Message

FROM THE PRESIDENT

Welcome to Providence College's 86th Commencement and congratulations to the Class of 2004! Thank you for choosing Providence College as your Alma Mater, for sharing four important years of your life with us, and for making our ideals of truth and justice, scholarship and service your own.

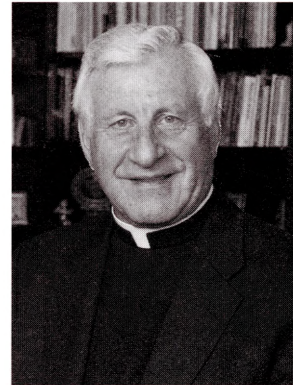

Congratulations also to the parents of our graduates. Their celebration is also yours. They have met your expectations and you should be proud of them. Many of you have sent your sons and daughters to Providence College at great personal cost and sacrifice. I am grateful beyond words for your sacrifices and for entrusting your most precious possessions, your sons and daughters, to our care for four years. We have treated your confidence as a valued and sacred trust.

Congratulations are also in order for the graduates of our School of Continuing Education and our Graduate Studies Program. Your academic journey has taken you along a steeper path and on a road less traveled than that of our traditional undergraduates. Frequently, you have had to balance the difficult and changing obligations to family, work, and studies. I recognize and applaud your achievements and am delighted to welcome you fully into the ranks of our Providence College graduates.

We celebrate your Commencement in a world darkened by violence in Iraq and the threat of terrorism at home and abroad. We gather in a nation deeply divided by religious convictions and political ideologies, by race and class. We gather from our own communities darkened by our lack of compassion and failures in love, by the presence of hungry people left unfed and homeless hundreds left unsheltered.

Though we live in very difficult times, adversity has always brought out the best of the American spirit. I am confident that this same depth of faith and resiliency of spirit that sustained previous generations in the face of difficulty lives on in the Class of 2004 and that you will face the challenges of today in a way that will engender hope for a brighter tomorrow. I hope that you will claim for yourselves the invitation Ulysses offered to his companions in Tennyson's poem, Ulysses: "Come, my friends, 'tis not too late to seek a newer world."

As you begin a new phase of your life, I pray and hope that each of you will experience God's grace and compassion, enjoy the love and support of family and friends and find personal happiness and fulfillment in whatever career or vocation you pursue.

*College President
Rev. Philip A. Smith, O.P.*

THE NATIONAL ANTHEM

“The Star-Spangled Banner”

Francis Scott Key

Led by Sara E. Logan '04

O say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight
O'er the ramparts we watched, were so gallantly streaming!
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there:
O say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

THE ALMA MATER

From Finlandia
Jean Sibelius, arranged by Nicholas Zaricki
Led by Peter Weathers '04

Mother of Truth, we proudly pledge to thee
Undying love and steadfast loyalty.
From thee we learned the wondrous work of God,
His goodness, grace, and holy power;
Clear hast thou shown what pathways must be trod;
All fearless now we brave life's hour!

Though failure frown, though kindly fortune smile,
Firm our advance, naught can us e'er beguile.
To honor bound, to love and virtue sworn,
Lift we our voice in full acclaim.
Our lives shall thee with noble deeds adorn;
Hail Providence! We praise thy name!

Honorary Degree Recipients

DR. THOMAS L. CANAVAN

Vice President for Academic Administration Providence College

Dr. Thomas L. Canavan has served Providence College with distinction since 1996 as its vice president for academic administration. He will step down effective June 30, 2004, for personal family reasons.

Prior to his arrival at the College, Canavan served Drexel University for 17 years, first as dean of the College of Humanities and Social Sciences from 1979-89, then as interim vice president for academic affairs in 1989-90, and finally as dean of arts and sciences from 1990-96. He also served as vice president for planning and implementation from 1993-95.

Canavan began his career in college administration at Temple University's College of Liberal Arts, where he served from 1970 to 1979 in various roles. He served as an English department assistant graduate chairman, assistant dean for undergraduate affairs, associate dean for curricular affairs, and as acting dean.

His impressive academic resumé includes a doctorate with distinction and a master's degree with honors in English and comparative literature—both from Columbia University; a bachelor's degree cum laude from Fordham University; membership in Phi Beta Kappa; and honorary memberships in Phi Eta Sigma and Alpha Sigma Lambda.

Canavan has taught courses at PC, Drexel, Temple, and Hunter College; been involved in several national and regional symposia and conference panels; and has been published in the Journal of the History of Ideas, Criticism, The Scriblerian, and the Philadelphia Business Journal.

He also has served as president and vice president of the Rho of Pennsylvania Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa; as a reviewer for the Fund for the Improvement of Post Secondary Education; and as an evaluator for the Middle States Association of Schools and Colleges and the New England Association of Schools and Colleges.

DR. ALICE BOURKE HAYES

President Emerita

University of San Diego

Dr. Alice Bourke Hayes capped an impressive career in higher education—spanning more than four decades—by serving as president of the University of San Diego from 1995-2003. Chartered in 1949, the university is a Roman Catholic, liberal arts institution which enrolls approximately 7,500 students.

Before accepting the reins of leadership at San Diego, the native and current resident of Chicago, Ill., served Saint Louis University for six years as executive vice president, provost, and professor of biology. That followed a 27-year career at Loyola University of Chicago, where she was a researcher and professor, Department of Natural Sciences chair, dean of natural sciences, associate academic vice president, and finally, vice president for academic affairs.

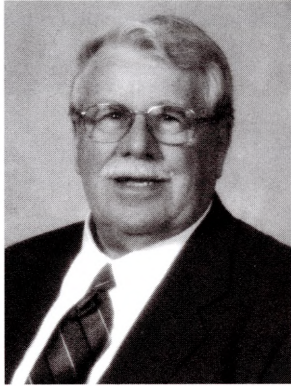

Hayes was a National Science Foundation fellow at Northwestern University, where she earned her doctorate in biology after receiving a master's degree in the same field at the University of Illinois. She has received honorary doctorates from Saint Louis University, Loyola University, Mount St. Mary's College in Los Angeles, and Fontbonne College.

She has garnered leadership and service awards from organizations including the San Diego Women Who Mean Business, the International Woman's Council, and the San Diego Press Club.

Hayes, who has published extensively on science and Catholic higher education, continues to lead an active life inside and outside academia. She is a member of the National Review Board, which is assisting the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops in implementing standards to protect children from sexual abuse. She is a member of the Illinois Board of Higher Education and serves as a board member of Loyola University, the Pulitzer Publishing Company, ConAgra, and Jack-in-the-Box, among other organizations.

BERNARD G. "BEN" MONDOR
Owner and Chairman of the Board
Pawtucket Red Sox

Bernard G. "Ben" Mondor is the patriarch of Rhode Island's professional baseball club, the Pawtucket Red Sox. His name is known by anyone in the Rhode Island area who has attended a PawSox game or driven by the team's facility, McCoy Stadium, located on Ben Mondor Way.

When Mondor acquired the team in 1977 after retiring from corporate business, the PawSox were bankrupt and pulling in just 70,000 fans a season. By 2003, attendance for the Triple-A International League affiliate of the Boston Red Sox was more than 600,000 per season, with a total of over 10 million fans having attended games during Mondor's tenure. In all those years, Mondor raised ticket prices by a total of $3.

He also oversaw and personally helped fund a $16 million renovation and expansion of McCoy Stadium in 1998-99.

Mondor's record of community service is exemplary. He has served as a board member of numerous charitable organizations, including Special Olympics, the Jimmy Fund, the Muscular Dystrophy Association, the American Heart Association, the Community College of Rhode Island Foundation, and the U.S. Army's Patriotic Civilian Services.

He also has received awards from a diverse group of organizations including Big Brother of Rhode Island, the Knights of Columbus, the Baseball Writers of America, the Association of Fund Raising Professionals, and the Department of Defense. In September 2001, he was chosen the BoSox Booster Club Man of the Year for his longstanding contributions to the Pawtucket and Boston Red Sox and for his community leadership.

Mondor attended Brown University, the University of Rhode Island, and Bryant College, and has received honorary degrees from Bryant and Rhode Island College. He lives in Warwick, R.I., with his wife, Madeleine.

THE MOST REVEREND SEAN PATRICK O'MALLEY, O.F.M., CAP.
Archbishop of the Archdiocese of Boston, Mass.

The Most Reverend Sean Patrick O'Malley, O.F.M., Cap. has won praise for his warmth, compassion, and strength since being installed as Boston's sixth archbishop last July 30.

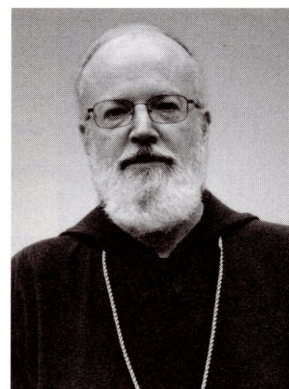

Known as "Bishop Sean" among parishioners and fellow clergy, he was ordained coadjutor bishop of St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands in 1984 and became ordinary bishop upon the retirement of his predecessor in June 1992. Approximately two months later, he was installed as bishop of Fall River, Mass., where he served for a decade.

Archbishop O'Malley was less than a year into his appointment as bishop of Palm Beach, Fla., when he was called to Boston by the Church last year.

Born in Lakewood, Ohio, in 1944, he attended St. Gabriel and Sacred Heart elementary schools in Pennsylvania and St. Fidelis High School in Butler, Pa. He prepared for the priesthood at St. Fidelis Seminary, also in Butler, and at the Capuchin College in Washington, D.C. In 1965, he joined the Capuchin Order, which is dedicated to following in the tradition of St. Francis of Assisi. He was ordained a priest in 1970.

Archbishop O'Malley went on to earn a master's degree in religious education and a doctorate in Spanish and Portuguese literature, both from The Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C., where he taught from 1969 to 1973.

He is a member of the United States Catholic Conference of Bishops, where he serves as chair of the Committee on Consecrated Life and is a member of several other committees. In 1998, Archbishop O'Malley was appointed by Pope John Paul II to the Special Assembly for Oceania of the Synod of Bishops.

M. ANNE SZOSTAK
*Executive Vice President and Corporate Director of Human Resources and Diversity
FleetBoston Financial*

In her 31 years of service, M. Anne Szostak has held many leadership positions at FleetBoston Financial. She is part of a management team that took Fleet from a regional bank to the seventh-largest financial holding company in the nation and which recently merged with Bank of America.

Szostak has held various leadership positions within the bank and currently heads Human Resources and Diversity. She oversees $3.9 billion in salary and benefits for 50,000 employees.

In addition to her corporate roles at the company—including an advisor to the CEO and member of the executive management committee—from 2001 to 2003, she served as chairman and CEO of Fleet Bank–Rhode Island. Szostak held that same post at Fleet–Maine from 1991 to 1994, taking it from a $13 million loss to a $44 million profit.

She is a member of two New York Stock Exchange boards—Tupperware Corp. and New England Business Service, Inc.—and is a governor and chair-elect of The Boys & Girls Clubs of America. She is also a trustee of the Institute for Contemporary Art and Women and Infants' Hospital, and a member of the Rhode Island Board of Governors for Higher Education. She recently co-chaired the Rhode Island Community Food Bank's capital campaign.

Szostak has been honored by numerous organizations including the American Heart Association, the National Conference for Community and Justice, and HR Executive magazine. Earlier this month, she was presented with the "Governor's Award for Service to Rhode Island" by Gov. Donald Carcieri.

Szostak received a bachelor's degree from Colby College, where she is a trustee emeritus. She has received honorary doctorates from Colby, Bryant College, Roger Williams University, and Husson College. She lives in Providence with her husband, Michael. They have two daughters.
