FROM THE PRESIDENT

Greetings and congratulations to the Class of 2001. Your days at Providence College have “dwindled down,” not to an end but to fulfillment. Thank you for choosing Providence as your Alma Mater, for sharing four of the most important years of your life with us and for making our ideals of truth and goodness, scholarship and service your own. You have added joy to our days and richness to our lives.

Congratulations also to the parents of our graduates. Most of you have sent your sons and daughters to Providence College at great personal cost. I recognize and appreciate the sacrifices you have made. I am grateful beyond words that you entrusted your most precious possessions, your sons and daughters, to our care for four years. We have treated your confidence in us as a sacred trust.

Congratulations also to the graduates of our School of Continuing Education and our Graduate School. Your academic journey has differed from that of our traditional undergraduate students. It has taken you along a steeper path and on a road less traveled. Frequently, you have had to balance obligations that appear intractable: commitments to family and work with demands of study. I acknowledge and applaud your achievements and am delighted to welcome you fully into the Providence College Family.

As you begin a new phase of your life, my prayer and hope for each of you is that you may bask in God’s favor and compassion, enjoy the love and support of family and friends and find personal happiness and fulfillment in whatever career or vocation you pursue. May the example of your life make those around you better and the place where you labor and live brighter. Avoid the trap of thinking that there is nothing one person can accomplish in the face of massive human suffering and social problems. Make your own the words of Ralph Waldo Emerson: “Sometimes when I consider what tremendous consequences come from little things—a chance word, a tap on the shoulder, or a penny dropped on a newsstand—I am tempted to think . . . there are no little things.”

*College President

The Star-Spangled Banner
Francis Scott Key
Led by Maria Olohan '01

O say, can you see, by the dawn’s early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight’s last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight
O’er the ramparts we watched, were so gallantly streaming!
And the rockets’ red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there:
O say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O’er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

THE ALMA MATER

Mother of Truth, we proudly pledge to thee
Undying love and steadfast loyalty.
From thee we learned the wondrous work of God,
His goodness, grace, and holy power;
Clear hast thou shown what pathways must be trod;
All fearless now we brave life's hour!

Though failure frown, though kindly fortune smile,
Firm our advance, naught can us e'er beguile.
To honor bound, to love and virtue sworn,
Lift we our voice in full acclaim.
Our lives shall thee with noble deeds adorn;
Hail Providence! We praise thy name!

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENTS

THE VERY REVEREND
NORMAN A. HADDAD, O.P. '54

*Prior Provincial,
Dominican Province of St. Joseph*

The Very Reverend Norman Alfred Haddad, O.P. '54, has served as prior provincial of the Province of St. Joseph of the Dominican Friars (Order of Preachers) since his election in June 1997. In this capacity, he serves as the religious superior for the approximately 275 Dominican fathers and brothers assigned to the order's churches, schools, and missions throughout its eastern province. The largest of the four Dominican provinces in the United States, the Province of St. Joseph covers the northeastern states and also includes Ohio and Kentucky. The province also sponsors a foreign mission in Eastern Africa.

As prior provincial, Father Haddad also serves as chairman of the Providence College Corporation, providing guidance and direction for the college's administration, and as a member of the college's Board of Trustees. He is also vice chancellor of the Pontifical Faculty of the Immaculate Conception at the Dominican House of Studies in Washington, D.C., and is chairman of its Board of Trustees and a member of its Board of Overseers. He also serves as president of the St. Thomas Aquinas Foundation, which raises funds to support the work of the Leonine Commission, an international body of Dominican scholars charged with compiling the critical edition of the writings of the Angelic Doctor of the Church.

A native of Waterbury, Connecticut, Father Haddad graduated from Providence College in 1954 with a bachelor's degree in political science. He was ordained a priest in the Dominican Order in 1961 following studies at St. Rose Priory in Springfield, Kentucky; St. Stephen Priory in Dover, Massachusetts; and the Dominican House of Studies in Washington, D.C. He received a licentiate degree in sacred theology in 1962.

His pastoral service has included 10 years as assistant pastor of St. Dominic Church in Washington, D.C., and two years as pastor of St. Martin de Porres Church in Columbia, South Carolina. From 1974 until 1980, he served as prior of St. Stephen Priory in Dover, Massachusetts, and as a member of the Renewal and Retreat Team of the priory's Spiritual Life Center. He then returned to St. Dominic Church in Washington, D.C., where he served as pastor for 12 years. During both of his priestly assignments in the nation's capital, he was very active in the Southwest Washington Neighborhood Assembly and the Southwest Community House. In 1993 he returned to St. Stephen Priory in Dover, Massachusetts, to serve once again as prior. Upon his election as prior provincial four years later, he moved to St. Vincent Ferrer Priory in New York City, the site of the provincial office.

Dr. Monika Konrad Hellwig—a noted theologian and prolific author and lecturer—has been involved in Catholic higher education for over 40 years as a teacher, administrator, and researcher. Through the years, she has been involved with such institutions as Catholic University of America, de Paul University, and Georgetown University.

MONIKA K. HELLWIG, PH.D.

Executive Director, Association of Catholic Colleges and Universities

Currently, Hellwig is the executive director of the Association of Catholic Colleges and Universities (ACCU), which is a department of the National Catholic Educational Association (NCEA) in Washington, D.C. The ACCU serves over 200 Catholic colleges and universities nationwide and the NCEA has over 200,000 members worldwide, making it the largest private educational association in the world. In 1994, Hellwig received the ACCU's Theodore Hesburgh Award for her contributions to Catholic higher education.

Previously, Hellwig was the Landeggar Distinguished Professor of Theology at Georgetown University and served as a professor in its department of theology for over 30 years. In 1988 she was cited as the District of Columbia Professor of the Year for her contributions to the lives of Georgetown students.

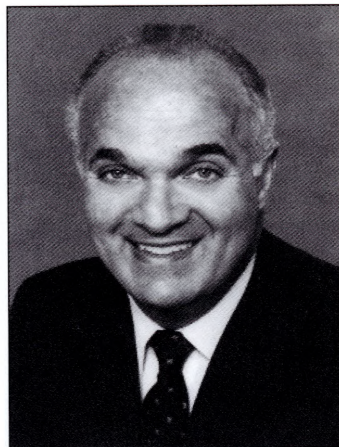

In addition to her involvement with Georgetown University, Hellwig was the president of the Catholic Theological Society of America, a member of the Board of Directors for the Woodstock Theological Center, and a theological consultant for Treehaus publications. Additionally, she has received over a dozen honorary degrees from such institutions as Fairfield University, Loyola University of Chicago, the Jesuit School of Theology at Berkeley, and the College of St. Catherine.

A visiting professor at 10 U.S. colleges, universities, and seminaries, Hellwig has participated in national discussions of Ex corde ecclesiae, the Vatican document on Catholic higher education. She has written numerous books and articles on the subjects of Christology, the sacraments, the role of the theologian, Christian-Jewish-Muslim relations, and post-Vatican II ecclesiology. She also serves as an associate editor for the Journal of Ecumenical Studies and as an editorial consultant for Religious Studies Bulletin. She is a member of the board of visitors for the School of Religious Studies at Catholic University.

Born in Breslau, Germany, Hellwig holds advanced degrees from the University of Liverpool, England, and the Catholic University of America.

LOUIS LAMORIELLO '63

*CEO, President, General Manager,
the New Jersey Devils*

Louis Lamoriello '63 has made a deep and lasting impact on both college and professional hockey as a disciplined coach and a dynamic leader. Now in his 14th season as the New Jersey Devils' top executive, Lamoriello was honored last year with Unico National's Vincent T. Lombardi Award for professional sports service. In 1992, he received the Lester Patrick Trophy in recognition for service to hockey in the United States.

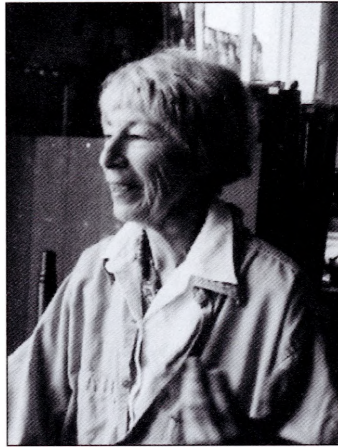

Under Lamoriello—who is in charge of all hockey and business operations—the New Jersey Devils have developed into one of the NHL's premiere teams, capturing the Stanley Cup championship both last year and in 1995. They had the NHL's second-best record in the 1990s, compiling a regular-season mark of 396-275-110 (.577). The 2000-01 Devils won their fourth consecutive Eastern Conference/Atlantic Division regular season title with a 48-19-12-3 record for 111 points—the best in team history. But it was the Friars of Providence College who prepared Lamoriello for his leadership of the Devils.

Lamoriello left an indelible mark on Providence College as a student-athlete, coach, and athletic director. A standout hockey and baseball player for the Friars, he later served as assistant hockey coach before taking the head coaching reins in 1968. In 15 seasons, he coached the Friars to 11 post-season tournaments and an overall record of 248-179-13. He has led the men's hockey team to more wins than any other coach in its history.

Lamoriello became the school's athletic director after the 1982-83 season, when his Friars posted a school-best 33-10-0 record. In this position, which he held until joining the Devils, he was responsible for administering 22 varsity teams and all athletic facilities. He helped to found the HOCKEY EAST Conference and served as its first commissioner. A member of the college's Athletic Hall of Fame, Lamoriello's other career highlights include serving as general manager of the 1998 United States Olympic Hockey Team.

Lamoriello is a native of Providence, R.I.

Sylvia Nicolas is an internationally recognized artist who is noted for her humanistic approach in presenting her subjects, whether through the artistic mediums of painting, drawing, sculpture, or stained glass. At Providence College, she is identified not only as the artist who designed and fabricated the 47 stained-glass windows in the new St. Dominic Chapel but also as the sculptor of the chapel's crucifix and Stations of the Cross.

SYLVIA NICOLAS

Artist

Nicolas has called herself a “storyteller.” At Providence College, her windows tell the story of the life of St. Dominic and the establishment and growth of the Order of Preachers around the world, as well as the story of the Roman Catholic faith. “I feel very much in tune,” she has said, “with the history of civilization that is interwoven in this constant fabric which I am living and of which I am a part.”

Born in the Netherlands and educated in both the U.S. and in Europe, Nicolas is the daughter of Joep Nicolas, who is known as the “father of modern stained glass.” She represents the fourth generation of five generations of master stained glass artists. Her family’s contributions to this genre can be viewed together in the Church of St. Pancratius, Tubbergen, the Netherlands, where 13 of her windows join those created by her great-grandfather, grandfather, father, and a cousin.

Nicolas’s works can also be found in religious and secular building throughout the U.S. and abroad. Her work has been exhibited in shows throughout New England as well as in the Netherlands, Belgium, Germany, and France. She has also lectured extensively on the history and techniques of stained glass and was the keynote speaker at the 1993 International Conference on Environmental Glass.

A resident of Mont Vernon, N.H., Nicolas was previously accorded an honorary degree by St. Anselm College in Manchester, N.H., where her bronze sculptures of St. Anselm and St. Benedict are featured on its campus.

JOSEPH F. RODGERS, JR. '62

*Presiding Justice,
Superior Court of Rhode Island*

Presiding Justice of the Rhode Island Superior Court since 1991, Joseph F. Rodgers, Jr., became the youngest judge in modern history to be appointed to both the District and Superior courts. He was appointed associate justice of the District Court in 1974, followed by his appointment as associate justice of the Superior Court in 1976.

After attending Providence College, Rodgers earned his law degree from Boston University School of Law. He was responsible for overseeing the nation's first Gun Court, an initiative that was not only successful in achieving increased jail time for offenders but also dramatically reduced disposition time of gun cases from about 17 months to just over four months. Rodgers is also responsible for reducing the trial delay of civil cases in Providence County from about five years in 1990 to less than two years today, subsequently reducing the backlog of civil cases by 49 percent in the last 10 years.

Rodgers' tenure as presiding justice has been marked by a number of other accomplishments, including the development and implementation of the Superior Court's Judicial Evaluation Program, the revision of the Rhode Island Sentencing Benchmarks and the Superior Court Rules of Civil Procedure, the initiation of a Mediation Program, and the expansion of the Arbitration Program to the state's counties.

Prior to his appointment to the judiciary, Rodgers was a member of the Rhode Island State Senate from 1967 to 1974, serving as chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee and vice chairman of the Senate Labor Committee. A member of the Rhode Island Justice Commission, he chaired the state's Commission on Judicial Tenure & Discipline from 1980-1986. He also served as chair of the National Trial Judges' Association 1992 Committee on Discovery Reform.

A member of the Rhode Island Bar Association and the American Judicature Society, Rodgers has been an instructor of law at Roger Williams University since 1981 and also taught classes in law at Providence College and at the Community College of Rhode Island. A native of Providence, Rodgers resides in Saunterstown, R.I., with his wife, the former Donna Boudreau.

Margaret O'Brien Steinfels has been taking the pulse of Catholic social teaching and practice as a prolific writer, editor, and lecturer for more than 30 years. In her role as a reviewer of controversial issues in contemporary life, she has tackled subjects ranging from the politics of abortion and contraception, to artificial insemination and adolescent sexuality.

MARGARET O'BRIEN STEINFELS

Editor, Commonweal

Since 1988, Steinfels has served as the editor of Commonweal, an independent, international journal of opinion edited and managed by lay Catholics. Commonweal has been described by one historian as “perhaps the most significant enterprise and achievement in the history of American Catholicism.”

Steinfels' numerous reviews and articles on issues related to children and families have also appeared in both religious and secular publications ranging from Catholic World and the National Catholic Reporter to the New Republic and the New York Times. She is the author of Who's Minding the Children? The History and Politics of Day Care in America, published by Simon & Shuster in 1974.

Her publications also include “My Working Mother Problem and Theirs” in The Working Mother (Macmillan, 1971); “Who Wants Day Care and Why?” in Soundings (Spring 1972); “Ethical and Legal Issues in Teenage Pregnancies” in Teenage Pregnancy and Family Impact (Temple University Press, 1981); “Children's Rights, Parental Rights, Family Privacy, and Family Autonomy,” in Who Speaks for the Helpless (Plenum Press, 1982); and “Taking the Measure of the Family” in Reading the Signs of the Times (Paulist Press, 1991).

A 1963 honors graduate of Chicago's Loyola University, Steinfels went on to earn her Master of Arts degree in American history from New York University. Early in her career, she worked as a reporter, columnist, and reviewer for the National Catholic Reporter.

She subsequently served as the editor of the Hastings Center Report, as social science editor for Basic Books, and as executive editor and business manager for Christianity and Crisis. Steinfels later served as director of publications for the National Pastoral Life Center and as editor of its journal, Church.

Steinfels serves on the board of the Catholic Common Ground Initiative. A native of Chicago, Ill., she resides in New York City with her husband, Peter Steinfels, a New York Times columnist.
