This afternoon they will entertain Dartmouth.

Coach Flynn lost only three regulars last June. They were Pitcher Ed Quinton, Outfielders Tom Griffin and Chief Marsella. Quinton was a consistent winner on the mound. Al Blanche and Charlie Burdge are doing slab duty this year and getting fine results.

Providence, for all its admitted class, has found Yale a jinx. Yale beat the Friars last year and the year before.

The teams clash here on June 6th.

Friars Win Fifth Straight By Downing Springfield

Leo Marion's Double Scores

Madden with Only Run

in Seventh.

A double by Leo Marion, Providence College first baseman, along the first base line into right field, with Johnny Madden on second base, gave the Friars a 1-0 victory over Springfield on Hendricken Feld yesterday afternoon. After Charlie Burdge flied out to centre, Madden singled and then stole second. Marion's hard-hit grounder hugged the baseline all the way into right field and sent Madden home with what proved to be the winning tally. This was the fifth straight victory for the Friars.

Burdge, twirling his second game for the Dominicans this year, again had a shutout victory and continued undefeated since his start in college baseball. Burdge turned back Stroudsburg 10-0 in his first contest of the season, Burdge allowed but four hits.

Providence had men on base in each of the first six innings, but was not able to send one around until the seventh. In the first inning Madden was caught off base between second and third and tagged out by Catcher Scott when it appeared that the Friars were going to score in the first inning. With Madden on second and two men out, Koslowski singled and the stage was set for a score

Burdge had a chance to win his own ball game in the fourth frame when Roberge, Corbett and Grady were on base. At the start of the inning Koslowski grounded out. Roberge singled and advanced on Reilly's bingle. Reilly was out on Corbett's fielder's choice and Tom Grady drew a pass. Charlie tried hard to connect but popped out to Smith, at second to retire the side.

In the eighth, their last time at bat, the Friars went out in 1-2-3 order but Springfield did the same in the ninth so that the Friars' one run was all that was needed for victory. Springfield went down 1-2-3 in the first, fifth, eighth and ninth.

Captain Wally Corbett furned in some fine fielding work with a pair of running catches and throws to first for putouts. Marion turned in a solo double play when he caught Deane's pop fly and touched the bag before Ober could return to first. A high wind gave the fielders some uneasy moments but Koslowski, Landry and Grady had five putouts between them with no errors.

Springfield had a chance to score in the second frame when Cella reached first on an error by Madden and Ober was hit by Burdge putting two men on base. Marion's double play broke up this threat. In the next inning Scott received a base on balls. Elliott grounded out to Madden but Smith singled to advance Scott to third. Smith stole second and then Ollie Roberge picked Scott off at third on a fast peg to Madden and Lewis grounded out.

Game played:

May 2,1934

With two out in the eighth, Mason and Buscail reached base by a single and a walk respectively. Cella, Springfield; big threat, then ground. The to Reilly Bill Elliott, Springfield twirler, went the whole distance and turned away sever griars by strikeouts. Mason collected

Springfield's only extra base nru a double. For Providence, Marion had a double and Madden a triple. The score:

Holy Cross, victorious in four out of five collegiate baseball starts this Spring, faces one of the toughest assignments of the season this afternoon in Providence College, without question one of the strongest teams in Eastern ranks. The Crusaders and Friars will meet on the Fitton diamond at 3 o'clock.

Providence College, although able to win over Holy Cross in the Rhode Island city, has never been able to triumph over Barry's boys on Fitton field. For some reason or other, the Friars have always skidded off the victory path in their Worcester baseball engagements. Jack Flynn who has mentored Providence College in rather successful fashion over a period of years, would like nothing better than a win over the Purple here. The former Holy Cross first base star has been disappointed time and again, but this may be his year.

Bill Sline, who has left handed his way to easy victories over Manhattan, Boston university and Springfield college thus far will toss against the Friars and as he has not worked since last Saturday, should be in good form. Joe Cusick, sophomore catcher from Providence, has been named as Sline's backstop. Otherwise the Crusader lineup will be the same as last Wednesday when 28 runs were scored against Tufts.

Although comparative scores mean little in athletic competition, it might not be amiss to mention that Holy Cross whipped Springfield 8-3, while Providence was hard pressed to eke out a 1-0 triumph over the Gymnasts. Al Blanche, star right hander of the P. C. twirling brigade, will be on the hillock for the visitors and Teknats will catch.

Crusaders Launch Early Attack to Top Friars 13-10

Score Nine Runs Off Al Blanche in First Three Innings; Cusick Gets Two Triples.

By MICHAEL J. THOMAS Fitton Field, Worcester, Mass, Ma -This ancient baseball spot which the Holy Cross nine calls "home" remains as a Waterloo for the Friars of Providence College who were defeated 13 to 10 here today. For years the Dominicans have come here seeking victory but their search again ended in vain. This was the first setback in six starts for Provi-

In marked contrast to the airtight pliching duels that have characterized games between these two keen foes, today's battle developed into a slugging duel with 34 hits being made, 18 by the Friars and 18 by the Crusaders, Twelve Went for extra bases, Holy Cross players banging out three doubles, four triples and one home run against two doubles and two triples by the Dominicans.

The Crusaders started on their merry hitting spree in the very first inning with Al Bianche on the mound for the Friars. They collected a single, double and a triple in the initial canto for three runs, continued their onslaught against Blanche with a double and a single in the second for two more tallies. and then climaxed the Providence hurler's stay on the mound in the third for four more runs on a triple, single and two bases on balls.

This auspicious start by the Crusaders pur the Priars in an uncomfortable posttion, as after three innings were played. they were trailing 9 to 1. The contest had all the earmarks of turning into a rout, but the courageous Dominicans kept pegging away at the offerings of Bill Sline, the Holy Cross hurler, until they had tied the count at 10 all to surprise of the 3500 spectators

But the heavy hitting Crusaders were not to be denied. It was their day, and realizing that hits had to keep coming to offset the mediocre pitching they were Retting, they did their job well by continuing their murderous punch in the seventh and eight innings to tally three runs and regain a lead which this time they never relinquished.

After Blanche had surrendered in face of the many base hits that whizzed by him from the powerful Crusaders batters, Coach Jack Flynn of the Friars employed a bit of strategy that almost brought Providence success

Realizing that a fast ball pitcher would just suit the heavy swinging Crusaders, he selected Edward Eldredge, sophomore slow ball pitcher, to succeed Blanche. and this youth, making his first 'Varsity start, almost proved to be a sensation. Deliberate and careful on the mound. Eldredge proved puzzling to the Purple with his slow, baffling delivery, forcing many of them to hit easy pop files.

The Crusaders got but four runs off him in the seven innings he pitched. and had he received better support, victory would have come his way. wild throws to the home plate accounted for two of the runs Holy Cross mad off him. Considering the circumstand at him. Considering the circumstance the time he entered the game, and the fact that he was making his 'Varsity debut. Eldredge deserves high praise for his work. He certainly will see more service as a 'Varsity hurler hereafter.

It was a heart-breaking game for the Friars to lose. They fought a remarkable uphill battle and their efforts should have been rewarded with victory, but the Crusaders packed too healthy a punch for them today. They had opportunities to win the game, but poor base running cost them triumph. wasted at least three runs by slow travelling around the bases and their hitting in the pinches was not altogether satisfactory, and this despite the fact that they staged their strongest offensive of the season in collecting 18 hits.

Sline, the Purple hurler, was at his best in the ninth inning when the Friars made a last determined effort to win. After Grady had flied out to Moriarty. Roberge, batting for Eldredge, doubled and Madden followed with a single to put two P. C. men on base.

Sline, who many believed would crack after his hazardous battle throughout the game, came through in brilliant fashion to strike out Landry and Marion, two of the heaviest Providence hitters. These were the only two men Sline fanned in the game.

"Doc" Couillard was Holy Cross's hest long distance hitter, banging out a homer, triple and single to score three runs himself and send home three others. Joe Cusick, Providence youth with the Crusaders, hit two triples, one with the bases loaded. Jim Canty hit three singles and a double.

Big Edward Koslowski was the Friar's outstanding batsman with four out of five (a triple and three singles). Most of Koslowski's hits came when needed.

It looked like Providence day when the Friars started brillantly in the first inning by scoring a run on Koslow ki's triple and a base on balls. However, the Crusaders quickly changed the complexion of the game by fallying three times in the first. Kelly, first, up, prected Blanche with a double. Canty followed with a single, and after Morris and Morriantly filed out to centre field, Counliard hit a home run to deep centre field to give the Crusaders three runs.

This long lot by Couillard upset Blanche and Holy Cross continued its attack in the second Herlihy singled and he came home on Tierney's double, the latter scoring on 'Marion's wild throw to home plate in an effort to catch Herlihy on a relay from left field

The third inning marked "fints" to Blanghe's work for the day. He walked Morffs and Coullaid and Moriarity singled to fill the bases. Cusick then came up and hit a triple to left field to clean the bases. At this point in the game Blanche was convinced that it was not his day and he left the buttle.

Eldredge went into the game and the Cusaders scored a run off him before the inning was completed. Heartened by Eldredge's flue work, the Friars batted around in the fourth to score six runs and make the gount 9 to 7. Four singles, two bases on balls and hit batsman accounted for the Friar tailles.

Another run was made by Loly Cross in the fifth on Herlihy's double, and Eldredge's error to give the homesters a 10 to 7 advantage. Two tallies by Providence in the sixth brought the count 10 to 9, the Friars tallying on Tebbett's triple and singles by Koslowski and Merion.

The Friars tied the count at 10 all in their half of the seventh when Grady singled and Madden doubled. Madden reached third with only one out, but the Daminicans could not bring him home. With their uphili fight finally crowned with success, the Friars were expected to pull our victory, but the heavy hitting H. C. Crusaders came to the rescue of the rapidly tiring Sline to tally one run in the seventh and two more in the eighth to clinch the verdict.

Crusaders Prove Too Strong for Visitors

Game Is Fierce Hitting Contest With Both Teams Showing Terrific Batting Ability-Couillard Hits Near-Record Home Run

Holy Cross defeated Providence College at Fitton Field today, turning back what was considered its strongest foe of the season to date and keeping intact the record of never losing to Providence at Fitton Field.

The Friars, boasting a five-game winning streak, came here confident of victory and favored to win over the Barrylads, but defeat was once again their portion and the Fitton Field jing remains unbroken.

Eldridge then took up the burden of pitching for the Friars.

A big fourth inning brought Providence six runs as Reilly and Corbett singled, Grady walked, Eldridge singled, driving in two runs, and a fielder's choice scored Grady. Then Koslowski's single brought in two more runs, and Tebbetts' hit scored the final

Leading Nines Meet Defeat in College Upsets

Providence, Union, L. I. U. and B. C. Teams Lose First Time This Season

Two Tie for League Lead

Penn and Harvard Each Have Won 3, Lost Two

The college baseball situation in the East, after less than one full month of competition, became even more complex last week as five of the leaders met their first defeats, leaving no teams of the eighty-odd in this section that have won more than one game without losing any. Providence, in recent years a perennial member of the diamond powers: Boston College, this year giving evidence of ranking as the No. 1 team of the section; Union, Long Island U. and Trinity each were defeated for the first time.

Providence, which had won five in a row, bowed to its arch-rival in the informal Catholic college circuit, Holy Cross, 13 to 10. Boston College lost, unexpectedly, to its alumni, 3 to 0, after winning three straight. Union was toppled by Colgate, 8 to 2, also after three in a row; Long Island U. was beaten by St. Peter's. after three straight; while Trinity, which had won twice, was thumped by Massachusetts State.

New Alignment

With these unfortunate (to the losers) results, there is almost a completely new alignment among the section's leaders. The situation, at the current writing, is something like this:

like this:

In the Eastern Intercollegiate League, Penn and Harvard are tied for the lead, each with three victories in five games. The Pennsylvanians, defeating Cornell, previous leader, Saturday, now face two of their chief rivals, Dartmouth and Harvard, the latter in a doubleheader at Cambridge Saturday. But Dartmouth, turning in its first league victory by handing Yale a 4—1 setback last week end, seems to be in the best position of them all. The Indians, perhaps because they have games than any team in the association.

Cornell now has lost three, Yale seems to be on the down grade, Columbia, defending champion, has lost four and is almost certainly out of the title quest, and although Princeton turned in a victory over Cornell in one game of their doubleheader, the Tigers have been an in-and-out team most of the year.

Dominicans Down Lowell 7-3 to Register Sixth Trium

Winners Score All Runs in Three Innings.-Roberge, Landry Get Three Hits Each.

Providence College won its sixth base-hall victory of the season by defeating Lowell Textile 7-3 at Hendricken field vesterday afternoon. Lowell scored the first run of the game in the fifth inning when Jarek hit to right field and raced home on errors by Grady and Reilly. In their half of the fifth the Friars came back strong to score three runs and were never headed after that.

Omer Landry connected in the fifth frame for a double and scored on Leo Marion's single. Ed Koslowski struck out and then Ollie Roberge hit a two bagger sending Marion to third. Both men scored on a wild pitch by Garner, Lowell twirler, on the next play. These three runs proved to be enough to win the game but Lowell committed three more misplays to run up the Friar total.

Eddle Grossman, Lowell second base-man, garnered one of the best Lowell hits of the day when he lined a triple to the left field fence in the sixth inning. He scored the visitors' second run, coming home after Athanas flied out to Koslowski. In the seventh inning the Friars added two more runs to their score. Roberge sent a Texas Leaguer into right field which travelled along the foul-line and hit the fence just inside the flag. Garner allowed the Providence catcher to score when he heaved a wild pitch past Jarek. Corbett singled on a hit and run play and Tom Grady sent him in with a double into centre. Corbett's hit was a weird one for the fly ball floated to the ground in the infield and came to Poremba's hands too late to make a play at first base:

Johnny Madden started the eighth inning with a single and advanced to third on Landry's double. A balk by Garner let Madden cross the plate and Landry scored on a passed ball which slipped through Jarek's hands.

Bruins and Friars on Even Terms as Crucial Game Nears

Usually but Brown Appears to Have Better Chance.

Brown and Providence College will enter the first contest of their annual two-game series for the city college base-ball championship on practically even terms tomorrow. The Bruins have won six encoutners and lost three while the Friars have a record of six victories and one defeat.

Although Brown has three losses against its slate, it has taken the scalps of Holy Cross and Yale and hopes to conquer the Friars, who dropped their game with Holy Cross. The Bruins appear to have their best opportunity in years to accomplish this feat.

On the other hand Providence College has enjoyed a winning streak in this particular series since 1929 and, as past records against other opponents have meant nothing, expects to continue its successful stride. Rivalry between the two diamond teams has been particularly keen since the stirring 20-inning battle staged on Andrews Field on June 7, 1924.

In that memorable affair the Friars came out ahead, 1-0, after playing a contest more than two regulation games in length. Charley Reynolds was on the mound for Providence with Elmer Duggan pitching for the Bruins.

Another extra-inning game in 1926, which went 18 innings, was won by the Deminicans with Reynolds again on the Friar mound and Bill Quill twirling for Brown. The majority of the Friar-Bruin encounters have been spirited battles and tomorrow's game is expected to run true to form.

Both teams point for the two-game series as their chief objective and, no matter what the record against other teams may be, the outcome of this pair of contests looms as most important. A victory for either nine would make the baseball season outstanding, regardless of the number of opponents defeated during the schedule.

Neither coach has committed himself to a certain lineup and two pitchers on each nine remain as possible starters. For Brown, Bert Humphries, Metuchen, N. J., and Ambrose Murray, Swansea, Mass., are running neck and neck, while the Friars have Al Blanche, Somerville, Mass., and Charles Burdge, Warren, with the final choice a toss-up.

by the Friars, while Brown has been More Nearly Matched Than by the Friars, while Brown has been unable to hold any one of her nine rivals scoreless.

> All of Brown opponents have been teams within New England. Providence made a long road trip into New York and Pennsylvania and was highly successful against Army, Stroudsburg and St. John's. When the teams meet again on Saturday, May 26 at Aldrich field, Providence will have made another trip away from home meeting New Hamp-shire, Dartmouth and Boston College, all strong nines.

> The break in weather yesterday afternoon allowed both squads to get outdoors for practice. Coach Jack Flynn expects to use the lineup which faced Holy Cross against the Bruins awaiting game time for his decision on a pitcher. Ceach Jack Kelleher may make some shifts in his batting order, although the same men who were in the field in the Tufts game are expected to face the

FRIARS DOWN BROW

Dominicans Down Bears 9-4 in Loosely-Played Battle

Hitting opportunely and effectively behind the six-hit pitching of their right-handed mound ace, Al Blanche, the Friars of Providence College garnered a 9 to 4 triumph over the Brown Bears at Aldrich Field yesterday in the opening game of their annual city series. Nine hits, coupled with 10 passes and a trio of miscues on the part of the Bruins, brought Providence its margin of victory in a loosely played game before some 4000 fans.

Neither Bert Humphries, big righthander, nor tiny Ambrose Murray, a portsider, were able to stem the Friar bats or curb their leanings toward wildness. Humphries, a victim of the Friars on two other occasions, was nicked for five hits and five funs and handed out six passes in the four and two-thirds innings he worked. Murray served 'em up the rest of the distance and was found for four hits, four runs and four passes.

In the meantime, Blanche, although a bit too free with passes, held Brown's six hits well distributed through the nine frames, and but for errors might have held the Bears scoreless. Three Friar errors paved the way for all of Brown's runs.

Blanche's triumph was his fourth against the Bears in four series games he has pitched in since 1932. He made his debut in the Brown series in 1932 as a relief hurler for Eddie Quinton and was credited with the victory when the Friars nosed out in front, 5-4, in the Last season the Friar star beat the Bruins, 10 to 1 and 7 to 0.

Brown pushed across its first marker in the last of the third, but the Dominicans squared accounts in their half of the fourth and put four singles, two passes and an error together for a fourrun spurt in the fifth that clinched the verdict. Thereafter the winners added a run in the sixth, two more in the seventh and a final one in the eighth, while Brown was held to two more in the seventh and a single one in the eighth. . . .

Humphries, starting on the mound for Brown, got into his first difficulty in the fourth when he passed four men to force in Providence's tying run. After Marion flied out to Caito, Koslowski and Teb-betts walked and advanced on a pass to Corbett after Reilly had flied out to Tracy in centre field. Still unable to find the plate with any consistency, Humphries passed Burns to push Koslowski in with the run. The Bruin hurler fanned Blanche to end the inning and leave the Friars with the choked.

Madden and Landry opened the fourth with singles and moved around on Marion's infield out. Madden scored from third when Henshaw, in right field for the Bears, dropped Koslowski's fly. Landry scored a moment later as Tebbetts forced Koslowski at second. Reilly was safe on an infield hit. Corbett singled down the third base line to send Tebbetts in with the third run of the inning.

aBatted for Caito in ninth. bBatted for Murray in ninth.

Humphries passed Burns to fill the bases and then retired in favor of Murray. The southpaw's first move was to pass Blanche to force in Reilly, Madden came up again and fanned to end the inning.

Murray was directly responsible for the Friars' next run in the sixth. After Landry flied out, Marion was walked, stole second as Koslowski struck out and moved around to third on Tebbetts's single to short, that Frankie Brown, Bear shortstop, speared with his bare hand after a running dive. A wild pitch on the fourth ball to Reilly let Marion in and sent Reilly to second, where he remained, as Murray fanned Corbett.

Providence picked up two runs in the following frame. Burns singled to centre to start the inning and reached second when Blanche was safe on a fielder's choice. Both advanced on Madden's sacrifice bunt and both scored on Marion's single down the third base foul line.

The Friars ninth and last marker came in the eighth, Tebbetts scoring on Brown's error on Corbett's grounder. Tebbetts had doubled to centre for the only extra-base hit credited to the Dominicans.

Two lapses on the part of Eddie Reilly, Providence shortfielder, handed the Bruins their first three runs. Tracy opened Brown's third inning with a single to left, moved along as Caito drew a pass and scored after Henshaw had singled to shortstop and Reilly threw wildly to first. Caito reached third on the miscue, but stayed there, as Appleyard fouled out to Marion and Elrod forced Henshaw at second.

Reilly's second miscue came in the seventh. Brown drove a sharp single to left centre to open that frame for Brown. Tracy flied out to centre, Calto walked again, but was forced at second when Murray rolled one down to Madden. Reilly then made a perfect stop of Henshaw's hard hit grounder, but threw into the dirt in an effort to make the force play at second on Murray. Tracy and Murray tallied before the ball could be retrieved.

Brown picked up its final run of the game in the eighth on Charlie Butler's triple along the foul line in deep left field. Hal Fowler, captain of the Bruins, brought in the score after reaching first on Marion's error. Butler stumbled over third and was out when Koslowski's throw-in beat him back to the hot corner.

Maury Caito, Brown second sacker, robbed Johnny Madden of a hit as he opened the game. Caito made a fine running catch of Madden's fly in short right field.

Brown's stop of Tebbetts's single to short in the Friar sixth was another fielding gem.

Omer Landry, Providence's tiny centre fielder, snared Tracy's long fly to left centre in the Brown seventh to cheat the Bruin out of a hit.

Landry, on first in the ninth. looked dwarfed alongside Butler, Brown's 6-foot 7½-inch first sacker.

Tebbetts and Reilly for P. C. and Tracy for Brown were the only ones to collect two hits.

Blanche had six strikeouts, Humphries four and Murray four.

Friars Held to Five Hits; Error Scores Winning Run

Hanover, N. H., May 16 .- (AP) -- Dartmouth's revamped baseball team, with Bob Roundey making his first start of the season, today defeated Al Blanche and the strong Providence College nine, Roundey, who quit the tennis team for baseball this season, held the Friars to five hits. Brilliant fielding by the Green's revamped infield and brilliant catches by Captain Jake Edwards and Smith O'Brien in the outfield pulled the hurler out of several threatening holes.

Both Providence scores came in the first, inning, on errors by Buster Snow and Roundey, a pass and George Tebbets's single. The Green tied the score in the fourth on Snow's single, an infield error and Bob Bennett's two-bagger. In the sixth Koslowski dropped a fly in left field and allowed Phil Conathan to score the winning run.

EAGLES WHIP FRIARS;

Eagles Trounce Friars 7-0 as Duffy Yields Five Hits

Misplays by Dominicans and Inability to Hit Accounts for Shutout at Newton.

(Special to the Providence Journal) Newton, Mass., May 19.—Capitalizing four Providence College errors for five runs and gathering two more by some heavy hitting in the seventh inning, the Boston College baseball nine overwhelmed the Friars 7-0 here today on Alumni field. Weakness at the plate and their inability to hit with men on made the Friars a rather easy victim for the alert Eagles.

Boston was on its toes during every moment of the game while the visitors lapsed into errors and misplays to allow home players to scamper around the basepaths. Although the Eagles gathered only seven hits off Eldredge and Blanche Friar mistakes in fielding judgment came at opportune times for the homesters and they were quick to seize the opportunities.

After Johnny March and Omer Landry grounded ou Arst frame Leo Marion was given and Eddie Koslowski was hit by Bob Duffy. the B. C twirler, to place two men on the bases. This was the first Friar chance to garner runs. but George Tebbetts flied out to Bill Boehner in deep centre.

Pete O'Flaherty started the Eagles' half of the inning by singling neatly between second and third. He was out on a forced play at second when John Freitas hit a grounder to Capt. Wally Corbett and reached first on a fielder's choice. George Tebbetts, Friar catcher, picked Freitas off second by a nice throw to Eddie Reilly and two were out. Here Ed Eldredge allowed his only walk of the contest, passing Capt. Charlie Kitteredge.

Bill Boehner, next at bat, lifted a fly over first base and as Leo Marion reached for it Capt. Wally Corbett, who was also trying to make the catch, hit Marion's arm and the ball dropped to the ground, allowing Kitteredge to score the first Eagle tally.

In the second inning Providence went out in order on a fly out and two ground-outs. B. C., however, continued on its way to victory with a pair of runs. Jerry pagluccia, Eagle left fielder, reached first on an error by Reilly. Bob Curran followed with a bunt along first base line. It seemed that the threat would be stopped as Tim Ready and Bob Duffy filed out, but Tebbetts made a play for curran at second, allowing Pagluccia to towards Eddie Reilly, who stooped too late to get it, and Curran romped home.

*Landry out in 8th for not touching 3rd. †Batted for Eldredge in 7th. ‡Batted for Burns in 9th.

A Friar rally started in the fourth inning with all the indications of being fruitful. Eddie Koslowski singled and George Tebbetts sent a clean double between second and third, sending Koslowski to third. Eddie was almost caught at third by Jerry Pagluccia's accurate peg but the umpire ruled him safe. This rally went for naught, however. when Reilly, Corbett and Burns could not get to I b Duffy for a hit. The third inning was the first in which the Friars were able to retire the Eagles in order. They also had the home club under control in the next frame when Duffy grounded out to Marion with Ready on base and two out. Ready reached base on a scorching bingle into left field along the foul line and would have made a triple but ground rules limited him to a double when the ball landed in a pile of lum-

Another opportunity to break into the run column came to the Friars in the sixth inning when, with two out, Tebbetts hit a single, advanced to second on an error, and rested there with Eddie Reilly up. Reilly hit a clean single to centre and Tebbetts was rounding third when he mistook the base coach's signal, stopped, and returned to third base. He might easily have scored a run for the Dominicans. With these two players on base Capt. Corbett grounded out to O'Flaherty.

Boehner reached first on a bingle in Boston's half of the inning and stole to second. Dave Concannon drove a long fiv into right field and Dick Burn started over for it. As it settled into his glove he stumbled on the edge of the cinderpath, which circles the field, and plunged to earth, dropping the ball. Boehner scored and Concannon came home before the ball could be relayed in, for an unearned home run.

Quite the reverse of the situation in the Holy Cross game, Al Blanche was called upon to relieve Ed Eldredge in the game here today. He went to the mound for the Friars in the seventh inning, but the damage had been done, and his efforts were without avail. Boston College collected its only earned runs while Blanche was in the box, nicking the Friar ace for two triples and a single to score a pair of tallies.

In the seventh John Freitas collected a beautiful triple which curved far into right field, and Capt. Charlie Kitteredge dropped a floater behind second base to score Freitas. The Eagles' captain came home on another triple off Bill Boehner's lusty bat.

Providence's chances in the eighth inning went awry when Umpire Keady suddenly decided that Omer Landry had not touched third base and declared him out. Landry reached first when he was hit by Duffy; Marion followed when Duffy repeated his treatment of Landry and hit the Friar first baseman, Koslowski drew a pass and the stage was set for a Providence score. George Tebbetts walloped a long liner to deep centre which Bill Boehner pulled down. Then Landry started home. He crossed the plate and continued to the bench. Play was about to resume a minute later when the umpire made his decision.

This reverse upset the Friars' confidence and they continued scoreless to the final out. Tight fielding by the visitors held the Eagles scoreless in this inning.

George Tebbetts's whip arm continued in rare form and he picked off John Freitas neatly in the first frame. The threat of his accurate throws kept the Eagle players from attempting a steal on more than one occasion,

Bears Need Victory Over P. C. For 5th Major Game Triumph

Maintain Record of Past Years by Success in Objective Contests.

Brown baseball teams of late years may not have attained the success of nines which represented the university during the past era, but in one phase, and it is an important one, the more recent teams have been equal to their predecessors, and that is, with one exception in the winning of objective games.

games.

Each spring finds the Bears determined to conquer five foes. The teams the Bruins find most delight in defeating are Harvard, Yale, Holy Cross, Rhode Island State and Providence College. Because of the mediocre ball played by the Bears during recent seasons in the so-called minor contests, they invariably were the under-dogs when opposing major foes.

The Crimson, the Elis, the Rams, the Crusaders and the Friars invariably were selected to win with ease but during the past five seasons, the Bruins gathered their forces when ruin was impending to win from all their objective foes except the Friars.

In other games the Bears may have displayed loose baseball and appeared woefully weak, but once an objective game rolled around, they were a different team, rising to great heights and came through with surprising triumphs.

Thus during the past five years the Bears have managed to win from the Crimson, the Elis, the Rams and the Crusaders when defeat loomed certain for them, but not from the Friars. These victories have more than atoned for set-backs received in other games, but the Bears will never be content until they win from the Friars.

It has not been since 1929 that the Bruins have subdued the Dominicans and the last time they won the intracity championship series was in 1927. This long run of defeats has annoyed the Bears and they are anxiously awaiting for the day that will bring them vic-

Already this season the Friars have Already this season the Bears. The second game of the series will be played Saturday. Brown has completed four steps towards its goal, having defeated Holy Cross, State, Yale, and Harvard. The setback Erown handed Holy Cross was the only one the Crusaders have received this season.

The Bears have one more hurdle to complete a successful season against major opponents. They must defeat the

In the first game between them, the Bears, because of their victory over Holy Cross and the general improvement over their play of other seasons, were conceded a good chance of subduing the Friars, but they were sadly off form. Whereas against other major adversaries they have been able to play inspired baseball and to win, the reverse is true when the Dominicans are their opponents.

Brown Nine May Even Series With Providence College Tomorrow

Tomorrow COACH KELLEHER UNDECIDED ON PITCHER TO FACE FRIARS

Frank Brown to Play Second Base, with Caito at Short; Five Bruin Regulars Hitting Over .300 Mark

Flushed by a great victory over a fine Harvard team, Brown returns to the diamond wars tomorrow to battle a Providence College nine that has bogged down just far enough to make the second meeting an out-and-out stand-out.

Probably Providence should be made a favorite by a very slight margin but now that the Dominicans have dropped two consecutive games in a week's time, and now that Brown's attack seems to be clicking with the best tempo of its earlier spasmodic lift, I'm inclined to rate them so near even that odds matter little.

Jack Kelleher came back to the Aldrich Field diamond to send his team through a regulation drill yesterday, with all sorts of praise for several of his individuals. He classified the exhibition of pitching that Bert Humphries turned in as the best of the career of the Metuchen Senior. And the homer that Charlie Slader got to sew up the game was one of the very best that Kelleher ever saw, and he has seen a few in the more than two decades that he has been watching league and college baseball.

Kelleher has a problem or two, and he finished up the drill today wondering just a bit how he would solve the quandaries that hem in the situation. Frank Brown is still spending more time on the rubbing table than on the diamond, and there is a bit of a doubt as to whether he will fit into the picture again. If he does, and Jack MacKinnon thinks he will, he'll go to second and Maury Caito will remain at the short field post.

The best Kelleher can do foday is to name three pitchers, Ambrose Murray, Bert Humphries and Eddie Neal. Murray, left-hander, gets his standing for the job because Duffey, a Boston College southpaw, shut the Friars out at Chestnut Hill last week. Humphries with his brilliant Harvard game beaming on his back, is up there at the top. But little Eddie Neal, a pint-sized Providence member of the sophomore class, Is right in line too, and he may be the man Kelleher will select. But today, you can't get the Brown coach to name any one of the trio, and a definite selection won't be made until along about noon tomorrow.

Capt. Fowler will catch; Charlie Butler will be on, first; Brown, second; Caito, short, and Norman Appleyard will get the call over Stanley Henshaw on the hot corner. In the outfield, Perry Elrod and Ed Tracy are certainties for the left and centre field berths, and a doubt wil hinge on right field right up until game time. Mickey O'Reilly is the fielding expert, Charlie Slader has been hitting, and now as the game comes up it is a question which advantage to seek. Slader hit hard and often against Harvard, and he is ready to take his turn with the bat, but he is short of the fielding experience that O'Reilly already has. If you could build yourself a composite man out of Slader and O'Reilly and take the best from each, and toss away the weakness of each, you'd have the left fielder that Kelleher is seeking. Perhaps the man he picks will be that man when the Dominicans stride forth Saturday.

FRIARS TO FIELD STRONG TEAM

Over at Providence College the picture isn't as roseate as it was when the two intracity rivals met two weeks ago, but if you know your Providence College baseball you'll know that the loss of a game or two doesn't really amount to much up there. The Dominicans have trod the narrow and uneasy path that leads upward and onward for so long that their baseball is always adjudged of a very fine grade.

Judged of a very fine grade.

Providence will line up just as she did in the first Brown game. Al Blanche will pitch; Tebbetts will catch; Leo Marion will be on first; Corbeet, second; Reilly, shortstop; and Madden, third base. Omer Landry will be at centre field; Ed Koslowski, left and Burns, right.

It won't do to minimize the threat of the Friar nine now on the strength of loss of games to Boston College and Dartmouth. In the first place, Dartmouth has a great team that has done some remarkable work in the competition outside the Intercollegiate league. And Boston College is still undefeated, the only undefeated nine in this section and despite the lack of strong opposition outside of Providence, those Eagles must be rated high.

And when Brown and P. C. meet everything before goes over the fence, for the series is gathering momentum that makes it a high point in local sports annals.

DOMINICANS BLANK BEARS 7-0 FOR 9TH STRAIGHT IN SERIES

Friars Capitalize All Six Hits

to Win.-Blanche Beats

Bears for 5th Time.

The mastery that Al Blanche, Providence College's ace twirler, has exerted over Brown in four previous and successive starts against the Bears, held again yesterday at Aldrich Field and the Friars romped off with a 7 to 0 verdict to sweep the two-game 1934 series and run their record of straight triumphs over Brown to nine. Some 3000 fabs saw the game.

Displaying the same form that marked his three-hit 7 to 0 victory over the Bears in the second game of last year's series, Blanche yesterday limited the Brown batters to six singles, no two of which came in the same inning.

Backing up Blanche's excellent pitching exhibition with opportune playing that took full advantage of the six singles that they combed off the offerings of two of the three pitchers that Brown used. In addition, full advantage was taken of two of their four free passes and two of the three errors charged against the Bruins.

As matters turned out, the Friars inched the verdict in the very first trame with two markers. They added nother in the second and topped off their day's scoring with a four-run plurge in the fifth.

iplurge in the fifth.

It was Providence's 14th victory against 11 for the Bears in the city series that had its inception in 1920. The victory was the fifth straight that Blanche has tallied over the Bruins. He beat Brown once in 1932, twice last year and twice again this season.

Eddle Neal, Sophomore right-hander, started the game, was nicked for two singles and three runs in the two innings that he remained on the mound, and was charged with being the losing hurler. Bert Humphries, top-notcher of the grown pitching corps, assumed the hurling duties at the start of the third and lasted until two were out in the fifth. Be yielded four hits and four runs before he was relieved by Ambrose Murray, sophomore port-sider, who turned in a corking performance the rest of the distance, as he held the Friers hitless and gcoreless.

Because they were unable to put hits together in any of their innings the Bruins hardly offered a scoring threat throughout the game. Not a runner advanced beyond second base, and only four of the nine men who got on base were able to get as far as the keystone position.

Displaying hedds-up baseball, the Friars made the most of two passes, a lone single and a sacrifice fly to pick up two markers in the opening frame. Neal opened by fanning, Madden, but passed Landry and Marion. The Friar centre fielder romped home and Marion went to third on Koslowski's smashing single that got away from Frankie Brown, at second for the Bruins. Tebbetts's sacrifice fly to short right that was taken by Brown scored Marion.

In the second frame, Corbett, captain and second sacker for the Friars, started things off with a clean single to right and advanced to second on a wild pitch and to third as Neal was throwing out Burns at first. The Friar right fielder was out by a full two strides but straight-armed Butler as he dashed across the bag. The blow caught the Brown first baseman flush on the nose, and although the injury was patched up, it eventually brought Butler's withdrawal from the game in the sixth. After an examination Dr. Raymond G. Bugbee, Brown physician, diagnosed the injury as a probable dislocation of the nose cartilage.

Blanche then contributed to his team's scoring with a long sacrifice fly to right that sent Corbett in with Providence's third run.

Humphries took the mound at the start of the third and held the Friars well in hand for the next two cantos. A double play, O'Reilly to Butler, helped him out in the third. Burns opened the big fifth with a single that dusted off the cushion at second base. Blanche smashed a looping drive to left centre but was robbed of a hit when Tracy made a beautiful running catch.

Burns stole second, went to third as Madden was thrown out and scored when Caito, at short for the Bears, threw wildly to first after making a fine stop of Landry's roller. The Friar centre fielder went to second on the error and just beat Elrod's throw to the plate after Marion had singled to right, the latter pushing around to second on the throwin. Koslowski got a life when Appleyrd duplicated Caito's performance with a wild throw to first on his grounder down the third base line.

Marion tallied on that error and Koslowski went to second and completed his trip to the plate when Tebbetts grove, a single over first base. That completed Humphries's part in the game. He retired and Murray took up the pitching burden. He passed Reilly but struck out Corbett to end the inning.

Thereafter the Friars were able to get only two men as far as first, one on a pass and the other on a second error by Applevard

THE SPORT WINDOW

By ARTHUR MARKEY -

THAT BROWN-P. C. BASEBALL PARTY

THE impression has gone abroad that Dick Burns, Providence College star outfielder, went roaring down to first base in the P. C.-Brown game of last Saturday and deliberately straight-armed Charlie Butler, Bruno's giant, and hit him so hard Charlie's nose was broken. Let's get the thing right. Dick and every other runner is entitled to his share of the base line whether it be at first, second, third or home. He was tearing down the path trying to beat the ball which he wasn't watching. He was swinging both his arms as players do when they put the last ounce of energy into a spirited run. First baseman Charlie Butler was juggling the ball. Came the collision. Young Mr. Butler is not the most graceful first baseman in college ball and sometimes leaves himself open to a bump. For the sake of the wholesome rivalry that has existed between Brown and the Friars in baseball for these many years it should be thoroughly understood that there are no foul balls in uniforms on either team. Coaches Jack Kelleher and Jack Flynn don't teach that kind of baseball. Just an accident. There are no muckers at either Brown or P. C.

Incidentally the two straight P. C. victories in this season's series makes it 11 in a row for the Friars. Coach Flynn's aggregation won the odd game of three in 1929 and two each in 1930, '31, '32, '33 and '34. A most remarkable run considering the excellent ball the Bear has offered here and there along the line.

P. C. will soon graduate Ed Koslowski, Ollie Roberge, George Tebbetts, Eddie Reilly, Capt. Walter Corbett and Al Blanche. These seniors figured in eight of the P. C. triumphs over the Bear. The eight comes about because the Friars had no freshmen rule until a couple of years ago.

The Providence College strength for a decade has been found largely in the pitching department. A good twirler is 50 per cent. of the show.

Scoring for Friars in Fifth

Omer Landry scores from second on Leo Marion's hit to left field in fifth inning of Brown-Providence College game yesterday at Aldrich Field. Captain Hal Fowler is making the play at the plate with Gus Gardella calling the play. The Friars won 7 to 0.

Invaders Have Good Record in College Baseball This Season

Charles Burdge, Providence College Senior, undefeated in college baseball, is slated to pitch against St. John's of Brooklyn when the Friars tackle the Redmen on Hendricken field at 3:15 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Burdge broke into the Friar 'Varsity lineup last year and won four games. During the present season he has twirled the Dominicans to wins over Stroudsburg, Springfield and New Hampshire.

Providence defeated the Saints, 6-2, in an early season game in Brooklyn with Al Blanche on the mound. As Blanche was the most probable selection against Brown this afternoon Burdge will face the Redmen tomorrow.

The visitors have a strong team and have enjoyed a comparatively good seaton to date. Since their defeat at the hands of the Friars, the Redmen broke New York University's winning streak by a 16-7 score, handing the Violets

FRIARS TRIM ST. JOHN'S

Burdge Pitches 5-Hit Ball to Subdue Redmen 4 to 1

Victory is 8th Straight' for Dominican Hurler and 10th of Season for Friars.

Charles Burdge, Providence College Senior, pitched the Friars to his eighth successive triumph yesterday afternoon by downing St. John's College of Brooklyn 4-1 on Hendricken field. The big Warren twirler remained undefeated in college baseball. He had a fine day on the mound as the Friars won their second victory of the week-end, striking out 10 and allowing only five scattered hits.

ond victory of the week-end, striking out 10 and allowing only five scattered hits. Although the Friars nicked Dixson for 13 hits, the St. John's twirler was effective in spots and was hampered by poor support. Errors accounted for three Friar runs, the home club earning only one of their four tallies. Dixson retired six men by the strikeout route and gave only two walks.

The win was the tenth of the season for the Friars and the second over the visitors this year. The first three innings were played rapidly with both teams going out almost in order in each frame. A break came to the Dominicans in the fourth when an error by Capt. Lou Black, St. John's third baseman, allowed Eddie Koslowski to score the first Friar tally.

With two men out Koslowski reached first when Bob Cochran, Redmen's shortstop fumbled his grounder and was late in tossing to first. Ollie Roberge slashed a hard single into left field to send Koslowski to third. Eddie Reilly, next at bat, sent a sizzling grounder down to Lou Black at third and the St. John's captain, in his anxiety to get Koslowski at the plate, fumbled the ball, allowing the rangy Friar left fielder to score. Capt. Black nailed Ollie Roberge, however, when the Dominican catcher attempted to get to third on the error and slid over the bag.

The visitors made their first bid for a score in their half of the fourth inning. Phil Carey and Chuck Maloney made clean singles. Vin Leary drew a walk to load the bases and put Charlie Burge in a tight spot. Carey was forced out at home when Pat Joyce hit to Eddie Reilly.

in a tight spot. Carey was forced out at home when Pat Joyce hit to Eddie Reilly. On the next play Lou Black hit to John Madden, who threw home to get Maloney and then Roberge made it a double play by retiring Black on a throw to Leo Marion. Not till the final inning did St. John's again threaten.

to Leo Marion. Not till the final inning did St. John's again threaten.

In spite of singles by Wally Corbett, P. C. captain, and Johnny Madden in the fifth inning, Providence was unable to push a run across. In the sixth frame a Friar score again seemed imminent when Marion and Koslowski got on base by singles and Reilly drew a walk to fill the sacks. Roberge grounded out; Reilly was out, Carey to Cochrane; and Wally Gorbett flied out to end the rally.

In College Game Today

Eddic Reilly, Providence College shortstop, who will play for Friars today against St. John's College of Brooklyn at Hendricken Field.

Plenty of action was provided in the seventh inning when the Friars were at bat. With two out, Omer Landry drove a neat single into centre, and was followed by Leo Marion, who singled to right field, sending the speedy Landry to third. When Marion started to steal second, Eddie Martin, Redmen's catcher. tossed the ball in the direction of that base. The pellet hit Marion in the back and he was safe. Omer Landry scampered home with the Friars' second run. and as Phil Carey was juggling the ball behind second base, Marion went down to third. Eddie Koslowski reached first on an error and Ollie Roberge sent Marion home with the third Dominican tally by doubling into right field.

The final P. C. run came in the eighth. Capt. Wally Corbett hit Dixson's first ball for a single. Dick Burns, who had replaced Tom Grady in the sixth frame, poled a curving fly into right field for a triple, sending Corbett in with the fourth Friar score.

Coach Buck Freeman of St. John's sent Jerry Quagliana in as a pinch hitter for Phil Carey in the ninth in an effort to produce a score, and this bit of strategy prevented a shutout for the visitors.

Charlie Burdge passed Quagliana. Chuck Maloney poled a sizzling single into deep centre, sending Quagliana to third. Pat Joyce hit to Burdge, who turned and forced Maloney out at second by tossing to Reilly, Frair shortstop. Reilly attempted a double play and threw to Leo Marion at first, but on a close decision Joyce was ruled safe. Marion then tried to nip Quagliana, who was on third base, but the ball hit the visiting player and rolled into left field. Quagliana scored before Madden could recover the ball. Burdge struck out Lou Black to end the inning and the game. The score:

Tufts Nine Conquers P.C. 8 to 7 In 12-Inning Contest

Jumbos Tie Score at 7-All in Ninth.—Friars Unable to Hold Early Lead.

(Special to the Providence Journal.)
Medford, Mass., May 30.—Gaining momentum as the game progressed, Tufts tied the score at seven all in the ninth inning and then pushed one run across in the 12th to defeat Providence College 8-7 on Tufts Oval here today.

Providence took the lead in the first inning by chalking up two runs. Tufts made its first tally in the fourth and in the fifth Providence scored three runs to stay ahead 5-1. In the seventh Tufts began its rally which ultimately ended in victory for the Jumbos. Tallying three runs they crept up on the visiting team 5-4.

A Friar run in the eighth and one by Tufts left the visitors still holding a one run lead at 6-5. The lone score by the visitors in the ninth proved insufficient and Tufts went to bat in its half of that frame with determination, scoring two markers and tying the score 7-7.

From this point forward the real battle began with each team trying hard to score. Several tight situations developed, and finally in their half of the twelfth frame with one man out, Tufts pushed across a run to take the game.

Roy Woodworth, winning twirler, turned in a remarkable performance, going the entire distance for the Jumbos. Ed Eldredge started for the Friars, and was replaced by Charlie Burdge in the seventh with the score 6-5. Then, when Charlie allowed the home nine to tie the count in the ninth he gave way to Al Blanche. The winning run was scored while the Somerville Senior was in the box and the loss goes to him.

In the first inning Johnny Madden lifted a single into left field and was sacrificed to second by Omer Landry. Woodworth took no chances with Leo Marion and walked him. Ed Koslowski grounded out and was followed by George Tebbetts, who hit a texas leaguer over second base to reach first. Madden and Marion scored on this hit to put the Friars two runs ahead.

Eddie Reilly then hit the ball down towards second and it hit Tebbetts, automatically making him out and ending the Friar scoriag in that frame. Tufts was held scoreless in the first three innings.

The home club's first tally came in the fourth when, with two men out, Bill Staffon hit a hard liner into centre. The ball bounded over tiny Omer Landry's head and rolled to the clubhouse allowing the speedy Staffon to circle the bases for a home run.

In their part of the fifth, the Friars made three runs on doubles by Ed Eldredge and Leo Marion and singles by Johnny Madden and Omer Landry. Both teams remained scoreless in the sixth.

Tufts rallied in the seventh to make three runs and climb to within one run of tying the score. The Jumbos' run resulted from two walks and a home run by Clark Ingraham into deep left field.

With the Jumbos threatening, the Friars made two singles and drew a pass to fill the bases. Capt. Wally Corbett came home from third on a pass ball which got away from Ingraham, Tufts' backstop.

In the ninth Tufts tied the score. Ingraham drew a pass and Reed singled. Ed Batchelder was safe at first when Corbett fumbled his grounder in his anxiety to get Reed, advancing to second. Roy Woodworth grounded out enabling Ingraham to go home on the play. Then Reed scored the tying run on a bassed ball.

Al Blanche was sent in for the Friars in the 10th. Roy Woodworth seemed in fine condition and kept the Friars well in check in the closing innings. Both teams went scoreless in the 10th and 11th and the Friars were unable to score in their half of the 12th.

In the 11th inning the Friars thought they had victory in their hands when Ed Koslowski lifted a long fly into right field. Bill Staffon ran back to get in position to take the ball, but, as it fell into his glove he tripped and fell, and the ball rolled some distance from him. Koslowski circled the bases but as he came home the umpire called him out, declaring that Staffon had held the ball long enough to make it a putout. The Friars protested the decision to no avail.

With one man out in the 12th Johnny Grinnell doubled. Gus Donnelley drew a pass. Frank Dixson, who substituted for Lou Pingree at third in the ninth, then played the hero role by singling to centre, sending Grinnell home with the winning run.

Providence College and Boston College will play the second game of their 1934 series on Hendricken field this afternoon at 3:15 o'clock. The contest is a crucial one for both teams and should produce some fast action as the Friars and Eagles battle for the decision.

Providence is eager to even the series particularly because the Eagles handed the Dominicans a 7-0 setback at Newton in early May. Last year, although one game down, the Friars came back with a vengeance and handed the Eagles two defeats to take the series.

Al Blanche or Charlie Burdge are in line for the twirling berth with Ollie Roberge or George Tebbetts behind the plate. Boston College has Charlie Marso, Bob Duffy and Ted Galligan on its pitching staff and the starter is still in doubt.

Duffy may draw the assignment as he was in the box when the Eagles won the first game. However Coach Frank McCrehan may elect to start his chief of staff, Marso, who is the most dependable moundsman on the Eagle nine. Ted Galligan, a husky twirler of the Burdge type is also a possibility.

Both teams are expected to stand pat on the rest of their lineups. The Eagles will have a powerful batting attack with Bill Boehner, Bob Curran, Jerry Pagluccia, Dave Concannon and Tim Ready doing the heavy sticking. Providence will seek to match the visitors in hitting with Johnny Madden, Omer Landry, Leo Marion, Ed Koslowski, George Tebbetts and Eddie Reilly.

Boston College comes to town with its winning streak broken and the Friars may have a psychological advantage over the visitors. Providence faces two strong fces after this afternoon's contest and will go into the Yale game with greater confidence if it can subdue the Eagles. Holy Cross opposes the Friars on Hendricken field on June 9 in the season's finale for the Dominicans.

Fly Ball to Koslowski Scores

Boehner with Winning

Run in Ninth.

Boston College won the second game of its annual series with Providence College yesterday afternoon by tripping the Friars 8-7 at Hendricken Field. Bill Boehner tripled in the ninth inning and then scored the winning run on Dave Concannon's sacrifice fly to Ed Koslowski in deep left field.

The Friars played a much better game against the Eagles yesterday and they rallied strongly in the second and seventh frames to score their seven runs. Their inability to get to Bob Duffy in the ninth spelled defeat. Duffy walked two men in that frame but the Friars were unable to hit them home.

Boston College went after the game from the opening gun, scoring in the first and second innings to take a three-run lead. Two runs in the fourth and two in the fifth raised their total to seven and going into the seventh, victory was in sight.

The seventh, however, was a big Friar inning in which the home club made four runs to tie the score. From that point on the battle surged ahead with the teams in quest of the deciding marker. Boston collected a three-base hit and scored what proved to be the winning tally, Boehner beating Koslowski's throw to the plate on Concannon's fly-out to left.

After the seventh the Friars seemed unable to produce a scoring punch. Blanche and Marion were left stranded on the base sin the eighth and Corbett and Grady met the same fate in the final inning.

Charlie Marso allowed the Friars only two hits in the six and one-third innings he twirled, and the two men he walked did no scoring. A hard hit ball off Al Blanche's bat injured Marso's hand in the fourth frame and, although he continued till the sixth, Coach Mc-Crehan decided to relieve him. Bob Duffy took the mound for the Eagles but did not fare as well as his teammate.

not fare as well as his teammate.

Duffy allowed five hits and gave four walks. The Friars blasted his offerings in the seventh to score four runs and draw even with the visitors. Duffy did not show the same control which led his team to a 7-0 shutout over the Friars in their same control.

in their first meeting.

In the first inning, Pete O'Flaherty flied out to Ed Reilly behind shortstop. Johnny Freitas sent a grounder down to Reilly, which the Friar shortstop fumbled, allowing Freitas to reach first. Capt. Charlie Kittredge of the Eagles then hit one of the longest drives seen this season on Hendricken field.

Kittredge's lusty wallop travelled out to left field and rolled through the entrance gate. Freitas came home and Kittredge circled the bases, but, in his eagerness to score, he did not touch third. Omer Landry relayed the ball to Koslowski, who threw to Johnny Madden for a putout, Kittredge being credited with a double. Al Blanche handled Bob Boehner's hard grounder, throwing to Leo Marion on first to retire the side.

Providence placed three men on base in the first frame, but was unable to produce a score. Johnny Madden drew a walk and Omer Landry dropped a bunt along the third base line to sacrifice Madden to second. Leo Marion was issued a pass. Ed Koslowski sent a grounder to Pete O'Flaherty at short, and he threw to John Freitas at second in an attempt to force out Marion. Freitas came in fast to take the ball and, in his haste, dropped it, allowing Marion to reach second safely.

John Madden was forced at home when Ollie Roberge grounded to Marso, but Roberge reached first to keep the bases loaded. Ed Reilly retired the side when he grounded out on an easy roller to Concannon at third.

In the second frame Boston scored two runs. Concannon was hit by Blanche and then Reilly made a costly error to allow Pagluccia to reach first, Curran grounded out, but Ready, Eagle backstop, sent a grounder into centre field to score Concannon. Madden might have nipped this scoring spurt as he had a chance for a double play in this frame. Paggluccia romped home with a run when Madden, after holding the ball too long, threw to Corbett on second for only one putout.

Providence tied the score for the first time in the second inning. Tom Grady singled and Al Blanche reached first when O'Flaherty muffed his grounder. Both runners advanced on Madden's ground-out to Marso, and then Omer Landry drove a hard grounder into centre field to score Grady and Blanche.

Tim Ready gave the Friars the tying run when he threw wildly to get Landry who was stealing second. The swift Friar centre fielder was home, just ahead of Bill Boehner's throw from centre field, with the third P. C. run.

After this rally Providence was held scoreless until the seventh inning. The Eagles made two runs in the fourth and fifth. Curran walked in the fourth and Tim Ready smashed a triple to the left field fence to score Curran. Freitas's single between first and second sent Ready home with the fifth Eagle run.

In the fifth, singles by Boehner and Pagluccia and a walk gave the visitors two more tallies. Bob Duffy took the mound for the Eagles in the sixth. Providence took advantage of his offerings to make two doubles, a single and draw a hit-by-pitcher to make four runs and tie the score for the second time.

Then came the winning run. With one out in the ninth, Bill Boehner tripled to far left field. Dave Concannon lifted a long fly to Ed Koslowski in deep left and Boehner tallied the winning run after Koslowski had made the putout. With two out the Friars drew two walks in the ninth and seemed on the verge of a score but Blanche grounded out to end the game.

Friars Reach Rankin For Hits At Opportune Moments To Win First Game Over Yale In Three Years—Three Triples And Three Doubles Mark Visitors' Attack.

By BOB WILSON

Providence College outbatted Yale, 2 to 1, and outscored the Elis by a slightly higher ratio to defeat the dark blue in their innual baseball game at Yale field yesterday afternoon, 7 to 3. Fourteen hits, three of them triples and three of them doubles, leatured the Friars' comparatively easy triumph. It was Providence's first victory over Yale in three years.

Al Blanche, big right hander, went the entire route for the visitors. Except for the fifth inning when Yale scored twice on four successive singles, Blanche was master of the situation. Yale's other run in the ninth came with two out after Blanche had issued his only pass of the game. Bernie Rankin, for Yale, was hit smartly and opportunely in five of the nine innings although his passes in the first and fifth standigured prominently in the result.

New Haven REGISTER

The game established one reconfor Yale Field this season. Both teams played errorless balls, there being no trace of a mechanical fielding flaw during the nine innings. Dugan of Yale momentarily juggled a tricky grounder off Blanche in the fourth as a Providence runner crossed the plate, but Dugan got the batsman at first. A brilliant catch by McKenzie off Burns to retire the Providence side in the fifth softpedalled the most sustained rally of the game. Two runners were on base when McKenzie went deep into left center to retrieve the ball. Reilly and Corbett, Providence's second base combination turned in several sparkling fielding plays. Marion also fielded brilliantly.

The slender crowd was made up for the most part of Bridgeporters who came here to pay their respects to Reilly and Koslowski, both Park City boys. A delegation of 125 Boy Scouts from Bridgeport were the guests of the Yale Athletic Associa-

Game played: June 6, 1934

Every player on the visiting roster accounted for one hit or more, with the exception of Blanche, who concentrated on reaping his revenge for the indignities suffered at the hands of Yale last year. Leo Marion and George Tebbetts led a blistering attack, registering seven of Providence's quota of hits. Marion blasted three singles and drew two passes, while Tebbetts belted two doubles, and two singles, Tebbetts' first double drove in the Friars' two tallies in the first inning. Providence was never headed.

No more than three batsmen faced Blanche in six of the nine innings. He had the Elis hitting under the ball, and many of the Blue's bids for hits petered out into harmless flies. Three times Corbett raced into short right field to pluck labelled Texas leaguers.

Rankin wasn't much of a puzzle. Providence runners populated the paths in every inning outside of the second. Every one of the six extrabase blows figured in the scoring. Fast fielding plays by Woodlock and McKenzie alone kept Providence from stretching its output of runs into double figures.

A triple by Landry, a pass to Marion, and Tebbett's double, gave Providence its two-run start in the opening frame. Rankin fanned Burns for the third out with the bases full, after issuing two other passes. Providence picked up another tally in the fourth, when Corbett led off with a triple and scored while Dugan was retiring Blanche,

In the fifth, a pass to Marion and consecutive singles by Tebbetts, Reilly and Corbett pushed another duo of runs across the plate. Mckenzie cut the rally short in this stanza with his fine catch off Burns.

A double by Madden with one out in the sixth and Marion's single to right gave Providence its sixth run in the sixth. A double by Tebbetts and Burns' triple with two on accounted for the visitors' final tally in the seventh. Yale broke into the run column in the fifth. After Dugan had fanned, McKenzie Armstrong. Gengarelly, and Kirin clicked off singles. Rankin forced Klein at second and Williamson ended the inning by flying out to Koslowski. Yale had registered but one hit, a single by Dugan in the second, up to this point. In the eighth Klein led off with a single only to be forced at second by Ran-Williamson then hit into a double play.

With two out in the ninth Blanche exhibited his first lapse of control by issuing four balls to Dugan. Dugan advanced to third base on a passed ball and scored when Armstrong, by fast sprinting, beat out a grounder to Marion. Gengarelly then grounded to Corbett who flipped the ball to Reilly for a force play on Armstrong and the game was over.

Coach Jack Flynn of the visitors appeared on the bench in civilian clothes sporting a cane. "Charge it to neuritis," declared Orator Jack as his athletes began the serious business of sinking the blue label.

Providence College Defeats Yale Nine at New Haven 7-3

Elis Collect Only Seven Hits as Visitors Take Early Lead and Keep It.

(Special to the Providence Journal.) New Haven, Conn., June 6 .- Providence College won its first baseball victory over Yale in four years, defeating the Elis 7 to 3 here today in a game featured by the steady pitching of Al Blanche, Priar ace, and the heavy hitting of the victors.

The Dominicans collected a total of 14 hits from the delivery of Bernie Rankin, Yale hurler. Providence opened the scoring in the first inning when Landry poled out a three-bagger, two men were passed and George Tebbetts, Friar catcher, hlt a double. Cornett's triple in the fourth produced another run for the visitors.

Sliding Into Third After Hitting Triple

FRIARS OVERWHELM CRUSADERS

Providence Nine Evens Series with Crusaders.—Sline Driven from Mound.

Driving Bill Sline from the mound in the second inning with a barrage of seven runs, the Providence College baseball nine evened its score with Holy Cross yesterday by defeating the Crusaders 13-7 before a large crowd at Hendricken Field.

Providence was superior to the visiting team all the way and took the game on smart fielding and hard hitting, particularly when men were on the bases. Holy Cross continued its tailspin from its former high place in Eastern college baseball which began with the upset by Harvard a week ago.

The Crusaders made some glaring miscues at vital points in the contest and the Friars were quick to seize upon them to push runs across the plate. Providence solved Bill Sline's delivery in the second, after the Crusader pitcher had walked three men, and found Charlie Jarvis, relief pitcher, no puzzle thereafter

Yesterday's victory came at a very opportune time as several members of the 1924 edition of the Friars were in the stands to watch the "young bloods" perform. Also numbered among the prominent spectators were Coach Frank Keaney of Rhode Island State College.

The members of the Friar nine, which defeated Brown in the historical 20-inning game in 1924, who were present to watch the game were: Johnny Halloran, Ray Doyle, Bud Feid, Rab Creegan, John Sullivan, Ed Wholey, and Walter Consodine. Coach Jack Flynn was delighted with his team's performance against the Crusaders and received the congratulations of his former pupils at the end of the contest.

A feeling of gloom was manifest in the home stand when the Crusaders were away to a three-run lead in the second frame, but the work of the Dominican nine in its half of that inning soon brought the fans to their feet cheering. Not content with their seven runs in the second, the Friars made three in the third for good measure.

Ed Eldredge started on the mound for the Black and White and twirled effectively until he was relieved in the sixth by Al Blanche. Blanche held the visitors scoreless for the remainder of the fray and gave a sterling exhibition of speed and control. Bill Sline seemed to be in rare form in the first inning but blew up in the second and walked four men. Three Friars hit safely in this frame and took advantage of Paul Tierney's error to score seven runs for a commanding lead. Charles Jarvis was hurried into the Crusader box to stem the Dominican uprising but Providence made seven more hits off his delivery.

A freakish putout occurred in the first inning when Ed Britt, husky Crusader right fielder, hit a hard grounder to Eldredge. The ball caromed off Eldredge's legs and rolled to Leo Marion who scooped it up for an unassisted putout.

In the same inning Eddie Koslowski, Friar left fielder, contributed a perfect running catch of Bill Kelly's fly, which went deep into foul territory, to help in keeping the visitors scoreless in that inning. George Tebbetts made a pair of spectacular catches of foul fly-balls and a perfect stop of a poor throw from Tom Grady to hold Ed Moriarty on third in the second frame.

With the bases loaded by Holy Cross players in the sixth inning Leo Marion made a one-hand catch of a hot liner from "Doc" Couillard's bat to make the third out and end a Crusader threat. Johnny Madden picked a grounder out of the dust with one hand in the fourth to get Paul Tierney on a force-out at third and then threw to Leo Marion for a double play.

Joe Cusick, visiting catcher, who is well known to Providence fans as a former schoolboy star at Classical and La-Salle, was the sparkplug of the Crusaders. He made a daring catch of a fly ball behind the Providence bench in the sixth frame to retire the home side.

Both teams were unable to score in the first inning, although Bill Sline gave Leo Marion a walk. Holy Cross did not reach first, Kelly and Canty flying out and Britt being put out on his freakish grounder to Marion.

Eight men came to bat for the visitors in the second inning and Holy Cross seemed to be preparing to walk away with the game. Moriarty and Couillard reached base on a walk and single, respectively. Cusick flied out to Tebbetts. Morris was safe at first when Corbett took his presented and threw poorly to Marion. Faul Tierney flied out to Tom Grady, who came in fast to short right field to make the putout and throw quickly to George Tebbetts to hold the three men on base.

Eldredge gave Sline a walk forcing in the first Crusader run. Bill Kelly's single to left accounted for the remaining two runs for the visitors in this inning.

Not to be outdone by the Purple, the Black and White players made more than double the Holy Cross total in their half of the second. With one out Reilly grounded to Tierney at short and was safe on the Crusader shortstop's high throw. Sline then walked Corbett, Grady and Eldredge to force Reilly in with the first Friar run. The initial tallies of both teams were forced in.

Johnny Madden doubled to score Corbett and Grady, and Omer Landry lined a triple to the left field fence to send in Eldredge and Madden. Marion drew a pass and he and Landry crossed the plate on Ed Koslowski's single to right.

Ed Britt's home run which rolled under the centre field fence gave the visitors another tally in the third inning. In the fifth the Crusaders annexed two runs on a walk, a double and an error. Their final score came in the following frame when Kelly tripled and scored on Corbett's error in handling Canty's

Providence scored three runs in the third frame to stay out in front. Corbett grounded out, but Grady drew a base on balls. Eldredge was safe on a fielder's choice and Grady reached second when Moriarty, with an easy force-out in sight, tossed the ball over Tier-ney's head into short left field. Grady went to third and Eldredge advanced to second on the misplay. Madden tripled to deep left to send Grady and Eldredge home, and scored on Marion's single.

In the seventh, two singles and a walk gave the Friars another run, and they brought their total to 13 in the eighth by two singles, a walk and an error. Thirby two singles, a wark and an error. Impleen has been a jinx to both teams, Providence losing its first game with Holy Cross 13-10, and winning yesterday's encounter 13-7.

Back of Bat for P.C.

Boston College takes on the Friars at Hendricken Field tomorrow. The Friars are keen to avenge an earlier season setback and the resultant play is bound to be fast. George Tebbetts, above, will do the catching for the Providence forces.

FRIARS PIN FAITH IN BURDGE IN TILT WITH EAGLES TODAY

B. C. Game to End Season for Providence College

The final game of the 1934 Providence College baseball schedule will be played on Hendricken field this afternoon when Boston College clashes with the Friars for the third time this year. Coach Jack Flynn has selected Charlie Burdge to twirl for the Smith Hillers while Coach Frank McCrehan will send Ted Galligan to the mound for the Eagles.

Boston College is practically assured of the mythical Eastern collegiate diamond crown for this year. The Eagles have a very busy week-end carded for they played New Hampshire yesterday, and will meet Holy Cross tomorrow in the second contest of their series.

Providence College hopes to erase some of the disappointing results of this season. The Friars have nothing to lose and much to gain in meeting the Eagles for the third time. Boston holds two decisions over the Black and White and is concentrating on its game with Holy Closs tomorrow.

Cross tomorrow.

In view of the close score of the last contest between the two teams, a third emeeting was arranged. Due to the crowded Eagle schedule, Sunday was the only date available.

One of the interesting angles of today's encounter is that concerning Charlie Burdge, who has not been defeated in college baseball since he began to twirl for the Friars last year. Burdge has won four games this year and has been used in a relief role with effectiveness.

More than a half dozen Friars will be appearing for the last time today in Providence College uniforms. The combination of Capt. Walter Corbett, second base, and Eddie Reilly, shortstop, which has nipped many a threat, will leave the team this coming week. Big Eddie Koslowski in left field, George Tebbetts and Ollie Robergs, who have been a pair of aces behind the plate, and the three mainstays of the Friar twirling squad. Al Blanche, Charles Burdge and Charles Rennick, all receive their sheepskins at graduation exercises next week.

FRIARS TROUNCE EAGLES

Dominicans Win 16-1 in Six Innings to Close Season

Burdge Finishes College Mound
Career Undefeated; Rain
Shortens Game.

Big Charlie Burdge remained undefeated in college baseball as the Providence College baseball team trounced Boston College 16-T in six innings at Hendricken field yesterday afternoon. Rain halted the game with one Boston College man out in the seventh inning.

The victory closed the Friars' 1934 season on the diamond and was a fitting finale for the Dominicans, who showed a return to their early-season winning form in their last three encounters.

Burdge allowed the visitors only three hits which were scattered over three innings. It was Big Charlie's ninth straight victory in two years and a great consolation to the Friars, who lost to Nation in their first two games.

Boston in their first two games.
Coach Frank McCrehan of Boston College started Ted Galligan and the Friars made eight hits from the stocky Eagle twirler before he was relieved in the fifth inning. Bill Callahan followed Galligan to the mound and pitched for one inning, allowing five hits and walking one player. Bill McGroarty was the third Eagle pitcher, replacing Callahan in the sixth and being nicked for two hits.

The first three Friars to face Galligan made singles and loose play in the Boston infield allowed the home club to place two more men on and make four runs. In the second frame Providence sent seven men to bat and they accounted for three more runs.

During the third and fourth the

During the third and fourth the Friars were held scoreless but came back in the fifth to make six runs, and in the sixth added three to bring their total to 16:

Boston College scored its lone 'un in the fifth when Jerry Pagluccia, Eagle left fielder, singled to centre. He went around to third on an error and a steal and then crossed the plate on Tim (Ready's sacrifice.

Only four of the 20 players who reached first base for the Friars were left stranded as the Dominicans continued to show the power at bat which reappeared in the Yale game and gave the Friars a win over Holy Cross on Saturday.

Eight men batted for the Friars in the first inning. Johnny Madden, Omer Landry and Leo Marion collected singles off Galligan, the first two players scoring on Marion's bingle through Kittredge at first

With Marion on first base, Ed Koslowski hit a grounder to Johnny Freitas. A double play was possible and Freitas tossed the ball to O'Flaherty, Eagle shortstop, who came in too fast and did not touch second, making Marion safe. O'Flaherty's throw to Kittredge at first was late and Koslowski also was safe.

Ted Galligan gave the Friars their next run when he took Roberge's easy grounder, and in attempting to get Koslowski at second on a force-out, threw the ball over O'Maherty's head into centre field. Marion scored on the miscue and Koslowski went to third and Roberge advanced to second, This ended the P. C. scoring in the first.

In the second frame a triple by Charlie Burdge to the centre field fence, singles by Landry and Roberge and two passes accounted for three Providence runs.

Charlie Burdge gave one of the best twirling exhibitions of his career. He allowed the visitors three singles, one in the second, one in the fourth and one in the fifth. In the sixth he tightened up and struck out the three men to face him, pitching nine strikes and three balls. With three balls on Kittredge, Big Charlie showed his control by striking out the Eagles' captain with three more pitched balls.

Omer Landry had a chance to show his speed on the base paths again yesterday when he hit a single to right field and raced to third on Bob Curran's error. He contributed a home run to the Friar score, a feat duplicated by Dick Burns.

Coach Jack Flynn started to send in his subs after the sixth inning but rain cut the game short.

Capt. Walter Corbett made several nice stops during the game; his stop on Ready's grounder in the third being spectacular. Eddie Reilly made a great stop of Concannon's hot grounder in the fourth for a force-out on Boehner at second.

Corbett smashed a single to the right field fence in the fifth to send Koslowski and Burns home. It was his only hit of the game but came at a very opportune time.

The three B. C. pitchers were nicked for singles on the first ball they pitched which shook up thier confidence considerably.

The Friars had 31 men at bat in six innings, and, if the game had continued, might have made some sort of a record. Their total of 16 was the largest number of runs they have made in a game this year.

LIONS AND HUSKIES CAPTURE CROWNS

Columbia Takes League Title;

Northeastern Has Best

Record in East.

Having completed their schedules two weeks ago, the Columbia and Northeastern teams watched from the sidelines as their foes eliminated each other and when the final returns had been tabulated they found the two championships of the eastern college baseball season belonging to them.

The Lions retired from competition with a record of eight victories and four defeats in the Eastern Intercollegiate Baseball League. At that time four teams with their schedules still incompleted had chances of either tying or beating out Columbia for the title but no one of them was able to win with consistency.

Dartmouth and Cornell remained in the battle for the crown until the past week but the Indians slumped badly, losing to both Harvard and Cornell while Cornell saw its title hopes wrecked by Pennsylvania on Friday when the Quakers scored an 8 to 5 upset.

In the mythical championship race, Northeastern completed its schedule with a record of 12 victories and two defeats. The Huskies were not so high on the list at that time but since then the two leaders, Boston College and Holy Cross, began to drop games and the Huskies gradually climbed in the standing and finally gained ton place.

and finally gained top place.

The Eagles, who led most of the way, had a fine opportunity to beat out the Huskies during the past week but they lost games to Holy Cross and Tufts to become eliminated. The two defeats that the Crusaders handed the Eagles were costly to the latter.

The Huskies's schedule may not have been as difficult as that of other teams but none of the nine which had heavier schedules came near equalling Northeastern's record and the title cannot very well be taken from the Huskies.

Northeastern had an .857 percentage against Colgate's .789. Fordham's .769, and Boston College's .750. The last three named played more games and stronger foes than Northeastern, but the latter had too far an edge in the percentage column to be devived of the crown.

Three teams, Lafayette, Muhlenberg and Union, tied for second place with percentages of .800. Next come Colgate, Fordham, Tufts, Boston College and Holy Cross in the order named.

Holy Cross and Boston College still have one more game to play in their series and the winner will better its standing.

Providence College closed its season with 13 victories and five defeats for a .722 percentage, R. I. State won nine and lost five for .643, and Brown captured 11 out of 19 for .579.

Other leading teams were Dickinson, Dartmouth, Temple and Brooklyn.

Columbia won the league championship last year and gains a second leg on the Sidney Emlen Hutchinson Cup, which must be won five times for permanent possession. The only league cames remaining are the two between ale and Harvard in their annual series.

Picking All-America teams being a good old fashioned custom, it was inevitable that baseball would soon come in for its share of annual attention along these lines.

Jack Barry, Holy Cross coach, today announces his selections, the forerunner of perhaps a flood of them which will come in from all centers of the country.

MULLIGAN BEST PITCHER

Providence College, which knocked off both Boston College and Holy Cross over a single weekend, is duly honored with three positions, Marrion, first base; Koslowski, left field; and Tebbetts, catcher.

The Purple coach refrained from nominating any of his own players, but he comes right out with the claim that Joe Mulligan, recently signed with the Red Sox, was far and away the outstanding hurler of the season.

He further goes on to state that Ed Moriarty, his second baseman, and Joe Cusick, his sophomore catcher, would make any such All-American college team hands down. own. Forgetting about Mulligan, he names George Parker and Ed Loughlin, rival captains of Har-vard and Yale, as the finest pitchers of the year, evidently putting them ahead of Dartmouth's great hurler, Bob Miller, who is headed for a big league career with the Yanke s.

RECOMMENDED KELLETT

Barry was particularly impressed with Don Kellett of Penn and puts him in as shortstop. Barry claims the Penn star had

"best arm in college balseball" the "best arm in college balseball" and recommended him to Eddie Collins of the Red Sox, who, after making a personal trip to Penn to witness him in action, outbid several other big league clubs who were in the market for him.

COLLEGE BALL IS DEPLORABLE

Students Take Things Too Easy, Says Cochrane

College baseball is in a deplorable state," according to Gordon "Mickey" Cochrane, manager of the Detroit Tigers, in an interview published in the Boston University News yesterday. Cochrane, an all-round athlete in the intown institution, is the Terriers' most prominent sports alumnus.

"There is not nearly enough interest in collegiate baseball," Cochrane declared. "Some sort of a league should be formed to maintain interest. The Eastern Intercollegiate Baseball league is one of the few of its kind in the country. There ought to be more like it. "All undergraduates should take more advantage of their opportunities to develop their physical and mental faculties. Somehow kids these days are too soft both mentally and physically. too soft both mentally and physically. They take the line of least resistance, toughening their bodies by carrying co-eds' books and developing their minds by taking snap courses."

Cochrane was enthusiastic about the new Terrier deal which brought L. B.
"Pat" Hanley to B. U. as head football coach for next yea" this is the first time in five years that "the situation has been handled correctly," Cochrane said that he felt that the Terriers were on the verge of a new era in football.

Providence College Baseball Lettermen Elect Co-captains for 1935 Team.

John Madden of Pittsfield, Mass., and Leo Marion of Putnam, Conn., were elected co-captains of the 1935 Providence College baseball team at a meeting of the lettermen after yesterday's victory over Boston College. Both men are Juniors and have been active in Friar baseball for three years competing on the Friar Junior 'Varsity nine in 1932.

Madden broke into the first-string lineup in his Sophomore year and has been a very capable third baseman. As lead-off man for the Friars he has been among the leaders in hitting. He prepared for college at Pittsfield high where he played in three sports. At Providence College he was a member of the 1931 Freshman basketball team and has played two years for the 'Varsity baseball nine.

Marion attended Putnam high and St. John's Prep with baseball as his specialty. At St. John's he played first base and on coming to Providence held that post for the Jayvee nine. He played centre field for the Friars last year and was the star of the game with Holy Cross. During the past season he has played first base and has continued to hit well for the Smith Hillers.

FRIARS ARE LOSING NINE BALL PLAYERS

George Tebbetts, Providence College catcher, has played his last baseball game for the Friars, now that he is signed with the Detroit Tigers definitely. Tebbetts has been under consideration in the minds of the Tiger scouts ever since his days at Nashua High where he showed great promise as a backstop for the New Hampshire team.

Tebbetts alternated with Ollie Roberge in his first year at Providence, but this year has been his first chance to show his real ability. During the major part of the 1933 season, Tebbetts was out of action because of an appendicitis operation.

Nine men are leaving the Friars this year, causing several gaps in all departments. The list includes three pitchers, two catchers. two infielders and two outfielders. Only one or two of the players expect to continue actively in sport, although all would welcome an opportunity in league baseball.

Eddie Koslowski may obtain a coaching post with a Connecticut high school and hopes to teach as well. Charlie Burdge may be snapped un by one of the bigger teams and Al Blanche is a prospect for league pitching.

Ollie Roberge, who has alternated with Tebbetts behind the plate, has no definite plans, but a teacher-coach post may call him after graduation this week. Charlie Rennick, Capt. Walter Corbett, Eddie Reilly and Tom Grady have prospects in view in their home towns, but have made no definite plans as to their activities on the sport field after receiving their diplomas.

After the victory over Holy Cross yesterday. Coach Jack Flynn was enthusiastic over the work of his players and remarked that the nine who were leaving the squad this year were all players of great ability. He expects to hear from several of them in his old stamping grounds, the big leagues, and set his seal of approval on all of them.

GEORGE R. TEBBETTS.

Tebbetts, Friar Catcher, Will Join Detroit Tigers

BY EDWARD S. DOHERTY, JR. George Tebbets, classy first-string catcher of the Providence College baseball team and one of the leading hitters during the past season, will join the Detroit Tigers in New York on June 16, it was learned last night, Tebbets, regarded as one of the outstanding receivers in collegiate circles, is regarded by Manager Mickey Cochrane of the Detroit team as a sweet prospect and it is possible that he may be carried along as third-string backstop.

The Tigers now have only two catchers, Manager Cochrane and Ray Hayworth, and it appears probable that the Friar athlete may get plenty of opportunity to learn the tricks of big league catching from these two stars. Cochrane, it is said, has decided to give up title to Gene Desautels, former Holy Cross receiver, who was on the Tiger rolls for some time and is now with Toledo of the American Association League, and Reiber, another youngster, who has been let out to Toronto.

With the Tigers Tebbetts will have the benefit of instruction from Cy Perkins, former catcher of Athletics and now Cochrane's "right eye." The chance to work under Perkins influenced Tebbetts to accept the Detroit offer and turn down chances with both Boston clubs, the New York Yankees and the Chicago White Sox Tebbetts is a product of the Nashua High School of Nashua, N. H., and was picked as all New England catcher in his last year at that school. One of his earliest instructors was Clyde Sukeforth, now with the Brooklyn Dodgers. Sukeforth was so much interested in the youngster that he sent him mitts when Tebbetts was in high school.

Although arriving here with a brilliant reputation, this is really the first year that Tebbetts has had a chance to prowe his worth. In his first year at Providence College, he alternated with Roberge and, did excellent work. An appendicitis operation kept him out of competition all his second year while a sprained ankle put him on crutches for the greater part of last season. This year, however, he managed to dodge the injury jinx and scouts from several big league teams have attended most of the Friar games to watch him in action.

Ollie Roberge of P. C. Ball Team Will Report to Yanks Saturday

Crack Catcher Has Been All-Around Star With Friers

Oliver Roberge, brilliant Providence College catcher who shared the backstopping work for the Friars the past four seasons with George Tebbetts, will take a fling at major league baseball with the New York Yankees, the News-Tribune learned today. Roberge was graduated from the local college this morning, and will report for service at the Yankee Stadium on either Saturday or Sunday.

Saturday or Sunday.

By a strange coincidence Roberge and Tebbetts, team mates for four years, and guardians of the Providence College catching berth together during that time, will make their major league tryouts at the same field, as Tebbetts reports to Detroit, Saturday, at the Yankee stadium. As a result the two boys will catch the batting practice for their respective teams on Sunday, and after several days of such work will probably be farmed to minor league teams in order that they may gain the experience needed to hold a first string position in the "big show."

ROBERGE ALL-AROUND ATHLETE

Roberge is one of the greatest all-around athletes ever developed in this State, and he certainly ranks as one of the all-time performers for the Providence College teams. He graduates today with a record of ten varsity athletic letters to his credit, including four for his work in baseball. He also starred as end on the varsity football team and as a sub center and guard in basketball.

Standing six two and weighing two hundred pounds, Roberge has attracted the attention of several major league scouts who have been very much impressed by his work behind the plate for the Friars. Although not as flashy as his classmate, Tebbetts, yet Roberge combines a strong hitting ability, a dependable arm, and steady work behind the plate to make him a real promising candidate for major league service someday.

Roberge is a native of Bristol, Connecticut. He received his preparatory schooling at Mt. St. Charles Academy in Woonsocket, and incidentally was the first student enrolled at that school. He starred in all sports, winning all-scholastic and all-State recognition in football, basketball and baseball. He was twice ranked as the best schoolboy receiver in the State, and was a great catching rival of Dona Maynard, now, with the Hazelton team of the Penn State league.

Providence NEWS-TRIBUNE

Entering Providence College in 1930 Roberge served as a sub end in football that fall, and won numerals for his work in the winter with the freshman basketball team. He alternated with Tebbets in the catching work that spring when the Friars won the eastern college title. The following season, with Tebbetts out of action due to an appendix operation, Roberge handled all the catching work and once again was one of the main cogs in leading the Friars to their second straight collegiate diamond championship.

Roberge is probably one of the finest hitters that Jack Flynn has ever had on his roster, and his four years of batting has averaged far over the .300 mark. His freshman year he hit for .380, his second year for .330, his junior year for .600, and this spring he compiled an average of .429. His average for the four years is .435.

Reports are current that the step taken by Tebbetts and Roberge in trying their luck with major league clubs, will be soon followed by several other of the Friar stars. Al Blanche, veteran pitcher, and Charlie Burdge, giant Warren hurler, who finished his collegiate campaigning undefeated, are reported in line for tests within the next week.

Tebbetts and Roberge Work With Majors

Former Friar Catchers Look Good in Practice Workouts

(Special to The News-Tribune)

New York, N. Y., June 18.—When 55,000 baseball fans sat in on the Yankees-Detroit double bill here yesterday afternoon very few realized that one of the most interesting rookie dramas of the year was being enacted during the batting practice of the two league leaders, for George Tebbetts and Ollie Roberge, star Providence College catchers for four years and ranked as among the best in college competition, worked in this in college competition, worked in this drill for the two teams.

On Saturday Tebbetts reported to the Detroit Tigers and was immediately issued equipment and given the task of handling the batting catching and was later assigned to bull pen service yesterday. Roberge, 197 pound classmate of Tebbetts and his competitor for the catching work at the young Dominican college in Rhode Island, was issued a uniform by the Yankees and handled their batting catching.

Both boys, though somewhat nervous in making their major league debut, such as it was, before the largest New York crowd of the season, and with the two teams battling for the lead, were nevertheless impressive in their work behind the plate. Both drew commendation from their respective coaches for their effective handling of the pitchers and so satisfied were the two management that both the youngsters were sent to the bull pen to handle the work of warming up relief hurlers.

In this latter capacity Roberge drew Russ Van Atta former Penn State

In this latter capacity Roberge diew Russ Van Atta, former Penn State ace and Tebbetts handled the slants of Hogsett, Tiger's star relief hurler. Tebbetts also was given the task of getting Sorrell ready for the second game, which the Tigers won by a 5 to 2 count.

After the game Cy Perkins, one of the best of the old timers, commented on the fine way in which young Tebbetts received and expressed the opinion that the former Friar star would be held for the work. Tebbetts is listed to remain with the club and will travel with them to Washington on Tuesday, thence to Cleveland and

Detroit.

Roberge, who impressed Manager Joe McCarthy by his size and general bearing behind the plate, was taken aside by Bill Dickey, veteran Yankees catcher, after the batting drill and subjected to a brief lesson in some of the finer points of major league play. Prior to the start of the first game the former Friar all-round athlete took his turn at the plate for the infield drill, relieving Dickey, and showed a strong throwing arm.

Friar Frosh Nine Books 14 Contests

Squad Will Report to Coach Jack Flynn This Week

The Providence College Freshman baseball team will have to show some real class this spring if it wants to equal the great records set up by Friar yearling outfits in football and basketball this year.

Graduate Manager of Athletics John E. Farrell has announced a 14-game schedule for the frosh, including games with some of the best college freshman and prep school teams in this vicinity. It's a far more difficult list than the Friar Freshman slate of last spring.

The freshman baseball squad will report this week for pre-season instructions and as soon as the weather permits the men will report out doors with the varsity aspirants when Jack Flynn sounds the starting call. The freshmen will be under the watchful eye of Flynn and will compete daily with the varsity in order to benefit by competition against a well-trained team.

Little is known of the freshman material, although it is reported that there are many fine former scholastic ball tossers in the Friar first year group. Among the outstanding local products who will report for the team are Hank Soar, first baseman for Pawtucket high last year; Joe Lefebvre, former La Salle all-round performer, and Jack Hammond, Durfee high hurler.

FRIAR FRESHMEN OPEN WITH VICTORY

"Lefty" Collins Stars as Yearlings Beat Assumption College by 4 to 0.

Fred "Lefty" Collins began his baseball career at Providence College auspiciously yesterday afternoon when he held Assumption College to one hit in the eight innings he pitched as the Friar yearlings defeated the Worcesterites 4-0 at Hendricken Field. The Dominican Freshmen, who have made promising starts in football and basketball during the past seasons, opened their diamond schedule with a well-played game.

Collins easily baffled the visitors with his southpaw offerings. He struck out the first two men to face him and had a pair of strikeouts in the second frame. His big inning was the fifth in which he turned away the three men to come to bat. At bat he was also effective getting a single to left field.

In the first frame the Freshmen were off to a commanding start. Bleiden drew a base on balls and scored on Tom Hazell's double into deep centre. With two out, Hank Soar singled and Charlie Gallagher doubled to score Hazell from third. Assumption had difficulty in solving Collins's delivery and were not sure of themselves at bat at any time during the game.

Providence added a run in the fourth inning when Gus Hagstrom came in after a sacrifice hit by Franny Fitzpatrick to the centre field fence. Hagstrom was too fast for the Assumption first baseman who came in to cover home and made a desperate effort to put the Freshman backstop out.

The final Friar run came in the sixth frame. Charlie Gallagher tripled and scored after a fly-out to Frechette, Assumption right fielder. Promise that power is present in their bats was given by the Freshmen as they made 11 hits off Rheault, but their best game was played defensively. The lone error of the game came when Hagstrom dropped the ball on the third strike, allowing Tremblay to reach first.

Charles Gallagher had the best day at bat, making three hits in three trips to the plate, one of them a triple. Assumption's only hit was made by Durand. reserve catcher, who hit a hard drive over first just inside the foul line out of Soar's reach. Hazell with three assists turned in a fine performance for the Friars while Rheault and Normand were strong on assists for the visitors. Assumption turned in two double plays.

(Special to the Providence Journal)

Danvers, Mass., April 25.—A four-run rally in the fourth inning enabled the St. John's Prep baseball team to defeat the Providence College freshman nine 6 to 1 here today. This was the first setback of the season for the Dominicane.

Until the fourth canto, Marshall Brooks, starting Friar pitcher, hurled effective ball. He was replaced by Hammond, who held the opposition to two runs during the remainder of the contest. The visitors could score but one run although they or set the St. John's players 7 to 5.

Four doubles were made during the game by Sheeran, Feeley of St. John's and Gallagher and Smith of P. C.

Holy Cross Yearlings.

Two home runs by Joe Conway, former Holyoke High star, one in the first and one in the eighth inning, gave the Holy Gross Freshmen a 6-2 victory over the Providence College Freshmen on Hengaricken Field yesterday afternoon.

Conway accounted for five runs with his circuit clouts. Walsh and Kelley were on first after two passes when Conway cleared the bases the first time, and Walsh was on base the second time the Holyoke player made a homer.

Fred "Letty" Collins pitched effectively and fanned 13 players, but the batting attack of the Friar yearlings never got started, and they could do nothing with Jarlette's slants. Jarlette, winning pitches to struck out seven men. Holy Cross sored in the second inning

C. tally in the fifth.

This was the second victory in four starts for the Dominicans.

Lefebvre started the sixth inning for the Dominicans by reaching first on an error. He was sacrificed to second by Francis Fitzpatrick. Lekakos walked, Sherry struck out and then Banahan came through with his timely single, scoring Lefebvre.

Banahan paved the way for the first P. C. score in the fifth by hitting a single. Tom Hazell followed with another one-base hit and the bases were filled when Gallagher was walked. Banahan then scored on Curnane's fielder's choice.

The Eagles scored their lone tally in the fifth on three singles by Connolly, Fallon and Drill. They came near tying the score in the ninth when Connolly drew a base on balls, stole second, but the next three batters could not produce a hit.

FRIAR FRESHMEN LOSE TO DEAN 5-3

(Special to the Providence Journal.)
Franklin, Mass., May 5.—By bunching six hits in a big seventh inning to score four runs, the Dean Academy baseball team was able to take a closely fought game from an aggressive Providence Freshman nine by the score of 5-3, here today.

Horsfall hit a triple, driving in one man, and then Horne, the Dean pitcher, swept the full bases with another long one, taking him to the hot corner. Horne, not being satisfied with practically winning his own game with that clout, went on to strike out five men.

FRIAR FRESHM TRIUMPH 3 TO 1

Hammond Allows Brown Yearlings but Four Hits as Team Triumphs.

Tom Hammond, Providence College Freshman hurler, pitched his team to a 3-1 victory over the Brown University Freshmen at Aldrich Field yesterday afternoon. The game, which developed into a pitchers' duel, was closely contested with Hammond allowing only four hits while his opponent, Bob Dye, former East Providence high school luminary, allowed eight.

The winning tally, which was scored in the eighth frame, was the result of a free pass given to Joe Lefebvre, Friar's centre fielder. Lefebvre went to second and third on outs by Fitzpatrick and Lakakos and came home on Hammond's liner to left field.

Both teams scored their first runs in the third inning. The Providence College run came when Pierre Lakakos, Dominican catcher, made first on a field-er's choice and then romped home on Doc Bleiden's triple to deep right field. Bob Dye registered the first Cubs' run when he was given a gase on balls, went to second on Bleiden's high throw to first base and scored when Paul Clements was thrown out at first after sending a grounder to Charlie Gallagher.

Both pitchers had a good day with Hammond striking out 13, Dye 10. Sharp fielding on the part of each team kept the score from being higher.

(Special to the Providence Journal)

New Haven, Conn., May 10.-Halting a ninth inning rally with the bases loaded with a fast double play, Gallagher to Soar, the Providence College Fresh-men defeated the Yale Freshman nine 6 to 4 here this afternoon. Brooks twirled eight innings for the visitors, giving way to Sherry in the ninth, while the losers called on three twirlers in an effort to stop the Friars.

Blake and Rennell hit triples for Yale, the latter's drive scoring two runs. Brooks struck out 11 men and yielded five hits.

Marshall Brooks Fans Eleven As Friar Frosh Nose Yale

Former Commercial High! Hurler Lets Down in Eighth-Banahan, Horton Feature

By J. M. GOLDSMITH Yale's freshman baseball team received a 6-5 setback at the hands of a high-class Providence frosh nine on the freshman diamond at Yale Field process, local lad, pitching for the Friars, set down 11 via the strikeout route before retiring in the eighth.

Leading 6-1, going into the last half of the eighth, the serious-minded Friars, a fine ball club, that also possessed Eddie "Flash" Banahan at shortstop, another local boy, suddenly found the light-hearted Ell cubs, who, obviously, take after their varsity brothers in playing for fun, hop on their star twirler to nearly tie up and take the game.

In fact, the Yale yearlings garnered three runs in the eighth and another in the ninth, finishing the game with the bases loaded, one out and score 6-5, and Ted Horton, regular Eli shortstop, now in the box, stepped up and hit into a double play. Horton, incidentally, together with Klimczak, a Hillhouse product, had gone in to pitch in the last two frames to face but a minimum of six men while former two imum of six men while fanning two and giving no hits, much to the glee of his mates.

Providence scored its runs, one by one, in five innings. On an error by Carhart in right field, misjudged a high fly, Belleveau scored from first after getting on through a single. The Elis came right back with their one run to tie the score in the first. Capain Dexter Blake, as snappy a second baseman as will ever come to Yale, and according to Coach Clyde Engle, who couldn't hit the rear end of a bull with a bass fiddle when he came here, smashed a mighty triple into left field with one out, galloping home a moment later on Kelley's single. Those were Yale's only hits until the eight inning, With the Frier frosh piling up runs in the second, fifth, sixth and seventh on two Eli pitches, and just when it looked as though Brooks, a Commercial grad, was going to give the home folks a real treat with a two-hit game, the Bulldogs opened up.

This time again it was the flashy Blake who started things, singling over second. Carhart did the same thing to put me non first and second with none out, but the complexion of things changed when Kelley flied out to the second baseman and Horton fanned. Paul Rennell, however, substitute for Buddie Miles in left field, was coming up, and the husky grid star, clouted a heautiful triple to deep center, scor-ing Blake and Carhart. With Jordan at bat at bat, the Frier first baseman dropped one and in came Rennell with the third run to make it 6-4. Klimczak Sloglarun to make it 6-4. singled next to brighten things for the Elis, but Brooks rallied and fanned

The last of the ninth provided what might have been a Merriwell act. With Sherry in the box, replacing Brooks, who really had turned in a fine piece of work, the new Friar walked Blake, send Blake to second. Kelley walked, Carhart singled next for the Elis to filling the bases with but one out. Horton ton, an improvised pitcher, with a chance to win his own ball game, stepped up and hit a ground ball to the third baseman, Gallagher.

The latter stepped on third to retire Carhart, white Blake galloped home with the fifth run. Gallagher, however, whipped the ball to first to retire Horton in a double play and ended a fine game,

Fast Double Play in Ninth Kills Rally After Elis Score Three in Eighth On Singles, Rennell's Triple

After rallying to score three runs in the eighth inning, the Freshman Baseball Team saw the Providence College yearlings whip off a fast double play in the last inning with the bases full to cut short the Elis' scoring and give the game to the visitors, 6-4, on Freshman Field yesterday.

The 1937 nine opened the scoring in the very first inning on Blake's triple and Kelley's scratch single, but from then on they were held hitless by Marshall Brooks until he weakened in the eighth.

Freshman Errors Frequent

Errors by Loomis and Carhart gave the Friars a tally in the first and another in the second. Their first earned run came in the fifth when Loomis walked Gallagher and Soar and Angelica singled, a fly to the outfield bringing in the second and last Providence run of the inning.

McNeely relieved Loomis in the sixth, after he had retired in the fifth in favor of a pinch hitter, Johnny Field, but another Yale error let a run score in the sixth, and in the next inning the fourth error by the Freshmen gave the visitors a chance to score their final run on a single and a sacrifice. Horton pitched the last two innings and did not allow a man to reach first base.

Elis Start Hitting Again

Blake started the eighth for the Blue with a sharp single to center, and Carhart followed with another clean hit. After Brooks had retired the next two batters, Paul Rennell drove the ball between left and center for a triple. A minute later he scored when the catcher dropped the third strike on Hubbard, allowing him to reach first safely. Although Klimczak followed with a single, the rally ended there with Brooks fanning Miles.

With one more chance to tie the score it almost looked as though the Freshmen would overtake their opponents, as Blake walked with one down in the ninth and Carhart followed him with a single. Kelley's walk filled the bases, but a lightning double play, Gallagher to Soar, ended the game with the home team still two runs behind.

FRIAR FRESHMEN BEAT BRUIN CUBS

Score 10-3 Victory After Staging Six-Run Barrage in Seventh Inning.

The Providence College Freshman nine walloped the Brown Freshmen for the second time this season when the Friar yearlings scored a decisive 10-3 victory yesterday afternoon at Hendricken field.

The Friars staged a six run rally in the seventh inning to clinch the verdict. The rally was started with a home run and was climaxed with a similar blow with the bases loaded. This one came off the bat of Pete Lakakos, Dominican catcher, who smashed out a long hit to deep left field sending in there runs ahead of him.

Providence College opened the scoring in the second frame when Waity Fitzpatrick drew a pass and was sent home by a hot grounder to shortstop off the bat of Fred Collins, Friars' clever southpaw hurler. In the third inning Brown evened up the score when Bill Burbank drew a base on balls and scored on Clements's bingle to the pitcher. Burbank made a mighty dash to the home plate just barely beating out the return to the plate.

The Friars took a two run lead in their half of the inning when they registered a pair of tailles after Charlie Gallagher and Ben Smith got on the bases, the former by a Texas Leaguer over the shortstop's head and the latter on a fielder's choice. Joe Curnane grounded out, third to first, while the two men on advanced and then scored when Catcher Hogan let a pitch get past him.

Bob Dye, the Bruin twirler, got into difficulties from then on and allowed another run to cross the plate in the next session. Wallie Fitzpatrick got on first when he hit an easy grounder to Dye which he threw over the first baseman's head. A single by Lekakos sent Fitzpatrick to third and he scored on Bleiden's fly to center field.

A stinging double in the sixth inning by Fitzpatrick did nothing to settle the Bruin hurler and in the next inning he completely blew up when the Friars went on their scoring spree. With two out Dye was sent to the showers in favor of Rube Kurlanski who did not allow a single hit nor a run in the two and one-third innings that he was on the mound

In their last time at bat the Brown Cubs started to fathom deliveries of the Fiars southpaw and bunched three hits to push over two more runs but before any more damage could be done the side was retired.

FRIAR YEARLINGS TRIUMPH 8 TO 4

Providence College Freshmen Rally in Eighth to Beat Boston College Nine.

A big eighth inning in which they scored five runs gave the Providence College Freshmen an 8-4 victory over the Boston College Freshmen on Hendricken field yesterday afternoon. The Eaglets tied the score in the seventh frame on four timely singles and a walk and in their half of the eighth Jim Jobin's dou-ble with Tim Moriss on base sent the B. C. yearlings one run ahead.

The young Friars attacked Bob Cash's offerings in the first inning to take a two-run lead. Milt Bleiden drove a single over second base and came in on Ed Banahan's triple to the centre field fence. Banahan scampered home after a long fly by Ben Smith to Jack Burgess in right field.

Neither team could score in the next three innings, which were played in a shower of rain. In the fifth the Friar yearlings again nicked Cash to score their third tally. With one out, Milt Bleiden drew a walk. Ed Banahan filed out, and then Charlie Gallagher collected his second hit of the day to score the Dominican shortstop.

The visitors' big inning was the seventh, when they put across three runs to tle the count. Tilly Ferdenzi, Jim Jobin and Jack Burgess each hit a single to fill the bases. Karl Sherry, P. C. twirler, then passed his second man of the game to give the visiting club its first run. Charlie Fallon's single scored Jobin and Burgess. A double play put Sherry in an easier position and the inning ended with no more scoring

On two hits in the eighth inning Boston made its fourth and final run of the game. Tim Moriss singled and after the next two men were put out, Jim Jobin stepped up and hit the visitors only extra-base hit of the day to send Moriss

With the count one run against them, the Friar Freshmen rallied and scored five runs in the eighth to take the victory. Singles by Charlie Gallagher, Hank Soar and Franny Fitzpatrick, together with a sacrifice by Ben Smith, a triple by Gus Hagstrom and two passes by Bob Cash, accounted for the runs. Twice the homesters had three men on and five of them scored. Gus Hagstrom collected the best hit of the game when he drove a curving liner into left field for a triple.

In the final frame Karl Sherry forced the visitors to fly out with the exception of Bob Cash, who made a single but was left stranded at first.

FITZPATRICK IS ENTERED IN P. C. TENNIS TOURNEY

Freshman Will Be Among Players Seeking Singles Title.

Francis Fitzpatrick, who is beginning his Freshman year at Providence Collegs, has entered the tennis singles tournament which the Dominican institution is sponsoring this fall. Fitzpatrick will be ineligible for 'Varsity competition in view of the three year rule which is now in effect in all branches of Dominican athletics, but when candidates for the Freshman team are called out in the spring he will be among those seeking a place.

Although a fall tourney is an innovation in Friar tennis, the large number of men who have expressed their intention of entering the contest indicates that it may be a permanent event in other years. 'Varsity Manager Milton Lacy hopes to have a list of first-round games ready today so that the tournament can get under way as quickly as possible.

FITZPATRICK WINS COLLEGE NET TITLE

Defeats Irving Anger 6-0, 6-1, 6-1 for Providence College Championship.

The fall tennis season at Providence College was officially closed yesterday when Francis Fitzpatrick swamped Irving Anger 6-0, 6-1, 6-1 to win the individual tennis championship of the college. Athletic authorities at the Dominican institution sponsored the tennis tournament to unearth likely talent for the spring tennis schedule. The tourney aroused much enthusiasm among the followers of the court game at the college and several close contests developed before the semi-finals were reached.

In winning the tournament Francis Fitzpatrick performed as was expected and waded through all opposition to take the college crown. An indication of his overwhelming superiority can be garnered from the scores of his matches. In the second round Fitzpatrick defeated Donat Savole 6-0. 6-1, in the third round he took Eugene Hebert into camp, 6-0. 6-1, and in the finals played on the Friar courts yesterday the former Classical High star conquered Irving Anger, 6-0, 6-1, 6-1.

Anger staged a strong comeback to enter the semi-finals after being behind a few games when he defeated Fred Gorman 7-5. 6-3. Gorman was a regular on the varsity net team last year while Anger competed on the yearling team. Anger showed improved form in reaching the semi-final round. Another former varsity player to reach the upper brackets was Eugene Hebert. He defeated his teammate on last season's varsity net team. Louis FitzGerald, to move up towards the last round.

The fall tournament was under the direction of Milton Lacy, varsity tennis manager for the 1933-34 season. Because of the enthusiastic response by students to call for contestants the tourney is expected to have a permanent place in Friar sport activities hereafter.

FRIARS TO HAVE THREE CO-CAPTAINS IN TENNIS

Providence College will have three cocaptains in tennis this year according to an announcement made by John E. Farrell, graduate manager of athletics, yesterday. The coveted honor went to three members of the Senior class at the Dominican college. Louis C. FitzGerald, '34, Pawtucket; Rene A. Barrette, '34, Fall River, and Frederick J. Gorman, '34, Providence, were the men appointed to the post.

This trio will form the nucleus of the 'Varsity tennis team; and all three are lettermen, Louis C. FitzGerald is a member of the Oak Hill Tennis Club of Pawtucket and has held the Narragansett Bay Junior doubles championship with Charles Swanson. Last year he and Rene Barrette were undefeated in six straight doubles matches in intercollegiate play numbering Brown, Connecticut State and Springfield among their victims.

FitzGerald and Barrette have played three years for the Friars while Gorman has been a regular for two seasons. In addition to the co-captaincy, FitzGerald also holds other positions at Providence College, including the editorship of the Tre-Up, daily news publication; the vice presidency of the Debating Union and the treasurership of the Senior class.

the treasurership of the Senior class.

Seven games will be played by the tennis team this spring and the players will enter the New England Intercollegiates at Boston on May 14-16. It will be the first time that a Friar tennis team has competed in the championships at Boston. Although the make-up of the team is not yet complete, Irving Anger, Freshman player of last year, is slated for a berth on the net team. As a member of the yearling team last year Anger was undefeated and is expected to work into the Varsity team along with two other players yet to be selected.

Danny Galasso, 1933 Friar Golf Captain, to Turn Pro

PLANS TO WORK WAY THROUGH LAW SCHOOL

New York Youth Has Starred for Three Years With Dominicans

BY MICHAEL J. THOMAS

With his mind definitely made up that he will follow a legal career, Danny Galasso of Portchester, N. Y., 1933 Providence College golf captain and rated as the best golfer to enter the Dominican school, plans to turn pro this summer to pay his way through Fordham Law School which he will enter next fall, Galasso is now completing his third year at the local college. He already has made arrangements to enter Fordham and will not return to Providence College to complete his course.

Galasso, who is 22 years is well equipped to become a golt sional. He has been connected with the game ever since he was 10 years off, aving started caddying at the Westclester-Biltmore Country Club at that age.

While a caddy, Galasso was under the wing of the late Alex Smith and carried the clubs of this famous golf instructor many times. Galasso used to watch Smith's swing closely and covied it as much as possible. Galasso also has caddied for many leading players including Tommy Armour and Gene Sarazen. At the time Galasso was a club-voter, Armour was still an amateur and belonged to Westchester-Biltmore.

Galasso's outstanding golf feat was to break Bobby Cruickshank's related the Purchase Country

Plains, N. Y. Danny in 68 and at the time as 17 and a sophomore at P. tches school where he played gol, or four years and captained the teamoin his senior year.

Galasso was on the first golf team to represent Providence College. That was in 1932. He was the most consistent winner that year, and during the three seasons that he has competed for the Friars, he has won the majority of his matches. Small of stature, Galasso does not hit a very long ball but he is accurate and plays an exceptionally steady short game.

He was elected captain of the Providence team in 1933 and has played a number of Rhode Island courses in the low 70s. He was going to compete in the national intercollegiate golf championship this year at Cleveland but has changed his plans.

WALDO E. MARTIN TO COACH PROVIDENCE COLLEGE GOLFERS

New Mentor Has Fine Record in Professional Ranks; Schedule Named

The appointment of Waldo E. Martin, local golf professional, to handle the Providence College golf team during the coming season was made known today by John E. Farrell, graduate manager of athletics at the Smith Hill college. The Friars have sponsored golf as a major sport for the past two years, and the addition of Martin as tutor for the linksmen is certain to bring that team to the fore.

Martin, a native of Cranston, is a product of the high school there, and of Rhode Island State College, and he is at present conducting an 'ndoor golf school in this city, and for the past month has served as advisory coach for the Friar golfers. He is a P. G. A. member of six years' standing, and has served as pro at the following clubs: Goliad Golf Club; Kennedy golf courses; at San Antonio, Texas; Beaver Tail Golf Club, Jamestown, R. I.; Fort Myers Golf Club, Florida, and at the Norfolk Country Club.

The new Friar mentor has been among the leaders in most of the money winter tournaments in the South, and he has coached four sectional champions to success in southern golf competitions. He defeated Walter Hagen in a four ball match at Fort Myers, and has served as instructor for such well-known athletes as Frank X. Shields, Johnny Cochrane, Jimmy Fox, Jimmie Dykes, Rube Walberg, and a host of others who sought his advice on golf while he was stationed in Florida,

Martin was a popular member of the Massassoit Golf Club here during his amateur days, and has always been a tireless worker in building up interest in his favorite sport. He has aided and instructed some of the ranking scholastic stars of this State, and some of the best linksmen in the eastern collegiate circles.

The Friar golfers will continue their indoor drills under the tutelage of Coach Martin until favorable weather permits the invasion of the local links. Two lettermen, Capt. Joe McLaughlin, one of the finest amateur performers in this State, and Dan Galasso, last year's leader, form the nucleus of the team. Others who have been working out daily are Bill Kutniewski, captain of the 'Varsity football and basketball teams for next year, player-manager John

MERIDEN RECORD, MONDAY

Along The Sport Trail

With HERBERT A. KUCHINSKE

The Senators and Glants are the favorites in the pennant marathons that get under way semi-unofficially today and officially tomorrow but the poor spring performances of the defending champions have led many critics to prefer the chances of the Yankees and Cardinals.

Neither the Senators or Giants have played impressively in the south, due to a combination of injuries, illness and varied pitching and hitting allments. On the other hand, the Yanks have burned up the Dixie diamonds and the Cardinals have shown alll-around class in sufficient quantities to make the sideliners wish they had written St. Louis instead of New York on their tickets.

Personally, I've already picked the Yanks and Giants and I'm going to string along with them no matter what happens. But I'm going to save a few cheers for the Braves and Red Sox, both battling to give Boston the first champion it has had in years.

In the mail-bag, and self-explanatory:— Dear Sir:—

An alumnus of Providence college has very kindly sent me a copy of your sport comment as printed in the Meriden Record on Wednesday morning, April 11, 1934.

I should like to correct the impression that you have about Providence college and which you have passed on to your readers, Providence is a strictly liberal arts college and is a member of the National Association of Recognized Colleges. The standards of scholarship compare with the best in New England, and athletic eligibility is of the strictest type.

I know that you have been misinformed and therefore I am sure you will appreciate and accept my word of correction, and that you will endeavor to correct the impression you unwittingly created when you stated that "Bill Oliver would head for Providence college, where the requirements are not so severe."

It is much harder to matriculate and to continue the courses of study at Providence than it is at many of our New England colleges, because we offer no subjects other than those standard for every liberal arts institution.

Very truly yours,

JOHN E. FARRELL,

Graduate Manager of Athletics,

Providence College.

Three Providence Players On Jack Barry's Star Team

Marrion, Koslowski and Tebbetts Chosen By Holy Cross Mentor; Parker of Yale and Loughlin of Harvard Are Mound Selections

Worcester, June 25-"Why don't they pick an All-American baseball team in the colleges?" asked a Holy Cross athletic great the other day. If they want a real tonic for the game it would do well for them to think in football terms," he added. That's why Tom McCabe, Holy Cross athletic head, who is writing this year, went right down to Jack Barry, coach of the Holy Cross baseball team, and had the old Athletics and Red Sox star, name the best team he saw in action this year. Jack, one of the real baseball masters, smart and a great judge of playing values, hesitated over the task, but realized the merit in it and here is the team he picked:-

Praises Moriarty

Recall Barry saw more of the best eastern college teams in action than any other coach. Recall that he limited his choices to men he actually saw in action and that, because of his position, did not name any of the boys he has coached at Holy Cross.

We asked Barry candidly whom he thought was the best college pitcher and without any hesitancy he named Joe Mulligan of Holy Cross. Jack also said that he felt Joe Cusick, the Holy Cross, sonhomers, eathering store. Holy Cross sophomore catching star, and Ed Moriarty who plays second base for Holy Cross would be on any All-American team were they not eliminated by the fact that they were ross men.

Barry says Moriarty is one of the finest hitters he ever has coached. He, Moriarty, is a wrist hitter, who can thump a curve ball as well as a fast one, and topping this Moriarty is the longest hitter in college ranks. has another year at Worcester.

Barry is very sweet on Don Kellett of Penn and it was on Barry's day so that Eddie Collins signed him for the Red Sox. "The best arm in college baseball" was the way Barry sized in the Penn Stan Metal of sized up the Penn star. Matal of Columbia is steady, a better than ordinary hitter, able to field and dangerous at the bat. He is league ma-

Friars Place Three

It might be noted that Providence college is honored with three places on the team. Marrion, a shifty first sacker and a natural hitter, Koslowski, a great ball hawk with an arm and speed, and Tebbetts, a swell throwing catcher who can shag those difficult foul balls that go into dugouts and stands.

It's odd that Barry has named both Yale and Harvard leaders for the pitching assignment. Parker was wonderful against Holy Cross and Joe Wood, his coach, says that when he is right he could win in a league contest. Joe ought to know. Barry says Parker has control, the chief asset, a good change of pace with a cross fire that brought results. He was smart and mixed up his offerings.

He names Loughlin of Harvard in the same breath, because the boy, though slight, has a wonderful heart. Eddie isn't a leaguer, says Jack, but he would be dangerous against. Babe Ruth because he never knows when to quit. "Against us he was six runs in the rear and our boys were knocking homers, but he pegged along until finally he whipped us in 12 fighting innings. He can pitch for me any innings.
