THE NATIONAL ANTHEM

The Star-Spangled Banner
by Francis Scott Key
Led by Matthew Charles Cunningham '12

O say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight
O'er the ramparts we watched, were so gallantly streaming!
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there:
O say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

THE ALMA MATER

From Finlandia
by Jean Sibelius
Led by Lindsay E. Kelley '12

Mother of Truth, we proudly pledge to thee
Undying love and steadfast loyalty.
From thee we learned the wondrous work of God,
His goodness, grace, and holy power;
Clear hast thou shown what pathways must be trod;
All fearless now we brave life's hour!

Though failure frown, though kindly fortune smile,
Firm our advance; naught can us e'er beguile.
To honor bound, to love and virtue sworn,
Lift we our voice in full acclaim;
Our lives shall thee with noble deeds adorn;
Hail Providence! We praise thy name!

CHARLES J. GOETZ, PH.D. '61

Joseph M. Hartfield Chair Emeritus, University of Virginia School of Law

Charles J. Goetz '61 is an acclaimed scholar whose groundbreaking work fundamentally has altered the academic field of Law and Economics, where economic analysis is used to examine legal issues.

A New York City native, Dr. Goetz graduated from Providence College summa cum laude before earning a Ph.D. in economics from the University of Virginia in only three years. After a year as a NATO Postdoctoral Fellow at the University of Pavia in Italy, Dr. Goetz joined the University of Illinois economics faculty, where he remained until becoming an economics professor at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, better known as Virginia Tech, in 1967.

At Virginia Tech, Dr. Goetz earned promotion to the rank of full professor and became director of Graduate Studies in Economics, while gaining prominence in the emerging field of Public Choice Economics.

In 1975, Dr. Goetz accepted an invitation to join the University of Virginia School of Law faculty, where he joined with other scholars to work in the developing Law and Economics movement. Dr. Goetz and co-author Robert Scott wrote a series of scholarly articles that have had a significant and lasting impact on Contract Law scholarship. Dr. Goetz served as UVA's Joseph M. Hartfield Professor of Law from 1982 through 2006, and he currently holds the title of Hartfield Professor of Law Emeritus.

Despite never having attended law school, Dr. Goetz has achieved a national reputation in several traditional aspects of law, including contracts, commercial litigation, and the adjudication of Social Security disability claims. He is co-author of an antitrust law textbook that is in its fourth edition. Dr. Goetz, who has earned a reputation for being able to apply theory to real-world applications, was largely responsible for a 1990s settlement strategy used by the Dalkon Shield Claimants Trust. That strategy brought about one of the most successful settlements ever for mass tort litigation claimants.

A champion distance runner and long-time computer hobbyist, Dr. Goetz is known for untiring service to the judiciary and to the Commonwealth of Virginia, which honored him with the Patrick Henry Award for Public Service in 2001.

He is married to the former Judith Condon, whom he met three weeks into his first year at Providence College. They are the parents of three sons, Charles III, Daniel, and Eric.

CATHERINE “CAMMI” GRANATO '93

Entrepreneur and Olympic Gold Medalist

Women's ice hockey pioneer Catherine “Cammi” Granato '93 has earned recognition and accolades unprecedented in her sport. At the same time, she has inspired countless others — including young athletes who aspire to greatness — with her work ethic, commitment to team success, and tireless efforts to promote the sport she exemplifies in the United States.

Born in the Chicago suburb of Downers Grove, Ms. Granato grew up in a hockey-playing family of six children, including four brothers — among them former University of Wisconsin, U.S. Olympic, and NHL star Tony Granato. She played on boys' teams until the age of 16, developing as a student-athlete who would earn a Providence College scholarship and become the Friars' most accomplished player, amassing an astonishing 256 career points, including a record 84 during her senior season. Ms. Granato was a four-time ECAC All-Star who was named conference Player of the Year three consecutive seasons. She also led PC to league championships in 1992 and 1993.

As a Providence College student, Ms. Granato joined the new U.S. Women's National Team, launching an international playing career that would bring widespread attention to her skills as a player, attributes as a leader, and capabilities as an ambassador for the sport. A member of national teams from 1990 to 2005, Ms. Granato was a key player on the teams that brought U.S. women's ice hockey to the mainstream as an Olympic sport.

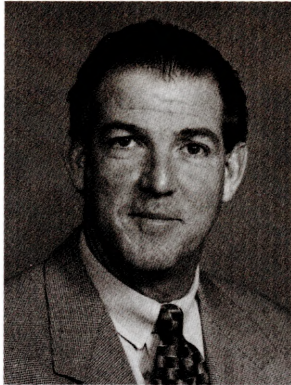

On the Olympic stage, Ms. Granato stood out. A star player and the captain on the U.S. team that upset Canada to win the first women's ice hockey gold medal, at Nagano in 1998, she helped capture the imagination of the American public, leading to a dramatic increase in opportunities for women in ice hockey. Ms. Granato also won a silver medal as a member of the U.S. team in the 2002 Salt Lake City Games.

She is currently applying her skills and initiative to business ventures related to hockey, including Bela Hockey, a business that develops hockey apparel and equipment for girls, while providing encouragement for those who want to be introduced to the game of hockey. In addition, Ms. Granato has earned critical praise for her work as a television hockey analyst.

In perhaps the crowning achievement of her stellar career, Ms. Granato was inducted into the Hockey Hall of Fame in November 2010, joining former Canadian star Angela James as the first two women to receive that honor.

PAUL A. KEARNEY, JR., M.D., FACS '75

Professor of Surgery, University of Kentucky Medical Center

A member of one of Providence College's most loyal and dedicated families, Paul A. Kearney '75 is a distinguished physician whose professional accomplishments are characterized by compassion, innovation, and an unwavering commitment to the healthcare profession.

Dr. Kearney, a native of Short Hills, N.J., is the oldest of nine children and one of eight siblings to follow in their father's footsteps and earn a Providence College degree. Dr. Kearney's father, Paul '39, was also a physician, as is his brother, Robert '75. Dr. Kearney's late wife, Mary Elizabeth, was also a member of the Class of 1975.

After earning a PC biology degree, Dr. Kearney received an M.D. from Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia, followed by a master's degree in Clinical Research Design and Biostatistics from the University of Michigan School of Public Health. He currently serves as Professor of Surgery at the University of Kentucky Medical Center, where the Paul A. Kearney M.D. Endowed Chair in Trauma Surgery has been established in his name.

A specialist in trauma surgery and surgical critical care, Dr. Kearney has been affiliated with the University of Kentucky, where he has held a number of medical staff and administrative appointments, since 1988. He also is an accomplished and prolific medical scholar who has published more than 70 peer-reviewed scientific journal articles, while making a similar number of presentations at scientific meetings.

Dr. Kearney has served as Principal Investigator for more than 40 funded research projects in areas such as trauma, acute respiratory failure, surgical infection, and surgical nutrition. A sought-after speaker on these and other related medical subjects, he has made more than 100 public presentations in his areas of expertise. He also is an active member of several prestigious national medical organizations working to advance the practice of medicine, including the American Association for the Surgery of Trauma and the American College of Surgeons.

Dr. Kearney is an active volunteer in "Surgery on Sunday," a Lexington program that provides surgical services to needy and uninsured patients.

DEACON PATRICK J.A. MOYNIHAN '99G

President of The Haitian Project

A living example of Christian service to others, Deacon Patrick Moynihan '99G is committed to building Haiti's future by providing a positive, nurturing educational environment for academically talented young people who come from some of that country's poorest families. Deacon Moynihan helps those students maximize their potential to enable them to work toward building a Haiti where peace and justice will thrive.

His passion for missionary work in Haiti began long before the devastating 2010 earthquake, a tragedy which has brought sharp focus to the needs of that country's people and the importance of holistic efforts to improve lives.

Deacon Moynihan is president of The Haitian Project (THP), a Providence-based non-profit organization that operates Louverture Cleary School, a Catholic secondary boarding school that serves some 350 students. The school also works to foster in its students concern for social justice, the environment, the advancement of women in society, and, most importantly, the concept that students should give back to the country for free what they have received for free. Under his leadership, the school has gained support from seven Catholic dioceses while growing from 65 students to its current size. Deacon Moynihan also has overseen a fundraising campaign that has erased the organization's debt, established endowments to support mission stabilization and student scholarships, renovated the physical plant, and started a solar project that will eventually provide all of the school's energy.

Having earned a bachelor's degree from Brown University magna cum laude in 1987 and having worked as a commodity trader and manager for five years, Deacon Moynihan answered God's call to missionary work. With the support of his family, and at the urging of his brother, Brian Moynihan (Bank of America CEO), Deacon Moynihan became president of The Haitian Project, a post he held from 1996 through 2006. He returned to that position in March 2009 after serving as President Emeritus in the interim. In 1999, he earned a Providence College master's degree in religious studies, and he was ordained a Permanent Deacon in 2001.

Deacon Moynihan serves as spokesperson for The Haitian Project, visiting Catholic and secular organizations to describe the organization's work and its transformational impact on the people it serves. He also is a recognized expert on Haiti and the imperative of Transformational Development guided by subsidiarity and solidarity as an important alternative to the aid industry and large international Non-Governmental Organizations.

With his wife, Christina, and their four children, Deacon Moynihan returned to Haiti in the summer of 2009. In December of that year, the family made the commitment to stay in Haiti to support THP's mission ad infinitum.

VIOLA DAVIS

Actor

Viola Davis' extraordinary work in film, television, and theatre has earned critical acclaim and multiple awards while bringing pride to fans in her home state of Rhode Island.

Having grown up in Central Falls, Ms. Davis began her stage career at Providence's Trinity Repertory Company where she performed from 1988-1995, before moving to New York where her many performances have included Tony Award- and Drama Desk Award-winning roles in King Hedley II and Fences.

The versatile performer's credits include recurring roles on NBC's Law & Order: SVU and the CBS mini-series Jesse Stone, and Showtime's United States of Tara, along with numerous other starring roles and guest appearances.

It is Ms. Davis' film career that has gained the most positive and widespread notice, especially since her remarkable portrayal of Aibileen Clark in the award-winning 2011 film The Help. Set in 1960s Mississippi, The Help chronicles the relationship among three extraordinary women who build an unlikely friendship around a secret writing project. Ms. Davis' role earned her a Screen Actors Guild award for "Best Actress," along with Golden Globe and Academy Award nominations in that same category.

In her various roles on television and in film, Ms. Davis has acted alongside some of our best-known contemporary performers including Meryl Streep, Diane Lane, Richard Gere, George Clooney, Julianne Moore, and Tom Cruise.

Ms. Davis traces her passion for acting and the arts to her days at Central Falls High School, when Bernard Masterson, director of West Warwick's Young People's School for the Performing Arts, noticed her talent and awarded her a scholarship to study in that program. She continues to provide support to Central Falls education initiatives, including the establishment of an Upward Bound Scholarship Endowment fund.

A graduate of the Juilliard School and Rhode Island College, Ms. Davis lives in Los Angeles with her husband, actor Julius Tennon, and their daughter, Genesis.
