THE NATIONAL ANTHEM

“The Star-Spangled Banner”
Francis Scott Key
Led by Elena M. Blyskal '08

O say, can you see, by the dawn’s early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight’s last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight
O’er the ramparts we watched, were so gallantly streaming!
And the rockets’ red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there:
O say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O’er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

From Finlandia

Jean Sibelius, arranged by Nicholas Zaricki and Michael McNamara '08
Led by Amanda B. Paquin '08

Mother of Truth, we proudly pledge to thee
Undying love and steadfast loyalty.
From thee we learned the wondrous work of God,
His goodness, grace, and holy power;
Clear hast thou shown what pathways must be trod;
All fearless now we brave life's hour!

Though failure frown, though kindly fortune smile,
Firm our advance, naught can us e'er beguile.
To honor bound, to love and virtue sworn,
Lift we our voice in full acclaim.
Our lives shall thee with noble deeds adorn;
Hail Providence! We praise thy name!

Honorary Degree Recipients

THE HONORABLE FRANK CAPRIO '58, J.D.

Chief Judge, Providence Municipal Court

Senior Partner, Caprio and Caprio Law Office in Providence

For nearly five decades, The Honorable Frank Caprio '58 has built a reputation as a dedicated public servant and a fair-minded jurist and attorney.

The son of immigrant parents, Caprio financed his education at Providence College by working as a dishwasher and cook. After graduating with a degree in political science, he continued his education at Rhode Island College and then returned to PC to earn his teaching certificate. He began teaching American government and history at Hope High School in Providence.

While teaching and starting a family, Caprio attended Suffolk University Law School at night and earned his juris doctor degree in 1965.

Since 1985, Caprio has served as chief judge of the Providence Municipal Court. He is known to many as the star of Caught in Providence, a cable access show that follows the proceedings of the court. As chief judge, he is respected as a jurist who demonstrates understanding and concern for defendants while upholding the integrity of the legal system.

In addition to his work in the legal field, Caprio serves as chairperson of the Rhode Island Board of Governors for Higher Education, is a member of the College's Providence President's Council, and is a former national chairperson of PC's Annual Fund. He is currently celebrating his 50th anniversary as a PC alumnus.

Mindful of his early days, Caprio has established need-based scholarship funds at three of his alma maters and has demonstrated exemplary civic spirit. He was a five-time delegate to the Democratic National Convention, has served on the Providence City Council, and has volunteered with the Boys Town of Italy, the Nickerson House Juvenile Court, and the Rhode Island Community Food Bank, among other organizations.

Caprio lives in Narragansett, R.I., with his wife, Joyce. He is the father of five children, including Rhode Island General Treasurer Frank T. Caprio and Rhode Island State Rep. David A. Caprio.

ZYGMUNT J. FRIEDEMANN, PH.D.

Professor Emeritus of Political Science, Providence College

A testament to the power of the human spirit, Dr. Zygmunt J. Friedemann survived imprisonment by the Nazis to transform the lives of thousands of students and citizens as an educator and lawmaker.

Born in Krakow, Poland, in 1920, Friedemann spent several years on the run as a member of the Polish underground movement. Eventually captured, he spent three years in two Nazi concentration camps but was later liberated by American forces. Upon being freed, he worked for the U.S. Army as an interpreter and liaison—helping to relocate freed refugees—before immigrating to the United States in 1948.

Once in the U.S., Friedemann worked as a jewelry polisher and started taking classes at Boston University. He earned a bachelor's degree in 1954. He later attained his master's and doctoral degrees in political science from Brown University.

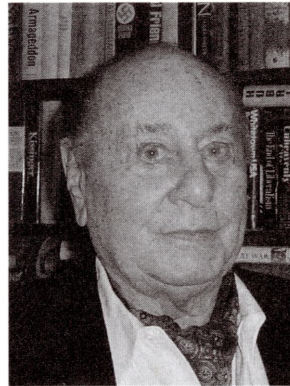

Friedemann joined the PC faculty in 1956. During his 34-year tenure, he served as chair of the Department of Political Science from 1966-1974 and led the effort to improve the quality of the department's faculty.

A demanding, fair, and passionate teacher, he also served on numerous academic committees, most notably those on Academic Rank and Tenure and on Studies. He was presented the Distinguished Faculty Award by the PC Alumni Association in 1973.

In 1974, Friedemann was elected to his first of eight terms as a state representative in the Rhode Island General Assembly, where he was the driving force behind the creation of the first statewide emergency "9-1-1" system in the country.

In addition to his service in the General Assembly, he served as president of the World Affairs Council of Rhode Island and as chairperson of the Rhode Island Consumers Council.

Friedemann lives in Warwick, R.I. He and his wife, Ruth, are the parents of Gail Weisberger '78 and Glenn Friedemann '80.

MAJOR MICHAEL P. MANNING '97

Rhode Island Army National Guard

Operations Officer, Special Operations Detachment-Global

Whether it has been on the battlefield or through his efforts to promote cross-cultural relations, Rhode Island Army National Guard (RIARNG) Major Michael P. Manning '97, a Bronze Star Medal veteran of the Iraq War, has served his country honorably for more than a decade.

After being commissioned through the Providence College ROTC program and graduating with a bachelor's degree in history in 1997, Manning began his service with the U.S. Army in Germany in 1998. During a two-year service tour in Europe, he was deployed for six months in war-torn Kosovo as part of a mission to repress ethnic strife and repatriate Kosovar Albanians.

In 2000, Manning transferred to traditional status with the RIARNG while pursuing civilian career interests, but he returned to active duty with the RIARNG in 2003. Subsequently, he was assigned to PC as an instructor of military science for seven months.

In 2004, Manning and his unit, the 173rd Infantry Company, were mobilized in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom. As commander of the unit, he served in Iraq from January through November 2005. For his service, Manning was awarded the Bronze Star Medal.

In addition to the Bronze Star, Manning has received many other esteemed military commendations, including the Meritorious Service Medal, the Army Commendation Medal with two Oak Leaf Clusters, and the Army Achievement Medal with one Oak Leaf Cluster.

Following his time in Iraq, Manning became the first coordinator of the State Partnership Program (SPP), a RIARNG initiative that seeks to foster cultural understanding, military partnership, and educational opportunities between citizens in Rhode Island and The Bahamas.

Currently, Manning is serving as the operations officer with Special Operations Detachment-Global (SOD-G), one of the Rhode Island National Guard's two special-operations units. The unit has been deployed in support of the Global War on Terror.

Manning resides in North Kingstown, R.I., with his wife, Meg DiChello Manning '98, and their three children.

REVEREND GREGORY R. RAMKISSOON

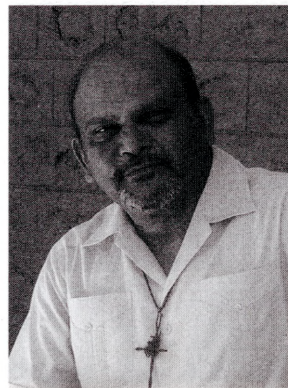

Founder/Executive Director, Mustard Seed Communities in Jamaica, West Indies

As a priest and as a leader of a non-profit service organization, Rev. Gregory R. Ramkissoon has dedicated his life to serving society's most vulnerable people.

Six years before he was ordained a Roman Catholic priest in 1984, Father Ramkissoon founded and continues to direct Mustard Seed Communities, a service outreach and community development organization based in Jamaica.

The largest non-governmental organization in the Caribbean, Mustard Seed Communities is dedicated to "bringing Christ into the lives of the poverty-stricken."

Today, the organization cares for more than 400 abandoned and handicapped children and children living with HIV/AIDS. It has expanded into Nicaragua, Zimbabwe, and the Dominican Republic. It directs 13 apostolates in Jamaica alone. In addition, the non-profit has changed how social work programs are developed from a welfare model to a development model.

Through Mustard Seed Communities, Father Ramkissoon has started a number of income-generating projects such as fish and egg farming and ceramic and card shops. He also established an Internet café, which enables inner-city residents access to homework assistance and computer training.

In addition to Mustard Seed Communities, Father Ramkissoon is a director of Food for the Poor in Florida, the Jamaica Malnourishment Foundation, and Roots 96.1 FM, the largest community urban radio station in the Caribbean and Central America.

A graduate of the University of the West Indies, Father Ramkissoon also holds two master's degrees from Boston College and has been recognized several times for his outstanding service and compassion.

Among other honors, he received the Press Association of Jamaica Award for Outstanding National Service, the FAO United Nations World Food Day Award, a Caribbean Laureate from the Anthony N. Sabga Caribbean Awards for Excellence, and the Commander of Distinction Award by the Jamaican government.

Father Ramkissoon resides in Kingston, Jamaica.
