THE SEVENTY-SIXTH COMMENCEMENT

Providence Civic Center

MAY THE TWENTY-SECOND
NINETEEN HUNDRED AND NINETY-FOUR

THE NATIONAL ANTHEM

O say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched, were so gallantly streaming!
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there:
O say, does that star spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

ALMA MATER

From "Finlandia" by Jean Sibelius

Mother of Truth, we proudly pledge to thee
Undying love and steadfast loyalty.
From thee we learned the wondrous work of God,
His goodness, grace, and holy power;
Clear has thou shown what pathways must be trod;
All fearless now we brave life's hour!

Though failure frown, though kindly fortune smile,
Firm our advance, naught can us e'er beguile.
To honor bound, to love and virtue sworn,
Lift we our voice in full acclaim.
Our lives shall thee with noble deeds adorn;
Hail Providence! We praise thy name!

DAVID L. ANGELL

Doctor of Fine Arts

David L. Angell, creator and producer of the hit television series, "Wings" and "Frasier," and a former writer/story editor, executive story editor, producer, and supervising producer of the hit series, "Cheers," is a partner in Grub Street Productions, a television and film production company. A native of Providence, RI, he graduated from Providence College in 1969 with a bachelor of arts degree in English.

Angell received an Emmy Award in 1984 for writing "Cheers" and one in 1989 for producing the television series. He also won a People's Choice Award for his work on "Frasier." Angell received three Emmy nominations for producing "Cheers," a nomination from the Writers' Guild of America for writing "Cheers," and nominations for two Golden Globe awards for producing "Cheers" and "Frasier." He is a member of the Writers' Guild of America and the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences.

Angell is a Western States cochair of "Providence 2000," Providence College's seven-year, $75 million fund-raising campaign to double the college's current endowment, improve campus facilities, install new information technologies, and expand its chaplaincy, pastoral, and community outreach programs. He is helping to coordinate volunteer recruiting and solicit multiyear leadership gifts for the effort. He also serves as liaison to the entertainment community for benefits for the Hillside Home for Children.

SAMUEL J. CHESTER

Doctor of Medical Science

Samuel J. Chester of Cranston, RI is a cancer investigator who is leading promising research into the development of a clinical test for the detection of colon cancer in its early stages. A Providence, RI native, Chester graduated from Providence College in 1934 with a bachelor of science degree in pre-medicine.

When his father became ill during the Depression, however, Chester entered the wire manufacturing business as the sole support of his family. He later founded and owned the Standard Wire Company in Cranston, RI, and sold the business in 1968 at age 54.

Upon selling his business, Chester, who has no formal educational background in biomedical research and who is self-taught, entered the medical research field. He volunteered to do medical research at Rhode Island Hospital, where in later years, he took a leading part in directing preliminary cancer research in support of the development of a viable bone marrow transplant technology. This research culminated in the publication of three articles in the eminent journal, Cancer Research, with Chester as the senior author.

He later transferred to the laboratories of Roger Williams Medical Center, and is now based at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Providence, where he is leading the research into the development of a clinical test to detect colon cancer in its early stages. This research resulted in the publication of articles entitled "An Analysis of Immunocomplexes for the Detection of the Early Stages of Colon Cancer" in Cancer 65, 1990, and "A New Radioimmunoassay Detecting Early Stages of Colon Cancer; A Comparison with CEA, AFP, and Ca 19-9" in Disease Markers 9, 1991. Now over 80 years of age and still volunteering his services more than 40 hours per week, his colon cancer test is close to being introduced into the regimen of useful diagnostic assays.

Chester has been a member of the first violin section of the Rhode Island Philharmonic Orchestra for 25 years and is a member of the Chopin Club. He and his wife, Esther, a concert pianist, have sponsored numerous musical events for Jewish temples.

SISTER ELIZABETH HASSELT, O.P.

Doctor of Social Work

Sister Elizabeth Hasselt, O.P. of the Dominican Congregation of Our Lady of the Rosary in Sparkhill, NY, is executive director of Encore Community Services, a not-for-profit, nonsectarian agency which annually serves the needs of 14,900 elderly in the Times Square community of New York City.

Prior to being named to this position in 1977, Sister Hasselt served as a patient advocate for the Dominican Sisters Family Health Service from 1976-77, as a teacher in the Catholic high schools of New York and Long Island from 1966-76, and as a teacher in the Catholic elementary schools in New York City and Rockland County from 1962-66.

Her many community service activities include serving as chair of the board of the Thorpe Village Housing Development Company, as director and executive committee member of the Clinton Housing Association and Clinton Towers Housing Development, and as a member of the Manhattan Borough President's Advisory Council and the Manhattan Borough Interagency Council, of which she is a past cochair. She is a cochair of the Clinton Advisory Council on Aging and a member of the Coalition of Voluntary Mental Health Agencies, the National Association of Religious Women, and the Times Square Business Improvement District.

Her honors include receiving the Brooke Russell Astor Award from the New York Public Library in 1993 for her contributions to the quality of life in New York City, and a proclamation from the New York City Council honoring her work.

A certified social worker, Sister Hasselt received her bachelor of science degree cum laude in education from St. Thomas Aquinas College in 1965. She received her master of arts degree in history in 1969 from Manhattan College and her master of science degree in social work from Columbia University in 1986. She earned a certificate in not-for-profit management from Columbia's Graduate School of Business in 1992.

MARIAN L. HEARD
Doctor of Public Administration

Marian L. Heard has served as president and chief executive officer of United Way of Massachusetts Bay, Inc., a nonprofit organization dedicated to fund-raising and allocating resources for health and human service agencies, since February 1992. She served as president of United Way of Eastern Fairfield County, Bridgeport, CT from 1989-1992.

Mrs. Heard received her bachelor of arts degree in business and management from the University of Massachusetts at Amherst in 1976 and her master of education degree in community leadership and development from Springfield College in 1978. She also holds a certificate in leadership development from the University of Michigan.

Mrs. Heard is the director of the Better Opportunities Scholarship Foundation, Inc. of Boston, MA, an organization which grants scholarships to financially needy students to enable them to attend private secondary schools. She is a board member and co-president of One-to-One, a national organization which sets up mentoring programs for youths in urban areas. Mrs. Heard is a member of the Inner City Scholarship Fund based in Boston, MA, and has served as a trustee on the Board of Governors of the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute since 1993. Mrs. Heard was the keynote speaker for the Women's Day celebration of her church, the Columbus Avenue AME Zion Church.

While with the United Way of Eastern Fairfield County, she was recognized for her civic and charity work with the Girl Scouts' Community Leadership Award, the Big Sister's Woman of Achievement Award, and the Woman of the Year Award from the National Negro Business and Professional Club for Community Volunteer Service and Youth Development. In 1993 Mrs. Heard received the New England Council Award for Top Women in Business in New England, the Simmons College Award for Excellence in Management, and the Providence College Boston Alumni Club's Veritas Award for Community Service. Recently she was awarded the New England Women's Leadership Award in the human services category, and the 1994 Distinguished Citizen of the Year Award from the American Society for Public Administrators.

ABRAHAM J. MALHERBE
Doctor of Theology

Abraham J. Malherbe, noted authority in New Testament studies and Christian origins, Patristics, and Hellenistic Philosophy and Literature, is the Buckingham Professor of New Testament Criticism and Interpretation at Yale University Divinity School in New Haven, CT.

Dr. Malherbe served as associate dean for academic affairs at Yale Divinity School from 1987-89, as associate professor of New Testament at Yale University from 1970-78, and as professor of New Testament at Yale from 1978-81. He served as associate professor of religion at Dartmouth College from 1969-70, as visiting scholar at Harvard Divinity School from 1967-68, as assistant and associate professor of Bible at Abilene Christian University from 1963-69, and as minister, Church of Christ, Lexington, MA, from 1956-62.

A native of Pretoria, South Africa, he received his bachelor of arts degree magna cum laude from Abilene Christian University in 1954, his bachelor of sacred theology degree from Harvard Divinity School in 1957, and his doctorate in theology in New Testament studies from Harvard University in 1963. He was awarded an honorary doctor of laws degree from Pepperdine University in 1980, and an honorary doctor of humane letters degree from Center College in 1990. Dr. Malherbe has lectured throughout the world, including presentations at 14 South African universities and seminaries. He has written and/or edited nine books, including The Future of Christology: Essays in Honor of Leander E. Keck (Fortress Press, 1993, edited with Wayne Meeks), and Paul and the Popular Philosophers (Scholars Press, 1988).

Dr. Malherbe is the editor of Supplements to Novum Testamentum; editor of Pauline Literature for Religious Studies Review; cofounder of the journal, Restoration Quarterly; cofounder and associate editor of the Living Word Bible Commentary; cofounder of Mission magazine; and a member of the editorial boards of Bible Review and Novum Testamentum. David L. Balch, Everett Ferguson, and Wayne A. Meeks honored him with a publication they edited entitled Greeks, Romans, Christians: Essays in Honor of Abraham J. Malherbe (Fortress, 1990).

JOHN F. SMITH, JR.
Doctor of Business Administration

As chief executive officer and president of General Motors, the largest manufacturing corporation in the world, John F. Smith, Jr. is responsible for all GM operations worldwide. He was elected to this position in November 1992.

Smith, who had been president and chief operating officer of GM since April 6, 1992, is a member of GM's Board of Directors and chairman of its Finance Committee. He chairs GM's President's Council and GM's North American Operations (NAO) Strategy Board. He also serves on the boards of Electronic Data Systems (EDS) Corporation, GM Hughes Electronics (GMHE) Corporation, and Saturn Corporation.

From August 1990 to April 1992 Smith served as vice chairman of GM, with responsibility for international operations. He had served as executive vice president in charge of international operations since June 1988. Smith was appointed president and general manager of General Motors of Canada Limited in January 1984, and was elected a vice president of General Motors. In February 1986 he was named executive vice president of General Motors Europe-Passenger Cars in charge of operations and engineering, and was appointed president of General Motors Europe in April 1987.

A native of Worcester, MA, Smith received his bachelor of business administration degree from the University of Massachusetts in 1960, and a master of business administration degree from Boston University in 1965.

Smith is a member of the Business Roundtable's Policy Committee, the Business Council, the U.S.-Japan Business Council, and the American Society of Corporate Executives. He is a director of the Polish-American Enterprise Fund and cochairman of the Joint Automotive Supplier Governmental Action Council. A member of both the Chancellor's Executive Committee of the University of Massachusetts and the International Campaign Committee at Boston University, Smith was awarded honorary doctoral degrees from both institutions in 1993.

Smith is a member of the board of the Economic Club of Detroit and the American Automobile Manufacturers Association, as well as the Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center. He serves as a cochair of the Board of the Economic Alliance for Michigan and as a trustee of the United Way of Southeastern Michigan. He is also a member of the Beta Gamma Sigma's Directors' Table.
