

PROVIDENCE

President's Christmas Message — 1980

Christmas is the season of brightness. A heavenly host announced to a darkened world that the brightness of God shone round it. The look of wonder radiating from the face of the Mother of Jesus beamed forth the profoundly simple message, "God loves you." Joseph brightened the Christmas scene with his strength, the shepherds with their faith and the angels with their promise of peace.

May the true brightness of Christmas light up your lives in this season and throughout the year. As God shared with us His Living Word of Promise, so may we by word and work resolve to share with one another the meaning of His love. The message of Bethlehem has brightened our lives. Each day we must live so as to proclaim this message and make it brighten our world.

Thomas R. Peterson, O.P.
President

FACULTY NOTES

Sally T. Czachor, Assistant Dean of the Undergraduate School, has been elected Chairman of the Statewide Health Coordinating Council, a 30-member panel of health care "providers" and "consumers" with authority over the planning and future development of Rhode Island's health care system.

Professor of Political Science Mary Bellhouse has received a grant from the U.S. National Science Foundation and the French National Center for Scientific Research. She will serve as a research associate at the University of Nanterre for the academic year, 1980-81. Dr. Bellhouse also presented a paper, "Art, Work and the People in Eighteenth Century France" at the Northeast American Society for Eighteenth Century Studies annual meeting, held at Long Island University. During Dr. Bellhouse's absence, Professor Alan Smith of Yale University will offer courses in Political Theory.

Dr. Elaine Chaika of the Linguistics Program has been commissioned to write an article on New England Speech by Yankee. Dr. Chaika has also had 4 works accepted for publication: "Jargons and Language Change" (Anthropological Linguistics); "How Shall a Discourse be Understood?" (Discourse Processes 4); "Linguistics Looks at Psychiatry: A Study in the Analysis of Discourse" (In: Robert DiPietro, editor. Proceedings at the First Delaware Symposium on Language Studies). "Language: The Social Mirror" (Rowley, Mass.: Newbury House). Dr. Chaika has also recently finished collecting data at Butler Hospital for a study of the ways schizophrenics encode events into narratives and later recall them.

At the Third Symposium of the North American Apiotherapy Society in Washington, D.C., Dr. James Belliveau of the Chemistry Department and Dr. Gerard P. O'Leary of the Biology Department collaborated on two presentations: "A Survey of the Plasma Corticosteroids in Various Animal and Human Arthritic Conditions", and "The Reliability of Using the Adjuvant Induced Arthritic Rat Model in Arthritis Research." Drs. Belliveau and O'Leary were also elected to the Science Advisory Board of the Warren Memorial Arthritis Foundation at this Symposium.

LOYALTY FUND ENTERS REGIONAL PHASE — The 1980-81 Loyalty Fund is continuing its torrid pace as it moves from the special gifts concentration stage into the regional phonathon phase.

As this issue of Update went to press, 3907 gifts and pledges totalling $431,951 had already been amassed compared to 3,373 gifts and pledges amounting to $346,916 as of the same time last year.

Included in this year's totals to-date are $331,266 from alumni, $23,178 from parents, $26,697 from friends, $45,925 from corporations and $4,885 from non-alumni faculty-staff.

Having completed a round of successful phonathons at the Chapin Incorporators, Chapin Associates, President's, Chancellor's, Dean's and Century Club levels, the Fund will now concentrate on reaching alumni for gifts at all levels through a series of phonathons in selected cities throughout the country over the next four months.

The regional phonathons commence with Minneapolis, Minnesota on December 28 and conclude with San Francisco, California on April 6 and are in addition to the regular fund appeals mailed from the college throughout the year.

All alumni are urged to mail in their Loyalty Fund pledges as soon as possible to minimize the number of calls to be made, and anyone wishing to volunteer to work on the regional phonathons listed in our previous Update can do so by calling the Development Office collect at 401-865-2415.

STUDENT SAILING CLUB REVIVED — OFFICERS SEEK ALUMNI SUPPORT

An unexpectedly high turnout by students at initial meetings has caused the once defunct Providence College Sailing Club to be revived.

Since its founding in the early 1970's, the club has experienced an erratic history. But with the overwhelming support this year, the officers hope to achieve five basic goals:

- (1) Restoration of 2 boats which the club presently owns.
- (2) Re-entering collegiate competition.
- (3) Increasing overall student interest and participation.

(4) Renting or borrowing boats for practice.

(5) Purchasing additional boats.

The present officers are:

President — David Concordia '84

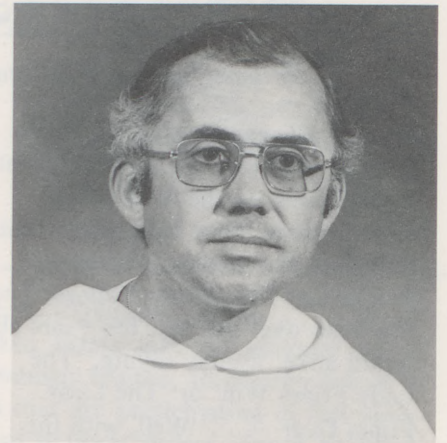

Vice President — Diane Grimmig '83

Treasurer - William Palmer '83

Secretary - Michelle Brunet '83

The club would appreciate any assistance, financial, organizational or otherwise that could be offered. Specifically, they would like to get in contact with past officers and members. Anyone wishing to reach the sailing club, please write to William Palmer, P.O. Box 2322, Providence, R.I. 02918.

REV. J. STUART McPHAIL, O.P. APPOINTED SUB-PRIOR OF PC'S DOMINICAN COMMUNITY

The Rev. J. Stuart McPhail, O.P., a native of Providence, RI, has been appointed the Sub-Prior of the Dominican community at Providence College.

As Sub-Prior, Father McPhail will directly assist the Very Rev. William B. Ryan, O.P., who, as Prior, is the religious superior for more than 80 Dominican priests and brothers in residence at the college. Providence's St. Thomas Aquinas Priory is the largest community of Dominican priests in the world.

In the absence of the Prior, Father McPhail will assume his responsibilities and arrange for the election of a new Prior by the community as the need arises. Fr. McPhail also coordinates all week-end assignments for the priests who visit parishes throughout the diocese on a regular basis.

Fr. McPhail, a 1961 alumnus of Providence College, was ordained to the priesthood in 1964. He also attended the Dominican House of Studies in Washington, DC, Boston University, and the Catholic University of America. He holds the Bachelor's Licentiate and Lector's degrees in Sacred Theology.

Presently a special lecturer in the Religious Studies Department, Father McPhail is the Director of Special Events for the College as well as Assistant Director of Slavin Center, the student union.

Fr. McPhail is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward McPhail of 9 Country-side Drive, North Providence, RI.

ELEANOR A. CASSERLY '44 MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP FUND —
Shown presenting a $10,025 passbook to the Very Rev. Thomas R. Peterson, O.P., Providence College President are Thomas F. Casserly, a 1946 PC alumnus, and his children, Barbara A. Casserly, a PC senior, and Thomas J. Casserly, a 1977 graduate.

The presentation of the passbook marked the establishment of the Eleanor A. Casserly '44 Memorial Scholarship Fund, which was created as a tribute to the late Miss Casserly, who graduated in 1944 from Providence College's School of Continuing Education. Miss Casserly received a Bachelor of Philosophy degree by attending evening classes while working full-time for New England Telephone and Telegraph Company in Providence.

The income from the savings account at the Telephone Credit Union of R.I. will be used to provide annual scholarship assistant for students in PC's School of Continuing Education, who must work full-time while studying for a college degree.

The Casserly Fund, which was established by Eleanor's sisters, Mrs. Margaret C. Fallon and Dr. Catherine M. Casserly, and brother, Thomas F. Casserly, along with other friends and relatives, is the first endowed scholarship fund founded specifically for students studying in the college's School of Continuing Education.

LADY FRIARS FALL WRAP-UP

by Kassie Gralton, Assistant Sports Information Director

Many local readers who are sports nuts, or who just like to know what is happening on the local college athletic scene, have been aware that there is a fine women's athletic program at Providence College. The headlines over the past few years all sound alike, usually saying, 'The Lady Friars Win' or 'The Lady Friars Over . . .'. Well, with the program moving into Division I this past fall, many thought the headlines would read 'In a Transition Year' or 'not much chance of post season play'.

How did the Lady Friars fare this fall? Just fine, as usual, thank you.

The women's volleyball team, under coach Dick Gage, earned its third consecutive trip to Eastern Regionals, this time in Division I while compiling a 46-17 record for the season. It was a long and tough road for PC spikers through the months of September, October and November of being on the road for tournaments every weekend.

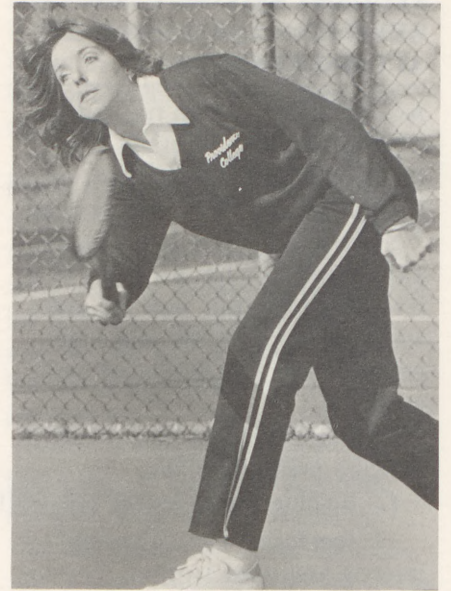

Sheila Barry (L), Oona Mulligan (R).

Through all these tournaments, the Lady Friars knew "they would have to prove themselves as a quality team to the Division I competitors to reach the regionals" said Bagge.

It was a fall full of highlights such as winning the Southern Connecticut Tournament, the Providence Invitational and placing second at the University of Massachusetts and Central Connecticut tournaments. The team was 43-14 when selected to compete in the Eastern Regionals, seeded eighth at Penn State. PC held its own against such teams as topseeded Pittsburgh and beat No. 5 seed Maryland before losing to Georgetown in single elimination play of the quarter-finals. The leaders on the court were senior co-captains Joan Finneran and Sandy Radcliffe, the first seniors for Bagge in his four year old program. There are many talented underclassmen on the 1980 squad who will be back and ready for the 1981 season.

Another team which also reached the Division I regionals was coach Kathy Cerra's cross country team. The 1980 squad had a fine season led by freshmen Diane Swick and Julie McCrorie with upperclassmen Sue Ratcliffe, Oona Mulligan and Sheila Barry. These five runners consistently placed on top for the Lady Friars in every race. The team won the Fitchburg Invitational with junior Sue Ratcliffe setting a course record with a time of 18:24.4 over the 3.1-mile course. The team then competed in a race at Franklin Park in Boston hosted by Boston College. PC placed second, losing to host and unbeaten BC, but beat Georgetown, St. John's and Syracuse.

Providence was running in top form as it headed to the state tournament. The Lady Friars finished second behind Rhode Island, but overcame Brown, Rhode Island College and Bryant. The next week they swept the top four places to capture the Holy Cross Invitational, beating eight teams. Then, another trip to Franklin Park for the New England, where the women finished eighth in a field of 40.

For their first trip to Division I Regional meet, the Lady Friars finished a respectable 13th with 237 points. Top finishers for the Lady Friars were freshmen McCrorie (38th), Swick (48th), followed by upperclassmen Ratcliffe (52nd) and Mulligan (67th). Cerra said, "I was pleased with the hard work that every runner on the team gave, and we expect another successful year."

Yet another winning team for the Lady Friars this fall was coach Kate Denning's field hockey team. The second year coach led her team to a 11-5 finish in its first season of Division I play. The team, as are the others, is still upgrading its schedules, but did see Division I action against national power New Hampshire and Rhode Island.

A highlight of the season was a trip to Connecticut and New York for three days to play Bridgeport, Manhattanville and Adelphi and the Lady Friars won all three games by scores of 5-1, 3-2 and 4-1 respectively. Leading the team in scoring was senior co-captain Linda Wage, who had 19 goals and 7 assists. She finished her collegiate career with 94 goals. The second leading scorer was freshman forward Jackie Gladu, who racked up 16 goals and 6 assists. Starting in goal this season was sophomore Judy Van Schelt, who had 135 saves in 16 games and 4 shutouts in her first season as starting goalie. Standouts on defense were senior co-captain Kathy Lenahan, junior Rita Fraser, sophomore Moncia Glynn and freshman Elaine Kaleta.

Denning says, "I am really going to miss some of my seniors, they are going to be very hard to replace. But we started five freshmen this past fall and with the other upperclassmen, all should be ready for another successful season next fall".

Last, but not least, is coach Lisa Gilbride's tennis team which finished its season with a 10-2 record. Last spring, Mrs. Gilbride guided her Lady Friars into the Division II Nationals in Los Angeles. They came back this fall ready to play in a new division and won 10 straight matches—over Southeastern Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Bridgewater State, University of Connecticut, University of New Hampshire and Wheaton before losing to Boston College and Brown.

Gilbride had three freshmen in the starting singles lineup who had fine seasons. They were Lisa Tutunjian who was 12-1; Vickie Govatsos, 13-5 and Patty Carver, 11-4. Sophomore Linda Duchaine was 15-4, junior Nancy Curtin 11-6 playing No. 1 and senior Paula Hebert 10-4, playing No. 3. Leading at doubles was junior Diane DeSaulniers and sophomore Ann Marie Mancini who compiled an 8-1 record, followed by senior Sue McKeever and junior Jill Sharkey who were 8-3. This fall was Gilbride's last season as the Lady Friar's head coach and, over the past five and one half years, her teams consecutively set better records starting in 1975-76 with 9-9, then 10-7, 12-9, 14-9, 19-9 and 10-2 this fall. She leaves with a 74-47 career coaching record.

Joining the Lady Friar staff as Lisa's replacement this spring will be Springfield College graduate Gail Sullivan.

This fall has been, as usual, another winning one for the Lady Friars and expectations are that it will also be a winning season for the Lady Friars in basketball, ice hockey and indoor track this winter.
