FROM THE PRESIDENT

Welcome to Providence College's 84th Commencement and congratulations to the Class of 2002!

We gather together today to celebrate the significant achievement each member of the Class of 2002 has attained. Thank you for choosing Providence as your Alma Mater and for embracing, as your own, the College's ideals of truth and goodness, scholarship and service.

Our world and national events have made this a particularly bittersweet Commencement. Since the September 11th attacks on the United States, the devastating sense of loss we have experienced—as individuals, as a college community, and collectively, as a nation—continues to underscore all of the events of our daily lives. Profound sorrow runs deep within the Providence College community, as we mourn the loss of PC students, parents of students, brothers, sisters, grandparents, aunts, uncles, and alumni.

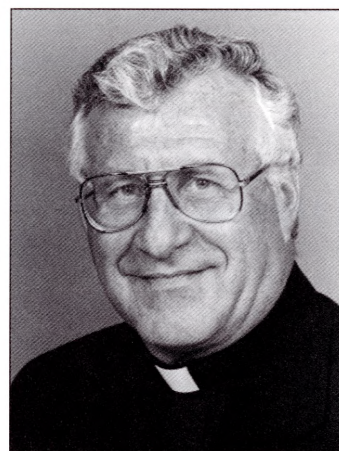

We are, indeed, living in extraordinary times . . . that have deeply bruised the human spirit. Yet, during the tumultuous months following 9-11, just as our nation forged together to affirm its faith in tomorrow, the Providence College community frequently came together—both formally and informally—to seek comfort, to give counsel, to offer friendship and to look forward with new hope. Each encounter, each act of kindness and concern for one another has strengthened and renewed the human spirit, and has empowered us to move forward.

These are, indeed, extraordinary times . . . that have brought out the very best of the human spirit. We celebrate this Commencement day with a renewed sense of hope that today's graduates may continue to demonstrate the strength and resilience of our community of faith and learning.

I extend my sincere congratulations to the parents of our graduates, many of whom have demonstrated genuine selflessness by sending your sons and daughters to Providence College at great personal cost and sacrifice. I am grateful to all of our graduates' parents for entrusting into our care your most precious possessions: your sons and daughters. We have treated your confidence in us as a valued and sacred trust.

Congratulations also to the graduates of our School of Continuing Education and our Graduate Studies Program. Many of you have had to re-prioritize to meet the ever-changing obligations of balancing family, work, and academics. I acknowledge and applaud your achievements and am delighted to welcome you fully into the Providence College family.

As you begin a new phase of your life, my prayer and hope for each of you is that you may bask in God's favor and compassion, enjoy the love and support of family and friends, and find personal happiness and fulfillment in whatever career or vocation you pursue. May the example of your life make those around you better and the place where you labor and live brighter.

*College President

THE NATIONAL ANTHEM

“The Star-Spangled Banner”
Francis Scott Key
Led by Neal A. Ferreira '02

O say, can you see, by the dawn’s early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight’s last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight
O’er the ramparts we watched, were so gallantly streaming!
And the rockets’ red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there:
O say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O’er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

THE ALMA MATER

Mother of Truth, we proudly pledge to thee
Undying love and steadfast loyalty.
From thee we learned the wondrous work of God,
His goodness, grace, and holy power;
Clear hast thou shown what pathways must be trod;
All fearless now we brave life's hour!

Though failure frown, though kindly fortune smile,
Firm our advance, naught can us e'er beguile.
To honor bound, to love and virtue sworn,
Lift we our voice in full acclaim.
Our lives shall thee with noble deeds adorn;
Hail Providence! We praise thy name!

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENTS

VERY REV.
J. AUGUSTINE DI NOIA, O.P.

Undersecretary of the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith

Very Rev. J. Augustine Di Noia, O.P. has built a reputation as one of America's most active and respected theological minds. Most recently, in April, John Paul II appointed Father Di Noia to work at the Vatican under Prefect Cardinal Joseph Ratzinger as undersecretary of the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith, where he is third in office. Prior to his appointment by the Holy Father, he served as director of the Intercultural Forum for Studies in Faith and Culture at the Pope John Paul II Cultural Center in Washington, D.C.

Father Di Noia has been a member of the International Theological Commission, an advisory board of theologians to the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith, since 1998. The congregation oversees and promotes the doctrine on faith and morals in the Catholic world.

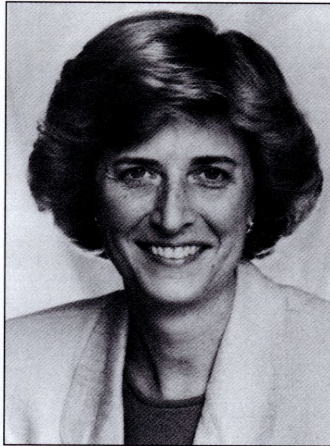

A member of the Dominican Eastern Province of St. Joseph, Father Di Noia attended Providence College from 1961-63. He was ordained in 1970 and taught theology at Providence College from 1971 to 1974. He earned a doctorate from Yale University in 1980 and holds four theology degrees or certificates, including three from St. Stephen's College in Dover, Mass. The other degree, master of sacred theology (S.T.M.), was conferred upon him by the Dominican Order in 1998.

Since 1991, he has been a professor of systematic theology at the Dominican House of Studies and an adjunct professor at the John Paul II Institute for Marriage and Family Studies, both in Washington. Father Di Noia served as executive director of the Secretariat for Doctrine and Pastoral Practices for the National Conference of Catholic Bishops (NCCB) from 1993 to 2001 and as adiutor (expert) to the secretary general of the 10th General Assembly of the Synod of Bishops in 2001.

Father Di Noia is a prolific writer and public speaker. He is the author of The Diversity of Religions: A Christian Perspective (Catholic University of America Press, 1992) and the co-author of The Love That Never Ends: A Key to the Catechism of the Catholic Church (Our Sunday Visitor Press, 1996). He is also editor-in-chief of The Thomist, a Dominican journal, and is a frequent presenter at national conferences, workshops, symposia, and other settings.

Because of his new duties at the Vatican, Father Di Noia will receive his degree in absentia.

Sister Mary Catherine Hilkert, O.P. holds a teaching position at one of the country's pre-eminent Catholic universities, but her list of achievements extends far beyond the campus of the University of Notre Dame where, as an associate professor of theology, she specializes in contemporary systematic theology. The first recipient, in 1997, of the Sophia Award from the Washington Theological Union, the Dominican sister was honored for furthering the understanding of the contemporary Catholic Church.

SISTER MARY CATHERINE
HILKERT, O.P.

Associate Professor of Theology University of Notre Dame

A renowned writer, Sister Hilkert is the author of three books, including Speaking With Authority: Catherine of Siena and the Voices of Women Today (Paulist Press, 2001) and Naming Grace: Preaching and the Sacramental Imagination (Continuum, 1997). She is also the editor of William J. Hill's Search for the Absent God: Tradition and Modernity in Religious Understanding and has contributed chapters to 10 other books.

Sister Hilkert is the author of numerous articles and makes regular presentations on Christian feminism, spirituality, and homiletics. She is currently researching a book titled Imago Dei, Imago Christi: A Sacramental Theological Anthropology. In 2000-2001, she held a Lilly Faculty Fellowship focusing on "Imago Dei, Imago Christi: Theological Anthropology from a Feminist Catholic Perspective."

A 1971 graduate of the University of Dayton, Sister Hilkert earned master's and doctoral degrees in theology from The Catholic University of America in 1979 and 1984, respectively. She taught systematic theology from 1984-95 at the Aquinas Institute of Theology in St. Louis, Mo., prior to joining the Notre Dame faculty in 1995.

The Akron, Ohio, native is a member of the Catholic Theological Society of America, the American Academy of Religion, and the College Theology Society. A popular lecturer, Sister Hilkert has lectured extensively at academic institutions and for professional theological organizations in the U.S. and abroad. She is scheduled to return to Providence College in January 2003 to deliver the annual Aquinas Lecture celebrating the feast day of St. Thomas Aquinas.

MARY ANNE REILLY

*President,
Reilly Development Group*

Mary Anne Reilly is the archetype of the modern working woman. Beginning in the male-dominated business world of the 1950s when women could only aspire to be administrative assistants, the Brooklyn, N.Y., native worked her way up to prominent positions in the publishing industry.

She was the advertising director of Harper's Bazaar magazine and the vice president of new magazine development for The New York Times Company's Women's Magazines Division. Currently, she is president of Reilly Development Group, a marketing, licensing, and magazine development firm.

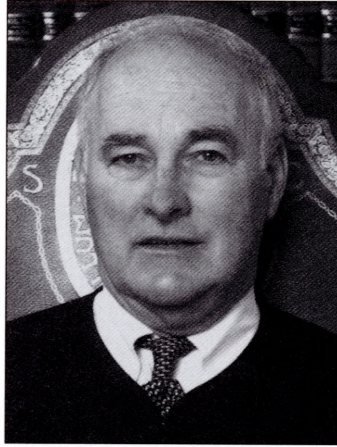

The eldest of six children, Reilly said that her Irish immigrant parents expected her to get married and to leave college and the career track to her brothers. Instead, she graduated from Dominican Commercial High School and took business courses at Fordham University night school. Reilly credits this educational experience with the Dominicans as crucial to her later success.

Reilly began her career as a secretarial trainee at the American Tobacco Company and later served as personal assistant to powerful executives such as Bertram R. Firestone, president of Firestone Industries, and Charles Revson, founder of Revlon Inc. She said that once the barriers to women becoming executives were removed, most did not have the requisite credentials and had to rely on experience to move up.

She joined the publishing industry in 1970 and began to do just that, becoming the first female sales representative at Vogue and The Hearst Corporation's first female advertising director. Reilly has since launched 12 magazines, including Child, KidStyle, Grandchild, Family Travel, Fancy That, and, aptly, Working Woman.

Reilly, who was the New York Rotary Club's first "Woman of the Year," is married to Robert F. Reilly '42, a former PC trustee and alumni capital campaign chairman. The couple has three children.

The Honorable William J. Sullivan '62 did not put his political science degree to use in a legislative career, but he has had a profound effect on how laws are followed as the chief justice of the Connecticut Supreme Court.

THE HONORABLE
WILLIAM J. SULLIVAN '62

Chief Justice of the Connecticut Supreme Court

The Waterbury, Conn., native studied at St. Thomas Seminary in Connecticut before attending Providence College. After leaving Rhode Island, he earned a law degree in 1965 from the Marshall-Wythe School of Law at the College of William and Mary in Virginia. Rather than entering a courtroom, however, Sullivan stepped onto the battlefield, garnering numerous decorations—including two Bronze Stars for his service as an Army artillery captain in Vietnam. He was honorably discharged in 1966.

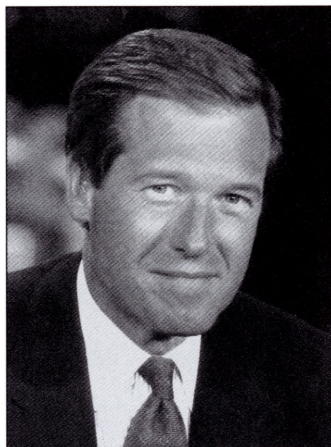

Sullivan practiced law for 11 years before ascending to the bench as a Superior Court judge in 1978. He moved to the Appellate Court system in 1997 and, in 1999, became a Connecticut Supreme Court justice, taking on the duties of chief justice last year. He is the ex officio director of the Connecticut Bar Foundation, an honorary member of the American Judges Association, and currently holds membership in the bar associations of Virginia, Connecticut, and Waterbury.

Over the years, Sullivan also has kept busy as Civil Service commissioner and as corporation counsel member in Waterbury, director of the Connecticut Vietnam Veterans Bonus Division of the State Treasurer's Office, and a Veterans of Foreign Wars member. For 24 years, he was secretary and trustee of the Robert Westberg Scholarship Fund, which awards scholarships to the children of police officers in his hometown.

Providence College is a tradition in the family Sullivan has raised with his wife, Mary. Two of his four sons also are Friars—Timothy F. '92 and Gregory R. '96.

BRIAN WILLIAMS

*Anchor and Managing Editor,
The News with Brian Williams*

Brian Williams, the Emmy Award-winning news anchor for NBC News, has been a member of the NBC News team since 1993. Williams is the anchor and managing editor of a nightly, hour-long newscast, The News with Brian Williams, which began airing in July 1996 and which can be seen on MSNBC and CNBC. The news show counts among its audience many of the nation's top lawmakers and opinion-makers. Williams also is the permanent substitute anchor of NBC Nightly News.

The chief White House correspondent for NBC News from 1994-96, Williams was the anchor and managing editor of the Saturday edition of NBC Nightly News for six years. He has reported countless stories of national and international importance over the years, including live, intensive coverage of the September 11 attacks and their aftermath.

He also has covered the historic election of Nelson Mandela in South Africa, the Arafat-Rabin Mideast peace agreement from Jericho and Jerusalem, and the 50th anniversary of the D-Day invasion. GQ magazine has called Williams "the most interesting man in television today" and, in 2001, he surpassed all others in broadcast news to be named GQ's Man of the Year.

A graduate of George Washington University and The Catholic University of America, Williams has received the Emmy Award three times: for his 1987 coverage of the stock market crash, his 1993 coverage of the Iowa floods, and in 2001 for his live coverage following the crash of a 747 jet in Singapore. While serving as NBC News' chief White House correspondent, Williams regularly accompanied President Clinton aboard Air Force One and covered virtually every foreign and domestic trip by the president.

A native of Elmira, N.Y., and Middletown, N.J., Williams started his broadcasting career in 1981 at CBS affiliate KOAM-TV in Pittsburg, Kan. He later moved on to CBS, where he spent seven years as an anchor and correspondent. While working for WCBS-TV in New York, he covered the collapse of the Berlin Wall in 1989. He also was a correspondent at CBS affiliates WCAU-TV in Philadelphia, Pa., and at WTTG-TV in Washington, D.C.

Williams, who also has received an honorary doctorate from Elmira College, is married to Jane Stoddard Williams. The couple has two children.

The souls of the just are in the hands of God and no torment shall touch them. They are at peace: because God's grace and mercy are with his holy ones, and his care is with his elect.
