THE NATIONAL ANTHEM

The Star-Spangled Banner
by Francis Scott Key
Led by Anastasia Krawiecki ’14

O say, can you see, by the dawn’s early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight’s last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight
O’er the ramparts we watched, were so gallantly streaming!
And the rockets’ red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there:
O say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O’er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

THE ALMA MATER

From Finlandia
by Jean Sibelius
Led by Elizabeth P. Randall ’14

Mother of Truth, we proudly pledge to thee
Undying love and steadfast loyalty.
From thee we learned the wondrous work of God,
His goodness, grace, and holy power;
Clear hast thou shown what pathways must be trod;
All fearless now we brave life’s hour!

Though failure frown, though kindly fortune smile,
Firm our advance; naught can us e’er beguile.
To honor bound, to love and virtue sworn,
Lift we our voice in full acclaim;
Our lives shall thee with noble deeds adorn;
Hail Providence! We praise thy name!

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENTS

HON. FRANCIS J. DARIGAN, JR., J.D. '64

*Associate Justice (retired), Rhode Island Superior Court
Doctor of Laws*

Francis J. Darigan, Jr. '64 served nearly three decades as a jurist in Rhode Island as a member of the District and Superior courts, earning a reputation as a thoughtful magistrate whose courtroom was characterized by fairness and dignity.

The Providence native attended La Salle Academy before enrolling at Providence College, where he majored in political science and public administration. Judge Darigan served in U.S. Army intelligence with the Defense Intelligence Agency in Washington, D.C.

After two years of service, he worked for Nationwide Insurance Co. while attending the evening division of Suffolk University Law School, receiving his juris doctorate in 1971.

He then served as in-house legal counsel for Nationwide Insurance while serving in the Army Reserve as a captain and as a member of the Providence City Council from 1971-1975.

Judge Darigan practiced law in Providence from 1975 until 1984 when Gov. J. Joseph Garrahy appointed him as associate judge on the R.I. District Court. He served on the Superior Court beginning in 1986 and was permanently appointed an associate justice of that court by Gov. Bruce Sundlun in 1991.

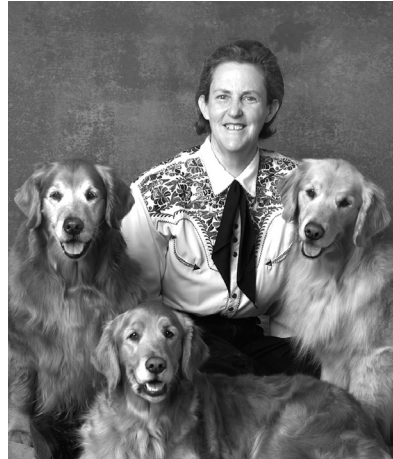

Before retiring in 2012, Judge Darigan heard numerous high-profile cases, both civil and criminal, often involving elected and appointed officials and members of local police departments. He presided over the criminal trial of the Station Nightclub owners following a tragic fire which claimed the lives of 100 patrons in 2003.

The highly respected jurist served on several judicial committees during his career. These included the Permanent Advisory Committee on Women and Minorities, the Governor's Substance Abuse Committee, and the Benchmark Sentencing Committee.

He received honors such as the Hon. Edward V. Healey, Jr. Award for Lifetime Achievement in the Law, the Chief Justice Joseph R. Weisberger Award for exemplifying the highest judicial standards, the Exemplary Citizenship Award from the National Alumni Association of Providence College, and had the annual essay contest of the R.I. Bar Association named in his honor.

Judge Darigan sings in the Jamestown (R.I.) Community Chorus and is a parishioner of St Mark's Parish, as well as a 25-year trustee of St. Michael the Archangel Parish in South Providence. He is a founding board member of the Institute for the Study and Practice of Nonviolence and the Justice Assistance Association. He also serves on the PC Providence President's Council.

He resides in Jamestown with his wife of 47 years, Alexandra Hope Kingscote Darigan. They are the parents of four adult children.

TEMPLE GRANDIN, PH.D.

Professor of Animal Science, Colorado State University
Advocate for People with Autism
Doctor of Science

Temple Grandin is a world-renowned advocate and educator on autism and animal welfare, specifically livestock handling.

A native of Boston, Mass., she became a role model and source of inspiration for families of people with autism after she was featured by author and neurologist Dr. Oliver Sacks in his book, An Anthropologist on Mars (Alfred A. Knopf, 1996). Dr. Grandin, who has autism spectrum disorder, used the title phrase to describe herself and credits autism with providing her insights into animal behavior.

Dr. Grandin earned a bachelor's degree at Franklin Pierce College and a master's degree in animal science at Arizona State University. She received her doctorate in animal science from the University of Illinois.

A member of the faculty at Colorado State University since 1990, Dr. Grandin teaches livestock handling and serves as a consultant to the livestock industry on animal welfare and facility design. Her research focuses on reducing stress experienced by grazing animals at meat plants.

Her livestock handling facility designs have been applied around the world. Dr. Grandin's guidance on animal behavior, such as the flight zone — the distance around an animal that, if encroached, will cause alarm — has influenced animal husbandry practices. Major corporations adopted an objective scoring system Dr. Grandin created to evaluate how animals are handled at meat plants.

She has received dozens of awards for her designs and food-animal welfare advocacy, including the Secretary's Highest Award from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services in 2007. In 2010, Time magazine named her one of its 100 Most Influential People in the World. An HBO original film about Dr. Grandin's teenage years and her path to her career won seven Emmy awards and a Golden Globe.

Dr. Grandin is the author of several books, including Thinking in Pictures (Vintage Press, 1995), Humane Livestock Handling (Storey Publishing, LLC, 2008), and The Autistic Brain: Thinking Across the Spectrum (Houghton Mifflin Harcourt, 2013), which she co-authored with Richard Panek. Two of her books, Animals in Translation (Scribner, 2005) and Animals Make Us Human (Houghton Mifflin Harcourt, 2009), were on The New York Times bestseller list.

A member of the American Society of Animal Science and a past board member of the Autism Society of America, she has appeared on national television shows such as 60 Minutes and Today and has been featured in People, Forbes, and U.S. News & World Report.

RAYMOND M. MURPHY

Entrepreneur and Philanthropist
Bachelor of Arts

Raymond M. Murphy has spent decades working tirelessly for countless Catholic, charitable, and community causes in Cleveland, Ohio, all the while earning additional admiration for his staunch work ethic and laudable business practices.

The Cleveland native attended Providence College from 1965-1968 and majored in English, but he enlisted in the U.S. Army before completing his bachelor's degree. During service in the Vietnam War, he extended his tour of duty to prevent his brother, who was on active duty, from being deployed there.

When he returned from Vietnam in 1971, Mr. Murphy joined his family's business, the Murphy-Phoenix Company, which was founded in 1890. He served as co-owner, director, vice president, and national sales director of the company — the manufacturer of Murphy's Oil Soap — which was sold to Colgate-Palmolive in 1991. He went on to become co-owner and director of his family's successor businesses — JTM Products, a lubricant manufacturer, and ChemMasters, a concrete sealer manufacturer.

In 2002, Mr. Murphy bought a minority stake in the Lake County Captains, the Class A minor-league affiliate of the Cleveland Indians. Since 2007, he has been a partner of The Adcom Group, a marketing services firm. He also serves as a principal with JTM Company, his family's investment office.

For more than two decades, Mr. Murphy has dedicated himself to dozens of Catholic and community groups, institutions, and initiatives through personal philanthropy and service, including multiple leadership roles. Through his commitment to the Catholic Diocese of Cleveland, the Catholic Community Foundation, and Catholic Charities of Cleveland, he has enhanced the lives of needy students and adults, at-risk teens, seminarians, and others.

Among his contributions, he served as a member of the Leadership Gifts Committee of the diocesan capital campaign that raised $170 million from 2009-2012. He also is a major benefactor of his alma mater, Gilmour Academy, a Catholic college preparatory school.

The list of other nonprofit organizations he has led or assisted includes the Salvation Army of Greater Cleveland, the Cleveland Food Bank, Boys Hope Girls Hope of Northeastern Ohio, the Althans Foundation, and the Murphy Family Foundation, which addresses poverty in the Cleveland area.

In another milestone, as a trustee of the Cleveland Food Bank, Mr. Murphy helped lead the effort to build a new food-distribution center — later named best in the United States by Second Harvest.

SISTER MARGARET ORMOND, O.P.

*Prioress, Congregation of the Dominican Sisters of Peace
Doctor of Religious Education*

A member of the Order of Preachers for more than 50 years, Sister Margaret Ormond, O.P. has devoted her ministry to enhancing and promoting the spirit and mission of the Dominican Order to Dominicans and the public worldwide.

Currently, that advocacy has led Sister Ormond to serve as the first prioress of the Congregation of the Dominican Sisters of Peace in Columbus, Ohio. The congregation, which was established in 2009 with seven founding Dominican groups, and an eighth in 2012, has about 600 members and 500 associates.

Sister Ormond taught or served as a vice principal at Catholic high schools in Ohio and Connecticut from 1965-1974 before her ministry changed to congregational service. She was appointed director of candidates of the Dominican Sisters of Saint Mary of the Springs in Ohio in 1974 and served as director of formation from 1979-1982, general councilor of the congregation from 1982-1986, and prioress general of her congregation from 1990 to 1996.

After this time, she has held many other leadership roles in spreading the Dominican ethos. She served as co-director of Parable, a national organization for the promotion of Dominican life and mission, and as the first international coordinator of Dominican Sisters International, based at Santa Sabina in Rome and where she spent a decade speaking to sisters in five continents about networking, collaboration, and issues such as contemporary religious life and the global realities faced by the Church.

She also facilitated Dominican congresses in the Philippines, El Salvador, South Africa, Kenya, Peru, and Hungary. As a consultant on Leadership Among African Religious in 2008, she advised religious communities in Kenya, Malawi, South Africa, Tanzania, Uganda, Zambia, and Zimbabwe.

Born in Brooklyn, N.Y., Sister Ormond attended the College of St. Mary of the Springs (now Ohio Dominican University) and earned a bachelor's degree in history in 1965. She also holds a bachelor's degree in sacred theology and a licentiate of sacred theology from the Pontifical University of St. Thomas Aquinas (Angelicum) in Rome.

With a long and impressive ministry in promoting collaboration, Sister Ormond was president of the Dominican Leadership Conference and of the Collaborative Novitiate in St. Louis, Mo. She served as a U.S. delegate to the Union of International Superiors General. She also has served on several boards, including those of Providence College and the Aquinas Institute of Theology.

CAROLYN RAFAELIAN

*Founder, Creative Director, and Interim CEO of Alex and Ani, LLC
Doctor of Humanities*

Carolyn Rafaelian transformed a family tradition of jewelry making into a worldwide lifestyle brand.

Recognized as much for her entrepreneurial spirit and skill as for her goodwill, Ms. Rafaelian learned the craft of jewelry design and production as a young apprentice to her father, who owned Cinerama, a jewelry factory in Cranston, R.I. In the time since she launched Alex and Ani, LLC in 2004, the company — named for her first two daughters — has turned heads in both the business and fashion industries.

Alex and Ani's signature expandable wire bangles, worn by celebrities and praised by fashion magazine editors, are made in the United States with recycled materials and have become coveted accessories around the country and across the world. The designs feature everything from spiritual symbols to licensed logos of major sports teams, colleges and universities, and Disney characters.

Today, the company has expanded to include a beauty line, media agency, and coffee bars.

Alex and Ani's products deeply reflect Ms. Rafaelian's values, charitable focus, and desire to spread positive energy across the globe. Her designs are created with a deep reverence for powerful and sacred symbols that express and inspire awareness, empowerment, and inner beauty.

Ms. Rafaelian is involved in all facets of her company's operations, particularly its designs and marketing efforts, and maintains close associations with its vendors.

Based in Cranston, the company was ranked on Inc. magazine's list of the fastest-growing U.S. companies in 2013 and 2012. It posted $79.8 million in revenue in 2012, up 3,579 percent in just three years, according to Inc. That year, Ms. Rafaelian was named New England Entrepreneur of the Year by Ernst & Young and the Small Business Administration's Rhode Island Small Business Person of the Year.

Ms. Rafaelian holds a bachelor's degree from the University of Rhode Island. She also studied at The American College in London and Los Angeles. She has received honorary degrees from the University of Rhode Island and Rhode Island College.
