Message

FROM THE PRESIDENT

Welcome to Providence College's 87th Commencement and congratulations to the Class of 2005! Thank you for choosing Providence College as your Alma Mater, for sharing four of the most important years of your life with us and for making our ideals of truth and justice, scholarship and service your own.

Congratulations also to the parents of our graduates. Their celebration is also yours. Many of you have sent your sons and daughters to Providence College at great personal cost and sacrifice. I am grateful beyond words that you have entrusted your most precious possessions, your sons and daughters, to our care for four years. We have treated your confidence in us as a valued and sacred trust.

Congratulations are also in order for the graduates of our School of Continuing Education and our Graduate Studies Program. Your academic journey has taken you along a steeper path and on a road less traveled than that of our traditional undergraduates. Frequently, you have had to balance the difficult and changing obligations to family, work and academics. I recognize and applaud your achievements and am delighted to welcome you fully into the ranks of our Providence College graduates.

Your college experience began at a terrible crossroad in history. You have been seared by the tragedy of 9/11, tempered by the awareness that America has changed forever and sobered by the realization that you enter a world filled with both promise and peril. It is a world darkened by war and violence, plagued by hunger and homelessness, poverty and disease, a world deeply divided along the lines of religious beliefs and moral values, social behavior and political ideologies.

Though we live in difficult times, we know that adversity has always brought out the best of the American spirit. In his book The Greatest Generation, Tom Brokaw honored the ordinary men and women during the Second World War who were called upon to make extraordinary sacrifices in the face of historic challenges. In his words, they were "united...by common values—duty, honor...courage, service, love of family and country..." Like the "Greatest Generation," your generation will be called upon to protect the common values in the face of today's profound challenges.

Transform yourself. Transform society. These words could never be more resounding than they are for you, members of the Class of 2005. You have grown and been transformed by your entire college experience; now you are asked to go beyond the gates of Providence College to use all of your talents and skills to bring new hope and transformation to our society.

It has been a joy for me to have the opportunity to guide Providence College as its President for the past 11 years. Few people have been given the opportunity that I have to touch the minds and hearts of thousands of young men and women. I have been privileged to be part of nurturing your talents, sharing your dreams and shaping your hopes. Thank you for letting me be part of your life.

As you begin a new phase of your life, I pray and hope that each of you will experience God's grace and compassion, enjoy the love and support of family and friends, have children to love, a career that fulfills and length of years to enjoy it all.

College President
Rev. Philip A. Smith, O.P.

THE NATIONAL ANTHEM

"The Star-Spangled Banner"
Francis Scott Key
Led by Troy A. Quinn '05

O say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight
O'er the ramparts we watched, were so gallantly streaming!
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there:
O say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

THE ALMA MATER

From Finlandia

Jean Sibelius, arranged by Nicholas Zaricki

Led by Caitlin A. Deery '05

Mother of Truth, we proudly pledge to thee

Undying love and steadfast loyalty.

From thee we learned the wondrous work of God,

His goodness, grace, and holy power;

Clear hast thou shown what pathways must be trod;

All fearless now we brave life's hour!

Though failure frown, though kindly fortune smile,

Firm our advance, naught can us e'er beguile.

To honor bound, to love and virtue sworn,

Lift we our voice in full acclaim.

Our lives shall thee with noble deeds adorn;

Hail Providence! We praise thy name!

Honorary Degree Recipients

TOM BROKAW

Broadcast Journalist/NBC News

Former Anchor and Managing Editor, NBC Nightly News

Tom Brokaw has been a trusted news source and familiar face in television broadcasting for more than four decades. He stepped down from his daily broadcasts on December 1, 2004, after serving more than 20 years as anchor and managing editor of NBC Nightly News. Brokaw will continue with NBC News for the next 10 years, reporting and producing long-form documentaries and providing expertise during breaking news events.

Brokaw was a staple at NBC for 38 years, reporting many of the landmark events of the time. He covered every American presidential election from 1968 through 2004, was present at the toppling of the Berlin Wall in 1989, and was the first American news anchor to report that the war with Iraq had begun in March 2003.

He began his career in television news in 1962 at KMTV in Omaha, Neb., and later worked for stations in Atlanta, Ga., and Los Angeles, Calif. Brokaw joined NBC News in 1966. Among his duties as a political reporter, he covered the trauma of Watergate in the mid-1970s as NBC's White House correspondent. He anchored NBC News' Today program from 1976-81 before becoming the anchor and managing editor of NBC Nightly News.

Away from the news anchor chair, Brokaw has hosted a series of documentaries—Tom Brokaw Reports—which have addressed issues from education and Affirmative Action to the victims of Sudanese warfare and the buildup to the invasion of Iraq in 2003. He also has penned four best-selling books, including The Greatest Generation, and contributed articles, essays, and commentaries to a number of publications, including The New York Times, The Washington Post, Newsweek, Time, and National Geographic.

A native of South Dakota, Brokaw has earned broadcast journalism's most prestigious awards, including Emmy, Peabody, National Press Club, Overseas Press Club, and Alfred I. duPont-Columbia University honors. As a tribute to his outstanding career, NBC established a scholarship in Brokaw's name in 1997 benefiting children of the network's employees who pursue higher education.

A graduate of the University of South Dakota, Brokaw and his wife, Meredith, have three daughters.

DORIS ANN BURKE '87 & '92G
Basketball Analyst and Game Reporter
ESPN and Madison Square Garden Network

Doris Ann Burke '87 & '92G is regarded as a pioneer in the field of women's sports broadcasting. The basketball analyst and game reporter for ESPN and the Madison Square Garden Network has covered men's and women's basketball games at the collegiate and professional levels for 15 years.

Burke began her career on the radio in 1990, calling Providence College women's basketball games on two local stations. She joined ESPN the following year as a television color analyst for the NCAA Division II Women's Basketball Championship. In her 14 years at ESPN and, beginning in 2003, at ABC, she has worked telecasts as an analyst and/or a sideline reporter for NCAA men's and women's contests and NBA and WNBA regular-season and playoff games.

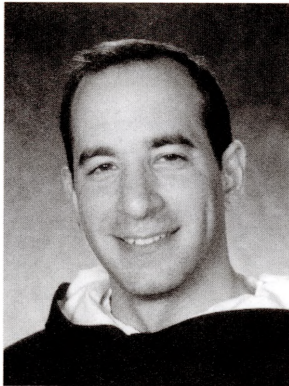

Since 1997, she has been the primary radio and television voice for the WNBA's New York Liberty. She also has called games for CBS and for NBA TV.

Burke, who grew up in Manasquan, N.J., has set a number of firsts and received numerous accolades in broadcasting. She is the first and only woman to cover a New York Knicks game on radio and television and the first to cover the BIG EAST Men's Basketball Tournament on TV. She was inducted into the Institute for International Sport Scholar Athlete Hall of Fame in 2004 and was honored with USA Today's Rudy Award as the Best New Face in Sports Television in 2003.

At PC, Burke was a Kodak District All-American in basketball her senior year and twice earned All-BIG EAST Conference honors. She was chosen PC's Female Athlete of the Year in 1987 and was inducted into the Providence College Athletic Hall of Fame in 2000. She resides in North Providence, R.I., with her husband, Gregg, and their two children.

VERY REVEREND D. DOMINIC IZZO, O.P. '88
Prior Provincial
Dominican Province of St. Joseph

The Very Reverend D. Dominic Izzo, O.P. '88 was elected to a four-year term as prior provincial of the Dominican Province of St. Joseph—based in New York City—in June 2002. In this position, he serves as chair of the Providence College Corporation.

As prior provincial, Father Izzo is the major superior and the proper ordinary of the Dominican brethren in the province, which comprises the New England states, the Middle Atlantic states, Kentucky, and Ohio. The province also administers international missions in Chile, Lebanon, Pakistan, Peru, the Solomon Islands, and Eastern Africa.

Prior to his election as prior provincial, Father Izzo served the Vicariate of Eastern Africa for seven years. He served as superior of the Dominicans' mission in Nairobi, Kenya; as vicariate economic administrator; and as master of students, senior lecturer, and director of the Institute of Spirituality and Religious Formation at Tangaza College, the Catholic university of East Africa, in Nairobi. He was named vicar provincial of Eastern Africa in May 2000.

Father Izzo grew up in Cranston, R.I. He attended West View School and St. Mary's School and graduated from Cranston High School West. He attained his bachelor's degree in philosophy from PC in 1988 and entered the Dominican novitiate that same year.

Father Izzo earned both a master's degree in theology and his licentiate in sacred scripture from the Dominican House of Studies in Washington, D.C. He was ordained at St. Dominic Church in Washington on May 20, 1994.

A member of the National Board of the Conference of Major Superiors of Men (CMSM) since 1993, he was elected president of the CMSM by major superiors in the conference in August 2004. He will begin his two-year term this August. The CMSM is an association of more than 20,000 priests and brothers representing 210 Catholic communities in the United States.

DR. RUTH J. SIMMONS

President

Brown University

Dr. Ruth J. Simmons has dedicated her entire professional life to the advancement of higher education. She is the first female president in Brown University history and the first African-American to head an Ivy League institution.

Simmons was appointed president of Brown in 2001 and has worked to improve the academic core of the university. She has increased the number of faculty significantly; established a financial aid process to ensure that all worthy applicants have access to the university regardless of their ability to pay; and made substantial new investments in libraries, information technology, and academic space. She also has worked to ensure that diversity informs every dimension of the University.

Her professional journey in higher education has comprised service at nine colleges and universities. Simmons became a full-time faculty member at the University of New Orleans in 1973 and served as assistant dean of the College of Liberal Arts there in 1975-76.

During the next 14 years, she held various administrative positions at California State University-Northridge, the University of Southern California, and Princeton University. She was named provost at Spelman College in 1990 and then returned to Princeton in 1992 as vice provost. She was appointed president of Smith College in 1995 and held that position until leaving for Brown.

Simmons has been honored with numerous lifetime achievement and humanitarian awards, including the Centennial Medal from Harvard University, the President's Award from the Negro College Fund, and the 2002 Fulbright Lifetime Achievement Medal.

A Texas native and the mother of a daughter and a son, she graduated summa cum laude from Dillard University in 1967 and received her master's and doctoral degrees from Harvard University in 1970 and 1973, respectively. She holds honorary degrees from nearly two-dozen colleges and universities and is a member of more than a dozen boards and committees.

ROBERT E. WHITE
President
Center for International Policy

Robert E. White has led a distinguished career in foreign and domestic service, including serving as U.S. ambassador to two countries and, for the last 15 years, as the president of the Center for International Policy (CIP) in Washington, D.C. Founded in 1975, the center is a non-profit research and advocacy organization that encourages a U.S. foreign policy aimed at cooperation, demilitarization, and respect for basic human rights.

As CIP president, White has presided at conferences and led delegations to a number of Latin American and Caribbean nations. He has published several studies on U.S. foreign policy toward these regions and fought to reform U.S. intelligence agencies.

White spent the first 26 years of his career in the United States Foreign Service, specializing in Latin American affairs with an emphasis on Central America. He started out as an international economist with the Department of State from 1955-58. During the next two-plus decades, he held numerous Foreign Service posts around the world, primarily with American embassies and consulates.

These positions included serving as Peace Corps director for Latin America from 1968-70; as deputy chief of mission for the American Embassy in Managua, Nicaragua (1970-72), and in Bogota, Colombia (1972-75), as well as for the Organization of American States (1975-77); and as ambassador to Paraguay (1977-79) and El Salvador (1979-81).

After leaving the Foreign Service, White was the senior associate for the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace from 1981-83 before being appointed professor of international relations at Simmons College for the next two years. From 1985-90, he served as president of the International Center for Development Policy.

The Melrose, Mass., native graduated from St. Michael's College in Winooski, Vt., in 1952 and was awarded a Fulbright Scholarship to study in England following graduation. He earned a master's degree from the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy in Medford, Mass., in 1954. White and his wife, Mary Anne, have five children.
