THE NATIONAL ANTHEM

The Star-Spangled Banner

by Francis Scott Key

Led by Rebecca Brendli '10

Brittanie Fain '10

O say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight
O'er the ramparts we watched, were so gallantly streaming!
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there:
O say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

Performed by the Providence College Symphonic Winds

Christopher Kelton, D.M., Director of Instrumental Activities

Led by Jaclyn Tirocchi '10
Marie Putko '10

Mother of Truth, we proudly pledge to thee
Undying love and steadfast loyalty.
From thee we learned the wondrous work of God,
His goodness, grace, and holy power;
Clear hast thou shown what pathways must be trod;
All fearless now we brave life's hour!

Though failure frown, though kindly fortune smile,
Firm our advance, naught can us e'er beguile.
To honor bound, to love and virtue sworn,
Lift we our voice in full acclaim.
Our lives shall thee with noble deeds adorn;
Hail Providence! We praise thy name!

THE HONORABLE DONALD L. CARCIERI

Fifty-Seventh Governor of the State of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations

A dedicated teacher early in his career and a former nonprofit organization and business executive, Donald L. Carcieri has been a champion of reform during his two terms as Rhode Island governor.

Sworn in as the state's 57th governor in 2003, Carcieri has focused on improving government operations and education, strengthening economic development, and guiding the state's efforts to become a national leader in renewable energy resources.

Among his many accomplishments during his gubernatorial tenure, he has led efforts to establish statewide K-12 standards and new rigorous high school graduation requirements; overseen the construction of the $610 million "Iway" relocation project on routes 95 and 195 in Providence; signed the Comprehensive Fire Safety Act of 2003; and facilitated what would be the first alternative-energy, offshore wind project in North America.

Carcieri began his professional career as a math teacher at high schools in Rhode Island and Massachusetts. Leaving the classroom for the business world, he spent 10 years at the former Old Stone Bank, reaching the position of executive vice president.

In 1981, he left Old Stone to lead the Catholic Relief Services' West Indies operation in Kingston, Jamaica, for two years.

Following that humanitarian commitment, Carcieri moved his family back to Rhode Island in 1983 and joined Cookson America as the president of a small startup company in the group. During his 14-year career with the company, he rose to become chief executive officer of Cookson America and joint managing director of Cookson Group Worldwide. The company grew from $30 million in sales to more than $3 billion during his tenure.

A 1965 graduate of Brown University with a bachelor's degree in international relations, Carcieri lives in East Greenwich, R.I., with his wife, Suzanne. They have four children and 14 grandchildren.

THE HONORABLE WILLIAM C. LEARY, ESQ. '60
Probate Judge, State of Connecticut (Retired)
Of Counsel, O'Malley, Deneen, Leary, Messina & Oswecki, Attorneys at Law

Respected as much for his keen mind as for his caring and compassionate demeanor, few have impacted the legal profession in the State of Connecticut like The Honorable William C. Leary, Esq. '60.

Currently of counsel for a law firm in Windsor, Conn., Leary has served as an attorney for 45 years. From 1971 to 2008, he was a State of Connecticut Probate Court Judge for the District of Windsor Locks. He also served three terms in the Connecticut State Legislature from 1967 to 1971.

During his career, Leary has built a reputation for assisting victims of substance abuse and mental health issues, including members of the legal profession. He has been honored by the Connecticut General Assembly and the state Supreme Court for his efforts in these areas, including helping establish the Lawyers Assistance Program for Mental Health/Substance Abuse Treatment.

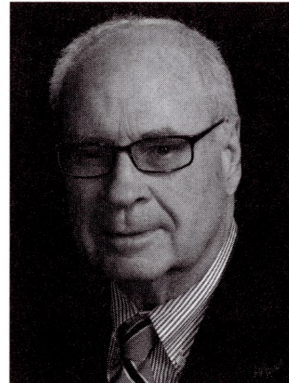

Earlier this year, he was selected as the recipient of the Service to the Profession Award by the Connecticut Law Tribune for his support in establishing a state chapter of Lawyers Concerned for Lawyers, a lawyer assistance program, which he serves as board chairman.

Leary's passion for his profession is emblematic of his life. He is a member of more than a dozen civic, community, and charitable organizations, including serving as treasurer and director of the Enfield Loaves & Fishes Soup Kitchen.

At PC, Leary is a member of the President's Council and of the Development and Alumni Affairs Committee of the Board of Trustees. A former president of the National Alumni Association and the recipient of its Exemplary Citizenship Award in 2000, he is extensively involved in alumni activities. Leary and his wife, Emily, are leading College benefactors, particularly of the women's and men's ice hockey programs.

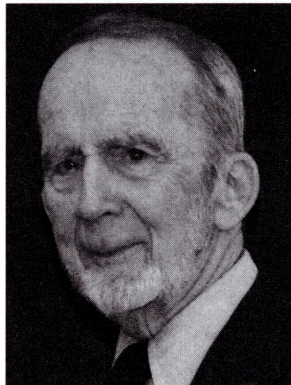

After graduating from PC with a bachelor's degree in political science in 1960, Leary received his juris doctor from the University of Connecticut Law School in 1965.

The Learys live in Windsor Locks.

FRANCIS R. TRAINOR, PH.D. '50

Professor Emeritus of Biology, University of Connecticut

Dr. Francis R. Trainor's focus as a biologist has never waned.

More than a decade after "retiring" from teaching at the University of Connecticut, he writes scholarly articles and remains fascinated by his research passion: green microalgae and their culture, nutrition, and development.

Trainor joined the UConn faculty in 1957 fresh out of Vanderbilt University, where he attained his master's and doctoral degrees. He taught at UConn for 40 years, retiring as professor emeritus in the Department of Ecology and Evolutionary Biology.

Throughout his career, he has written or co-written more than 100 papers and articles in a variety of science journals and periodicals. Nearly 10 of these manuscripts have been published since he retired, including one last year. Trainor also has written two books, including a textbook, Introductory Phycology (John Wiley and Sons, Inc., 1978).

Trainor's research and intellect in phycology and morphology are legendary. He received the Distinguished Faculty Award for Teaching from UConn in 1962, the Darbaker Award for meritorious research on algae from the Botanical Society of America in 1965, was a Phycological Society of America National Lecturer from 1983-85, and received its Award of Excellence in 2001.

In the 1970s, he received Fulbright awards as a research scholar in Sweden and as a lecturer in Yugoslavia and Greece.

He is a member of more than half a dozen professional societies, including Sigma XI, Phi Kappa Phi, and the International Phycological Society.

Trainor earned a bachelor's degree in biology from PC in 1950 and has maintained close ties to the College. He regularly attends alumni events, has volunteered with the Office of Career Services, and is a leading benefactor. In 1995, he received the PC National Alumni Association's Bishop Harkins Award for outstanding contributions to the Catholic Church. He also is a former president of the alumni association.

Trainor and his wife, Margaret, live in Mansfield, Conn.

ANN CURRY

News Anchor and Correspondent, Today; Anchor, Dateline NBC

In the newsroom, on the field of battle, or on the scene of natural disasters and human atrocities, Ann Curry has distinguished herself as a passionate, award-winning journalist for more than three decades.

Curry is the news anchor and a correspondent for NBC's Today show and anchor of the newsmagazine Dateline NBC. She also serves as a substitute anchor for NBC Nightly News with Brian Williams.

After beginning her career as a television reporter in Oregon and Los Angeles, Curry joined NBC in 1990 as a Chicago-based news correspondent. In 1992, she was named anchor of NBC News at Sunrise. She later helped launch cable news station MSNBC before joining Today in 1997.

Praised for her coverage of global humanitarian issues, Curry has reported extensively on wars, crimes against humanity, genocide, and natural disasters as one of the world's leading international TV correspondents.

She has traveled to Sudan to report on violence and ethnic cleansing and to Serbia to examine the deplorable conditions of mental institutions and genocide. She has reported on the War on Terror from the Arabian Sea, Baghdad, Qatar, and Kuwait.

This year, Curry was one of the first reporters on the ground in Haiti and Chile after those countries were devastated by earthquakes.

Curry has conducted numerous exclusive interviews with world leaders and dignitaries including the Dalai Lama; former Pakistani Prime Minister Benazir Bhutto, just two months before her assassination; Pakistani President Asif Ali Zardari, in his first-ever interview with an American news organization; Liberia's Ellen Johnson-Sirleaf, the first female elected president of an African nation; Syria's President Bashar al-Assad; and Iranian President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad.

Among her many honors, Curry has earned four Emmy Awards, four Golden Mikes, three Gracie Allen Awards, an award for Excellence in Reporting from the NAACP, and the Simon Wiesenthal Medal of Valor.

Curry graduated from the University of Oregon School of Journalism in 1978.
